

Senator Barkley To Speak Under Auspices Of Institute

Russell To Give First In Series Of Religious Talks

By Richard A. Leavitt '50

The first in a series of informal lectures and discussions of the philosophies and attributes of the various religions of the world will be conducted by Dr. Henry G. Russell, assistant professor of Biblical Literature, in Bannister Hall on Friday evening, April 11, at 8:00 P.M.

He will speak on the common denominators of world religions. Dr. Russell, a member of the Bowdoin faculty, is well-qualified to lead these discussions in this first B.G.A. sponsored activity of this particular nature. After completing his undergraduate studies at Haverford College in Pennsylvania, Dr. Russell was awarded the A.M. and Ph.D. degrees at Harvard University. He joined the Department of Religion at Bowdoin a few years ago.

These lectures will open the Campus Religious Activities for the second half of the Spring Semester. The discussion groups will meet every Friday evening through May 16 at the same hour.

The primary goal of the talks is to establish a broad view of the basic beliefs of the people of the world as connected with the philosophies and religious aspects of their convictions.

It is hoped also that by these "get-togethers" and philosophical "fire-side chats" that the cynical attitude of college students toward the subject of religion will gradually subside.

After the Easter recess, a printed program of the speakers and their topics will be distributed to the fraternity houses and adequate publicity will be given on campus.

This is one of the three major programs to be inaugurated by the B.G.A. Religious Activities Committee this semester.

Bible Discussion Groups will also be held each week on Sunday evenings at 6:45 P.M. in Conference Room A of the Moulton Union. These informal meetings will be open to any student who would like to hear a leader discuss and critically analyze various passages from the Bible and point out the development of its religious insight.

The third project which is to get under way soon is that of student deputations which are to lead or assist in services of worship, recreation, and panels on relative topics in local and suburban churches.

The B.G.A. Religious Activities Committee consists of Morton Henry '50, chairman; Donald B. Strong '48 and Harold N. Burnham, Jr. '48 Philosophical Religious Discussions; Willard O. Richan '49, youth work; Donald W. Henderson '50, worship; Frederick Weidner III '50, music; and Richard A. Leavitt '50 and Gerald L. Cogan '50, publicity.

Bowdoin To Play Host To Youthful Thespians

Bowdoin will play host to scores of youthful Thespians this weekend as six Maine secondary schools compete in the fifteenth annual Interscholastic Drama Contest on Saturday afternoon and evening, April 5, in Memorial Hall.

The competing productions have been selected from 35 in preliminary regional tryouts, and winning and runner-up plays will compete in the New England finals this May. The directors of dramas from Bates, Colby and the University of Maine will serve as judges, presenting trophies to the winning schools.

One of many annual occasions at which the college entertains students from various schools, the Contest is sponsored by the faculty Committee on Preparatory Schools. Professor George H. Quintiny, Director of Dramatics, will supervise.

Four plays will be presented at 2 in the afternoon, and two at 8:15 p.m. The contestants will be entertained at a dinner in the Harriet Beecher Stowe House.

The competing plays, in order of presentation, will be as follows: "For the Love of Allah" by Winslow, "Gray Bread" by Lewiston, "Still Stands the House" by Brunswick, "Mooncalf Mugged" by Mattanawook Academy (Lincoln), "The Devil Comes to Aikaraz" by Sanford, "The Enchanted Rose" by Bangor.

Bowdoin Teams Debate New Hampshire, Clark

The University of New Hampshire will meet Bowdoin in a debate on the national labor question at 1:30 Tuesday afternoon, April 11, in upper Massachusetts Hall. The same evening Clark University will debate at Bowdoin in the Moulton Union Lounge on the same question. Different teams will represent Bowdoin in these debates.

A debate triangle will take place on April 18. A Bowdoin team will go to Williams, a Williams team will go to Amherst, and an Amherst team will come to Bowdoin. All three debates will be on "Should labor have a direct share in the management of industry." The debate will be judged in a three way decision.

Cast Named For "As You Like It"; Poor '50 In Lead

The most recent news about Bowdoin's dramatic organization, the Masque and Gown, concerns the announcement this week by Mr. George H. Quinby, Faculty Advisor, of the tentative male cast for the Commencement play to be performed under the campus trees Friday evening, June 6, 1947: "As You Like It," by William Shakespeare.

Soon, the Masque and Gown will be working with the Colby College Drama Club on final details for the presentation of "Let There Be Men" by two Colby Seniors, Roscoe Schlesinger and Russell Farnsworth, on Tuesday evening, April 8 at 8:15 o'clock. In addition, arrangements will be made for the running off of the six plays in the Finals of the State of Maine One-Act Play Contest, at Memorial Hall, the afternoon of April 5. Also, rehearsals are in full swing for the Masque and Gown's presentation of Charles Hawtreys' "The Private Secretary," this year's Ivy Day Houseparty comedy.

The newly-appointed male cast of "As You Like It" is as follows: The Banished Duke, Douglas Carmichael '49; Duke Frederick, Lawrence Lewis '49; Amiens, Frederick Weidner, III '50; Jacques, H. James Cook, Jr. '48; Le Beau, Howard R. Dwyer '49; Charles, Kim Kyle '47; Oliver, Edward L. Kallap, Jr. '48; Jacques de Boys, N. V. Coletti '50; Orlando, Peter T. Poor '50; Adam, Hayden B. Goldberg '49; Touchstone, H. Berkeley Peabody, Jr. '50; Corin, Arnold Cooper '48; Silvius, Elton O. Feeney, Jr. '48; William, J. Russell Washburne, Jr. '50; Attendants, Hugh Pendexter, III '46, Charles W. Curtis '47, and Stanley N. Altman '47.

Concluding with various remarks on how "Tin-Pan Alky is slowly destroying the classics," Mr. Chapple also compared the evolution of literature and art with the symphony orchestra. Finally, with the symphony orchestra at its peak of progress, he stressed his sincere hope for the bright future before it.

R. A. Paynter '47 To Head Annual Bird Expedition To Kent Island

By Charles T. Diliway '49

Dr. Albert O. Gross, professor of biology, has announced that the annual summer expedition to Kent Island for the study of birds and their life will depart on June 3.

Raymond A. Paynter Jr. '47, now doing graduate work in ornithology at Yale University, will head the expedition as field director. Paynter, who was field director last year, has written an important paper based on his observations of last summer on the herring gull.

This summer ten students and several members of the faculty, including Dr. Alton H. Gustafson and Mr. Henry Butzel, both of the Biology Department, will study there. Each student is allowed a free choice in his topic for study and the methods used in pursuing it.

Many scientists from various universities and colleges throughout the country, that have been visitors to the island in past years have been delighted with the extensive field of study available there. The island is, however, primarily a laboratory maintained for the students of Bowdoin College, and students have done outstanding work there in past years.

Several students who made interesting scientific observations there last summer are H. Elliot Winn '48 and James H. Veghte '49. Winn chose as his topic the black guillemot, a timid bird that is not very well known. Winn intends to continue his study of the natural life of this bird this summer. Veghte observed the expedition in order to keep in contact with the mainland and the Coast Guard, although there has never been a serious emergency on the island. A large radio transmitter and receiver varied aspects in the life of the black-poll warbler, a rather difficult bird to study because of its elusive character and rarity.

Deeded to Bowdoin in 1936 by J. Sterling Rockefeller, the college has annually sent an expedition to the island for summer work in ornithology. Situated far out in the Bay of Fundy, Kent Island is a unique place for doing research on sea birds. Some of the species found there in abundance are the herring gull, the elder duck, the black guillemot, the black-backed gull, and the petrel. Bowdoin is probably the only college in the country that maintains a scientific station with so many rare opportunities for ornithological investigation.

Besides the wealth of rare and important birds on Kent Island, there is a tide of twenty-four feet which gives a person interested in marine life an excellent amount of material. Kent Island, which has already reached an important position in this country as a meteorological station is equipped with a large number of modern instruments for meteorological observations.

The station also offers a fine opportunity to a student interested in the study of the natural life of this bird this

Bowdoin Sailing Club Presents Lecture April 11

In an effort to stimulate the interest of the students, faculty, alumni, and friends of the college in sailing at Bowdoin and in hopes of obtaining personal contributions from alumni and friends of the college to outfit a worthwhile sailing club, the Bowdoin Sailing Club in sponsoring an informal lecture entitled "Inter-Collegiate Sailing" to be given on April 11 at 8 p.m. in the lounge of the Moulton Union.

The lecture, which will include motion pictures of Bermuda races and college sailing, will be conducted by Mr. Walter C. Wood, Professor George Owen, and Dr. Allan R. Lukens, all of whom are members of the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association. These men were among the original founders of the M.I.T. Nautical Association, and consequently, they are sincerely interested in the progress and improvement of the Bowdoin Sailing Club and its facilities. In the past, these men, as well as the late Albert T. Gould, trustee and overseer of the college, have spoken in favor of establishing a Bowdoin Sailing Pavilion, which would serve as a recreation for all Bowdoin men, young and old.

In reply to an invitation to the lecture, Commander Donald B. MacMillan, a Bowdoin graduate and famed skipper of the ship "Bowdoin," which has made numerous Arctic expeditions, wrote:

"I regret that I can not be with you on April 11. I am very much interested in the Bowdoin Sailing Club; it is a grand idea. Let's hope that we see the day when, at the crack of a gun, a dozen or more boats cross the line at Bowdoin. It is a sport which is increasing in popularity among the American college. Only today I was reading with interest a report of the final races between Princeton and George Washington University held here yesterday on the Anacosta River.

"It is one of the cleanest sports in the world, one that calls for skill, judgment, courage, and above all self-reliance. When pressed by reporters to name one of my hobbies, it is always yachting. I am with you in your plans from the start of the gun. According to Dr. Lukens, sailing is a sport which invariably attracts men of all ages, and in the opinion of sailing enthusiasts, Bowdoin men are very fortunate in having the rare opportunity to sail on protected ocean waters, which afford ideal boating conditions.

The Bowdoin Sailing Club hopes to become a permanent member of the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association, where-

[Continued on Page 1]

Graduation Speakers Announced By Van Cleve

The names of the fifteen provisional Commencement speakers for 1947 have been announced by Professor Thomas C. Van Cleve, chairman of the Bowdoin College Faculty Committee on Commencement Parts.

Twelve of these men, who will graduate on June 7, will be required to prepare parts for consideration by the committee. Three other men, who graduated on February 8, may prepare parts if they wish to do so.

The Goodwin Commencement Prize, given in 1882 by the Reverend Daniel Rayner Goodwin, D.D. of the class of 1832 and now comprising the income from a fund of about $1200, is awarded to the author of the best part prepared, and presented at Commencement.

The provisional speakers are as follows: The men graduating this class are Douglas Carmichael '49, Milton Mills, N. H.; Robert M. Cross '45, Brunswick; Harold O. Curtis '45, Auburn; James Ellis, Jr. '48, Cleveland, Ohio; John J. Fahey, Jr. '45, Lewiston; Bernard E. Gordon '47, Wilton, N. H.; Shepard Lifshitz '47, Lewiston; Paul K. Niven, Jr. '46, Brunswick; Martin E. Robinson '48, Augusta; Frederick A. Spar '45, Methuen, Mass.; Bernard M. Toscani '47, Philadelphia, Pa.; Frederic R. Woodruff, Jr. '48, Potsdam, N. Y. Those men who graduated last February are George M. Hooten, Jr. '46, Yarmouth; William E. MacIntyre '45, Dorchester, Mass.; Stanley N. Altman '47, Boston, Mass.

[Continued on Page 2]

Bowdoin Men Who Debated With Cambridge

Clement A. Hiebert '47 and Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47 who debated the proposition: resolved that in the opinion of this house, interference in the internal affairs of any sovereign state will undermine the authority of any international organization and prejudice the attainment of a lasting peace.

Bowdoin, Cambridge Debate Problems Of World Peace

After hearing the arguments of mixed debating teams representing the Union Society of Cambridge University, England, and the Debating Council of Bowdoin, the audience at Memorial Hall on Wednesday evening, March 26 cast 66 affirmative and

214 negative votes on the proposition: "In the opinion of this House interference in the internal affairs of any sovereign state will undermine the authority of any international organization, and prejudice the attainment of a lasting peace."

President Kenneth C. M. Sills presided over the debate and introduced the speakers: William Richmond, Cambridge, and Clement A. Hiebert '47, Bowdoin, affirmative; and Ian S. Lloyd, Cambridge, and Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47, Bowdoin.

The opening constructive argument for the affirmative was given by Hiebert, who maintained that governments today are suffering from too much government. Persons desiring to control atom power advocate giving all power to a world state. This would cure all the ills, they say. But this internal interference, claimed Hiebert, would greatly increase fear and distrust and would disrupt world understanding.

"Are we ready to forswear our nationalism at this time?" he asked, claiming that we would walk out of any international organization rather than allow our own affairs to be made the concern of the whole world. Hiebert sounded the keynote of the affirmative argument by stating that to move too far too fast

[Continued on Page 2]

Glee Club Sings In Worcester, To Open First Postwar Tour

By Charles T. Freeman '50

Special to the Bowdoin ORIENT
The applause given the Bowdoin Glee Club performance at the Bancroft School in Worcester, Mass. Friday night, March 28 was a good sign that this first postwar tour would be a success.

The first numbers on the program were "Holy Lord" by Bortnyansky-Whitall and Lott's "Crucifixus." The most enjoyable part of the second group was the Red Army Song, "Cavalry of the Steppes." The other numbers being "When Night Descends" by Rachmaninoff and "Pilgrims' Song" by Tchaikovsky with solo by Roger N. Williams '46.

The Bowdoin College Medley, "Rise Sons of Bowdoin," "Glasses Clinking High," "Forward the White," and "Bowdoin Beata," sung with gusto by the Glee Club, proved the popular favorite of the evening. Many of the alumni present lent their own voices to the singing of these songs, especially the "Bowdoin Beata," symbolic of their own days at college.

A collection of the favorite and best-known songs of the Middle-

[Continued on Page 2]

World Politics Subject Of This Year's Lectures

By George Paradis '49

Mr. Willard Thorpe, Sir Frederic Puckle, Senator Alben Barkley, and Major-General John H. Hildring have accepted invitations to speak at this year's Institute entitled: "World Politics and Organization," according to Professor Orren C. Hornmell, head of the Department of Government. Unlike previous years, the Institute for 1947 will be divided into two sessions, Spring and Fall.

Dr. Horton Speaks At Palm Sunday Chapel Service

Declaring that we must open our hearts to God if we wish him to enter our lives, Dr. Douglas Horton, Minister and Missionary of the General Council of Congregational Churches of America said at the Palm Sunday Chapel service that "we must achieve a unifying philosophy in our colleges and universities to secure our future intellectual advancement."

"How amazing it is," began Dr. Horton, "that we should all be here to commemorate an event which took place in an obscure corner of the Roman Empire over two thousand years ago. Why is it that this poor Syrian peasant who rode into Jerusalem so long ago has had such a profound influence on the generations which have followed him?"

This dividing point in history, continued Dr. Horton, passed relatively unnoticed by those who witnessed it. If they had realized what was happening and had interfered in one way or another, they might well have changed the future of the world. They were smug in their ignorance, however, and remained sunk in the oblivion of their past beliefs and customs.

"How similar is our position today," went on Dr. Horton. "Suppose Jesus Christ were standing outside the chapel doors right now, what a spectacle he could make in our lives if only we would let him enter! Actually Christ is near us always, waiting for admittance into each of us and the college as a whole."

Dr. Horton told of the unifying and overarching philosophy that Christ could bring to our apparently disunited curriculum. Our colleges are like Europe today, he noted, broken into weak and separate units, which need only the light of Christ's principles to bring them together into a strong and united whole. He spoke of a Greek class that he remembered in which the professor had asked the students what character in history was suggested by the picture of Oedipus tearing out his eyes and exiling himself to save his people. A few half-hearted replies of "maybe Socrates" or "Aristotle" were ventured by the students. When the professor suggested Our Lord, he was met with blank amazement by a class who considered his choice taking unfair advantage of them because he was mixing "Religion" with education. Horton later

[Continued on Page 4]

Sponsored by the College, Institutes on subjects of broad general interest were held biennially from 1923 to 1941 and resumed in 1941. The method of conducting these Institutes is to bring to Brunswick lecturers, each a distinguished authority in his field, for public lectures and round-table conferences. Arrangements are being made for interested students to sign up if they wish to participate in these discussions.

The first speaker for the Spring Session, Mr. Willard Thorpe, will appear April 14. Mr. Thorpe who is Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs will speak on "The Interrelation of Our Domestic and Foreign Policies."

On April 21, Sir Frederic Puckle, a member of the British Embassy Staff, will discuss "India and World Peace." Senator Alben Barkley is scheduled to speak on or around May 9. The Senator from Kentucky has served as a member of Congress for thirty-four years and is now Minority Leader of the Senate. The subject of his address will be "The Foreign Policy of the Truman Administration."

The last speaker for the Spring Session of the Institute, Assistant Secretary of State for Occupied Areas, Major-General John H. Hildring, will talk on "The Problems of Occupation." Heading the list of guest speakers for the Fall Session of the Institute is Senator J. W. Fulbright whose topic will be "Intercultural Relations." Along with Senator Fulbright, who will be in Brunswick early in November, will appear two other well known speakers.

Bowdoin, Brown Debate League Of Nations Issue

"Resolved that a federal government of the nations of the world be established within ten years" was the subject of the debate between Brown University and Bowdoin College held Friday evening, March 28 at Moulton Union Lounge.

Upholding the negative, Brown University was represented by Arthur Stillman and William Steinecker; the affirmative was represented by Rufus E. Stetson '42 and Newman L. Marsh '46 of Bowdoin.

Marsh opened the debate by suggesting that the "time of international football is past" and further proposed that a two point program be effected. The first point would require an examination of the mistakes of our past world organizations, international alliances, confederations or pacts, and would further require that special emphasis be directed on the faults of the League of Nations and the United Nations organization. The second point would pertain to the setting up of a framework which would secure the principles of a federation of nations as supreme over the principles of the individual nations. In continuing, Marsh proposed how this framework would be set up and he showed its similarity to the United States Federal Government.

Mr. Stillman opened the debate for the negative, and after expressing his appreciation for the pleasant visit he and his colleague were having at Bowdoin, he proposed the following points. He maintained that a world government was a necessity, yet a necessity which, if to be permanent, must slowly evolve of its own accord. "Until the time is ripe," he stated, "we must resort to litigation instead of legislation. . . . As we have seen, the political and economic relations of countries afford the weakness of the United Nations." Mr. Stillman insisted that until these difficulties were corrected and the nations were willing to part with some of their sovereign power, no world government could be con-

[Continued on Page 2]

[Continued on Page 2]

College Offers Excellent Opportunities To Further World Understanding, Peace

Recent world developments and the adoption of a clear foreign policy by the United States have brought home to many Americans the importance of an understanding of the commitments which our government is undertaking on our behalf. Much discussion on the topic of American-Russian relations has been aroused by the issuance of the "Truman Doctrine" and proposals of economic aid to Greece and Turkey.

Life and other popular magazine have since published spectacular articles in which Russia is portrayed as seeking eventual world domination. The editors maintain that as a result America must at once seize world power before we are engulfed by expansionist Russia. These proposals are clearly biased, part of a general policy supported by those who have vested interests in areas adjacent to Russian influence. To read and accept them would be unfair, for they do not present both sides of the issue.

To blindly believe on the other hand that there is, and will be, no real disagreement between the two great powers and that Russia should be given a free hand would be equally absurd. To make a sound judgment on this troubling problem requires an intimate knowledge of present developments and past history. Many people who want to do something for world peace regret their limited opportunities at college, but much can

Foreign Student Grants Are Step Toward Peace

The scholarship plan for the purpose of aiding foreign students which is being initiated by the Chi Psi Fraternity is not just another philanthropic deed. Looking beyond the fact that it is a worthy thing for a college fraternity to provide room and board in conjunction with the college assuming the costs of tuition, one may see that such a deed as this in its own small way will do much towards the eternal hope; that of eternal peace.

With the world in the chaotic condition that it is today, the mere fact that a college fraternity is able to assume the responsibility and initiative to aid a student of another country in order that he might be a better citizen of the world should clarify to some extent the charge that fraternities are just collegiate after-work social clubs.

It has been stressed in Mustard and Cress and in recent Chapel talks by President Sills that, "What the human race must do above all is to develop the sense in each man that he is fully responsible for his own will and his own acts so far as that will is expressed in them, and to develop in him the habit of thinking through his intended actions and judging them by a rational system of morality un-be done now. To form sound opinions we must first have a thorough knowledge of the facts. Every student as a future citizen has a heavy stake in what his country is now doing. Here at Bowdoin we are afforded an excellent opportunity to acquire this background for understanding.

Many courses on the subject are being given this year: international law; comparative government; problems of world politics; modern European history; modern Russian history; Russians; and many others. The College will also present to students this Spring an Institute on international affairs at which distinguished and qualified speakers will be present.

The Political Forum, the proposed Bowdoin Christian Association chapel talks on political topics, intercollegiate debates such as the recent ones with Cambridge and Brown, faculty chapel talks, the plan proposed for foreign students for fraternities: all of these offer remarkable possibilities. And more important, these organizations and projects are student sponsored and controlled.

All of us now in college should have a very real and personal interest in present developments. For it is we who will have to cope with their results in future years. The impartial atmosphere of the College is unrivalled as the place to absorb the necessary knowledge upon which we must found our actions in the future in international affairs.

swayed by emotion."

A fraternity of Bowdoin College has taken upon itself as a group the moral responsibility of helping to make the world a better place to live in. It is truly a deed worthy of praise for a college and a fraternity to work together on the problem of cementing human society. It is a deed worthy of praise, not only because a college and its fraternities are able to work together on such a problem, but the fact that it was the fraternity that proposed the plan to the college.

We are doing a threefold good. First, we are assuming the responsibility of aiding in the preservation of mankind through the medium of international education. Secondly, by granting this education, we aid the foreign student so that he may return to his native land to take a leading part in its reorganization after many years of war. And finally, we perform a service to ourselves in that we have been able to give aid to someone who is in need.

If we remember that, "this earth was created for the use of man, so men are created for sake of men that they may mutually do good to one another," the eternal hope of peace might someday become a reality.

J. H. N. Jr.

Hormell Directs Research Bureau For Maine Municipal Government

By Alfred F. Wehren '47

In September 1914, William John Curtis, L.L.D., of the Class of 1875, gave a generous contribution to establish the Bureau for Research in Municipal Government. Since then the bureau has been maintained by gifts and appropriations from the governing boards.

Even today such a bureau is unique in the state, for although the library at Augusta has material on municipal government it has no department given over to it. The result, of course, has been that many citizens and officials throughout the state have applied for technical advice to the bureau. It has made many significant contributions to public service.

At the present time the bureau is aiding towns in the state and has assisted four so far this year. Under the direction of Professor Owen Chalmers Hormell, Ph.D., the bureau is able to provide a public service to the citizens and public in Maine as well as to provide the students with a wealth of material for studying government in action.

The library of the bureau includes approximately 10,000 volumes and pamphlets covering topics such as: municipal finance, personnel management, charters, zoning, ordinances, town and city reports, administration, and taxation. Periodicals containing pertinent information in regard to state and local government are also present. The Bureau boasts the best collection north of Boston.

The primary purpose of the Bureau is to furnish students with a source of material on town, city, and state government—a valuable supplement to the theories of the classrooms. Here the student may come into direct contact with the realities of government in the same place where that government seeks advice.

Ever since its establishment, the Bureau has given direct assistance in the drafting of charters and has labored assiduously to promote better administration and management. It not only supplies information upon request but also publishes monographs in the "Municipal Research Series" of the Bowdoin College "Bulletin." The latest of these monographs, published in 1940, was a "Zoning Manual for Maine Towns." Some others in the series have been: "Personnel Problems in Maine," "Maine Towns," and "Budget Making for Maine Towns."

Frederick D. Wildman '48 has been chosen new staff photographer. The offices of Feature Editor and Assistant Editor have been abolished. Those regularly contributing columns or special articles to the ORIENT have been classified as Contributing Editors. These are Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47, Nelson L. Towers '47, Alfred F. Wehren '47, and Raymond H. Swift '48. All others on the editorial staff have been entitled Editorial Assistants.

Richard Wiley is a member of Delta Upsilon. He is a participant in the Track Team and Cross Country and a member of Bowdoin-on-the-Air. Cabot Easton is also a member of Delta Upsilon. He is affiliated with Bowdoin-on-the-Air and active in the Track Team and Cross Country. John Nichols is a member of Chi Psi and pole vaulter on the Track Team. Johnson Poor is a member of Beta Theta Pi. He is a former manager of baseball and member of the J. V. Basketball Team. He is now active in the Masque and Gown.

The Assistant Business Managers and the other new men on the Business Staff have yet to be appointed.

LETTER TO EDITOR A Few Poignant Queries On "Herald" Concession

To the Editor of the ORIENT

One of the features of the excellent newspaper supply of the college is the pile of "Boston Sunday Herald" in the Moulton Union every Sunday morning. A little dish is standing beside it, the purpose of which seems to be dark to a number of students. Considering the brilliant new theory of calculus I thought I discovered at that spot yesterday, however, this seemed of minor importance.

Last Sunday morning then, I happened to walk past the table with the "Heralds" in the Hall of the Union. The pile of papers was high. The dish was empty.

In the late afternoon of the same day I happened again to walk by the same table. The pile of papers had practically disappeared. The dish contained 22 cents.

I, with my common and vulgar notion of calculus, figured that twenty-two is one and seven-fifths times fifteen. It seemed to me that more than one and seven-fifths "Boston Herald" had disappeared.

Now I am not exactly a mathematician, so my first thought was that this revolution in calculus had something to do with Einstein, or maybe, even with atomic energy. But then, I do not think it is a very scientific method, just to confront the world with the results of one's inventions and to keep the secrets a secret.

Not wishing for anything in the world to suspect the Bowdoin undergraduates of such unscientific ways of life, I began to look for a solution myself. I found several.

Maybe someone thinks that fifteen cents is too much for a "Boston Sunday Herald." But does anybody really think it the right way of bargaining with a dumb sign: "Boston Herald 15c." just to deposit any amount which one may think to represent the real value of the paper?

Considering the amount of twenty-two cents, I even suspect some people of buying a paper for less than one cent. Who is the Bowdoin man who feels that he has a natural right to a "Boston Sunday Herald"? We should like to be acquainted with him to learn some self-assurance.

I realize that I have been considering the problem from the very darkest side. After all the dish was standing near the door and perhaps the draught...

Business Manager

C. Cabot Easton '48, recently reelected to the position of Business Manager of the Bowdoin ORIENT, has been a member of the track team and Bowdoin-on-the-Air.

Wiley, Easton To Head New ORIENT Volume

Richard A. Wiley '49 was re-elected Editor-in-Chief, and C. Cabot Easton '48 Business Manager, for Volume 77 of the ORIENT, at a meeting of the Bowdoin Publishing Company on Thursday, March 20.

John H. Nichols, Jr. '49 and Johnson Poor '49 were appointed Associate Editors. Both have been active on the ORIENT since their entrance into college. Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47 will continue as Managing Editor. Others chosen for this office are David Crowell '49, Albert B. Patton '50, and Raymond S. Trough '50.

Frederick D. Wildman '48 has been chosen new staff photographer. The offices of Feature Editor and Assistant Editor have been abolished. Those regularly contributing columns or special articles to the ORIENT have been classified as Contributing Editors. These are Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47, Nelson L. Towers '47, Alfred F. Wehren '47, and Raymond H. Swift '48. All others on the editorial staff have been entitled Editorial Assistants.

Richard Wiley is a member of Delta Upsilon. He is a participant in the Track Team and Cross Country and a member of Bowdoin-on-the-Air. Cabot Easton is also a member of Delta Upsilon. He is affiliated with Bowdoin-on-the-Air and active in the Track Team and Cross Country. John Nichols is a member of Chi Psi and pole vaulter on the Track Team. Johnson Poor is a member of Beta Theta Pi. He is a former manager of baseball and member of the J. V. Basketball Team. He is now active in the Masque and Gown.

The Assistant Business Managers and the other new men on the Business Staff have yet to be appointed.

Brown Debate

[Continued from Page 1]

Substantiating the viewpoint of the affirmative, Rufus E. Stetson '42 stated that the negative had contradicted itself with regard to the United Nations. He made two points very clear. First, "the challenge is before us and we must grab it at before we lose ourselves in relations with another country." And secondly, he argued that "with the atomic bomb we are way ahead of ourselves and therefore are being forced to bring ourselves down to earth internationally."

William Steineche of Brown gave the final speech in which he insisted that "nothing can be built on distrust and fear." He again reminded his audience and the affirmative that the cultural differences between nations, in language, religion, doctrines, and tradition, would not permit a world Government at this time. He concluded with the statement: "We can not afford to go quickly into such an organization because one more mistake will be our last."

After a short intermission, the rebuttals were taken up, in which the affirmative stressed the point that the time to act is "now" while we have time to save ourselves. The negative, on the other hand, persisted that because of the prevalent mistrust, fear, and cultural differences between nations, we could not at the present time embark on such a drastic step.

The proceedings were closed by Mr. Stillman as he again thanked everyone for the kindness extended to himself and his colleague on their visit to Bowdoin College.

There was some wind last Sunday. And then it is the last of the month and the "buyers" may just have bought on credit. Next Sunday I am sure most of them will be in a position to pay off their debts. Unfortunately, next Sunday is Easter. How about the Sunday after that, April 12?

Thank you,

Peter Prins

Mustard and Cress

By Nelson L. Towers '47

"Bowdoin College is most impressive when viewed from the inside of its compact quadrangular campus, which may be approached from any of several memorial gateways. (Guides provided at college office, Massachusetts Hall; all buildings open at discretion of college authorities.)" This quote is from "Maine, A Guide 'Down East,'" published by Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston, 1937.

A walk about the campus at night should provide conclusively to any visitor that the offer of a guide is not made without reason. Actually, a "seeing-eye" cat might be the best guide that could be offered.

One acquirement the undergraduate gains is the questionable ability to "fly blind" along the paths of the campus after dusk. The casual visitor rarely has enough training under black-out conditions to permit a safe stroll, for example, from the Franklin C. Robinson Gateway to the Chapel at night.

In dry weather, the extreme lack of illumination is often a handicap. During or following a rainstorm, crossing the campus can become costly. Because of the lack of proper drainage and the absence of lights, occasionally shoes and the recently cleaned suit of a student become water soaked. It is impossible to avoid deep pools of water when they can not be seen. As a result, the cost of keeping cleaning expenses at a minimum is denied the student, under such conditions.

Visitors at events in Moulton Union are made to grope up the steps as a result of inadequate lighting. No record of injury having been caused by the darkness has been observed. This does not, however, guarantee that no injuries can or will happen in the future. And the possibility of a suit for damages being brought against the College is always present.

A lesson might be learned from a particular lawsuit of a few years ago. A guest slipped and fell in the entrance hall of a private home. (Intoxication was not a party to the fall!)

The courts ruled in favor of the guest, the plaintiff. Consequently, the defendant was obliged to pay more than $10,000 for alleged damages and legal fees. The courts sustained the contention of the lawyers for the plaintiff that the host did not take

Robert True Produces New Staining Process

A misconception common among the general public is that no scientific research can be done at the small Liberal Arts College because "facilities are inadequate" or "not enough funds are available." To show that this statement does not apply to Bowdoin, the ORIENT sent this reporter to the Searies Scientific Laboratory to interview Robert M. True '46 who has been carrying on an original research program as a member of Professor Gross's Zoology 7-8 course.

"Bob told us that after processing, we get the skeletal tissues standing out clearly in red. Thus we can study the growth at different stages of development by studying preparations of, specimens taken at different stages."

We then studied a series of stained specimens of rat, pig, frog, and bat embryos which showed outlined in red the various structures which correspond to such adult bones as ribs, vertebrae, and so forth. While studying a member of the Army Specialized Training Program at Washington University, Bob became "sick and tired of tedious lab techniques" and decided to develop an abbreviated staining method of his own. Bob, who returned to Bowdoin last fall, has been working to perfect his method.

The improvements of his new technique are "cleaner results with a saving in processing time of 75 per cent." Dr. H. J. Conn, President of the Biological Stain Commission, has accepted Bob's article "Staining of Embryonic and Small Mammalian Skeletal Systems" for publication in the next issue of "Stain Technology." Here is evidence of Bowdoin's contribution to one of the expanding frontiers of science through the work of a talented undergraduate student.

The Zoology Department has arranged for Bob to give a lecture on March 3 at Simmons College where the National Biological Conference is holding its annual meeting. The lecture, "A New Method for Staining Vertebrate Embryos in Toto," will show a nationwide audience that the progress of scientific research at small Liberal Arts Colleges need not be hampered by lack of elaborate facilities or funds as long as the spirit of research in the natural sciences is alive in those who learn and those who teach.

Fickett, Hiebert Debate Union Society Of Cambridge, England

[Continued from Page 1]

would be to sacrifice our already small gains.

Lloyd then presented the opening arguments of the negative. He maintained that internal affairs are very artificially distinguished from external affairs, that "we have a new world but not a science of politics." The interests of one part are placed above those of the whole. Individual, but not national despotism have been overthrown, and on this "rock of intellectual dogmatism" all efforts for peace are wrecked.

Claiming that internal problems are the affairs of all states and that we must place the interests of individuals before those of states, Lloyd advocated giving adequate authority to any international organization and destroying political cartelization before it destroys us.

Attacking the existing system of international law, Richmond of Cambridge, affirmative, maintained that it should pay more attention to moral and individual considerations. He said that the vague and undefined principles of human rights in the U. N. Charter might be used as cloaks for intervention and that they might lead to results not contemplated by their sponsors.

Progress must be organic, said Fickett. "States are sovereign, to drag them into the U. N. by external pressure would bring it into disrepute and prejudice any chance of the nations cooperating. He claimed that the doctrine of human rights should first be applied experimentally in trusteeship areas."

Fickett then concluded the main arguments, maintaining that we must not repeat our mistakes of the first World War.

The League failed for lack of power. The same result is likely under the UN in which the veto prevents intervention. Interference according to the negative definition, "legally and morally sanctioned by the world community," would enhance world peace. We need inspection and control of atomic power and an enlightened public opinion.

An international organization with limited but necessary powers over atom power, armaments, reciprocal trade, and an international police force would eliminate the usefulness of war, he claimed. The underlying causes of war must be remedied first, Fickett concluded, stating that this long and hard road was in his opinion the only one to lasting peace.

Then followed a series of rebuttals by the four speakers in which the affirmative reiterated its point that it would be suicide to force nations to go too far too fast. The negative claimed that we must realize that we are living in an atomic age and must not make the mistakes of the past again. We must have the power, said Lloyd and Fickett, to protect minorities and to preserve mankind from conspiracies of every kind.

Speaking Contest

[Continued from Page 1]

theme of Marsh's talk.

On April 10 trials for the Class of 1948 Speaking Prize will be held in Memorial Hall. This prize amounts to the annual income of $1,081 contributed by the Class of 1888. It is awarded to a member of the Senior Class who writes and delivers the best oration.

The Boston Globe again offers TEN $1000 MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIPS

FOR ONE YEAR OF TRAVEL AND STUDY OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

These ten awards of $1000 each are to be used by the winners for one year of travel and study in any country at any college or university outside the United States.

These fellowships are being offered by The Boston Globe in memory of the men and women of New England schools, colleges and universities who served in World War II.

ELIGIBLE TO COMPETE . . . undergraduates of this and 57 other New England Colleges.

For complete details of The Second Annual Boston Globe Memorial Fellowship Competition, read

The "World Travel Edition" of THE BOSTON GLOBE SUNDAY, APRIL 13

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief	Richard A. Wiley '49
Associate Editors	John H. Nichols, Jr. '49 Johnson Poor '49
Managing Editors	Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47 David Crowell '48 Albert B. Patton '50 Raymond S. Trough '50
Sports Editor	George F. McClelland II '49
Editorial Assistants	Harold N. Marsh, Jr. '46, P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '46, W. Paul S. Angerson '47, E. Carl S. Arnold, Jr. '48, P. William M. Davis '48, C. D. L. Dillaway '49, E. R. E. Edwards '48, E. George F. Edwards '48, E. Ralph R. Anderson '50, F. Francis R. Currie '50, S. Samuel T. Gilmore '50, D. Donald W. Hanson '50, H. Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50, C. Constantine Karvounides '50, R. Richard A. Leavitt '50, A. Morton Lund '50, R. Robert J. Waldron '50, E.
Contributing Editors	Nelson L. Towers '47 Alfred F. Wehren '47 Raymond H. Swift '48
Staff Photographer	Frederick D. Wildman '48
Managing Editor of This Issue	Albert B. Patton '50

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager	C. Cabot Easton '48
Assistant Business Manager	Arnold Cooper '48
Circulation Managers	Joseph J. Schmuck '49 Francis R. Currie '50
Advertising Managers	Alfred J. Winkler '47 Edward S. Early '48 W. Churchill Grossey '50

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY

Directors	Professor Athorn P. Daggett Associate Professor Philip M. Brown C. Cabot Easton '48 Richard A. Wiley '49
-----------	---

REGISTERED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO - BOSTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, April 2, 1947 - No. 1

POLAR BEARINGS

By George McClelland

Elsewhere on this page will be found the spring athletic schedules of Bowdoin College. On the schedules for the baseball, golf, tennis and track teams there is not one date outside of New England. No Bowdoin team will venture outside the confines of Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts and possibly Rhode Island. For that matter next fall's football team with one of the top name coaches in the country will go no further than Connecticut.

This is a sad state of affairs. In the past track teams have gone to the Penn Relays, ICAA West and other track meets in New York and beyond. Bowdoin teams may not be strong and to face cold facts are quite weak, but even a losing effort against colleges near the size of Bowdoin would bring the name of the college before other parts of the country. A good publicity department (which Bowdoin does not have) helps to spread the name of a college, but in these post-war days sports are becoming more and more a part of American life and it is through athletic teams that colleges are becoming known.

Bowdoin's scholastic standing is unquestionably high, but so is that of an increasing number of other colleges. Speakers and even the athletic coaches from Bowdoin may plead with alumni in distant parts of the country to talk up Bowdoin to young men. They may tell of Bowdoin's fine scholastic record, etc., but the youth of today needs something more tangible and to most red-blooded young men athletics are very important.

Bowdoin does not and will not give athletic scholarships for the college would suffer with a stigma of subsidization. We claim that to return Bowdoin to a prominent place, athletically, among the smaller colleges these are NOT really needed. There are plenty of good high school athletes who are offered scholarships to large universities, but who would rather go to a small school where they can excel and not merely be one of the squad. The small college that has a lucrative schedule and sends teams on long trips attracts these athletes who want a first class education and also want to play ball.

This is the major reason for vastly revamping the schedules, but there is another one. The athletes in Bowdoin at present get sick and tired of playing the same teams. The state series is a fine thing, but it can be carried to an extreme. For instance, nine of this season's basketball games were with Maine colleges. There are no real trips for any athletic team. There is a lot of hard work attached to playing a varsity sport which at least one extended trip a season largely makes up for. (Bangor is not much of a town). If the Glee Club can go on a week's tour, the athletic teams can, too. They all take the same courses, and hour examinations are bunched around certain times and could be avoided.

These suggestions which follow are costly, but we feel that Bowdoin can well stand the expense of improving itself.

(1.) The football team should have two home and home agreements with colleges outside New England, one near New York.

(2.) The basketball and swimming teams should make at least one tour of New York and Pennsylvania, if possible the mid west where basketball is bred to play teams their size.

(3.) The baseball, tennis and golf teams should play themselves into shape by touring New York, New Jersey and possibly as far south as Virginia.

(4.) The track team should be permitted any meets that Coach Magee thinks would benefit his team.

Zeta Psi Wins Interfraternity Swim Meet

Zetes, Chi Psi's D.U.'s Lead In Volleyball League

With the games played Monday in the record book, the league standings seem to be clearing up in the two sections of the volleyball competition. The D.U. victory over the T.D.'s put them in unchallenged lead in League A while the Zetes and Chi Psi's kept their records unblemished to retain a first place tie in League B.

The most thrilling game of the evening was the D.U.-T.D. fracas. The D.U.'s won the first set by a score of 15-10, but the T.D.'s came back in the second to tie the series at one each. The third game was close, but in the end the superior net work of Matt Branche and the all round quality of their reserves brought the D.U.'s out on the top end of a 15-11 score. The battle to keep out of the cellar was an interesting one also. The A.T.O.'s, paced by Elliot Winn, came through to take two out of three close contests. The favored Chi Psi team made short work of the Kappa Sig's as their all round power beat out two successive 15-7 wins. In a battle for second place tie the Sigma Nus walloped the Psi U's in their first game 15-5, but then were surprised by a Psi U surge which brought them within a single point of a win.

As of this Monday night's games the league standings are as follows:

League A	W	L	League B	W	L
D.U.	3	0	Zeta	2	0
T.D.	2	1	Chi Psi	2	0
SN	2	1	Dekes	2	1
Psi U	1	2	AD	1	2
A.T.O.	1	2	AKU	0	3
Beta	0	3	KS	0	3

Sailing Club

[Continued from Page 1]
as now it is only an associate member. As a permanent member, the college must supply its own equipment and therefore be eligible for nation-wide competition. As an associate member, Bowdoin College must depend, for the most part, on the M.I.T. sailing facilities. A large majority of the I.C.Y.R.A. members and an ever-increasing number are permanent members, as only thirteen of the thirty-seven members are still associate members.

Fifty-Yard Dash At Interfraternity Swimming Meet

Photo by Fred Wilman
Fifty-yard freestyle final at the Interfraternity Swimming Meet. Left to right: Gordon Page (Psi U.), Art Hamblen (Zeta), Alec Penney (D. U.), Guy Leadbetter (Beta), and John Mitchell (D. U.)

100 Years Of Baseball At Bowdoin Include Many Interesting Contests

By Bob Waldron

Baseball at Bowdoin is really here to stay. At least that was the opinion expressed by Coach "Deacon" Danny McFayden when your reporter interviewed him about the "Buge" squad he has had working out for several weeks in the cage. He expressed no surprise at the large number of prospective Varsity and Junior Varsity players, but he suggested that a look into the records held in the Gymnasium Trophy Room would give an amazing contrast.

Well, your reporter went into the Gym the next afternoon and tried to gather some of this information. Thanks to the cooperation of Bill Morgan of the Athletic Office, we were able to gather a lot of interesting information from the old and seldom disturbed record books. These records give a real running story of the development of America's favorite sport at Bowdoin.

In 1846, only seven years after Abner Doubleday had introduced the game to an eager Cooperstown, N. Y., throng, the first Bowdoin baseball team was organized. As far as our records show and any other college records have shown, this Bowdoin team was the first college nine in America. Little is known about this Bowdoin team, for there were no game or player records kept in those days. What is important, however, is that we may be proud of the fact that the earliest forerunner of the great modern system of college baseball was conceived right here at Bowdoin.

The first team we really know anything about was organized in 1860. This was the class team of '61. This nine played the first game which has been noted in the college records. The Brunswick Sunrise Club furnished the opposition which proved to be pretty stiff. The game was played on October 10, 1860 at the Topsham Fair Grounds before one of the largest crowds this region had seen. When the final tally was taken, the Class of '61 came out on the short end of a tremendous slugfest by the astronomical score of 46 to 42. These were the days when power meant everything and pitching practically nothing.

In 1867 the Bowdoin nine joined the Maine Association of Baseball Players, a group of players from all over the state which held regular and state championship play. Each year the association gave a silver ball to the winning state championship team. In 1867, the first year of college participation, Bowdoin's nine took the silver ball and all the honors that went with it.

Among the other honors the team has won, were the state intercollegiate championships in 1924, 1936, and 1938. We were tied with Maine for the championship in 1923 and in 1942 with the other three colleges. That 1942 season was perhaps the most interesting of the recent years for it produced a won-lost record of 3-3 for each of the four teams. Seldom have the teams been represented by aggregations of such similar potentialities.

Until the season of 1866 the teams had got along without anyone acting as a captain. The tradition of naming the leading or best-looking player captain began here with the naming of C. M. Beecher and O. D. Baker as co-captains. Similarly the team got along with no manager until 1896 when A. P. Ward was named. Before this, we were told, the boys carried their bats to and from the games themselves.

The most surprising thing which your reporter found in the college records, however, was the absence of a baseball coach. Not until the season of 1903 did the college authorities see fit to appoint a man to the position of coach. Before this, the nine had got along by a system of self-coaching and aid from interested alumni and friends. John Erwin started the list of several very distinguished coaches we have been fortunate in having to guide our teams. Among these were Ben Houser in 1924, Lin Wells in 1934, and most recently Danny McFayden. Probably the

[Continued on Page 4]

Merrow, Blake Pace Team As D.U.'s Are Runners-Up

By Ray Swift

A powerful Zeta Psi swimming team, studded with names from the regular Varsity line-up, ran off with four first places and the championship in the Interfraternity Swimming Meet last Thursday night.

25 Men Cut From Baseball Squad As 75 Survive

An unexpected return of King Winter brought new woes to Deacon Danny McFayden, Bowdoin's baseball mentor, as below freezing temperatures drove his hopefuls indoors last week. The belated cold spell, of course, will retard his weeding out process by a few days, and with the first exhibition game less than two weeks away, he has to cut the squad to workable size before long.

Over 25 men have already been sliced from the roster, but an unwieldy group of 75 remains to be picked over. The squad did manage to hold an outdoor workout Friday, but the weather was so cold that the pitchers were warned not to throw hard and it was the first look at any real hurling this spring by most of the batters. McFayden had each pitcher toil for nine outs with the rest of the team changing at frequent intervals.

Not much could be gleaned by this windy drill and Saturday's workout which was slated to be an important one was snowed out. Now that so much time has been lost, McFayden plans to stage practices over the Easter weekend in order to get a glimpse of the many candidates that he has never seen in real action. Realizing only too well that the other Maine teams are loaded, he hopes to get a line on the Polar Bears' chances in the exhibition tilts.

Ski Team Places Fifth In North Conway Race

The Bowdoin Ski Team, handicapped by the injury of Bo Burke, and Chris Langaard placed fifth in the Drifters' Memorial Cup Race at North Conway last weekend.

Burke, one of the top downhill and slalom men in the East this year, was severely injured as he left the trail during a training run in the afternoon before the finals. Langaard, an outstanding Norwegian skier, was unable to compete, due to a previous injury this season.

The White finished only a few points behind Harvard's team, which have been beaten consistently by Bowdoin this winter. In the slalom race, held in place of the originally planned downhill at Bear Mountain, Merrill Hastings paced the Polar Bears with two steady runs, to finish sixth in a field of 49. John Curtis, with an improved second run, placed second, followed by Blake (Zeta), and Merrow (D.U.). Burke, who was injured, was disqualified in his second run and did not score.

Trailing behind the Eastern Slopes Team, the Drifters A Team, Dartmouth and Harvard, the Bowdoin Freshmen, the Schussverein Team, Yale, the Drifters B Team, and the White Mountains Ski Runners.

The Zetes scored 50 points, but were followed closely all the way by Delta Upsilon with 35 points. Next came the Dekes, the Independents, and the Betas, all within a point of each other at 25, 24, and 23. Sigma Nu captured five points, the Psi U's 2, and the ARU's one.

A double winner in the fifty and the hundred was Alec Penney, Captain of the Varsity and mainstay of the D.U. team. Adin Merrow of the winning Zeta squad won the backstroke event, and shared honors with fraternity brother Bob Blake in a tie for the 440 title. Blake also edged Soltysiak of the Independents to win the 220. With Soltysiak and Gath of the Independents winning the breaststroke and the diving events, there were no surprises as the regular members of the Varsity filled their usual spots.

The D.U.'s took an early lead as their Medley Relay touched out the Independents for first place, and the Dekes, the Betas, and the Zetes brought up the rear. Tony Soltysiak put the Independents in the running by coming in second behind Bob Blake in the 220. But as Alec Penney and Mitchell of the D.U. squad placed first and fifth in the fifty, they maintained a two-point edge on the Zetes. Art Hamblen placed second best in the dash, followed by Guy Leadbetter and Gordon Page.

Only three entries in the diving event made it unexciting, but Lennie Gath contributed an excellent performance, followed by Bill Blaine and Bob Darden. Alec Penney and Art Hamblen placed the usual one-two in the hundred, but third was continually in doubt as George Schenck of the Betas barely came in ahead of Adam Walsh of the Dekes, in a churning, back-breaking race. Adin Merrow easily took the backstroke event, followed by Erswell, Thompson, Fraser, and Biette, and enough Zete power finally showed itself to tie up the meet with the D.U.'s 27-27.

Tony Soltysiak took the 100 yd. Breaststroke, with Howie Reiche and Pete VanOost of the Betas close behind to challenge the Independents' bid for third place. The rest of the meet belonged to Zeta Psi as they took one-two-three in the 440, and top honors in the final play. The Zetes' joy was vented on Pete Fennel, an innocent official at the meet, but who took the victory plunge for the winning team.

Summary:
150-yd. Medley Relay—Won by Delta Upsilon (D. Penney, Lord, Mitchell); second, Independents; third, Delta Kappa Epsilon; fourth, Beta Theta Pi; fifth, Zeta Psi. Time: 1:53.8.
220-yd. Freestyle—Won by Blake (Zeta); second, Soltysiak (Ind.); third, Zeiler (Zeta); fourth, Brown (SN); fifth, Cary (DKE). Time: 2:25.6.
50-yd. Freestyle—Won by A. Penney (D.U.); second, Hamblen (Zeta); third, Leadbetter (Beta); fourth, Page (Psi U); fifth, Erswell (Ind.). Time: 1:08.6.
100-yd. Freestyle—Won by Gath (Ind.); second, Blaine (D.U.); third, Darden (DKE); fourth, Biette (ARU). Time: 1:30.6.
100-yd. Breaststroke—Won by Soltysiak (Ind.); second, Reiche (Beta); third, VanOost (Beta); fourth, Penney (D.U.) disqualified. Time: 1:10.0.
440-yd. Freestyle—Tie for first place, Merrow and Blake (Zeta); third, Zeiler (Zeta); fourth, Cary (DKE). Time: 5:40.1.
200-yd. Freestyle Relay—Won by Zeta Psi (Hamblen, Zeiler, Merrow, Blake); second, Delta Upsilon; third, Beta Theta Pi; fourth, Delta Kappa Epsilon; fifth, Sigma Nu. Time: 1:47.1.

The early laws of the college provided that in order to correct the tendency of students to be idle and negligent a public examination should be held (all examinations were then oral).

HARMON'S

WILL ACCEPT ORDERS

on the
TRADITIONAL

College Blazers

in
Dark Maroon or Navy Blue

for Delivery

May 15th

These Blazers Are 100% Worsted Flannel, Custom Tailored By

McGregor

$30.00

Including the Bowdoin Seal

WRITE — PHONE — COME IN

HARMON'S

Outfitters to Bowdoin Men for over 25 Years

104 Front Street

Telephone 735

Bath

CUMBERLAND

Wed.-Thurs. April 2-3
THE DEVIL THUMB
A RIDE

with
Lawrence Tierney - Nan Leslie
also

Fox News
Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. April 4-5

BEAT THE BAND

with Frances Langford - Gene Krupa
also

Paramount News
Short Subjects

Sun.-Mon.-Tues.-Wed. April 6-7-8-9

4-DAYS-4

THE JOLSON STORY

with
Larry Parks - Evelyn Keyes
also

Paramount News
Short Subjects

Thurs.-Fri.-Sat. April 10-11-12

3-DAYS-3

THE STRANGE WOMAN

with
Hedy Lamarr - George Sanders
also

Paramount News
Short Subjects

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning ----- Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good Food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the

College Spa

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

SEE US FIRST
FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG.
TEL. 88-W

The College Book Store

OUR STOCK OF MODERN LIBRARY BOOKS
IS NOW UP TO NORMAL

PARKER 51's are again in stock
NORMA PENCILS $4.00 and $4.50
WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY $5.00

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY

FUEL OILS

BOTTLED GAS

BUILDING MATERIALS

Variety

By Wolfgang Rosenberg

ANOTHER WEEK OF "HUMAN INTEREST" HAS GONE BY, PUNCTUATED AT IRREGULAR INTERVALS BY ECHOES OF THE GLOCCA MORRA GREETING (i. e. "How are things in Glocca Morra?"). AND EVERY NOW AND THEN THE AIR WAS RENT BY SCREAMS OF "FINK! FINK!"

It's not spelled Gloccamorra, and you can buy the sheet music downtown.

The ever-increasing number of "Fink!" screams sent an investigator scurrying to the library to establish the fact that there is a Mount Fink in Southern Australia (Lat. 30.55 S; Lon. 134.1 E) and a Finkle River, also in Australia.

The New Standard Dictionary lists a "fink" as one who engages as a strike-breaker but is inexperienced in the work to be done, while Webster's New International Dictionary defines "fink" as a snitch. The New International Encyclopedia lists two outstanding people by the name of Fink, but the Encyclopedia Britannica (14th as well as 11th edition) makes no mention of this word whatsoever. "Famous First Facts" skips alphabetically from "Film" to "Fire."

Seven Finks are in the 1946-1947 edition of "Who's Who in America." In the American Thesaurus of Slang, "fink" ranks with words like "beat" as one of the most meaningful and meaningless colloquial terms in the country. The most common definition, and probably the original meaning, is that of a strike-breaker, or a workman who informs on fellow workers. But other definitions range from "traitor" to "detective," and include "beggar," "contemptible person," "informant," "non-union circus worker." The verb "to fink" can mean to tattletale, betray a secret, abandon, desert, accuse, identify, work as a strike breaker.

"Fink!" has the definition "treacherous."

Why this word has caught on with such success locally is still unknown. For the information of prospective vernacular poets, it rhymes with blink, brink, chink, clink, drink, ink, link, link, pink, shrink, sink, slink, think, wink, zinc; be-think, headwind; and bobolink.

Usually reliable sources report that there is no mystery behind the missing oriental "vase" which used to grace the window half-way up the stairway to the second floor of Hubbard Hall. The plant inside it has died.

There is resentment because students are complaining about courses and do not have the nerve to speak to their instructor outright. Criticism should be open, direct, and preferably constructive, say those who hold resentments.

Especially did this resentment come out after a recent hour exam in an afternoon class in which students were baffled by the question, "Where was Custer's last stand?" and similar sticklers. Protests should have been brought to the instructor, not bandied around the campus promiscuously.

Victious rumors of pugilistic "hoodlums" have evoked the following comment overheard between the Chapel and the Art Building: "Local gangsters ought to take their training in Chicago's underworld. Bowdoin is not preparing them properly for their aims and aspirations."

Other reports state unofficially that the whole thing was just in fun. These were the boys who playfully put nails on their freshmen paddles during hazing week.

Another herring flung with child-like amusement at the open-mouthed critics: IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR WISDOM, LOOK IN THE DICTIONARY UNDER "W."

Weekly report about last Saturday's chapel attendance: 33 undergraduates (including 3 in balcony and 3 in choir section), 2 friends of the college, 6 faculty members (including 1 speaker).

Audubon Speaker To Give Bird Lecture

Mr. Bert Harwell will give a bird lecture, "Music of the Out-of-Doors," at Memorial Hall on Wednesday, April 16, at 8:15 p.m. The public is cordially invited to this lecture given under the auspices of the Mayhew Lecture Fund.

Mr. Harwell, a well-known speaker, is the National Audubon Society lecturer. He has taken many Kodachrome motion pictures of his subjects, winning himself a place as an expert in the field of photography. Mr. Harwell has traveled extensively in the West and will show pictures and lecture on birds from the Sequoia and Yosemite National Parks. Some of the species he will speak on include the solitary, the sierra grouse, the dipper, cranes, avocets, phalaropes, burrowing owls, and egrets.

Some facts will also be given by Mr. Harwell on mule deer and elk found in the Nalhuur Wild Life Refuge, and he will show pictures of the antelope which is found in the mountains in Oregon.

Branche To Name Ivy Houseparties Committee

At a recent Junior Class meeting held in Memorial Hall, permission was given to Matthew D. Branche, President of the Class of 1949, to appoint the Ivy Day Committee which will be announced next week.

This committee will work in conjunction with the Student Council to plan the activities for the Ivy Day Houseparty Dance on May 2. Although definite plans for the dance have not yet been completed, Johnny Boswell and band were under consideration.

All Juniors were assessed six dollars for the Ivy Dance, according to William A. Dougherty, President of the Student Council. Men with 16 credits or more will be considered Juniors. If a man has been assessed before, however, he will not be taxed again.

"Let There Be Men" Is Called "Knockout Show"

The Colby Varsity Show, "Let There Be Men," is to be given at Memorial Hall next Tuesday evening at 8:15. It is a "knockout show," according to Peter T. Poor '50 of the Masque and Gown. Poor saw the original presentation of the student-written revue at Waterville last month.

The songs, written by Colby seniors Bud Schlesinger and Russ Farnsworth, include such titles as "Let There Be Men," "Tis Tough, Sho' 'Nuff," and "I Want to Go to Bed with Shakespeare." The cast of sixteen will be abetted by a seven-piece band.

Students may be admitted on Blanket Tax tickets or secure reserved seats at 25c, according to Prof. George H. Quinby, Director of Dramatics. Others will be charged 50c for rush seats and 75c for reserved seats. Reservations may be made by calling 83-M between seven and nine p.m. on Sunday and Monday, April 6 and 7.

Samuel A. Ladd, Jr. Directs Placement Bureau; Finds Jobs All Over The Country For Bowdoin Men

By H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45

"The college offers assistance to students and graduates in solving the problem of employment, both during their undergraduate courses and afterward. Opportunities for undergraduates in part-time work at the College or in the community are usually available through the Placement Bureau. The Bureau assists undergraduates in establishing contacts for summer employment."

This paragraph from the college catalogue tells but half the story of the Placement Bureau, the other half is the man behind it. From his office on the third floor of Massachusetts Hall, Samuel A. Ladd, Jr., directs the activities of Bowdoin College Placement Bureau.

Mr. Ladd, stocky, intense, and natively dressed has been running the Bureau since its inception early in 1944. From its opening the tempo of work has steadily increased as evidenced by the fact that in the past year well over two hundred graduates were put in satisfactory positions and innumerable undergraduates were given part-time work. An example of the extent of the Bureau activities was one week last year when jobs were found in Tokyo, San Francisco, South-Western United States, and Minneapolis.

From his orderly desk in Brunswick, "earnest, fast-talking, Sam Ladd is in close touch with thirty-five vocational committees strategically located throughout the country. The committees are made up of volunteer alumni stretching from Bangor to Los Angeles, and from Montreal to Dallas. Thus the Bureau, in conjunction with these committees, is in reality a nationwide employment agency for Bowdoin men, past and present.

The object of the Placement Bureau is "to assist each Veteran, Alumnus, and new graduate to find the niche in civilian life for which he is best suited by reasons of his interests, aptitudes, education, experience and geographical preference. It is felt that the best way to perform this service most effectively is to call on the almost unlimited resources and knowledge of the faculty and Alumni to serve in the capacity of advisors and counselors in their special fields."

A Bowdoin man appearing at the Placement Bureau for vocational counsel and assistance is asked to complete a qualifications record form. This form serves not only as a guide to the Personnel Director in evaluating the candidate's qualifications during the subsequent interview but also enables the Bureau to present pertinent facts concerning the application to prospective employers and committees. The Bureau plans to refer candidates to the committees only after interview at the office.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

of BRUNSWICK, MAINE
Capital and Surplus $350,000
Total Reserves over $3,000,000
Student Patronage Solicited

PHILGAS DOES THE COOKING BEST BRUNSWICK HARDWARE

Placement Bureau Head

Samuel A. Ladd, Jr., director of the activities of the Placement Bureau, has found jobs for Bowdoin men in Tokyo, San Francisco, South-Western United States, and Minneapolis.

and advisement of the candidate's abilities to the committee chairman or other members. Occasionally a candidate may learn of the activity of the committee and approach its members directly without clearing through the Bureau. This procedure is confusing to the committee representatives and can only be corrected by asking the applicant to properly register at the office of the Placement Bureau in person, if possible for interview and screening.

More time than usual will be devoted to the registrant whose interests and qualifications are indefinite. Referrals are made to the Department of Psychology where various vocational interest and aptitude tests are administered under the direction of the department head. These tests together with a complete record of the candidate's classroom work and extra-curricular activities are used to determine his availability for positions open in the market. The Placement Director realizing this situation endeavors to establish connections with business organizations that plan for leadership through service training where the preparation for advancement is informal but the opportunities genuinely obtainable.

The men who register with the Bureau possess a wide range of talent and experience. Their ages range from 20 to 47 with 75% fall-

D. D. GARDNER CO.
SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

TOWN TAXI
24-Hour Service
Phone 1000

Boston Alumni To Hear State Of College Speech

On April 10th, President Kenneth C. M. Sills will deliver his 31st annual report on "The State-of the College" before the Alumni Association of Boston. Seward J. Marsh '12, Secretary of the Alumni Council will also be present.

John W. Tarbell '26, President of the Boston Association, will introduce President Sills. Mr. Tarbell is also in charge of the tickets for the second annual Bowdoin Night at the Boston "Pops" Symphony on May 12th. Theodore L. Fowler '24 is Secretary for the Association in Boston.

President Sills first spoke before the Boston group in 1917, when he was Acting President of the college. This year will be the 31st presentation of his address. "Chet" Taylor, professional radio singer will sing Bowdoin songs as a part of the entertainment.

Human Attitudes Vital, Says Cumming In Chapel

Reverend Professor Charles G. Cumming of the Bangor Theological Seminary, spoke on the importance of human attitudes, at the chapel service last Friday.

He pointed out the necessity of maintaining a positive attitude toward life, and cited many instances where failure to adopt this kind of attitude has meant disaster in the lives of apparently successful men. He further states that the constructive ideas for a positive attitude may be gained only from faith, whereas incredulity breeds only a negative attitude. He concluded by saying that the choice remains to the individual and that on this choice depends his future happiness.

Reverend Mr. Cumming was presented by the Bowdoin Christian Association, which yesterday started its chapel discussions of current political issues.

Bowdoin Fly-Boys - - -

The Sky's The Limit

at . . .

Douglas Flying Service

DOUGLAS FIELD
Brunswick, Maine Phone 1235

Yes, We're Interested In

ALL Your

PRINTING

We have had long experience in producing for Bowdoin men:

STATIONERY POSTERS
TICKETS ALUMNI LETTERS
FRATERNITY FORMS

And Other Printing

Ask Us For Quotations

The RECORD OFFICE

Phones 1 and 3
Paul E. Niven, Bowdoin 1916
Manager
Printers of The Orient

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM - NEW DINING PORCH
NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER - HAROLD E. FOOTER

Students Of Bowdoin ☆☆☆☆

Do you know about the new Men's Shop recently opened in Freeport?

You owe it to yourself to visit this new store. . . . A really modern store catering to Young Men of college age.

Now in stock and on display are fine quality - - -
SUITS - TOPCOATS - SPORTS COATS - TROUSERS
JACKETS - SWEATERS - HATS - SHOES

Nationally advertised brands are featured.

The Men's Shop, Inc.

Owned and operated by the Men's Shop Inc. of Westbrook, Maine

FAYE FLASH

READ HOW THE GLAMOROUS FAYE BLESSING, NOTED TRICK-RIDING STAR OF THE RODEO, ROPED AND RODE HER WAY TO FAME

THE STORY BEGINS SEVERAL YEARS AGO ON THE COLORADO RANCH OF FAYE BLESSING'S FATHER DURING A WILD-HORSE ROUNDUP...

LOOK! FAYE ROPED THE WILD PALOMINO

FAYE'S PRACTICALLY LIVED WITH THAT CRITTER THESE LAST WEEKS - HE'S A BEAUTY!

MIGHT MAKE A GOOD COW PONY, BUT SHE'LL NEVER CALM HIM DOWN ENOUGH FOR TRACK RIDING

SEVERAL MONTHS LATER - THE EL PASO RODEO

INTRODUCING A NEWCOMER TO THE RODEO CIRCUIT - GLAMOROUS FAYE BLESSING - RIDING HER WILD PALOMINO - FLASH!

STEADY, FLASH! DON'T BE FRUGHTENED - ATTA BOY!

THAT GROUND IS AWFUL SLICK - HEY, WATCH IT!

WHATTA SPILL! TOLD YOU SO - YOU CAN'T TRUST A WILD HORSE

HE DIDN'T THROW HER - HE SIPPED ON THAT WET GROUND

SURE, SHE'S TERRIFIC - THAT GIRL, WHAT IT TAKES

DIDJA HEAR? NEW YORK AGENT WANTS TO SIGN FAYE UP FOR THE MADISON SQUARE GARDEN RODEO

A CHAMPIONSHIP - A CONTRACT - AT CALLS FOR SOMETHING SPECIAL

SOMETHING SPECIAL TO ME RIGHT NOW WOULD BE A CAMEL

A CAMEL ALWAYS HITS THE SPOT

THOUGH BADLY SHAKEN UP, FAYE BLESSING REMOUNTS AND...

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU

T for Tense... T for Thrill... that's your proving ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't tell you "T-Zone" to a "T."

CAMEL

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER IN RIDING... IN CIGARETTES TOO! I'VE TRIED THEM ALL - CAMELS SUIT ME BEST!

Faye Blessing

FAYE BLESSING has been a star of the rodeo for 5 years. Her experience with various brands of cigarettes dates back to the war shortage - "That's when I smoked a different brand every day," she recalls. "That's when I learned to appreciate Camels."

Political Group Split on Greek, Turkish Loans

Brewer Guides First Parley For More Political Interest

A political discussion on the proposed loan to Greece and Turkey was held in the Union, Thursday night, April 10, under the auspices of the BCA, Bowdoin-on-the-Air and the Union Committee.

The discussion, which is part of a long-range program of the combined committees, was opened by Shepard Lifshitz '47, President of the BCA, and was guided by Mr. William Brewer, Instructor in Government. There were about 25 students present at this first meeting of discussion groups, formed to promote political awareness in the student body.

Mr. Brewer, as moderator and advisor, began the discussion by outlining certain factors which should be considered along with the simple fact of a monetary loan to Greece and Turkey. He pointed out that the ultimate aims of Communism and Capitalism should have an important effect on forming an opinion of the loan. Mr. Brewer then opened the meeting to discussion.

The opinions stated ranged from strong approval of military loans to reserved disapproval of any loan. Those expressing approval generally approved the loans for military purposes on the grounds that Communism is a definite menace that should be met with positive action by the democracies. Those persons who were opposed to the loan or who qualified their approval, generally were suspicious of what they considered a reactionary Greek monarchy, expressing fear that military funds might be used to suppress "democratic" elements in Greece. Several others of this group recommended economic aid to Greece and Turkey which would rebuild industry and agriculture. Most of these speakers qualified their approval by insisting that this aid be administered under United States management.

Others maintained that the main decision was whether the danger of Communism was great enough to warrant support of reactionary or right wing groups. The only general points of agreement were upon the necessity of U. S. supervision of the money. It was also generally agreed that the U. N. was incapable of handling this or any other major problem. The principal disagreement was on the danger of Communism.

These discussions are to take place weekly upon some subject discussed in chapel by a member of the joint organizations.

Citation Awarded To Bowdoin President

PROFESSOR NOEL C. LITTLE AWARDS President Kenneth C. M. Sills with a citation from the Navy Department in recognition of his outstanding service during World War II.

Navy Honors Pres. Sills For World War II Service

President Kenneth C. M. Sills was honored by the United States Navy at a short ceremony in his office last week at which time he was awarded a certificate of achievement "in grateful recognition of meritorious personal service during World War II."

Achievement Test To Be Given To June Graduates

Seniors who graduate this June will be required to take a special examination of General Education, prepared by the Graduate Record Office. It was announced by Dr. Walter H. Clark of the Department of Psychology. The examination, to be given at Bowdoin on May 8th and 9th, follows a request by the Carnegie Foundation, which is sponsoring a post-war survey of conditions in the colleges.

In order to obtain a valid measurement of these conditions, the Graduate Record Office has stipulated that all June seniors, without exception, be required to take the tests, to which condition the College has agreed. In return, the students tested are to be given the test without charge. The results, by which they will be able to compare their knowledge with students in other colleges, will be made available to them. Scores will also be available to graduate schools or employing agencies if the student requests it. Also, the college will receive a special report by which conditions at Lieutenant (j.g.) Robert G. Stearns U.S.N.R., of the Navy Recruiting Station at Portland, brought the certificate on a special trip to the college. At the ceremony, Commander Noel C. Little, former commanding officer of the Navy Training Pre-Radar School at Bowdoin College, presented the award.

Vice-Admiral Louis Denfeld, U.S.N. Chief of Navy Personnel, had previously signed the document and cited services rendered by the President in connection with the establishment and operation of the Naval Training Unit at the college during and even before the war.

President Sills, in accepting the citation expressed his gratitude to the naval officers for the fact that Bowdoin students are able to live at the Brunswick Naval Air Station while attending college. The President also asserted that he was proud that Bowdoin had been chosen for the Navy Engineering and Radar School and that he had always been glad to help in the establishment and operation of the school.

The guests at the ceremony were Mrs. Sills, Philip S. Wilder, assistant to the president, and William A. Dougherty, president of the Student Council.

Institute Opens With Lecture By Dr. Thorp

Talks On Policies Of United States State Dept. Asst.

"We must break away from the belief that we can separate our domestic and foreign policies," declared Dr. Willard Long Thorp, Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, in a lecture at Memorial Hall on Monday evening. Speaking on "The Interrelation of United States Foreign and Domestic Policies," Dr. Thorp opened Bowdoin's twelfth biennial Institute, devoted this year to World Politics and Organization.

Noting that the 80th Congress has devoted more attention to foreign policy than to domestic matters, Dr. Thorp divided the problems before the world into two categories, those of peace and those of plenty. In the latter field, he continued, "the world is doing very badly. Global war always destroys economic capacity." In addition to the problems which could be foreseen during the war, several unpredictable aggravations have arisen including shortages of agricultural machinery and machine tools and the low productivity of unfertilized land. Coal production in the Ruhr, only back to one-half the prewar rate, is a major bottleneck; we are shipping thirty billion tons a year to Europe compared with an annual prewar average of fifty thousand tons. Another difficulty is the shortage of freight cars.

Dr. Thorp discussed Russia's economic incapacity to fill the vacuum created by the loss of Germany as a producing and marketing center, the reparations problem, and the inability of many countries to achieve a desirable balance of trade. Changes

(Continued on Page 4)

D. U's, Zetes Agree To House Foreign Students

The Zeta Psi and Delta Upsilon Fraternities have each followed the Chi Psi Fraternity in agreeing to house and feed a Foreign Student for the coming college year, and the Psi Upsilon Fraternity has consented to provide meals for one student. Several other fraternities are considering the matter but have not, as yet, made known their decisions.

As set forth in the ORIENT two weeks ago, the plan provides for six students from foreign countries to receive free tuition from the college if half the fraternities are willing to provide room and board for one student each. The countries from which students are available are, so far, Czechoslovakia, France, Greece, Holland, Italy, Norway, and Latin American countries. Treaties now pending negotiation will permit Austrian and German students to join the list. The Chi Psi's have put in a bid for a Czech whom they will quarter at the fraternity house, and the D.U.'s are considering a Greek student, although the question of whether or not he will be in the fraternity house has not yet been decided.

Records and brief biographies of the available students are obtainable from the Institute of International Education in New York or the American Field Service and any negotiations for students should be made through them.

Campus Radio Studio May Locate In Union

Dr. Dan E. Christie, Associate Professor of Physics and Mathematics and Chairman of a sub-committee on location of the Radio Studio Committee has announced that the committee has decided to move the station to the Union. After consulting with officials of the Moulton Union, the sub-committee found this room to be the most suitable for a radio studio on campus.

Don T. Potter, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, said, "If the ORIENT were moved, the paper should be given adequate facilities by the College." The sub-committee suggested part of the basement of Moore Hall because of its central location and the fact that it could be open after midnight.

With the choice of the Radio Studio fairly certain, the Radio Studio Committee is having technical engineers come and plan a layout.

Kendrick Assumes Post As Dean; Nixon Named Winkley Professor, Abrahamson Made Full Professor

Lifshitz Speaks On Interest In Current Affairs

Shepard Lifshitz, president of the B.C.A., outlined a plan which, it is hoped, will "stimulate an intelligent interest in the vital controversial issues which are with us today," by presenting frequent Chapel speakers on these issues, and discussions to follow the speeches. He followed this outline by the first of these speeches in Chapel, on April 28, "The Proposed Loan to Greece and Turkey."

The plan, said Lifshitz, calls for a bi-monthly presentation in Chapel on some vital issue before the Congress; the various issues to be decided after consultation with the Government Department. These issues will be informally discussed in a day or two by the students, with a member of the faculty present as moderator and consultant. Polls of student opinion on the issues will be taken in all the fraternity houses a few days after the discussion, and the results will be mailed to the Congressmen from Maine and Massachusetts.

"A monthly discussion of the issues will be held through the facilities of Bowdoin-on-the-Air," continued Lifshitz. "We invite suggestions for improvement as well as your utmost participation and support."

Lifshitz followed with a sketch of the present conditions of the proposed loan. He told of President Truman's request for a loan of four million dollars to the two countries after Great Britain's withdrawal of her aid to Greece. Three distinct reactions sprang up after the President's speech. The first favored the loan in order to prevent the spread of Communism which, according to the loan's proponents, is a threat to American security. The second viewpoint, which has the backing of Henry Wallace, recommends help to Greece, a potentially democratic country, but not to Turkey which is "entirely autocratic." The third viewpoint seems to favor the rejection of the loan, as it is "designed only to help American oil interests in the East, and would merely grant increased opportunity for exploitation of these lands." Lifshitz remarked that "our own Senator Brewster has expressed views similar to this last one."

Lifshitz told of the inefficient tax system of Greece and of her overall economic collapse. Vital needs such as food and clothing press her from all sides, which through bungling in administrative sections, she has an excess of unnecessary luxuries, such as a "supply of combs which will last her until 1999."

Quill Extends Deadline, Manuscripts Due Friday

The deadline for contributions to the May issue of the Bowdoin QUILL has been extended to Friday, April 18, according to Alexander J. Curtis '49, Editor. Any member of the College is welcome to submit essays, short stories, poetry, or other types of original pieces for consideration. The next issue is expected to be published around May second according to Curtis. Manuscripts may be sent to Curtis at the Zeta Psi House to any member of the QUILL Editorial Board.

Hormell Announces Change In Institute

Dr. Ralph J. Buncie, Director of the Division of Trusteeships of the United Nations Secretariat, will be the fourth Institute speaker, Professor Orren C. Hormell, chairman of the faculty committee, has announced. He will speak on "The Future of Dependent Peoples" on the evening of May 19th. Professor Hormell also announced that Major-General John H. Hildring, who was to have lectured on "The Problems of Occupation," has had to cancel his engagement.

Resigning Dean

PAUL NIXON resigns as Dean after serving twenty-two years in that capacity.

High Schools Give Six Plays In Drama Final

The annual Interscholastic Dramatic Contest, sponsored by the college and participated in by six high schools, was held on Saturday, April 13, in Memorial Hall.

The participants in the contest were the finalists for the state, picked from 35 competing schools. They were: Winslow, Lewiston, Brunswick, Sanford, and Bangor High Schools, and Mappanowook Academy of Lincoln.

Four plays were presented in the afternoon and two in the evening, all of which were judged by the directors of dramas from Bates, Colby, and the University of Maine. After the judges of the final contest had chosen Lewiston as the winner and Brunswick as receiving second place, all five judges met with directors and cast members of the two plays to advise them on improving their productions before they play at the New England Festival early in May.

Bowdoin presented the winners of the contest with cups, as well as entertaining 70 odd people connected with the production at a dinner at the Harriet Beecher Stowe House. Professor Athern P. Daggett, chairman for the Preparatory School Committee of the college, acting as toastmaster at the dinner, introduced the following speakers: Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick who welcomed the contestants to Bowdoin, Principal Lawrence Stuart, of the Cape Elizabeth High School, who spoke for the Principals Association of Maine, Mr. Alston Smith, of Rockland, who spoke for the Dramatic Coaches Association, and Mr. Riley who spoke on behalf of the judges.

This year marks the third time that Brunswick High School has won a prize at these contests. At a meeting of the Dramatic Coaches Association before the dinner, plans were laid for a continuation of the contests next year.

Glee Club Annual Tour Ends Well; Visited Vassar And Points South

Frederick W. Lacey '49

On Friday, March 28th, some sixty-odd gay blades thumbed their noses temporarily at their books and headed for parts south. The first annual Bowdoin Glee Club Grand Tour since the war was under way.

Our bus driver, "Les," who has transported us on all our shorter trips this year, took the bulk of the group in a new Greyhound which sported Glee Club banners on the sides. The overflow rode in private cars.

The first stop was Worcester, Mass., where we were rationed out to alumni in twos and threes for safe keeping. We ate in private homes that evening and gave our first concert at the Bancroft School there in Worcester. The turnout was excellent, and after the singing, there was a dance with hostesses provided by obliging alumni.

We slept in private homes that night and took off the next morning for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Vassar. The girls there had

Governing Boards Decide To Raise Three Millions

The resignation of Paul Nixon as Dean of the college and his appointment as Winkley Professor of the Latin Language and Literature has resulted in the appointment of Acting Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick as Dean of the College at a special weekend meeting of the Governing Boards.

The college is making plans to raise $3,025,000 for immediate needs and has set an ultimate goal that is much higher than this figure, President Kenneth C. M. Sills said after the special meeting. He did not amplify his statement concerning the financial drive other than to say that the Governing Boards have decided to initiate the campaign as soon as is deemed practical and have appointed a special committee to set up the fund raising report at the regular meetings of the Boards in June as to the progress it has made.

Other important business matters acted upon concerned faculty promotions and leaves of absence. These included the promotions of associate professor of economics Albert Abrahamson '26 to the rank of full professor and that of Nathan Dane II '37 from instructor in classics to assistant professor of classics for three years.

Concerning Dean Nixon's resignation, the President said of him, "He has been universally loved by the Alumni, widely known in academic circles, and had given long and effective services as the dean."

A graduate of Wesleyan University, Dean Nixon was the first Rhodes scholar from Connecticut, attending Oxford University from 1904-07. He holds honorary L.H.D. degrees from Wesleyan and Bowdoin, and an LL.D. from Colby. Appointed to the faculty in 1909, he became Professor of Latin in 1911, and Dean in 1918 after serving one year as Acting Dean.

Dean Kendrick, who has been Acting Dean since April 1946, is a graduate of Rochester in 1921, with a Ph. D. from Harvard in 1931. He joined the Bowdoin faculty in 1926 as a member of the History Department and will continue to give one course in Modern European History.

(Continued on Page 2)

Bowdoin Pops Concert To Be Held May 12th

The Bowdoin Alumni Association has taken over the "Bowdoin Night at Pops" program. It will be the first time that the Middlecampers have sung in Symphony Hall. Professor Tillotson said that since Bowdoin has taken over the entire house for the concert, he might be able to arrange to have the orchestra play several request numbers, and he will welcome suggestions.

Lloyd Knight '45 is to be the soloist with the orchestra. The college glee club will sing two selections, the first of these being "Listen to the Lambs," by Dett, and the second, "The Testament of Freedom," with music by Randall Thompson and words by Thomas Jefferson. The Middlecampers double quartet will sing a group of their most popular songs, after which the program will be closed with the Bowdoin College Medley by the glee club, the alumni, and the orchestra.

While this will be the second appearance of Knight at the "Bowdoin Night at Pops" program, it will be the first time that the Middlecampers have sung in Symphony Hall. Professor Tillotson said that since Bowdoin has taken over the entire house for the concert, he might be able to arrange to have the orchestra play several request numbers, and he will welcome suggestions.

(Continued on Page 1)

Sills Appoints Alumni To Radio Committee

Scott C. W. Simpson '03 of Intervale, New Hampshire, and Creighton E. Gatehall of Cape Elizabeth have been appointed to the Alumni Committee on the Campus Radio Studio by President Kenneth C. M. Sills. Gatehall is affiliated with station WGAN in Portland.

Many House Dining Rooms To Be Open For Summer; Interfraternity Co-op Shows Economy For Houses

Richard A. Wiley '49

Tentative summer dining plans currently under consideration by the House Managers were revealed in an interview last week with Stephen B. Berry, Assistant Director of the Dining Services.

Many criticisms and questions raised about the Interfraternity Cooperative were also answered by Mr. Berry in the hope that the undergraduates might thus obtain a fuller understanding of the plan and its problems.

The Psi Upsilon Fraternity plans to close its dining room and eat with Theta Delta Chi for the summer session. The members of Alpha Rho Upsilon will eat at the Alpha Tau Omega house. According to Mr. Berry, the dining room of the Moulton Union will be closed, but the canteen will continue to accommodate students. Independents and men attending from other colleges will be distributed as equally as possible among those houses maintaining their dining facilities.

Under a plan similar to that employed for the last summer session regular meals will be served only five days a week in those houses remaining open. Board for Monday breakfast through Friday luncheon is estimated at $9.50. Two houses, one at either end of the campus will be open on weekends for those men staying at the College. The houses will rotate in keeping open to provide this service.

Meals during this period will be bought separately and will bring the total cost of board for a week to about $14-$15.

All help will be paid full time when the houses are open for an entire week. When running only five days a week, the chefs will receive pay for six days, and the other help for the five days actually worked.

A survey has been made to determine the number of men in each fraternity returning for the summer. Including students from other schools each dining room remaining open will feed about fifteen men. This is coming very close to the margin of safety, according to Mr. Berry. If these houses want to be sure not to run at a loss, he cited fifty-five men as the safe minimum number. Since food costs will run the same as last week, houses with as few as fifty men will have to economize in other ways in order to break even, Mr. Berry said. Serving noon meals cafeteria style and thus eliminating cost of waiters for one meal a day was one of his suggestions.

Concerning the Cooperative as a whole Mr. Berry wished especially to make clear the status of the fraternity statements showed a profit last month which in some cases reached large proportions. But, warned Mr. Berry, these were only "paper profits," because the cost of the inventory held by the houses has yet to be subtracted from them. Statement forms in the future will be revised to include a separate inventory item to avoid this misconception.

According to Mr. Berry, there are no actual contracts between the various fraternities and the Cooperative. The entire system is based on mutual consent with houses free to withdraw if they so desire.

In the past slight additions have been made by the Cooperative to the prices of meat purchased from wholesalers. This increase of a few cents per pound was to absorb the express charges from Portland to Brunswick. Mr. Berry cited the fact that if the Cooperative ordered one hundred dollars worth of goods from a certain wholesaler, no express charge was made on shipments of fish because they all came to one destination.

Foodstuffs returned by the fraternity chefs to the Cooperative because of spoilage or over-ordering are credited to the house accounts. Houses can order any quantity of food, have some shipped in for use, and have the rest held in their name at the refrigeration plant where possibility of spoilage is eliminated. Chefs can order any specific item from an outside dealer by placing the order through the Cooperative.

(Continued on Page 1)

Cooperative Needs Student Interest; Summer Dining Plans Called Unsound

Very little is known by the undergraduates about the Interfraternity Cooperative, the system under which they eat. The organization was established last summer and placed in operation without much fanfare in the fall. Few house managers have kept their houses closely informed on the policies and problems of their dining rooms. Publicity has been inadequate. Some issues ago the ORIENT published a feature which outlined the purposes, general structure, and operation of the Cooperative. Before and since that time many criticisms had been levelled at the plan. That article was intended to answer those criticisms in part. In this issue will be found the report of an interview in which questions and doubts have been further answered by an official of the Cooperative.

The purpose of this presentation is to provide adequate information to the students about the organization which purchases their food. This information may arouse an undergraduate interest in where their board money is going. Particularly is this interest needed in connection with the proposed summer dining plans described elsewhere in this issue.

Officials of the Cooperative have set fifty-five men eating in a dining room as the safe minimum to insure avoidance of a deficit under present conditions. Yet, even with students from other colleges and independents distributed equally among those houses maintaining their dining rooms, each will have only fifty men eating. This drop below the margin of safety means increased headache for the chefs and stewards and possible additional assessments at the end of the summer session to cover any deficits.

Rather than tempt the possibility of financial embarrassment, several houses might swallow fraternity pride and combine for the summer for dining purposes only. One house has already made this move, but the cooperation of several others is needed.

There are several reasons for this proposed combination. First, it will insure the smooth financial operation of those dining rooms which do remain open. Second, as now proposed, only two houses will maintain their dining rooms over weekends, and meals will be purchased on an individual basis. As a result, the board rate will rise several dollars.

The reason for closing most of the dining rooms over the long weekend is that not enough men stay on campus to make the preparation of meals worthwhile. But, if several houses were to combine, employing the largest dining facilities of the group, enough men would be here on weekends to make the serving of meals possible.

Dining arrangements should be of great interest to undergraduates. For the final decision in the Cooperative rests with them. It would be wise for them to insure the best food and facilities possible.

Absence Of Magazines At Library Criticized

Although the library magazine situation is not of critical proportions, the Bowdoin College Library is amazingly weak in certain aspects of its magazine collection.

This poor condition of the magazine section is most apparent to the student who is doing research for a paper which deals with an event or phase which occurred in 1946. He can search all he wants in the stacks for the 1946 issues of many periodicals, but he will be unable to secure them. The student is told that those issues of the magazines are at the bindery and are unobtainable. Thus, it is virtually impossible at Bowdoin to write an accurate report on many events which happened last year.

Added to the lack of 1946 issues of many magazines is the complete absence, on the current shelves, of Life, Newsweek, and The Nation. This lack is hardly consistent, since The Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, and Time all appear on the shelves. The New Yorker and The Readers Digest are in the library, but not in the magazine room; they are up in the Alumni

Reading Room. The Nation is kept in Mr. Boyer's office. The library boasts issues of Life back to the first copy, but for any current issues or for 1946 copies, the student must go elsewhere.

The library answers that the reason Life is not on the shelves is because students mutilate the magazine if it is left out in the reading room. The reason that Nation is in the office is because it is too easily torn to be allowed on the shelves.

There are two solutions to this problem, both of which must be used together to produce a desirable situation. In the first place, until college students stop acting as if they were in high school by ripping the magazines apart, no satisfactory situation can be reached.

However, the library's part seems clear. Why not buy two issues of at least the more important magazines? Then, the library could have one copy of the periodical being bound, and at the same time the students would be able to get information from the other copies. This is an expensive step, it is admitted, but the only one which will effectively solve the need.

J. P.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Associate Editors John E. Nichols, Jr. '49
Johnston Poor '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '49
Albert B. Patton '50
Raymond B. Trombly '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Editorial Assistants: Harold N. Marsh, Jr. '45, P. Kendall Miven, Jr. '46, William S. Angerson '47, Bert S. Archibald, Jr. '48, Paul L. Egan '48, Carl E. Cooper '49, William M. Davis '49, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Roger L. Kover '49, Edward E. Murphy '49, George Partridge '49, Ralph R. Anderson '50, Francis R. Currie '50, Samuel T. Gilmore '50, Donald W. Henson '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50, Constance Harwood '50, Richard A. Lewis '50, A. Morton Lund '50, John F. Nixan III '50, Robert J. Walden '50
Contributing Editors Nelson L. Towers '47
Alfred F. Wilson '47
Raymond B. Trombly '48
Staff Photographer Frederick D. Willman '48
Managing Editor of This Issue
Raymond B. Trombly '50

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Assistant Business Manager Arnold Cooper '48
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schumacher '48
Francis R. Currie '50
Advertising Managers Alfred J. Wexler '47
Edward S. Early '49
W. Churchill Cressley '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Cantalanciano '48, James H. Whitcomb '48, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Hayden R. Goldberg '49, H. Noyes Macomber '49, C. Craig Ryder '49, Robert T. Tanner '49, Robert B. Barker '50, Gordon F. Linko '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50
BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Atherton P. Daggett
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown
C. Cabot Easton '48
Richard A. Wiley '49

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Modern Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

Sills Sees Need For Govt. Aid

The meeting of the Boston Alumni Association was held on Thursday, April 10. President Sills, Seward Marsh '12, Alumni Secretary, and Paul L. Courtney, Regional Manager of the National Tax Equality Ass'n, were the principal speakers of the evening.

An election of officers was held, the officers elect being Harold W. Davis '30, President, William P. Sawyer '36 and Theodore L. Fowler '24, Vice Presidents, John Williams '42, Secretary and Roy McNiven '41, Treasurer.

President Sills spoke about the need of government assistance in providing teachers and improving educational standards. Seward Marsh warned that private institutions, because of increasing costs, cannot last 15 years without the constant, active, generous support of alumni groups.

Mr. Courtney gave a speech which favored the increase of cooperative taxes.

Kendrick New Dean

[Continued from Page 1]

Professor Abrahamson returned to the faculty last fall following a long leave of absence through the war years. During that time he served in the Army, was attached to the War Department and later served as an adviser to the Labor Department. Previously he served as State W.P.A. Head.

The resignation of Honorable John A. Peters '85 LL.D. from Ellsworth, Maine was also accepted at the meeting. The Honorable Mr. Peters has served as Vice-President of the Board of Trustees since 1939.

Reappointments made were those of Assistant Professors Lawrence A. Peletier '36 of the Government Department, Lawrence S. Hall '36 of the English Department and Robert S. Brumbaugh of the Philosophy Department. These reappointments were made for a period of three years.

There were seven reappointments of instructors for a term of one year. Instructors concerned are Arthur M. Stratton '35 of the English Department, Edward Lyons of the English Department and David E. Hecht and Richard Storr, both of the History Department. Also appointed as instructors to serve for one year are Albert S. Roe of the Art Department, Raymond Bourne of the Chemistry Department and Walter M. Solnitz of the German Department.

The only new appointment was that of Mr. J. Edgar Fold from Harvard University who is assigned to the Biology Department.

Sabbatical Leaves of Absence were approved for Professor Alfred O. Gross of the Biology Department and Professor Myron A. Jeppesen of the Physics and Mathematics Department. Their leaves will be for the full academic years of 1947 to 1948. Leave for the first half of the academic year was granted to Professor Thomas Means from the Greek Department. Professor Robert P. T. Coffin and Professor Orren C. Hornell will have leaves for the second half of the academic year of 1947-1948.

LETTER TO EDITOR

I.B.S. Will Cooperate; But Pledges No Amount

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

We read with great interest the article and editorial in the ORIENT of March 26, 1947, regarding the plans for more extensive radio activities at Bowdoin. We feel that the editorial presents an unusually complete summary of the advantages of a campus radio station over other forms of college radio activity.

There is, however, one serious error in the news story. The statement is made that "I.B.S. is willing to cooperate and also to give $1500 worth of advertising per year."

The Intercollegiate Broadcasting System is an association of 66 campus radio stations. As such, it is anxious to aid all groups working toward the establishment of campus stations, but it does not "give" any station advertising. Those stations of the System which operate commercially (not all of them do) do coordinate their sales of time to national advertising through their central association. This coordination is similar to the coordination of program schedules or audience research or technical research. The System operates in all these fields, but as an exchange, not a dispensary.

The IBS could hardly have been willing to give any fixed amount of business to the projected Bowdoin station. We would be most happy, however, to have Bowdoin join in the unified campus radio movement.

Sincerely yours,
DAVID LINTON
Program Manager

"Semantic Barrier" In Foreign News Vital, Says Prof. Darbelnet

In order to view foreign affairs intelligently one must realize the existing "semantic barrier" prevalent in reports received from other countries, asserting Jean Louis Darbelnet, Professor of French in a Chapel talk last Saturday. "If we cannot do this for lack of information, we should realize there is an original context and suspend judgment until we have that information."

Prof. Darbelnet cited an example of this during the First World War when customary use by British Troops of the word "tea" connotating "meal" was misinterpreted by many of the French as a time-wasting luxury. Although this had no serious consequences, it might well have been a basis for ill-feeling.

"Information comes couched in words that are translated and may not convey connotation meant in foreign countries," he declared. Although today we must rely upon a small body of "experts" in the field of foreign relations, our support by intelligent interest must include recognition of this "semantic barrier" as well as knowledge.

Glee Club Tour

[Continued from Page 1]

to bed. Sunday in New York was a day of rest according to Tilly, but the situation was summed up very well in three words when I met that worthy gentleman in the hotel elevator on Monday morning and asked him if he had rested well. He grinned knowingly and said, "Are you kidding?"

Monday morning we left for Philadelphia, where we broadcast a fifteen minute program over station KYW. The announcer tried to come in once toward the end, but we were just drawing our breath. We got our last lacks in double forte and just about blasted the poor man through the wall.

Monday night we sang for the Philadelphia alumni in the Ardmore Junior High School in Ardmore, just outside the city. There was no dance, but we spent the latter part of the evening with our hosts. On Tuesday morning the choir sang at Girard College in Philly. Those who attended the service felt it was one of the high spots of the trip.

We returned to New York for the remainder of Tuesday and part of Wednesday. Wednesday afternoon we started on our last leg. There seemed to be some confusion as to whether we were going to a school called Edgewood Park in a town called Briarcliff Manor, or whether it was Briarcliff Manor in Edgewood Park. It turned out to be the former, and it turned out very nicely, too. It was the same old thing — a turkey dinner, music, dancing, beautiful girls — the same old social whirl, and we love it.

After Edgewood Park, we were free, and most of us started for our homes. We were tired, but we all had a wonderful time, one I know we will remember as one of our happiest college experiences.

The first Bowdoin regatta was held June 11, 1871.

CUMBERLAND

Wed.-Thurs. April 16-17
THE BRASHER DOUBLOON

with George Montgomery - Nancy Guild also

Fox News Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. April 18-19
THE MIGHTY MCGURK

with Wallace Beery - Edward Arnold also

Paramount News Short Subjects

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. April 20-21-22
First Live-Action Drama
A SONG OF THE SOUTH

also Paramount News Short Subjects

Wed.-Thurs. April 23-24
MY BROTHER TALKS TO HORSES

with Peter Lawford - Butch Jenkins also

Fox News Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. April 25-26
MURPHY ROBERT - Elizabeth Scott in

DEAD RECKONING

also Paramount News Short Subjects

Mustard and Cress

Americans Must Comprehend U.S., Foreign, And Domestic Policies

Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47

The need for an enlightened public opinion has never been more obvious than it is today. "We stand confused and uncertain at the threshold of a new era. At the close of the greatest revolutions which the world has ever known we have as yet no sure sign of what the future holds." The formulation of an effective, intelligent foreign policy, a panacea for the economic maladjustments of the "free enterprise system," the solution to the American Labor Problem—these are only the most obvious of the many pressing, confusing problems which surround us on every side. Yet, these are the problems which may make or "break" the peace, decrease or enhance our standard of living, destroy or preserve our whole way of life.

In the agricultural America of Thomas Jefferson, the independent farmer who voted at election time, read his weekly newspaper, and participated conscientiously in his local town meetings was an acceptable citizen. But, today in an interdependent world, in a great industrial nation, fraught with problems of bewildering complexity, that same farmer (or his more numerous counterpart, the urban-dweller) must have a far broader background to be an acceptable participant in 20th century democracy. He should be able to discuss the Polish minorities with Molotov, the "closed shop" with John L. Lewis, and long-range municipal planning with his city manager. Else he will fail and democracy will fail, for it is the citizen's imperative responsibility to determine public policy.

There was a time when "Let George do it" might have been an acceptable philosophy. But, that time has passed. As Mr. Robert Yoder expresses it, "There have been times when this country was getting a steady run of good 'breaks'—times when we could muddle along even with a population of sleep-walkers. Momentum got us through some crises; inertia saved us from others. But, we are now entering a period when being a participating, playing citizen of the U. S. is going to be the toughest job in the world."

There is our challenge. The strength of democracy lies in popular education. The college level is the leadership level of our educational system. Therefore, it follows that, if this way of life which we know and love is to survive, we as college graduates must be prepared not only to face, but to solve the pressing problems of our time.

Under present conditions, however, how many of us will be equal to that task? Medical students upon graduation will remember their sciences; classicists, the culture of antiquity; fledgling business men, the essential principles of economics. But, how many graduates will know and understand the problems of "American Civilization," other than through the often unrelated "tidbits" which they might have reluctantly acquired in "passing" their social science requirement. Yet, it will not be long before we, in our conversations, our clubs, and our routine electoral duties, will be determining the trend of American Public Policy at every level of government.

The eminent historian, Carl Becker, once said, "Democracy is, at best, a delicate and precarious adventure which depends for success upon the knowledge, capacities, and virtue of men." If this be true, then, we must candidly ask ourselves: will we as citizens fulfill these prerequisites of a vital democracy. If we will, then democracy is secure. But, if we won't—if our knowledge is so limited that we advocate as some undergraduates that immediate war with Russia is the only road to lasting peace, that a return to "laissez-faire" capitalism is the best solution to the maladjustments of the "free-enterprise system," that abolition of the right to strike is the best answer to the American Labor Problem—if that is the case, then our democracy is in grave danger. And, we must take immediate steps to remedy such a lack of knowledge and understanding.

Perhaps the most significant step in this direction would be the inauguration at all American colleges of a course in "American Civilization." Such a course would necessarily stress American History and Government, but it would also have to include a consideration of American Philosophy, American Economic Principles, American Sociological Problems, and American Literature. Such a course would stress ideas, but it would not slight essential detail. Such a course would be a survey in its broadest sense, but an essential and stimulating one.

Specifically, it would attempt to revise and re-orientate American ideas concerning the place of governmental action in the Commonwealth; it would stress the necessity of international understanding and cooperation; it would stimulate interest in public affairs. Broadly speaking, its purpose would be to provide every college graduate with an adequate knowledge of America's past, an understanding of America's present, and a perspective for America's future. It would necessarily be from two to four years in length; it would be an inter-departmental project; its mechanics might be initially difficult, but its contribution to the preservation of the democratic principles both at home and abroad would be immeasurable and lasting.

Indeed, the inauguration of such a course would go a long way in laying the basis for the fulfillment of Professor Becker's ideal concept of democratic government—that of persuading "average human beings, stubbornly rooted in conventional habits of thought and action to do what fallible intelligence judges on incomplete data to be for the moment necessary or desirable" for the good of the commonwealth.

Room with a view — of 11,000,000 miles!

In this room, telephone circuit specialists maintain accurate and instant control over some 11,400,000 miles of long distance lines.

Merely by referring to this huge diagram they can tell at a glance the exact status of telephone circuits from Montreal to Mexico City and from Havana to Seattle. For, as quickly as new lines are added or extended, or as quickly as circuits reach capacity or again become available, the change is recorded on this master chart.

Simple, yet effective methods like this are important to the smooth and efficient operation of the telephone industry.

Men who can produce such ideas, who can inject enthusiasm and ingenuity into their work, find telephony a fascinating and rewarding career.

There's Opportunity and Adventure in Telephony

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

POLAR BEARINGS

White Key Negligent In Handling Meets

By George McClelland

Well, the White Key has done it again! By recently ruling that only varsity and junior varsity baseball players are ineligible to play in the interfraternity softball league, this group has taken a definite step towards defeating the purpose of the White Key.

Interfraternity athletics are designed for those who are not out for a varsity sport in season. Under the present ruling, trackmen, tennis men and golfers are permitted to play softball and get all attendance. This does a twofold damage to the already unsettled Bowdoin sports picture. In the first place it prevents men who can't make any varsity team from having at least some athletic activity and second men who are out for these teams are induced by fraternity pressure to cut practice to play interfraternity ball.

This organization has done little to distinguish itself this year and the sooner it wakes up to its responsibilities the better for all concerned. The basketball league was run with amazing inefficiency. Officiating basketball is no easy job and competent referees are essential. At few if any games were there two officials who knew what the score was and at an astounding number there were no officials present and one man from each fraternity had to be drafted. This is inexcusable. Last year with only half the present enrollment the White Key had a list of refs from which two were assigned for each evening. Umpires for the volleyball league get very lucrative pay for doing very little while basketball refs often received nothing for services rendered. An attempt was made to hire one man for the entire season, but when this fell through no adequate substitute plan was put into effect.

The White Key scored again with their haphazard handling of the softball league. Several houses had less than 24 hours' notice of their opening game.

No schedule was available for almost a week of league play and as a result many teams not only weren't organized, but didn't know when or who they were playing.

Criticism was made of the handling of the interfraternity track and swimming meets by the respective coaches. However, the White Key had nothing to do with these meets. If student opinion was against varsity men competing in these meets run and run efficiently by Messrs. Magee and Miller, it would have been no strain for the White Key to run meets of their own.

But this last ruling tops all these lapses. The members of this organization had better read their constitution again. They are supposed to provide athletics for those who for one reason or another aren't representing the college in some sport. We recommend that the White Key reconsider this rule and change it to read that only those men in college who are not out for a sport in season be permitted to compete in interfraternity sports (this to include volleyball). The other difficulties can be ironed out with time, but this present rule is completely out of keeping with the White Key's reason for existence.

Another one of the duties of the White Key is to take care of visiting athletic teams. More attention should be paid to this task. It may not fit in with immediate plans of some members, but a system could be arranged by which one or two men would take responsibility for each visiting team. If the White Key representative can't make it, he can always ask one of his fraternity brothers. This is especially important in the case of high school teams who come to play J.V. teams. From these high schools come future Bowdoin men, and a little courtesy goes a long way in convincing a high school boy that Bowdoin is the place to go. We know it, and should let others know it too.

Baseball Season Launched At Bates

Sailing Club Presents Film On Bermuda Race

Technicolor movies of the last Bermuda Yacht Races were shown to a large group of students and faculty members last Friday night in the Moulton Union Lounge, by Walter C. (Jack) Wood of the M.I.T. Nautical Association. The program, presented by the Bowdoin Sailing Club as part of their fund-raising drive to buy boats and equipment, also included an informal lecture, with Professor George Owen of the Department of Naval Architecture at M.I.T., and Dr. Allen R. Lukens of the M.I.T. Nautical Association as speakers.

Frederick A. Moore '49, president of the Bowdoin Sailing Club, announced that William D. Ireland '16, a trustee of the college, had made the first contribution to the drive. It was also announced that the Club has received the endorsement of Commander Donald B. MacMillan '98, famous skipper of the ship Bowdoin.

Professor Owen, internationally known as a boat designer, called the enjoyable sport of sailing not only wonderful experience for boys and girls, but also "a gift-edged publicity for a college." He added that sailing is far more enjoyable than other sports. "Look at football; that turns out to more than a game. It's a battle! Sailing is always fun, win or lose."

Jack Wood, sailing master of the M.I.T. Nautical Association, showed movies of dinghy racing at M.I.T., with his own running commentary. He mentioned the fact that "Bowdoin men have a distinct advantage over us at M.I.T. as they can get out of doors more easily."

Mr. Wood served with the Coast Guard in World War II, organizing methods of teaching small-craft sailing, and along with Professor Owen and Dr. Lukens, he has seen the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association grow to its present strength of 37 colleges. Bowdoin is now an associate member.

During the first few years of fraternities at Bowdoin, Freshmen were not publicly recognized as members. In the fall term of their Sophomore year the new members appeared in chapel wearing their pins and the "swinging out" as it was called was awaited with much interest.

Chi Psi's Look Strong In Topping T.D.'s, 16-4 As Softball Begins

Rain played havoc with the opening games of the interfraternity softball league, causing all three of last Wednesday's tilts to be postponed. Thursday's trio of contests became the bell ringers as the White Key loop commenced its regular season of 11 games. The top four teams will qualify for the play-offs.

The Chi Psi aggregation, with several newcomers pressing holdovers from last year's team which lost out in the finals to the D.U.s, showed astounding power in crushing the T.D.s 16-4 in the most notable curtain raiser. In the two other games played, the Dukes jugged a mild upset in downing the Zetes 8-5 and the Sigma Nus rolled over the A.R.U.s 11-4.

The defending champions, the D.U.s, look stronger than ever this season and rate the favorite's role. The Chi Psi, looking to avenge their setback of last season, the A.D.s, and the Psi U.s rank as the strongest contenders with the Sigma Nu outfit again a dark horse. The rest of the teams may improve as the season progresses and produce a stirring pennant fight.

Postponed games will be played at 1:30 at the convenience of the teams concerned. All others will take place at 3:45.

Merrow Elected Captain Of 1948 Swimming Team

Adin Merrow, backstroke ace and a mainstay of this year's squad, was elected Captain of the 1948 Swimming Team in a meeting of the lettermen last week. Merrow, holder of the 150 yard Backstroke Championship won at the New England this year, has broken the record in this event against Wesleyan in 1:38 flat. He has also performed consistently in the White's crack Medley Relay. Merrow hails from Nyack, N. Y., and is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity.

Fordham University SCHOOL OF LAW NEW YORK

Three-Year Day Course
Four-Year Evening Course
CO-EDUCATIONAL
Member of Assn. of American Law Schools
Accredited College Degree Required for Admission

Veterans of World War II who have completed two years of college work toward accredited degree may matriculate within one year of honorable discharge.

Full transcript of record required in every case
FIRST YEAR CLASS BEGINS
On September 29, 1947

For further information address
Registrar,
Fordham Univ. School of Law,
362 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y.

Big White Battery Mates

BOWDOIN'S BASEBALL FORTUNES for this season will fall largely on the shoulders of these capable batterymen. Left to right: Charlie Kehlenbach, catcher; Moe Densmore, pitcher; Newt Pendleton, pitcher; and Evan Cox, catcher.

D.U.'s Take Volleyball League A Chi Psi's, Zete's lead League B

By Bob Waldron

Coming through the entire season without a black mark on their record, the crack DU sextet took undisputed possession of the imaginary pennant in volleyball League A. The season is not yet over, however, as the standings in League B are still somewhat confused and everything is dependent upon two play-offs of postponed games. As of this Monday night's contests the Chi Psi were still in a neck and neck race with the Zetes. Neither of these two contestants has yet tasted defeat, but the Zetes have played but three games to the Chi Psi's four. The two games which have been postponed will decide once and for all who is to bear the fortunes of League B into the finals on Thursday evening. The Zetes will face the A.R.U.'s present collar dwellers, and immediately afterward will meet the Chi Psi for what should be the deciding game in the series.

Among the more interesting aspects of the season were a few of the individual highlights of stars and teams. The most outstanding single player in either league was easily Matt Branche. More than once his terrific network saved the DUs from possible defeat. In every game his offensive work on the net kept his opponents wondering what to expect. But this championship team was no one man affair, as in practically every series they used at least two distinct teams. Both the Chi Psi and the Zetes produced sextets which boasted of no stars of Branche's calibre, but they each have well rounded teams and are sure that the secret of success will be the teamwork which is the result of no shining star.

Last Thursday what was perhaps the greatest upset of the season occurred when the ATO team came up with a last minute effort to edge the once beaten TDs. They lost the first game by a score of 15-5, but took the second from an overconfident opponent by the margin of 16-14 and managed to edge them by 15-12 in the clinching finale. The star of this contest was the perennial ATO flash, "Chink" Winn. His network was superb and what was even more important, he was a figure the team could rally themselves about. Farmer Lindner also spurred for the ATOs in that game. The same night the Kappa Sigs took a thriller from the fighting ARU delegation by a set score of 15-9, 15-12. This again was a case of no individual stars but the smoothness of a good working team. The Kappa Sigs were able to introduce subs into the game without danger and the ARUs gave all of their men a chance to play.

Monday evening the Chi Psi won their third consecutive game. Their victim was a hard fighting Deke outfit which never gave up and almost came through in the second game of the series to upset their favored opponents. At first they were definitely overpowered by a 15-6 count, but in the next game they led at one time by 9-2 only to lose to a long Chi Psi streak and go down to a final defeat of 15-11.

Bobcats Take Close Exhibition Game, 7-5

Launching the 1947 baseball season with an exhibition game at Bates last week, Dan MacFayden's Polar Bears dropped an exciting 7 to 5 contest to a shakely Bobcat team.

J.V.'s Defeat Westbrook, 5-3, In First Game

On Saturday afternoon, before a fair sized opening day crowd, our JV baseball team got off to a good start by defeating a powerful Westbrook High team, 5-3. The JV's packed all their scoring into two frames while the combined pitching of Moore, Schmalz, and Morrell held the opposition to six hits and allowed but one earned and two unearned runs. A three hit barrage in the third inning opened the scoring for the afternoon and resulted in three Bowdoin runs. Page's double showed the way as it put men on second and third with no outs to set up two quick runs. Again in the seventh the team struck, combining a dropped third strike, a balk, and three good hits for two runs.

The Westbrook boys did all of their scoring in the seventh and eighth frames off the pitching of Stu Morrell. The lone earned run came in the seventh on three walks and a long fly to center. The eighth inning showed some rather sloppy fielding as two errors combined with a hit batsman and a base on balls gave the schoolboys a pair of runs.

Among the individual standouts were Dave Verrill, Frank Kimball, and Pete King, who each gathered two hits for the Bowdoin cause. Bowdoin's pitching was also very good with each of the three hurlers showing plenty of stuff, but there was some wildness which accounted for ten bases on balls and one hit batsman. Hall was the only Westbrook player who managed to gather two hits.

Bowdoin Pops Concert

[Continued from Page 1]

Tickets for the concert will be sold at the following rates: tables seating five are available in the orchestra for $10, seats in the first two rows of the first balcony cost $1.75 apiece, and the remainder of the seats are priced at $1.50 and $1.00. Orders for seats should be sent to Miss Suzanne Young in the alumni office. Students attending the concert will be excused from classes on Tuesday, May 13, on presentation of ticket stubs at the information desk in Massachusetts Hall.

During the late 1920's a majority of the men were pledged by the fraternities while still in prep schools, no fraternity daring to leave that field to its rivals.

The Bowdoin coach, in tossing twenty players into the game, was able to evaluate the ability of his men beyond what could be seen in the practice sessions to date. What he saw was, for the most part, to his liking. But the White must evidence greater power at bat.

Nute Pendleton hurled brilliantly for the visitors. He held a hitting Bates club to a single safe blow while fanning five and walking only one in five innings. And the Bowdoin nine was polished in the field. Dick Pandora who is trying to push Stan Whiting out of the second-base spot generally accorded him, executed the play of the day as he raced behind second base to snag a hard liner and double Larochelle at second.

Other fielding gems were turned in by Gordy Beem who nabbed two runners at third on throws from left field, Bob Spiers who started a second double play, and several others who caught Bob Simpson in a rundown.

But things changed when Pendleton left the mound after his neat pitching chore. Bates lead 1 to 0 at this time. Porter opened the second frame with a single to left and was sacrificed to second by Simpson. Advancing to third on an infield out, he scored on a passed ball. That was all. Bates could not hit again until the sixth inning.

Neither could the Polar Bears, who were turned away helms until the eighth inning. But, the storm broke after Bob Shanahan had turned back the first two Bates men to face him in the sixth.

Bob Joyce smashed a long double to left center field and as Shanahan's stuff failed to click against Larochelle and Porter, three pitch-outs were ordered, getting at Simpson, the number-five hitter. Simpson singled to left, however, and after two runs had scored, Beem's long peg to Joe Flanagan at third ended the rally.

First-baseman Gould doubled to start the Bates seventh after three Bowdoin batters were fanned by Shanahan who upstaged Sutherland's short no-hit turn on the mound. Keller lofted to Beem, who doubled Gould at third and retired Leahy to end the inning.

And then the Polar Bears came into their own at bat. Pat Slattery walked with one away and went to second on Jack Clarke's blow to right. Bowdoin's first-hit of the game, Beem scrambled a hit to Joyce who threw wild to first, scoring one run and leaving men on second and third. Bob Spiers got on first safely as Simpson earned to load the bases. Stan Whiting, last year's captain, singled sharply to center and, two runs having scored, he advanced to second on the throw-in.

[Continued on Page 4]

HARMON'S

WILL ACCEPT ORDERS

on the
TRADITIONAL

College Blazers

in
Dark Maroon or Navy Blue
for Delivery

May 15th

These Blazers Are 100% Worsted Flannel, Custom Tailored By McGregor

$30.00

Including the Bowdoin Seal

WRITE — PHONE — COME IN

HARMON'S

Outfitters to Bowdoin Men for over 25 Years

104 Front Street

Telephone 735

Bath

MRS. DOROTHY ALLAN NEWSTEAD, NOTED DEEP-SEA FISHING EXPERT, PROVES THAT EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER IN BIG-GAME FISHING.

I GIVE UP—THREE HOURS AND NOT A NIBBLE! LET'S TRY FOR SOME KINGFISH.

I'M TIRED OF KINGFISH—I WANT A GOOD FIGHT! CAPTAIN, I THINK I'LL CHANGE MY BAIT.

35 MINUTES LATER
HE'S GOT A YELLOW BELLY—IT'S A COBIA!
BIGGEST I'VE EVER SEEN IN THE GULF STREAM! BET IT'S A RECORD!

69 POUNDS! I THINK THAT'S A NEW WORLD'S RECORD.

I SEE YOU PREFER CAMELS, MRS. NEWSTEAD.

CONGRATULATIONS, MRS. NEWSTEAD—TAKES EXPERIENCE TO LAND ONE LIKE THAT!

CHALK THAT UP TO EXPERIENCE TOO. AFTER ALL THE DIFFERENT BRANDS I SMOKED DURING THE WAR, I REALLY APPRECIATE CAMELS.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR COBIA TO MRS. DOROTHY NEWSTEAD.

Variety

By Ray Swift and Bob Fargo

We met a character on campus the other day; we couldn't quite figure him out. It seemed funny that we'd never seen him before, but over a few beers he explained that he didn't get out much, because most of the time he spent listening to his records. Well, we listen to records too, but evidently not like this guy does. Every time some one would go over to the juke-box to play "How are things in Gloccamora" or some other hit tune, he would shrink a little farther into his corner, muttering something about "cheap, commercialized swing." We finally tried to shake him, but he insisted that we go over to his room and hear some "real" music!

His room mate was already there deep in the books, but when he saw us coming, a look of abandon came over his face, and gathering up his things hastily, he left for parts unknown. All over the room were cases and albums of recordings, pictures of musicians were pasted all over the wall, and an old, beaten-up cornet lay in a corner. Our boy selected a "side" with some strange, foreign-looking label and placed it carefully on his machine, after sharpening a cactus needle or two with a weird looking contraption. He turned up the volume as far as it would go, and let us have it. We'd "had it" soon enough as some crazy, jungle-beat rhythm blasted forth; it sounded like an unpracticed Spike Jones number, or something. And all the while, his eyes glowed with an intense light, and when someone would take a solo on the record, he would pick an imaginary trombone or a clarinet out of the air and go through the most ungodly gyrations.

Ignoring the thumps and threats of protesting grinds in adjoining rooms, he would yell lustily, "Did you hear that terrific trombone chorus? Kid Ory. Now listen to Carey on this one!" He wouldn't even let us hear the records through. By the time we had gotten used to one strange rhythm, he would cry triumphantly, "That's the same solo you hear on Armstrong's Hot Five recording on Okeh!" and then he would haul out Armstrong's Hot Five on Okeh, and we'd hear the same stuff all over again.

Someone in the room tried to be helpful, and started beating time to the music on his glass. All he got was a cold, hard look from this inscrutable character. "How do you expect to recreate the atmosphere of Mahogany Hall with that noise? Just a manifestation of animal instincts — just sit down and ponder those polyrhythms." It was all Greek to us, but we kept quiet, and pondered polyrhythms, as instructed.

We thought it would be easy to bow out at supertime, but we weren't allowed to leave. After a little chow in the dining room back upstairs we went, to spend most of the night. We listened to everything he owned, from Ma Rainey to Lena Horne and back again. Unfortunately, it was on a weekend, and there were a few Casanovas trying to make time with their dates downstairs. They seemed that every time they whispered sweet nothings into the girl's ear, Georg Brunis would let off with a tailgate, sludge-pump smear on his tram-bone. Along about then, our friend started practicing on his cornet. We could feel the tension rise up in the room, and all we can recall was a hurried retreat out the fire-escape, the air filled with flying records, cornets, and rude oaths.

We met him again on campus a little later, with a bruise here and a bandage there, lamenting the fact that all he was trying to do was appreciate this inspired type of "music." He told us stories of the famous New Orleans musicians, Louis Armstrong, Johnny Dodds, and Jelly Roll Morton, and how their influence was felt on Chicago jazzmen, like Eddie Condon, Joe Sullivan, and Wild Bill Davison, who still make a hit today in New York and all over the country. He said that New Orleans music is becoming popular again, and that Bunk Johnson, a famous 67 year-old cornetist had made a sensational come-back. He said he had big ideas for Bowdoin. "It won't be long before we have Jazz Concerts over the Simpson Sound System, and maybe even a Society, like Bucklehead, Spurr and a few of the other old-timers used to have. We warn you, be careful of this character. He's up to no good."

Goldovsky Opera At Auditorium, April 17

Tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. the New England Opera Company, under the direction of Boris Goldovsky will present two operas in the Brunswick High School Auditorium. First on the program will be "The Impresario," a one act opera by Mozart. This short opera has been translated into English by Mr. Goldovsky. After a brief intermission, "The Old Maid and the Thief" by Menotti, a grotesque opera in fourteen scenes, will be presented by the company.

Both operas will be directed by Boris Goldovsky, who is an authority on opera. He is heard as the commentator between the acts of the Saturday broadcasts of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Bowdoin To Participate In Tri State Debates

Next Friday two Bowdoin teams will participate in decision debates with Williams and Amherst on the same subject. John Hupper and Lewis P. Fickett '47 will uphold the affirmative in the debate with Amherst College at 8:15 in the Moulton Union Lounge. Richard R. Wiley '49 and Wehren will journey to Williamstown to uphold the negative of the question against Williams College.

Graduate Record Exam

[Continued from Page 1] Bowdoin may be evaluated. Dr. Clark points out that this administration should not be confused with the regular administration of the Graduate Record Examination to be held on May 5 and 6 at the Psychological Laboratory, which is not compulsory, although often required for entrance into graduate schools. Registration for the latter must be completed with Dr. Clark at the Psychological Laboratory before noon on Thursday, April 17. The fee is $5.00.

Thorp Lecture

[Continued from Page 1] in institutional patterns have lessened respect for property, and frail coalition governments often find that inactivity is the best way to prevent the defection of their constituent elements.

"We are completely and thoroughly involved in these situations," the speaker continued. We continue to dispose of surplus property and settle up war obligations; we have contributed over two and one-half billion dollars to UNRRA; we have been active in the International Monetary Organization; and we have made many loans to European nations, both directly and through the Export-Import Bank. Diverting some of our production to the European market under commodity controls, we have

D. D. GARDNER CO.
SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

Bowdoin Fly-Boys - - -
The Sky's The Limit
at . . .

Douglas Flying Service
DOUGLAS FIELD
Brunswick, Maine Phone 1235

The College Book Store
OUR STOCK OF MODERN LIBRARY BOOKS
IS NOW UP TO NORMAL
PARKER 51's are again in stock
NORMA PENCILS $4.00 and $4.50
WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY $5.00
F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good Food - Pleasant Surroundings
Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the
College Spa

"Right Off the Campus"
Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Colby Musical Comedy Pleasing; Songs, Acting Spark Production

Peter T. Poor '50

Without any financial backing by Colby College, Russ Farnsworth and Bud Schlesinger produced a very pleasing musical comedy called "Let There Be Men." On April eighth, the entire company of "Let There Be Men" brought their show on tour to Bowdoin where a near sellout occurred in the "White Elephant" Memorial Hall.

The apprehension that falls upon any audience when they gather to witness an amateur performance lived but a short life after the first act overture. It was at this point that most of the audience realized that they would be hearing music comparable with a Broadway musical extravaganza.

Although in spots the staging seemed awkward, Jocelyn Hulme did a remarkable job with one of her "assets" in plaster of Paris. The tap dancing routines were handicapped by a stage rug which prevented any tapping sound from reaching the audience.

Despite the competent acting of Miss Hulme and Mr. Bill Taylor, the show was swept away from the leads by Eileen McMahon and Fred Tippens. Mr. Tippens possesses a certain intuitive feeling for the right places in which to overact. Both Miss McMahon and Mr. Tippens added a certain freshness to "Let There Be Men" that is indispensable in any show. Alan Reife received the warmest welcome from the audience for entr'acte renditions of "Lover" and "Casey at the Bat," not to mention his amusing portrayal of Wombey Osgood, the professor who would not dare.

"Let There Be Men" would have been more enjoyable to many had the advertised seven piece band of six members mitigated their sonance which drowned out many of the songs in spite of a stage microphone. It is not necessary at this time to retell the plot of "Let There Be Men" for a good percentage of the College already know it, and those unfortunate filled material as well as monetary needs. As the prime mover of the International Trade Organization, we are expected to set an example by reducing our own trade barriers. Dr. Thorp noted that many Europeans "think that we must like depressions" because of our failure to prevent them, and they are concerned about the international results of a serious recession in the United States. On Monday afternoon Dr. Thorp met with a group of about fifty students in an informal discussion at the Moulton Union. He discussed the varied work of economists in the State Department, the needs of Greece and Turkey, and other economic matters.

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted

Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

Dr. Russell Discussion Sponsored By B.C.A.

Speaking on "Finding a Common Denominator of World Religions," Dr. Henry G. Russell spoke briefly at the opening discussion series in Bannister Hall, Friday evening.

Dr. Russell placed the question before the group, "What is religion?" Like the abstraction democracy or peace, it is a term which is hard to define in words, but one which we accept as the word itself. "Death," said Dr. Russell, "is the one thing which, though the interpretation of immortality or the eternity may differ, is universal to all religions, and the final and ultimate disability which we all face."

Another activity sponsored by the Religious-Activities Committee of the B. C. A. is the Bible-Discussion Group which met Sunday evening in the Conference B room of the Moulton Union. Dr. Walter Clark of the psychology department of the college, led the first Bible discussion. Shepard Lifshitz '47, President of the B. C. A. has announced that Dr. Russell will lead the second Bible Discussion next Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Donald W. Henderson '50 is the chairman of these informal talks.

Interfraternity Cooperative

[Continued from Page 1]

In spite of the latest report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics on February 15 that wholesale food prices had again risen, prices of foodstuffs from the Interfraternity Cooperative are lower than those of regular wholesalers with the exception of a few items stocked last fall when prices were soaring.

The advantage of mass buying under the system is demonstrated, according to Mr. Berry, by the reduction of several cents per loaf of bread granted by one of the local bakers because the Cooperative is able to pay his bills weekly instead of monthly. Many persons have complained that board rates at other colleges in this area are lower than at Bowdoin. Brown, Harvard, Colby, Maine, and New Hampshire all have lower rates. They also serve meals cafeteria style with chow lipes in centralized dining halls. Wesleyan, which serves in fraternity houses as at Bowdoin, has a similar board rate of $11.50 a week. Also to be considered, said Mr. Berry, are increased shipping costs because of the distance of Bowdoin from the sources of supply.

Big White Batting Off In Exhibition Game

[Continued from Page 3]

A passed ball scored Speirs and Whiting pulled up at third. Then, with Bowdoin finally ahead 4 to 3, Whiting streaked home to score on Dick Burston's sacrifice. Burston reached base on an error by Brooks who had succeeded Blanchard at the start of the inning. Flanagan reached first on a force-out but, after he stole second, he died as King fanned to end the rally.

While the hitting was poor for Bowdoin, their infield play seemed to indicate a successful campaign. Burston, Speirs, Pandora, Whiting, Friberg, Slattery, Sisby and Flanagan showed ability and polish and, in executing several fine plays, indicated that Deacon McFayden can depend on both of these infield combinations. Beem was the only outfielder having an opportunity to show his fielding ability which he did smartly. Pendleton showed that his starting position will not be challenged by most other hurlers.

Bowdoin 000 000 050-5 3 2
Bates 010 002 04x-7 7 5

TRIPLE SMOKING PLEASURE

A ALWAYS Milder

B BETTER TASTING

C COOLER SMOKING

WITH THE TOP HOLLYWOOD STARS CHESTERFIELD IS THE BIG FAVORITE

ALWAYS Buy CHESTERFIELD ALL OVER AMERICA - CHESTERFIELD IS TOPS!

SEE US FIRST
PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG.
TEL. 89-W

PHILGAS DOES THE
COOKING BEST
BRUNSWICK
HARDWARE

TOWN TAXI
24-Hour Service
Phone 1000

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY

FUEL OILS
BOTTLED GAS
BUILDING MATERIALS

HOTEL EAGLE
NEW DINING ROOM - NEW DINING PORCH
NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP
NEW MANAGER - HAROLD E. FOOTER

Band Box Cleaners
Cleaning Pressing
71 Maine Street Phone 533

Yes, We're Interested In
ALL Your

PRINTING

We have had long experience in producing for Bowdoin men:

STATIONERY POSTERS
TICKETS ALUMNI LETTERS
FRATERNITY FORMS

And Other Printing
Ask Us For Quotations

The RECORD OFFICE

Phones 1 and 3
Paul E. Niven, Bowdoin 1916
Manager
Printers of The Orient

Folklore Expert To Speak Tuesday

Carmer Is Noted Historian, Writer

Carl Carmer, well-known folklorist and novelist, selected as the Annie Talbot Cole lecturer for this year, will speak at Memorial Hall on Tuesday evening, April 23, at 8:15.

"The Cavalcade of American Legend," the title of Mr. Carmer's address, is a cavalcade of which he is one of the most distinguished modern chroniclers. His chief interests lie in the history, folklore and folk music of America. Intimately acquainted with pirates, creoles, lumberjacks, Indians, negroes, and Spanish conquistadores, he has roamed every section of the country collecting legends, customs and superstitions. He has been aptly called the Historian of the American Imagination.

After graduating from Hamilton College in 1914, Mr. Carmer took a year's graduate work in English at Harvard and, after teaching at Syracuse and Rochester Universities, entered military service. Later he taught at Hamilton, Alabama, and Rochester, where his students included Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick and Librarian Kenneth J. Boyer.

Entering journalism as a columnist on the New Orleans Item-Tribune, he soon became assistant editor of "Vanity Fair" magazine. At one time he presented a sixteen-week series of programs called "Your Neck of the Woods" on station WABC, New York.

His technique as an author is to live for some years in the region he intends to write about, to mingle with all kinds and conditions of people, and to absorb their dialect, opinions, philosophy and problems. Before writing "Stars Fell on Alabama" he lived for six years in that state, and he spent many months roaming the Hudson valley collecting material for "The Hudson." This volume appeared in the "Rivers of America" series, for which Prof. Robert P. T. Coffin wrote "The Keenbeck." Among Mr. Carmer's other best sellers are "Listen for a Lonesome Drum" and "Genesee Fever."

Known as a "writer's writer," he has served as president of several authors' associations. In 1945 he was flown to the European battlefronts by the Army Air Forces for a ten-week study of war conditions.

The Annie Talbot Cole Lectureship was established in 1906 to contribute "to the enlightenment and enrichment of life by standing for the idea that life is a glad opportunity." While this stipulation has sometimes been very broadly interpreted, newspaper reviews of Mr. Carmer's lectures in other cities indicate that next Tuesday evening's address will conform quite literally to the original founder's intentions.

Sills Commends B.C.A. For Political Talks

The first of a series of political talks conducted by Bowdoin undergraduates was commended and approved by President Kenneth C. Sills, in a chapel talk Thursday, April 17.

The results of the polls, administered by the B.C.A. Political Forum, Union Committee, and Bowdoin-on-the-Air, will be sent to Maine and Massachusetts Congressmen.

Commenting on the first poll, the President said that it is an excellent idea which should show that, "so far as the outside world is concerned, the college is interested in those things around it." He also spoke highly of the general student body response to the poll.

Regarding the two major questions which appeared on the questionnaire, 1) the danger of a war with Russia, and 2) the possibility of a depression, Sills stressed the danger and possibility of bringing about a war with Russia and a depression if the situations are thought about too much and if they are overemphasized by the people of the country. "One of the surest ways to bring about a depression is to talk and think about it."

He concluded his speech in pointing out the fact that "talk which brings about dissension among nations and a depression can be controlled."

Cole Lecturer

CARL CARMER, who will speak Tuesday on "The Cavalcade of American Legend."

Sills Emphasizes Religious Neglect By Students Here

"At Bowdoin there has been no great revival of interest in religion lately or even in past years; in fact, there has always been a very small group of sincerely interested students and a large group whose members consider themselves superior to any such need and even boast atheism," asserted President Sills in Chapel Sunday.

This was the President's answer to two specific questions asked of him in a questionnaire, namely, "Is there more interest at the college in religion than before the war?" and "What is the attitude of the returned service men toward religion?" "The great majority of the students are like the great majority of Americans — indifferent because they are ignorant of religious truths," replied the President.

In his consideration of the relationship of education and religion, President Sills explained to his audience the substitution of communism by the Russians for religion. "Man is incurably religious," he quoted, in order to point out that men must worship something, and even if that something is taken away, they will find another to replace it.

"There is always," the speaker continued, "endless discussion of politics and religion — themes which, in the words of John Massfield, 'are endless, without which youth would seem a waste of time.'"

In citing a report prepared by the Commission of the American Council on Education President Sills concluded his speech with the final sentence of the report: "Let us remember that only a strong faith can resolve the perplexities of life, and a lasting commitment to high purposes make education complete."

Student Poll Favors Aid To Greece, International Control Of Straits

Bowdoin College students, in the first of a series of polls on national and international topics, have voted overwhelmingly for President Truman's proposed loans to Greece and Turkey and internationalization of the Dardanelles.

They also expressed their belief that we will have another depression with guesses ranging from 1947 to 1983.

They voted affirmatively, three to one, on the question, "Will the spread of Communism endanger the security of the United States?" Results of the polls will be sent to Maine and Massachusetts Congressmen.

The polls, which were made in each of the fraternity houses, represent a portion of a program sponsored jointly by the Bowdoin Christian Association, Political Forum, Bowdoin On The Air, and the Union Committee.

Seeking to keep important domestic and international events before the undergraduates, they have a student speak in Chapel on some topic of current importance. A discussion group is held the following evening and a week later, a poll is taken. Actually, in the first poll, only about half the students participated.

Students Contribute $457 To Red Cross Fund

A check for $457, representing contributions made by Bowdoin students to the Red Cross fund, was accepted by Mr. Tucker Smith, Chairman of the 1946 Red Cross Fund Drive for the Brunswick Chapter, on Friday, April 18.

The campaign at the college was carried on under the chairmanship of Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, assisted by Clement A. Hiebert '47, Thomas K. Meakin '46, and Warren H. Dunning '49, and by representatives in the fraternity groups. Mr. Smith expressed appreciation for the support of the student body, whose gift helped toward the meeting of the Chapter quota of $10,480.

Gibson To Direct Organization For Fund Drive

Harvey D. Gibson '02, President of the Manufacturers Trust Company and currently National Chairman of the Red Cross Fund Drive for 1947, will head the Committee of the Governing Boards appointed to organize the fund raising campaign with a goal of $3,025,000 for the immediate needs of the College, according to an announcement made Friday, April 18, by President Kenneth C. M. Sills.

The second representative from the Board of Trustees will be Mr. William D. Ireland '16, of Worcester, Massachusetts, and formerly of Portland.

Representing the Board of Overseers are Mr. Harry L. Palmer '04, of New York and Skowhegan, Mr. Earle S. Thompson '14, President of the American Waterworks and Electric Company, and Mr. Harold C. L. Ashley '12, of Worcester, Mass.

No allocation of funds has been made within the initial goal, and no action has yet been taken by the Committee as to organization or the employment of assistance.

Committee Group To Plan Budget For Fiscal Year

The Visiting Committee, composed of Trustees of the College and members of the Board of Overseers, will be at the college April 25th and 26th.

The committee, whose purpose is to give a hearing to members of the faculty on matters of policy, and to determine the budget of the college for the next fiscal year, is charged to deliver a report on the two subjects to the Governing Board this June.

The committee will meet once or twice again before commencement, primarily to determine the apportioning of the huge $3,025,000 budget for next year. Members of the Committee are, from the Trustees, Messrs. Hoyt A. Moore '95 and Harold L. Berry '01, and from the Board of Overseers, Messrs. Harry L. Palmer '04, Melvin T. Copeland '06, and Chester G. Abbott '13.

Trusteeship Head Of U. N. To Speak Here On May 19

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche To Lecture On "Future Of Dependent Peoples"

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Director of the Division of Trusteeships of the United Nations Secretariat, will speak in Memorial Hall on Monday evening at 8:15, May 19, it was announced by Professor Orren C. Hornell, Chairman of the Bowdoin College Committee on the Institute of World Politics and Organization.

Dr. Bunche, whose subject will be "The Future of Dependent Peoples," is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles, with master's and doctor's degrees from Harvard. He has also studied at the London School of Economics and at the University of Capetown in South Africa.

At the opening of the war he was given leave by Howard University where he was Professor of Political Science, and he consequently served for three years with the Office of Strategic Services, first as Deputy Chief of the Near East-Africa Section and then as Chief of the Africa Section. In 1944 he served as advisor to the American delegation to the International Labor Conference and as Assistant Secretary to the United States delegation at Dumbarton Oaks.

In 1945 he was technical expert with the United States delegation to the United Nations Conference at San Francisco. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Council on Race Relations, a member of the Anglo-American Caribbean Commission, and has been Associate Chief of the Division of Dependent Area Affairs of the Department of State.

There will also be a conference, at which only students of the college may attend when Dr. Bunche will open the floor for discussion and questions.

Other Colleges Send Students To Summer Term

Over 600 students including some from Bates and Swarthmore are expected to attend the summer session which will have teaching aid from professors from Trinity, Colby, Brown, and other colleges, Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick announced.

At present there are 375 students definitely enrolled including 35 who will attend only one half of the summer; there are 110 men who are still undecided. In addition to these men are 25 returning service men and the entering class of 1951. Bates and Swarthmore will send about 50 students each for the summer trimester.

Dean Kendrick announced that about 15 faculty members from other colleges will supplement the present staff. The whole economics department will be from the outside.

The complete schedule of courses for the summer is not yet completed; however it has been announced that the courses have been chosen so as to offer a representative group of which it is stated there will be a relatively high demand. A new course in accounting will be given.

The whole student body will be housed on the campus or in the fraternity houses except for the married men. The dormitories at the Air Station will be closed.

Dean Kendrick said that a summer session next year would depend on the demand for such a term, and that it might be held in a modified form.

Payne Leaves $10,000 For Scholarship Fund

Bowdoin College has just received a bequest of $10,000 as a residuary legate under the estate of the late John H. Payne of Boston, released to the College through the death on March 3rd of Mr. Payne's widow, Mrs. Ernestine Payne, the life tenant.

The fund establishes a scholarship to be called "The John H. Payne Scholarship" with preference, so far as practicable, to persons born and brought up in the State of Maine.

Mr. Payne, a graduate of Bowdoin in the Class of 1876, was for many years a practicing physician in Boston and served for a time as a member of the faculty of the Medical School at Boston University.

Puckle Says India Must Join Fight For World Peace On Own Initiative

Amherst-Bowdoin Debate Last Friday

Photo by Fred Wilhelm
PARTICIPANTS IN THE DEBATE held in the Moulton Union last Friday evening. Left to right: Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47 and John R. Hupper '50, Bowdoin; Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, Chairman; and John Lindell and Robert Parsons, Amherst.

Opera Theater Performs Works By Mozart, Menotti

Boris Goldovsky's New England Opera Theater presented two one-act operas, Mozart's "The Impresario" and Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief" at the Brunswick High School last Thursday evening.

The Mozart opera was the first on the double bill, and it was given a lively and thoroughly enjoyable presentation both as music and as theater. Margaret Goldovsky as Mlle. Silvertone did a brilliant job with her bravura aria, and Margaret Drink in the role of Mme. Herz sang with warmth and clarity except in her coloratura passages when her voice was occasionally forced. The musical treat of the evening came with the two concluding trios, difficult music, which the cast sang with spirit and assurance.

"The Old Maid and the Thief" was somewhat disappointing by comparison. The cast acted and sang competently, but Menotti's score gave them little opportunity for first-rate performance. In both operas the colorful sets and costumes left nothing to be desired. However, the real achievement of the New England Opera was not to be found in any one aspect of presentation, but in its single voice. The company's success lay in its well coordinated artistic effort.

The singers always seemed to be enjoying themselves and the footlights presented no barrier to the audience's appreciation. It was an intimate and convincing performance. Mr. Goldovsky and his company know how to present opera at its most enjoyable; it is only to be hoped that in the future they will provide us with a more substantial musical fare.

"Private Secretary" Shapes Into Polished Comedy For Ivy Weekend

James T. Keefe, Jr. '50

Now that Easter has slipped by, leaving scores of Bowdoin men with unwanted hangers on and no inclination to turn back once again to prosaic scholastic pursuits, the Masque and Gown finds itself going full steam ahead. Pat Quinby with both Ivy and Commencement productions in the immediate offing, got off to a serious rehearsal schedule last Tuesday when he gave the cast of "The Private Secretary" a thorough going over.

Ye correspondent, having heard from authoritative sources that there would be hair flying at the Zete House, where the rehearsals are being held temporarily — high tailed it over there last Tuesday to sit in and see how "The Private Secretary" was shaping up.

Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, this scribe is of the opinion that the affair is making real progress, although the cast as a whole needs a good deal of polishing, with few exceptions. You can all expect to witness a fine performance from Bill Lacey, Bowdoin's outstanding comedy actor. Possibly yours truly is giving out top secret information, but he believes that

Tillotson Urges Albums As Houseparty Favors

A suggestion that the Bowdoin Song Album be used as individual favors for the coming houseparty was made by Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson, as an aid to raise funds for the Town Hall Glee Club Concert in New York, and to provide publicity for the college.

If 200 students want the albums for favors they will be sold for $3.50, a cut from the present cost by $1.45. If more than 200 students wish to purchase the albums the cost will be lowered to $3.00.

All three of Bowdoin's musical organizations are represented: The Glee Club, The Chapel Choir, and The Middlebushers. Any house wishing to buy the albums for favors for Ivy or for the summer houseparty should see Mr. Tillotson.

The album contains four records on which are "Bowdoin Beats," "Glasses Clinking High," "Graceful and Easy," "Forward the White," "Sally in our Alley," "Brothers Sing On," "Sing Maiden Sing," "Crucifixus," "Mood Indigo," and "George Jones."

British Diplomat Speaks On India And World Peace

If India wishes to join us in our struggle for world peace, the suggestion must come from her, declared Sir Frederick Puckle, Adviser on Indian Affairs to the British Embassy in Washington, last Monday evening in Memorial Hall in the second lecture of the Bowdoin Institute on World Politics.

Sir Frederick chose for his subject "India and World Peace." Following an introduction by Dr. Orren C. Hornell, Professor of Government, he remarked that any discussion of India should really begin from June 1948. For then Great Britain is scheduled to withdraw her control from India, and this action is expected to result in a strong, stable government backed by the people and greater national unity from home rule.

"The greatest opposition to this united country," continued Sir Frederick, "lies in the vast difference between Moslem and Hindu beliefs. Though the proportion of Moslems to Hindus is two and a half to one, one hundred million Moslems cannot be brushed aside."

The Hindus want the whole of India to be under one native rule, preferably Hindu. But the Moslems prefer a divided state with separate governments for the different faiths. Sir Frederick feels, however, that in the fourteen months remaining before Great Britain's withdrawal a compromise will evolve from the need for a united nation.

With the presence of natural barriers India need not fear attack by land, continued Sir Frederick. But since she is the "Easternmost extension of Western influence," she is the key center of air and sea transport and travel.

According to Sir Frederick the Indian Navy is now insufficient for the patrolling of the Indian Ocean. It would be in the interests of world security if she were to open her bases to the British so that they might unite their Far Eastern network of naval and air outposts.

Such action, say some, would by-pass the U. N. "But," explained Sir Frederick, "these treaties will not weaken the U. N., but will fit into the larger and more widespread scheme of that organization by becoming an integral part of it."

B.C.A. Offers Talks By Helmreich, Russell This Week

"The Individual and Organized Religion" will be the topic of the third B.C.A. Religious Philosophical talks delivered by Dr. Ernst C. Helmreich, Professor of History, in the Moulton Union Lounge on Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Dr. Henry G. Russell, Assistant Professor of Biblical Literature, will lead the Bible discussion group in Conference Room B of the Moulton Union on Sunday evening, at 6:45.

Dr. Walter Clark spoke on the "Psychology in Personal Religion" last Friday evening at the Philosophical - Religious Discussions, pointing out the varied aspects by which people may acquire religion and how on to it.

Last Sunday evening, Dr. Chaucery Goodrich, retired minister, was the speaker.

Brahms Program Ends Chamber Concert Series

Alfred Kripps, violinist, Alfred Zighera, violoncellist, and Frederic Tillotson, pianist, will give the Bowdoin College Chamber Music Series final concert Wednesday evening April 23 at 8:15 in Memorial Hall, in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the death of Johannes Brahms.

Although Alfred Kripps' parents were Austrian, he was born and brought up in Berlin. The former Boston Symphony Orchestra concert master, Will Hess, was his violin teacher. While he was at the Berlin Opera House, he played under Bleck, Furtwangler, Kleiber, Klemperer, Richard Strauss, and Bruno Walter. In 1934 he left Berlin to join the Boston Symphony.

Alfred Zighera is the possessor of a "erotic de guerre" with two citations, as well as a first prize of the Paris Conservatory. At the age of ten he started to play the cello, and later played it in Dr. Koussevitzky's Paris Orchestra before he came to the Boston Symphony. He has also mastered the viola de gamba, an obsolete instrument.

The concert will be an all-Brahms program. First Sonata for Violoncello and Piano, Opus 38 in c minor. Allegro non troppo. Allegretto quasi Minuetto: Trio. Third Sonata for Violin and Piano, Opus 108 in d minor. Adagio. Un poco presto e con sentimento. Presto agitato. Trio for Violin, Violoncello and Piano, Opus 11 in B Major. Allegro con brio. Scherzo: Allegro molto. Adagio. Allegro.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII

No. 3

Unique Place of Fraternities At Bowdoin Presumes Absence of Racial Barriers

The Bowdoin Christian Association has asked the College to take official action in support of its effort to eliminate racial discrimination clauses from the charters and constitutions of chapters on campus. To this end the organization has asked the fraternities through the Student Council to submit any such restrictions to the Faculty Committee on Fraternities with the intention of eventual communication to these fraternities of the disapproval of the College.

Support of such a step by the B.C.A., the College, or individuals does not of necessity mean that these groups advocate that fraternities shall take into their membership students of all races. But it does open the way for all students to become fraternity men, if and when sentiment in the fraternities desires this.

Fraternities at most other colleges are for the wealthy and the socially prominent, and as a result fraternity men often are a minority of the student body. In these circumstances a student who cannot financially or socially bear the burdens of fraternity life can remain unattached and still preserve an unblemished individuality. He can still hold his head high, be liked, and above all be respected by all his fellow students.

In contrast with these schools fraternities at Bowdoin occupy a dominant position. Here an overwhelming percentage of the student body is fraternity men. The entire plan of campus life is built around fraternities and the competition between them.

As a result the all-consuming desire of any freshman is to join a fraternity. For otherwise he knows that he will be left out of the swing of campus life. He will be labelled arbitrarily and will suffer loss of self-respect. And in many cases the reasons for which freshmen fail to win fraternity membership are entirely beyond their control.

It is tragic but true that many acceptable men are not asked to join fraternities because of their race or religion. The sole excuse for this is blind prejudice. The B.C.A. action is a move in the right direction, a short, slow move in a field where progress is recognized as slow.

Fraternities, it seems, have in part outlived their usefulness and eventually must change to meet changed conditions. Especially is this true at Bowdoin where fraternities cannot assume the guise of exclusive clubs.

Clearly there is no valid cause for discrimination against any undergraduate on racial or religious grounds. These should not prevent a valuable man from becoming a member of one of the established fraternities. Perhaps present fraternity members might ask themselves how they would feel if they had to spend the "best four years of their lives" on the outside looking in.

Library Space Problem Has Possible Solution

The lively interest aroused by last week's ORIENT editorial concerning the inadequacy of the library's magazine service prompted us to look further into matters relating to the "heart and center" of the College.

It is commonplace that the Library is insufficiently equipped with shelving space to accommodate books and reference material, and that the day is approaching when the last book will have been filed on the last shelf. The answer proposed by the Library Committee is the construction of a new wing to be added to the present structure. The cost of this new wing has been estimated by an architect at a sum anywhere from $200,000 to twice that amount.

A goal of over three million dollars was set by the Committee of the Governing Boards for the immediate needs of the College. That the Library has a just claim upon a reasonable portion of this amount is obvious; but whether as much as $400,000 will be available from that sum for construction purposes is highly problematic. How the Library is to stay within the limit of its funds and at the same time to solve its "housing problem"—that is the vital question.

This same architect also pointed out to the Library Committee that there is a "third" floor in the Library with a ceiling as high as that of either of the other two floors, and that it would be feasible to utilize this presently wasted space by converting it into needed shelving space and faculty offices. That this remodeling of the present structure could be done at a cost far within the possible budget of a library building fund becomes immediately apparent.

We find it highly mystifying, to say the least, why this significant finding has been ignored and why demands for a new wing continue. Under the circumstances it is imperative for the authorities to adjust to the hard facts of reality and to take advantage of present opportunities rather than to recline while hoping for a nebulous new wing to materialize.

We urge that an autonomous student committee of interested undergraduates be formed immediately to meet periodically with the Librarian to present the will of the student body in matters relating to the Library. Such a committee would serve to avoid a state of affairs such as the present one which is a sad testimony to the fact that "even good Homer sometimes nods."

R. S.T.

LETTER TO EDITOR

New Periodicals, More Help Asked For Library

We wish to congratulate you on your recent editorial dealing with the Library's handling of magazines and periodicals. A related matter of importance is the problem of the acquisition of new magazines to the Library and the discontinuing of those that are not sufficiently used to make further subscription worth while. At present it is virtually impossible to get the Librarian to subscribe to new periodicals, the reason advanced for this being that such a step would necessitate the purchase of the complete file of back issues for the magazine in question. Yet the Librarian continues to subscribe to many periodicals which are rarely, if ever, used for any purpose other than to collect dust. It is imperative, therefore, that the Librarian become aware of the necessity of keeping the "apparatus criticus" up to date, even if that means sacrificing a subscription dating back to the era of Hawthorne, Longfellow, et al.

Even more notorious is the inadequacy of personnel at the charging desk which becomes obvious when more than two individuals at a time attempt to withdraw books from the stacks. It is by no means uncommon that one is obliged to wait half an hour while the clerks are searching in "outer darkness" for volumes which, one is at length informed, "cannot be located." With final examinations approaching and term papers falling due, an increase in the personnel at the charging desk is absolutely necessary to avoid a complete bankruptcy of the service.

Sincerely yours,
William D. Cappellari '48
Bernard E. Gorton '47
Shepard Lifshitz '47

Debate With Amherst

[Continued from Page 1]

Interest in industry, it has the right to help regulate its affairs. Fickett of Bowdoin continued the affirmative side by reviewing how labor has continually had to fight for everything it received. He repudiated the negative fact that such a program was not wanted by saying that "in a recent survey 71% of labor wanted in" and many business executives are also in favor. Stating that the program as set up by his colleague was not a "cure all," Fickett cited the McCormack Tea Company operating under the cooperating boards of management and labor whose wages, sales, and stock values have increased greatly. He closed by saying that the labor problem must be reckoned with if we are to avert a depression, the likeness of which we have never seen.

Mr. Lundell of Amherst opened the rebuttal by saying that Bowdoin had presented no plan, and if they had and permitted labor to have an equal participation, "they would strike again."

"We do not claim that our plan is fool proof," retorted Fickett, "but we continue to state compulsory arbitration and mediation have failed, the type of board he suggested was necessary in order that management and labor 'may sit side by side.' Closing for the negative, Parsons stated that unless it was 'fifty, fifty' between management and labor, the situation that now exists would continue until the country was caught in economic eruption."

CUMBERLAND

Wed.-Thurs. April 23-24
MY BROTHER TALKS TO HORSES

with
Peter Lawford Butch Jenkins
also
Fox News Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. April 25-26
Humphrey Bogart
Elizabeth Scott
in

DEAD RECKONING
also
Paramount News Short Subjects

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. April 27-28-29
CALIFORNIA
with Ray Milland
Barbara Stanwyck
also

Paramount News Short Subject

Wed.-Thurs. April 30-May 1
EASY COME EASY GO
with
Sonny Tufts - Dianna Lynn
also
Fox News March of Time

Fri.-Sat. May 2-3
LADY IN THE LAKE
with Audrey Totter
Robert Montgomery -
also
Paramount News Short Subjects

Joseph Woods '47 Wins F.D.R. Cup For Campus Work

Joseph W. Woods '47 was presented by President Kenneth C. M. Sillis in chapel, Monday April 21 with a certificate stating that his name would be inscribed on the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cup.

The Roosevelt Cup was provided for by the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity "to be inscribed annually with the name of that member of the three lower classes whose vision, humanity, and courage most contribute to making Bowdoin a better college."

Woods, a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity, is a member of the track team, and President of the White Key. He also managed this year's religious forum.

The committee which selects annually an outstanding member of the undergraduate body for this award includes the President of the College, the Dean of the College, the Faculty Advisor of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, the President of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, and the President of the Student Council.

David A. Works '46 and Frederick R. Woodruff Jr. '48 won the awards for 1945 and 1946.

Marsh, Ryder Named To ORIENT Positions

H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45 has been appointed Feature Editor and C. Craig Ryder '49 a Circulation Manager according to announcements made recently by the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager of the ORIENT.

A seminar for all members of the newspaper staff on the subject of writing headlines will be held in the ORIENT office at the Moulton Union this Friday evening at 7:00.

The ORIENT is also interested in securing the services of a cartoonist for the paper. Anyone who will be at school all next year and desires further information should contact the Editor-in-Chief.

Campus Organizations Send Records To Vets

Under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth C. M. Sillis the Bowdoin Christian Association and the Student Council have sent 120 used phonograph records to the hospitalized veterans at Togus, Maine.

The records will be picked up by a committee of BCA representatives headed by Shepard Lifshitz '47. Any fraternity desiring to make added contributions should contact Lifshitz or a member of the BCA.

White Key Head Fires Return Bolts At Orient Sports Editor's Criticisms

By Joseph W. Woods '47

Yes, the White Key has done it again, but this time it is something for the ORIENT. We feel indebted enough to the college and to its official publication to request that the Editor-in-Chief appoint a Sports Editor who will write not only the "true" facts with a "comprehensive" coverage, but also one who will restrain his personal affiliations and desire to "color" the news.

Two weeks ago the little man with the big pen campaigned for athletic trips outside of New England. McClelland would like to see that all the Varsity teams in the Spring take time out in order to "play themselves into shape" by touring New York, New Jersey, and possibly as far south as Virginia. Is it not significant that Bowdoin's New England Swimming Championship Relay Team rejected an offer of the College to have them compete in the National Swimming Championships Meet in Washington just two weeks ago, one of the more important reasons being that they did not wish to take the time off from their books. McClelland continues in this same article, "The track team should be permitted any meets that Coach Magee thinks would benefit his team." We would like to know just as a matter of personal interest what he means by this. Just what kind of a schedule is that anyway?

We, of the White Key, object only to McClelland's very superficial criticism of the team schedules. He certainly should have given the other side of the picture which he could have learned by a mere five minute talk with the Director of Athletics. He would then realize that:

(1) Bowdoin of 150 men during the war could not maintain standards of varsity competition with her old rivals, and during this interim other schools filled in vacancies caused by our conspicuous absence. That arrangement of close regional competition has proved very convenient and amiable relations has made it very difficult for Bowdoin to be included once again on the schedules of our old rivals throughout New England.

(2) A home and home arrangement with many colleges is not possible because they refuse to come way up to Maine for just one game when they can tour comparatively small regions playing several colleges in a clean sweep. Apparently traveling is a serious handicap.

(3) Mal Morrell is earnestly trying to include various other colleges in the sports schedules, but it will take time.

And then McClelland has the audacity to say that the White Key has been negligent. Either he was trying to create ill will towards the Athletic Department, or he was simply negligent in not becoming familiar with the facts behind the news.

We of the White Key would like to remind the present ORIENT Sports Editor that our committee is composed of one member from each fraternity as a representative. Most of his complaints can be traced directly towards the lack of coordination between his fraternity and his White Key Representative.

McClelland said, "The basketball league was run with amazing inefficiency. Officiating basketball is no easy job, and competent referees are essential. At few, if any, games were there two officials who knew what the score was, and at an astounding number there were no officials present and one man from each fraternity had to be drafted." McClelland reasoned that his house had played approximately eight games and allowed that he had attended approximately five of them. There were 132 games scheduled. McClelland saw five of them. How then can he be a judge to say "at few if any..." and "at an astounding number..."

Admittedly the referee problem not only was, but is, acute. We could find just three eligible referees who were interested in officiating games throughout the season for $1.00 per game. Varsity athletes were excluded from receiving remuneration for their services because of an AAU law declaring them professional. Strange as it may seem to McClelland, few students would consider tearing up and down the floor enforcing rules just for the love of the game. At any rate it is a direct misstatement on McClelland's part to say that "at few if any games did we have competent referees." At every single game played, the provided or drafted referee's ability to judge equally matched the team's ability to play.

The White Key members themselves felt its "purpose" as McClelland says, the day before Easter vacation. At that time it was voted 5-4 to declare all men out for the Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshman Track teams, Tennis and Golf ineligible to compete in the Softball League. Because of the intense rivalry for the Total Point Cup, several men had to make the decision of playing either Interfraternity Softball or remaining out for the sport of their preference.

At the next regular meeting of the White Key, the members, representing the opinions of their respective houses, voted 8-4 to allow everyone except baseball candidates to compete. This issue was clearly settled before any League games were played. It so happens that an amendment to our constitution was proposed at the April 15 meeting, before McClelland defined our purpose, to disqualify all candidates for any of the Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshman teams in season from interfraternity competition. This amendment will be voted on April 21 in accordance with our constitutional By-Laws. It was decided that a consistent policy for this year is in order.

It is true that schedules were not distributed before the Softball League got under way. McClelland said a week of league play had gone by, but it happened to be two (2) days. Each house was informed by the White Key where and when and with of the game dates. We do gladly accept McClelland's reprimand for not distributing the schedules much sooner. This is, however, no excuse for not having a team organized, unless McClelland's fraternity was preparing a particular type of ball for their first opponent. We announced through the house meetings at least one week before Easter vacation that the Softball League would officially open on April 9th.

McClelland advises us to read our constitution again to discover the purpose of our existence. Article II reads, and I quote, "The functions of the organization shall be to conduct intramural and/or interfraternity contests; to welcome visiting teams; and to serve as a link when called upon by the college administration." Providing intramural competition for those not representing the college is an unwritten law of the College, but for McClelland's reference is not to be found in our By-Laws.

The mention of visiting athletic teams being welcomed comes as an anti-climax to this already unqualified article. When I asked McClelland just how we might improve our policy which we feel has been very successful, his only real complaint was that we do not welcome the Brunswick High School teams. Need I remind McClelland that these boys probably know their way around better than we ourselves, even to the point of using our athletic facilities.

McClelland seems to have just three troubles with his "Polar Bearings." He either is not informed, misinformed, or he desires to exaggerate the facts, if he can find them, only to get his column read. In his present journalistic stage, he is dangerous.

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for

Good Food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the

College Spa

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Popularity

Here's a natural for fun. It plays anywhere... at the beach, on trains, boats... and with rich, "big-set" electronic tone, always 2 motors: Electric (plug it in) or wind up (tubes operate on battery).

YOUNG MEN OF BOWDOIN COLLEGE

Are you looking for a new suit, topcoat, sports coat, shoes, or furnishings of any kind?

If you are, and are having trouble finding what you want, you should ride out to Freeport and visit our new modern store catering to young men of college age.

We have just received this week some new double-breasted pure worsted gabardine suits and topcoats which are an outstanding value at $40.00.

This is but one of the many hard-to-get items that you will find here. Come in and look around. You will be most welcome.

The Men's Shop

Freeport

APPAREL FOR MEN AND BOYS

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49
Johnson Poor '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '48
Albert B. Patton '50
Raymond A. Trosch '50

Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Feature Editor H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45
Editorial Assistants: P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '46, William B. Angerson '47, Earl S. Archibald, Jr. '48, Paul I. Bishop '48, Carl J. Cooper '48, William M. Davis '48, Daniel L. Dayton '48, Charles T. Dillaway '48, Edward E. Murphy '48, George Parulis '48, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Francis R. Currie '50, Samuel T. Githens '50, Donald W. Shannon '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50, Constantine Karavandian '50, Richard A. Leavitt '50, John F. Nelson III '50, Robert J. Waldron '50

Contributing Editors Nelson L. Tournes '47
Alfred F. Welton '47
Raymond H. Swift '48

Staff Photographer Frederick D. Wildman '48
Managing Editor of This Issue Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Assistant Business Manager Arnold Cooper '48
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schumacher '48
C. Craig Ryder '49
Francis R. Currie '50
Advertising Managers Alfred J. Wadler '47
Edward S. Early '48
W. Churchill Cressy '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Contalcamassa '48, James M. Whitcomb '48, Charles T. Dillaway '48, Hayden B. Goldberg '48, H. Noyce Macomber '48, Robert T. Tanner '48, Robert B. Barker '50, Gordon F. Linko '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Arthur F. Daggett
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown
C. Cabot Easton '48
Richard A. Wiley '49

PRINTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers' Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - CANTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription correspondence to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

POLAR
BEARINGS

By George F. McClelland II, '49

"Beaver" Berry Upsets Experts

The storm that last week's column on the White Key unleashed proves that at least somebody reads Polar Bearings. Our purpose was not to eliminate the White Key or crucify its members as we were accused, but rather to point out certain defects in the present setup. The White Key has announced that starting next fall no men out for a sport in season will be permitted to compete in interfraternity athletics. This is the way it should be run and we are sure that in the long run it will be found the best for all concerned.

After traversing the Portland Boys Club 5 mile course last Saturday we wonder just how these gentlemen down in Boston manage to survive their marathon. Five miles is a long way and running more than five times that number is beyond our comprehension. Jack Magee, who has been head timer at the B.A.A. affair for many years, says that training can make anyone a runner but it must take some constitution to negotiate the better than 26 mile course. The winner of the 18th annual Portland event was a Brunswick boy, "Beaver" Berry. We've watched Berry this winter in the cage and knew he was a natural runner, but the experts didn't consider him in their predictions. So Saturday he upset the applicant and trounced Bowdoin's best distance men.

U. of M. Has Sports Monopoly

Although the average sports fan concentrates on baseball and track in the spring, followers of Bowdoin athletics would do well to watch the Big White golf and tennis this year. If Bowdoin is to gain any prominence outside the state this spring in the way of athletic teams it will be attained by these two squads. The tennis team pried the lid off its season with an impressive triumph over Bates and seems headed for another state title. The trip to Boston this coming weekend will do much in determining Bowdoin's place in New England tennis. The golf team already rates a good chance to cop the New England Championships in May. These teams may only rate minor letters, but they are certainly of major importance in what so far has been a year with far too few victories.

The University of Maine appears to be headed out of the class of its Maine rivals. With its Orono campus having a male enrollment of three times the size of its nearest rival, and its 800 man Brunswick annex producing an undefeated basketball team and showing promise of an equally successful baseball squad the state of Maine athletic picture seems destined to take on a pale blue hue despite the fact that Bates appears to have a stranglehold on the three major championships this year. No matter how you look at it Bowdoin is out in the cold. This is not defeatism but merely a calm appraisal of facts. The situation is slowly reaching a crisis.

Few spectators were present to observe one grand display of good sportsmanship displayed by Matt Branche and his DU volleyball team last Thursday evening in the final game of the Championship Playoffs. Twice the DU's had to accept the wrong end of an unsportsmanlike decision. At a time when points meant so much, not only the Championship of the League, but the retention of the Total Point Trophy as well, these men demonstrated the very essence of good sportsmanship in the best traditions of the college.

Nine Loses, 12-3, Then Beats Bates, 7-5

Ray Lebel Shoots 76 To Capture Patriot's Match

With Ray Lebel, Maine's number one golfer, leading the way, the Bowdoin Golf Team opened its season recently by winning top honors in the annual Patriot's Day Tournament, held on the spacious Brunswick Golf Club.

Lebel, hampered by bits of snow and rain, managed to put together nines of 41-35-76 and take individual low gross honors. Lebel's long wood shots and accurate iron-work were tailored-made for the rain-soaked Brunswick layout. With Lebel's 76, Gil Wilkinson's 80, Don Johnson's 83, and Dick Davis' 82, the Bowdoin team had little trouble taking the team championship. If it were not for unbearable playing conditions of high winds and snow and rain, the scores would undoubtedly have been lower.

With the season's opener this Friday with M.I.T. and followed by Saturday's match with Harvard at Cambridge, Coach Bob Miller will have little time to select his team of six men.

Tennis Downs Bates, 9-0, For First Triumph

Coach Dinny Shay's Tennis squad opened their season in impressive style Saturday afternoon at Pickard Field by white washing the visiting Bates Bobcats 9 to 0. The visitors put up a better battle than the score indicates. Branche, Rosander and Lawry all dropped the first set in their singles matches and were forced to come from behind to win. Two of the three doubles matches were extended to three sets also as Bowdoin's 1946 champions set out in defense of their state title.

The summary: Singles
Branche, Bowdoin, defeated Stevenson 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.
Rosander, Bowdoin defeated Stross 4-6, 6-7, 6-1.
Lawry, Bowdoin, defeated Bailey 5-7, 6-3, 7-5.
Hobb, Bowdoin, defeated Gould 6-3, 6-1.
Curtis, Bowdoin, defeated Billie 6-1, 6-4.
Emmons, Bowdoin, defeated Morin 6-4, 6-2.
Doubles
Branche and Rosander defeated Stevenson and Stross 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.
Lawry and Hobb defeated Bailey and Gould 6-2, 6-2.
Emmons and Beckwith defeated Billie and Morin 6-4, 8-10, 6-1.

Softball League Boasts Four Undefeated Teams

As the interfraternity softball league reaches the quarter mark, four teams still maintain unblemished records with the Betas, Chi Psis, and Sigma Nus capturing three titles each and the Kappa Sigs having won their only start.

The Chi Psis, who to date have lived up to early predictions, hold decisions over the TDs, ARUs, and Zetes. The unheralded Betas gave evidence of their power by upsetting the DU's 6-5 in their opener. Since then they have whipped both the Psi Us and ATOs. The Sigma Nus after downing the ARUs 10-5 have eked out one run victories over the Zetes and Dekes.

Outside threats to the leaders come from the Dekes and Psi Us who have been beaten only once. The Zetes are a much better team than their record indicates and may cause trouble to the leaders.

The standings:

	won	lost
Betas	3	0
Chi Psi	3	0
Sigma Nus	3	0
Kappa Sigs	1	0
Dekes	2	1
A.T.O.s	1	1
Psi Us	1	1
D.U.s	1	2
T.D.s	1	2
A.D.s	0	3
A.R.U.s	0	3
Zetes	0	3

Miller Gives Swimmers Course In Life Saving

Senior Life Saving course is now being given by swimming coach Bob Miller, assisted by next year's team captain, Adin Merrow, to forty-nine aspiring undergraduates.

The number enrolled in the course is the largest that has ever been taught in a single class, and many requests from outside sources for instruction have had to be refused. From May 5 through May 16 a two week instruction course will be given by Raymond J. Amiro, Special Field Representative for First Aid, Water Safety, and Accident Prevention of the North Atlantic Area of the American Red Cross. Mr. Amiro brings with him an extensive background in Red Cross work. From the status of volunteer instructor in first aid, water safety and life saving he was promoted by the Fitchburg Chapter to chairman of their water safety program.

Captain Of 1947 Varsity Baseball Team

Photo by Fred Wildman
STAN WHITING, second baseman who led the Polar Bears in their three-game exhibition series with Bates.

Chi Psi Sextet Downs D.U.'s, 17-15 To Win Volleyball Championship

An indomitable Chi Psi sextet came up from the floor to take the championship in the interfraternity volleyball league Thursday evening by defeating the DU team, 17-15. Forced to come up from behind in the final game, they showed remarkable stamina and terrific teamwork to defeat the highly touted DU team by the slimmest of all margins. Throughout the entire match it had looked like another DU victory, with Branche and Shepherd teaming up on the net, but in the final analysis, Lebel and Martin spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the Chi Psi.

The first game of the series started like a complete rout, as the DU's took an immediate lead on eight straight points before the Chi Psi even got a chance to serve. Striving to overcome such an immense deficit, the Chi Psi rallied, but could not overcome the lead and were finally beaten by a close 15-10 score. The second game was a fast one with the Chi Psi getting away to a fast start and never giving the DU's a chance to even get into the game. They finally won the tieing game by the large score of 15-6.

With the score tied one game apiece, anything was liable to happen in the third game. The Shepherd "set up" and Branche "blasting" combination put DU into an early commanding lead, 6-0. Several serves were exchanged and it seemed that another victory was in store for the DU crew as things proceeded on a fairly even basis as they led 13-6.

First Chi Psi lead 14-13, then there was another tie, a DU point [Continued on Page 4]

D. D. GARDNER CO.
SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

PHILGAS DOES THE
COOKING BEST
BRUNSWICK
HARDWARE

The College Book Store
OUR STOCK OF MODERN LIBRARY BOOKS
IS NOW UP TO NORMAL
PARKER 51's are again in stock
NORMA PENCILS $4.00 and $4.50
WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY $5.00
F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Band Box Cleaners
Cleaning Pressing
71 Maine Street Phone 533

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY
FUEL OILS
BOTTLED GAS
BUILDING MATERIALS

Bobcats Handed Nine Runs By Walks, Errors In Opener

By David Crowell '49

Coming from behind with a big six-run gift rally in the nightcap of a Patriot's Day twin bill with Bates, the Polar Bears recorded their first victory, 7-5, as the three-game exhibition schedule was completed.

JV Nine Defeats Portland Club, 2-1, In Close Contest

As Bob Shanahan and Bob Crozier combined to fan 14 of the schoolboy aggregation, the junior varsity baseball nine won their second game of the season in edging a determined South Portland team 2-1.

In a game that was dominated by excellent pitching on both sides, errors were the causes of all the runs scored by either team. Shanahan's pitching for the JV's was outstanding, as he allowed but one hit in four innings while setting down five opponents via the strikeout route.

The only South Portland run came off the pitching of Bob Crozier in the fifth, but he was nearly as effective as Shanahan, allowing but three hits in five innings and striking out nine batters. Class, Johnson, and Jordan divided the pitching chores for the Capers as the JV's couldn't seem to hit any of their offerings.

The first run came in the first inning as Dave Verrill opened with a single for the Polar Bears, took second on a passed ball, third on a dropped fly ball, and came home on an infield out. In the top of the fifth South Portland came back to tie it up on a combination of a dropped fly ball, wild throw, infield single, and a wild pitch. The winning run came in the last of the inning as Crozier reached on Wigg's error, took second on a sacrifice, third on an error, and came home on an infield out.

Bowdoin JV South Portland
Verrill, 3 ab 12 0 Marceau, 2 ab 0 0
Clark, 3 ab 12 0 Pandora, 2 ab 0 0
Bretton, 2 ab 0 2 Moore, 1 ab 0 0
Crozier, 4 ab 0 0 MacVane, 3 ab 0 0
Wade, 3 ab 0 0 Class, 1 ab 0 0
Morrison, 1 ab 0 0 Wiggins, 3 ab 0 0
Kimball, 1 ab 0 0 Lester, 3 ab 0 0
Harrace, 3 ab 1 1 Sears, 1 ab 0 0
Cox, 2 ab 1 1 Johnson, 1 ab 0 0
Kohlisch, 1 ab 0 0 Jordan, 1 ab 0 0
Shanahan, 3 ab 0 2 Henry, 1 ab 0 0
Crozier, 3 ab 0 2 Kirby, 1 ab 0 0
Totals 31 52 7 Error, 2 24 18
South Portland 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1
Bowdoin JV 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2

Bad Smethurst came to the mound for Bowdoin in the fifth and, though he was nicked for four runs, should have escaped unscathed. Simpson lined his third straight hit to right with one down and Cummins was retired on Speer's sparkling catch of his wind-blown fly. Gould walked, and Keller should have been retired at first to end the threat. But a low throw scooped past Tausig, giving the Cats a life.

Art Blanchard came to the plate with the bases full to explode a timely triple to center and, after Adair's hit, the visitors led 9 to 1. Bates found Mel Weiner for three more scores in the seventh, making only one hit, but Stu Morrell doused the flames as he retired a Bates pinch-hitter with the bases loaded.

Singles by Bob Clark and Stan Whiting and John Tausig's weighty double made Bowdoin's two-run paring shot at Blanchard as Larochelle muffed a double-play toss which should have ended the last inning, but the 12 to 3 rout ended the game.

The other Polar Bears finished strong in a twenty-five man field: Fred Auten '50 sixth, Cab Eston '48 eighth, Harvey Jackson '48 tenth, George McClelland '49 eleventh, and Mort Lund '50 seventeenth.

Bates 3 0 0 0 0 3-12 11 2
Bowdoin 1 0 0 0 0 5-3 7 2
The batteries: Bates—Shanahan, Morrell (4), Hawkins (4) and Stone, Bowdoin—Crozier, Morrell (4), Shanahan (4) and Mason, Gillen (6).

Second Game
Bates 3 0 0 0 0 7-12 12 2
Bowdoin 1 0 0 0 0 5-3 7 2
The batteries: Bates—Shanahan, Morrell (4), Hawkins (4) and Stone, Bowdoin—Crozier, Morrell (4), Shanahan (4) and Mason, Gillen (6).

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW
Day and Evening Programs
Men and Women Admitted
Opening Date
September 22, 1947
Early application necessary
LL.B. degree conferred
Prepares for the practice of law
Catalog upon request
47 Mt. Vernon Street
Boston 8, Massachusetts

SEE US FIRST FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 95-W

Mike's Place
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

VARIETY

By Wolfgang Rosenberg

SURPRISED?

Well, last week's sticky jam session was strictly the editor's idea. Nevertheless, "we" feel that the temporary injury to our musical esthetic senses was completely offset through the spicy (i.e. with mustard) enlightenment of political insight into the world situation, gleaned from the April 16 issue.

Chanting those haunting lines from Thursday's opera performance, undergraduates trudged through slush and stormy weather or last weekend, greeting each other with the new cry on campus: "Isn't the weather awful?"

See where a guy dared to open his mouth on the steps of the Moulton Union the other day. Said this guy to a freshman friend, "How are things in Gloucester-Mor-ris?" Came the curt reply: "FINK! YOU'VE HAD IT!"

Usually reliable sources of information have disclosed the following: An enterprising local fraternity was seeking to have a "composite X-ray" picture taken during last week's mass tubercular hunt. No doubt this was due to the frustrating experience with an upstate New York photo outfit.

McClelland was officially quoted on Sunday evening in a statement to the press: "All I can say is that the President of the White Key seems to be a little bitter!" (A personal note to Joe Woods—if you keep it up, this might develop into a good publicity stunt!)

Whispered behind trees on the campus or softly mentioned on dormitory stairs, "human interest" items often find their way to the campus columnists. But every once in a while a mystery gem pops up in the mail. Recently came such an anonymous letter, indicating that the A.T.O.'s had to fight quite a battle to retain hold of their coveted and hard won scholarship cup. According to said letter, unauthoritative in every respect, a group of Independents threatened last month to attack the A.T.O. house and gain possession of the cup which the Independents felt was rightfully theirs. But they made a boxer out of the whole deal and only produced threats and noise, while the A.T.O. house, on the other hand, kept a night-long vigil to ward off flank attacks through the railroad yards. It was a minor fiasco for all concerned, to say the least, but the evidence is on file in a document cryptically signed, "Anonymous."

Advice from a frustrated writer whose literary ambitions have too often been thwarted: "Why don't you ask in your column how many people went to the Bird lecture last week?" A good question.

Caught from behind in front of the heating plant, an aspiring sophomore retaliated as follows

Bowdoin Fly-Boys - - -
The Sky's The Limit
at . . .
Douglas Flying Service
DOUGLAS FIELD
Brunswick, Maine Phone 1235

TOWN TAXI
24-Hour Service
Phone 1000

Yes, We're Interested In
ALL Your
PRINTING

We have had long experience in producing for Bowdoin men:

STATIONERY POSTERS
TICKETS ALUMNI LETTERS
FRATERNITY FORMS
And Other Printing

Ask Us For Quotations

The RECORD OFFICE

Phones 1 and 3
Paul E. Nivens, Bowdoin 1916
Manager
Printers of The Orient

to repeated queries from the press: "NO! I did NOT win the Kitzel Pretzel Contest! I have never seen a Kitzel Pretzel in my life!"

THE FOLLOWING ITEMS APPEAR WITH ALL DUE CREDIT TO A TEMPERANCE PUBLICATION.

A television company advertises that more than 1,000 taverns have increased their business through television. The question arises, "Is it in the public interest for taverns to increase their business?"

Of 100 men admitted to the New York Hospital for alcoholic excess, were there for alcoholism alone without any nervous disorder, and of these 81, 63 were college graduates, seven were physicians, six were lawyers, and two were writers. 63 of the 81 started drinking before they were 21. — AMERICAN JOURNAL OF PSYCHIATRY.

The Los Angeles TIMES, in "This Week Magazine" (3-30-47), tells that Miss Maureen O'Hara, one of Hollywood's most popular movie stars, doesn't smoke or drink and avoids nightclubs and parties. There is certainly nothing criminal about smoking, and we are afraid that some very nice girls even drink, but how pleasant it is to read about a young woman in Miss O'Hara's position of influence, who holds to a high standard of morals, manners, daintiness and charm.

END CREDIT TO TEMPERANCE PUBLICATIONS.

Weekly report about last Saturday's chapel attendance: 52 undergraduates (including 8 in balcony and 4 in choir section), 2 guests, 2 females, 8 faculty members (including 1 speaker).

Chi Psi Stages Father And Son Annual Weekend

The second annual Fathers and Sons Weekend of the Chi Psi Fraternity was climaxed last Saturday night by an informal banquet held in the Chi Psi Lodge.

About twenty-five Chi Psi fathers attended the banquet. President Kenneth C. M. Sils and Dr. Edward C. Kirkland, Frank Munsey Professor of History were the only two guest speakers of the evening. Dr. Lawrence S. Hall, Assistant Professor of English and Fraternity Advisor and Richard L. Chittim, Instructor in Mathematics were guests of the fraternity at the banquet.

Volleyball Champions

[Continued from Page 3] set the stage for the winning point; a Shepherd set up and another powerful net shot by Branch produced what was thought to be the winning point. The teams left the floor and were going to the showers when the referee asked Branche if he had touched the net on his last shot.

In an exhibition of some of the best sportsmanship that has ever been seen in interfraternity athletics or even in intercollegiate sports, Matt admitted that he had touched the net. That made the score 15-14, in favor of DU, but gave the all-important serve to the Chi Psi. Again the net combination of Lebel and Martin came through to provide the final three points which were needed for a 17-15 victory.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
of BRUNSWICK, MAINE
Capital and Surplus $354,000
Total Resources over $5,000,000
Student Patronage Solicited

"Private Secretary" To Be Presented May 2

[Continued from Page 1] play will come off well, despite the problems involved in getting the entire cast together and the fact that such a short time remains for polishing.

Once again, our hats off to Mrs. Catherine Daggett who gives a real polish to the play, even though we are given to understand that hers is a minor role. Mrs. Daggett plays the English equivalent of our landlady — with variations — a kindly, meek, worrisome soul, who is more concerned about her tenant than she is about her rent. How unusual!

The atmosphere at rehearsal time is much the same as it has always been. It is one of imbecile giggles from the female element; it is one of cigarette smoke, backstage chattering, frenzied and aimless rushing hither and yon, nervous excitement, and alternate gesturing of despair and hope — the whole dish seasoned amply with a dash of mild implication. Fred Wildman is seated with the two girls, talking of Lord knows what! And the girls for their part are engrossed in conversation; the whole group is happily oblivious of the pandemonium reigning about them. Peabody and Hatch are exchanging slurring remarks about the antics of those on the stage. The prop man is silently toying with the hundred and one odd objects that are forever occupying the attention of men everywhere in this profession.

Dahl 'Herald' Cartoonist To Speak On April 30

Francis Dahl, well-known cartoonist of the Boston "Herald," will speak to the College Community on the evening of Wednesday, April 30. Mr. Dahl's talk will be conducted under the auspices of the Moulton Union Committee.

Dean Announces New Regulations For Houseparties

Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, in a meeting with the fraternity presidents, Wednesday, April 16, announced the new college rules for the coming Ivy Day houseparties of May first through fourth.

The rules, greatly relaxed from previous times, are these: House bars may remain open until 4:30 a.m. Friday and Saturday morning, and until 3:00 a.m. Sunday. These are the chief restrictions, apart from the usual liquor forbidding the sale of liquor or forbidding undergraduates to go above the first floor in any of the houses. There was no hour specified when men must leave the houses after the close of the bars.

After announcing the new rules, the Dean issued a few warnings and made some requests. He cautioned all students with cars to be especially careful during Houseparties and warned against drunken driving. These are the chief rules to observe at houseparty time.

Munn Talks On Value Of Finding Oneself

"The importance of finding yourself" was the theme of a chapel talk by Dr. Norman L. Munn, Professor of Psychology, delivered before the students and faculty on Monday, April 14.

During a student's career, he continued, from the many associations of faculty-student relationships, from the studies of courses, and from the association with friends the individual will eventually learn to "wake up to himself."

The student-teacher relationship has in many cases contributed to the student who is impulsive "like a bottle ready to be filled." But the teacher by knowing his "stuff" and by creating an atmosphere of "friendly debate" with his students can help to a great degree in setting the student on the road to his profession.

The teacher, however, of the second type, who does not encourage intellectual stimulation and hence a developed interest in his subject, but who renders his material without "ands, buts, and ifs" and expects the student to throw back the material "parrot fashion," can do little toward helping his students in finding themselves.

State Of Maine Scholarship Exam Fixed For Monday

State of Maine Scholarships competitive exams for entrance to Bowdoin next fall will be given to approximately 50 secondary school students in eight places throughout the state on April 28, 1947.

There are three separate exams which each of the contestants will have to take: an English exam, an informational test, and either a Latin exam or a mathematics exam.

The recipients of the State of Maine Scholarships for 1950 include John W. Lawless, Brunswick; John A. Mitchell, Haynesville; William T. Norton, Winter Harbor; and Malcolm S. Stevenson, Bangor.

B.C.A. Faculty Talks

[Continued from Page 1] ister and teacher, talked to the group, describing the various types of Bibles, and presented to the members the question of public school education in an elective course of religion, which many schools are considering. Dr. Goodrich told his personal experiences while a minister of the American Church in Paris during World War I.

Storr Speaks On Army At Saturday Chapel

"The American Army" was the title Richard Storr, Instructor in American History, selected for his Chapel speech last Saturday.

Mr. Storr said that he did not wish to dwell on "the aspects of the army which have had great publicity of late, but rather the transformation now taking place in the regulations which determine the character of army life."

He outlined several of the changes which are being made in the army such as no more saluting off duty and off the post, and the elimination of the prohibition on social contacts between officers and enlisted men.

Final Student Musical To Be Given April 27

The final Student Musical Recital of the season will take place Sunday, April 27, in the Moulton Union, in a program which will feature John R. Jackman, Jr., Charles E. Chapman, Hugh Pendexter, and Frederick Weidner as soloists. The public is cordially invited.

TRIPLE SMOKING PLEASURE

DAVE "BOO" FERRISS leading pitcher of the American League—W-25 L-6

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALL OVER AMERICA—CHESTERFIELD IS TOPS!

BENOIT'S

Button-down collar OXFORD SHIRTS

Yes, Benoit's has these hard to get button-down Oxfords—made by Arrow and Hathaway—Tops in value—and the best in styles. In white and patterns.

$3.75 to $4.95

AKOM Pep Shirt

Don't confuse Pep Shirts—with the old sweat shirt—because other than having fleece backs—the similarity ends. Pep Shirts are precision tailored—no matter how active you are—in a Pep Shirt there's no arm pull. Aridex treated—Pep Shirts are wind resistant and water repellent as well as being pre-shrunk.

Gold, White, Marine Blue and Reef Gray
$2.75

Benoit's

Fidelity Building

Brunswick

Noted Folklorist, Carl Carmer, Gives Cole Lecture Here

Speaks On Adaptation Of European Cultures By Immigrants In U.S.

Carl Carmer, author and folklorist, entertained a Memorial Hall audience on Tuesday evening with anecdotes, prose-poems and other bits of Americana gathered, as he expressed it, by "getting lost on dirt roads."

Lecturing under the Annie Talbot Cole foundation, Mr. Carmer described the adaptation of European cultures by immigrant groups and the development of an indigenous folklore. He ridiculed the Hudson River Valley residents who built castles and "ruins" in imitation of the Rhine, and compared the lousy idiom of Davy Crockett's language with the effete efforts of early American poets. Scoring the cultural inferiority complex of some Americans, he pointed to many of the young nation's accomplishments in literature and the arts.

Mr. Carmer was introduced by one of his former students at the University of Rochester, Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick. Indicating that the Institute Committee had sought to usurp the Annie Talbot Cole funds this year, he stated that they had found it impossible to reconcile World Politics with the Cole Lectureship provision "that life is a glad opportunity."

Reception Given For University Of Maine Faculty

A reception was held for the Faculty members of the University of Maine Brunswick campus on Wednesday, April 23 by members of the Bowdoin faculty in the Walker Art Building.

The receiving line consisted of President and Mrs. C. M. Sills of Bowdoin, President and Mrs. Arthur Hauck of the University of Maine, Director and Mrs. Jasper Crouse of the University of Maine Brunswick campus, Dean and Mrs. Nathaniel C. Kendrick of Bowdoin, Professor and Mrs. Noel C. Little of Bowdoin.

The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Prof. and Mrs. Athern P. Deggett, Associate Prof. George H. Quinby, and Mrs. Lawrence Pelletier, Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Donovan D. Lancaster and Mr. Albert Roe.

Mrs. Stanley P. Chase, Mrs. Henry L. Johnson, Mrs. Henry G. Russell, Mrs. Herbert R. Brown, Mrs. Thomas Means, Mrs. Kenneth J. Boyer, Mrs. Phillip C. Beam, and Mrs. Edward C. Kirkland poured for the occasion.

Serving were Mrs. Albert R. Thayer, Mrs. Myron A. Jeppesen, Mrs. Newton P. Stallknecht, Mrs. William C. Root, and Miss Peggy Coffin.

Ushers for the reception were the members of the Student Council.

New Novel By Bourjaily '44 Being Published Soon "End Of My Life" Tells Of Youth's Altered Values

By Ralph R. Anderson '50

"The End of My Life," a novel by Vance Bourjaily '44 is being published by Scribners and will probably be printed by late next summer.

The background for the book is the war, and Vance's experience in the ambulance corps. The plot is woven intricately around a psychological character that has developed in many people over a long period of time. After the last war many people acquired what was then termed a postwar neurosis, a general rejection of all values. A general care-free, out-for-a-thrill and a good laugh trend of life resulted from this attitude. A cynicism increased with this pattern and there was a fear of either being serious or of anything serious; they looked for the loop-holes. They were contented for having this philosophy because those who had not been in the war said, "Look what they've been through."

In 1939, when Germany invaded Poland, the young men began to realize that they would eventually be called into the service to fight for the country. Thus this happy-go-lucky attitude towards life revived itself. These men no longer worried about the future because they

Francis K. Dahl Presents Humorous Cartoon Speech

Noted Boston Herald Cartoonist Draws Crowd To Moulton Union Lounge; Draws Cartoons

Francis K. Dahl, a noted cartoonist for the Boston Herald, presented a lecture on his profession and drew many related cartoons before a more than capacity crowd in the Moulton Union Lounge, Wednesday evening, April 30.

This talk, which was heartily enjoyed by the audience, was full of the dry humor typical of his work.

Stating that he was under the impression that New Englanders lacked a sense of humor, Dahl remarked that one had to have a sense of humor to live in New England. Drawing cartoons in these New England states, he said, is like making faces in a church.

Dahl combined with his lecture various representative illustrations of his characters: his Vermont, Bostonian, the fireman with his cat, the squirrel, pigeon, and the cow.

He also remarked that everyone in New England had their pet animals, with Bowdoin men having their dogs.

He then explained the methods of getting ideas, illustrating the feet-on-desk method, the head-in-hands method, and finally the

B.C.A. Names Woods Head, Jack Good Vice-President

Joseph W. Woods '47 was elected President of the Bowdoin Christian Association last Monday evening at a meeting by the group in Conference B of the Moulton Union.

The B.C.A. also elected Jack Good '50 Vice-President, Harold N. Burnham, Jr. '48 Secretary, and Walter S. Mather '50 Treasurer.

An active member since his early Bowdoin days, Woods is President of the White Key Association, a member of Bowdoin's varsity track team, a member of the student council, and winner of the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cup awarded each year to that member of the undergraduate class who best represents his class in courage, leadership, and service to the college.

Jack Good '50 was elected to the vice presidency of the organization. As editor of the M.C.C.A. bulletin, Good has been on several committees on the B.C.A. and has served throughout the year on its active roll.

Harold N. Burnham Jr. '48 was elected to the duties of Secretary. He was formerly co-chairman of the Philosophical-Religious Discussion Groups.

Walter S. Mather '50 was elected Treasurer. A member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, Mather has been affiliated with the E.C.A. during his entire freshman year.

It was voted by the group that the new President would appoint a corresponding secretary next fall.

Helmreich Leads Religious Forum In Discussion

"The Individual And Organized Religion" Subject Of His Talk

Prof. Ernst C. Helmreich, Professor of History and Government, led the third in the current series of religious-philosophical discussions in the Moulton Union lounge last Friday night. Professor Helmreich's subject was "The Individual and Organized Religion."

The fact that there has always been an organized religion stemming from the family which is still one of the most important factors in religion was stressed. The history, chiefly of the Christian religion and its ramifications, was traced by Professor Helmreich through the beginning of the papacy to the Reformation and the breaking of the Roman Catholic Church into the factions as we know it today.

The emphasis was placed on the power, through its organization and reason for organization, of the organized church. The various sects that have broken with the church on the issue of a central organization also received special mention.

Then Professor Helmreich posed several questions for discussion. "If there were no organized religion; if we started from scratch, would religion continue, die out, or merely organize itself again?" Several answers were offered by the group of twenty people participating in the discussion.

One answer was that the church was bound to be re-organized in some form since one of the irresistible urges of religion is to gain converts. Another answer was that an individual can not really acquire a religion by himself but must exchange ideas with his fellow man. An addition to this last answer was that even though a man may have an individual religion, he nevertheless is a social animal and almost invariably organizes.

Another question posed was an outcome of the first and asked, "Just what do we mean by the term, religion?" Two distinct modes of thinking developed from this question. The first maintained that a religion must have a deity and perhaps even a theory or belief of an afterlife or immortality.

The other group maintained that perhaps a religion could be a way of life and that a static such as a Communist or Fascist state could conceivably, if a God is necessary at all, become a deity. It was mentioned

[Continued on Page 3]

Betas To Join Plan To Aid Foreign Students

Beta Theta Pi has joined the list of fraternities that have consented to underwrite the living costs of a foreign student for the coming year.

The announcement was made following the regular meeting on Wednesday, April 23, when the motion by Johnson Ford '49 was accepted. The Betas made known a preference for an Austrian or German student, or a Dutch student if these are not available.

The foreign student plan provides for six students from foreign countries to receive free tuition from Bowdoin if fraternities are willing to offer room and board for one student each. Zeta Psi, Chi Psi, Psi Upsilon, and Delta Upsilon have already made known their request for a student.

Walsh Returns Tonight From Professional Job

Adam Walsh, Bowdoin College's famous football coach who has been on leave of absence for several years, will return "home" to Brunswick on Friday evening according to Malcolm E. Morell, director of athletics at the college.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh are expected to arrive on the evening train which will arrive here from Boston at 7:15 daylight saving time. They will be accompanied by their infant daughter who was born several months ago at Los Angeles where Adam was coach of the Los Angeles Rams professional football team.

The family will make their home at the former Skifffield house on Park Row.

Bowdoin Night At Pops On May 12; Members Of The College Glee Club To Make Annual Trip To Boston

Scene From "Private Secretary"

Photo by Fred Willman. A SCENE FROM THE FIRST ACT OF "The Private Secretary" staged in Memorial Hall, Monday evening. William Lacey, the "star," is the kindly gentleman in the derby.

Lacey and Murphy Shine In "The Private Secretary"

By William Happ II '46
For its Ivy Play this year the Masque and Gown has dragged out a not-too-hot old chestnut, "The Private Secretary" by Charles Hawtrey, and given it a surprisingly sprightly presentation. It is of credit to the selecting board that it would risk a dated piece like this and even more to the credit of the actors and the director that some of the most inane lines and situations imaginable are made extremely funny.

Student Recital Presents Varied Musical Program

The thirty-third Student Recital was presented on Sunday afternoon to an audience of about seventy in the Moulton Union Lounge, and included selections by composers ranging from Beethoven and Wagner to Stephen Foster.

The program started with "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" by Richard Wagner, performed by Richard Wagner, Jr. '50, trombone, Charles W. Wilder '50, baritone, John E. Duffer '50, bass.

The Sextet gave way to Thomas R. Chapman '50 who sang "Come to Me" by Beethoven, and he in turn was followed by H. Berkely Peabody, Jr. '50, pianist, who played two Arabesques by Claude Debussy, which he introduced with a short talk on the composer.

Hugh Pendexter III '46 and J. Richard Jackman '50, offered a duet duet, "I waited for the Lord" by Felix Mendelssohn and the Brass Sextet followed with "Serenade" by Schubert.

Frederick Weidner III '50, made his first appearance singing "Moth and Machree" by Chauncy Olcott and Ernest Ball, and "The Trumpeters" by J. Arlie Dix. This was followed by Hugh Pendexter III with his own composition, "Sonata for Recorder."

Frederick Weidner III sang next "Invictus" by Bruno Huhn, and the final selection of the recital was a medley arranged from Stephen Foster played by the Brass Sextet.

Sills In Washington On Long Trip In East

President Kenneth C. M. Sills will be away from the college on an extended trip, starting April 25, he stated in a recent interview.

The trip will include a stop at New York City on April 28 when he expects to be present at the centennial of the Century Club of which he is a member, and a visit to Washington, D. C. where he will attend the annual meeting of the Washington Alumni Association on April 29. Senator Ralph O. Brewster, '09, is president of the association.

On May first and second, President Sills will be present at the annual convention of the American Council on Education in Washington.

President Sills will be back in his office again on Monday, May 5.

Knight, Williams, Dunlap To Sing Three Selections

By P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '46

The rousing strains of "Bowdoin Beata" will shake Boston's stately old Symphony Hall on Monday evening, May 12, when sixty members of the Glee Club, Lloyd Knight '45, and Arthur Fiedler's Boston Pops Orchestra join forces for the second annual observance of Bowdoin Night at the Pops.

Chase Discloses Committee Plans For The Grounds

The substitution of small paned windows for the ugly large-paned ones in the dormitories and the further extension of the brick-edged walks are future plans of the Committee of the Boards on Grounds and Buildings, Professor Chase announced last Monday in a chapel address.

In conjunction with the Superintendents they have worked out the location of new buildings, the plans for new walks, and improvements on existing ones. Mr. R. Newton Mayall, the College's consulting landscape architect, has submitted a plan for relaying some of the campus roads so as to avoid congestion of traffic and to provide more adequate parking space.

Worn-out boilers, leaky roofs, and catch basins are also a main interest and responsibility of this committee. Recent hard use of our buildings due to their continuous use, and the inadequacy of the income to meet all reasonable material needs presents a serious problem to the Committee of the Boards on Grounds and Buildings. The Superintendent submits a list to this committee of the necessary repairs; this committee determines what items on this list may be postponed until next year, or even indefinitely until the budget can accommodate them, and sends a reduced list of necessities to the Visiting Committee.

The Committee of Grounds and Buildings consists of: The Treasurer, Mr. Philip Dana '46; the Secretary, Mr. Glenn R. McIntire '45; Mr. Walter V. Wentworth '48; Mr. Paul K. Niven '48; Mr. Luther Dana '43; Mr. Neal W. Allen '47; Dr. George W. Burpee '01; Professor Stanley P. Chase '03; and Professor Morgan B. Cushing.

Professor Chase also paid tribute to the loyal and faithful service rendered by the Grounds and Building corps.

In conclusion, Professor Chase said, "Service over a number of years to the Grounds and Buildings Committee inculcates certain of the Christian virtues: Patience, for one, and for another, Hope. For one does see certain things that existed at first in one man's dream becoming actualities."

Bowdoin, U. of New Hampshire Debate Labor-Management Tie

The Bowdoin Debating Team met with the University of New Hampshire Debating Team Friday afternoon in Memorial Hall to debate the proposition, "Resolved that labor should have a direct share in management."

Bowdoin, upholding the affirmative, was represented by I. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45 and Merton G. Henry '50. The negative was defended by Leon B. Stevens and Minott L. Coombs of the University of New Hampshire.

Mr. Henry, opening the debate, stressed the importance of his and his colleagues' definition of direct share which he stated as being, "participation in decisions of management, if only in an advisory capacity." He then went on to point out the great losses in the wages of strikers alone brought about through disagreement with management. In order to evade these losses and bring about greater cooperation between labor and management, he made the following recommendations: (1) that there be established joint boards composed of labor and management, as a means to better cooperation, (2) the use of suggestion boxes for suggestions from labor to management, and (3) continuous familiarity between labor and management as a means to better relations.

Mr. Stevens, of New Hampshire, agreed with Mr. Henry on the fact that there is a great deal of strife between labor and management, however, participation of labor in management is not a valid means to end the strife. His reasons were: (1) management is a specialized function, and that for that reason, laborers cannot come from an assembly line and advise management how to manage, (2) labor already possesses too much power, and (3) arbitrary decisions sought by labor impossible at this time.

Mr. Marsh, the second speaker [Please Turn To Page 6]

Veterans Under 346 Must File Future Plans

Veterans attending college under the G. I. Bill, Public Law 246, must fill out a series of forms dealing with their academic plans for the summer and fall according to Allen F. Gould, Resident Training Officer of the Veterans Administration. Men attending under Public Law 16 are exempt from this action.

These forms, which will be distributed along with the Government Allotment checks, will be filled out in one of five categories which are designed to include the status of every veteran in college: Men planning to attend the summer sessions, men graduating on June 7, men not attending one or both of the summer sessions and not planning to attend other colleges at that time, men leaving Bowdoin in June and planning to enter another college next fall, and men who are not going to college this summer and are not sure of their plans. Training Officer Gould's Advisor requests that these forms be filled out and returned to his office by May 3, at the latest.

Men leaving Bowdoin in June to enter other schools will receive a certificate of eligibility from the Veterans Administration, which will be required for re-enrollment in another college under the G. I. Bill. Graduates must have their certificates signed by Mr. Philip S. Wilder, 17 Winthrop Hall, and transfers should have theirs signed by Dean Kendrick. As the regulation concerning the signatures is a new one Mr. Gould has not, as yet, been able to communicate it to the veterans and has requested that they note it as given here.

Once Again An ORIENT Editor Extends Time-Worn Welcome To Ivy Day Guests

Bowdoin, founded in 1794 as a liberal arts college, has through the 153 years of her existence grown into one of the studiest small colleges in New England with a wealth of tradition and famous sons as part of her glory.

Her faculty has kept a continually high scholastic standing for undergraduates to aim at. She gives to her students every opportunity for intellectual growth and moral advancement. There are religious, political, literary, musical, dramatic, and social organizations. There is a healthy spirit of competitive athletics, both interfraternity and inter-collegiate. Brunswick itself is a pleasant bustling little town with the right amount of nostalgia and modernity for a college seat.

Yet there is something lamentable lacking in its college life. It is an oversight directly attributable to the worthy trustees and overseers who first nurtured the infant college so that Maine sons (as the legend goes) might not have to travel to Williamstown, Massachusetts for a college education. In those days of waning Puritanism the woman's place was in the home and not in the classroom. Perhaps, then the founding fathers cannot really be blamed for making Bowdoin strictly a man's world.

And so, jumping ahead 153 years to today, it is somewhat hackneyed to string out the time-worn "Welcome" banner to all the young ladies who will share in the festivities of Ivy Day. But it would be hypocrisy and a breach of etiquette for the college newspaper representative of the students not to do so.

For anyone of you to be bored this week-end is inexcusable. If such is the case the Student Council should hear of it and effect disciplinary action at its next meeting. Bowdoin has no place for slackers, and the ORIENT recommends severe punishment for those students who do not live up to the college tradition of hospitality to guests. Head shaving, Indian war paint, and a skirt of rattling beer cans would be too meek an action for such culprits.

You will note that the fraternity dances, the play, and the Ivy dance in the gym tonight are but incidental to the keen cultural atmosphere which saturates the campus. The ORIENT further recommends that each student point out the significant sights to his week-end companion. The Walker Art Building, for instance, the "most beautiful building north of Boston," contains some rare treasures and would be a shrine worth exploring for all art lovers.

Although it is a shame that classes were suspended today, you will have a chance tomorrow to see Bowdoin's professors in action. The campus, incidentally, is never more beautiful than on a bright, sunny spring day at eight in the morning, when the first lectures begin.

F. W. W., Jr.

Debating Needs Changes To Regain Former Place

One of the long-standing college institutions which seems to have lost its place over the years is that of varsity debating. Very fortunate are those debaters who are not now forced to speak to an empty hall.

Were the days when debates attracted audiences from far and wide. The varsity debating team enjoyed the highest place among extracurricular activities. Standing room only remained as Bowdoin argued "the illusion of progress" with one of her sister colleges.

Today debating is almost unknown and very ill-attended. Debaters themselves are collegiate nonentities. And this backward movement is not without reason.

First is the selection of artificial questions as the "debate topic of the year." Rather than select burning topics of public interest debate organizations choose such subjects as labor's share in the management of industry.

And then audiences are made to suffer through long arguments for an entire academic year—all on this same subject. Usually one experience is enough to frighten the hardest away.

Naturally, since debating offers but slight rewards in the way of fame or public attention, the participants are not as zealous as they might be in preparing their cases and arguments. This of course makes for less effective speaking, which in turn fails to hold audience interest.

Another criticism is in connection with judged debates. Frequently it is difficult to find an adequate number of impartial men to act as judges. Nothing can be more disappointing to both debaters and audiences than an unfair decision.

To correct this situation and return debating to its former position of eminence is a matter of current concern. If each college were to prepare cases on half a dozen different topics and were thus to vary their debating fare, interest on the part of both debaters and audiences would be heightened.

Selection of topics of immediate interest, adequate publicity, and better prepared arguments would doubtless attract more capable candidates for debating and restore it to its proper place.

Fickett Speaks On Labor's Share In Management

Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47 discussed in chapel last week the possible methods by which strikes might be avoided in American industry.

He began his talk by pointing out the great loss in dollars and man-hours which the United States has suffered in the twelve year period from 1935 to 1947. "The phone strike is still in progress, and as we approach June 30th, the specter of another paralyzing coal strike looms increasingly large," said Fickett.

He continued with the assertion that there were two approaches to the solution of the strike problem, namely: "a short-range, largely superficial approach and a long-range, basic approach. The first approach pertained essentially to the Hartley and Taft Bills before Congress, which were designed, 'to revise and strengthen labor mediation machinery, to make unions more responsible, and to curb the power of labor.'"

"The second approach," maintained Fickett, "must, however, go far deeper than merely lessening the number of strikes. The lasting approach must not merely treat the symptoms of labor strife, but rather remedy its basic, underlying causes." The machinery of the second approach was not explained by the speaker, but he did point out that an extension of advisory power to labor had resulted in many cases, "in greater productive efficiency, and a minimum of labor unrest."

In closing, speaker Fickett suggested to his audience that, "there is one vital fact which we must not forget, and that is: the necessity of giving labor maximum purchasing power in order that the U.S. may internally consume a goodly share of the production of its industrial machine."

"The Private Secretary"

[Continued from Page 1]

and expressive. In another character role, that of the tailor, Berkeley Peabody is slowed down considerably by trouble with his dialect but has one very successful drunk scene. The talented Mrs. Daggett also wrestles valiantly with a Cockney dialect and a role which gives her little chance to display her ability. She is seen at her best only in her set-to with Mr. Murphy. Lucille Maddocks and Ruth Griffin are convincingly gay and coquettish as the young girls.

The success of the show depends heavily upon the strictly farcical scenes, which Mr. Lacey and Mr. Murphy carry very ably. However the play contains more than these scenes and it is in general with tempo that the greatest difficulty occurs. Many of the lines are not only corny, but crusty, and a number of the puns, unfortunately I think, were not even noticed by the audience. Lacey, Murphy, and, at times, Peabody can make these lines very funny, but to play them straight is out of the question.

To get a play like this moving—and it doesn't until Mr. Lacey's first entrance—and to keep it moving between the farcical scenes requires a great deal of finesse in timing and interpretation. And it is on this point that I want especially to praise Harold Lusker, who plays the juvenile lead as the young bachelor. It seems to me he approaches his role exactly as a straight character should in a play of this type, that is, with a wink of his eye and his tongue in his cheek. On the whole too many lines were missed on the opening night and this helped to slow down some of the scenes, but I feel that by the second performance the timing will be better synchronized. The subtle touch of Pat Quinby's directing hand is ever present. The fanciful sets by Robert Bliss fit the mood of the play admirably and the makeup is noteworthy.

As usual, the hall was unbearably hot.

Bugle Editor

GEORGE H. GRIFFIN '47, editor of the Bowdoin Bugle, has been working on the year book since last fall. Early in the year he was a co-author of "Variety" in the ORIENT.

Publication Date For New Bugle Scheduled In May

The publication of the "Bowdoin Bugle" will take place in the "first part of May," according to George H. Griffin '47, Editor-in-Chief, who added, in the first interview granted to the ORIENT, that men familiar with pre-war "Bugles" will note many changes in the 1947 yearbook.

Compared to the yearbooks published before the war, continued Mr. Griffin, the new "Bugle" will not suffer, although improvement may be expected next year.

The main departure from former yearbooks will be the substitution of individual pictures of the Senior Class for ones of the Junior Class, and that while this "Bugle" will be published by a combination of the Junior and Senior Classes, future "Bugles" will probably be Senior Class publications.

The usual features have been included, said Mr. Griffin, and all activities and sports have been covered as far as possible.

Though the original publication was intended for Ivy Day, the Editors are confident that the "Bugle" will appear as now scheduled, the "first part of May."

Summer Students To Be Housed On The Campus

During the coming Trimester all students will be housed in Campus Dormitories or Fraternity Houses with the exception of married students and men living at home, according to Room Assignment Regulations issued by William K. Hall, Assistant Bursar.

Fraternities will fill their own houses to normal capacity according to their own priority system. To facilitate room assignments a complete list of men who are to room in the House for the Summer Trimester must be filed at the Bursar's Office not later than Thursday, May 8.

Men now rooming together in the dormitories will be given the privilege of retaining their present rooms or to room with a man who is already rooming in the dormitories. Any remaining vacancies are to be filled according to the priority basis (credits towards graduation). Those wishing to room in the dormitories must file Room Applications at the Bursar's Office on or before Tuesday, May 13.

Tentative plans are being made to renovate Moore Hall during the First Term of the Summer Trimester and one other dormitory during the Second Term. Transfers from one dormitory to Moore Hall may have to be made at the end of the First Term, the regulations state.

Westbrook Glee Club To Give Concert Here

Forty girls from the Westbrook Junior College Glee Club are scheduled to give a concert at Bowdoin on May 18 under the auspices of the Bowdoin Christian Association, according to Thomas Meakin, '46, vice president of the B.C.A., who is handling the details of the forthcoming visit.

The girls' college glee club will present their program in the lounge of the Moulton Union from three-thirty until four o'clock under Mr. Neily, their director. A tea will then be held for the members of the glee club at the Union. They will then sing the anthem in a vespers service which will be held in the chapel at five o'clock.

The girls will be invited to the various fraternity houses for the evening meal.

D. D. GARDNER CO.
SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

VARIETY

By Wolfgang Rosenberg

STUDENT FACULTY RELATIONS

FROM THE "TUFTS WEEKLY": Since pro means the opposite of con, can you give me an illustration? Progress and Congress. Give King Alfred's views on modern life had he been alive today. If Alfred had survived to the present day he would be such an exceedingly old man that his views on any subject would be quite worthless.

FROM "THE HEIGHTS" (Boston College Publication):

"Congratulations to Maureen Collins of Malden on her engagement to Frank Doherty of West Roxbury... Who's the Accounting Professor at the C.B.A. who is wondering if the Jordan Marsh umbrella counter has been moved to the rear of the store now that last week's storm is over... Speaking of Acct. Profs. Mr. Collins was present at his brother-in-law's wedding in Jamaica Plain last Saturday... Bob Dineen won't tell about that party in Needham other than to say that Bill Fallon and Winnie Flanagan were there also...."

Despite valiant attempts, no amount of inquiry could establish just who the Accounting Professor is who is wondering if the Jordan Marsh umbrella counter has been moved to the rear of the store now that last week's storm is over. Perhaps the student-professor relationship could be considerably improved if such mystifying problems were promptly cleared up.

The following editorial appeared in the BROWN HERALD (Brown University) issue of Monday, April 21, 1947:

"Throughout the present academic year there has been a desperate, yet literally crying need, for a closer relationship between the faculty and student body. This has been pointed up time and again by students plaintively waiting that a professor is too detached and he (the student) thus feels no inclination to go to him to discuss problems or technical interpretations.

"We feel that for the most part this lack of fellowship between professors and their students does not make any one department or group of individuals censurable. The primary trouble lies in the apathetic response this problem is receiving. We are certain that many professors see the need for a closer relationship, but either they just look and say, "Too bad," or they are unsure of the best approach to engender better and closer relationships with the students. Then, too, it is likely that many of the faculty wonder how many students desire any more contact than that which they receive in the lecture room.

"There are, naturally enough, several avenues of approach to this (sic) existing problem, and we feel that the best answer is departmental clubs. These Clubs, be they English, Biology, Mathematics, Philosophy, etc., should be initiated by the joint efforts of the students body and faculty. The clubs should be controlled by the students, and made functional by combined student and faculty inspiration with advisement from the professional staff. True, such clubs exist at present in several departments, but the mere fact that the name "Writing Club" exists on paper in the Student Activities office does not mean that that club is fulfilling its purpose, or meeting more than a token number of times in the course of a school year. No, the clubs should be active, throughout the year.

"Such organizations would align the interested persons in extra-curricular pursuit of either their major study, or a related one, but one wherein they would delve deeper into interpretation and understanding of a specific subject, or expand to include contemporary angle and approaches. Members of the department concerned could relate the professors that are to attend the club's meetings, and by their efforts insure a pace of interest, and inspire a student-professor relationship on an intellectual level that has seldom been seen in any university.

"It is something we need at Brown (sic); something we should expend every effort in attempting to attain by next September, something that we hope every professor and many students will turn over in their minds and discuss among themselves, that we might be able to realize more concrete student - professor relationships next year."

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for

Good Food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the

College Spa

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

60 YEARS AGO THE THEN YOUNG U.S.L.T.A. CHOSE THE WRIGHT & DITSON BALL AS OFFICIAL FOR THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

NEW CENTER puts extra liveliness in the Spalding and Wright & Ditson tennis balls. In recent tests, both bounced consistently to the upper limits of U.S.L.T.A. rebound standards — another reason why these Spalding-made tennis balls are first choice of most tournament players. Sharpen up your game with one of the Twins of Championship Tennis.

TWINS OF CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS! SPALDING-MADE TENNIS BALLS ARE OFFICIAL IN MOST OF THE BIG TOURNAMENTS

Both Made by Spalding

SPALDING SETS THE PACE IN SPORTS

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
of BRUNSWICK, MAINE
Capital and Surplus $350,000
Total Resources over $5,000,000
Student Patronage Solicited

MIKE'S PLACE

HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES

Phone 974-M for delivery

Maine Street

Brunswick Maine

Bowdoin Fly-Boys ---
The Sky's The Limit
at...
Douglas Flying Service
DOUGLAS FIELD
Brunswick, Maine. Phone 1235

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49
Johnson Poor '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '49
Albert B. Patton '50
Raymond S. Trough '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland Jr. '49
Feature Editor H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45
Editorial Assistants: P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '46, William E. Angerson '47, Earl S. Archibald, Jr. '48, Paul L. Bishop '49, Carl J. Cooper '49, William M. Davis '49, Daniel L. Dayton '49, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Edward E. Murphy '49, George Paradis '49, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Francis E. Currie '50, Samuel T. Gilmore '50, Donald W. Hanson '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50, Constantine Karvounides '50, Richard A. Leavitt '50, John F. Nixon III '50, Robert J. Waldron '50

Contributing Editors Nelson L. Towers '47
Alfred F. Wehren '47
Raymond H. Swift '48

Staff Photographer Frederick D. Wildman '48

Managing Editor Of This Issue
Albert B. Patton '50

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Assistant Business Manager Arnold Cooper '48
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmutz '49
C. Craig Ryder '49
Francis E. Currie '50
Advertising Managers Alfred J. Wadler '47
Edward S. Early '49
W. Churchill Cressey '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Cantalamessa '48, James H. Whitcomb '48, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Hayden E. Goldberg '49, H. Noyes Macomber '49, Robert T. Tanner '49, Robert S. Barker '50, Gordon F. Linkie '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Athens F. Daggett
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown
C. Cabot Easton '48
Richard A. Wiley '49

RESORTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - CANTON - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO
Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

"Teamed-up for you since '82"

"We're symbols of a unique industrial team that has been working for you for 65 years. With our research team—Bell Telephone Laboratories—we've helped to give you the world's best telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

"My part of the job is to supply high quality products that meet exacting standards.

"I manufacture telephone equipment... purchase all manner of supplies for Bell Telephone Companies... distribute equipment and supplies to them from stocks maintained at my factories and my 29 warehouses... install central office equipment.

"Right now, I'm providing more telephone equipment and supplies than ever before. Using all my knowledge and skill, gained through years of experience, I'm going at top speed to catch up with the greatest demand on record.

"Remember my name... it's Western Electric."

Western Electric

A UNIT OF THE BELL SYSTEM SINCE 1882

Ivy Day Ceremonies To Take Place This Afternoon

Twelve Fraternities Hold Parties, Picnics And Dances

By John H. Nichols, Jr. '49

As the annual Ivy Houseparties have gotten off to a good start, perhaps on a grander scale than ever before, the individual fraternities have planned all sorts of activities ranging from banquets to clambakes. Printed below is a complete schedule of events that will take place at each fraternity house.

FRIDAY

After having a house dance last night and a buffet supper, the A. D.'s will hold a formal banquet tonight at 7 p.m.

The Psi U's are having a formal banquet before the dance in the Gymnasium.

Over at the Chi Psi Lodge there will be a formal banquet at 6:30 p.m.

The Deltas are really going to town. Starting off with a late breakfast in the morning and sandwiches in the afternoon, they are having a cocktail party and a buffet supper before the formal dance.

The T. D.'s are having a cocktail party at 5:00 p.m., which will be followed by a formal banquet.

There will be a formal banquet at the Zeta House at 7:00 p.m.

After initiating the Houseparty with the "Kappa Sig Follies" and a Hayride last night, the Kappa Sigs are having a soft-lamb from ten to eleven this morning. At eight o'clock tonight there will be a formal banquet at which will be the presentation of the House Queen.

The Betas are having a formal banquet at 8:15 p.m.

There will be a cocktail party at the Sigma Nu House this afternoon.

Over at the A. T. O. House, next to the Stowe House, a cocktail party will be held preceding the formal banquet at 7:30 p.m.

The A. R. U.'s are having a formal banquet in the Moulton Union before the Gym Dance.

SATURDAY

From 2 to 6 p.m. the A. D.'s are having a house beach party and picnic supper at Thomas's point. At 8:00 p.m., there will be an informal vic-dance in the house.

The Psi U's are venturing to the coast to have a clam bake around noon. There will be a house dance from 9 to midnight.

The Chi Psis are going to spread out and hold individual picnics at various points along the coast from Mere Point to Wiscasset. From 8 to 12 there will be a vic-dance and general party.

The Deltas are going to start the day with another late breakfast which will be followed by a clam bake at Mere Point.

The T. D.'s are having a beach party in the afternoon. After said party, the T. D.'s will dance to the music of Al Corey and his orchestra in the T. D. House.

The D. U.'s are having a picnic in the afternoon and house dance in the evening with Phil Young and a group of Polar Bears.

The Zetas are picnicing from one in the afternoon until early evening. They will return to the Zeta house in time for a house dance from 9 to midnight.

The Kappa Sigs seem to be going all out by holding a splash party in the Curtis Pool from 2:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon. From 8 to 12 there will be a vic-dance in the Kappa Sig House.

There will be a Beta picnic at Thomas's Point with a clam bake, a hot dog roast, plenty of beer

[Continued on Page 6]

Betas Give Annual Tea For Faculty And Town

Beta Sigma Chapter of Beta Theta Pi gave its annual Tea on Wednesday afternoon, April 30, at the Chapter House.

The Tea is given each year for the Bowdoin faculty, the residents of Brunswick, and Alumni. The living room and dining room was decorated with vases of flowers in the Beta colors, pink and blue.

In the receiving line were Dean and Mrs. Nathaniel C. Kendrick, Faculty Advisor Richard L. Chittim and his mother, and Willard H. Cobb Jr. '49, President of Beta Theta Pi.

Pouters for the tea and coffee included Mrs. Wilmet B. Mitchell, wife of Professor Emeritus Mitchell of the Faculty; Mrs. Rosecoe J. Ham, wife of Professor Emeritus Ham; Mrs. Charles T. Burnett, wife of the late Professor Burnett of the Faculty; and Mrs. U. N. Nash, of McKean Street, Brunswick.

Servers for the sherbet were Mrs. George H. Quinby, wife of Professor Quinby of the Bowdoin Faculty, and Mrs. Ervin C. Leathers of McKean Street, Brunswick.

Dr. Alfred Gross Conducts Survey Of Maine Geese

Geese are more plentiful in Merrymeeting Bay than they have been for several years, Dr. Alfred O. Gross estimated in a survey Saturday, April 9.

Dr. Gross, who is a scientific advisor to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, makes a tour of Merrymeeting Bay, Abagadasset Point, the Sands at South Gardiner, Eastern River, and Lower Swan Island every April.

The count of geese in the past four years at Merrymeeting Bay alone is 1947-5868, 1948-4396, 1949-2274, 1950-5379. Although this increase in numbers may indicate a larger propagation of geese this year, it must be taken into account that perhaps other birds have moved to this area because of better feeding grounds.

Accompanying Dr. Gross, Cumberland County Warden Philip J. Mahoney of Brunswick and Lee F. Brackett, U. S. game management agent for Maine aided him in counting a total of 12,459 geese in the whole area. The totals for 1946, 1945 and 1944 are 10,794, 8,523, and 13,459. These numbers again are only approximations of the actual numbers and give only a general idea of increase or decrease in populations. Several other species of birds more numerous this year are scaup ducks and golden eye "whistlers."

In the event of an early spring, the geese frequently do not linger long here, but fly on to Canada. This may cause a lower count and could be the reason which leads many sportsmen to believe that they are diminishing.

Although the population of geese and ducks in the United States has dropped 26,000,000, according to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, Dr. Gross' survey has indicated that it is increasing in this state. W. Earle Bradbury, assistant Maine fisheries and game commissioner, also reports an increase of geese, ducks, and waterfowl.

Toohy Announces V-6 Naval Reserve Program

Lieutenant-Commander Charles F. Toohy, temporarily located at the Brunswick U.S.O. Building, has announced that the week of May 18 to 25 has been designated as "Operation Naval Reserve."

There are opportunities for enlistment in a V-6 Naval Reserve Program for all Bowdoin men, veterans or civilians. In view of the coming drive it is necessary that certain misconceptions concerning the Naval Reserve should be cleared up, he asserted.

The V-6 Program functions in the form of inactive reserve units, and according to Naval Regulations members are required to meet only once in every two weeks or six, times a Trimester. Men will be paid a day's pay for attending this meeting, in effect merely a short business meeting.

Toohy emphasized that physical requirements have been lowered considerably. At the present time there are virtually no eye or ear restrictions.

Eells, Niven, Jr. And Carmichael Named Speakers

Speakers for the coming Graduation exercises will be Douglas Carmichael '44, P. Kendall Niven Jr. '46, and James Eells Jr. '48, with Robert M. Cross '45 as an alternate, it has been announced by Professor Van Cleave of the History Department.

Reverend George M. Hooten of the Class of 1946, minister of the Congregational Church at Yarmouth, will also speak.

Douglas Carmichael is President of the Masque and Gown, a member of the Editorial Board of the Bowdoin Quill, a past Associate Editor of the Bowdoin ORIENT, and a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. Kendall Niven is a member of the Political Forum, a member of the ORIENT Staff, and Zeta Psi Fraternity.

James Eells, former co-captain of the Varsity Swimming Team, is a member of Alpha Delta Phi. Robert Cross, star pole-vaulter on the Track Team, is a member of Zeta Psi.

Crozier Is Marshal For Commencement

Robert E. Crozier '45 of Portland was elected Marshal for Seniors' Last Chapel and Baccalaureate ceremonies at a meeting last Wednesday of Seniors expecting to graduate this June. College plans for Commencement were outlined by Dean Kendrick and Mr. Wilder, Assistant to the President. After discussion from the group voted not to observe traditional Class Day Exercises since the graduates will be composed of five or six classes.

Dean Kendrick appointed a committee of three Seniors to investigate possibilities of a Senior Dance during Commencement Week. This committee to submit recommendations at the next meeting Tuesday, April 29 at 1:30 P.M. in Memorial Hall. All those expecting to graduate in June are urged to attend these meetings.

The Chi Psis are going to spread out and hold individual picnics at various points along the coast from Mere Point to Wiscasset. From 8 to 12 there will be a vic-dance and general party.

The Deltas are going to start the day with another late breakfast which will be followed by a clam bake at Mere Point.

The T. D.'s are having a beach party in the afternoon. After said party, the T. D.'s will dance to the music of Al Corey and his orchestra in the T. D. House.

The D. U.'s are having a picnic in the afternoon and house dance in the evening with Phil Young and a group of Polar Bears.

The Zetas are picnicing from one in the afternoon until early evening. They will return to the Zeta house in time for a house dance from 9 to midnight.

The Kappa Sigs seem to be going all out by holding a splash party in the Curtis Pool from 2:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon. From 8 to 12 there will be a vic-dance in the Kappa Sig House.

There will be a Beta picnic at Thomas's Point with a clam bake, a hot dog roast, plenty of beer

[Continued on Page 6]

A Few Of The Students Who Are Active In The Ivy Day Proceedings

Photo by Fred Wildman
OFFICIALS IN IVY DAY CEREMONIES, Left to right: Jake Stankis, Tim Donovan, Jim Longley, Matt Branche, Jack Pidgeon, and Irving Pliskin.

Sills Speaks On Needs Of Maine At Women's Club

"Some of the Things Maine Needs" was the subject of a speech by President Kenneth C. M. Sills, given at a recent meeting of the Women's Educational Club of Rockland.

"People have lost their sense of values and they must return to them in many fields of life" was the keynote of the President's speech. Secondary school education is on the point of drying up. While the universities and colleges are overcrowded, normal schools and teacher's colleges are not meeting with heavy enrollment, President Sills stressed.

As a solution, he said that a community scholarship plan might be inaugurated with the reservation that all students thus aided would return to their own communities to teach.

President Sills added that "While the people spend millions for liquor, roads, cigarettes, and cosmetics, they were largely unconcerned with the education of the country's youth."

President and Mrs. Sills met many of the people from Rockland and vicinity at an open forum and informal reception at the close of the talk.

Sills Endorses United Negro College Fund

President Kenneth C. M. Sills has just added his endorsement of the United Negro College Fund to the list of nineteen other New England educators who have endorsed the campaign.

The Fund is being raised to aid the Negro colleges, which must charge a low tuition by necessity, in the heavy financial demands now imposed on all colleges. By this outside help a great number of men may be able to receive an education which they otherwise could not afford. The goal for New England is $50,000 of a total fund of $1,300,000.

Sense Of Vocation Theme Of Johnson's Chapel Talk

By Roger L. Kenvin '49

"The main axle in Biblical history is the sense of a vocation," said Rev. Robert Y. Johnson of the Williston Congregational Church of Portland in a chapel address Sunday, April 27.

Reverend Johnson pointed out that the difference between a vocation and a job is that one can have many jobs but should have only one vocation. "The Christian vocation is our response to God's call," he said. "We give ourselves to the building of his kingdom."

He spoke of the Medieval Church's breaking up life by insisting that the man in the monastery was closer to God. Martin Luther and John Calvin restored the sense of vocation, he felt. But the present day finds Hitler and Stalin saying to the people, "We want every last shred of your being — body, mind, and soul."

Reverend Johnson said that Protestantism has been too easy going in this respect. "We must take the lid off and confront ourselves with the calling of the Christian religion," he said.

"There are three values in having the Christian sense of vocation," Rev. Johnson stated. The first of these is the fact that the man with a sense of vocation is always creative. "Things begin to move from where they are to where they ought to be."

In the second place the Christian vocation always makes a person free. "I have never seen a real Christian with a sense of vocation who has not been free," he said. "The man with the Christian vocation is free because he's rooted in God."

The third value is wholeheartedness — "To be Christ-like." Not to imitate him externally, but to bring to our work the same sense of wholeheartedness which he brought to His. Johnson pointed out, is often referred to by the psychologist as integration and by the theologian as holiness.

"Until we have found our vocation in Him," Reverend Johnson said in conclusion, "We are forever a square peg in a round hole, but in finding him, we find ourselves."

Too many of us expect legislation to solve our problems but legislation alone cannot do this. By saying that we have done great things in the past, we seem to think that we can do them in the future. Our disasters in the past merely point out our mistakes, Professor Koellin emphasized.

Professor Koellin finished by saying we must not let our love become charity. We must give and receive love from our world neighbors.

In order to fulfill the command to "love thy neighbor" we must obey the command "make thyself a picture of thy neighbor." The feeling of love must go from person to person, not from nation to nation. Racial barriers must be broken down. When we retain our class feelings we separate ourselves, Professor Koellin pointed out.

This belief has been advanced for Communism. A third group mediated somewhat and maintained that a religion necessarily contained a "way of life" but that a "way of life" did not necessarily contain a religion.

There will be no discussion group on the Friday of Ivy Week but the following Friday, May 9, there will be a discussion on mysticism in religion.

[Continued from Page 1]

Stankis, Pliskin, Longley To Conduct Festivities

By Samuel T. Giffmore '49

Stating that it was his hope that the ceremonies for Ivy Day would be supported by the student body, Matthew D. Branche '48 revealed the plans for the traditional "planting of the ivy" which is scheduled for this afternoon at three in front of the Walker Art Building.

Because of the many dances and parties which were held last night, it was feared that the turnout might be somewhat neglected. "However," Branche continued, "we have an interesting program and would like the members of the college to share with us in the event. We must remember that this is the first Ivy Day celebration since the college has returned from war, and to the seniors who are participating, the student body owes a loyal respect."

Irving B. Pliskin '49 will head the occasion by the reading of an original poem. Pliskin, managing editor of the "Quill," has contributed various selections to that publication during his undergraduate years. James B. Longley '48 will follow with an oration. Longley, former President of the Psi Upsilon fraternity, played on the football team.

The traditional wooden spoon, awarded each year to the most popular member of the junior class, will be presented to S. Jake Stankis '49, who captured gridiron honors as All-State guard for the Polar Bears and who will captain next year's eleven.

The Ivy, which will be planted after the presentations and speeches by Branche, will uphold the long tradition of each passing class. "It is interesting to note," added Branche, "that this year's ivy will represent more Bowdoin men of all ages and all classes than ever before in the history of the college."

"We want to have all Bowdoin men and their guests take part in this affair," said Branche, "because it is a definite part of our college."

In closing he warned, "If it rains, we will begin our ceremonies in the chapel. We look forward to the revival of this custom, which both President Sills and the administration have seen fit to have revived."

These are from Colby College, Associate Professor of Economics Walter N. Breckenridge, Assistant Professor of Economics Paul Fullam, Assistant Professor of Fine Arts Samuel M. Green, Associate Professor of Chemistry Lester F. Wheeler, from Brown University, Instructor in Economics Donald A. Moore, Instructor in Economics Melvin D. Sargent, from Massachusetts, Professor of French Stowell C. Goding, from Trinity College, Professor of Economics Lawrence W. Towle.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Messrs. Dane and Nixon; in the Mathematics Department, Messrs. Korgen, Holmes, York, and Chittim; in the Music Department, Messrs. Tillotson and Nichols; in the Philosophy Department, Messrs. Stallone and Brumbaugh; in the Physics Department, Messrs. Jeppesen and Christie; in the Psychology Department, Messrs. Munn and Clark; in the Sociology Department, Mr. Taylor; and in the Spanish Department Mr. Leith.

The following Bowdoin faculty members will also remain here to teach. In the Art Department, Messrs. Beam and Green; in the Biology Department, Messrs. Gustavson and Gross; in the Chemistry Department, Messrs. Root, Weeks, Bournique, and Kamering; in the Economics Department, Breckenridge, Towle, Sargent, and Moore; in the English Department, Lyons, Stratton, Hall, Quinby, Thayer, Chase, Coffin, and Brown; in the French Department, Messrs. Goding, Leith, Livingston, Darbelnet; in the German Department, Messrs. Koellin, Solmitz, and Riley; in the Government Department, Messrs. Hornell, Daggett, and Pelletier; in the Greek Department, Mr. Dane; in the History Department, Messrs. Hecht and Fullam; in the Latin Department, Mess

Handy Pocketguide And Ready Reference For Dates

ALPHA DELTA PHI

Leigh F. Clark, Ruth Warner, Freeport, Maine; Charles Wilder, Joan Beck, Waban, Mass.; R. Willis Leith, Martha Jackson, Wellesley, Mass.; John Tausig, Anne Jeffrey, Columbus, Ohio; Brooks Levitt, Frances Leavitt, Brunswick, Maine; Dexter Foss, Barbara Blankenhorn, Tacoma, Wash.; Clifford Bourgeois, Norma Graham, Lowell, Mass.; David Dickson, Martha Morrell, New York, N. Y.; Jack Thomas, Jane Wynn, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Peter Grant, Barbara Klenk, Detroit, Mich.; John Ashby, Rae Storer, Denver, Colo.; Dana Brown, Call Sullivan, Foxboro, Mass.; Bill Reardon, Marilyn Mitchell, Augusta, Maine; Charles Lovejoy, Martha Hocking, Wakefield, Mass.

Thomas Weatherill, Bunny Hoagland, Newtonville, Mass.; Laureston Dobbrow, Shirley Little, Westfield, N. J.; Joseph Flanagan, Betty Gonya, Boston, Mass.; Jim Doughty, Nancy Hoagland, Newtonville, Mass.; Stuart MacLeod, Elaine Austin, Reading, Mass.; James Keefe, Mary Ellen Herlihy, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Jack Giffen, Mary Faulkner, Keene, N. H.; Herbert French, Trina Leeb, South Orange, N. J.; Dan Dayton, Nancy Davis, Waban, Mass.; Robert deScherbin, Jean Brown, Waban, Mass.; Roger Eckfeldt, Bunny Warner, Melrose, Mass.; Donald Lockhart, Shirley Hughes, Westbrook, Maine; Henry Smith, Claire O'Grady, New town, Pa.; Donald Strong, Patricia McCarthy, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Paul Hanley, Janice Hamilton, Portland, Maine; Arthur Williams, Jackie Keyes, Boston, Mass.; Barney Barton, Dolores Anderson, Rochester, N. Y.; Al Query, Beverly Davidson, Washington, D. C.; David Smith, Gertrude Legge, Hartford, Conn.; Richard Davis, Annette Hill, Hartford, Conn.; Henry Reardon, Joan Simard, Augusta, Maine; John Begley, Anne Desmond, Bath, Maine; Vencor Sotak, Martha Sotak, Brunswick, Maine; Coit Butler, Peggy Butler, Brunswick, Maine; Donald Russell, Joan Lembre, Needham, Mass.; Robert Tevalof, Peggy Coughlin, Wellesley, Mass.

PSI Upsilon

William Bartel, Beverly Amthor, White Plains, N. Y.; Archibald Howe, Chris Greenough, Boston, Mass.; Hiram Nickerson, Charles Poole, Greenville, Maine; Earle Wilson, Nancy Field, Worcester, Mass.; Frank Holtman, Mary Bolla, New Brunswick, N. J.; Louis Piper, Janet Keppe, New York, N. Y.; Alexander Robertson, Joan Ross, Ipswich, Mass.; Richard Haskell, Ruth Cunningham, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William Steele, Alice Brewer, Fairhaven, Mass.; Lawrence Deane, Dorothy French, Fort

land, Maine; Ira Pitcher, Edith Hale, Bronxville, N. Y.; Laurence Staples, Lee Watson, Bronxville, N. Y.; Gordon Page, Mabelle Piper, Damariscotta, Maine; David Johnson, Barbara Bolles, Ipswich, Mass.

Lawrence Minnehan, Hope Ball, Lewiston, Maine; George Vinall, Barbara Crowne, New Bedford, Mass.; Milo Wilder, Mary Maus, Holyoke, Mass.; Alfred Vele, Lee O'Brien, Morristown, N. J.; Gordon Miller, Katherine Kelley, Maplewood, N. J.; James Pierce, Joan Heinzel, Mann, Rye, N. Y.; Keene Anis, Carol Shaw Crow, Holyoke, Mass.; Edward Gillen, Jackie Rideout, Portland, Maine; Cole, Betty Bauer, Cambridge, Mass.; Edward Butler, Mary Johnson, Topsham, Maine; Charles Noyes, Charlotte Peterson, Colonia, N. J.; Gordon Hoyt, Helen Stevens, Greenwich, Conn.; Daniel Kumbard, Sally Smith, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHI Psi

William Silsby, June Godden, Winchester, Mass.; William Gilmore, Joan Knodell, Jamaica Plains, Mass.; James Aronson, Dorothy Briggs, Colby College; William Gager, Joan Hoffman, Columbus, Ohio; William Clark, Natalie McLeod, Winchester, Mass.; Raymond Clarke, Joyce Lyons, Winchester, Mass.; Stanley Lawry, Nancy Hanson, Melrose, Mass.; Richard Maxwell, Barbara Lange, U. of New Hampshire; Rowe Metcalf, Rona Mary Roberts, Westbrook, J. C.; Lyle Sweet, Miriam Holbrook, Westbrook, J. C.; John Nichols, Jean Snow, Colby College

Robert Hall, Barbara Hyde, Boston University; Gordon Linke, Florence Hollman, Washington, D. C.; Raymond Lebel, Ann Jewett, Bath, Maine; David Boulton, Joy Atwood, Spencer, Mass.; Sal Ingargiola, Elaine LaVallee, Biddeford, Maine; David Wyman, Valerie Parkin, Boston University; Donald Martin, Adele Morgan, Mass. Institute of Art; Frederick Willey, Virginia Getchell, Bangor, Maine; Dan Edgerton, Florette Berbert, Waterville, Maine; Frederick Clark, Jean Williams, Quincy, Mass.; George Paradis, Roselle Cassin, Bangor, Maine; William Schoenthaler, Mary Stanley, Lawrence, Mass.

Edward Murphy, Helen Bishop, Westbrook, J. C.; Emlin Martin, Helen Jack, Burlington, N. J.; John Martin, Gaby Rauffer, Philadelphia, Penn.; Richard Achorn, Nancy Miller, Westbrook, J. C.; Frederick Wildman, Joyce Pray, Westbrook, J. C.; William Lacey, Earle Smith, Melrose, Mass.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

Bob Pouteous, Pat Farvey, New Jersey; Cort Mathers, Carol Campbell, Wellesley, Mass.; H. Drummond, Lindy Cook, Milo, Maine; L. S. Heskitt, Shirley Dexter, Watertown, Mass.; John

Whitecomb, Marion Bacon, Philadelphia, Pa.; Robert Jackson, Almaria Goeling, Kennebunk, Maine; Sam Hale, Gail Griffin, Damariscotta, Maine; Tom Chapman, Ruth Murick, Newton, Mass.; Bob Darden, Judy Emerson, Ohio; Oliver Emerson, Connie Carter, Kansas City, Kansas; Bill Shoemaker, Elizabeth Carr, Darien, Conn.; Campbell Cary, Ann Marie Kenny, Wilmington, Del.; Tobl Strong, Alice Wadsworth, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dick Holden, Genavive Polos, Salem, Mass.; Clem Richardson, Mary Lou Rice, Portland, Maine

Bill Ireland, Mrs. Ireland, Brunswick, Maine; George Qualle, Joan Olsen, Salisbury, Conn.; Stet Mick, Carol Small, Radcliff College; Constantine Karvonides, Dot Coparan, U. of New Hampshire; Bob Leach, Mildred Cob, Saco, Maine; Donald Fisher, Carson Barnes, Belmont, Mass.; A. L. Babcock, Shirley Newcomer, Bradford, Mass.; Walker Merrill, Jean Murray, Newton, Mass.; Steve Monagan, Martha Merrill, Colby College; Bob Schonland, Mary Jane Crabtree, Westbrook, J. College; Rene Boudreau, Barbara Rich, Portland, Maine; Bob Biggar, Shirley Mansell, Boston, Mass.; Walter Favorite, Arlene Knowlton, U. of New Hampshire

THETA DELTA Chi

Bud Gill, Virginia Graham, Belmont, Mass.; Vin Lanigan, Elizabeth Gill, Boston, Mass.; John Sibley, Joan Locatelli, Belmont, Mass.; Aud Britton, Dorrie Webster, West Hartford, Conn.; George Shaw, Pat Wright, Marymount College; Joe Wright, Jeanne Eskilson, Portland, Maine; Lee Howe, Jeanne Smart, U. of New Hampshire; Jackson Crowell, Mary Helen Philbrick, New York, N. Y.; Wallace Evers, Marionne Snee, Smith College; Lee Jackson, Barbara Mitchell, Westbrook, J. C.; Phil Carde, Peggy Gogins, U. of Maine; Dick Pandora, Stella Violette, South Portland, Maine; Gene Martens, Dinah Dunbar, Westbrook, J. C.; Church Cressey, Clare Powers, Westbrook, J. C.; Roger Welch, Shirley Foye, Westbrook, Maine; Taylor Cole, Dottie Rose, Smith College

Frank Kimball, Martha Foss, Jackson College; Curt Mossman, Mildred Mateer, Bates College; Don Spring, Carolyn Grey, Portland, Maine; Neal Clark, Janice McNeill, Garland School, Boston, Mass.; Dan Morrison, Jo Ann Woodward, Bates College; Bill McCormack, Skipper Kachler, Louisville, Kentucky; Al Bugbee, Betsey Biggs, Smith College; Art Showalter, Janet Kiser, Smith

College; Charles Abbott, Carol Hill, Waban, Mass.; Jim Wyman, Lucille Gore, U. of Maine; Ed Early, Sue Colton, Boston, Mass.; Ray Harris, Polly Lord, New York, N. Y.; Jim Early, Ann McKinney, Radcliff College; Bob Clark, Marge Ulrich, Melrose, Mass.; Mike Kuh, Anne Richardson, Wheaton College; Art Berry, Chevie Ford, Wellesley College; Charlie Curtis, Marian Hughes, Wellesley College; Bill Feeney, Posie Rindge, Bradford, J. C.

DELTA EPSILON

Bernard M. Loeck, Ann Richmond, Reading, Mass.; Clinton B. Clarke, Martha Beaton, Beverly, Mass.; Donald N. Lukens, Jeanne Stochbarger, Belmont, Mass.; Robert S. Shepard, Martha Aitken, Lincoln, Neb.; Christopher Adams, Jean Elliott, Thomaston, Maine; J. Edmund Bradley, Alice Fitz, Newton Highlands, Mass.; Robert B. Greene, Gertrude Cronin, Winchester, Mass.; Melvin L. Weiner, Barbara Walker, Fryeburg, Maine; Barker Houghton, Nancy Edgar, Bronxville, N. Y.; Robert Shanahan, Ruth Donovan, New Haven, Conn.; Robert Racine, Rosemary Carney, New Haven, Conn.; Robert J. MacArthur, Mary Hadley, Gertrude Cronin, Winchester, Mass.; William K. Phillips, Ann MacDougall, *Hammond, N. J.; John A. Pidgeon, Elizabeth Kruth, Andover, Mass.; James Witcomb, Ruth MacEachers, Forest Hills, N. Y.; Timothy J. Donovan, Mary Power, Winchester, Mass.; John F. Ryan, Faith Wing, Boston, Mass.; Richard K. Bird, Eileen Waldenburg, Montclair, N. J.; David Penny, Betty Lou Cissei, Wilmington, Del.; Larry Norton, Freddie Leach, Wakefield, Mass.; Phillip Slocum, Peggy Mayo, Hamden, Conn.; Matthew D. Branche, Maralain Roberts, Boston, Mass.; Charles Belgie, Irene Flynn, Lawrence, Mass.; Fred Auten, Jeanne Bigelow, Cass City, Mich.; Jeanne Thropoulos, Beverly Wesnick, West Hartford, Conn.; David Wiswal, Barbara Gray, Swampscott, Mass.

Craig Ryder, Joan Wassiner, West Springfield, Mass.; Arthur Dunphy, Barl Charles, New Rochelle, N. Y.; G. N. McCarthy, Priscilla Hubon, Swampscott, Mass.; W. E. Blaine, Jean MacLeod, Reading, Mass.; R. C. Brown, Edgie Law, Bradford, Mass.; C. T. Freeman, Priscilla Johnston, Granfield, Mass.; R. F. Alden, Margaret Scott, Westford, Mass.; Don Steele, Judith Loud, Birmingham, Mich.; Crockett, Jeanne Manes, Bronx, N. Y.; J. F. Lord, Maggie Kennedy, Portland, Oregon; Bob Emmons, Bonny Rankin, Chappaqua, N. Y.

ZETA PSI

Lawrence Ward, Jacqueline Kravit, Brookline, Mass.; Everett Gray, Betty Jane Sutter, Presque Isle, Maine; S. Blankinship, Jean Fraser, Marion, Mass.; Carlton Woods, Nancy Cheyne, Fitzwilliam, N. H.; Thomas Meakin, Mary Jane Queen, Malden, Mass.; David Abrahamson, Bernice Ritz, Worcester, Mass.; H. T. Kingsbury, Barbara Roy, Montclair, N. J.; Thomas Lyons, Irene Tierney, Wilot, Maine; C. E. Estabrook, Thomas Smith, Waterville, Maine; Thomas Howarth, Arianna Whittemore, Waterville, Maine; Sanford Sistrer, Ida Lee Fox, Cincinnati, Ohio; William Augerson, Jeanne Moshier, Albany, N. Y.; Edward Stone, Joan Cring, Thomaston, Maine; Robert Young, Jean Schab, New York, N. Y.; John Jacobs, Terry Winn, Berlin, N. H.; Morton Lund, Jacqueline Kuemmel, Berlin, N. H.

Arthur Manblen, Pauline Trudell, South Portland, Maine; Nathan Towne, Jo Anne Hall, Rockford, Illinois; Emil Hahnel, Donna Louise Golder, Lewiston, Maine; John Hupper, Joyce McCoy, Newton, Mass.; Joseph Fraser, Carolyn Denny, Damariscotta, Maine; Harold Vincent, Rachel Buck, Barton, Vt.; David Burnell, Madeline Fletcher, Portland, Maine; Adin Merrow, Estelle Weeks, Portland, Maine; Robert Leonard, Jean Mulvaney, Keene, N. H.; Edwin Briggs, Jane Graham, Waldenboro, Maine; Robert Blake, Doretha Blake, Lewiston, Maine

Zimri Oseland, Jerrie Probst, South Bend, Indiana; Don Henderson, Phyllis Lattime, Medford, Mass.; Martin Lee, Suzanne Young, Brunswick, Maine; Peter Fennel, Patricia Holmes, South Portland, Maine; Charles Erickson, Emily Gardell, Westfield, N. J.; Samuel Gilmore, Lucy Utterback, Bangor, Maine; Donald Snyder, Joanne Warvill, Indianapolis, Ind.; John Freeze, Joan Burdick, New London, Conn.; Robert Speirs, Priscilla Brown, Brunswick, Maine; Donald Baker, Jerry Sherman, Damariscotta, Maine; Morris Densmore, Arline Densmore, Portland, Maine; Dana Ripley, Margaret Parsons, Boston, Mass.; Joseph Woods, Barbara Goddard, Fitzwilliam, N. H.

KAPPA SIGMA

James MacNaughton, Marjory Nelson, Middlebury College; George R. Dawson, Isabel Harrison, Gardiner, Maine; Chandler Smalz, Jane M. Isaac, Alcov, N. Y.; Gordon Olson, Mary Ann

Stevens, Middlebury College; Paul Callahan, Rita Fillerer, Marymount College; Roy Littlehale, Judith Stoyie, Mass. State College; Charles Crain, Elaine Lockhart, Belmont, Mass.; Roger Williams, Nancy Sheldrake, Bradford Junior College; Wayne Lockwood, Ethlyn Countryman, Wellesley College; Robert Olson, Barbara Pierce, Skidmore College

Douglas Carmichael, Margaret Neily, U. of New Hampshire; Gregg Brewer, Natalie Robinson, U. of New Hampshire; W. E. Hill, Jr., Mary Pierce, Westbrook Junior College; Paul Moran, Charlotte Cowan, Colby College; James Burgess, Ruth Derby, Wellesley College; Carl Francis, Kathleen Madalena, Medford, Mass.; Donald Richardson, Pauline Ames, W. Medford, Mass.; William Davis, Anne Eissman, Wellesley College; Bryant Whipple, June Palidino, Wellesley College

Harry Brockinton, Margaret Dunlop, Brunswick, Maine; J. Russell Washburne, Rosalie Goldstein, Danbury, Conn.; Harold Moore, Ruth Dorgan, Ellsworth, Maine; Robert Barlow, Nancy Schmalz, Westbrook Junior College; Richard Elliott, Joan Gordon, Wellesley College; Robert Stengel, Evelyn Edgerly, Hampton Falls, N. H.; Edward Leason, Jeanne Fleming, Wellesley College; Arnet Taylor, Connie Coughlin, Swampscott, Mass.

BETA THETA PI

Robert H. Allen, Pete Renchens, Bowdoin Nurse; Robert W. Allen, Jackie Magill, Simmons; John J. Anderson, Margie Blackwell, Bridgewater, Mass.; Robert E. Badger, Bussy Southgate, Middlebury College; Richard B. Becker, Carolyn Conant, Winthrop, Mass.; Gale W. Bennett, Nancy Conwell, Westbrook Jr. College; Paul C. Brown, Nancy Stotard, Westbrook Jr. College; Dabney W. Caldwell, Patricia Bailey, Kents Hill; David S. Collins, Priscilla Given, Augusta, Maine; John A. Curtis, Jane Tapply, Providence, R. I.

Bradford W. Drake, Liz Anderson, Pawtucket, R. I.; Richard C. Field, Viola Ray, West Somerville, Mass.; William C. Geddes, Ruth Rigby, Wellesley, Mass.; Phillip Huss, Jane Withers, Wellesley College; William C. Kilroy, Annette Kennedy, Dover, N. H.; Kim Kyle, Barbara Auer, Wellesley College; James B. Lappin, Barbara Ham, Boston, Mass.; Guy W. Leadbetter, Nadia Barton, Lincoln, Maine; Richard W. Lewis, Nathy Britto, Bristol, R. I.; G. Thomas Macomber, Gretchen Yost, Lasell Junior College; Fullerton Marshall, C. Mathews, Pine Manor. Alan R. Martin, Sally Howard, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Coleman F. Metzler, Doris Rydgren, Wheaton College; Johnson Poor, Patricia Melcher, Portland, Maine; Howard C. Reiche, Stevie Sawyer, Chamberlain; Richard E. Robinson, Barbara Fransen, Colby College; Raymond H. Swift, Phyllis Winde, Kent's Hill; Harold A. Thurston, Mary Sillars, Beverly, Mass.; William H. Toomy, Helen Weavers, Malden, Mass.; Peter S. Van Voast, Ellie Parsons, Pine Manor; William T. Wyde, Phyllis Ham, Small, Bath, Maine; Bruce Linder, Nancy Alger, Schenectady, N. Y.; Dave Thordike, Rick Trimble, Verona, N. J.; John Pieken, John Gordon, Colby College; Dennis Petropoulos, Jane George, Colby College; Bob True, Marilyn Bruce, Melrose, Mass.; George McClelland, Miriam Lamb, West Newton, Mass.; Len Sandquist, Betty Warner Smith, Brunswick, Maine; Byron Keene, Frannie Snow, Portland, Maine; Harrison Randall, Mary Langille, Swampscott, Mass.

Warren Cormack, Ann Whittemore, Westbrook, J. C.; Bob Swann, Larana Wilber, Brockton, Mass.; H. E. Winn, Lee Cosier, Bates College; Bob Miller, Susie White, Brunswick, Maine; Jack Farrell, Jane Homes, Nasson College; Tim Warren, Mrs. Warren, Brunswick, Maine; Jud Merrill, Mrs. Merrill, Brunswick, Maine; Ray Jensen, Gayle Morgan, Windsor, Conn.; Dick Whitcomb, Frank Lowrey, Charlotte Chick, South Portland, Maine

ALPHA RHO Upsilon

James Segal, Joan Barron, Westbrook Jr. College; Jerry Cogan, Rita Broisman, Portland, Maine; Irving Gordon, Sis Silverman, Boston University; Irving Pliskin, Francis Sudhalter, Turner Center, Maine; Shep Lifshitz, Janet Blair, Machias, Maine; Bob Biette, Phyllis Bouchard, Brunswick, Maine; Bob Winer, Muriel Cohen, Boston, Mass.; Leonard Hirsch, Harriet Dopkeen, Boston, Mass.; Manny Levine, Harriet Tarlin, Brookline, Mass.; Gerald Ritter, Elizabeth Freeman, Boston, Mass.; Norm Rapkin, Irma Clebnik, Wheaton College

Charles Chason, Molly Siegal, Lewiston, Maine; Paul Rubin, Bryna Levine, Boston, Mass.; Joseph Schumch, Rae-Allic Wallcott, Hampshire; Bill Hawkins, Shirley Hawkens, Maine; Brock Hall, Pat Hall, Mass.; Robert Shipman, Jeanne Shipman, Conn.; Brooke Aker, George Brooks, Pa.

Bill Dougherty, Joyce Barlow, N. Y.; Phil Burke, Phyllis Burke, Mass.; Andy MacLaughlin, Mar-

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH
NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP
NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT

Brunswick's Most Beautiful Cocktail Lounge
JUICY STEAKS TASTY SANDWICHES
192 Maine Street Brunswick

The College Book Store

OUR STOCK OF MODERN LIBRARY BOOKS IS NOW UP TO NORMAL
PARKER 51's are again in stock
NORMA PENCILS $4.00 and $4.50
WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY $5.00
F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Houseparty Valet Service

The Band Box Cleaners

Complete Dry Cleaning Service

71 Maine Street, Brunswick, Maine

PHONE 533

Picked up before 9:00 a.m.

Delivered 4:00 P.M.

WE ARE EXPECTING
THE SAMPLES OF THE NEW OFFICIAL BOWDOIN COLLEGE RING
THE FIRST WEEK IN MAY

YOU'LL FIND MANY OTHER EXCITING ITEMS

at

THE MOULTON UNION STORE

Johnny Bothwell

"Exclusive Recording Artist For Signature Records"
COMES TO BOWDOIN COLLEGE
Here are just a few of Johnny Bothwell's Signature records which we have in stock

CHIKITA BANANA
SOMEWHERE IN THE NIGHT
LAURA STREET OF DREAMS
LONELY SERENADE
STRANGE FEELING

Northern Electric Service

JUST OFF CAMPUS
"Brunswick's Leading Electrical Store"

PREGNANT HOUSEPARTY SUGGESTIONS . . .

FOR THE GYM DANCE:

Formal Bow Ties

White - Black - Midnight Blue

$1.50

FOR EXCITING OCCASIONS:

The most comprehensive selection of bow ties we have yet offered. In paisleys, foulards, hard-blocked figures and a wide variety of stripes.

$1.50

J. F. Ryan & Co.

212 Maine Street

REMEMBER

MOTHER'S DAY

MAY 11th

with a

HALLMARK CARD

from

SMITH'S PHOTO SHOP

Twoecho Farm

Diary

extends a cordial welcome to all visiting ladies now gracefully engulfing
Bowdoin's eager neophytes.

BEST WISHES

for a

SUCCESSFUL HOUSEPARTY

from

H. S. Sandelin & Son

BRUNSWICK, MAINE

FILMS

SMITH'S PHOTO SHOP

TOWN TAXI

24-Hour Service

Phone 1000

BEST WISHES
FOR A GOOD HOUSEPARTY

from

VIC'S

BEER

4:30-11:30

MEALS

5:00-9:00

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY

FUEL OILS

BOTTLED GAS

BUILDING MATERIALS

A HINT FOR HOUSEPARTY:

DROP IN AT THE

JARVIS RESTAURANT

and

TEA ROOM

(near the Cumberland)

POLAR BEARINGS

By George F. McClelland II, '49

Our article on the White Key aroused the ire of that organization's president. In fact so much so that he obliged the Orient by filling 38 inches of space with his attack on this columnist. Though not blessed with unlimited space we would like to make a few terse comments on Mr. Woods' blast.

It seems that our advocacy of broader athletic schedules met with great disapproval. However, a few further words will clear our stand. Four exams are primarily centered about certain times in semesters and trips can be arranged that will not conflict. It is indeed unfortunate that the Nationals came at a time when it was impossible for the swimming team to get away. Here are a few suggestions that might help.

1. The football team could make their trips in early October. In this way they would not conflict with exams or the state series. The cross country team would make these trips also as has been done in the past.

2. The basketball team could make their trip a week after classes for the spring semester have begun. It would be a well earned vacation from mid years and no hour exams would be missed. At this same time it would be possible for members of the track team to enter the meets in New York.

3. The baseball, tennis and golf teams could also arrange simultaneous trips which would not come at the time of exams.

We realize the fact that with a limited wartime enrollment, Bowdoin could not maintain high standards of varsity competition but also recognize that other small schools had the same difficulty. Mr. Woods seemed to misunderstand what a home and home football schedule mean.

It means that Bowdoin would make one trip every year to one of these distant schools and play host to the other. By the time these agreements are formed air travel would cut the class days missed to a minimum.

Though audacious we may have been we did say that the White Key had been negligent and if necessary we can repeat ourselves. We are sorry to hear about the plight of the White Key in the referee situation and hope that it may be cleared up in the future. We said that we saw about five of our house's games but if the White Key President will think back he will remember that we said we had dropped in on many other games for just such a reason, to see the referees. We believe that the following statement of Mr. Woods was either a misinformed one or a dig at his interfraternity league. "At every single game played, the provided or drafted referee's ability to judge equally matched the team's ability to play." Even your reporter was drafted against his will to referee the A.T.O.-D.U. game. McClelland's complete inability to judge anything will be attested to by anyone who either played in or saw that game. We have seen similar situations.

We said that almost a week elapsed before schedules for the softball league were ready. Since the league started on Wednesday and the schedule was ready the following Monday we think we had a right to say almost a week. When Mr. Woods looks back he will recall that other teams were mentioned besides Brunswick High.

If attempting constructively to brighten Bowdoin's cloudy athletic horizon is being dangerous — we are that.

Track Men Triumph In Triangular Meet

White Gets Jump On State Series, Beats Colby 7-6

Bowdoin jumped to a quick start in the State Series last week as they downed the Colby Mules 7 to 6 at Waterville.

Nate Pendleton scored his first victory of the season as he went the distance, though tiring in the late innings. Three twin-killsings enabled him to finish.

A pair of Bowdoin errors handed the home team two runs in the fourth, but the Big White tied the count in the fifth and was never headed. Tubby Washburn was ineffective on the Colby mound, but George Clark was finally charged with the defeat.

Gale Bennett singled to left with one away in the opening inning and Washburn handed two of his eight bases on balls to Bob Clark and Pendleton to fill the bases. Stan Whiting's fly scored Bennett.

The Bowdoin left-hander went smoothly until the fourth when the Mules pushed ahead 2 to 1. George Clark smashed a fast one to Bob Friberg who erred, and Bill Silsby's throw to second failed to get Clark while John Spinner walked to load the sacks and Mico Puila lofted a deep fly to Bennett, Clark scoring. Jaworski walked to fill the bases again and White steamed home for the tie-breaker when Holt forced Jaworski on a blow to Dick Burston.

Gillen was passed to open the Bowdoin fifth and Friberg's sacrifice sent him to second. Bob Clark walked after Bennett's left-field fly, and Pendleton tied up his own game with a sharp single which scored Gillen. Clark languished at third as Whiting grounded out to end the rally, the score standing at 2-all.

The Polar Bears went ahead again in the next frame, Washburn hit Burston who reached second as Holt misfired to Elbridge on Silsby's grounder, the batter being safe at first. Washburn picked Burston off second, but walks to Gillen and Friberg loaded the bases with two down. Gale Bennett hit to left in the clutch and Silsby and Gillen scored, making the count 4-2.

But the Mules wouldn't stop kicking. Clark walked and Spinner slammed a single to center which sent Clark to third. Puila

Finish Of 220 Yard Low Hurdles

Courtesy Portland Sunday Telegram
BOWDOIN TRACKMEN place in low hurdles. Left to right: Matt Branche, Bowdoin, first; Dick Norstrand, Vermont, second; Briggs, Bowdoin, third; and Hal Burnham, Bowdoin, fourth.

J.V. Cindermen Defeat Deering On Home Track

Bowdoin's J. V. track team allowed a weak Deering squad only 2 seconds and 6 thirds as they crushed the schoolboys 114-12 last Wednesday at Whittier Field.

The summary:
70 Yard Hurdles—Won by Burnham, Bowdoin; second, Norstrand, Bowdoin; third, Whittier, Deering. Time—9.5 seconds.
100 Yard Dash—Won by Dunn, Bowdoin; second, Swan, Bowdoin; third, Swan, Bowdoin. Time—10.7 seconds.

120 Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Briggs, Bowdoin; second, Snyder, Bowdoin; third, Burnham, Bowdoin. Time—16.8 seconds.
220 Yard Dash—Won by Davis, Bowdoin; second, Swan, Bowdoin; third, Clark, Bowdoin. Time—24.5 seconds.
440 Yard Dash—Won by C. Auten, Bowdoin; second, Smith, Bowdoin; third, Wilg, Bowdoin. Time—51.1 seconds.
880 Yard Run—Won by Schrak, Bowdoin; second, Norton, Deering; third, Wilg, Bowdoin. Time—2 minutes 12.2 seconds.
One Mile Run—Won by F. Auten, Bowdoin; second, Jackson, Bowdoin; third, McClelland, Bowdoin. Time—4 minutes 54 seconds.
Broad Jump—Won by Lovejoy, Bowdoin; second, Swan, Bowdoin; third, R. Libby, Deering. Distance—19 feet 4.3 inches.
Pole Vault—Tied by J. Nichols and R. Cross, Bowdoin; third, V. Libby, Deering. Height—9 feet 7 inches.

[Continued on Page 6]

Bowdoin, Tufts Game Called Because Of Rain

After 3 and two-thirds innings which saw five errors, six walks and four stolen bases, Bowdoin and Tufts were forced to give way to rain, cold and darkness which made playing conditions at Medford unbearable last week.

The score stood at 5 to 5 when cancellation of the contest was necessary.

Six Bowdoin hits, Moe Densmore's shakely start and Bob Crozier's relief turn are stricken from the books since it was impossible to finish the regulation four and one half innings.

Polar Bear Nine Downed At Trinity As Pendleton Pitches For Bowdoin

Big White Tennis Team Crushes Colby 8 to 1

Waterville, April 22nd — Bowdoin's varsity tennis team remained unbeaten as they crushed Colby here 8-1, losing only one doubles match in three sets. The only other match to go the full distance was Matt Branche's singles.

The summary:
Singles—Branche (B) defeated Everts (C) 6-4, 6-4, and 6-4.
Doubles—Branche (B) defeated Pierce (C) 6-2, 6-2.
Lovry (B) defeated Schlesinger (C) 6-0, 6-1.
Holt (B) defeated Farnsworth (C) 6-1, 6-0.
Curtis (B) defeated Robinson (C) 6-0, 6-1.
Emmons (B) defeated Phillips (C) 6-2, 6-4.
Doubles—Pierce and Everts (C) defeated Emmons and Rosander (B) 6-4, 3-6, and 6-3.
Kah and Curtis (B) defeated Freedman and Sterner (C) 6-4, 6-4.
Lovry and Holt (B) defeated Schlesinger and Farnsworth (C) 6-1, 6-0.

Maine Annex Netmen Top Bowdoin J.V.'s, 5-4

Dinny Shay's J. V. tennis squad dropped their opening match to the Maine annex team by a 5-4 count last Thursday. The Junior Polar Bears took four out of six singles matches but lost all the doubles tilts.

The summary:
Singles—Tholts (M) defeated Williams (B) 4-6, 6-2.
Rockwell (B) defeated Edes (M) 6-1, 6-2.
Potter (B) defeated Potemko (M) 2-6, 6-4, 7-5.
Cole (B) defeated Nesbit (M) 6-2, 6-1.
Harvey (M) defeated Archibald (B) 6-0, 6-2.
Rubin (B) defeated Begin (M) 6-2, 6-3.
Tholts and Edes (M) defeated Dick and Webster (B) 6-2, 6-3.
Potemko and Nesbit (M) defeated Moore and Reid (B) 6-4, 6-1.
Harvey and Haynes (M) defeated Burrell and Rubin (B) 6-4, 6-4.

Bates And Vermont Downed As Branche Paces White

By George F. McClelland II '49

Bowdoin's track team, defending state title holders, opened its outdoor season Saturday in auspicious fashion, downing Bates 60½ to 52 with Vermont trailing with 22½ in a triangular meet at Whittier Field.

Kappa Sigs Lead Softball League With 2-0 Record

Upsets abounded as the Interfraternity softball league reached its halfway mark with only the Kappa Sigs, who have played but two games, still in the ranks of the unbeaten.

The Sigma Nus who won their first five starts finally fell before a hot and cold D.U. outfit 4-3. The Betas toppled from the unbeaten class as they lost a 6-5 decision to the Kappa Sigs. The Chi Psi's who had recently assumed the favorites role took a nose dive taking it on the chin first from the Dukes 14-13 in extra innings and then from the Sigma Nus 3-1. Another stunning upset saw the A.T.O.s hand the Dukes their second loss of the season 7-1.

The Sigma Nus hold the most one sided decision to date, by virtue of their 18-0 blasting of the T.D.s. The Psi U's brought themselves into a contenders position as they whipped the A.T.O.s 5-1 and the T.D.s 7-4. In other games this week the A.R.U.s 9 Zetes 6, Betas 3 A.D.s 0, Dukes 8 A.R.U.s 2, Zetes 7 T.D.s 6.

The standings:

Kappa Sigs	won	lost
Sigma Nus	5	1
Psi U's	4	1
Betas	4	1
Chi Psi	3	2
Dukes	2	2
A.T.O.s	2	2
D.U.s	2	2
A.R.U.s	1	4
Zetes	1	4
T.D.s	1	5
A.D.s	0	4

Golfers Defeat M.I.T. After Harvard Setback

Coach Bob Miller's golf team split its two matches on the first meetings with out of state competition, as the Polar Bears edged by Harvard 14½ to 12½ on Friday and then came back to easily take M.I.T. on Saturday 7 to 2.

The Crimson match was played under adverse conditions and the Big White did well considering the circumstances. Saturday the team really found itself and made short work of the engineers.

Those men who made the trip were Ray Lebel, Chuck Noyes, Gil Wilkinson, Don Johnston, Dick Davis and Fuller Marshall.

The J.V. golf team opened its season on Friday with a clean sweep over the Maine Annex team. Bob Levin, Dan Dayton, Dick Merrill, Al Cole, Don Martin, and Lee Jackson all won with ease.

Once again it was Matt Branche who paced the Polar Bears as he topped both hurdles and the high jump and took second in the broad jump. Bowdoin annexed 7 firsts, swept the hammer throw and pole vault and were shut out in three events in the final tune-up for the state meet.

The highlight of the meet was Chuck Auten's upset of Bobcat Red Horne in the 880. Duncan McLaren led the pack for a lap and a half, but Auten took over the lead in the stretch. The Bates star, who had already won the mile in 4:40.9, lost his bid for a double win as the Bowdoin runner staved off his final sprint.

Bates completed their stranglehold on the distance events when Jim Mahoney pulled a surprise win in the two mile. Bowdoin's Joe Woods failed to place in this event for the first time this year. Leo Dunn was the class of the century with 10.5, but Bill Swasey won the 220 to give Bates a split in the sprints. Bowdoin's new sprinter Bob Swann looked impressive in taking two seconds in the sprints.

The Bobcat captain, Mike Lagola won his specialty, the broad jump, with 22 feet three inches and lost out to Branche in the high jump. The Garnet and Black picked up their remaining firsts in the shot and quarter. Mitchell and Shea finished one-two in the shot and Bill Sawyers nipped Bill Smith and Harvey Jackson in the 440. The Green Mountain boys seemed out of their class in the running events but picked up two firsts. Bill McIntyre won the javelin and Reese Evans the discus.

Branche won both hurdles without much trouble, but the Bowdoin monopoly in these events was broken when Dick Norstrand of Vermont captured second in the high and a third in the lows. Ken Cross and John Nichols tied for pole vault honors with Bob Cross insuring the sweep. The Big White's other complete triumph, the hammer, was a combination of Phil Parsois, Phil Newton and Victor Fortin in that order.

120 Yard Hurdles—Won by Branche, Bowdoin; second, Norstrand, Vermont; third, Burston, Bowdoin. Time—15.3 seconds.
100 Yard Dash—Won by Dunn, Bowdoin; second, Swan, Bowdoin; third, Hepp, Bates. Time—10.5 seconds.

One Mile Run—Won by Horne, Bates; second, Randall, Vermont; third, Easton, Bowdoin. Time—4:40.9.
440 Yard Run—Won by Sawyer, Bates; second, F. Smith, Bowdoin; third, Jackson, Bowdoin. Time—2:2.8 seconds.
220 Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Branche, Bowdoin; second, Briggs, Bowdoin; third, Norstrand, Vermont. Time—26.4 seconds.
Two Mile Run—Won by Mahany, Bates; second, Belove, Vermont; third, Brown, Bates. Time—10:27.9.
880 Yard Run—Won by C. Auten, Bowdoin; second, Swan, Bates; third, McClelland, Vermont. Time—2 minutes 3.1 seconds.

[Continued on Page 6]

HARMON'S

WILL ACCEPT ORDERS

on the
TRADITIONAL

College Blazers

in
Dark Maroon or Navy Blue
for Delivery

May 15th

These Blazers Are 100% Worsted Flannel, Custom Tailored By McGregor

$30.00

Including the Bowdoin Seal

WRITE — PHONE — COME IN

HARMON'S

Outfitters to Bowdoin Men for over 25 Years

104 Front Street

Telephone 735

Bath

WATCH POLO'S FAMOUS
Cecil Smith
IN ACTION!

ONE OF AMERICA'S POLO 'GREATS'—THIS MIGHTY TEXAN IS VETERAN OF MANY FAMOUS INTERNATIONAL MATCHES. RATED AT 9 GOALS, SMITH IS KNOWN FOR HIS GREAT HORSEMANSHIP AND LONG HITTING.

IT'S LATE IN THE LAST CHUKKER IN A TITLE MATCH. SMITH'S TEAM AND HIS OPPONENTS ARE TIED...

HE'S GOING TO SCORE! EVEN CECIL SMITH CAN'T CATCH HIM!

DON'T BE TOO SURE! AFTER TWENTY YEARS OF BIG-TIME POLO... THAT MAN SMITH KNOWS EVERY TRICK IN THE BOOK! WATCH HIM!

PERFECTLY LEGAL—IF YOU CAN DO IT!

SMITH'S TRYING TO HOOK HIS OPPONENT'S MALLET TO KEEP HIM FROM HITTING THE BALL. IS THAT LEGAL?

HE'S DONE IT! HIS OPPONENT CAN'T MAKE THE SHOT NOW!

YOU HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING YET! KEEP YOUR EYE ON SMITH!

HE STOPPED HIS PONY ON A DIME—RIGHT BY THE BALL!

TAKES EXPERIENCE TO HANDLE PONIES LIKE THAT, BUT CECIL SMITH HAS TRAINED PONIES FOR YEARS! NOW... IF HE CAN JUST MAKE THIS SHOT...

WHAT A SHOT! A SIXTY-YARD BACKHAND FOR THE WINNING GOAL!

IT'S A GOAL! SMITH'S TEAM WINS!

CECIL, IT'S SURE MUST TAKE A LOT OF EXPERIENCE TO MAKE A GREAT PLAY LIKE THAT!

I NOTICE YOU PREFER CAMELS, MR. SMITH.

CHALK THAT UP TO EXPERIENCE TOO. DURING THE WAR, SHORTAGE, I SMOOKED ANY BRAND I COULD GET. NOTHING SUITS ME LIKE A CAMEL!

A TERRIFIC BACKHAND SHOT... TURNS THE TABLES ON HIS OPPONENTS!

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER IN POLO... IN CIGARETTES TOO! I'VE TRIED THEM ALL... 'CAMELS SUIT MY T-ZONE' TO A-T-T!

MORE PEOPLE ARE SMOKING
CAMELS
THAN EVER BEFORE

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU...
T for Taste...
T for Throat...
That's your smoking ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't suit your "T-Zone" to a "T".

White Gets Jump On State Series, Beats Colby 7-6

[Continued from Page 5]
beat out a hit to Silsby putting men on first and third with one down and a run in. Then, with Jaworski at the plate, Spinner and Pulia pulled a double steal and Whiting's shot to Gillen was too late to catch the tying run on the cut-off.

Whiting and Fred Giddings walked to open the seventh and Dick Burston's infield hit loaded the bases. An error and Friberg's second single put the Polar Bears in front once again, now 6 to 4.

But Eldridge scored for Colby when, after his sharp double to left field, he scored on a pair of infield outs. Two errors and a walk restored the visitors' two-run lead in the top of the ninth.

Pendleton retired the first two men to face him in Colby's last turn at the plate, but Holt singled to center and advanced to third on the pitcher's wind-ups. He scored on Bob St. Pierre's blow to left which Bob Clark fumbled, giving St. Pierre an extra base. Then, with the score 7 to 6 and a runner on second, Pendleton whiffed a third strike past Bob Johnson to end the game.

COLBY
The Box Score:
ab r h po a
Friberg, ss 4 2 2 4 Hall, rf 1 2 3 0 0 10
Bennett, cf 1 2 2 0 Johnson, lf 2 0 0 0 1
Clark, lf 3 0 0 0 Eldridge, 2b 4 1 2 2 2
Friedlin, p 4 0 1 1 2 Clark, 3b 3 0 2 0 2
White, 2b 4 0 4 1 White, c 3 1 0 2 1
Spiera, rf 3 0 0 1 0 Spinner, lb 2 1 1 1 1
Giddings, rf 1 1 0 0 0 McCawley, 1 0 2 0 0
Burton, lb 3 1 1 1 1 Pulia, cf 4 0 1 1 0
Silsby, 2b 2 2 0 0 1 Ja'ali, lf 3 0 0 0 0
Gillen, c 2 0 2 1 1 Holt, ss 3 1 2 1 2
Wa'h'n, p 2 0 0 0 0
Totals 35 7 6 27 10
Bowdoin 10 0 0 1 2 2 0 1-7
Colby 9 0 0 2 0 1 1-4

Runs batted in—Whiting, Pulia 2, Holt. Pendleton, Bennett 2, McCawley, St. Pierre. Two-base hit—Eldridge. Sacrifice—Friberg. Stolen bases—Clark, Silsby. Spinner. Double play—Pendleton to Friberg to Burston. Whiting to Friberg, and Burston (unassisted). Left on bases—Bowdoin 12, Colby 4. Base on ball—off Pendleton 8, Washburn 8, Clark 3. Struck out—by Pendleton 5, Washburn 1, Clark 4. Hits—off Washburn 4 in 5 2/3, Clark 2 in 5 1/3. Hit by pitcher—by Washburn (Burton). Passed balls—Gillen. Losing pitcher—Clark. Earned runs—Bowdoin 6, Colby 4.

Deering Nine Upsets Bowdoin J.V.'s, 9-5

A last minute rally by a gallant Deering High team, aided by Bowdoin misplays, upset the Polar Bear Junior Varsity for the first time this year, 9-5.

Going into the first of the ninth inning the Bowdoin team held a 2 run edge over the schoolboys from Portland, when all fury broke loose. Before things had died down, Deering had scored six runs on a combination of three singles, three errors, a walk, a hit batsman, and two infield outs.

Robert's pitching for Deering was not flawless, but he was able to bear down in the clinches and get that all important last out. Although Bud Smethurst allowed 12 hits in his eight and one-half innings, the situation was under control until the fateful ninth.

The Box Score:
BOWDOIN JV
ab r h po a
Verrill, 3 5 2 2 1 2 Goodie, 2 5 2 2 2 4
Britton, 2 0 0 1 2 Curtis, lf 3 1 0 0 0
Penderson, 2 0 0 0 0 Larson, lf 1 0 1 0 0
Ivarance, ss 5 0 1 1 2 Am'nis, 1 5 2 2 0
Mason, rf 1 0 0 2 0 Hall, rf 4 1 2 1 0
Mor'n, cf 3 0 0 2 0 Add, 3 4 1 1 1 3
Crockford 1 0 0 0 0 Mah'y, cf 2 0 1 0 0
Kimbl, 1 3 1 2 0 Imp'n, cf 3 0 1 0 0
Tausig, 1 1 0 0 2 0 Hickie, ss 5 1 1 3 3
Donov'n, lf 4 1 2 1 0 Thib'ic 3 0 0 0 0
King, c 4 0 1 6 0 derman 1 0 0 0 0
Smeth'st, p 4 1 2 2 5 Roberts, p 3 0 0 0 0
Merrill, p 0 0 0 0 0 Johnson 1 0 1 0 0
Udeout 0 1 0 0 0
Marshall, p 0 0 0 0 0
Totals 39 5 11 27 12
Bowdoin JV 12 0 0 1 0 1 0-5
Deering 20 0 0 0 1 0 0 6-9

Activities Schedule

[Continued from Page 3]
and soft drinks to satisfy their thirst.

The Sigma Nu's are clambaking somewhere along the "barren and rockbound coast" of Maine. The A. T. O.'s are holding a clambake during the afternoon and evening.

After venturing to Pennellville for a picnic, the A. R. U.'s will return for an informal dance at the Harriet Beecher Stowe House.

Final Exam Schedule-Spring 1947

Schedule of Trimester Examinations, May-June, 1947
Examinations in courses not listed will be arranged by the instructors.

Thursday, May 22
8:30 a.m.

Art 4, Walker
Chemistry 1, Gymnasium
Comp. Literature 2, Gymnasium
History 4, Gymnasium
Latin B, Gymnasium
Mathematics 32, Gymnasium
Music 4, Music Room
Philosophy 2, Memorial Hall
Spanish 2, Rhodes 201

1:30 p.m.
German 2, Gymnasium
German 6, Gymnasium
Russian 4, Rhodes 201

Friday, May 23
8:30 a.m.

No examinations
1:30 p.m.
English 26, Gymnasium
French B, Gymnasium
Government 11, Gymnasium

Saturday, May 24
8:30 a.m.

Physics 2, Memorial Hall
Psychology 2, Gymnasium
Religion 2, Gymnasium
1:30 p.m.
Education 3, Gymnasium
English 20, Gymnasium
French 16, Gymnasium
Mathematics 14, Gymnasium
Sociology 3, Gymnasium

Monday, May 26
8:30 a.m.

Art 8, Walker
Astronomy 2, Rhodes 201
Biology 12, Gymnasium
Economics 2, Gymnasium
Economics 12, Gymnasium
History 18, Memorial Hall
Physics 4, Rhodes 201
Psychology 4, Memorial Hall

1:30 p.m.
Chemistry 6, Gymnasium
French 8, Rhodes 201
Government 1, Memorial Hall
Government 6, Gymnasium
Greek 4, Rhodes 201

History 10, Rhodes 201
Music 5, Music Room
Sociology 4, Adams 204

Tuesday, May 27
8:30 a.m.

Chemistry 8, Gymnasium
English 24, Gymnasium
German 10, Gymnasium
Government 4, Gymnasium
Greek 2, Gymnasium
History 6, Gymnasium
Mathematics 1, Rhodes 201
Mathematics 36, Rhodes 201
Music 2, Memorial Hall

1:30 p.m.
English 2, Mr. Briggs' section, Rhodes 201; all other sections, Gymnasium

Wednesday, May 28
8:30 a.m.

Art 2, Walker
English 10, Gymnasium
French 14, Gymnasium
German 8, Gymnasium
Latin 12, Gymnasium
Mathematics 22, Gymnasium
1:30 p.m.
Economics 4, Gymnasium
English 1, Memorial Hall
Government 15, Gymnasium
History 12, Gymnasium

Thursday, May 29
8:30 a.m.

Biology 4, Rhodes 201
Chemistry 14, Gymnasium
(10 o'clock section)
History 2, Gymnasium
Philosophy 3, Gymnasium
Sociology 2, Memorial Hall

1:30 p.m.
German 4, Gymnasium

Friday, May 30
8:30 a.m.

Economics 10, Gymnasium
English 14, Gymnasium
Government 8, Gymnasium
History 19, Rhodes 201
Latin 2, Rhodes 201
Physics 6, Gymnasium
Physics 14, Gymnasium
Religion 4, Rhodes 201

1:30 p.m.
Mathematics 11, Gymnasium
Mathematics 12, Gymnasium

Saturday, May 31
8:30 a.m.
Biology 2, Gymnasium
Chemistry 2, Chem. Lecture Room (1:30 section)
Education 2, Gymnasium
Philosophy 10, Gymnasium
Spanish 4, Gymnasium

Marsh '45, Henry '50 Debate For Bowdoin

[Continued from Page 1]

for the affirmative, emphasized the fact that our economic system cannot stand continuous industrial strife. He went on to cite the McCormack Company Plan in which labor has a share in management through the use of advisory boards made up of laborers. Using facts from Fortune Magazine, he indicated how overwhelmingly in favor labor was for participation in management.

Mr. Coombs, the second speaker for New Hampshire, attempted to put Marsh's example of the McCormack Company as having the desired relationship between labor and management by reading off several sets of statistics which showed labor as being much opposed to participation in management. He closed his speech in that "Labor can only be given wages in proportion to their marginal productivity."

Opening the rebuttals, Mr. Stevens again stressed the importance of management being a specialized function and that according to law, all employers must bargain collectively with labor which eliminates the need for any advisory boards composed of laborers and entrepreneurs.

In his rebuttal for the affirmative, Mr. Henry again defined a direct share as "simply giving labor council in management." He concluded by saying that in order to make capitalism work, which is the means of prosperity and economic stability, management must take in labor.

Mr. Coombs retallied by pointing out that labor already has more than enough of a voice in management, and that by making that voice more powerful, it would rule management which would be senseless.

In the closing rebuttal, Mr. Marsh reaffirmed the audience of labor's favor in having a voice in management by reading the results of the Fortune Magazine Poll, and again emphasized the importance of having a labor-management plan in order to prevent strikes and their ill effects before they have cause to arise.

J.V. Track Meet

[Continued from Page 5]

12 Pound Shot Put—Won by Sabatanski, Bowdoin; second, Hansen, Bowdoin; third, Sawyer, Deering. Distance—43 feet 3 inches.

12 Pound Hammer Throw—Won by Newton, Bowdoin; second, Martin, Bowdoin; third, Fortin, Bowdoin. Distance—161 feet 2 inches.

Discus Throw—Won by Shepherd, Bowdoin; second, Hansen, Bowdoin; third, McHenry, Deering. Distance—131 feet 61 inches.

High Jump—Won by Barron, Bowdoin; second, Cadigan, Deering; third, Wine-lund, Bowdoin. Height—5 feet 2 inches.

Javelin Throw—Won by Aitridge, Bowdoin; second, Hansen, Bowdoin; third, Cadigan, Deering. Distance—147 feet 5 inches.

Johnny Bothwell's Band For Houseparty Dance

[Continued from Page 3]

Johnny left the university after three years to tour with several lesser-known bands in the mid-west. This apprenticeship preceded an offer from Gene Krupa to star as featured soloist with his band. After serving with Gene Krupa's crew he went on to help bolster the bands of Sonny Dunham, Tommy Dorsey, Woody Herman, and Boyd Rabin. With some musical ideas of his own which he wanted to bring forth to the listening and dancing public, Johnny formed his own orchestra, with Claire Hogan, Mrs. Bothwell in private life, and Don Darcy as the vocalists.

Fraternity Date List

[Continued from Page 4]

Boston, Mass.; John M. Holmes, Anastasia Moss, Washington, D. C.; Bill Glenott, Vera Rosen, Portland, Maine; Alfred J. Waxler, Francis Lerman, Portland, Maine; Bob Levin, Marion Schwartz, Stanford, Conn.; Sam Gross, Charlotte Klein, Syracuse College; Bud Wine, Lea Ritz, Westbrook Jr. College; Harry Larchian, Ruth Barba, Bates College; Sam Kinsley, Blanche Wiegall, Evprett, Mass.

PHILGAS DOES THE COOKING BEST BRUNSWICK HARDWARE

SEE US FIRST
FOR PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG
TEL. 80-W

CUMBERLAND

Wed.-Thurs. April 30-May 1
EASY COME EASY GO
with
Sonny Tufts - Dianna Lynn
also
Fox News March of Time

Fri.-Sat. May 2-3
LADY IN THE LAKE
with
Robert Montgomery - Audrey Totter
also
Paramount News Short Subjects

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. May 4-5-6
IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE
with
James Stewart - Donna Reed
also
Paramount News

Wed.-Thurs. May 7-8
Robert Cummings - Michele Morgan
in
THE CHASE
also
Fox News Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. May 9-10
LOVE LAUGHS AT ANDY HARDY
with Mickey Rooney - Bonita Granville
also
Paramount News Short Subject

Yes, We're Interested In ALL Your PRINTING

We have had long experience in producing for Bowdoin men:

STATIONERY POSTERS
TICKETS ALUMNI LETTERS
FRATERNITY FORMS
And Other Printing

Ask Us For Quotations

The RECORD OFFICE

Phones 1 and 3

Paul E. Niven, Bowdoin 1916
Manager
Printers of The Orient

BEHOIT'S

THE WINDSOR KNOT TIE

BY Hut

(How to tie it)

Average tie—46½"–47"

WINDSOR KNOT TIE 51¾"

The perfect knot for wide spread and button down collars. Hut has designed the Tie for Benoit's in the smartest of all Windsor knot patterns. Shepherd Checks - Glen Plaids and Window Pane Checks. Fine quality Rayon.

$1.50

Benoit's

Fidelity Building

Brunswick

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALL OVER AMERICA—CHESTERFIELD IS TOPS!

Commencement Activities Will Begin June 1

Commencement Dance, Many Alumni Meetings Highlight Busy Week

On Saturday, June seventh, the annual Commencement Exercises of Bowdoin College will be held in the First Parish Church.

Commencement will follow a week of activity that is to be highlighted on Friday, June sixth, by the presentation of "As You Like It," by the Masque & Gown and by a Commencement dance.

The Shakespearean production, which carries on an annual Bowdoin tradition, will be held under the campus trees at 9 p.m. It has been announced that if the weather is inclement, the auditorium in Memorial Hall will be utilized by the Masque & Gown for the production. Tickets for the play may be procured by mail from Robert Fargo '49, at the Kappa Sigma House.

The commencement dance, which is to be held from 10:15 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. in the Moulton Union, will feature the music of Gordon Howe and his Orchestra. Graduating seniors will be assessed $150 each and members of the faculty have been invited to attend as guests. The student committee for the dance consists of John Ryan '44, chairman, Harry Eddy '43, and Richard Lewis '46.

Commencement Week itself will start on Sunday, June first, with the Baccalaureate Address by President Kenneth C. M. Sills in the First Parish Church at 5 p.m.

On Thursday, June fifth, the Trustees of the College will meet in Massachusetts Hall at 2 p.m. At 7:30 p.m. the Board of Overseers will hold its meeting in that building.

Mrs. Sills will be at home from 4 to 6 p.m. on Thursday to the families and friends of the graduating class. Friday, President and Mrs. Sills will hold a reception from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Moulton Union.

Friday morning there will be a meeting of the Directors of the Alumni Funds in Hubbard Hall at 9 a.m. The Alumni Council will meet there at 10:30.

At 12 noon a buffet luncheon will be held in the Moulton Union, followed immediately by the annual meeting of the Alumni Association.

The Society of Bowdoin Women will hold a luncheon and business meeting at 12:30 p.m. in the Harriet Beecher Stowe House.

(Continued on Page 4)

Johnny Bothwell And The Band

Photo by Fred Wildman

IVY DAY HOUSEPARTY reached its climax last Friday night as Bowdoin students and their dates danced to the music of Johnny Bothwell and his Orchestra in the Sargent Gymnasium.

Alumni Elections Continue As 6000 Ballots Circulate

By George Paradis '49

Mr. Seward J. Marsh '12, Alumni Secretary, has announced that nearly 6,000 ballots have been sent out to the Bowdoin alumni for the purpose of electing members to the Alumni Council and the Directors of the Alumni Fund. He expects about 20 percent of the ballots to be returned. Already, the greatest interest has been on the part of the young alumni, which, according to Marsh, is most significant.

Ballots should be sent to the Alumni Secretary, 202 Massachusetts Hall. Ballots received after May 24 cannot be counted. Announcements of the results will appear in the commencement issue of the ORIENT.

Nominees for members at large of the Alumni Council include Charles E. Files A.B. '08 of Cornish, who is life secretary of his class and State representative for White, Weld and Company of New York. For several years he has been in professional baseball as a pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Stanley F. Dole '13 from Detroit, Michigan, is treasurer of the A & P Food Stores, Central Western Division; Director of the American Red Cross, has served as Director of the Alumni Fund since 1945. Frederick W. Willey '17 from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania is resident manager of E. H. Rollins and Sons Inc.; present representative member of the Alumni Association.

(Continued on Page 4)

Knight Must Drop Boston Pops Solo, Makes Radio Final

Weidner To Substitute In Bowdoin Glee Club; Middlebumpsters Sing

An ironic twist of fate left the Bowdoin Glee Club temporarily sololess this week when Lloyd Knight '45, scheduled to solo with Arthur Fielder's Boston Pops Orchestra at next Monday's Bowdoin Night at the Boston Symphony Pops, was extended a magnificent offer to compete in the Atwater-Kent Radio Competition in Los Angeles this week-end.

Mr. Knight, who was to sing Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson's musical arrangement of E. A. Robinson's "My Twilight Song" at Symphony Hall, has been chosen from among 300 entrants in a competition to determine the possessor of America's finest radio voice. Entering the finals of this contest this week-end, Mr. Knight is now competing with fifteen of the nation's best voices for a $5,000 prize and a nation-wide radio broadcast.

This honor extended Mr. Knight, while it may have disappointed those who especially wanted to hear him in Boston, will take him to Los Angeles and has necessitated the last-minute choice of an able freshman, Frederick Weidner, III '50 to fill his solo role. And the choice of Weidner seems no less fortunate than that of Mr. Knight.

To add to this musical honor which has been traced to Bowdoin in the person of Mr. Knight, the Middlebumpsters, Bowdoin's double quartet will be included on the Pops program Monday night. Never before has a Collegiate double quartet been invited to participate in such a program at Symphony Hall.

Members of the Glee Club who will make the trip to Boston this week-end are as follows: William W. Anderson '50, John P. Ashby '50, Robert M. Ball '50, Sanford S. Blankinship '45, David A. Bowdoin '49, Richard F. Brackett '50, Charles A. Runkell '50, James T. Burgess '48, Thomas R. Chapman '50, Leverett C. Clark '49, Charles

(Continued on Page 4)

Brown Keynotes Ivy Festivities In Chapel Talk

Dr. Herbert Ross Brown, Professor of English, in a chapel talk Thursday, set the keynote for Ivy festivities with a merry talk about Ivy Day and its implications.

The speech was given in his usual lively, amusing manner; the audience of undergraduates and their dates were still chuckling over his quips as they stroled back to the houses for lunch. Much of his humor was aided by his smiling, enthusiastic delivery, but some of the topics of his conversation are memorable.

He began with a description of the Ivy plant from the "Oxford Dictionary" which characterized the plant as "a climbing evergreen shrub...having dark green shiny leaves, usually five angled, and bearing umbels of greenish yellow flowers, succeeded by dark berries. It is an ornamental covering of walls, old buildings, ruins, etc. The plant was anciently sacred to Bacchus."

He then continued by appropri-

(Continued on Page 2)

Plummer Prize Speaking Set For Tomorrow Night

The twenty-ninth annual Stanley Plummer Prize Speaking Contest, to be held tomorrow evening in Memorial Hall, will offer an opportunity for one of four Juniors to take advantage of the benefits extended for excellence in spoken composition by Stanley Plummer '67.

The finalists to be heard Thursday night are Frederick W. Lacey Jr. '49 of Melrose, Mass.; Robert E. Hart '49 of Portland; Frederick W. Spaulding '47 of New London, Connecticut; and Harold N. Marsh '45 of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, under whose guidance the Contest is proceeding, states that Professor Herbert R. Brown, Associate Professor Philip C. Beem and Assistant Professor Lawrence S. Hall have consented to serve as judges for the event.

The Plummer Prize consists of the annual income of a fund of $1,055 to be awarded to a member of the Junior class "for excellence in original and spoken composition" left to the College by Mr. Plummer.

Senator Barkley May Speak Saturday On Current Truman Foreign Policy; Recently Returned From Middle East

Rev. Yarbrough Cites Personality As World's Hope

Stressing the importance of individual personality as an influence upon world problems, Rev. Clyde Yarbrough of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, Massachusetts delivered an inspiring sermon last Sunday. He opened his chapel talk by citing the case of "the flea family" who had decided that their children were "going to the dogs." Rev. Yarbrough said that the originator of that story must have lacked an understanding of the younger generation. "Our young people must save the world from going to the dogs," he said.

Rev. Yarbrough underscored the importance of the individual in saving the world from misfortune. "One of the finest things you can do for yourself and for the world is to set as a goal the attainment of a triumphant personality," he declared. Rev. Yarbrough then enumerated the three components of such a personality.

The first is an unshakable faith in life. And faith, Rev. Yarbrough said, is the most practical thing in life. "You have to be willing to leap over the boundaries of sight and there to live by insight." Continuing, he said, "Believing where you cannot see and trusting your hypothesis

(Continued on Page 3)

Institute Speaker

Courtesy of the Portland Press Herald

SENATOR ALBEN W. BARKLEY of Kentucky, Senate Minority Leader, will give an address Saturday night in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Levesque Attends College Store Convention

Mrs. Dorothy Levesque represented the College at the twenty-fourth Annual Convention of the National Association of College Stores, held recently in Cleveland, Ohio.

After registering on the opening day, Mrs. Levesque witnessed an exhibition on how to improve the college store which was followed by an address by the President of the Association. From that time on, the days were filled with many lectures and exhibitions enlightening to small and private store representatives.

"One of the most interesting lectures," stated Mrs. Levesque, "was that by a representative of the Veterans' Administration." She explained further that the situation caused by the way veteran's appropriations were being used for unreasonable purposes might cause an investigation by the government.

The short stay in Cleveland, however, did not turn out to be "all work and no play." Mrs. Levesque said she enjoyed her visit, and was very favorably impressed by Cleveland. "However," she continued, "my greatest pride was to come from Bowdoin for it seemed that everywhere I turned I met either a graduate of our college or someone who thought as much of it as I did."

(Continued on Page 2)

Senate Minority Leader Will Speak Under Institute

By P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '46

"The Foreign Policy of the Truman Administration" will be discussed by one of its leading proponents, Senate Minority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky in a Bowdoin Institute address in Memorial Hall at 8:15 p.m., Saturday evening.

Owing to developments in the Senate, Senator Barkley found it necessary to cancel his speaking engagement here on Friday. It is hoped by the college that he will be able to appear at the same time on Saturday evening.

A member of the Senate since 1927, Senator Barkley served as Majority Leader from 1937 until he was succeeded in the present Congress by Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., Bowdoin '09, who will introduce him.

Born in Graves county, Kentucky, in 1877, Barkley worked his way through Marwin and Emory Colleges and the University of Virginia Law School. After practicing law and serving in judicial posts he was elected to Congress in 1913.

In the Senate, Barkley served for many years as the chief legislative lieutenant of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In 1937, when he was engaged in a race for the majority leadership with Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, Roosevelt swayed the contest in his favor by writing the famous "Dear Alben" letter. Before World War II, Barkley led the administration's fight for conservation and lend-lease.

The "Dear Alben" greeting made national headlines again in March, 1944. Against the advice of Barkley and several other Democratic congressional leaders, Roosevelt vetoed a tax bill with a strongly critical message. Barkley resigned as majority leader, but accepted reelection when Roosevelt clarified his position in an apologetic telegram. Apart from this episode, his loyalty to the President and to the New Deal program was unflinching. Senator Barkley has recently returned from a Middle Eastern tour on which he visited Egypt, Turkey and Greece in connection with an oil investigating commission. He was accompanied on this trip by Maine's Junior Senator, Owen Brewster '09 and Senator Hatch of New Mexico.

(Continued on Page 2)

Paul Kendall Niven Jr. '46 described the American College in Bieritz for Service men and women. Under its American faculty, the students from various countries tried to "crystallize their wartime thinking" and think a bit more about nations to which they would return. H. James Cook '48 discussed Eugene O'Neill's play, "The Iceman Cometh," describing the play itself and the public reaction to it, giving his own thoughts on the play and O'Neill's ideas as expressed in it.

"What Price Peace?" was the topic of Rufus E. Stetson '42, who described the problems posed by any World Federation. He said that the smaller nations look to us for action in providing a more satisfactory basis for peace than the U. N. which he said is "less as an instrument of harmony."

(Continued on Page 2)

Art Exhibit Features Colonial Latin America

From May 1st through 24th an exhibition of "Colonial Art of Latin America," loaned by the Council for Inter-American Cooperation, will be on display at the Walker Art Building.

The exhibition is largely devoted to photographs of the architecture produced in the New World under Spanish and Portuguese influence between 1520 and 1820. The transitions from Gothic to High Renaissance to Baroque to Neo-Classical styles in the various countries of South and Central America are represented. Also exhibited are characteristic examples of painting and sculpture of the period, again displayed through the means of photographic reproductions.

Works from the following countries are illustrated: Haiti, Mexico, Guatemala, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Paraguay, Argentina, Venezuela, Cuba, Chile, and Brazil.

Student Council Election Comes Next Wednesday

William E. Dougherty '46, President of the Student Council, has announced that the elections for the members of the Council for the Summer Trimester will be held on Wednesday, May 14.

The method of election will be the same as it has been for the past few trimesters; a method by which each individual fraternity elects their own representative to the Student Council.

After the fraternities have elected their Student Council members, the newly elected Council will elect the President, Vice President, and Secretary for the Summer Trimester Student Council.

Orient Bares Secrets Of Boy With "B" And Veteran Houseparty Date With Suntan And Blonde Hair

By Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47

An attractive girl with long blonde hair and a Florida suntan coyly lifted her eyes from a half-filled glass she had been studying and smiled wistfully at the boy beside her. Her eyes were soft and watery as she brushed her lips next to his ear and whispered a few words.

Her companion placed his elbows on the top of the table, lighted a Chesterfield, inhaled, slowly turned his head toward her, and blew a mouthful of blue smoke directly in her face.

He leaned back in his chair to display the varsity "B" on his black sweater and watched with amusement the frozen smile on the girl's face. Presently he spoke one word.

The girl clenched her teeth, dug her red nails into the palms of her hands, and raised her voice. "For heaven's sake! You've been calling me a flunk ever since I got off the train this afternoon. What does it mean?"

It doesn't really matter what the boy with the "B" answered, because nothing like that happened at Ivy Day houseparties at Bowdoin.

From May 1 to May 4 the boy with the "B" hung up his Navy dungarees and flight jacket and changed to a gray flannel suit with a yellow tie and a tuxedo with a tight fitting collar. Throwing himself sparkling, gay, witty, urbane and debonair, he broke training rules and discarded textbooks; but he adopted his companion's manners, shuffled, scraped, bowed, forced smiles, and catered to femininity.

The campus was no longer dark at night. A string of lights strung from the library to Massachusetts Hall and down the different walks, gave Bowdoin a carnival atmosphere. The boy with the "B" strolled hand in hand with his girl through the rain and the mud.

Before a crowd of Ivy day participants, Jake Stankis representing the graduating class planted the Ivy by the Art Building. The boy with the "B" forgot his date and waited nervously all week-end for the sun to shine on the young plant so that it might receive a good start in life.

From the Ivy ceremonies he dragged his girl across campus to solidly built Memorial Hall where the mincing gait and foppish lip of Bill Lacey as the "Private Secretary" and the bombast of Boyd Murphy, and the polished Pat Quinby production kept a whole bevy of giggling females on the edge of their seats. The boy with the "B" explained to his blonde companion that the austere gentleman on the right down four seats in the next row was the merciless son of a gun who had probably already written out the final exam.

At the formal fraternity dinner the blonde came down the staircase with her hair piled high on top of her head. She was regal, slim and graceful in her white evening gown — until she dropped a spoonful of baked beans in her lap, or afterwards down in the bar the boy with the "B" spilled a drink over the front of her shoulders.

He led the blonde over to the gym to hear Johnny Bothwell, was stringy from the rain and the bottom of her dress was muddy. She gushed at meeting Pinky or Rutlie or Mimi and said she had no idea that she was up here too. And she kept the boy with the "B" waiting while she and Rutlie talked about that darling evening dress over there in the corner.

She danced for a half an hour until she was so tired she couldn't stand on her two feet and she just had to have a place to sit down. He scooped to himself, elbowed his way through the white coats, tuxes, low cuts, flounces and frills, in search of a seat. She seemed disappointed at the selection of houseparty queens until the boy with the "B" explained that it was a put up job.

The next night they made the rounds of the different houses. And the boy with the "B" had to go into a careful dissertation on the history and social standing on campus of each fraternity. No, he didn't know what house Joe Smith belonged to. He explained that there were nearly a thousand students at Bowdoin.

Sunday morning he came in an hour late for breakfast. The blonde was already up, looking fresh and pretty in her traveling clothes. They played bridge for three hours, until he smiled and said he thought they had better be going if she was to catch the 4:17 train. She said that Bowdoin was simply the nicest college, better than Harvard or Yale or Princeton or Dartmouth, and she had the loveliest time. The boy with the "B" swelled his varsity chest and asked her to write when she got back to school.

Walsh "Home" To Revive Golden Era; Grid Coach Will Stay "A Long Time"

By Robert J. Waldron '50

"Happiness at home means more than anything else to us. This is our home and I hope it will be for a long time to come." These were the first sentiments voiced by Adam Walsh, Bowdoin's returning football coach as he was met by a small delegation from the college. Only his son, close friends, and associates in the athletic office had known the exact time of the arrival of Bowdoin's most successful gridiron mentor.

The Walshes left Los Angeles a week ago Saturday, and arrived in New York Monday morning. In leaving the Los Angeles-Cleveland Rams, Adam Walsh is abandoning one of the most lucrative positions which could be opened to any football coach. He has just finished two very successful seasons with one Professional championship team and one runner-up to the division champion. Coming back "home" he has ignored offers from other professional teams and several of the larger and more sports-conscious colleges.

He gave no indication of immediate plans for getting next year's team into shape, but said that "My first duty will be to get our apartment in order, my second will be to find out what football players we have or are going to have." Until their apartment in town has been made ready, the Walshes will live in the Moulton Union.

Following a Bowdoin tradition there will be no spring football practice sessions. The system of summer practice inaugurated last summer will, however, be used. Candidates will be given their first training during the latter half of the summer semester, with provision being made for many of those who are not planning to enroll in college during this time. No earlier plans could have been made, for it was impossible for Walsh to confer with the college officials until his arrival here.

During his eight years here before the war, Walsh moulded teams which were a fine credit both to the coach and to the college. These combinations completely reversed the State Series picture and made the Polar Bear eleven the team to beat. He produced four state championship teams and three teams which were tied for the championship during this "Golden Age."

(Continued on Page 3)

Pray English Deadline Advanced To May 15th

The deadline for entries for The Pray English Prize has been advanced to Thursday, May 15 according to an announcement by Dr. Stanley P. Chase, Henry Leach Chapman, Professor of English Literature.

The Prize, awarded for the best essay on literary criticism and interpretation, is derived from the annual income of a fund of $1,288 given by Dr. Thomas Jefferson Worcester Pray in 1889.

Four terms' study in English Literature is an entrance requirement. Further particulars may be found on the Chapel Bulletin Board.

The Reverend Mr. George M. Hooten '46 of Freeport was awarded the Pray Prize at the 1946 June Commencement.

Facts of Debating Editorial Were Wrong; Yet Activity Can Still Be Improved Upon

Last week an editorial appeared in these columns deploring the decline of debating as a Bowdoin institution. It has aroused much comment and criticism from indignant readers, both faculty and undergraduate. It cast the participants in debating, both faculty and students, in a disparaging light. The editorial conveyed the impression to its readers that debating was dying an unnoticed death.

The criticisms were made that the opinions expressed here had no basis in fact and that the incident cited as evidence was imaginary. Persons who have been connected with Bowdoin debating for some years claim that it is not in a "backward movement" but is improving all the time.

As evidence they cite the fact that this past season has been about the most successful here in many years. Audiences have been larger than ever. More, and more able, men have come out for the debating team. Especially significant was the important and well-attended Cambridge Debate.

Our readers claim that, contrary to what was said here last week, those men participating in debating are not "collegiate nonentities." A glance at their record will show that they hold many of the most important and responsible positions open to undergraduates.

All of this evidence of our readers is sound. The facts that were used in these columns last week to prove that debating is not what it should be were erroneous. We admit our mistake and here apologize for our failing. We hope this editorial will serve to correct any wrong impressions which may have been gleaned from last week's.

True, interested faculty and undergraduates have worked hard for many years to make debating a living part of our college life. Nevertheless, we maintain that it is still far from what it should and can be.

We repeat the criticisms expressed last week. Topics selected for debate may be of importance in theory. Yet the fact that they do not attract larger audiences proves that something is lacking in demonstrating to the members of the Bowdoin community that these topics are of vital interest to them.

We assert still that selection of judges and methods of judging have in the past at times been unsatisfactory. We also claim that it is poor practice to have every intercollegiate debate on the same "topic of the year."

Debating admittedly is improving. But this should not be interpreted to mean that it cannot be improved further. For it does not yet hold its proper place among extra-curricular activities.

R. A. W.

houseparties, was well attended by the faculty and their wives as well as students and citizens of Brunswick.

Recently there have been a number of discussion groups headed by Professors from the various departments. Although these may not always be too well attended, they are at least a beginning.

On the other hand there is still a good deal to be desired. Although one does see professors and students walking together on our labyrinth of paths, there are still many students who never get to know their professors well.

By way of a solution to the problem the Brown Herald (Brown University) stated, in an editorial of April 21 which was reprinted in "Variety" last week, that "the best answer is departmental clubs." Such clubs would perform the important function of bringing the students and faculty together. It should be borne in mind, though, that any friendship or fellowship between students and faculty must be, by definition, on a personal basis—not a collective one.

Such a personal basis is not always easily accepted by the students. This is mainly caused by the attitude of some students toward the whole matter—namely that a student seen talking with a professor is probably not doing too well in the professor's course and is seeking a better grade.

A. B. P.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49

Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49
Johnson Poor '49

Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '49
Albert B. Patton '50
Raymond S. Trubish '50

Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49

Feature Editor H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45

Editorial Assistants: P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '48, William E. Anderson '47, Earl S. Archibald, Jr. '48, Paul L. Bishop '48, Carl J. Cooper '49, William M. Davis '49, Daniel L. Dayton '49, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Edward E. Murphy '49, George Partridge '49, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Francis E. Currie '50, Samuel T. Gilmore '50, Donald W. Hanson '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50, Constantine Karvounides '50, Richard A. Leavitt '50, John F. Nason III '50, Robert J. Waldron '50

Contributing Editors Nelson L. Towers '47
Alfred F. Wehren '47
Raymond H. Swift '48

Staff Photographer Frederick D. Wildman '48

Managing Editor Of This Issue
David Crowell '49

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, May 7, 1947 No. 5

Means Expresses Candid Opinions About Loans To Greece And Turkey

May 4, 1947

My Dear Mr. Editor:

Quite a number of weeks ago, — shortly after the moot pronouncement on March 12, of President Truman in re Greece and Turkey, — you and your board saw fit to elicit my political reactions in this matter. Of course, I am quite as ignorant as most of us in matters concerning Anatolia. Possibly you inferred that my abysmal ignorance of Turkey was less enlightened than my knowledge of and continued interest in things Greek, accordingly you delegated one of your assistants to confer with me in the matter. We conferred. My growing curiosity as to what had become of those inconsequential lucubrations of mine was recently assayed by your own recent and pleasant call.

It seems that your minion arbitrarily set himself up as cross between the "O.G.P.U." and the "F.B.I." and decided that the data in question was "lost, strayed or stolen," — or even deliberately destroyed. Who, prithee is this "Graeculus esuriens." Who is to censor the political thought of his fellow undergraduates. Let him learn at once that, although local censorship does obtain in Greater Brunswick despite the constitutional guarantees to the contrary, such censorship has resided in the hands of the duly constituted senior members of society and not in those of irresponsible juveniles. This has been the case from the days of Plato's Republic to those of Washington.

That your printer's devil should have seen fit to attempt to muzzle any of us who are devoting our lives to the liberation of education and that we should have been thereby annoyed; is a matter quite inconsequential. Of terrific importance, however, is it that he should comprehend immediately that we also refuse to tolerate alien censorship and, under certain provocation, will strike to kill, or be killed.

In the interim either yourself or your board has seen fit to over-rule little Cato the Censor and again request my reactions in the matter of Truman and Greece. Of course even the Federal Legislators have been giving and receiving facts and fancies on this question, so any novelty in my remarks is a bit stale.

My own little brand of Realpolitik may not be patterned after that of Machiavelli. Neither would I recommend turning the other cheek in international politics. Broken jaws are the usual result of such infantile ineptitude. Perhaps the influence of Thucydides is still fermenting quietly within. Although even the few of us who read him imperfectly comprehend him, the fact remains that he has no superior and few peers.

After the grass has grown everyone, it seems, had heard it growing. As one who did not trail the pack in prophesying the inevitability of World Wars I and II, I dare say that two of Mr. Toynbee's civilizations, the Anglo-Saxon and the Slavic, are scheduled to crash some day, — date withheld, — in a "guerre a l'outrance." Such must be, unless the so-called "Polite" Bureau shall in the meanwhile fall into abeyance and disrepute. The cardinal point at issue is no more Greece and Turkey than it was Sarajevo. It is the simple question as to which type of civilization shall predominate, our own Plutocracy or Russia's Communism. Each is dynamic and expansive. And it was President Lincoln who found free-states and slave-states an impossible combination.

Any tyranny, such as that of Stalin, both arrives and departs by Bullets rather than Ballots. Whether the firearms be Russian or non-Russian none can predict. Tyranny, furthermore, whether that of the Spartan Harbors or the Japanese War Lords is at once totalitarian in its Inclusion and Exclusive aspects, — like a Fraternity! And this rule would seem to have obtained from the days of the Pharaohs, — history's longest tyranny, — to that of Stalin, — one of the shortest to date. Whether or no Russia is too poor to fight today few of us know. Certainly I myself do not

LETTER TO EDITOR Brown Takes Issue With Debating Editorial

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

An ORIENT editorial on May 2 made the following "points": (1) debating has lost the popularity and prestige which this undergraduate activity enjoyed in the good old days, (2) the subjects chosen for discussion are not "burning topics of general interest," (3) the debaters are "collegiate nonentities," and (4) these "collegiate nonentities" are incapable of attracting good audiences, or, discouraged by the lack of such audiences, are indisposed to prepare their cases thoroughly.

My experience with the quality of Bowdoin debating goes back twenty-five years to my undergraduate days at another college, and also includes several years as coach of debating here at Bowdoin. Although debating, even in its palmyest days, has not provoked rioting on the streets or touched off huge bon-fires on the Delta, I am reasonably confident that intercollegiate debating at Bowdoin has never attracted a larger number of more representative students or evoked so wholesome and lively an interest as it has under the present distinguished direction of Professor Albert Thayer. Moreover, Professor Thayer's highly competent instruction has done much to raise the level of public speaking on this campus in such activities as Bowdoin-on-the-Air, the Political Forum, and in prize-speaking and declamation contests of many kinds.

The owlish editorial observation that "debating is almost unknown" seems to me to be egregiously misinformed, especially when a short time ago a large audience filled Memorial Hall to enjoy the interesting debate with Cambridge University on the "trivial" subject of world peace. I have had the privilege of teaching almost every one of the "collegiate nonentities," and have found these academic nincompoops to be among the most stimulating and thoughtful of my students. As for the triviality and insignificance of the issues selected for debate, perhaps many of the veterans who constitute the majority of the members of the debate teams may be forgiven their naive notion that issues involving the relations between capital and labor or of world peace are not entirely devoid of importance.

Yours sincerely,
Herbert Brown
May 3, 1947

Russell Speaks Of Cyrus Hamlin In Chapel Talk

Speaking about Cyrus Hamlin, one of the most distinguished of Bowdoin's graduates, Dr. Henry G. Russell, Professor of Religion, sketched the life of this ingenious Christian missionary in Chapel on Monday.

After the death of his father, began Dr. Russell, Cyrus Hamlin was apprenticed to a silversmith in Portland where his diligence and resourcefulness brought him to the attention of older men who recommended that he enter the ministry.

Hamlin entered Bowdoin in 1830, and after four years 'highlighted by a successful blow against the 'brutal hazing then prevalent and the construction of the first steam engine ever built in Maine, he entered the Bangor Theological Seminary.

After three years at Bangor, continued Dr. Russell, he went to Constantinople, Turkey, where, laying aside his diplomatic engagements, he established first a school and then Robert College. He started various industries, a print shop, and even a rat trap factory to help the people rid themselves of the plague-carrying rats.

Dr. Russell told 'also of Hamlin's ascent of Mt. Bythinli where he felt himself "home" — once more. Around him were the rocks, streams, birch trees of New England, and there was even a brisk northwest Yankee wind blowing across the summit.

Though six thousand miles separated him from America, Hamlin felt as though he had never left Maine.

"Inventor, teacher, businessman, and Christian that he was," concluded Dr. Russell, "we who come after Cyrus Hamlin would do well to remember him both for what he stood for and for what he was."

Hindu Religious Attitude To Be Discussed Friday

Dr. Eddy Asirvathan, Professor of Comparative Religion and Hinduism at the Boston University School of Theology will speak in Moulton Union Lounge on Friday, May 9, at 6:45 p.m. Originally scheduled for 8 p.m., Dr. Asirvathan's talk has been changed so that students would not miss the Institute lecture on the same night.

His subject will be, "The attitude of the Indian Hindu toward his religion." The program is being sponsored by the Religious-Philosophical Discussion Committee of the BCA, headed by Harold Burnham, '48.

Barkley To Speak

[Continued from Page 1]

There will be no student conference with Barkley on Saturday, Dr. Orrin C. Hornell, DeAlva Stanwood Alexander Professor of Government, has announced. However, it is hoped that students may have an opportunity to meet the speaker sometime during the day. During his visit to Maine, Senator Barkley will be the guest of Senator White at the latter's Auburn home.

Senator Barkley is the third speaker in this year's Institute series. Dr. Willard Long Thorpe, Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, was the first speaker and Sir Frederic Puckle, Advisor on Indian Affairs to the British Embassy, gave the second address. On Monday evening, May 19, in Memorial Hall, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Director of the Division of Trusteeships of the United Nations Secretariat, will lecture on "The Future of Dependent Peoples." Dr. Bunche will lead a student conference on the afternoon preceding his lecture at the Moulton Union, at which he will conduct an informal discussion.

This Institute is the twelfth in the series which was inaugurated in 1923. Senator Barkley's address will be open to the public. No tickets will be issued and no seats reserved.

Wehren First In 1868's

[Continued from Page 1]

mony."

The fifth speaker, Edward Louis Kallop '48, talked on the "Architectural Renaissance," describing the "philosopher architects" of today, and their work.

During the intermissions the Medicine Masters offered several songs including "George Jones" and "Mary."

How a city's voice was restored!

Early on December 14, 1946, flames gutted the Central Office at River Grove, Illinois. Telephone service for 10,000 families ceased to exist.

Even as the fire burned, restoration work was begun. Emergency telephone headquarters was set up. Mobile equipment arrived to handle calls of first importance.

Telephone men from distant points came to aid the local forces. Bell System standardization proved itself again for all men were able to use the same methods, the same tools, the same Western Electric equipment. From Western Electric plants hundreds of miles away the needed supplies—the right kinds and amounts—were started toward River Grove.

In a matter of just 11 days... a record accomplishment... two Quonset huts were erected, new switchboards installed, splices and connections made. River Grove's communications system was restored.

Planning well in advance for both emergencies and normal growth, is a task of telephone management. The many and varied problems presented offer a stimulating challenge—promise adventure and opportunity—to men who choose telephony as a career.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
of BRUNSWICK, MAINE
Capital and Surplus $350,000
Total Resources over $5,000,000
Student Patronage Solicited

PHILCAS DOES THE COOKING BEST BRUNSWICK HARDWARE

SEE US FIRST for PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG. TEL. 98-W

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48

Assistant Business Manager Arnold Cooper '48

Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmuck '49
C. Craig Ryder '49
Francis R. Currie '50

Advertising Managers Alfred J. Waxler '47
Edward S. Early '49
W. Churchill Cressey '50

Business Assistants: Umberto Cantalamessa '48, James H. Whitcomb '48, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Hayden B. Goldberg '49, H. Noyes Macomber '49, Robert T. Tanner '49, Robert E. Barker '50, Gordon F. Linke '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY

Directors Professor Athens P. Daggett
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown
C. Cabot Easton '48
Richard A. Wiley '49

PRESENTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are being held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

POLAR BEARINGS

Hopes Rocket With Sweep Over Maine

By George F. McClelland II, '49

Monday's triple win by the baseball, golf and tennis teams over the University of Maine brought the most productive afternoon of varsity sports enjoyed by Bowdoin's athletic teams in what seems like an eternity. The fact that it directly followed houseparties is encouraging and those fond hopes for state domination in baseball are strengthened. The triumphs by the golf and tennis teams were to be expected, but Danny MacFayden's crew really looked impressive as they upset the Pale Blue and punched Maine's - meal ticket, Charlie Wilcox, one of the state's outstanding hurlers.

By coping their second straight series tilt, the Polar Bears retained the top rung of the state ladder and this afternoon's contest with the Bates Bobcats should do much toward deciding the ultimate winner of the state diadem. Without a doubt MacFayden's club has made great strides since their lapse in the exhibitions with the Garnets in April and this time it may well be different. Last year Bowdoin won a warm-up affair from Bates 10 to 4 only to have the Bobcats come back to unmercifully claw the Big White 29 to 9 in regular league play. A reversal of that performance this season is a strong possibility.

If the Deacon can find another effective hurler to help Newt Pendleton out Bowdoin will be a strong contender for the crown. Possibilities are Moe Denamore, Bob Crozier, and Bob Shanahan. The rest of the team looks more like a ball club each time out. Ed Gillen appears one of the top back stops in these parts. The infield has tightened visibly and Burston, Whiting, and Friberg look more at home at the plate as well as afield. Bob Friberg especially has been hitting the ball on the nose and is the top lead-off in the state. The outfield also has improved. Gale Bennett is leading the picket line at bat but Beem, Speirs and Clarke have shown flashes of power and may contribute some timely blows to the attack. Things are shaping up and with a few breaks and another pitcher the state pennant may be brought back to Pickard Field.

Sports interest on Saturday will be turned to Whittier Field's cinder track for the state track meet as the baseball, golf and tennis outfits journey to Orono in an attempt to duplicate Monday's sweep. Jack Magee's trademen won their only dual meet of the outdoor season a week ago, but they will be distinct underdogs when they meet the University of Maine's powerful aggregation this week-end. The Blue illustrated their supremacy in the indoor state meet in which they outdistanced second place Bowdoin by almost 50 points.

The Maine coach has the crying towel out as usual, claiming that lack of outdoor practice may cost Maine the meet, but he fools nobody with his wailings. His team is loaded and from here it looks as if nothing can stop it. Taylor in the 440, Folsom in the 880 and mile and Davis and Morton in the 2 mile threaten to sweep the running events along with a raft of sprinters. Marsankis is the state's top weight man and Vickery is among the best javelin throwers in the country. LeClair and Beals will threaten Matt Branche in the hurdles and Emerson is the class in the pole vault. Added to these will be the first evidences of strength from the neighboring annex which plans to lend several trackmen to the Maine squad. Bowdoin prospects for a win are slim but Magee has pulled more than one rabbit out of his hat and it should be a great meet, anyway.

White Gains Triple Victory Over Maine

Ray Lebel Cards 70 As Golfers Win; Tennismen Prevail

Bowdoin's varsity golf team edged the University of Maine 5½ to 3½ at the Brunswick golf course on Monday. The highlight of the meet was a 70 shot by Ray Lebel as he won his match 8 to 7. Chuck Noyes was upset in a close match 1 up. Gil Wilkinson won 3 and 2. Don Johnston won 7 and 6. Dick Davis tied and Fuller Marshall lost 3 and 2 in other matches.

The tennis team went into first place in the state standings by crushing the Black Bears on Monday by a 7 to 2 score. Branche, Rosander, and Emmons were extended to three sets in their singles matches as Mike Kuh suffered the only Bowdoin loss. Hebb and Cole sustained the only doubles setback.

The summary:

SINGLES
Branche (B) defeated Van Peursen 6-4, 2-6, 9-7
Rosander (B) defeated Southard 6-4, 4-6, 6-4
Hebb (B) defeated Hessmann 6-1, 6-1
Curtis (B) defeated Stebbins 6-1, 7-5
Emmons (B) defeated O'Neil 4-6, 6-2, 9-7
Batherson (M) defeated Kuh 6-1, 6-3

DOUBLES
Branche and Rosander (B) defeated Batherson and O'Neil 7-5, 6-1
Hessmann and Stebbins (M) defeated Hebb and Cole 5-6, 6-4, 7-5
Curtis and Emmons (B) defeated Van Peursen and Southard 7-5, 6-4

Walsh Back At Bowdoin

[Continued From Page 1]

When the outbreak of war brought a temporary end to football at Bowdoin, Walsh remained as athletic advisor for a short time. After receiving a leave of absence, he became assistant coach at Notre Dame. His work there was so outstanding that he was offered the post of head coach of the Cleveland Rams. In his first year with the Rams he produced a National Football League Championship, and the following year at Los Angeles finished second to the league leaders.

State Series Standings

STATE SERIES STANDINGS	W	L	Pct.
Bowdoin	2	0	1.000
Bates	0	1	.000
Colby	0	1	.000
Maine	0	1	.000

Bowdoin Track Hopes Rest Here

Courtesy Portland Sunday Telegram

Matt BRANCHE, Bowdoin's versatile athlete, will compete in the hurdle events and the high jump in the State Track Meet Saturday.

Miracle Can Block Maine Trackmen In State Meet Here This Saturday

By Edward R. Murphy, Jr. '49

The time 2:30, the day Saturday, the place Whittier Field, the event is the annual State Championship Track Meet. Although Bowdoin is defending champion, it would take a major miracle to stop the Black Bears of Maine from snatching the crown. The meet should be highlighted by thrilling races. In every event, there are at least two men from different schools who are capable of "coming home a winner." The times and distances will probably be mediocre because the State of Maine is gifted with no outstanding performer.

The hundred-yard dash, always a crowd-pleaser, could well be a photo finish. Leo Dunn of Bowdoin, Al Sandier of Colby and Phil Dow from Maine are the boys to watch. The 220 will be just as close, with Sandler, Swasey of Bates and Carrol Taylor of Maine all capable of winning. Bowdoin's two outstanding dash men, Mack Holmes and Jack Freese, will be of little use due to pulled muscles. Maine will be missing Martin Hagopian, State indoor sprint champ, and Bill Igow of Colby has been handicapped by a bum leg.

Maine should grab the first two places in the quarter, thanks to Wally Brown and Sam Silsby. Third place should promise a bitter struggle between Sawyer from Bates and O'Halloran of Colby.

The half is my choice for the best race of the day. Coach Magee of Bowdoin will keep his new-found star Chuck Auten fresh for this event. Horne of Bates and Silsby and Jolson of Maine will have already entered themselves in other events, so Auten should be the favorite.

It will be Cab Easton's job to try to outrun Jolson and Horne in the mile. In all probability he will be instructed to run third place instead of "burning himself out." Jolson should win, as he has turned in far better times

[Continued on Page 4]

Harvard, M.I.T. Check Tennismen In Boston Sets

Boston, April 26 — Bowdoin's touring tennis team lost both their week-end matches here. Yesterday rain halted the Harvard match after the Crimson had swept the singles. Today the engineers from M.I.T. nipped the Big White, who were playing without Matt Branche's number one man, by a 5 to 4 decision.

The summaries:
HARVARD 6 - BOWDOIN 0
SINGLES
Bache (H) defeated Branche 6-2, 6-1
Toris (H) defeated Rosander 6-2, 6-4
Wightman (H) defeated Lavery 6-2, 6-3
Pratt (H) defeated Hebb 6-3, 6-2
Warren (H) defeated Curtis 6-3, 6-0
Sewarman (H) defeated Emmons 6-0, 6-3
DOUBLES
Rained out
M. I. T. 5 - BOWDOIN 4
SINGLES
Kupfman (MIT) defeated Rosander 5-7, 6-2, 6-4
Watters (MIT) defeated Lavery 6-3, 14-16, 6-4
Hebb (B) defeated Miller 6-1, 6-1
Curtis (B) defeated Cotton 6-2, 6-6, 6-2
Emmons (B) defeated Rubin 6-4, 6-4
Zimmerman (MIT) defeated Kuh 6-2, 6-0
DOUBLES
Kupfman and Watters (MIT) defeated Rosander and Kuh 6-1, 6-1
Hebb and Lavery (B) defeated Zimmerman and Schmidt 6-4, 6-4
Kornich and Miller (MIT) defeated Emmons and Curtis 7-5, 6-1

Billiard Program Expanded 1947-48

Highly gratified with the recent intercollegiate billiard tournaments, Charles C. Peterson, president of the Billiard Association of America, has announced that the college billiard program will be expanded for the 1947-1948 season. Peterson said the expanded program has the endorsement of the National Association of College Unions, which group sponsors the cue events with the billiard association.

The 1947 college billiard activity reached its climax on April 25 and 26 at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., where ten varsity men reported to shoot for the championships in straight-rail, pocket and three-cushion billiards.

Leff Mabie, 21-year-old law student of the University of Florida, proved the star of the college tourneys, winning titles in pocket billiards and three-cushions. Mabie shot his way through both tournaments without defeat. The straight-rail title was won by Thomas Hines, 19-year-old entrant from the University of Wisconsin.

Other entrants and their order of finish in the events in which they played were Mark Abend, Michigan, Bob Below, Purdue, and Gerry Smith, Minnesota, pocket billiards; Maynard Colomano, Buffalo, Paul Veite, Minnesota, and Henry Hopkins, Indiana, three-cushions; and Gordon Howe, Wisconsin, Charles Ashley, Ohio State, and Colomano, straight-rail.

D. D. GARDNER CO.
SPORTING - ATHLETIC RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

Pendleton Gives 3 Singles As MacFaydenmen Win 5-2

By David Crowell '49

After four straight postponements, Bowdoin finally played a ball game on Monday. Deacon MacFayden was glad of the decision, so were Bob Friberg and Bobbie Speirs.

But gladest of all was chunky Nute Pendleton who, in the first game of the season, sent the Black Bears of Maine reeling as he allowed three well-scattered hits over the nine-inning route. Speirs, whose double and single to center may clinch that starting berth he's been looking for and Friberg were the big guns in Bowdoin's 5 to 2 victory.

It was "Pendleton" and his sparky battery-mate Eddie Gillen, who ran things. Not until two were down in the fifth frame did one of the visitors get a safe hit — but that hit looked very big indeed, since the weather was threatening, as it scored. Ev Beals, who had waited Pendleton out for one of the seven passes he gave, advanced on a sacrifice and pulled up at third on Charlie Wilcox's infield out.

The Bowdoin limered up a half-dozen new Red Sox bats with a pair of hits in fifth, but were unable to score. Bob Speirs, leading off, rifled a shot through the pitcher's box for the home team's first hit since. Bob Friberg opened the game with a single. Then with Bowdoin trailing 1 to 0, the bunts began to clatter from the plate.

After Fred Giddings beat out a near foul for a hit, sending Speirs to second, Gillen sacrificed to Wilcox who stepped into his worst trouble until then with two men in position to score on a base hit. Friberg was sent up to beat another one out and, but for the soaking grass, the score might have been tied. Gale Bennett, who was horse-collared at the plate for the first time this year, ended the threat with a roller to short.

After Pendleton had been touched for another hit in the sixth, the Polar Bears suddenly caught fire. Pat Slattery lined a single to left center and was sent to second on Pendleton's sacrifice. Then, with one away, the usually reliable Jerry Poulin let Stan Whiting's grounder get through him at third and Jack Clarke came in to run for Slattery.

It was left to Laughing Bob Speirs to explode a two-bagger to deep center, scoring Whiting and Dick Burston, whose hunt could not bring Clarke home on the squeeze and putting Bowdoin in front 2 to 1.

And then came the final coup. Fred Giddings worked Wilcox for a base on balls and, with Speirs on third through Joe Combs late peg to the plate which failed to beat Burston, the Bowdoin left-fielder took off for second, drawing a throw from Mike Cherneski. As Giddings slowed up, Speirs streaked home on a delayed steal and when the smoke cleared, Bowdoin led 5 to 2.

After Gillen walked, Bob Friberg

[Continued on Page 4]

Betas, Sigma Nu's Lead Softball With 5 Games To Play

By virtue of a 19-4 win over the impotent A.R.U.s the Betas have moved into a first place in the softball loop tie with the idle Sigma Nus, both teams having 5 and 1 records.

The Psi U.s moved into third with a 12-5 win over those same A.R.U.s as the Kappa Sigs fell from first to seventh as they lost to the Chi Psi 12-6 and had a contested game with the D.U.s decided against them. In other games the D.U.s whipped the T.D.s 10-1 and the A.T.O.s downed the A.R.U.s 6-4.

Standings:	won	lost
Betas	5	1
Sigma Nus	5	1
Chi Psi	4	2
Belles	4	2
D.U.s	4	2
Kappa Sigs	2	2
T.D.s	1	6
A.T.O.s	1	7
A.R.U.s	0	4

Varbrough Speech

[Continued from Page 1]

where you cannot know is a practical power without which you cannot live.

The second component of a triumphant personality is a single-minded purpose for life. He pointed out how St. Paul achieved one of the most steadfast characters against the greatest odds by achieving a single purpose in life.

Another illustration was given. A British refugee child, whose ship was torpedoed during the war was finally rescued after several days on a life raft. The child asked his rescuers "which way is America?" "He had," said Rev. Varbrough, "a single-minded purpose in life which enabled him to remain inwardly victorious. He gave to life a triumphant personality." We must ask ourselves, he went on, "which way is my spiritual America?" and say to ourselves, "I propose to give to the world another triumphant personality."

Rev. Varbrough, citing the third ingredient as an unselfish dedication to life, declared that it is necessary for the attainment of the first two. He quoted William James who once said, "the great use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it."

"In the final analysis," said Reverend Varbrough, "a triumphant personality is determined by the things a person believes in and belongs to." Concluding the sermon, he stressed the fact that the world community is looking for young people with a selfless dedication to the great causes of humanity.

HARMON'S

offers

Two Traditional Items Of A College Man's Wardrobe

Ayrostar Seersucker

JACKETS

$13.50

These are the finest all 'round utility sportcoats. Fine cotton. Completely washable.

Sizes 36 to 46
Regulars and Longs

Oxford Grey

Plain Front

FLANNEL TROUSERS

$12.95

These are excellently tailored of Cyril Johnson oxford grey flannel.

Sizes from 28 to 34

Outfitters to Bowdoin Men for over 25 Years

HARMON'S

104 Front Street

Telephone 735

Bath

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY

FUEL OILS

BOTTLED GAS

BUILDING MATERIALS

UP TO 1881
TENNIS IN ENGLAND WAS MERELY LONG, DRAWN-OUT
VOLLEYING.

"THE
RAIMSHAW
BROTHERS CHANGED THAT.
THEY STARTED
FOUNDING
THE BALL BACK."

Put ZING IN YOUR SWING

Extra strength for extra stroking power is built into the throats of the "Fiber-Sealed" Wright & Ditson Davis Cup and the "Fiber-Welded" Spalding Kro-Bat... both made by Spalding. At your dealer's.

SPALDING SETS THE PAGE IN SPORTS

11-ply Laminated

Both made by Spalding

The College Book Store

OUR STOCK OF MODERN LIBRARY BOOKS IS NOW UP TO NORMAL
PARKER 51's are again in stock
NORMA PENCILS $4.00 and $4.50
WEBSTER'S COLLEGIATE DICTIONARY $5.00

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good Food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the

College Spa

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

Fordham University SCHOOL OF LAW

NEW YORK
Three-Year Day Course
Four-Year Evening Course
CO-EDUCATIONAL
Member of Assn. of American Law Schools
Accredited College Degree Required for Admission

Veterans of World War II who have completed two years of college work toward accredited degree may matriculate within one year of honorable discharge.
Full transcript of record required in every case
FIRST YEAR CLASS BEGINS
On September 29, 1947
For further information address
Registrar,
Fordham Univ. School of Law
302 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y.

TOWN TAXI

24-Hour Service

Phone 1000

Bowdoin Fly-Boys

The Sky's The Limit

at...

Douglas Flying Service

DOUGLAS FIELD

Brunswick, Maine Phone 1236

Variety

By Wolfgang Rosenberg

A riotous comment about the Ivy Day Celebrations last weekend, eagerly awaited, slyly suggested by participants, and sure to be censored and censured severely, is not forthcoming.

THE CROWNING EVENT
The still unsolved mystery of Friday's dance is the election of the Houseparty Queen. No aspersions on the winning choice, but strong rumors have it that the judges were stymied because each judge insisted on picking his own girl. Repeatedly tied at one vote apiece, the final selection was only accomplished through a triple compromise, (according to strong rumors, that is.)

Sponsored by Bowdoin's yapping bark publication, the Houseparty Queen Affair brought to mind the uncertain status of the "Growler." According to sources (not identified as usually reliable or unreliable), the next issue of this usually unreliable funny magazine is to appear at graduation time. The sources, however, neglected to say what graduation time or what year that meant.

With several fizzes and fissions, the fireworks of the party never burst out into proper form because of the grim weather conditions. Said one partying sophomore when interviewed during an off-guard moment, "Everything was all wet!"

With those whose memory stretches back to Ivy, 1946, the four drizzling days from Thursday to Sunday brought some not too pleasant reminiscences. On Sunday evening the Weather Man put an interesting finish on this situation by declaring over the radio, "and then (this evening), as only weather can, it stopped raining."

An interesting aspect of the

MIKE'S PLACE

HOT DOGS

BOTTLED BEER

ITALIAN SANDWICHES

Phone 974-M for delivery

Maine Street

Brunswick Maine

Yes, We're Interested In

ALL Your

PRINTING

We have had long experience in producing for Bowdoin men:

STATIONERY POSTERS
TICKETS ALUMNI LETTERS
FRATERNITY FORMS
And Other Printing

Ask Us For Quotations

The RECORD OFFICE

Phones 1 and 3

Paul E. Niven, Bowdoin 1916

Manager
Printers of The Orient

CUMBERLAND

Wed.-Thurs. May 7-8

Robert Cummings - Michele Morgan

THE CHASE

also Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. May 9-10

LOVE LAUGHS AT ANDY HARDY

with Mickey Rooney - Bonita Granville

also

Paramount News Short Subject

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. May 11-12-13

MY FAVORITE BRUNETTE

with Bob Hope - Dorothy Lamour

also

Paramount News Short Subjects

Wed.-Thurs. May 14-15

THE BEGINNING OR THE END

with Brian Donlevy - Robert Walker

also

Fox News Short Subject

Fri.-Sat. May 16-17

SUDDENLY ITS SPRING

with Paulette Goddard - Fred MacMurray

also

Paramount News Short Subject

Alumni Office Issues Ballots

[Continued from Page 1]
ni Council and has served twice as President of the Pittsburgh Bowdoin Club.

William W. Curtis '20 from Wellesley, Massachusetts is Administrative and Credit Representative, Aluminum Company of America and former President of the Bowdoin Club of Rhode Island. Cloyd E. Small '20 of Worcester, Massachusetts is head of the Science Department at Worcester Academy. John P. Vose '22 is Trust Officer of the Merrill Trust Company, Bangor. Creighton E. Gatchell '32 from Portland is Manager of Radio Station WGAN and Director of the Portland Broadcasting System. Richard C. Van Varick '32 from New York is manager of the Dodge Family Office, Secretary and Assistant Treasurer of Dodgewood Corporation and Cleveland H. Dodge Foundation.

William D. Hyde '38 of Portland is special agent for Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Company.

Nominees for the Alumni Fund Directors are the following: Leland G. Means '12 of Portland who is Vice President and Director of Bond and Goodwin, Incorporated. William J. Nixon '13 from New York is President and Treasurer of A. W. Ancher, Inc. and Nixon-Seddon Corporation. Elliot Freeman '18 of Kennebunk is now Director, Kennebunk Loan and Building Association. Paul H. Eames '21 from Upper Montclair, New Jersey is a retired engineer, and former President and Director, Southeastern Gas and Water Company.

Maine Favored To Win Track Meet Saturday

[Continued from Page 3]
at the distance than any of his opponents.

The two mile should also be a great show as Motion and Davis of Maine match strides with Dana Robinson of Colby. Bowdoin's Joe Woods will be hard-pressed to crack this trio, but he has registered many surprising performances throughout the past season.

The hurdles will be monopolized by Matt Branche, the Bowdoin star, and Joe Leclair and Blaine Beals, both of whom come from the U. of M.

The weight events are always difficult to foresee. Marsankis, the Black Bear's most consistent scorer here, and Phil Parsons of the host team will vie for top points in the hammer throw with Newton of Bowdoin a logical third-place winner.

Kenneth A. Cushman '27, South Portland, is Vice-President and Director, Cushman Baking Company. J. Philip Smith '29, of Melrose, Massachusetts is Assistant Trust Officer, Second National Bank, Boston. John W. Hay '32 is from Westbrook and, since 1934, has been an Agent for the Alumni Fund.

Leon V. Walker Jr. '32, from Portland, served as Treasurer of the Bowdoin Club of Portland. Richard B. Sanborn '40 is from Augusta and is a member of the New York and Maine Bars.

There is no vacancy on the Board of Overseers to be filled from the Alumni nominations this year.

Big White Nine Downs Maine Bears; Bowdoin Hurler Allows Three Hits

[Continued from Page 3]
berg — The Triple Kid — poled his second three-bagger in two games to deep left-center, bringing Gillen and Giddings in with runs four and five. Bennett, the ninth of the Big White to bat, ended the riot by popping to Beals for the third out.

Wilcox himself drew a pass from the Bowdoin lefthander in the visitors' seventh, but only he could reach until Don Stebbins walked to open the ninth. Beals was an easy out, but Pendleton was evidently rattled by Paul Walker's sliced Texas Leaguer to the right-field foul line which put two on with one away.

The Bowdoin lefthander unceremoniously sailed past Gillen, allowing Stebbins to score and, after Wilcox and pinch-hitter Hart walked the Polar Bears' insurance runs looked valuable. But Pendleton burned a fast curve past Coombs for a strikeout and Walt Bralry, batting for Paul Mitchell, lofted to Bennett to end the game.

This was the best-played contest seen in Maine intercollegiate circles this spring and, since there had been little or no practicing last week, this bodes well for the remainder of the State

Series. Bowdoin, the only team to have won a conference match, faces Bates today at 3:30 p.m. flaunting a 2-and-0 record to date.

Monday afternoon marked the second time in exactly a year that Bowdoin has pulled the Baseball-Golf-Tennis victory trio over Maine. The Polar Bear teams will meet Maine at Orono on Saturday.

The Box Score:
MAINE
Coombs, cf, 4-0-1-0; Friberg, ss, 4-0-1-1; Woods, 2b, 3-0-0-3; Bennett, cf, 4-0-0-3; Mitchell, 1b, 1-0-0-0; Stebbins, 3b, 1-0-0-2; Hartley, 1-0-0-0; C. Fries, cf, 1-0-0-2; Poulton, 2b, 4-0-0-2; Pen-ton, 3b, 2-0-0-2; Whitely, 1b, 4-0-1-0; Wilcox, 2b, 2-1-0-0; Carl, rf, 3-0-0-0; Burton, 1b, 3-1-0-1; Stebbins, rf, 1-0-0-0; Spaulding, lf, 2-1-0-0; Beals, ss, 3-1-0-1; Giddings, lf, 2-1-0-0; Walker, lf, 3-1-1-1; Silsby, 3b, 2-1-0-0; Wilcox, p, 2-0-0-1; Gillen, c, 2-1-0-0; Hart, 0-0-0-0.
27 2 2 2 12 29 5 6 27 14
*batted for Mitchell in 9th
*batted for Chermak in 9th
Maine..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1-2
Bowdoin..... 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-2
Runs batted in—Coombs, Speirs, Friberg 2, Triple—Friberg, Double—Speirs, Sacre—Wilcox, Pendleton, Burton, Gillen, Stolen bases—Speirs, Giddings. Left on bases—Bowdoin 7, Maine 9. Passed balls—Chermak, Gillen. Wild pitch—Wilcox. Bases on balls off—Wilcox 4, Pendleton 7. Struck out by—Wilcox 6, Pendleton 6. Umpires—Fortunate and Holland. Time of game 2:16.

Dance, Traditional Play Knight Must Drop Boston Pops Solo

[Continued from Page 1]
In the afternoon, Phi Beta Kappa Society, Alpha of Maine, will hold a meeting in Hubbard Hall at 2 p.m. This is to be followed by reunion meetings in the College fraternity houses at 3 p.m.

Between 3 and 4 p.m. Charles R. Nicholls, Mus.M., will hold an organ recital in the College Chapel. Another organ recital will be held in the First Parish Church at 10 a.m. on Saturday morning.

The Commencement Procession will form at 10:30 a.m. Saturday on the Class of 1895 Walk. The Commencement Exercises will be held in the First Parish Church at 10:45 a.m., followed by a Commencement Dinner in the Hyde Athletic Building. Tickets are required for admittance to the dinner and may be obtained by alumni and members of the Bowdoin Fathers' Association upon registration at the library. Commencement speakers will be Paul K. Niven, Jr. '46, Douglas Carmichael '44, James Eels '48, and the Rev. George M. Hooten '46, minister of the Congregational Church of Yarmouth.

[Continued from Page 1]
E. Cole '49, Robert I. de Sherbinn '45, William A. Dougherty '46, John M. Dunlap '48, John M. Dunphy '46, Oliver F. Emerson '49, Charles L. Erickson '48, Charles B. Estabrook '45, Elton O. Feeney '48, Dexter Foss '45, Allan Fraser '49, Joseph T. Fraser '49, Charles T. Freeman '50, Herbert S. French '46, David W. Garland '50, Herbert Gillman '48, Robert S. Gingsas '50, Ralph H. Griffin '46, Samuel W. Hale '49, Arthur A. Hamblen '48, Walter J. Hamburger '50, J. Morgan Heussler '46, Robert B. Hunter '47, John R. Hupper '50, John R. Jackman '50, Allan Kenniston '44, Elliot F. Keyes '50, Daniel B. Kunhardt '49, William Lacey '49, Richard H. Lewis '45, Wayne M. Lockwood '49, Charles W. Lovejoy '50, John W. Martin '48, Robert W. Miller '48, Philip B. Parsons '46, Hugh Pendexter '46, Henry O. Smith '45, Donald B. Snyder '50, Frederick W. Spaulding '47, Donald B. Steele '50, John L. Thomas '48, David Thorndike '46, Peter S. Van Voast '50, Frederick Weidner '50, Paul T. Welch '50, Robert Whitman '43, Charles W. Wilder '50, Roger N. Williams '46, David C. Wilson '46, and Martin E. Wood-en '49.

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

BENOIT'S HAS

McGREGOR
BLUE FLANNEL

BLAZERS

$25.00

GRAY FLANNEL

SLACKS

$9.95 and $13.50

BOSTONIAN

Genuine White Buck

SHOES

With Red Rubber Soles

$12.50

Benoit's

Fidelity Building

Brunswick

TRIPLE SMOKING PLEASURE

East and West Agree on A-B-C
"Chesterfield is by far our Largest Selling Cigarette"

Sherman Billingsley's STORK CLUB IN NEW YORK
Robert H. Cobb HOLLYWOOD'S BROWN DERBY

A B C

ALWAYS Milder
BETTER TASTING
COOLER SMOKING

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALL OVER AMERICA — CHESTERFIELD IS TOPS!

Capacity Audience Hails Pops Night

Dunlap, Weidner, Williams Perform

Pops Conductor

PROFESSOR Frederic E. T. Tillotson, who was guest conductor at The Bowdoin Pops Night.

by Ralph R. Anderson '50
In stately Symphony Hall, Boston, amid the popping bottle corks and the clink of ice filled glasses, Bowdoin had its second night at the Pops last Monday evening. It was surprising to see the number of Bowdoin alumni and students present at the concert with their friends and families. Only a few seats in the second balcony remained unfilled. On the floor the audience in their bright colored spring clothes at the green tables were set off by the Glee Club sitting next to stage in their black tails.

Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops opened the program with "Eugen Onegin," by Tchaikovsky. "Der Freischutz," Weber, was endorsed by "The Flight of the Bumble-Bee," by Rimsky-Korsakov and "The Voices of Spring," Strauss, by "Hera Saccato." Frederick Weidner, III '50, assisted by the orchestra and under Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson's conduction, sang "The Twilight Song" by Tillotson and Bodge.

The Bowdoin Glee Club with Professor Tillotson directing, and Herbert S. French, Jr. '46 accompanying, sang "Listen to the Lambs," John M. Dunlap, Jr. '48 sang the baritone solo, and Roger N. Williams '46 sang the tenor solo. The Glee Club also sang two excerpts from "The Testament of Freedom," "The God Who Gave Us Life," and "We Fight not for Glory or for Conquest."

Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops started the final portion of the program with several selections from "Annie Get Your Gun." Super Sads in the form of "Jingles All the Way" was the encore. The Middletempers gave out with "Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown" as arranged by Herb French, with additional lyrics by Robert Whitteman '45, "Mood Indigo," and "George Jones."

Rev. Dr. Cadigan To Speak Sunday In Chapel Service

Reverend George L. Cadigan, minister of the Grace Church, Salem, Massachusetts, formerly of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Brunswick, will deliver the Sunday Chapel Address on May 18.

Rev. Mr. Cadigan was very active during his ministry in Brunswick from 1936 until the war. According to Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, Rev. Mr. Cadigan is an excellent speaker and is well known for his parish work. In an unofficial capacity, he did much for the College during his stay here. On leaving Brunswick, he went to the parish of the Grace Church in Salem.

After graduating from Amherst where he was active in tennis and football, he went to an English University for a year. He served as an assistant to the rector of the Episcopal Church in Amherst following his graduation from a Theological seminary.

Following his work with students at Amherst, he came to Brunswick and took an active interest in helping college students.

Frederick Lacey Wins Prize Speaking Contest

Frederick W. Lacey, Jr. '49, was selected as the winner in the Stanley Plummer Prize Speaking Contest held Thursday, May 8, in Memorial Hall.

Participants in the contest under the direction of Professor Albert R. Thayer were: Frederick W. Lacey, Jr. '49, who spoke on "The Riddle of the World"; Frederick W. Spaulding '47, whose subject was "The Academic Pageant"; Robert E. Hart, '49, who gave "An Unfinished Study: The Mind"; and Harold N. Marsh, '43, who spoke on "Liberty and the Rights of Man."

Judges for the contest were Professor Herbert R. Brown, of the English Department, Professor Philip C. Brown, head of the Art Department, and Dr. Walter M. Clark, of the Psychology Department.

Paul R. Aronson, '48, and Malcolm E. Stevenson, '50, took part last week in a debate at the University of New Hampshire, at Durham, where they won an audience decision.

Ralph Bunche To Speak In Mem. Hall On May 19

"The Future of Dependent Peoples" will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Director of the Division of Trusteeships of the United Nations Secretariat, who will speak in Memorial Hall on Monday evening at 8:15, May 19.

There will be a conference held also, at which only the students of the college may attend when Dr. Bunche will throw open the floor for discussion and questions.

W.J.C. Glee Club To Give Concert Here On May 18

The Westbrook Junior College Glee Club, under the direction of Rupert Neely, will present a program at Bowdoin on Sunday, May 18. The group consisting of forty voices, will sing in the Moulton Union at 3:30 P.M. on that date and again at 5:00 P.M. in the chapel.

After the program in the Union refreshments will be served in the lounge. Committees from the fraternities will escort the girls to the various houses for dinner, after which they will return to Westbrook.

Included in the program for the Moulton Union are "Kyrie," by Neely, "Adornus Te," by Palistrina, Brachelet's "Chere Nuit," soprano obbligato, Elaine Goodhue, the "Consecration," from "Parsifal," by Wagner, and "Rachem," by Mana-Zucca.

At 5 P.M. the glee club will sing the anthem for chapel, which will be "The Cherubim Hymn," arranged by Mr. Neely.

This program has been arranged by the Westbrook Junior College and the Bowdoin College Christian Associations. Committees for Bowdoin were Carlton Woods '45, and Thomas K. Meakin '46, of the Zeta Psi Fraternity.

Reserve Officers Assn. Meets Thurs. To Feature Film

"Desert Victory," famous British film depicting the Allied counter-attack of the North African Campaign, considered by many to be the best documentary film of the last war, will be shown after the next meeting of the Reserve Officers Assn., Brunswick-Bath Chapter this Thursday evening in Moulton Union Lounge.

The business meeting for members is scheduled to begin at 7:30 P.M., the film to be shown at 8:30 P.M. Families and guests of Assn. members are cordially invited to attend the showing.

BCA Completes Successful Year; Active In 53 Campus Activities

With the election of a new president last week, the Bowdoin Christian Association completed one of its most successful years in the history of the college. Led by President Shepard N. Lifshitz, '47, the B.C.A. broke all preceding records by actively sponsoring or participating in 53 separate campus activities and countless minor college functions.

A review of the first regular postwar B.C.A. year shows that this organization has risen from an almost dormant state to that of a major extra-curricular attraction. The capable staff of officers which was responsible for many great achievements, was more than ably assisted by its very helpful faculty advisor, Dr. Walter H. Clark of the Department of Psychology. Headed by President Lifshitz, the other officers included Thomas K. Meakin, '46, Vice-President; Jordan H. Wine, '46, Secretary; and Donald W. Henderson, '50, Treasurer. Most notable and noteworthy activity of the year was the Bowdoin Conference of the Maine College Christian Associations on March 15 and 16 in the Moulton Union. At that time a permanent new organization was founded, including all the Christian Associations from ten colleges and junior colleges in Maine, and Bowdoin undertook the publication of a newspaper for the organization, the M.C.C.A. BULLETIN.

Highlighted throughout the year by such activities as the Campus Chest Weekend, the All-College Religious Forum in February, and the founding of the Student Committee for Political

Plans For First Campus Studio Near Completion

Present ORIENT Office Can Be Reconverted For Estimated $3000

Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47, President of Bowdoin-on-the-Air and member of the Campus Radio Studio Committee, has announced that the committee is nearing completion of a report on the Campus Radio Studio to be presented at the Commencement meeting of the Trustees.

Mr. Creighton F. Gatchell '72, of Station WGAN, Portland, member of the Alumni Committee for the Campus Radio Studio, brought to the May 7 meeting of the committee an engineer who had studied the Orient office in the Moulton Union. This is considered the best location for the new studio. Tentative estimates place the cost of constructing an acoustically good studio at $3,000. Other engineers are being consulted and building agents asked for estimates of the cost for the plans.

The report suggests that a M. broadcasting be made first, the studio being designed flexible enough for conversion to F. M. at a future date. This suggestion is made in view of the fact that there are no facilities now for the reception of F. M. The committee feels that it is desirable to purchase standard equipment as far as is financially feasible.

The construction of the studio is urged in the report for the publicity it will give to the College and for the training it will offer to men interested in broadcasting.

Fickett has announced that Bowdoin-on-the-Air is preparing to revise its constitution. "In anticipation of the considerable increase of personnel that campus broadcasting will require," Bowdoin-on-the-Air has a Studio Committee of which Clarence W. Fiedler, Jr. '49 is the chairman. Members are Robert R. Rudy, '46, C. Cabot Easton, John J. Mullane, Jr. '50, and Everett W. Gray '48.

[Continued on Page 4]

Taylor Requests More Interest In Social Problems

Burton W. Taylor, Associate Professor of Sociology, in chapel on Thursday, May 8, suggested that we adopt a more critical attitude towards science.

He reminded the assembled students of a date most of them had forgotten: May 8 was the second anniversary of V-E Day. Speaking of the past war he said that "it was the most scientific war ever fought." He went on to enumerate the multitude of devices developed during the war, such as radar and the atomic bomb.

He emphasized that science was a tool, a method, which can do no great good or harm. He sketched the growth of our faith in science; how, as it made more material gains, people came to believe in science.

Professor Taylor then scored the fundamental error in the thinking of people who feel that science will solve all our problems. He repeated that science is an automaton which would do our bidding—whether we wished to prolong human life or to efficiently eradicate life.

Sills To Conduct Last Philosophical Forum

President Sills will speak on Friday night in the Moulton Union Lounge at eight o'clock to all interested undergraduates and friends of the college, presenting a summary and brief talk on the activities of the Philosophical Religious Forum.

An ardent promoter of all religious projects and campus activities, President Sills generously accepted the offer to conduct this year's series of B.C.A. sponsored programs by conducting the informal talks.

Last Sunday evening in Conference B, Rev. Bradford Johnson spoke to members of the Bible Discussion Group on the subject of "Form Criticism of the New Testament." A graduate of Bowdoin College and Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Massachusetts, Rev. Mr. Johnson is minister of St. Paul's Church and College Chaplain of Episcopal undergraduates.

Barkley Speaks On Foreign Policy, Urges Support Of Truman Doctrine

"As You Like It"

LEADING PLAYERS and Director of the Commencement Play, "As You Like It" are, left to right, Nadine Morgan, Peter Poor '50 and Professor George H. Quinby.

Masque And Gown To Give "As You Like It" June 6

By H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45
The Bowdoin Masque and Gown, under the direction of George H. Quinby, Associate Professor of English, will present as its commencement offering William Shakespeare's "As You Like It."

The performance will take place on Friday, June 6th at 9:00 p.m., and will be over in time for the dance that evening at the Moulton Union.

This year the play will be presented under the trees in the center of the campus rather than on the steps of the Walker Art Building. This change in location should add immeasurably to the effectiveness of the presentation as much of the action takes place in a sylvan setting. The problem of the weather is the only thing which would hinder these plans.

When the play was produced in 1944, as part of the sequentennial program, it was forced indoors due to rain. Any of the spectators at the dress rehearsal in that year will recall the beauty of the setting and realize how seriously the play was handicapped by the indoor performance.

"As You Like It" has had a distinguished history in Bowdoin theatrics. This will be the fourth time that it has been played in twenty-two years. The present production has been cut to the essentials, following the script used in the production directed by Mrs. Arthur F. Brown in 1915 and 1916. Some of the men who appeared in those years are William D. Ireland, '16, Donald S. White, '16, Erik Achorn, '17, and the late Forbes Rickard, Jr. '17.

In those years the acting was centered around a large tree which had been placed in the middle of the Art Building terrace. The [Continued on Page 2]

Buck Scholarship Aids Pre-Medical Students

Bowdoin College has been advised of the establishment of a scholarship fund from the Estate of Anna S. Buck, to be known as the William Buck Scholarship Fund in memory of her late father, Dr. William Buck, a member of the Medical Class of 1899 and for almost fifty years a physician in Foxcroft.

Dr. Buck served in the Civil War as surgeon of the Sixth Maine Volunteers and represented his town in the state legislature at one time. The scholarship fund, amounting to $1500, is established with preference to premedical students from Piscataquis County.

All Vets Under P.L. 346 Must File Future Plans

Men leaving Bowdoin in June to enter other schools will receive a certificate of eligibility which will be required for enrollment in another college. Graduates must have their certificates signed by Mr. Philip S. Wilder, 17 Winthrop Hall; transfers should have theirs signed by Dean Kendrick. As this regulation is new, all veterans have not been notified. Therefore all eligible men should take note.

Senator Backs Ratification Of Satellite Power Treaties

By P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '46
A Bowdoin Institute audience which filled Memorial Hall on Saturday evening heard Alben W. Barkley, minority leader of the United States Senate, trace America's foreign policy from Washington's farewell address through the Truman Doctrine.

The Kentucky Democrat was introduced by the Republican majority leader, Senator Wallace H. White, Jr. '99, with whom he exchanged warm compliments.

"There has never been a time when the history of the United States was of more importance to the average American than it is at the present time," he said. Citing the impossibility of continuing isolation, he continued, "In this day of almost fantastic inventions by which time and space have been obliterated, no nation can be said to live to itself, or think it lives to itself."

Barkley urged ratification of the four treaties with satellite powers which are now before the congress. Supporting the Truman program for aid to Greece and Turkey, he added that "we do not, by aiding one nation, automatically commit ourselves to aid another unless its situation appeals to our judgment and our sense of obligation."

He touched upon his recent trip to the Middle East, in the company of Senator Ralph Owen Brewster '13 and other members of an investigating commission. He described interviews with King Paul, Queen Frederika and leaders of the Greek government. He also noted the economic problems of France, which he visited on his return trip.

Senator Barkley prefaced his address by expressing the pleasure which the visit to Maine had given him. He interspersed the more serious part of his talk with several amusing stories.

The speaker's schedule did not permit a conference, but a number of students talked briefly with him after the lecture at the home of President and Mrs. Kenneth C. M. Sills. On Sunday morning a special plane took him from Brunswick to Boston, where he connected with a flight to Washington.

June Graduates Given Carnegie Fund Exams

The Graduate Record Examinations of the Carnegie Foundation were given to the gymnastics on Thursday and Friday of last week to all members of the June graduating class.

These examinations, testing the seniors graduating in June of 1946 and 1947, were established here when former Dean Nixon promised the Graduate Record Office of the foundation that Bowdoin would cooperate in a postwar survey of American colleges.

The results, which are being made available by the Graduate Record Office, will be sent to the college and the individual participants together with a record and an analysis of the exams given at Bowdoin.

Sills Returns From Wash. Meetings; Declares Literacy Key To Defense

By Paul L. Bishop '49

Any form, the President has changed his mind to the extent that he now believes federal aid to the states in improving the salaries of teachers is necessary. He is against federal aid for privately controlled institutions. If aid is given to men in college after the G. I. program is over, he believes it should take the form of national competitive scholarships.

College credit for service programs was discussed at the meeting. Emphasis was also placed on "the need for teaching international good will in the school and college," President Sills said.

On April 28, the President attended the centennial of the Century Club of which he is a member.

The next day he traveled to Washington, D. C. to speak at the annual meeting of the Washington Bowdoin Alumni Association. Senator Ralph O. Brewster, '00, president, Philip O'Brien, '25, Department of Agriculture lawyer, Long opposed to federal aid in

Poll Finds Students Dislike Closed Shop

Describing the recent Student Opinion Poll as "representative of a large cross-section of the campus," Shepard Lifshitz, past President of the B.C.A. and representative of the Student Committee on Political Affairs, made known the results of the Poll conducted on April 30 by the Committee.

Student opinion ran as follows: Do you favor the Hartley Labor Bill (House)? Yes 39.7%. No 40.3%. Do you favor the abolition of the closed shop? Yes 73.6%. No 26.4%.

Do you approve of prohibition of nation-wide industry bargaining? Yes 43.9%. No 56.1%. Would you favor giving labor advisory power in the management of industry? Yes 53.7%. No 46.3%.

Do you think that the government should have the right to use the power of injunction to delay major strikes? Yes 80.8%. No 19.2%.

Would you approve the adoption of a system of compulsory arbitration for all American public utilities? Yes 77.6%. No 22.4%.

Would you favor the institution of compulsory arbitration in all American industries? Yes 48.8%. No 51.2%.

Do you think that labor should be given a greater share in the profits of industry? Yes 46.7%. No 53.3%.

Would you abolish the right to strike? Yes 15%. No 85%.

Do you think the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. should unite? Yes 30.5%. No 69.5%.

Would you favor a "planned economy"? Yes 33.7%. No 66.3%.

Do you approve increased governmental regulation of Labor relations (in regard to financial reports, etc.)? Yes 81.7%. No 18.3%.

[Continued on Page 2]

Slow Progress Dulls Student Enthusiasm

In a recent chapel speech concerning the work of the Grounds and Buildings Committee Professor Stanley P. Chase said in conclusion: "Service over a number of years on the Grounds and Buildings Committee inculcates certain of the Christian virtues: Patience, for one, and for another, Hope. For one does see certain things that existed at first in one man's dream becoming actualities."

It is quite natural for undergraduates, filled with the enthusiasm of youth, to be unsympathetic towards this attitude natural on the part of the College and their elders. Young men are very productive of imaginative dreams and demand that these be at once transformed into reality. But a college, like all society, is an essentially conservative institution.

The wheels of progress, unfortunately, seem to students to grind slowly, for it is not the students who are in control. A little theater, a covered hockey rink, a new science building, and a radio station on campus have all been in the idea stage for many years. Progress on them has been slow, at times even imperceptible. Now, however, that the College has laid plans for a huge financial drive, the goal is in sight.

But in the meantime, these and other enthusiastic dreams, which undergraduates love to discuss and build, have for them become empty and too far beyond the immediate horizon. They lose interest, and, disappointed, turn towards some new scheme. But each successive defeat dulls their enthusiasm somewhat, and their ambition to do great and idealistic deeds is to a degree lessened.

After constant discouragements youth loses its freshness; its never-ending supply of wonderful ideas dries up at the source. During his college years the average undergraduate comes to feel that the only alternative is to submit and conform to the system in which changes are made only after repeated and insistent demands have become well nigh irresistible.

It seems rather unfortunate that this situation should prevail. Enthusiastic youth looks to teachers, parents, and older people in general for sympathy and encouragement, for that pat on the back which is so helpful. Instead, usually all that is received is a warning that the proposal is without precedent . . . that it has never been done before.

Of course progress must be cautious, but it need not be made at a snail's pace. Mistakes are bound to result when new ideas are placed into operation. But one cannot judge the efficacy of anything accurately until its actual working can be studied.

Especially in these years of doubt, suspicion, and reaction encouragement for the genuine enthusiasms of future leaders is necessary. Experience and age tempers, but it also destroys.

R. A. W.

Atmosphere

The Hole-in-the-Wall and Vic's have an atmosphere of friendliness and joviality. A baseball game, especially if the home team is winning, has an atmosphere of enthusiasm; a funeral has one of gloom; a party one of gaiety—and so forth. But one thing all atmospheres have in common is that a person entering one is affected by it. A grouch cheers up a bit at a gay party; a humorist tones down some at a funeral. An atmosphere may not change the whole outlook of a person, but it does push him in the general direction.

Perhaps you are wondering why all of this is in an editorial column.

As you may have imagined, we have noticed an atmosphere at Bowdoin which is in the background but which should be in the foreground.

At the great risk of frightening away a good many readers we will call this atmosphere "intellectual curiosity." Now by intellectual curiosity we do not mean a book-wormish, bi-focal, pseudo-philosophical curiosity. We do, however, mean an intellectual interest in things with which a person comes in contact. This may mean a thoughtful consideration of world affairs. It may mean doing extra, unre-quired reading, or it may take the form of provocative discussions. No matter how it manifests itself it still is an intellectual interest.

There has been almost as much editorial comment about the value of intellectual curiosity as there has been on keeping off the newly planted grass seed—so we will just mention in passing that it does have a value.

What we would like to do is suggest that there is a contagion about it; that it is catching.

In one of his best known essays, "Oxford as I See It," Stephen Leacock wondered how Oxford was able to produce the scholars she has. He decided it was through an atmosphere created by a person called the tutor. "We go over to his rooms," said one student, "and he just lights a pipe and talks to us." "We sit around with him," said another, "and he simply smokes and goes over our exercises with us." From this and other evidence I gather what an Oxford tutor does is to get a little group of students together and smoke at them. Men who have been systematically smoked at for four years turn into ripe scholars. If anybody doubts this, let him go to Oxford and he can see the thing actually in operation."

A. B. P.

MacMillan '98 To Head Sailing Club Fund

Commander Donald B. MacMillan, '98 U.S.N., has accepted the position of chairman of the Bowdoin Sailing Club fund-raising committee.

This committee will be in charge of writing out letters to alumni and friends of the college interested in sailing at Bowdoin. It is the intention of the committee that these letters be sent out sometime before July first. Also it is the hope of the committee that the fund-raising be successful enough to permit the Bowdoin Sailing Club to act as hosts to the Inter-Collegiate Yacht Racing Association by next fall or at least by the Spring of 1948.

European Youth Wish To Hear From Students

The U. S. Office of Education is offering to American students the opportunity of corresponding with German and Austrian students, either in English, or in German. The primary purpose of this offer is to bring a closer and more friendly relationship between European and American students. Not only does this correspondence serve this purpose, but it also gives the American student an intimate view of European Universities and Colleges.

Anybody who wishes to take up this offer of corresponding with German or Austrian students may see Walter S. Mather '50 who has procured a portfolio of letters through the Bowdoin Christian Association.

Commencement Play

[Continued from Page 1] action was kept flowing steadily except for one brief intermission, while in the present play modern techniques will be employed such as following the actors' entrances and exits through the grove of trees with spot lights.

Playing the leads as Rosalind and Orlando are, Nadine Morgan and Peter Poor. Florence Smith, Betty Warner Smith, and Donna Trufant will play Celia, Phebe, and Audrey, respectively. James Cook will play Jaques Berkeley Peabody will play Touchstone; Douglas Carmichael the Banished Duke; Hayden Goldberg, Adam; Richard Williams, Oliver; George Fogg, Charles; Howard Dwyer, Lebeau; Nelson Towers, the Duke Frederick; Fred Weidner, Amiens; Arnold Cooper, Corin; Bill Feeney, Silvius; Russell Washburne, William; Noel Coletti, Jacques deBoys; and Norman Tronerud, Leonart Sandquist, and Donald Lyons, attendants. William Hap and Leonard Sandquist are the stage managers, while Anna Staples will do the costumes.

Seniors' Chapel To Take Place At Noon On May 16

Traditionally, the Seniors' Last Chapel Service has been a part of the Ivy Day Ceremonies, but this year, according to Mr. Philip S. Wilder, assistant to the President, it will take place during the regular noon Chapel Service on May 16.

After an address and benediction by President Kenneth C. M. Sills, the Seniors will march from the Chapel behind the Class Marshal singing "Auld Lang Syne." The Marshal for the June graduation will be Robert E. Crozier '45.

Mimeographed instruction sheets will be found by the Seniors on their seats upon their entry into Chapel. They are requested to dress suitably for the occasion.

Summer Officers

[Continued from Page 1]

geramo '45, Vice President, George W. Hickey '48, Secretary, and James Whitcomb '48, Treasurer.

Stanford G. Blankinship 2nd '45, has been elected President of Zeta Psi along with Richard M. Burston '49, Vice President, Lewis F. Fickett Jr. '47, Secretary, and Everett W. Gray '48, Treasurer.

The Kappa Sigmas have elected as their new officers: Harold Palmer Jr. '48, President, Gordon W. Olson Jr. '49, Vice President, Paul S. Hennessey '49, Secretary, and Martin E. Wooden '49, Treasurer.

The new officers for Beta Theta Pi are headed by Frank K. Schenk '46, President, Harold N. Burnham Jr. '48, Vice President, Robert H. Allen '46, Treasurer, Henry J. Bracchi Jr. '46, Secretary.

The new President of the Sigma Nus is Woodridge Brown '48 with John H. Garvin Jr. '46, Vice President, Andrew W. McLaughlin '42, Treasurer, and Loring E. Hart '47, Secretary.

The Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity elected John R. Cramer Jr. '45 as President, Richard C. Acker '49, Vice President, John H. Farrell '46, Secretary, and Conrad Peacock '49, to serve as Treasurer.

Pres. Sills Returns

[Continued from Page 1]

is secretary-treasurer. Among the members present were Representative Robert Hale, '10, who is succeeding Senator Brewster as president of the Association, Sumner T. Pike, '13, of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Associate Justice Harold H. Burton, '09, of the Supreme Court. Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., '09, was unable to attend because he was at the White House attending a dinner for the President of Mexico.

English Instructor Reviews Quill; Gives Oscar To Bourjaily's Effort

By Edward Lyons

The Quill editor opens the March issue with a plea for more material. "We were not bothered," he says, "as were those editors of the December, 1932 issue of the Quill with an inability to get into the Quill office for the manuscripts that were scattered around." As a result of a serious apathy on the part of the student body some contributors' names appear two or three times in the brief table of contents. The editor might have been pardoned a moment of prior optimism. With almost a thousand men enrolled, 70 percent veterans, and many of them home from the greatest emotional upheaval on human record, the literary organ of a liberal arts college with Bowdoin's reputation just could have snowed under with human documents eager to communicate some of the meaning of the great crisis in terms of the world and its complexities. Evidently the war has become the late unpleasantness already to most of us. Or else the size of a student body is no gauge of its literacy, even though it is presumed that all men admitted to Bowdoin can, in fact, read and write. There is a fallacy in the quantitative index of value, which as a people the United States has always cherished.

The Quill staff may take a bow all around for their labors. The cover design and the physical makeup have distinction and simplicity, and the heavy paper feels like a return to a day of aesthetic discrimination before shoddy suits sold for eighty five dollars in the chaotic world of the succumbed to biographical narcissism, and values in general had taken a journey to the center of the earth. But within the covers the values are contemporary.

John Dos Passos, writing a 1932 introduction to his 1919 novel, Three Soldiers, says, "We write today for the first American generation not brought up on the chaos of Being, but in a world where the artistic discipline." The endemic virus of "naturalism" is implicit in the writings of most novices today, and there is a connection between this circumstance and the passing of an old discipline to which Dos Passos refers. Naturalism as an artistic attitude is a corollary to the central mode of our time—the "scientific" method; and it is the scientific method with which we are inoculated in the cradle. We begin, with the first throw-away baby nipple that goes between our lips, to be depersonalized and treated as case histories. We end up behind the wheel of a ninety horsepower, chromium striped horror with "airflow-fenders," "fireball-power," "lifelike-pistons," "permeiform-steering," "deepflex-cushions," and so on until the catchwords complete their seduction.

In the dead level which this machine-like objectivity imposes on a story there is something sinister, an aloofness, a dread of the world and of the life in the warmth and color life has when we get close enough to examine

it. Sometimes it makes one long for a double portion of the kind of exuberance Kipling served in Soldiers. Three, with its racy romanticism, its unabashed and highly individualized characters. Emerson in his essay "Compensation" reminds us that, "An immutable dualism bisects nature, so that each thing is a half, and suggests another thing to make it whole." The pendulum is always swinging, and the arts are not exempt from the primal oppositions of subjectivity and objectivity. The sobby syrups oozing over the airways from tinpan ality may be an antidote for the equally unwholesome restraints of naturalism. The two kinds of things stand opposite each other at the bisecting line.

The trick in much modern fiction is to ape fact by the trick of aping fact—nothing more. The whole effort is to make it seem like journalism. One saw the advance of this tendency in the quasi-report style Christopher La Farge used in a series of stories for the Atlantic Monthly during the war, and it is reflected in the steady gain of non-fiction books on the sales lists during the last decade. However, there is more to art than journalism. For some of us today the artistic discipline is the sole surviving one, and therefore the last anchor of salvation.

From prison Boethius warns that the power of the mind lies in keeping it tense. To unstring it is to ruin it. Elsewhere he considers faith to be an instrument of communication with Providence. Providence may be only a human fantasy whereby order is imposed on the chaos of Being, but in an age without faith, as this is for the moment, an age of ethical relativism, the part of man that exercises faith comes unstrung for want of a Providence to communicate with. It shows in his art, in his literature. It shows in the Quill, the Saturday Evening Post, the New Masses.

Where would our authors in the Quill get a vision of Providence in a world they never made? Out of their own bowels if they intend to be in the vanguard, and they are well begun. Somewhere between the discarded purple of the last century and the steel grey of this they will find a region where the creator can function with power at fever heat and never fear that gust of our time—the "scientific" method; and it is the scientific method with which we are inoculated in the cradle. We begin, with the first throw-away baby nipple that goes between our lips, to be depersonalized and treated as case histories. We end up behind the wheel of a ninety horsepower, chromium striped horror with "airflow-fenders," "fireball-power," "lifelike-pistons," "permeiform-steering," "deepflex-cushions," and so on until the catchwords complete their seduction.

In the dead level which this machine-like objectivity imposes on a story there is something sinister, an aloofness, a dread of the world and of the life in the warmth and color life has when we get close enough to examine the wagon bed. The powder-dry we cursed for its acrid dust that stings the eyes and chokes the nostrils any of it in the act of creaking. Mr. Williams, piece is well written, but the dung traffic was ever hostile to the muse. We have Hawthorne's word that it begot only blisters on his palms at Brook Farm. And we can verify this personally, having moved, man and boy, mind you, considerably more of the rich stuff than Nathaniel ever did. There is a beauty and ripeness in it not to be denied, but its enriching power doesn't transpire. We find slumbering corpses and, gauntly ineptly combined in a symbolism that doesn't quite come off. We end earthbound in the Rhine graveyard, when we were hoping to soar.

THE DYING YEAR
"Autumn is the strangest of the seasons. The holy time is quiet as a n—," ah, that is: "The dying year is strangled by the sun."

The "Dying Year" carries us through a dervish sequence in which the sun first strangles a hapless year some moons before its time, then explodes with the suddenness of night (and you know how sudden that is.) Meanwhile the earth, bereft of its year, progresses from a shiver to a halt, probably in astonishment when the light goes out. An earth with no year to guide it must feel like the man who tried to drive black hogs on a dark night. Nothing daunted, however, the wind carries on in the third ring of this teapot Gotterdammerung with a biting, a stiffening, and a collapse. The whole is embroidered simultaneously with islands that flame and float, shuddering spruces, a fire that whistles, and an oak that splits a coast on a reciprocal arrangement before it goes into its flicker. "It was as if . . . like tails of comets in the hollowed night" faint echoes of Dylan Thomas' bone-rattled imagery had teased someone into making this rather private kind of literature. The echo, however, is fainter than Cathy calling from the downs, and Heathcliff would do well to cup an ear twice before pursuing the eldritch lure of gobbledygook.

THE GUYS WHO WON THE WAR
This piece gets the Oscar for the March issue. It illuminates a significant moment behind which lies a plea for universal brotherhood, and only once on page twenty, does it stoop to catchism to make its point. It doesn't matter that the brawl in the cocktail bar is senseless, that the comrades are in the wrong, and that the author permits Philip a

[Continued on Page 4]

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH
NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

YOU GET EXTRA LIVELINESS from the new center in the Spalding and Wright & Ditson tennis balls. Tests prove they have uniform high bounce — at the top of USLTA rebound standards. Let 'em live up your game!

SPALDING
SETS THE PACE IN SPORTS

Wright & Ditson takes honors as the only tennis ball used in the National Championships for 60 years . . . and in every Davis Cup match played in the U. S. Official ball of most big time tournaments is either Spalding or Wright & Ditson — both made by Spalding. Play your best with one of the Twins of Championship Tennis.
Both Made by Spalding

Mrs. Dorothy Levesque, the Moulton Union Store's manager-extraordinary, wishes to express her appreciation to all Bowdoin students and faculty members who have so well cooperated with her during the past year in making the college store such a great success.

The College Book Store
TENNIS BALLS 3 in can $1.75
TENNIS RACKETS $4.25 to $14.50
We Restring Rackets — Very Promptly
Nylon $4.00 Gut $6.50
F. W. CHANDLER & SON

SAVE 42% ON SOX BUY DIRECT

Men's Hotfoot Sox in Gay Spring Colors

Save $1.71 on New Spring Sox by taking advantage of this special 12 pair bonus offer. Each box contains a colorful assortment of solid, striped, yellow, blue, green, tan and orange. A pair of Sox for every occasion. Durable elastic top... half wool for comfort... half cotton for wear. Boys' sizes 8 to 12 (inclusive), 1 shoe. Men's sizes 10 to 13 (inclusive), 1 shoe. Suggested for dress wear... tough for work. A $4.00 retail value for $2.29. Fill in the coupon now and enclose with remittance. We pay postage.

BEN LEE WHOLESALE CO.
GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

CUMBERLAND

Thurs. May 15
THE BEGINNING OR THE END

with Brian Donlevy - Robert Walker also

Fri.-Sat. May 16-17
SUDDENLY ITS SPRING

with Paulette Goddard - Fred MacMurray also

Paramount News Short Subject

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. May 18-20
Robert Walker - Judy Garland

TILL THE CLOUDS ROLL BY

also Paramount News

Wed.-Thurs. May 21-22
THE GUILT OF JANET AMES

with Ronald Russell - Melvyn Douglas also

Fri.-Sat. May 23-24
Jane Wyatt - Dana Andrews

BOOMERANG also Paramount News Short Subjects

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49
Johnston Peck '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '49
Albert B. Patton '50
Raymond S. Trench '50
Sports Editor George F. McCallahan '48
Feature Editor H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '48
Editorial Assistants: P. Kendall Niven, Jr. '48, Wil-
Ham E. Anderson '47, Bart B. Archibald, Jr. '48,
Paul L. Bishop '48, Carl Z. Cooper '49, William
M. Davis '48, Daniel L. Dayton '48, Charles T.
Dillaway '48, Edward E. Murphy '49, George
Purdie '48, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Francis E.
Curcio '50, Samuel T. Gilmere '50, Donald W.
Hosman '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50, Constantine
Kardoumis '50, Richard A. Lewis '50, John E.
Nixon III '50, Robert J. Waldron '50, J. Russell
Washburne, Jr. '50
Contributing Editors Nelson L. Torrey '48
Alfred F. Webster '47
Raymond E. Swift '48
Staff Photographer Frederick D. Wildman '48
Managing Editor Of This Issue
Raymond S. Trench '50

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager O. Cabot Easton '48
Assistant Business Manager Arnold Cooper '48
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmuck '48
C. Craig Ryder '48
Francis E. Curcio '50
Advertising Managers Alfred J. Waxler '47
Edward S. Early '49
W. Churchill Crosey '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Cantalamessa '48,
James E. Whitcomb '48, Charles T. Dillaway '48,
Hayden B. Goldberg '48, H. Noyes Moscorber '48,
Robert T. Tanner '49, Robert B. Barker '50, Gar-don F. Link '50, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '50

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Atherton P. Daggett
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown
O. Cabot Easton '48
Richard A. Wiley '49

RESIDENT FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address correspondence to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union Store, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

By Wolfgang Rosenberg

In the 1947 WORLD ALMANAC (Book of Facts), Bowdoin is listed as having 140 students and 49 teachers.

Now Is Time to dine at the Club
Good Food • Reasonable

AL & LUMBER ANY

bott '13 of Portland.

SMOKI

NG

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALL OVER AMERICA—CHESTERFIELD IS TOPS!

The Air Forces have reopened Aviation Cadet training to qualified civilians 18 to 26½ years of age. Men selected for training as pilots under the terms of the program must be single and have had at least two years of college education, or the equivalent, in an accredited institution. Upon successful completion of the course, graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the Army Air Forces.

Make your plans now to get in at the start! By applying immediately after graduation, you can take your qualifying examinations and enter the July 1st class, or—if you want a summer vacation—you can take your examinations now and be ready to enter the class beginning October 15th. Further information is available at AAF Bases, U. S. Army Recruiting Stations, local Civil Air Patrol headquarters, or by writing to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington 25, D. C.

He is a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity.

Standards Of Education Need Revision

During the war and the trying years which followed Bowdoin accomplished a remarkable task not only in maintaining her very existence but in largely upholding her standards of education. But now that conditions are returning slowly to normal, it is well to reexamine those standards to determine whether they are still adequate.

The stress today is being laid on practical education, training in a specific field or for a given profession. Few young men are interested in obtaining a true liberal education—learning not the means of earning a living, but the reason for their living.

Higher education and a college degree are becoming more commonplace, virtual passports to higher salaries. And in our society, with rare exceptions, a man is judged only by the salary he receives. Thus colleges today are swamped with young men eager for the opportunities a college education will open to them.

Abnormal enrollment in the small liberal arts college has brought many of the disadvantages of larger institutions and at the same time has destroyed many virtues of the smaller school.

Classes have steadily grown until some have even exceeded 120. Conferences too have grown larger. Objective examinations have pitted students against one another, rather than against a standard. Size has brought complexity and with it increased impersonality. Faculty and students draw further apart.

Too much stress is likely to be laid on extracurricular activities, even to the point of displacing the classroom. Students see in the newspaper, or debating, or dramatics more of post-college value to them. They cry for the realities of a radio studio and a little theater.

This then is the dilemma—how to satisfy the demand for education for practical purposes and yet not sacrifice the aim of a true liberal education which can best be obtained at the small college like Bowdoin.

To attain this several curriculum changes seem necessary. A course in laboratory science is compulsory and advisable for every undergraduate. Yet in first year courses in science no provision is made for the men who are taking them only under compulsion.

Another need is for a general required course in the background of our civilization. This might be a first year history course expanded into two years with visiting lecturers. Such a course would be especially advisable for men majoring in science.

It seems not impossible that a happy compromise can be reached. Faculty members can be relieved of many administrative tasks so that they may return to their primary responsibility of teaching. More faculty members will make possible smaller classes and more individual attention. Real general courses in the broad fields of learning should be instituted so that every Bowdoin man will have a common background of understanding.

These are heavy demands which will involve heavy drains on the capital funds of the college. The result should be worth the outlay. For otherwise the College runs the risk of having the campus overwhelm the classroom and the practical displace the ideal.

R. A. W.

No Student Opinion

"There is no such thing as student opinion," exclaimed a member of the Bowdoin faculty before an audience of a group of undergraduates and their fathers. "But," he added, "there is such a thing as opinion of students."

This statement contains much truth. Many readers have thought that on occasion the ORIENT has "shaded" the news, run too many columns of opinion, made too many errors in articles and headlines which have actually altered the meaning of the news stories. There have been mistakes made. But we still take issue with the contention that the ORIENT does not reflect "student opinion."

The present editor of the ORIENT wrote in his "Statement of Policy" editorial that the "ORIENT will adopt a simple platform of objectives and will campaign relentlessly for their achievement." He added, however, that this would not mean "sensational journalism."

"Sensational journalism" is a term hurled at every newspaper when it takes a firm stand on a current issue. It has come to be used like "Communist"—a label for what a certain person or group does not like.

But "sensational journalism" does not mean that when a newspaper, especially a college newspaper, takes a stand it is not reflecting the opinion of its readers. The undergraduate body as a whole does not and cannot write the news stories and editorials; they make the news and cause the editorials.

There is no newspaper that agrees wholeheartedly with its readers. Nor should any newspaper attempt to do so. Any definite stand is bound to irritate someone. The ORIENT does not claim to present the opinion of the undergraduate body to its readers. The editors believe that it is rather the function of this newspaper to present complete coverage of any problems confronting the campus and to offer the opinion of the editors as only one answer to these problems.

J. H. N., Jr.

Ford, Hale Win Coveted Honors

[Continued from Page 1]

of the Russell Sage Foundation; for some years Vice President of the Provident Loan Society of New York—valiant, sensible and resourceful foe of loan "sharks" in whatever guise, showing that a good business head can be successfully combined with a heart set on social reform and progress—with his scholarly pen also a contributor to the literature on Small and Chattel Loans—beloved and trusted by hundreds of friends and honored today by his Alma Mater for service well performed to her and to his community.

Honoris Causa Master of Arts Cadwallader Lincoln Washburn of Brunswick and Livermore Falls, artist, member of a famous Maine and Bowdoin family, son of United States Senator William Drew Washburn of Minnesota of the Class of 1854; a member of the Class of 1893 Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Bachelor of Arts and Honorary Doctor of Science of Gallaudet College of Washington, one of the most distinguished of American etchers whose dry points are internationally known and admired and who is represented in the British Museum, the Bibliotheque Nationale of Paris, the Ryke Museum of Amsterdam, appropriately since his etchings have much of the quality of Rembrandt's—by no means limiting himself to art as he has served as war correspondent in Mexico and as a collector of rare birds and nests in the Marquesas Islands, who deprived of hearing and of speech, by his courage and intellectual virility has made for himself an outstanding name in American art, rightly honored by a College that is proud of its art collections and that emphasizes for youth the importance of Art.

Honoris Causa Doctor of Humane Letters James Edward Rhodes 2nd of Hartford, of the Class of 1897, Bachelor of Laws of the University of Maine, a Maine Yankee in the Connecticut Court of Insurance; for two score years attorney for the Travelers Insurance Company, practicing and teaching the law as it applies to the beneficent business of insurance, staunch churchman, devoted to the College, for many years the head and front of Bowdoin activity in Connecticut, annual benefactor of the Library, today honored for his own character and attainments and as a representative of the loyal alumni of the Connecticut Valley and as secretary of the fifty year class, noted for many contributions to college and community, especially in the profession of teaching.

Honoris Causa Master of Arts John Ford of Hollywood, one of the country's great directors of motion pictures, native of Portland and graduate of the Portland High School, Doctor of Fine Arts of the University of Maine, for more than thirty years connected with the movies from property man to director, artist who can bring out in clean, strong shows the dramatic and human elements in such screen plays as They Were Expendable, Grapes of Wrath, and How Green Was My Valley, recipient of many decorations and awards, serving courageously during the war as lieutenant commander in the Navy and wounded while directing the great picture, the Battle of Midway, bound to many veterans by the award of the Purple Heart—held in the highest esteem by the people of Maine who believe his influence has been all for the good in one of the most influential industries of the land and gladly taken into the fellowship of Bowdoin College both for his own personal character and charm and for the profession which he represents.

Honoris Causa Master of Arts William Hodding Carter of Greenville, Mississippi and Rockport, Maine, Bachelor of Arts of the Class of 1927, Honorary Master of Arts of Harvard University, in college a '68 prize speaker and winner of the Forbes Rickard prize poetry, journalist and novelist, fearless editor who has not hesitated to contend against Huey Long in Louisiana and Senator Bilbo in Mississippi, patriotic editor of the Near Eastern edition of the Stars and Stripes, Pulitzer Prize winner for journalism in 1946, southern by birth and herit-

[Continued on Page 4]

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Athorn P. Daggett
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown
C. Cabot Easton '49
Richard A. Wiley '49

National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
GROSVENOR • ADVERTISING • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address all correspondence to the Editor and subscription correspondence to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Bowdoin Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
of BRUNSWICK, MAINE
Capital and Surplus $250,000
Total Resources over $5,000,000
Student Patronage Solicited

PHILCAS DOES THE COOKING BEST
BRUNSWICK HARDWARE

DOROTHY LEVESQUE MILDRED HASKELL
Moulton Union Store

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY
FUEL OILS
BOTTLED GAS
BUILDING MATERIALS

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES TO THE GRADUATES OF 1947

Seven Other Honorary Degree Recipients

HONORARY DEGREES were also awarded: left to right; top row, Arthur A. Hauck, Hodding Carter, Frederick William Anthonsen, Arthur Harold Ham; bottom row, James Edward Rhodes, 2nd, Gane Dunn, Cadwallader Lincoln Washburn.

An Undergraduate Reviews "Quill," Finds Poetry Largely Meaningless

By Arthur Sherbo '47

Possibly I am still naive in thinking that poetry — good poetry, that is — does not demand a violent effort of comprehension on the part of the intelligent reader, nor an equally violent straining for the unusual and esoteric on the part of the poet. Good poetry contains in it the element of shock; that shock, in no way disagreeable, which we experience when a line or a phrase or an idea leaps out at us, and we feel that we are in the presence of something familiar, something we have known before; something that has now been expressed for us. Too much undergraduate poetry tends to strive for the unusual note, the startling juxtaposition of words, the untried image — and too often such attempts result in the merely bewildering or meaningless.

This issue, May 1947, is not free from such attempts. Mr. Peabody's "Fragment" contains, in only four lines, three separate and, to my mind, discordant pictures. The "damp horizon" is personified as drawing a "dark shroud close"; a "misty dragon fades above"; and the poet is "caught and twisted in the night's mighty folds." I carry away no definite picture from this fragment; there is no cumulative effect wrought upon me by the three images. The poem says nothing to me.

Similarly Mr. Cook's more ambitious sequence of four sonnets entitled "The Twisted Keys" parodies the esoteric and exemplifies another characteristic of undergraduate poetry; a constant and almost obsessive preoccupation with life and death — and with sex. The third sonnet of the sequence depicts some sort of sexual experience — either physical or mystical — else I have grossly misunderstood it. But the very fact of my uncertainty is what

I hold against the poem and its fellows. What does Mr. Cook wish to imply by "the liquid tangle of ourselves that wove a knot"? I have my suspicions, but they are weakened rather than strengthened by that "liquid tangle."

There are other passages and phrases in the four poems that puzzle me, but it would be unfair to isolate them from their context. It is my belief that Mr. Cook — and this holds for Mr. Pliskin, "What Is Real?"; and to a lesser extent to H.P., "A Villanelle" — will write better poetry once he comes to the realization that poetry must be shared with others. H.P.'s "A Villanelle" read aloud, seems the most worthwhile verse effort, yet I could wish that he had confined himself more to a picture of silent nature and had soft-pedaled the cosmic theme.

Mr. Carmichael is to be congratulated. He has done a worthwhile, pleasing, and workmanlike rendering of Canto VI of Dante's "Purgatorio." His translation is quite faithful to the original, and the only thing one could ask — and I realize it cannot be had — is an approximation of the rhythms and mellifluous quality of the original Italian.

Mr. Pettengill's surprise-ending poem provides a refreshing change. Except for the mystery of the single snowflake track, it is clear and direct. Mr. Pettengill should work on technique, and he should remember that even his trapper-narrator cannot be excused some glaringly prosaic lines that have no place in poetry. It will comfort him to remember that it is a fault of which Wordsworth is also guilty. Mr. Williams, "Carmotiel," would have done well to leave God out of his poem; He has no place there. I cannot devote the space I should like to Mr. Bourjaily's provocative "Letter to Irving Pliskin." I should suggest, however, that in view of the recent publication of Sinclair Lewis's "Kingsblood Royalty" the theory of the advisability of treating certain themes in certain periods must not be taken too literally. Granted that Sinclair Lewis has all the technique that Mr. Pliskin is advised to work for. In the last analysis, no piece of literature which treats of an existent social problem should be termed anachronistic. Yet I am not satisfied with Mr. Pliskin's "Man of Distinction." He has rewritten a story which is far from new, and he has not added anything to it. His "Man of Distinction" — I am not trying for a cheap effect — does not become very distinct, and his ending is too concocted to admit of any effective irony.

Mr. Carmichael's "The Mountain," Mr. Kirwin's "One," and Mr. Hupp's "Ash Wednesday Morn" are interesting examples of the attempt to describe states of mind and how they are affected by people and by external accidents. What they set out to do is difficult, and it is to their credit that they succeeded to the extent which they did.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cup: Joseph Willcutt Woods '47.
Roscoe James Ham Prize in Reading German: Leonard Edward Hart '46, Alan Livingston Logan '42.
Kappa Sigma Fraternity Prize: Roger Nelson Williams '46.

Sumner I. Kimball Prize for Excellence in Natural Sciences: Harold Ormand Curtis '45.
Horace Lord Piper Prize for Best Essay on Peace: Malcolm Searle Stevenson '50.
Philo Sherman Bennett Prize for Best Essay on Principles of Free Government: Lewis Perley Fickett, Jr. '47.

Stanley Plummer Prize in Public Speaking: Frederick William Lacey, Jr. '49.
Forbes Rickard Poetry Prize: Vance Nye Bourjaily '44.
Messervie Prize in Chemistry: Walter William Harvey '46, Raymond Clifford Bourgeois '46.
Haldane Cup: William Edmund MacIntyre '47.

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

NOTICE

1947 GRADUATES

Keep in touch with Bowdoin activities. Enter your subscription to the BOWDOIN ORIENT at the office, Second Floor, Moulton Union, Saturday morning or afternoon, June 7. Only $2.00 a year. Copies sent anywhere in the world.

BOWDOIN ALUMNI

Commencement issue copies may be purchased from our sellers on campus or from the office. If you would like to receive the ORIENT throughout the year, please enter your subscription at the ORIENT office.

EDITORIAL STAFF
Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49
Johnston Pease '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '49
Albert B. Peiffer '49
Raymond S. Troubh '49
Sports Editor George F. McCalland '49
Feature Editor H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45
Editorial Assistants: P. Kendall Nason, Jr. '46, William S. Angerson '47, Earl S. Archibald, Jr. '46, Paul L. Bishop '46, Carl J. Cooper '46, William M. Davis '46, Daniel L. Egerton '46, Charles T. Dillman '46, Edward E. Murphy '46, George Partridge '46, Ralph E. Anderson '46, Francis R. Currie '46, Samuel T. Gilmore '46, Donald W. Emerson '46, Henry W. Jones, Jr. '46, Constantine Kourkounis '46, Richard A. Leavitt '46, John F. Norcross III '46, Robert J. Waldron '46, J. Russell Washburn, Jr. '46
Contributing Editors Nelson L. Towers '47
Alfred F. Waldron '47
Raymond H. Swift '49
Staff Photographer Frederick B. Whitman '48
Managing Editor Of This Issue Richard A. Wiley '49

Shay To Coach Basketball As Huether Resigns Post

Branch Takes Maine State Tennis Singles

Waterville, May 19th. Matt Branche, Bowdoin's jack-of-all-trades, added another triumph to his already star-studded career by capturing the Maine Intercollegiate Tennis Singles Championship here today whipping Bob Strong of Bates in straight sets 6-3 and 6-4.

Branch downed Bob Southard of Maine in the opening round 6-2, 6-8, 6-3 and Bud Everts of Colby in the semi-finals 6-3, 9-7. Conrad Rosander, Bowdoin's only other entry, was eliminated in the first round. Due to exams Branche and Rosander were forced to pass up the doubles.

The summary:
First round:
Branche (Bowdoin) defeated Southard (Maine) 6-2, 6-8, 6-3.
Everts (Colby) defeated Stevenson (Bates) 6-2, 6-7.
Van Peuren (Maine) defeated Robinson (Colby) 6-1, 6-0.
Strong (Bates) defeated Rosander (Bowdoin) 6-2, 6-5, 6-4.
Semifinals:
Branche defeated Everts 6-3, 9-7.
Strong defeated Van Peuren 6-4, 6-2.
Final:
Branche defeated Strong 6-3, 6-4.

$2045 Announced As Result Of Chest Drive

The final results of the Campus Chest Drive for 1947 have been announced by Warren H. Dunning II '48, Chairman of the Committee for 1948.

After expenses of approximately $300 and taxes of $315 a fund of $2,045 remains. While the fund did not reach its goal of $3,000, the Committee felt that it came close enough to warrant its continuance; and plans are already underway for 1948. Assisting Dunning will be Sanford R. Sistrup '50 and Walter S. Mather '50.

The financial statement is as follows:

Paid to date
American Red Cross	$ 452.00
World Student Service Fund	380.00
United Jewish Appeal	25.00
World Youth Fund	25.00
Crippled Children's Fund	75.00
Sub-total	$ 957.00
To be paid
Community Chest	$ 615.00
Cancer Research	351.00
Miscellaneous	122.00
Total	$ 2,045.00

Cindermen Take 4th At Worcester As Branche Stars

Worcester, May 17th. Jack Magee's hammer throwers scored the only sweep of the day and Matt Branche set a meet record in the high hurdles, but otherwise Bowdoin's cindermen were outclassed, and the Polar Bears with 20 points, placed fourth behind Tufts, Trinity, and Springfield in an eleven team Eastern Intercollegiate Meet field at Worcester Tech Field today.

John Sabasteanski led Magee's hammermen with a 152 foot toss. Vic Fortin, Phil Newton, and Phil Parsons followed closely to give the Big White their monopoly. Branche got a tough break in the high hurdles when he tripped and fell on the last barrier losing a first place, but recovering just in time to take fourth.

He also saw his 22 foot 3 inch broad jump attempt in the morning trial be surpassed by 6 inches in the afternoon, but he made up for it in the low hurdles. His record shattering 24.4 foot lowering the old mark by two tenths of a second came in the semi-finals. His final effort was not as fast but just as effective as he won easily. Injuries sustained in his spill prevented Bowdoin's captain-elect from scoring in the high jump.

A 4.23 mile, a 1.57 half mile, a 48 quarter, and a 9.7 hundred among other performances shut out the rest of the Bowdoin runners. Another disappointment saw John Taussig fail to qualify in either the shot or discus.

Bowdoin Fathers

[Continued from Page 1]
Bowdoin the College that is — by promoting: a family-like relationship between fathers and the College... and "A definite College link between the fathers and sons for sharing responsibility and participation in College matters and activities..." will have a reserved table at the Commencement Dinner in the Hyde Athletic Building.

D. D. GARDNER CO.
SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

1947 Varsity Baseball Squad

1947 POLAR BEAR NINE which downed Colby 15-11 to earn a tie for the State Series crown.

Diamondmen Outwalk Colby, 15-11, Lose To Tufts, 3-2 After 12 Innings

By David Crowell '49

Closing the State Series in what must have been most horrendous contest ever played at Pickard Field, Bowdoin outwalked Colby 15 to 11 on May 15th. With this victory the Polar Bears earned a tie for the State Crown.

Five Colby hurriers issued twenty-two bases on balls and hit three batters — fourteen of these passes coming in the fourth and fifth — directly accounting for twelve Bowdoin runs. Four errors and five hits added to the Bowdoin count.

Russell and Pendleton were scarcely more effective on the hill for the home nips. The Bowdoin ace, who started, passed three and allowed four hits before he retired with a sore arm in the fourth. Don Russell relieved, but allowed seven hits and six walks while gaining credit for the victory.

Evan Cox, Bowdoin catcher filling in for the injured Eddie Gillen, sustained a split forefinger in the fourth frame, adding to Dan MacFayden's woes. But Pete King substituted ably behind the plate.

The Bowdoinmen had scored their two runs in the second inning, going ahead 2 to 1. Joe Flanagan opened with a hit to left field and after Beem swung at a third strike, Kolankiewicz hit Clarke on the arm with a soft pitch. Dick Burston's liner to right scored Flanagan and Clarke went to third on the hit, scoring when Bill Kearns threw wide to first after sharply to left and scored on Frank Bennett's single. The count remained knotted until Tufts' unearned run scored in the twelfth.

The box score:
a-Batted for Kolankiewicz in 8th
a-Batted for Sillsby in 12th
Tufts 3 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1-3
Bowdoin 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-2

Moe Densmore climaxed the 1947 baseball season on May 17 with a brilliant twelve-inning pitching performance against the high-riding Tufts College nine, but his own error in the final frame enabled the Jumbos to win 3 to 2.

The visitors, boasting a nine and one record, found the Bow-

Coaches Announce Athletic Awards For Spring Sports

Letters and numerals for spring sports were voted at a meeting of the Athletic Department on May 26.

Tennis letters were awarded as follows: Matthew Branche, Major Letter; David Cole; Charles Curtis; Robert Emmons; Angus Hebb; Stanley Lawry (Captain); Conrad Rosander; Donald Steele (Manager). Those receiving tennis numerals were: Earl Archibald; Richard Archibald; William Augerson; Philip Burke; David Burnell; John Dick; Curtis Foster; Everett Reid, Jr.; George Rockwell; Paul Ruben; John Williams; James Segal (Manager).

The following men were voted letters in baseball: Gordon Beem; Richard Burston; Gale Bennett; Raymond Clarke; Evan Cox; Robert Crozier; Morris Densmore; Joseph Flanagan; Walter Pendleton (Captain); Donald Russell; Robert Friberg; Fred Giddings; Edward Gillen; Peter King; William Sillsby; Patrick Slattery; Robert Speirs; Robert Shanahan; Stanley Whiting; and David Crowell (Manager).

Baseball numerals were given to: Peter Barracca; Robert Crockett; Timothy Donovan; Frank Kimball; William Knapp; Harold Mason; Louis Mason; Herbert Moore; Stuart Morrell; Daniel Morrison; Harry Nelson; Jack Pandora; Gordon Page; Benjamin Smethurst, Jr.; Dave Verrill; Richard Wager; Dale Welch; and William Gaiter; Robert Tanner; Hayden Goldberg; Bruce Tornquist; J. Russell Washburne; Julian Woodford (Assistant Manager).

Major letters for winning the New England Golf Championship were voted to: Richard Davis; Donald Johnston; Raymond Lebel (Captain); Charles Noyes. Others awarded letters were Robert Levis; Fuller Marshall; John Merrill; Gilbert Willison; and Robert Hall (Manager).

Winners of golf numerals were: Alton Cole; Stanley Dole; Daniel Dayton; Richard Edgemoor; Lee Jackson; Donald Martin; Louis Porteous; William Wiswall; James Young; and Donald Zahneke.

Letters were awarded to the following track men: Charles Auten; Frederick Auten; Matthew Branche; Earl Briggs; Harold Burnham; Kenneth Cross; Cabot Easton; Oliver Emerson; Victor Fortin; Oliver Hanson; John Holmes; Harvey Jackson; E. L. Martin; Edward Goo; George McClelland; Phineas Newton; John Nichols; Philip Parsons; John Sabasteanski; Richard Schrack; Francis Smith; Ralph Strachan; E. Swan; John Taussig; Richard Wiley; Joseph Woods; Robert Shepherd; and John Ashley (Manager).

Track numerals were voted to: Robert Allen; Thomas Attridge; William Barrow; David Burnett; P. T. Clarke; Robert Freese; C. C. Hardy; John Hayden; Martin Lee; Charles Lovejoy; Morton Lund; Malcolm Morrell; Bladen Smith; Donald Snyder; William Wineland; and Francis Currie; Samuel Philbrick; Gregory Stone; R. Young-hans (Assistant Managers).

Coombs To Be Assistant In Three Major Sports

By Richard A. Wiley '49

George D. Shay, now Assistant Coach of Football, will assume the position of Head Coach of Basketball left vacant by the resignation of Ervin Huether. President Kenneth C. M. Sills announced this morning.

Golfers Capture N.E. Team Prize; Davis Cards 73

Boston, May 18. Bowdoin's Golf team won the team title Friday in the opening round of the 10th New England Intercollegiate golf tournament at the Oakland Country Club qualifying three men for match play.

On Saturday Ray Lebel and Charley Noyes qualified for the semi-finals, and Sunday Dick Kinchla of Boston College defeated Lebel in the finals 3 to 2.

Dick Davis was the leader of the Polar Bears on Friday as he tied with Kinchla for second place with a 73, as Ray Nihan of Middlebury took medalist honors with a one-over-par 72. Lebel and Noyes were among the six players deadlocked at 74. Don Johnston, whose 78 just missed qualifying, was the fourth man in Bowdoin's winning total of 299.

Lebel ran into trouble in his final round against Kinchla after coming through the preliminary rounds in fine style when the Eagle freshman and former Massachusetts Caddy Champion took the first three holes.

The first round scores:
Ray Nihan, Middlebury 72
Dick Davis, Bowdoin 73
Dick Kinchla, Boston College 73
Clayton Cheney, Tufts 74
Ray Lebel, Bowdoin 74
Charley Noyes, Bowdoin 74
Bill Richardson, Harvard 74
Harry Forbes, Wesleyan 74
Pete Gripps, Williams 75

Netmen Down Maine, 7-2 Rosander, Hebb Shine

Orono, May 17. Bowdoin's tennis team completed its monopoly in Maine racket circles this afternoon as the Polar Bears whipped the University of Maine for the second time 7 to 2.

Again playing without the services of Matt Branche, the Big White, though often extended to three sets, battled to victory with ease. Rosander and Hebb were the mainstays of the Bowdoin attack.

The summary:
Singles
Rosander, seeded first, singles for Bowdoin, took three sets to defeat Van Peuren of Maine, 6-3, 6-7, 6-0.
Hebb of Bowdoin defeated Southard of Maine, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2.
Curtis of Bowdoin defeated Hermann of Maine in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3.
Stebbins of Maine lost to Emmons of Bowdoin, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2.
Thost of Maine defeated Cole of Bowdoin, 6-1, 6-1.

Doubles
Rosander and Hebb of Bowdoin defeated Van Peuren and Southard of Maine, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1.
Curtis and Emmons of Bowdoin defeated Hermann and Stebbins of Maine, 6-1, 6-8.
Rockwell and Cole of Bowdoin defeated Batherson and Leach of Maine, 7-5, 6-4.

Lebel Low Man As Bowdoin Wins State Golf Title

Augusta May 19th. Fresh from their New England Golf Title, Bowdoin's red hot golf team ran away with the state championship at the Augusta Country Club this afternoon with the entire quintet finishing among the first eight, four among the first five, as Captain Ray Lebel captured the individual title with a 146 field.

The scores:
Ray Lebel, Bowdoin 146
Charlie Noyes, Bowdoin 147
Gene McNabb, Maine 148
Dick Davis, Bowdoin 149
Bob Levin, Bowdoin 149
Wendall Wilson, Maine 149
Phil Richardson, Maine 149
Don Johnston, Bowdoin 149
Warren Wilson, Maine 149
Ray Linquist, Colby 149
D. L. Murray, Colby 149
T. Bickel, Colby 149
D. Lynch, Colby 149
V. Saari, Bates 149
R. Maloney, Bates 149
G. T. Miller, Colby 149
G. Smith, Colby 149
A. Kneeland, Bates 149
L. Lord, Bates 149
M. Temple, Bates 149
M. N. Lord, Bates 149

Betas Down Psi U's, 4-1 To Win Softball Trophy

The Beta Theta Pi Fraternity won the 1947 Interfraternity Softball League Trophy by defeating the Psi U's 4-1 in the final playoff game several weeks ago. In the semi-finals the Beta's had overcome the Sigma Nu's, and the Psi U's had to down the D.U.'s to get into the final round.

The final standings were:
Beta 10 1 7
D.U. 9 2 3
S.N. 9 2 3
Psi U. 8 3 2
Chi Psi 7 4 1
D.K.E. 6 5 6
A.T.O. 5 6 7
Zeta 3 7 7
T.D. 2 8 8
K.S. 2 9 9
A.R.U. 2 9 9
A.D. 1 7 7

SEE US FIRST
PRINTING
ALVIN SETTLE TOWN BLDG.
TEL. 89-W

MIKE'S PLACE
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

TOWN TAXI
24-Hour Service
Phone 1000

1947 Varsity Baseball Statistics

Name	G.	In.	A.B.	R.	H.	Per.	P.O.	A.	E.	Per.
Clarke	8	49	16	6	6	.375	15	1	0	1.000
Slattery	8	42	27	6	10	.370	7	16	2	.300
Fulbright	10	56	30	10	10	.333	17	30	6	.367
Shanahan	3	11	9	1	3	.333	6	9	1	.300
Burn	5	32	14	3	4	.286	5	3	2	.300
Whiting	10	50	24	7	7	.292	22	17	1	.375
Pendleton	9	73	26	2	2	.231	12	20	1	.360
Bennett	9	50	24	4	4	.167	14	1	0	1.000
Ribby	4	19	6	1	1	.167	8	8	1	.500
Densmore	8	45	19	4	3	.158	5	10	5	.250
Burston	10	59	29	4	4	.138	97	7	2	.581
Spies	8	53	24	2	2	.125	12	1	0	1.000
Giddings	6	19	9	2	1	.111	1	0	1	.500
Flanagan	7	46	20	1	1	.050	5	2	3	.286
King	3	21	11	0	1	.091	8	3	1	.333
Gillen	7	49	10	4	0	.000	32	8	1	.974
Cox	3	20	8	0	0	.000	13	4	4	.750
Russell	2	4	1	0	0	.000	1	1	0	1.000
Crozier	2	4	1	0	0	.000	0	2	0	1.000

BEST WISHES

AT COMMENCEMENT TIME

from

VIC'S

BEER 4:30-11:30 MEALS 5:00-9:00

HARMON'S

offers

Two Traditional Items Of A College Man's Wardrobe

Ayrolstar Seersucker
JACKETS

$13.50

These are the finest all 'round utility sportcoats. Fine cotton. Completely washable.

Sizes 36 to 46
Regulars and Longs

Oxford Grey
Plain Front

FLANNEL TROUSERS

$12.95

These are excellently tailored of Cyril

Johnson oxford grey flannel.

Sizes from 28 to 34

Outfitters to Bowdoin Men for over 25 Years

HARMON'S

104 Front Street

Telephone 735

Bath

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for

Good Food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the

College Spa

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

A Lasting Souvenir

for Graduates and Alumni

"BOWDOIN SONGS"

AN ALBUM OF FOUR 10 INCH RECORDS

Availble Now At

THE MOULTON UNION STORE

Movie Director John Ford, Hale Among Recipients

[Continued from Page 2]
age who fights for racial tolerance and understanding in his brilliant novel "The Winds of Fear," well reviewed in England as well as America, and in many an article read the country over—who on this twentieth anniversary of his class represents liberal principles; eager to do his task.

Before the hair be gray or vigor die
And while the heart of youth still spurs to do

Honoris Causa Doctor of Letters
Robert Hale of Portland, Bachelor of Arts "summa cum laude" of the Class of 1910, Bachelor and Master of Arts of Oxford University, Honorary Master of Arts of the University of Maine, Overseer of the College since 1931; representative in Congress now for three terms of the First Maine District made famous by Thomas Brackett Reed and carrying on his tradition of ability, integrity and courage—public servant who can state clearly and urgently the issues before his constituents and who can alternate the boredom of long, tedious House sessions by writing verses for the New Yorker; an admirable exemplar of the truth enunciated by the Latin poet Ennius:

Morbus antiquus stat res
Romana virique
that a state is strong by reason of its fine traditions and its men—honored by Bowdoin on many counts not only because he is the son of a distinguished Bowdoin father, because he is one of Bowdoin's Rhodes Scholars, because he, like his father, is a useful officer of the College, but because he carries on the tradition of public service and strives always to represent his constituents at their best.

Honoris Causa Doctor of Laws
Gano Dunn of New York City, Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Laws of the College of the City of New York, Doctor of Science of Columbia, Rutgers, and New York Universities, Trustee of Barnard College, President of Cooper Union, President of the Filigrans, termed the engineer's engineer who has been called on again and again for advice in war and in peace by the President of the United States and by officials of many other countries, winner of countless awards and honors, including the Edison and Hoover Medals, grandson of Nathaniel Dunn of the Bowdoin Class of 1825—one of the leading citizens of New York, known not only for his scientific discoveries and his engineering skill but for his wide interest in the humanities, his culture and his charm, already a grandson of the College and today made a son.

Honoris Causa Doctor of Laws
Arthur Andrew Hauck, President of the University of Maine, Bachelor of Arts of Reed College, Doctor of Philosophy of Columbia, Doctor of Laws of Lafayette and Rhode Island State Colleges and of New Hampshire and New Brunswick Universities, last year President of the Association of American State Universities, whose teaching and administrative experience has taken him from Honolulu via Vassar and Lafayette to Orono—an academic apostle of friendship wherever he goes—since 1934 President of the University of Maine in which most important and influential post he has won and kept in remarkable degree the affection and the confidence of the people of the state; always a warm friend of Bowdoin and never more so than this past year when we share the facilities at the Brunswick Naval Air Station generously provided by the United States Navy—a good neighbor and an inspiring leader of the youth of Maine.

Honoris Causa Doctor of Laws
Unless otherwise indicated the following men received the degree of Bachelor of Arts:

Christopher Hussey Adams, Jr. '46, Hartford, Conn.; John Joseph Anderson '45, Pawtucket, R. I.; Andrew Anderson, Jr. '43, Needham Heights, Mass.; Julian Samuel Ansell '44, Portland; Earl Stanley Archibald, Jr. '47, Belmont, Mass.; Reginald Carleton Barrows '43, Brunswick; Arthur Newman Berry '46, Bar Harbor; Richard Kingley Bird '46, Upper Montclair, N. J.; Richard Henry Bonney '45, Portland.

Raymond Clifford Bourgeois '46, Lowell, Mass.; Gregg Converse Brewer '44, Shelburne Falls, Mass.; Harry Fairfield Brockington '46, Keene, N. H.; George Arthur Brown '44, Brunswick; Robert Charles Bryant '47, North Edgecomb; Robert Norton Burnham '46, New Bedford, Mass.; Franklin Colt Butler, Jr. '44, Joplin, Mo.; Joseph Chamberlin Caldwell '47, Springfield, Mass.

Douglas Carmichael '44, Milton Mills, N. H.; Chester David Catter '46, Nantasket, Mass.; Donald Edwood Clark '46, Rutherford, N. J.; Leigh Freeman Clark '44, Salem, Mass., B.S. degree; Robert Wilson Clark, Jr. '47, Waltham, Mass.; Robert Peter Tristram Coffin, Jr. '45, Brunswick; Alton Paine Cole, Jr. '46, Cambridge, Mass.; Harold James Cook, Jr. '48, Schenectady, N. Y.; Charles Moody Crain '46, Norwalk, Conn.; Robert Melvin Cross '45, Brunswick; Robert Edward Crozier '45, Portland.

John Cummins '48, Winchester, Mass.; Harold Ormand Curtis '45, Auburn; Dean Crowley Cushing '45, Concord, N. H.; Richard Wellington Davis '46, Waban, Mass.; George Robert Dawson '45, Dover, N. J.; Robert Earl DeKalb '45, Chelmsford, Mass.; Morris Aubrey Densmore '46, Portland; Bertrand Olivier des Clers de Beaumets '47, Paris, France, B.S. degree; Renaud Philippe des Clers de Beaumets '47, Paris, France, B.S. degree.

John Alexander Dick '45, East Lynn, Mass.; Fred Gibson Eaton, Jr. '47, Augusta; Harry Baker Edwy '45, Portland; James Ellis, Jr. '48, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; John Joseph Fahey, Jr. '45, Lewiston; Elton Olney Feeney, Jr. '48, South Portland; Doane Fischer '45, Philadelphia, Pa.; Donald Lockwood Fisher '46, Waban, Mass.; Dexter

Foss '45, Concord, N. H.; Jerome De Witt Geisler '46, Hingham, Mass.; Bernard Emmanuel Gorton '47, Wilton, N. H.; Ralph Henry Griffin, Jr. '46, Damariscotta; John Alfred Grondin '45, Danvers, Mass.; William Happ II '46, South Bend, Indiana; Walter William Harvey '46, Woburn, Mass.

Ralph Wilson Hawkes, Jr. '46, Saco; Sumner Adams Hawley '45, Bath; William Russell Hill '46, Nashua, N. H.; Hester Richard Hornberger, Jr. '45, Waldoboro; Thomas William Howarth '46, Portland; David Sanders Howell '45, West Boothbay Harbor; Charles Henry Kehlenbach '45, West Dennis, Mass.; Alkan Gifford Keniston '44, Vineyard Haven, Mass.; Harry Thayer Kingsbury '46, Keene, N. H.; Henry Koritzky '48, Brookline, Mass.; Howard Michael Kuh '45, New York, N. Y.; Harry Larchian '48, Lewiston; Stanley Adams Lawry, Jr. '45, Melrose, Mass.; Norval Bacon Lewis '45, Concord, N. H.; Richard Harvey Lewis '45, Reading, Mass.; Shepard Lifshitz '47, Lewiston; Roy Frederic Littlehale, Jr. '46, Hanson, Mass.

Robert Melvin Livingston '44, St. Louis, Mo.; James Bernard Longley, Jr. '48, Lewiston; Donald Neal Lukens '46, Belmont, Mass.; John Gorman Lyons, Jr. '47, Portland; James MacNaughton, Jr. '45, Glen Falls, N. Y.; Eugene Philip McGlauffin '47, South Portland; Thomas Kimball Meakin '46, Danvers, Mass.; Walter Sherman Morgan '45, Lynn, Mass.; Robert Lincoln Morrell '47, Brunswick; James Nicholas '47, Portland; Christopher Bond Nichols '45, Lynn, Mass.

Paul Kendall Niven, Jr. '46, Brunswick; Bernard Osher '48, Biddeford; Robert Lloyd Patrick '45, Winthrop, Mass.; Hugh Pendexter, III '46, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, Pa.; Alec Deacon Penny '44, Elizabeth, N. J.; Philip Henry Philbin '45, Lowell, Mass.; John McCully Robinson '47, Cape Elizabeth; Martin Emory Robinson '48, Augusta; Richard Edward Robinson '46, Westbrook.

Earl Rosen, Jr. '45, Clayton, Mo.; Donald Johnston Ryan '44, Falmouth Foreside; John Francis Ryan '44, New Haven, Conn.; Carl Lennart Sandquist '45, Concord, N. H.; Alfred Chandler Schmalz '45, Dedham, Mass.; John George Schuhmann, Jr. '46, Crestwood, N. Y.; Riley Edwin Scruggs '47, Bluefield, W. Va., B.S. degree; Arthur Sherbo '47, Haverhill, Mass.; Robert Oliver Shipman '45, Norton, Conn.; Herbert Trifton Silsby II '48, Ellsworth; Francis Kaan Smith '47, Somerville, Mass.; Henry Oliver Smith '45, Leicester, Mass.

Frederick Augustus Spear '45, Methuen, Mass.; Richard Lothian Sprague '47, Freeport; Rufus Edwin Stetson, Jr. '42, Damariscotta; Ralph Warner Strachan '44, South

Portland; John Charles Succop '45, Pittsburgh, Pa.; John Thomas Suddbay, Jr. '47, Beverly, Mass.; Arthur Sweeney, Jr. '45, Andover, Mass.; Harold Arleigh Thurston '46, Lynn, Mass.; Bernard Michael Toscani '47, Philadelphia, Pa.

David Meton Towle '46, Hollis Center; Nathan Warren Towne '45, Waltham, Mass.; Norman Konrad Tronerud '45, Topsfield, Mass.; Fred Lewis True, Jr. '45, Beverly, Mass.; Robert Paul Vance '45, Portland; George Archibald Vinall '45, Standish; Harry Beresford Walley '45, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; Colby Martin Ward '47, Limestone; Roger Paul Welch '45, Westbrook; Stanley Elwin Whiting '44, Merrimack, Mass.

Sylvester Gilbert Whiton, Jr. '43, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Gilbert Thomas as Wilkinson '44, Belmont, Mass.; Harry Eugene Williams, Jr. '39, Quincy, Mass.; Frederic Richard Woodruff, Jr. '48, Potsdam, N. Y.; Carlton Magoun Woods, Jr. '45, Bourneville, Mass.; Christopher Lees Yates '45, Cambridge, Mass.; Gerald Frederick Zedren, Jr. '47, Newtonville, Mass.

Bowdoin Women Elect Mrs. Stone As New President

Mrs. Kenneth C. M. Sills was re-elected Honorary President and Mrs. Kenneth G. Stone was chosen President of the Society of Bowdoin Women at the luncheon and business meeting held yesterday at the Harriet Beecher Stowe House at 12:30 in the afternoon.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Chester G. Abbott, Vice-President; Mrs. Luther Dana, Secretary; Mrs. Harvey D. Gibson, Chairman of the Luncheon Committee; and Mrs. Ashmead White, Chairman of the House Committee. Mrs. Stephen E. Merrill was re-elected Treasurer of the Society.

Mrs. Sills, who has for years been Honorary President of the Society of Bowdoin Women, was voted a life membership by the organization at the meeting.

President Indicates Role Of Historical Perspective

[Continued from Page 1]
be concerning the communists and the fascists who "would if they could bring about a complete overthrow of democracy...."

Pointing out that there was a problem of freedom of speech and press involved to answer this question, the President summed up, saying "We can, I think, lay down two principles—one, that no one can with impunity advocate the overthrow of our government by force or violent revolution; that no American can politically be under the domination or direction of agencies outside this country. Anyone who advocates the destruction of our system of government by force is certainly not entitled to protection by democracy for he defies the primary principles of democracy, that of peaceful majority rule."

Reviewing the principles of perspective and continuity with regard to labor problems, the President said, "Personally, I have long advocated as a labor industry quadrilateral real collective bargaining with governmental hands off; maintenance of union clauses which provide when a new contract is signed the employee will have a given time in which to decide whether to join the union or not and if he does join the union for the length of the contract—a provision that is a compromise between the open and the closed shop; sanctity of contract for labor as well as for management and when all other means fail, compulsory arbitration."

In reference to education President Sills said, "There is no human activity in which the two principles of perspective and continuity are more important than in education." Adding that one of the most important functions of the College of liberal arts was to inculcate "the proper perspective," he concluded his discussion of this topic by quoting a well known educator, saying, "Education which helps each student to become a responsible, participating, effective citizen in our democracy is the most important single task of all institutions of higher learning."

On the subject of Moral Standards the President reflected that there has been, "In the past few years there has been a noticeable, if not an alarming lowering of moral standards."

Pointing out that not only in the colleges of America had there been a more excessive lowering of moral standards, the President said, "If you put all these tendencies in their proper perspective, do they make for more real happiness? Do they make for that kind of moral atmosphere which would be healthy for your children to breathe? Many modern young parents are showing great intelligence in their plans for the education of their children. Have they thought enough of their moral and religious training? No one would return to the grim and unjoyous standards of the Puritans—to whom incidentally we New Englanders owe much. But the pendulum has swung too far in the other direction: a more positive and more wholesome attitude toward moral issues is greatly to be desired."

President Sills then brought out the fact, "That the College after all deals primarily not with the fortunes of men, but with their spirits. It is in conclusion appropriate to comment, albeit briefly and inadequately, on the place that the religious attitude should have in modern education. Allowing that much of the criticism advanced to the American colleges because they placed too much emphasis upon a secular life was unfair, he added that this criticism left out, "Of account the many spiritual lessons taught in college through literature, philosophy, art, music and kindred subjects."

Concluding the main theme of his address by saying, "And so far more important than your attitude on education or morals or democracy, vital as these are, is your attitude toward Christ and his teachings." The President addressed directly the graduating class, who, at this point rose from their seats.

"Members of the graduating class:—

"In accordance with a tradition of more than one hundred and forty years and with the by-laws of the College, the President gives this address to the graduating class and bids them in the name of Bowdoin—God-speed. Never before has there been so large a number of classes represented at baccalaureate service, nor graduates of such varied experience both in peace and war. In her long history—long for these United States—Bowdoin has made many a contact with conflict and has sent off and welcomed back her sons from six wars. She remembers today the gallant unreturning and gives thanks to those of you who have served on land and sea and in the air, in German and Japanese prison camps, in tedious patrol duty in occupied zones. But your war days are already fast fading into dim memories. I was interested to note in our year book, the Bugle, that no reference was made to war service; civilian and veteran were treated absolutely alike.

"It is of the future that you all must think; It must be hard for those of you who have fought and won to see how slowly, how reluctantly, real peace comes and how in many quarters there is talk of a third and final war. You know enough psychology to realize that more preparedness is the answer; others put more faith in the United Nations. But whatever be your personal opinion let your attitude be that of doing everything you possibly can do in the light of justice and freedom to prevent another war. To that end take an active part in politics; through your voice and pen contend for those liberal principles that will make and keep not only our own country but the whole world free. Let no man despise your youth—and he will have no reason to do so if you make your youth, your enthusiasm and your intelligence count in all good causes and particularly in that of peace and good will over the whole world."

after all deals primarily not with the fortunes of men, but with their spirits. It is in conclusion appropriate to comment, albeit briefly and inadequately, on the place that the religious attitude should have in modern education. Allowing that much of the criticism advanced to the American colleges because they placed too much emphasis upon a secular life was unfair, he added that this criticism left out, "Of account the many spiritual lessons taught in college through literature, philosophy, art, music and kindred subjects."

Concluding the main theme of his address by saying, "And so far more important than your attitude on education or morals or democracy, vital as these are, is your attitude toward Christ and his teachings." The President addressed directly the graduating class, who, at this point rose from their seats.

"Members of the graduating class:—

BENOIT'S Maine's largest outfitters to Men and Boys

Get set now with SPORTS WEAR

Enjoy the coming warm months

Get off on the right foot and at the right time. Enjoy Maine's glorious outdoor season from the very beginning. Memorial Day unofficially—opens the sports season—it's the right time to fill in your needs—with the comfortable clothes that will let you enjoy summer months. Benoit's will get you off on the right foot—with the right kind of sportswear—at the right prices.

AKON T-SHIRTS—White and plain colors	$1.00
McGREGOR PATTERNED T-SHIRTS	$2.00 and $2.75
ARROW SUDAN LONG SLEEVE SPORTS SHIRTS	$4.50
ARROW LONG SLEEVE SPORTS SHIRTS	$4.50
ALL WOOL SLEEVELESS SWEATERS	$3.98 and $5.95
ALL WOOL PULL-OVER SWEATERS	$5.95 and $8.50
McGREGOR DRIZZLER GOLF JACKETS	$10.95
McGREGOR SLACK SUITS	$12.50 to $20
CALIFORNIA STYLED LEISURE COATS	$14.95 to $22.95

Budget Accounts At No Extra Charge

Benoit's

Fidelity Building

Brunswick

THE MOULTON UNION STORE PRESENTS . . .

. . . for the first time in Bowdoin's history

THE OFFICIAL BOWDOIN RING

COMPARE THESE AMAZINGLY LOW PRICES WITH OTHER COLLEGE RINGS OF THIS HIGH QUALITY:

Gold Ring, Blue Spinel Stone	24.90 plus tax
Gold Ring, Ruby Stone	24.90 plus tax
Gold Ring, Black Onyx Stone	20.60 plus tax
Silver Ring, Blue Spinel Stone	16.60 plus tax
Silver Ring, Ruby Stone	16.60 plus tax
Silver Ring, Black Onyx Stone	12.30 plus tax

Samples on display in the Union Store. Alumni may purchase rings by sending their orders to the store

Tondreau's Market

Established in 1891

and always a loyal Bowdoin friend . . .

. . . PRESENTS THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT IN TOWN OF

Fancy Groceries
Fresh Fruits and Vegetables
Quality Meats of all kinds

SOLD AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Yes, We're Interested In

ALL Your PRINTING

We have had long experience in producing for Bowdoin men:

STATIONERY POSTERS
TICKETS ALUMNI LETTERS
FRATERNITY FORMS
And Other Printing

Ask Us For Quotations

The RECORD OFFICE

Phones 1 and 3

Paul K. Niven, Bowdoin 1916
Manager
Printers of The Orient

CUMBERLAND

Wed.-Thurs. June 4-5
NORA PRENTISS

with
Ann Sheridan • Kent Smith
also
Fox News

Fri.-Sat. June 6-7

THE LOCKET

with
Laraine Day • Brian Aherne
also
Paramount News

Short Subjects

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. June 8-9-10

SINBAD THE SAILOR

with
Douglas Fairbanks Jr. •
Maureen O'Hara
also
Paramount News

Wed.-Thurs. June 11-12

THAT WAY WITH WOMEN

with
Sidney Greenstreet •
Martha Vickers
also
Fox News

Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. June 13-14

THE ANGEL AND THE BAD MAN

with
John Wayne • Irene Rich
also
Paramount News

Short Subjects

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. LXXVII

BRUNSWICK, MAINE, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1947

NO. 8

84 Men Awarded Bachelor Degrees At Fall Exercises

15 Granted Honors; Crowell '48 Graduates Summa Cum Laude

Eighty-four members of the September graduating class were awarded their Bachelor Degrees and fifteen were granted Honors in subjects at the 143rd Commencement exercises held in the First Parish Church on September 20, 1947.

Jackson H. Crowell '48 was graduated Summa Cum Laude, and five members, Charles G. Chason '46, Charles W. Curtis '47, Clement A. Hiebert '47, Harold Palmer, Jr. '47, Harold M. Small, Jr. '46, were graduated Magna Cum Laude.

Those who earned Cum Laude were Vance N. Bourjaily '44, Robert W. Burroughs '47, Joseph S. Caras '48, Leo J. Dunn, Jr. '47, Mortor H. Frank '48, Sven B. Hamrell '48, Robert B. Hunter '47, Peter B. Macomber '47, Charles D. Maguire '46, Coleman F. Metzler '46, Theodore G. Tatisos '49, and John L. Thomas '48.

Caras, Hiebert, and Hunter received Honors in biology; Crowell and Maguire in economics; Bourjaily, Palmer, Hamrell, and Lee D. Pettigill, Jr. '45 in English; Thomas in government; Tatisos and Andrew W. MacLaughlin '48 in history. The mathematics department awarded honors to Curtis and Small and Chason gained the same distinction in psychology.

Those graduating who received the degree of Bachelor of Arts included Charles L. Abbott, Jr. '47, Roger P. Adams '46, Franklin B. Allen '45, John P. Begley, Jr. '46, Robert S. Blake '47, John J. Boland '47, Vance N. Bourjaily '44, Robert W. Burroughs '47, Joseph S. Caras '48, John R. Charlton '44, Charles G. Chason '46, Willard H. Cobb, Jr. '48 and Charles W. Curtis '47.

Henry W. Day, Jr. '47, Joseph D. Donovan '46, Norman E. Dugan '44, Leo J. Dunn, Jr. '47, Roger W. Eckfield, Jr. '43, Wallace K. Evers '46, Joseph V. Flanagan, Jr. '46, Morton H. Frank '48, John M. Goodard '46, Sven B. Hamrell '48, Daniel J. Hasson '48, Walter F. W. Hay, Jr. '44, Clement A. Hiebert '47, Joseph Holman '47, James T. Irish, Jr. '45, Raymond B. Janney, 2nd '42, Leonard B. Johnson '43, Byron E. Keene '47, George G. Kent '47, Robert W. Lancaster '46, Melvin L. Lehrman '45, Wayne M. Lockwood '48, and Allan L. Logan '42.

Allan B. MacGregor '42, Andrew J. McFarland '48, John M. McGorrell '48, Peter B. Macomber '47, Charles D. Maguire '46, Henry S. Maxwell '48, Coleman F. Metzler '46, Clarence S. Mick '45, Robert [Continued on Page 4]

Rising Prices Force $1.00 Board Increase

An increase in the board rate to $12.50 per week has been made to cope with steadily rising wholesale food prices which this September are 40 percent over those prevailing at the same time last year, according to a statement made by Donald D. Lancaster, Director of the Dining Services.

Lancaster believes this new rate to be adequate as the Interfraternity Cooperative has a six months supply of dry stores at the old prices and even has a supply of meat several weeks ahead of the price rise.

Nine of last year's eleven cooks are returning to the fraternity houses along with a large percentage of the entire kitchen staffs. This will make possible a considerable saving, says Lancaster, as well as an increase in the size of some of the houses.

The first half of the summer session saw all but one house dining room in good financial condition, but Lancaster finds the outlook for the whole summer not very encouraging. He attributes the expected deficits to the fact that too many dining rooms were open and points out that the fraternities which combined their facilities fared exceptionally well financially during the first half of the summer.

House managers for the fraternities this fall will be: Donald H. Lyons '48, AD; Louis A. Piper '46, PAI; Richard J. M. Williams '46, CHI; Palmer; Emerson Lewis '49, DKE; Vincent C. Langlan '50, TD; Edward Gou '49, DU; Everett W. Gray '48, Zete; Martin E. Wooden '49, Kappa Sig; Kim Kyle '47, Beta; William D. Verrill '50, Sigma Nu; and William D. Cappellari '48, ATO.

Bugle Pictures For '48 Graduates

All men who are planning to graduate by the end of the summer of 1948 please call immediately at the cut desk in Massachusetts Hall and make an appointment to have their picture taken for the 1948 "Bugle" at Merrill's Studio at 98 Maine Street.

Also at the desk will be activity sheets to be filled out and returned to Massachusetts Hall. Dress for the photographs will be coat, shirt (preferably white) and tie. There will be a sitting fee of one dollar.

Glee Club Faces Full Schedule At Home And On Tour

Professor Frederic E. T. Tiltonson has announced an early debut and a crowded schedule for this year's Bowdoin Glee Club, as they will play host to several colleges, and perform several times away throughout the singing season.

The schedule begins with a trip to the Rosini Club in Portland on Thursday, November 6, and heads for Hebron Academy for its second full length concert on Friday, December 5.

December 12 is the day for the 11th annual performance of the Messiah, which will be held at the Congregational Church here in Brunswick. There will be a collaboration of four choral groups and 345 voices; Colby College furnishing 125 voices, Colby Junior College 60, Brunswick Choral Society 60, and the Bowdoin Glee Club 100. The New England Conservatory Orchestra from Boston will support the singers.

The program will include four soloists: Elizabeth Williams, soprano; Roger N. Williams, '46, tenor; John M. Dunlap Jr., '48, bass; and an alto to be announced. Miss Williams and Roger Williams sang last year. The program will be repeated on the 13th at Colby College with Colby Junior abetting.

After the mid-year examinations the Glee Club will sing at Yarmouth on February 12, and then in Boston for the weekend of the 13th, 14th, and probably the 15th with Wheelock, Simmons, and Endicott Junior College. On February 19 the Glee Club will present a concert at Bridgton.

Accompanied by the Portland Symphony Orchestra, the Glee Club will sing the "Testament of Freedom" by Randall Thompson in the City Hall "op. 4" Brunswick on March 2. Professor Frederic E. T. Tiltonson, of the Music Department, will play Schubert's "Wanderer Concerto." This program is to be given in Portland on March 9.

The Bradford Junior College Glee Club will be here for the annual campus concert on Saturday March 13. According to Professor Tiltonson this will be one of the big social events of the season with a dance following the concert. [Continued on Page 2]

Foreign Students Here For Education, Not For Football

Among the freshmen names this term are some 11 which read like the starting team for Notre Dame. But Adam isn't too excited about their possibilities as football material, since these men are here for only one thing—to get an education.

When the Chi Psi's advanced their foreign student plan last spring five fraternities were quick to jump on the bandwagon and sponsor the men. Added to theaternity-sponsored men are several students who are attending Bowdoin on special scholarships.

A list of the new students included: Iva Pfaff from Czechoslovakia and Zelenka Bekele from Cairo, Egypt, both sponsored by Chi Psi; Slava Klima, Czechoslovakia sponsored by Beta Theta Pi; Stergios Demetriades, Greece, sponsored by Delta Upsilon; Maufred van Mautner Markhof, of Austria, sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega; Albert Joseph A. Thebaud, France, sponsored by Zeta Psi; Olaf Hansson, Denmark, sponsored by Psi Upsilon; Charalambos Demissianos, Greece; John J. Bonardelli, Italy; Tauno Nevalainen, Finland; and Robert Y. Lee, China.

The two Greek men, Demissianos and Demetriades, attended Athens College before and during

Four Bowdoinites Among Ten New Faculty Members

Carre '40, Shaw '36, Hooten '46, Coombs '42 Return To Alma Mater

In order to accommodate the increase in enrollment, ten men have been added to the Bowdoin faculty, four of whom are Bowdoin graduates, announced President K. C. M. Sills.

G. Edgar Folk Jr., a graduate of Harvard University has been appointed Assistant Professor of Biology. He obtained his Doctor's degree at Harvard and, prior to coming to Bowdoin, he was employed in the Fatigue Laboratory at that University.

A. Cheever Cressey Jr., Instructor in Government, who taught during the summer trimester, will continue in that capacity. He is a graduate of Tufts College and obtained his Master of Arts Degree at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy. Before coming to Bowdoin he taught history at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Jeffery J. Carre '40 has been appointed Instructor in romance languages. He took his Masters degree at Columbia University in 1941 before entering the army the next year. Discharged a Captain in 1946, he taught at Bowdoin during the summer trimester of that year. While an undergraduate at Bowdoin he was on the Dean's list, Business Manager of the Masque and Gown, and a member of the Classical Club.

E. Parker Johnson, a graduate of Springfield College has been appointed Instructor in Psychology. He obtained his Master's degree at Brown University and has done work for the Doctor's degree at that school. He was a Flight Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Air Force during the war he did research in night vision.

Arthur P. Stabler has been appointed Instructor in romance languages. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1941 and obtained his Master of Arts [Continued on Page 3]

Faculty To Attend M.I.T. Discussion On Combined Plan

President Kenneth C. M. Sills, will be the leading Bowdoin representative at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where a conference will be held from October 2 through 4 to discuss the problems of the combined plan of study for engineering students.

Professors Edward S. Hammond, Cecil T. Holmes, Samuel E. Kammerling, Noel C. Little, and Herbert R. Brown will also attend the conference.

According to a statement made by President Sills, the delegates from the twelve colleges that have access to the MIT plan will discuss the problems that confront the arrangement. A major topic of discussion will be that of humanizing the sciences.

President Sills also stated that MIT intended to make room for all students who are accepted and qualified to study there under the combined plan.

The occupation by the Italian and German troops. Demissianos, whose nickname is Harry, is attending Bowdoin on a special scholarship given by the college to Athens College, of which President Sills is honorary president.

"Sturg" Demetriades told us a great deal of the poor living conditions that his country is undergoing now and of the many crises during the occupation. He and his friend, Harry, were more fortunate than many of their countrymen, however, since Sturg lived in the suburbs and was able to cultivate a small patch of ground, while Harry had relatives in the country who sent him food from time to time.

Both boys are 19 and will be entering Bowdoin as freshmen. Harry left Greece on July 27 and came to the United States by boat and Sturg followed him to this country by plane, leaving Athens on August 17. The latter hopes to take advantage of the Bowdoin M. I. T. plan while Harry is a pre-med student.

In future issues of the Orient more of the foreign students will be interviewed in an effort to acquaint the college men with them.

Seven Injured Lettermen To Be Out As Polar Bears Battle U. Of Mass.

Visiting Eleven Won In 1946, 11-8

By George F. McClelland '49
It will be a scarred and battered Polar Bear that takes the field against the University of Massachusetts on Saturday. No less than seven lettermen are out of action for varying periods of time and several starters will be in sub par condition when the whistle blows at 2 p.m. at Whittier Field.

Bowdoin's starting eleven probably will not be determined until game time when Coach Adam Walsh determines how many of his fivallids will be able to play. Either Dave Burke or Ed Gillen will be at quarterback. Burke, a Harvard transfer, looked very good in pre-season drills, but Gillen who held down the slot last year was impressive against Tufts.

Gil Doble and Gordon Beam are the only offensive halfbacks in good shape, but both showed promise last week. Bill Toom, will be used on defense with Dick Becker also certain to see action. Bob McEvoy, a freshman, won his spurs at Medford and will be at fullback. Bob Small will also be in there.

Letterman Bill Ireland will be at end along with Al Nicholson, a transfer from Northeastern, who raced 97 yards for a score last week. Pat Slattery and Paul Zdanowicz are right behind them. Two new men will probably open the game at tackle. Big John Butler, 250 lbs., and Jim Sibson, 225 lbs., have edged out Bill Bailey, Jim Draper, and Pete Anger, and

A couple of newcomers have also grabbed the starting guard posts. Jim Fife and Vic Fortin have won out over lettermen Hank Reardon and Charlie Lovejoy. Any one of three centers may start, for John Sabastanski, Ira Pitcher and Phil Newton all are scheduled to see plenty of service.

The visitors from Amherst, Mass., have a new coach in Tom Eck who was last year's line coach. They even have changed their name from Massachusetts State to the more glamorous University of Massachusetts, but make-up of the team will be largely the same as the one that defeated Bowdoin last year in one of the weirdest games seen in New England in many years.

The Statesmen will use the single wing again and ten of the probable starters will be lettermen. Stan Waskiewicz, converted from blocking back, and Dick Hall will be at end. The tackles will be Jack Downey and Tassinare, a freshman. Ed Anderson and Ike Yergeau will provide a pair of veteran guards while Bob Ray-

[Continued on Page 4]
Music Department Plan Several Guest Concerts

In addition to the regular musical activities of student performance, the Department of Music has announced a number of musical programs that will include soloists, a string quartet, and a quartet concert.

As the result of a new educational policy all concerts put on by the department will be free.

Yves Tineyre, famous French tenor, assisted by a string quartet from the New England Conservatory of Boston will perform here on Monday, October 20, and Professor and Mrs. Frederic E. T. Tiltonson will do a group of two piano numbers on Tuesday November 18.

A program of chamber music consisting of works of Beethoven will be presented by Alfred Kripps (violin), Alfred Zighera (cello), and Professor Tiltonson (piano) on May 3. Messrs Kripps and Zighera are from the Boston Symphony orchestra.

The Elizabeth Sprague Foundation of the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., is to present a quartet concert on a date to be announced.

This year the town of Brunswick and Bowdoin College will join the city of Bath to present a series of five artist concerts under the auspices of the Columbia Concerts Corporation from New York. The series will begin October 20, and the group of them may be heard for five dollars.

The campus music activities will be the usual thing; Friday Chapel music by the students, student recitals in the Moulton Union, Simpson Sound System programs, the A Canella Choir on Sundays in the Chapel, the Meddwebsters, and the Daily Chapel Choir.

ED GILLEN AND BOB MCAVOY, at quarterback and fullback respectively, will put the punch in the Polar Bear offense in Saturday's opening home game against University of Massachusetts.

Band Now Offers Varsity Status, Snappy Uniforms

The college band, now organized for the first time on a varsity basis, has acquired snappy new uniforms and a professional drill master to direct the field work, as they launch into their traditional role as moral support for the Polar Bear gridder.

As a result of the reorganization on a varsity basis, the band will be treated as a letter society, with letters being presented to men with two years of loyal service.

The old cap and cape attire has been discarded as a uniform, and in its place is a dark blue blazer similar to those of Harvard, Yale, and Princeton. The blazer, on display at Ryan's Haberdashery, has brass buttons and a chenille Bowdoin insignia and lyre on the breast pocket. White duck trousers, white shirts, white socks, and black and white ties complete the garb.

Many other benefits, including the professional drill master, are being used to get a better and larger band. A group as large as forty pieces is hoped for.

The college owns a number of band instruments. Any students desiring to join who do not have instruments should see Professor Frederic E. T. Tiltonson at once.

Philip T. Young Jr., '50, of the Polar Bears, will be the student leader and William C. McCormack '50 will twirl the baton.

Athletic Office Seeks Frosh Football Aides

Making a sudden appearance on campus bulletin boards early this week, the following notice by the Athletic Office has aroused considerable comment among the undergraduate body.

It is here reprinted to demonstrate that Bowdoin too is familiar with high-pressure advertising methods.

- Freshmen! Do You Want To:
1. Do your bit for Alma Mater?
2. Fulfill physical training requirements the easy way?
3. Win your numerals?
4. Work up to head or junior varsity football manager and win your sweater?
5. Be an associate of Adam Walsh?
6. Sit on the bench with the stars?
7. Go on trips with the team?
8. Meet beautiful Bates and Colby cheerleaders?
Well then—come over to the Athletic Office and sign up as a football manager with Bill Morgan or consult the nearest assistant manager.

Masque And Gown To Give Original Student Musical

The Masque and Gown will open its fall program tonight at 8:30 with a general meeting in Memorial Hall for any member of the College who is interested in any phase of dramatics. At

New Magazine To Appear Soon At Maine Colleges

The first issue of a magazine published and written by undergraduates with staffs at Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, and the University of Maine will appear in December under the name of "Prologue."

The magazine will be composed of undergraduate opinion on topics of current, local, and national interest and student-written fiction, including short stories and poetry. Profiles, a sport's page, book, music and movie reviews, and a feature article each issue on an outstanding Maine preparatory school will round out the contents of "Prologue."

The magazine is being published by Donald B. Strong, '48 and Roy A. Gallant, '50. The administrative staff includes: John F. Astley II, '50, Business Manager, Warren H. Dunning II, '49, Publicity Director and Robert Whitman '45, Advertising Manager. The Managing Editor for Bowdoin is George H. Griffin, '47.

Undergraduates on the four campuses are being asked to submit feature articles and fiction to the editorial staff on their campus. A fifteen dollar prize for the best feature article and a fifteen [Continued on Page 2]

Herbie Brown To Speak To Orient Candidates

Professor Herbert R. Brown, popular college speaker, will feature the smoker sponsored by the ORIENT which is to be held this evening at 7:30 in the newspaper office upstairs in the Moulton Union.

New men interested in college journalism are cordially invited to attend. Positions are open on the editorial, sports, and business staffs. Especially needed by the ORIENT this year are several photographers with equipment for news pictures and a cartoonist.

Richard A. Wiley '48, Editor-in-Chief, and C. Cabot Easton '48, Business Manager, will introduce their respective staffs and outline the work of the ORIENT and opportunities for new men. A meeting of the editorial board will be held directly after the smoker.

1079 Students Sets New Record For Enrollment

Administration Faces Many New Problems Of Rooming, Faculty By Richard A. Wiley '49

Enrollment at Bowdoin reached a new record high with the announcement last week by Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick that 1079 undergraduates would be registered here this fall. Administration officials and faculty face many problems of rooming, teaching facilities, classroom space, and courses as a result of this increase in the student body.

A breakdown of this registration figure reveals that 846 Bowdoin men are returning to school this year and that 195 have been admitted to the freshman class. Also included are 28 transfer students, one special student and nine summer special students.

When asked for the reason behind this sharp increase in enrollment, Dean Kendrick said that if a large entering class were not admitted at this time enrollment within two or three years would be far out of proportion in the other direction. Supporting this statement, he cited figures of students expected to graduate during the next year: February, 65; June, 155; and September, 82.

The return of 40 more Bowdoin men from the service and the negligible losses of students from the College during the past year due to scholastic failure were also named by the Dean as causes for the increase. In conclusion on this point he stated that it had become hard for the College to justify holding admissions too closely to normal and that the College on all sides had caused the pressure to withdraw this previous policy. In 1948, he estimated, enrollment might fall to between 800 to 1000 with a further drop in later years.

Rooming has been one of the most severe problems facing the College in connection with the swollen enrollment. All men entering college for the first time and those with over 14 credits have been housed on campus in either the fraternity houses or the dormitories. Men with four through 14 credits have been located at the air station quarters. Yet almost 100 unmarried students, among them a number with less than four credits, have had to be accommodated outside of the College's facilities. The College has assisted these latter men in every possible way, according to Dean Kendrick.

In 33 dormitories in Moore, Hildreth and Winthrop Halls, three men have been assigned to rooms together. Those men will be charged four dollars each per week for room rent instead of the five dollars each paid by the ordinary two occupants of such rooms.

Shortages of faculty members in several departments have caused the discontinuance of courses. Economics 7-8 has been dropped temporarily from the curriculum for lack of an additional man in that department.

Statistics, however, will be reinstated in the spring as a one semester course. Spanish 5, conversation, has also been dropped as the College cannot find another man for that department. Men had been scheduled for both these faculty posts but failed to come this fall.

Lack of adequate classroom space has necessitated several innovations. Professor Phil M. Brown, in charge of scheduling classes, announced that Sociology 1 would be divided into two sections as a result of a conflict at the 10 o'clock hour on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. English 25 and Sociology 1 both have enrollments large enough to warrant [Continued on Page 3]

Portland Office For Fund Opened

Major General Wallace C. Philo '05, U. S. A. (Ret.) who has been named chairman of an active campaign to raise capital funds for the college, has established an office for the management of the drive in the Chamber of Commerce Building, 142 Free Street, Portland.

General Philo, onetime captain of the Bowdoin football team and also the West Point team, where he was commissioned in 1909, served in the Army for forty years. He retired in 1945 to become an administrative assistant to Governor Hildreth.

A member of the Board of Overseers, General Philo received an honorary degree of Master of Science at the Sesquicentennial in 1944.

It Happens Here

Today
2:00 p.m.—Room 102, Memorial Hall. French and German reading knowledge examinations.
2:00 - 4:00 p.m.—Music Room. Glee Club tryouts.

Tomorrow
4:00 p.m.—Delta. Band rehearsal.
6:15 p.m.—Memorial Hall. Glee Club rehearsal.

Friday
Chapel, the Presidents Announcement of Phi Beta Kappa Elections.
2:30 p.m.—Pickard Field. J. V. Football vs Colburn.

Saturday
2:00 p.m.—Whittier Field. Football vs University of Massachusetts.

Sunday
3:00 p.m.—Chapel. The President of the College. The Choir will sing "Bowdoin Hymn" by Berzowsky.

Monday
5:00 p.m.—Alumni Room, Hubbard Hall. Phi Beta Kappa initiation.

Bowdoin Sacrifices Advantages

The sacrifice of Bowdoin's most significant advantages as a small liberal arts college has been the result of the admission of 233 new men this fall. The name Bowdoin has always spelled personal education in a human atmosphere. But now the College has acquired all the disadvantages of the large institution— inadequate rooming, shortage of teachers, lack of classroom space, and a partial curtailing of curriculum—and is preparing to give half an education to a larger number of students than she can properly accommodate.

One hundred men have been compelled to find quarters outside the facilities of the College, thus losing the intimate friendships to be found in Bowdoin fraternity house and dormitory life. Three men have been assigned to rooms designed for two.

In 1940 when the College enjoyed its normal enrollment of between 600 and 700 some 52 faculty were actively engaged in teaching students. Last fall with 963 undergraduates the number of active teaching faculty was increased to only 61, a dangerous and inadequate ratio of 15 to 1. And this semester 71 faculty members will teach 1079 students, still only 15 to 1.

This situation has produced unwisely large classes, one at last official count numbering 156. In many courses some students will remain nothing more than names in a record book. Freshmen, who need the closest attention, are being channeled into a few elective courses open to them which are assuming alarming proportions— especially first-year government and philosophy.

Lack of adequate classroom space is placing an added burden on a faculty already exhausted by long years of abnormal teaching during summer sessions. One professor is to deliver every lecture twice this fall.

Faculty members will have less time than ever for individual conferences and the proper correcting of required work will inevitably lead to a further use of the objective— and impersonal— examination and the vicious device of the sliding scale.

The College maintains, and with reason, that it would be unfair to deny an education to men who have been kept from college already for at least one year. True, but through the admission of these new men the College is undermining its own purpose— to provide a true liberal education for its students.

Indicative of the trend away from this kind of education is the distinct movement of students from courses concerning our cultural heritage to those of a practical value. A college degree has become a necessary passport for a successful career rather than indication that the holder is a really educated individual.

We had fully expected that Bowdoin would continue to withstand the "pressure from all sides" and maintain its high standards of education. But we find with disappointment that she too has succumbed to the popular demand and abandoned her advantages.

R. A. W.

Should Bowdoin Join USNSA?

In the summer of 1946 there was a meeting of the students of the world in Prague to set up an International Union of Students. The American delegation was not there long when it decided that it was not effectively representing the American students. Since then there have been two meetings of American students to set up a United States National Student Association which is to represent the American students in the International Union and to consider the educational situation here at home. Bowdoin was represented at both of the meetings.

Two commissions have been set up under two vice-presidents; one for international affairs and one for domestic affairs. Also the aims of the USNSA have been worked out for consideration of the student bodies.

On the domestic front it hopes to obtain orientation courses for freshmen, to improve student unions, to better the organization of social life on the campus, to consider part-time employment placement services, to act on housing, to improve school newspapers, and, finally, to make a study regarding the general intellectual apathy among the American student bodies.

Just how these things are to come about is not yet clear. On the international scene the USNSA is mainly interested in counter-influencing the far leftist attitude of the International Union of Students, apparently induced by the students of the Soviet sphere of influence. The USNSA also plans to participate in various other international organizations, such as the World Student Service Fund and UNESCO. It is hoped that through the international exchange of students, scholarships, and culture the group will promote international understanding.

The USNSA is the answer to the charge that the American students at the World Youth festival were not representative and "sold the nation down the river."

Whether or not Bowdoin joins the United States National Student Association depends on the student body itself, and is worth serious consideration.

We think it is worth a try.

A. B. P.

- At Bowdoin - Nearly Everyone Reads The "Orient"

New Magazine

[Continued From Page 1]
dollar prize for the best short story or poem will be awarded. According to the publishers it is the policy of "Prologue" to afford to the undergraduate the opportunity of having his work published— while he is still an undergraduate.

The magazine will not only reach the various campuses but will also be distributed throughout New England. According to the Circulation Department the initial sale is expected to be 2500 copies.

Glee Club Plans

[Continued From Page 1]
The program to be given at the Massachusetts State Teachers College for Women on Friday, March 19 is the first of the annual Spring Tour, which will go as far south as Washington, D. C., this year. The day after the Teachers College engagement, the Glee Club will travel to Hartford, Connecticut for the second concert of the tour.

After a lay-off in New York on Sunday, they will proceed to Washington, D. C., for a concert on the 22nd. From Washington the Glee Club will return to New York on the 24th for a concert to be announced, and then wind up the tour with a concert at Edge-wood Park Junior College at Briarcliff Manor.

The third annual concert at the Boston Pops during the second week in May will close the season. All of the Glee Club's activities will end with the annual Glee Club picnic.

Glee Club rehearsals will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings for one hour in Memorial Hall. After mid-year rehearsals will be reduced to two days per week—if the club is in space with its rehearsal schedule.

If You Ask Me . . . Interviewed Freshmen Find Rushing Too Fast, Confusing

Just for the sake of curiosity, if for nothing else the "Orient" decided to ask a few of the freshmen just what they thought of the rushing system at Bowdoin after being subjected to it for two days. One young freshman, caught coming out of the smoker in the Union, thought for a moment and decided that the rushing system was pretty good, although a little too fast. He rationalized, however, by saying, "It's good to get it over with."

"A little forward— some fraternities just won't let you alone..." stated one freshman who wore a pledge button. Another new arrival answered, between chews on a doughnut that the Union staff so graciously served, that he couldn't quite figure out how the whole system worked. He did not wear a pledge button in his lapel.

When questioned about what he thought about the fraternity rushing, one freshman was of the opinion after a minute's thought that rushing should be spread out. "Give both sides a chance to get adjusted," He brought out the fact that too many fraternities used their houses as major attractions instead of the men that lived in them.

The last member of the class of '51 interviewed, while placidly playing the piano in the Union lounge, immediately stood up and answered, "Yes sir." He was put at ease and said that his first impression of rushing was that it was silly. Mentioning that he was a legacy and had been pledged to his father's fraternity, he concluded the short interview by saying that rushing should be delayed in order that both sides might have a chance to know each other more thoroughly.

Masque & Gown To Give Original Student Musical

[Continued from Page 1]
between the hours of 10:00 and 12:00 a.m., 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., and 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

A small orchestra will serve as accompaniment for the singers, with a piano, violin and bass fiddle for the ballads and a piano, brass, and drums for the faster numbers.

Scenery will be designed to depict various campus "sights" and "an opening glimpse of heaven."

Officers for the fall term include Robert R. Bliss '47, president; Robert R. Bliss '47, president; William M. Davis '49, secretary; Peter T. Poor '50, production advisor; Robert F. Fargo '49, business manager; Richard J. Williams '46, production manager; Edward R. Kallop '48 and Boyd Murphy '48, members-at-large.

Honors System Revised By College Faculty

No departmental honors will be given in the future on the basis of marks alone according to a vote of the faculty announced recently by Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick.

Special work will be required even for simple honors by this first move back to the pre-war honors system.

In other announcements the Dean stated that waivers for entering veterans will be discontinued after February and that the second half of the summer session showed 28 men receiving straight A's and 52 major warnings.

World Affairs . . .

Wheeler Represents Bowdoin At U. S. Students Meeting

By John H. Nichols, Jr. '49

"I believe that this was the most important meeting of students ever to be held in this country..." stated Joseph C. Wheeler '48 when questioned about his experience as Bowdoin delegate to the Constitutional Convention of the United States National Students Association held in Madison, Wisconsin August 29 through September 7.

Just what is the USNSA? In the summer of 1946, 15 representatives of United States' student organizations, plus 10 representatives of large colleges in this country met in Prague, Czechoslovakia at a convention of international students associations.

"The American delegation realized the value..." of one organization made up of students from all sections of the country to bring about the exchange of undergraduate ideas. "Furthermore," Wheeler pointed out, "Such an organization will be of great service in expediting foreign travel and study."

In December 1946, Bowdoin was represented in Chicago by James B. Longley '48 at the conference of national organizations and colleges. "Here it was decided to form a National Student Organization. At this meeting there were 20 national organizations represented and 300 colleges. They set up a continuations committee at this time which was to make plans for the constitutional convention held last month.

Joe Wheeler was elected by the Student Council this summer to attend the constitutional convention. He was given partial financial support by the Council and the Blanket Tax. At this convention Wheeler was a member of the committee to draw up a constitution for a national student's organization which, when completed, was presented to the plenary session of the convention.

"This committee began meeting about the third day of the convention and met practically continuously from then on. Once it met for 38 hours with only short recesses for lunch."

The greatest problem of the constitutional committee was to get the various factions and regional groups such as the southern whites and negroes.

"At five-thirty in morning, during the all night session of the committee, a new proposal (for a preamble) was offered which had been written by four delegates, two Negroes and two southern whites."

The idea is to have an organization representing all the students. The organization will work mainly through two methods: the student councils and a regional level. With two basic commissions established the USNSA intends to take part in the international and domestic problems of college students.

On the national level the organization plans to strengthen the activity of student councils and create better educational opportunities.

"We have...three reasons for joining this organization," Wheeler concluded. "The first is that it can help us have a better, more effective student government. The second is that we will be able to

[Continued on Page 3]

Benoit's

OUTFITTERS TO BOWDOIN MEN FOR OVER 50 YEARS

CLASSICS

are still the smart
course at college

Like languages, science and math— clothes like these go on term after term at every college. It's because Bowdoin men have always found these classics at Benoit's— that through the years— Benoit's has become outfitters to Bowdoin.

Gray Flannel Suits

Unusually smart— and most reasonably price are these gray flannel suits— a must in every college wardrobe.

$45

Mansfield SADDLE STRAPS

Nothing has come along to replace the saddle strap as the best all around college shoe. We have them in all sizes.

$8.95

WHITE BUCK
OXFORDS
Red Rubber
Sole
$10 and $12.50

THE DOBBS
"GOALIE"
A New Hat for College Men
$8.50

ARROW Oxford Cloth SHIRTS

College men and college alumni have made rich long wearing oxford their favorite shirt. In white and colors— by Arrow.

$3.75 and $3.95

WOOL TIES

Arrow
Woodland wools in plaids and stripes.
Neckwear you'll like.

$1.00

KNIT TIES

The black knit— is the traditional Bowdoin Tie— Fine Rayon Knits.

$1.50

Benoit's

Senter Building

Brunswick

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, October 1, 1947 No. 8
Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, Johnson Poor '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, David Crowell '48, Albert B. Patton '50, Raymond S. Trough '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland Jr. '49
Feature Editor H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmutz '49, C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis R. Currie '50
Advertising Managers Alfred J. Waxler '47, Edward S. Early '49, W. Churchill Cressy '50
Cartoonist William M. Lanyon '47
BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors ... Professor Athena P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editor for This Issue ... Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Mellon Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

FIRST
IN FOOTBALL

...AND
FIRST IN EVERY MAJOR SPORT!

SPALDING
SETS THE PAGE
IN SPORTS

SPALDING'S
POPULAR 38-V
RIFLE OF FOOTBALL
IN THE NATIONAL
JUNIOR GUNNERS
CLASSICS AND ANNUAL BOWL GAMES FROM COAST TO COAST

...AND SPALDING MADE
THE FIRST FOOTBALL
EVER PRODUCED
IN THE UNITED STATES

Polar Bears . . . Injuries Mar Grid Outlook; It's The Yanks In 5 Games

By George F. McClelland II '49

Old King football has come onto the scene along with the autumn leaves and baseball is on its last legs. Here at Bowdoin Danny MacFadden's summer baseball nine compiled an impressive record, but when Adam Walsh led his prospective griders to Pickard Field for their first workout, the national pastime became a thing of the past at the little institution among the pines. Now the only ones here who have any interest in the diamond sport are those more intelligent fans who, disdaining the proximity of the two Boston teams, followed the fortunes of the Yankees and the Dodgers. Predictions are flying thick and fast on the coming series but from here it looks like the Yanks in 5 games.

Last week's excursion to Tufts is something which would be best forgotten, and Adam will be working hard on the remains of his charges to make Bowdoin rooters do just that come Saturday at Whittier Field. That "remains" was used advisedly, for the list of injuries this season has been staggering.

At this writing, the halfback situation is most critical. Donovan's leg fracture will spell fiasco for his football days this season, and with Jim Pierce and Ted Butler still out the burden will fall directly on Gil Dobie and Gordie Beem. Bill Toomy will be available for duty on defense but offensive reserves are practically nonexistent. Walsh's line also has taken a beating. Captain Jake Stankis' injury still bothers him and the date of his return is problematical. The state's best pass catching end is through for the season due to facial injury that required an operation. Bud Smethurst another letterman is also out with injuries. These

Dean Kendrick Names 14 Dormitory Proctors

The names of 14 student proctors for the college dormitories were recently announced by Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick.

In campus dormitories proctors have been assigned as follows: 7 Winthrop, Timothy J. Donovan, Jr. '48; 21 Winthrop, Eric H. Alkins '49; 7 Maine, George H. Griffin '47; 21 Maine, Herbert S.

French, Jr. '46; 7 Appleton, William H. Toomey '46; 21 Appleton, Loring E. Hart '46; 7 Hyde, Robert W. Biggar, Jr. '49; 21 Hyde, Umberto Cantalamessa '48; 7 Moore Hall, Donald M. Johnston '48; and 21 Moore Hall, Ira B. Pitcher '49.

Proctors at the air station will be: 15 Alderman, George R. Morgan '49; 68 Alderman, Robert S. Gingsburg '50; 9 Ellis, Raymond S. Troubh '50; and 60 Taylor, Martin H. Lee '50.

Tufts Downs Polar Bears, 21-12

Veteran Harriers To Battle Maine For State Title

When Coach Jack Magee issues his official call for cross country candidates this week he will be greeted by a nucleus of experienced harriers around which to build a squad powerful enough to wrest the state championship from the Pale Blue of Maine who have held a stranglehold on the cross country diadem for many years.

Three lettermen returning from last year's squad, which placed second at the state meet include Joe Woods, George McClelland and Harvey Jackson. They will be reinforced by Dick Shrack, Dick Wiley and Eddie Goon, who is up from last season's J. V. squad, and Fred Auten, the leading harrier on the undefeated 1944 team.

One sour note will undoubtedly hinder the Big White's hopes of breaking Maine's domination. Cab Easton, last season's captain, is not out for the team, and his loss is sure to be felt.

Book Situation Good; All Texts Available

Commenting that the "book situation was good," Mrs. Dorothy Levesque, manager of the college bookstore located in the basement of Moore Hall, pointed out that no courses would be lacking books for the fall trimester.

Mrs. Levesque made it clear that in some courses there would not be enough texts on hand due to the fact that the colleg enrollment exceeds by 100 an original estimate. She added, however, that the members of the faculty had been most cooperative in placing their textbook orders many months in advance.

Veterans will only be allowed twenty-five dollars a semester for their texts and other supplies, Mrs. Levesque stated. Due to the cut in the GI allowance for supplies the Moulton Union Store will discontinue issuing GI kits.

Fumbles Give Win To Jumbo Eleyen

By David Crowell '49

A crippled Bowdoin eleven failed before Tufts' single wing last week at Medford by a 21-12 count. With six first-stringers of the line-up out with injuries, the Polar Bears gave away three touchdowns in the first half, and even a good recovery could not salvage the contest for the visitors.

A damaging scrimmage with New Hampshire started the trouble ten days ago. And when Tim Donovan fractured his leg in the third quarter, Bowdoin's hopes for victory were squelched. Even Al Nicholson's 98-yard dash after he plucked a Tufts fumble out of the air made no difference. Nor could Gil Dobie's plunge after a Gillett-to-Beem toss raised Bowdoin's hopes. For Tufts, capitalizing on four White fumbles early in the game, had clinched matters at the start. Bowdoin's touchdowns merely made the score respectable.

There was no sustained drive for either club. Few passes clicked. But the Bowdoin line, sagging without Captain Jake Stankis, found the Tufts regulars rugged enough to force fumbles and that was the story of the game.

The Polar Bears were able to flash briefly at the start. Donovan and Dobie cracked the Jumbo for a pair of first downs but, after Frank Yirrell pounced on Dave Burke's fumble on Bowdoin's forty-one, the home team took the upper hand. Although forced to punt after failing to dent the Bowdoin line, Rudy Fobert nabbed another fumble on the White's sixteen. The same Fobert, running on fourth down, raced eleven yards to score on an end-around play.

It took Tufts three more plays to push the score to 14-0. Another fumble, recovered by Frank Steve, at the twenty-seven, made easy work for two Doliner-to-Fobert passes for Tufts second tally. The Bowdoin settled down to more competent ball-handling through the remainder of the first quarter but, at the start of the second, Eddie Schlutz fell on another Bowdoin boot on the thirty-five yard line. Again it was a long pass, Doliner to Fobert, which set up the score. It was Haynes who counted on a buck from the Bowdoin four. Doliner rifled his third straight place-kick over the bar to put Tufts ahead 21-0.

After a pass interception late in the second period, Tufts drove to the one-foot mark of Bowdoin only to fumble themselves. This time Al Nicholson of the Bears snatched the loose ball which hovered in the air and sprinted a near-century for the White's first tally.

Finally, in the second half, Bowdoin tossed away her guise of some tricky plays from the T were good for several first downs, but not until the last stanza could the Walshmen score again. Then it was Eddie Gillett's twenty-seven-yard heave which hit Gordie Beem to set up Dobie's score from the three.

The Tufts game, which was the renewal of a rivalry started in 1889—during the infancy of football—marked the return of Adam Walsh to the head-coaching berth

1946 Captain Lost To Cross-Country Team

CAB EASTON, captain of both last year's track and cross-country teams, by his decision not to run this fall, has lessened hopes of wresting the state harrier title from Maine.

Walsh Coaching Sagamores To Successful '47 Season

By Robert J. Waldron '50

Working under the lights of the Portland Stadium seems to be no handicap for Adam Walsh in his additional coaching role of the Portland Sagamores. Doing all of his practice work in the evening has kept the Polar Bear's football coach almost constantly on the run between here and Portland. In spite of this cramped schedule he has brought a higher degree of success to the Portland Semi-Pro than they have enjoyed for several years.

To date his Sagamores have played seven games, winning five and playing another to a scoreless tie. The Chiefs have met such rugged opposition as the Westchester, N. Y., All Stars, Staten Island Staps, the Everett, Mass. City Team, and representative teams from Worcester, Somerville, Leominster, and Lowell.

The highlight of the season, thus far was probably the Somerville game which ended in a scoreless tie. However the strongest and best balanced opposition came from the Staten Island club which last Sunday gave the Chiefs their first taste of defeat, 20-0.

Walsh has a strong and experienced team in the Sagamores, and their prospects for the remainder of the season look quite bright. Among the collection of former college stars and high school greats who make up the squad, there are a few who seem to be more outstanding. First in the eyes of the customers, of course, are the scoring backs, "Tuffy" Fitanides and "Moe" Denbow at the half furnish this punch and are well backed up by several other members of the squad.

Less in the limelight but essential to any successful team are the muscle men of the line. Highlighting the linemen are end "Jigs" Delisle, guard "Len" Zenkevitch, and center "Paddy" Quinn.

Walsh's inexhaustible store of football know-how plus these stars are the key to the Sag's current success.

Cross-Country, Grid Teams Face Full Schedule

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Sept. 27	Tufts	away
Oct. 4	U. of Mass.	home
Oct. 11	Amherst	away
Oct. 18	Williams	away
Oct. 25	Colby	home
Nov. 1	Bates	home
Nov. 8	Maine	away

J. V. FOOTBALL

Sept. 27	Andover	away
Oct. 3	Coburn	home
Oct. 10	Bridgton	home
Oct. 17	Maine Annex	home
Oct. 24	Open
Oct. 31	Maine Maritime	home

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Oct. 17	Higgins	home
Oct. 24	Hebron	home
Oct. 31	Ricker	home
Nov. 3	Open

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY

Oct. 17	Colby	home
Oct. 24	Bates	away
Nov. 3	State Meet	Augusta
Nov. 10	New Englands	Boston

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY

Oct. 20	Portland	home
Oct. 27	Deering	home
Nov. 3	Lincoln	home

Record Enrollment

[Continued from Page 1]

rant their use of Memorial Hall at that hour. Since no other such classroom is available, Professor Burton W. Taylor will deliver the same lecture to two sections, one at 10 and the other at 11 o'clock. Men in the 11 o'clock class will have to keep the other hour free for hour exams and finals.

Rhodes Hall, acquired by the College last year for additional conference space is being remodeled. The first floor will house the Alumni Office and the office of the Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings. The second floor has been made into three rooms intended for conference use but which may have to be used for regular classes. Assignment of classes to rooms, according to Professor Brown, will not be available until late today because of continued registration.

Three courses have been closed to freshmen, Economics 1-2, Biology 1-2, and Psychology 1-2. Enrollment in a number of popular courses has reached record numbers: Comparative Literature, 155; English 25, 156; Economics 1, 152; Philosophy 1, 83; Psychology 1, 138; Sociology 1, 145; Government 1, 70; Biology 1, 88; and Education 1, 131. At the time these figures were released freshman registration had not yet taken place.

Wheeler Report

[Continued from Page 2]

help raise the educational standards and opportunities in the nation as a whole. And the third is that we will be able to contribute to international understanding through the organization.

J. V. Eleven Holds Touted Andover To 6-6 Deadlock

Last Minute 22 Yard Wright-Begley Pass Earns Touchdown

Bowdoin's J. V. football team put on a startling comeback in their opening game as they came from behind in the final minute of play to tie the highly-favored Andover, 6-6, at Andover on September 27.

A desperation pass from Polar Bear quarterback, Joe Wright to right end Chuck Begley covered the final 22 yards to touchdown land, after Skip Polk of the Purple had gone on a 61 yard scoring jaunt early in the final period to break a scoreless tie.

Receiving the kick-off on their own 26 after the Andover tally, the junior Polar Bears proceeded to march 71 yards in just 11 plays to a first down on the home team's 3 yard line, only to have a spirited goal line stand halt them short of pay dirt. However, a poor punt put Bowdoin in possession on the Andover 25, and, after a pair of running plays had picked up three yards, Wright uncorked his scoring artery. Time ran out after an Andover pass clicked on the Bowdoin 35.

The contest was a hard-fought one with the hard charging line play of both teams outstanding. Neither eleven could gain consistently on the ground until Bowdoin's march in the final stanza, but a pair of hurling batteries kept the crowd on the edge of its seats throughout.

The Wright - to - Begley and Smith - to - Boddie combinations threatened on several occasions to break the game wide open, Taylor's punting for the home team kept Andover back on its heels much of the time.

The line-up:
Andover: Bowdoin: J. V. to Holden

[Continued on Page 4]

New Faculty

[Continued from Page 1]

degree there.

Gilbert S. Shaw '36 has been named Assistant Director of Admissions. Prior to this appointment he taught Biology.

George M. Hooten Jr., '46, who delivered one of the commencement addresses last June, has been appointed Teaching Fellow in Public Speaking. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and a winner of the Pray English prize.

David B. Sawyer, a graduate of Bates College, has been appointed Teaching Fellow in Biology. Leonard Sandquist '45 has been named Teaching Fellow in Chemistry.

Edmund L. "Bezer" Coombs '42 has returned after a year's absence to assume the position of Assistant Coach of football, basketball, and baseball. He is remembered as one of the volunteer coaches of the impromptu 1945 football team. While on terminal leave from the Marine Corps he joined "Dinky" Shay, Frank Sebastianski, Clark Young, and Geoff Stanwood, all still in service, to produce the much demanded team.

SPECIAL FLASH

HARMON'S is coming BACK TO BRUNSWICK

For many years HARMON'S MEN'S STORE was located just off the Bow-doin Campus at Brunswick. In 1940 after a lapse of 7 years during which Harmon's disappeared from the Bowdoin scene we opened in Bath. Since that time we have had regular showings at the various Fraternity Houses on Campus while we made every effort to locate in Brunswick.

Now — within the next week — HARMON'S will open their Bowdoin Branch at 199 MAINE STREET featuring a complete line of nationally famous men's clothing and furnishings.

Shirts by Arrow and Sandy McDonald

Clothing by Hart Shaffner and Marx and Leopold Morse

Sportswear by McGregor

Ties By McCurrah and Beau Brummell and Arrow
Belts and Suspenders and Jewelry by Hickok

The College Shop
HARMON'S

BATH

BRUNSWICK

"Mother,
Mother,
Mother"

WHAT A RECORD! ★
BERYL DAVIS' NEW DISC FOR RCA VICTOR

★ It's a groovy group of notes—done to a turn by one of the top of the new crop of singers.

Yes, Beryl Davis knows how to pick a tune... knows how to pick a cigarette too. "I tried many different brands and compared," says Beryl Davis—"I found Camels suit me best."

That's how millions learned from experience that there are big differences in cigarette quality. Try Camels in your "T-Zone" (Taste and Throat). Let your own experience tell you why more people are smoking Camels than ever before!

THE
CIGARETTE
FOR ME IS
CAMEL!

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

Campus Survey . . .

Carlos, Blind Student, Asks Cooperation From Dog Lovers In Handling "Smokey"

By Johnson Poor '49

Bowdoin men will become increasingly aware of one of their fellow student, Don Carlos, who was blinded in the South Pacific while serving in the army. Don is being guided by his seeing eye dog, Smokey, who has already attracted quite a bit of attention around campus.

Don wants it to be understood by the students that Smokey is not a pet and should not be treated as one. He is a work dog and his only function is to guide his master. Smokey, a German shepherd was secured by Carlos from the Seeing Eye Bureau in Morris-town, New Jersey, which supplies a great many of the dogs used by the blind.

The German shepherd along with the Labrador retriever and the boxer are practically the only breed of dogs chosen for guide work because of their temperament and exceptional memory.

For a week at the beginning of school Don's wife will accompany him and Smokey about the campus, but from that time on the two will be on their own. Smokey wears a type of a harness with a handle which Don holds and with which he guides. Students are cautioned not to pet Smokey since he is a one-man dog and doesn't take kindly to well-meaning carassers. Smokey is even more allergic to the various stray dogs on the campus, which will constitute quite a problem for the Seeing-eye dog and his master.

Although Don is entering Bowdoin as a freshman, he has had college work at the University of Oregon and at the extension of the same school. His original home was in Portland, Oregon. Here at Bowdoin he will be taking the standard freshman course, including Latin, Philosophy, German, and English. Don plans to major in English at Bowdoin and become a writer after he graduates.

While attending lectures Don will attach a microphone on the lapel of the professors and the microphone will be connected to a Soundcriber machine. Thus all the lecture will be permanently recorded.

Don was in the army for three years, serving with the 33rd division in the South Pacific. After he was blinded in combat, he went to the Army School for the Blind at Avon, Connecticut where he met his wife, who is from Simsbury, Connecticut.

Mrs. Carlos is a graduate of Westbrook Jr. College, and Don

Blind Freshman Aided By Seeing-Eye Dog

DON CARLOS AND SMOKEY will become familiar friends to the Bowdoin Campus this year as the veteran takes on a full student schedule.

ventures to say that it's the first time he knows of a Bowdoin man marrying a Westbrook girl. While at the school in Avon, Don started the "Quadrangle Review," a magazine for the blind which was well-received at the school. He formerly was an editor on the paper at the University of Oregon.

J. V. - Andover

[Continued from Page 1]

Horne, R. D. Brown
Kadofsky, R. C. Adams
Campbell, E. R. Simonton
Stedman, R. C. Sweet
Houghton, R. C. Robinson
Mistler, R. C. Taylor
C. Smith, R. C. Beasley
J. Smith, R. C. Beasley
Folk, R. C. Beasley
Bellman, R. C. Beasley
Periods 1 2 3 4
Bowdoin 0 0 0 6-6
Touchdowns - Beasley, Folk.

84 Men Receive Degrees At Summer Graduation

[Continued from Page 1]

W. Miller '48, Herbert B. Moore '48, Paul P. Morrell '45, Paul W. Muehlen '48, Benjamin W. Nevitt '48, Charles E. Noyes '37, Harold Palmer, Jr. '47, Lee D. Pettengill Jr. '45, Irving R. Plisidn '49, Carl Prior '48, Richard G. Purinton '48, Alexander Robertson, Jr. '48, and George G. D. Rockwell '48.

Robert E. Shanahan '45, Harold M. Small, Jr. '46, Vernon M. Sotak '49, Laurence Staples '45, Leroy E. Sweeney, Jr. '45, Theodore G. Tattios '49, Neil R. Taylor, Jr. '46, Stephen Thiras '46, John L. Thomas '48, Frederick A. Van Valkenburg '44, Richard G. Warren '44, Donald L. Webster '45, Alfred F. Wehren '47, Melvin L. Weiner '45, Frederick D. Wildman '48, William C. Wiswall '47, and Donald W. Zahnrke '45.

Recipients of the degree of Bachelor of Science were William H. Charles, Jr. '48, Sidney C. Cousins, Jr. '46, Robert B. Hunter '47, Robert D. Levin '45, Walter N. Pendleton '46, and Edward M. Taylor '45.

Tufts Game

[Continued from Page 1]

Tufts scoring: Touchdowns - Robert Haines. Points after touchdown - Dolmer 3 (placements). Bowdoin scoring: Touchdowns - Nicholson, Folle.
Referee, Edward J. Boyle (Holy Cross); umpire, Paul C. Oche (Pittsburg); line-man, Harold A. Wiper (Ohio State); field judge, Carl E. MacPherson (Colby).
Statistics:
Bowdoin Tufts
Rushes net 139 72
First downs 7 4
Passes attempted 15 14
Passes completed 3 8
Passes intercepted 0 3
Net yards passing 47 140
Yards lost penalties 69 30
Fumbles 6 2
Opposite fumbles recovered 3 4
Punts average 38 33

Daggett, Woods, Fickett Speak To Freshmen On Bowdoin Activities

Declaring that college spirit may be defined as receiving a good impression of the college by observing the actions of a single member of it, Professor Athern P. Daggett, of the Government Department, keyed the theme of the freshman smoker held in the Moulton Union Monday evening.

Acting as chairman for the evening, Joseph W. Woods '47 welcomed the freshmen to Bowdoin and introduced the various speakers. After Mr. Philip S. Wilder, Assistant to the President, announced the times for the freshmen to meet President Kenneth C. M. Sills, Louis P. Fickett, Jr. '47 spoke on the value of outside activities in terms of tools of learning such as expression and co-operation.

He spoke particularly on the activities of the Political Forum, the Bowdoin Christian Association, the Bowdoin "Orient," the "Bugle," the "Quill," the Debate Council, and the Masque and Gown. He concluded by suggesting that everyone should join at least one activity.

Representing the faculty Monday evening, Professor Daggett stressed the friendly relations between the student body and the faculty, and said that in college a man has the greatest freedom he will ever have to delegate his time as he wishes, indicating that the "best four years" of a man's life depend on how well he uses the college. Professor Daggett cautioned that the primary purpose of college is intellectual.

Jake Stankis '48, Captain and all-state guard on the football team, cleared up a number of questions about the athletic set up at Bowdoin, and spoke on the outstanding coaching staff. He also said that since an athlete at Bowdoin is expected to measure up scholastically as well as athletically there are no athletic scholarships at all.

Announcing that the dramatic society is to tour "Right Now, Brother" this fall, Peter G. Poor '50 asked that all those interested in any phase of the venture attend the first reading of the script on Wednesday evening in Memorial Hall at 8:30.

Enticing the freshmen with the travels of the Glee Club, Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson, of the Music Department, outlined the musical activities for the coming year, and ended the evening with the singing of "Bowdoin Beata".

Mass. State Game

[Continued from Page 1]

mond, a converted guard will open at center. The second string line is almost as strong and is sprinkled with lettermen.

The backfield is also a veteran studded one. Dave Jackson will be at blocking back. Hal Feinman and Charley L'Esperance will alternate at left half while Dick Lee and George Maturniak will share the right half berth. Don Sisson is the number one fullback with Steve Gilman his replacement.

The Statesmen opened their season with a 14 - 6 defeat at the hands of Bates. So this week's tilt will provide the first comparative score of the season for the Polar Bears who also fell in their opener 21 - 12 before Tufts.

No Scholarships For Men With Cars

The faculty Committee on Student Aid has voted that no scholarship awards may be made to any applicant, "who owns or operates a car unless the applicant lives out of town and the car is necessary for commuting or the car is required for regular employment."

Council Abandons Delayed Rushing

The plan of delayed rushing and formal bids adopted by the Student Council last spring was revoked by the Council this summer after a trial in June.

A resolution passed by the summer Council in the middle of July provided for unrestricted rushing this fall. A provision was added that after Friday of this week freshmen who have not been pledged are to consider themselves independents.

L. Robert Porteous, Jr. '46, president of the summer Council, stated that there was a definite demand by the houses to abolish the rushing plan for several reasons. It was found that some fraternities, under the trial system pledged too many men, while other houses could not get enough.

It was discovered also that the new plan gave the freshmen more opportunity to bargain with the fraternities as groups since they got to know one another before pledging. For example, a legacy would refuse to come into a house unless several of his friends were pledged also.

Porteous added that he believes unrestricted rushing gives a house a better chance to make an impression on the freshman.

Patronize the
MOULTON UNION STORE
and the
BOWDOIN BOOK SERVICE

for your

School Supplies

Textbooks

Freshmen Caps

Toilet Articles

The Cadets are flying again!

The U. S. Air Force now offers you the chance of a lifetime to start your career in aviation.

If you want to learn to fly, you have one of the finest opportunities ever offered in peacetime. Aviation Cadet pilot training has been reopened to qualified applicants presently serving enlistments in the Army, and to civilian young men who can meet the same high standards.

In order to be eligible, each applicant must be: a single male citizen, between 20 and 26½ years old, of excellent character and physically fit. He must have completed at least one half the credits leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, or be able to pass a mental examination given by the USAF. He must now be living within the continental limits of the United States.

Upon successful completion of the training course, Cadets will be rated as pilots, commissioned Second Lieutenants, and assigned to flying duty.

Reactivation of Aviation Cadet pilot training is only one of the several choices open to outstanding men who want increased responsibility and advancement in the field of aviation. It is now possible for qualified men to apply for attendance at USAF Officer Candidate School—and thus be able to equip themselves for such important specialties as engineering, armament, administration and supply.

You have a real chance to make progress and build a sound career for yourself in today's U. S. Air Force. Talk it over with the Recruiting Officer today at any U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

U. S. ARMY AND AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

Here's the one I'm really glad to put my name on . . .
They Satisfy me

Joe DiMaggio

With the KINGS OF SPORTS it's CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS Milder
BETTER TASTING
COOLER SMOKING

The Sum Total of Smoking Pleasure

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. LXXXVII

BRUNSWICK, MAINE, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1947

NO. 9

Bourjaily Novel Wins Applause Of National Critics

"Saturday Review" And "New Yorker" Acclaim New Bowdoin Writer

"First rate job" and "promising" wrote the critics in hailing Vane Bourjaily's first novel, "The End of My Life." Bourjaily finished his novel as an undergraduate publishing it this August after his graduation last June.

"Arresting first novel," "The New Yorker" reviewer wrote. "Mr. Bourjaily is often startlingly perceptive, has a true sense of climax, and unquestionably knows how to write."

In the "Saturday Review of Literature," Merle Miller wrote: "I hope a lot of people will read 'The End of My Life.' I'm sure almost everybody will enjoy it. . . and I'm equally certain that Bourjaily is going to write other and better novels. He has done a first rate job on this one."

Comparing the novel with those of other veterans written since the war, the "Saturday Review of Literature" called the opus one of "the best. It seems to have the most to say, seems to say it best."

"There is tenderness and violence in Mr. Bourjaily's story, the genuine, not the movie advertisement kind," wrote Miller, "and there is much more than that. There is a lot about a generation that is without much hope, that has never known stability, that found, even in the war we recently finished, not much to inspire a thinking man."

"The New Yorker" reviewer found main character "presented credibly." This critic added that, though "the narrative at times hits an undergraduate level. . . Mr. Bourjaily is often startlingly perceptive. . . and unquestionably knows how to write. His next book ought to be a lot more than merely promising."

Bourjaily's novel concerns a young American, tracing his life from a brief idyllic love affair in Greenwich Village through this last war and his experiences as an ambulance driver in Spain and Italy.

Huse '08 Bequest Gives $13,700 to Found Trust Fund

A bequest of $13,700 has been given Bowdoin to set up a trust fund of $500 a year as a memorial to the mother of Arthur H. Huse '08 Jessie Homer Huse, according to a letter to President Kenneth C. M. Sills from the executors of his will.

Mr. Huse entered Bowdoin in 1904 at the age of 20. He belonged to the History Club, the Circle Franciscan, and was an active member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Upon graduation, he returned to his home town, Camden, Me., and entered the banking business, serving with the Security Trust Company and the Megunticook National Bank.

Wedgwood Sales Resumed for Fund

China ware bearing various views of the campus is now being sold by the Alumni Office for the benefit of the Alumni Fund.

This Wedgwood China is made at the Pottery in England especially for the College. Colors are available in gray and blue, and the ashtray is also made in red.

Stocks are going fast due to the scarcity of these valued dishes during the war with the gray reported more popular than the blue. A detailed list is printed below for the benefit of those who are interested.

The Dinner Plate with six views include: Class of 1878 Gateway, Massachusetts Hall, Bowdoin in 1822, Walker Art Building, Hubbard Hall, and The Chapel. Prices: $10 for the six views, $18 a dozen.

The Soup Plate with the same design as dinner plates are priced at $12 for the six views and $21 for a dozen.

The other pieces and prices are: cup and saucer at $10 for six, $18 a dozen; bowl and saucer at $12 for six, $21 a dozen; after dinner cup and saucer at $10 for six, $18 a dozen; butter plate with a six-inch view of the fireplace in Massachusetts Hall—at $7 for six, $12 a dozen; ash tray—with a 4 1/2 inch view of the Massachusetts Hall Doorway—at $1 each, $3.25 for four; plate—size 16 inches long, with a view of the campus about 1860—at $10, 50 each; and bowl at $18 each.

Switzerland Education Announced By U. S. Council

The American Council on Education in Switzerland has announced the 1947-48 "Junior Year in Switzerland" program whereby students in this country who have completed two years of college study may continue their education in either the University of Zurich or the University of Basel.

This type of "Foreign Area Study" has been in operation for nearly 25 years. After an interruption due to the war, the organization in Switzerland opened up facilities at the University of Zurich in the fall of 1946 for a group of 70 American students. Among them are 20 ex-servicemen and one ex-servicewoman who are all studying under the G. I. Bill.

Because of the strong interest indicated by students all over the country, the Junior Year in Switzerland program is to be expanded over the coming academic year, 1947-48. Arrangements have been completed for the establishment of J. Y. facilities at the University of Basel, another outstanding Swiss university.

Courses adapted to the needs of the American undergraduates include German language and literature, art, music, economics, government, history, and continuation courses in modern languages.

College Museum Exhibition Displays Work Of Merrill '35

Helmreich To Be Political Forum Speaker Thursday

Professor E. C. Helmreich will be the featured speaker at a Political Forum to be held tomorrow evening, Thursday, Oct. 9 at 7:30 in Conference Room B in the Union for all students interested.

Also on the agenda will be a report on the Forum activities of last year by acting-Secretary Joseph C. Wheeler '48, and an outline of the plans for the forthcoming year by acting-President Lewis P. Fickett Jr. '47.

During a press interview Fickett mentioned some of the Forum's aims. They are to stimulate and promote student political interest by holding periodic discussion groups, and to secure competent lecturers in various political fields.

Another aim is to reach the student body as a whole by continuing the Student Committee for Political Affairs established last year. This last aim involves an impartial analysis of a major controversial issue by a student each month in Chapel, followed by a special student conference concerning the problem, subsequently followed by a campus poll taken to determine the undergraduate sentiment concerning the issue.

Rare Book Room Filled With Art, Architecture, And Books

From the ORIENT, May 15, 1946

Those interested in rare books or in architecture and art or merely in a pleasant atmosphere should drop around to the Rare Book Room on the second floor of Hubbard Hall, the College library.

The gift of a donor who prefers to remain anonymous, this room—popularly called the Treasure Room—was formerly a library in a house in New York. It was designed by the late C. Grant LaFarge. Commonly regarded as containing entirely of sixteenth century Italian Renaissance art, the room actually is a conglomeration of Renaissance art and modern art, as well as other types of art. The main purpose in the designing and the construction of the room has been to make it as attractive and atmospheric and as conducive to reading as possible. Thus, various types of art have been incorporated into the formation.

The most interesting items of the room are probably the antique ceiling and the mantelpiece, both of which are actually of sixteenth century Italian Renaissance art.

The ceiling is of an intricate and rich design. It is executed in carved and gilded wood, accompanied by contemporary paintings of religious and allegorical subjects in some of the panels. The artist who did the paintings in these panels is unfortunately unknown. The paintings themselves are expertly executed in a manner typical of the period in which they were done. The design of the antique central portion of the ceiling, which is of wood, is rather skillfully reproduced at the two ends of the ceiling, which are actually made of clay. The skillful reproduction, indeed, has made it somewhat difficult to discern much of a difference between the various portions.

The Bowdoin College Museum of Fine Arts will exhibit photographs by Stephen E. Merrill '35 of the Merrill Studio, Brunswick, from Oct. 7 to the end of the month.

The exhibition has been divided into the following groups of subjects: Philippine scenes, Manhattan series, Bowdoin College campus views, texture and pattern studies, informal portraits, formal portraits and pictorial and landscape studies.

Mr. Merrill's chief hobby is pictorial (primarily artistic) photography; and he has found subjects in Maine and New York City, and while serving with the U. S. Army Signal Corps in World War II found subjects in New Guinea, the Philippines and Japan. Mr. Albert S. Roe, Curator of the Art Collections, said, "He has an unusually fine ability to find artistic subjects in ordinary, everyday scenes and to create excellent eye-catching compositions from them. His technical skills in all photographic departments will be apparent to everyone who visits the exhibition."

Mr. Merrill is not bound to any one school of idea or technique. He has made many of the prints now on view with the standard professional photographer's large camera; but others he took with a press-type Graphic camera, and still more with a precision miniature camera.

ner typical of the period in which they were done. The design of the antique central portion of the ceiling, which is of wood, is rather skillfully reproduced at the two ends of the ceiling, which are actually made of clay. The skillful reproduction, indeed, has made it somewhat difficult to discern much of a difference between the various portions.

The mantelpiece, which is pictured elsewhere on this page, is of Istrian stone. A carved frieze with a portrait medallion stands out, supported by pilasters which are enriched with arabesques.

These two items, then—the ceiling and the mantelpiece represent Italian Renaissance art—a pseudo-classic type of art which overcame the whole of Europe and dominated the taste there for two centuries. This cinquecento—or High Renaissance—was an exhibition of emancipated modern genius kindled by the masterpieces of the past.

The woodwork of the walls is French walnut, enriched with gilded ornaments. These ornaments vary in texture. The ornament over the door, for instance, is of wood. There are others elsewhere in the room consisting of combs, which is a sort of clay. As yet, the only furniture in the room is an antique Italian Renaissance table, although other items of furniture are included in the gift and are expected to arrive shortly from New York. Other examples of furniture in study in this country.

Pleasant Summer Away From Home

From the Colby Echo Oct. 1st.

And we quote: "In pre-war days, Colby students often joked about the sign marking the city limits of Waterville. 'You are now entering Waterville, the live city.' After two summers in Brunswick, at Bowdoin Summer School, there are those of us who would now like to make apologies for laughing at that sign."

The surprise of the year came in compulsory chapel. The Bowdoin professors (a different one speaks each day) had been incoherent and their subject matter uninteresting all through the summer. The first Colby speaker broke this tradition. He had something to say and he could be heard distinctly. . .

Bugle To Expand In '48 - Griffin; New Men Needed

The 1948 edition of the Bugle will be expanded far beyond that of last year and may well be the largest in Bowdoin history, announced George H. Griffin '47 editor.

Although sticking to the traditional form of 8 1/2" by 11", the number of pages will be greatly increased. There will be cuts of the fraternities houses as well as pictures of their members and this year's edition will include more material on activities than in past editions.

The members of the graduating class will be written up with five men to a page rather than the customary eight. Further changes are pending.

The Bugle will be able to make these improvements because of their recently increased budget. Although Griffin and Paul H. Hanley, Jr. '47, the business manager have gathered most of their assistants, there is still an opportunity for those who would like to help out. Men interested in editing should see Griffin at 7 Maine Hall, and those desiring to work in the business department should see Hanley.

Foreign Students Still Arriving Five Not Here Yet

Foreign students are finding it difficult to get to Bowdoin on time; to date there are five who have been unable to start classes on schedule.

John J. Bonardelli of Rio de Janeiro arrived late last week, but by Tuesday Zekele Bekole of Cairo, Liu Tse-tsu of Hong Kong, Manfred Markhof of Vienna, Tundo Nevalinen of Helsinki, Finland and Albert Thebaud of Rennes, France had not arrived on campus.

Although some of these men have been delayed by the strike of American Overseas Airline pilots, Robert Y. Lee of Shanghai, China provided an interesting story of different difficulties in getting to Bowdoin. A transfer, in junior standing, from St. John's University, Shanghai, Lee was denied his passport for some time after he had received his scholarship to Bowdoin.

Because of currency and exchange problems his government refused to let him depart. Later, a regulation was announced that would allow only graduate students to study in this country. Somehow, Lee was permitted to come here to study and he said that he considered himself very fortunate.

Bob Lee, who is 23, was educated in the American High School in Shanghai and is well at ease speaking English. He is a major in Government and plans to go on to Harvard for graduate study. His sister also studied in America so that with several hundred St. John's Alumni in this country he has many friends to visit on vacations.

Bob spoke of the educational difficulties in his country which has been at war for many years and is now torn with political strife. "But," he said, "in China now we are trying for real democracy."

Lee is a veteran of two years service in the Chinese Army where he served for a time as an interpreter with the American 14th Air Force. He had to slip through Japanese lines to join the army and avoid being drafted by the Japanese.

He continued by saying that he thought international exchange of students promoted world concord and understanding and that he hoped his government would permit more undergraduates to study in this country.

Schooner Bowdoin Returned From Arctic Trip

THE BOWDOIN which took Commander MacMillan, Albert M. Barnes '49, and other New England college students on a trip to Greenland this summer.

Need For Unity Stresses Sills In Sunday Chapel

Emphasizing the need for unity of mankind based especially on "deep and religious principles in the foundations of education," President Kenneth C. M. Sills said that "an attitude of scorn to religion is not the best attitude for an educated man."

"If there is to be any salvation for this tired and restless world with all its complications, we must follow out the Old Testament prophet Micah who said: 'Under Christ all men are brethren,' he continued.

President Sills noted that the American people seem inconsistent with the neglect of religion in the schools. Feeling that the present is the time to repair the need, Americans must see that there is a "real, sincere attempt to base education on deep and religious principles."

He noted that religion was stressed in the college charter along with the emphasis on the need of learning in the arts and sciences.

Speaking before the large assembly of faculty members and students, President Sills emphasized the need for bettering ones religion in college. The graduate should be a better church member on leaving college than he was on entering.

President Sills traced the college careers of four imaginary men to show that in each case, with the help of or in spite of background, a student could improve his religion or views thereon.

One great asset of participation in religious services or activities like the BCA, he said, was the lesson that unity is valuable. "It is the duty of the college to call a man's attention to the religious activities that are available. Religion that does not end in action or show the correct path is weak and sickly."

"The person who scoffs at organized religions learns as he goes through college that an attitude of scorn to religion is not the best attitude for an educated man."

BCA Will Conduct Worship Services

The B. C. A. plans to conduct Sunday morning worship services in all the local churches for the current year, Joseph W. Woods '47, president of the B. C. A. announced in chapel on Tuesday, October 7th.

It was also announced that the B. C. A. will again hold its annual Religious Forum in February, and plans are being made for a series of religious philosophical discussions on Sunday evenings.

Barnes Visits Greenland With Commander MacMillan

Goud Warns Vets To Send Insurance Payments to V. A.

A recent interview with Mr. Allan F. Goud, director of the campus office of the Veterans' Administration, disclosed three items of interest to Bowdoin G. I.'s, pertaining to the payment of insurance premiums, abolishment of leave of absence pay, and the final government date of expiration for Public Laws 346 and 35.

"Veterans attending school in New England but having permanent residence outside this area are urged to keep sending their National Service Life Insurance premium payments to the VA branch office having jurisdiction over their permanent address."

"If the veteran desires to be billed at his school address he should note this temporary address on the flap of the premium notice envelope, VA Form 369, marking it - Temporary address. Only. This will insure his records remaining at the VA branch office in his home area."

"If a veteran should make a premium payment at a VA col- [Continued on Page 4]

Chason, Hunter, Bigger, Phi Beta

Charles G. Chason '46, Jackson H. Crowell '48, Robert B. Hunter '47, and Robert W. Bigger '47 were elected to the Phi Beta Kappa honorary society, Athens P. Daggett, Professor of Government announced in chapel last Saturday.

All those elected had already been graduated except Bigger, who was elected from the undergraduates.

Robert W. Donovan '46 and Alec J. Curtis '47 had already been elected, but not yet initiated; the initiation was held Monday in the Alumni Room of Hubbard Hall.

Radio Men Press Plans For Studio

In its attempt to make the Bowdoin-on-the-Air programs the coordinating and publicizing agency of all campus activities, Bowdoin-on-the-Air plans to intensify a campaign already well in progress to provide Bowdoin with a radio studio on the campus in cooperation with the Political Forum, to present panel discussion programs on current national and international controversial issues.

Masque And Gown Cancels Musical

Production of "Right Now, Brother," the original musical play which the Masque and Gown had planned to present this fall, has been postponed indefinitely due to difficulties encountered in casting. The Executive Committee of the Club will soon announce plans for a substitute play to be performed at Christmas Houseparties.

To Send Insurance Payments to V. A.

When asked how he liked the trip, Albert M. Barnes '49, Bowdoin's undergraduate member of Commander Donald B. MacMillan '37's latest expedition to Greenland, answered that he enjoyed it so much that he hoped to return again. Barnes, who had made a previous voyage with Captain Bartlett, brought back with him 35 specimens of birds.

The "Bowdoin" left Boothbay Harbor June 21st with a crew of 14 men including Commander MacMillan. Most of the crew were students from New England colleges and novices at seafaring life. However, Barnes asserted that they learned fast and it was always a happy crew.

The ship sailed first to Halifax, Nova Scotia to repair the generator and to take on supplies. From there they went to the Braador Lakes and on to Newfoundland and up the Labrador coast. The "Bowdoin" then crossed over to the west coast of Greenland and [Continued on Page 2]

Brown Scintillates At Orient Smoker

Herbert R. Brown, Professor of English, told of newspaper work in brisk, stimulating terms in an impromptu speech given at the ORIENT smoker held last Wednesday evening in the office.

Richard A. Wiley '49, Editor-in-Chief spoke briefly on the function of the ORIENT, and C. Cabot Easton, '48, Business Manager, outlined the business processes of advertising, printing, circulation, necessary to publication of the ORIENT.

Mr. Brown stressed the importance of the ORIENT as a historical chronicle which will become more apparent in the year ahead the Bowdoin will be experimenting with a greatly increased enrollment.

Most of the new men attending signed up for trial assignments.

It Happens Here

Today
4:00 P. M. Adams Hall. Band rehearsal.

Tomorrow
Chapel, Professor Turner.
7:00 P. M. Moulton Union. Organizational meeting of the Bowdoin Political Forum in Conference Room "B." Election of officers. All interested students are urged to attend.

Friday
Chapel, Musical Service, Mr. Carre presiding.
The soloist will be Colin T. Lancaster '49, baritone.
2:30 P. M. Pickard Field. J. V. Football vs. Bridgton Academy.

Saturday
Chapel, Professor Brumbaugh.
2:00 P. M. Football at Amherst.

Sunday
5:00 P. M. Chapel, Rev. Wallace W. Anderson, D. D., Hon '42, of State Street Congregational Church, Portland.
The choir will sing "If Ye Love Me, Keep My Commandments," by Thomas Tallis.

Monday
Chapel, The President.
8:15 P. M. Memorial Hall. George Freedley, Curator of the Theatre Collection, New York Public Library, speaks on "The American National Theatre and Academy."

George Freedley To Give Lecture On U. S. Theatre

Memorial Hall To Be Scene Of Critics Talk On October 13

Mr. George Freedley familiar with theatrical history, traditions and personalities, will give a talk in the American National Theatre and Academy, in Memorial Hall Monday, October 13, at 8:30 p.m., when his listeners will share with him his "first night" experiences as the dramatic critic of New York's Morning Telegraph.

Mr. Freedley curator of the theatre collection of the New York Public Library, one of the finest collections of its kind in the country, is an officer of the New York Drama Critics Circle, and is in the Board of Directors of the National Board of review of Motion Pictures. In addition he is President of the Theatre Library Association and executive secretary of the Societe Universelle du Theatre.

Greatly interested in the theatre since his childhood, Mr. Freedley graduated from the University of Richmond and took a post graduate course in the Department of Drama at Yale University, where he was a classmate of Mr. George H. Quinby, associate professor of English and Director of Dramatics at Bowdoin.

In 1928 Mr. Freedley became a stage manager, play reader, and production assistant for the Theatre Guild and other management. But he soon sought the theatrical work more suited to his qualifications, and in 1931 accepted a position with the New York Public Library organizing accumulated store of valuable historical material. He developed this into a source of research long needed by the New York Theatre.

Sills Opens Year By Questioning UMT, War Talk

Stating that he is not yet convinced that universal military training is the best and only method for defense, President Kenneth C. M. Sills revealed his stand on this and many other current problems during an address at the first formal daily chapel meeting held in the Congregational Church last Wednesday.

After suggesting that the students relax for a "long and tireless address," President Sills spoke briefly on the college and then plunged into some current national and international problems.

In spite of the large enrollment the students must still get a liberal education and preserve the family atmosphere, he said, adding that the college must recover and then improve the pre-war high standard of scholarship. Also, he suggested that the student body get to know their faculty both in the classroom and out of it.

President Sills urged the student body to listen to both sides of current affairs arguments and to make up their own minds after hearing all points of view.

In his own opinion: loose talk of war might produce war itself; prompt and generous aid to Europe is in order; the U. N., ineffective in many ways, is beneficial through bringing questions out into the open — if we lump all that the U. N. has done by what it has not done, he said, the balance would be in the U. N.'s favor.

Document Show At Walker Gallery

An exhibition of documentary paintings from the collection of the Standard Oil Company (N. J.), known as "OIL 1940-1945" and including work of such well known painters as George Schreiber, Howard Baer, and Thomas Benton, has been on display in the Walker Art Museum from September 22 through October 8.

The following description of the collection appears in the Handbook which accompanies the exhibition: "The years 1940-1945 were the most momentous in the history of the world. During this period petroleum, having become the principal motive power of our civilization, was called upon to help preserve that civilization."

[Continued on Page 3]

Delayed Rushing Still Needed

Last spring the ORIENT proposed and fostered a plan to solve the problems created by the fraternity rushing system. The ORIENT'S plan was formulated expressly to counteract the unfair practices resulting from high-pressure rushing of incoming freshmen which made a free-for-all out of what should be a careful and deliberative process.

This plan was centered about delayed rushing, the idea being to have a relatively long period — one semester — in which rushing itself was not to take place, but in which fraternities and the freshmen were to become familiar with each other in a systematically thorough fashion. This was to be followed by a scheme of controlled pledging which insured the freshmen maximum scope and complete psychological freedom of choice.

It was agreed that a plan of this nature should be given a trial during the summer term. The Administration approved the plan and many among the student body recognized the need of a reformed rushing system. Accordingly, freshmen and transfers entering for the summer term met at a smoker, and informal talks were given by the heads of various campus organizations and the titular head of the Student Council. The plan of delaying rushing for a week and of having written, sealed, pledges covering a restricted period of time was outlined. The twelve fraternities were briefly described, and dining plan involving the assignment of newcomers to the several fraternities was presented with much confidence and enthusiasm.

The plan was not particularly successful during the summer term from certain technical standpoints only. It was not voted out by the Student Council, but no further revised plans were proposed. It is to be feared that the progressive elements in the Council were surprised by others who wished to preserve for their own well established fraternities the perfectly obvious advantage which unlimited rushing affords them. All attempts at reform of rushing and pledging have now been abandoned.

But it appears that the matter may well be brought to the fore once again. The ORIENT last spring went so far as to point out the shortcomings of the summer term as a trial period. The reasons are obvious. It was highly improbable that such a scheme would be given a fair trial during a summer term when fraternities were all but stagnant and even when certain of them had to share their dining club facilities.

Unless the efforts to reform rushing and pledging made so far are to be regarded as meaningless and insincere, they should be continued with intelligence and vigor. The quite excusable failures of last summer should serve only to stimulate the imaginations of those students who are in a position to consider the problem intelligently.

R. S. T.

No Student Interest In "Bugle"

Critics of the 1947 "Bugle" and of the fact that the same editor-in-chief has been appointed for the 1948 yearbook may well look to the lack of their own interest for the answer to their complaints.

The 1947 "Bugle" left much to be desired — the result of inexperience on the part of those in charge. But the fact remains that no truly competent persons applied for the post when it was thrown open a year ago. The faculty committee had even to seek out a business manager and beg him to assist the yearbook.

No able juniors or sophomores had worked on the 1947 "Bugle" so that they could be advanced on this year's staff. The 1947 editor refused at first to serve another year but yielded when it became obvious that he was the only person available for the chief editorial position.

Not only was lack of student interest evident in relation to the "Bugle" staff, but only 15 of over 200 men bothered to sign up for their yearbook pictures. Special class meetings and house agents were required to urge seniors even to have their pictures taken.

Everyone in the undergraduate body expects institutions like the "Bugle" to continue unflinchingly. But the work necessary for their continuation must be done by these same undergraduates. Those who are too ready to criticize might place some of the blame on themselves.

R. A. W.

The Bowdoin ORIENT extends its deepest sympathy to Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick whose father, Ryland Morris Kendrick, Professor Emeritus of Greek at the University of Rochester, died suddenly September 27.

Views Of Rare Book Room

TOP—Portrait of Henry W. Longfellow which hangs over the mantelpiece of the Italian Renaissance style Treasure Room. UPPER RIGHT—Statuette added to the room as an example of modern and ancient art. BOTTOM—Leather doors which give modern touch to entrance to rare book collections.

[Continued from Page 1] cluded in the gift can be seen out in the hallway of the second floor of the library. From a layman's point of view, some of these may seem a bit grotesque. Undoubtedly, the librarian has his reasons for placing them there, however. Set in the panelling over the mantelpiece, by the way, is a portrait of Henry W. Longfellow, by G. P. A. Healy. Longfellow himself said that this portrait was the finest ever painted of him, and so it is fitting that it hang now in this room, in which the Longfellow Collection, which includes many valuable first editions, is to be kept. This portrait was painted when the poet was in his middle age and, if nothing else, it is at least evidence of the fact that Longfellow was not born with a flowing white beard, as some people have come to believe.

G. P. A. Healy himself was the foremost American portrait painter of the nineteenth century. He painted, in addition to the portrait of Longfellow, that portrait of Lincoln which now hangs in the White House. He has also painted one of Daniel Webster. His best-known historical painting is "Webster Replying to Hayne," which now hangs in Faneuil Hall in Boston. Healy was the first American to receive the honor of being invited to contribute a portrait of himself to the collection of self-portraits located in the Uffizi Gallery in Florence, Italy.

The statuette pictured on this page really are of no great importance. They are examples of the combination of modern art and ancient art, for they are not Italian Renaissance, but were made in New York about fifteen years ago. They are made of compo and not of wood. Added to the room primarily for the sake of mood and attractiveness, they seem to fit in well with its basic pattern.

Mr. Freedley

[Continued From Page 1]

Mr. Freedley is an officer of the Margaret Webster, Lawrence Tibbett, and many others. American National Theatre and Academy and attended meetings as its representative on the West Coast and in Paris during the past summer. His speech at Bowdoin will be primarily concerned with the founding, activities and ambitions of this organization.

Three Named for Rhodes Awards

Charles T. Ireland '42, Charles W. Curtis '47, and John Matthews Jr., '43 have been awarded the Rhodes scholarship, Professor Paul Nixon, faculty agent for the scholarship announced. Ireland, editor-in-chief of the Bugle while an undergraduate, and Curtis, once Editor-in-Chief of the ORIENT, are now at Yale doing graduate work. Matthews, a track man, prepared at Malden High School.

Richard L. Chittim, instructor of Mathematics here at Bowdoin, left for England a few days ago to study at Oxford under the auspices of a Rhodes Scholarship.

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Telephone 224-W

119 On Dean's List Straight A's to 28

The following men have been placed on the Dean's List by Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick. This includes those students who, although they may not have been at Bowdoin for the second term of the '47 Summer Session, were nevertheless, on the Dean's List at the time they left College.

The following upperclassmen who have credit for four or more trimesters — may cut classes during the Fall Trimester 1947-1948 at their discretion, having received "B" grades or better in their subjects during their last term at Bowdoin:

D. B. Alden; W. R. Barnstone; G. E. Berliawsky; R. W. Biggar, Jr.; P. L. Bishop; D. S. Bloomberg; J. H. Bonney; R. L. Boudreau; D. W. Boulton; W. F. Byron.

U. Cantalamessa; H. V. Carey; C. W. Carruthers; E. P. Charuk, Jr.; J. M. Corum, 3rd; J. R. Cramer, Jr.; A. J. Curtis; C. Danielson; D. C. Day; R. I. de Sherbinin; L. C. Dobbrou.

S. F. Dole, Jr.; A. D. Dolloff; W. A. Dougherty; K. Dowden; R. E. Eames; P. W. Estes; L. P. Fickett, Jr.; H. Francke; R. J. Dowling; H. B. Carney, Jr.; J. R. French; H. B. Goldberg; E. Goon; J. T. Goudouros; G. H. Griffin; J. B. Hall; P. C. Hanna, Jr.; E. D. Hanson; L. E. Hart; E. A. Hawks, Jr.; S. P. Hilton; R. W. Johnson; R. E. Kierstead, Jr.

F. R. Kelly; R. L. Kenvin; W. B. Kirkpatrick; K. Kyle; B. A. LeBeau; R. C. LeBlanc; D. M. Lockhart; D. H. Lyons; W. C. McCormack; H. N. Macomber; A. B. Maxwell; R. A. Maxwell; A. X. Melville.

G. F. Monagan; P. W. Moran; L. A. Nadeau; D. R. Paquette; G. Paradis; G. A. Parsons, Jr.; R. E. Poulos; E. G. Ramsey; W. H. Rosenberg; J. Sands.

J. J. Schmuck; T. J. Skiffington;

S. D. Spector; D. B. Strong; R. H. Swift; R. T. Tanner; R. D. Van der Feen; H. G. Vincent, Jr.; R. E. Waite; R. J. Waldron.

T. M. Warren; E. H. Weren; B. E. Wetherell; J. C. Wheeler; B. H. M. White; G. L. Whitney; R. A. Wiley; E. J. Wilinsky; F. W. Willey, Jr.; J. H. Wine; D. S. Wyman; J. D. Young, Jr.; P. Prins.

The following men with Sophomore standing may cut classes during the Fall trimester 1947-1948 at their discretion, having received straight "A" in their subjects during the past term:

C. P. Darcy; J. P. Gustafson; M. G. Henry; S. R. Hustvedt; J. R. Hupper; C. A. Lermond; D. Ripley; M. S. Stevenson; W. W. Strout; D. C. Union.

The following men who have credit for less than four trimesters, may take six cuts during the Fall Trimester 1947-1948, having received at least half "A's" and half "B's" in their subjects in the past term:

S. B. Carpenter; J. W. Curtis, Jr.; J. E. Duffer; H. R. Dwellley; R. E. Herriek; W. J. Kirwin, Jr.; J. McKeen; D. F. Mortland; H. D. Nelson, Jr.; W. T. Norton.

M. F. Otley; J. R. Pandora; A. B. Patton; H. B. Peabody, Jr.; J. P. Prins; P. H. Rubin; A. L. Sawyer; H. S. Sawyer; M. Walker; P. T. Welch.

These students are advised that abuse of the Dean's List privileges may lead to their withdrawal. The privileges of this list do not include absence from Chapel or from any written or special work demanded by the department.

During "A" List:
D. C. Beardslee;
R. W. Biggar, Jr.;
R. P. Creed;
C. Danielson;
O. W. Donnelly;
K. Dowden;
J. R. Dubien;
L. P. Fickett, Jr.;
T. D. Graff;
E. G. Heinemann.

S. P. Hilton, J. R. Hupper, S. R. Hustvedt, R. L. Klein, R. L. Leininger, C. A. Lermond, D. M. Lockhart, R. A. Maxwell, P. W. Moran, H. M. Kawnsley, R. Sadacca, G. J. Sheahan, W. W. Strout, H. N. Toothaker, D. C. Union, H. G. Vincent Jr., C. A. Williams, Jr., C. G. Chason, J. G. Crowell, R. B. Hunter, H. M. Small.

Six of the non-graduate list students were from Swarthmore and seven were special students 52 major warnings were issued last term compared to 71 the first term, a considerable improvement.

MacMillan's Trip

[Continued from Page 1]

through Baffin Bay, down along the ice flow vainly seeking polar bears south across to Fobisher Bay, through the Hudson straits and down the Labrador coast. The ship put into Boothbay Harbor again September 15th after sailing more than 8000 miles.

The vessel stayed within sight of land most of the way and stopped long enough at many places in order for the young scientists to pursue their studies. The group studied birds, rocks, minerals, flowers, and eskimos on the way.

Barnes recalled many interesting experiences including being only 11 degrees from the North Pole. A stopover was made at Hawks Island where the crew visited the whale factory and tasted whale meat which they found not unlike beef.

Outfitters to College Men

GRAY FLANNELS That Measure Up To Your Ideas

All Wool
Correctly Styled

well-tailored, gray
Flannel Trousers

$9.95 to $13.95

We know how important gray flannels are to college men - that's why we haven't missed a bet in trying to give you a choice — that measures up in every way to your idea of the right shade — the right design and the right price.

Saddle strap
OXFORDS

by Mansfield

Maybe saddlestraps aren't compulsory — but from the calls we're getting for these Mansfields — they sure are popular.

$8.95

Headquarters for Bostonian and Mansfield shoes - Arrow shirts - McGregor sportswear.

Benoit's

Senter Building

Brunswick

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '48
Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Associate Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, Johnson Poor '49
Managing Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, David Crowell '48, Albert B. Patton '50, Raymond S. Trough '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland III '49
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmuck '48, C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis R. Currie '50
Advertising Managers Alfred J. Waxler '47, Edward S. Early '49, Assistant Editors: William S. Angerson '47, William M. Davis '49, Charles T. Dillaway '49, John F. Noxon III '50
Reporters: George E. Berliawsky '48, William C. Rogers '48, Edward M. Jackson '49, Robert A. Gullian '50, John L. Bacon '51, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corlies '51, Laurence M. Edwards '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Edwin R. French '51, Albert P. Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Robert S. Spooner '51
Business Assistants: Umberto Cantalamessa '48, Ernest L. Bainton, Jr. '48, Gordon F. Lindeke '50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blatchford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardee '51, Donald Union '51
Photographers Roger N. Hupper '49, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Lanyon '47, Richard M. Frye '49

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors ... Professor Atherton F. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '48
Managing Editor for this Issue Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address correspondence to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Main Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

MIKE'S PLACE

HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Brunswick

Writing Talent
Information Free
WANTED MAGAZINES
RADIOS
WRITERS TALENT SCOUT, INC.
1067 North Fairfax, Hollywood 46, California

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Vance Bourjaily's Book
"THE END OF MY LIFE"
Is Having A Wonderful Sale
Royal Portable Typewriters
Now On Sale
Turn In Your Old Typewriter
For A Good Allowance On A New Machine

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

STATE HOTEL
and
RESTAURANT

Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It
BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL
COCKTAIL LOUNGE

192 Maine Street

Brunswick

Polar Bears Center of Line Needs Strengthening, Downfield Blocking Needs Perfecting

By George McClelland '49

Though Bowdoin's opponent last Saturday had changed its name since the last pigskin battle between the two schools, the Polar Bears neglected to change the script and so for the second year in a row fell before a determined second half drive by the grey of the U. of Massachusetts, the more formal cognomen of old Mass. State. The operatives that made up the visitors attack were largely those that pulled out that weird 11 to 8 triumph a season ago at Alumni Field, Amherst.

However, this is a Bowdoin outfit that has made astounding progress in the space of a week, and one that appears capable of continuous improvement. Adam Walsh says that he is building for the future this year, but he would love to tuck another state series feather into his cap, and the prospects of his doing so are not as bleak as it was first feared. With the Colby game less than three weeks away much remains to be done. The center of the line must be strengthened, the downfield blocking certainly must be perfected for lack of it against the Statesmen cost the Big White touchdowns on more than one occasion, pass defense will have to improve still further, while the offensive maneuvers of the T-formation will have to be smoothed out a great deal before the Colby game or that Bates tilt at the latest.

Though these and other defects must be ironed out, the situation is far from hopeless. These tasks are not insurmountable for the squad is eager to learn, and barring another injury assault the state diadem will still be in reach. Certainly a better coaching staff could not be asked for, and they like to win as much as anyone!

Coburn Edges Bowdoin in Final Play of Hard Fought Junior Varsity Tilt

After keeping the initiative for much of the game the Big White finally gave way to Coburn's fast heavy backfield and Clark pounded over the goal line when less than six minutes of play remained. The scrappy Bowdoin Jayvee football team lost 7-0 in the closing period of the game with Coburn Classical Institute last Friday.

Bowdoin seemed on the verge of scoring several times during the first half but injuries to key men in the forward wall, Captain

Bruce Alden, Leland Howe, Dana Brown and Bladen Smith slowed the drive. Tough Bobby Graff once drove 35 yards in three plays. Diminutive Dominic Toscani, quarterback, selected plays that sent Bowdoin backs roaring through the line deep into Coburn territory.

A rejuvenated Coburn team sparked by Clark and Glowacki kept Bowdoin on the defensive during much of the second half. Penalties and a severe loss on an

(Continued on Page 4)

Massachusetts Rallies To 7-to-6 Victory Bowdoin March Falls Short In Final Period At Whittier

The University of Massachusetts, fresh from a 14-to-6 loss to Bates, spoiled Bowdoin's home opener last Saturday by squeezing through to a 7-to-6 triumph despite a spirited last-period stand by the Bowdoin line.

Prospects for the first Bowdoin victory of the young season looked good at half-time. The Polar Bears had marched eighty yards to score while holding the Statesmen outside of the Bowdoin thirty. But the visitors were able to rally their own forces for a score in the second half, and Bob Raymond kicked the extra point which finally gave Massachusetts the decision.

Although the visitors held the upper hand in the first period—all but four plays were run off in the White's territory—Bowdoin finally took over on her own twenty after Don Sisson's touchback punt from the thirty-three. Ed Gillen was smothered for a short loss, but Gil Doble's end run on the next play was good for twenty-three yards. Jim Pierce plunged for nine to midfield, but two more plays found the home team still at the fifty, as the first quarter ended.

Bob McAvoy's fourth-down plunge put Bowdoin in the Statesmen's territory for the first time with first down on the forty-three. Despite a penalty which cancelled a ten-yard dash three plays later, Pat Slattery's fine grab of a Dave Burke pass clinched another first down on the thirty-two.

McAvoy then came into his own with three power plunges to the sixteen but the ball remained there at fourth down. Dave Burke's desperation pass found Al Nicholson whose stretch catch scored the first touchdown of the afternoon. But Roger Williams' conversion attempt was fruitless as the University line rose as a unit to bat the ball to the ground.

When the Massachusetts squad returned to the field for the second half, they were ready for the kill. L'Esperance struck home on three ten-yard heaves to Hal Hall, the last of which was a fourth-down strike to the rangy end for a touchdown. A crowd of 4000 rose tensely as Bob Raymond dropped back for the crucial placement. His kick was faultless, and the visitors had taken, the lead, 7 to 6.

Bowdoin had apparently taken the initiative once more, but Jim Pierce's seventeen-yard dash was nullified by a penalty and Eddie Gillen's long pass was intercepted at midfield by Sweeney who returned the ball thirty-eight yards to the Bowdoin twelve. Lee powered to the seven at the end of the period.

Then the Bowdoin line showed its true mettle. On his fourth try Lee had a first down at the one-foot line. The line held. A roughing penalty pushed the aggressors back to the fifteen yard line. L'Esperance, rushed heavily could not pass accurately on the next play. Pete Tassinari, running for the sideline on the next play had apparently found a failure in the Bowdoin defence at last, but Gil Doble came from nowhere and rocked him after a two-yard gain.

L'Esperance, surrounded again, almost made good on another end zone pass, but it failed and Bowdoin took over on her own thirteen.

But even a sixty-three-yard march after a punt exchange did not count as three passes from the Massachusetts sixteen failed at the final gun.

Ponzi, Billiard Champ Shows Trick Shots

Andrew Ponzi, three time champion of the world at pocket billiards, gave a demonstration of trick shots in the Moulton Union billiard room last Thursday afternoon and evening for the billiard enthusiasts at Bowdoin.

Mr. Ponzi began asking for a challenger to play a call shot game

(Continued on Page 4)

Six 1946 Lettermen Answer Ski Call

Six lettermen were among the twenty candidates that reported for the ski team's first meeting of the year last Monday in the Moulton Union Lounge.

Letterman Larry Burke addressed the group that included, Bob Emmons, Bruce White, Chris Langgaard, Bruce Alden and D. Caldwell from last year's squad. Merrill Hastings who coached the squad last winter has decided not to return to school.

Plans for fall conditioning for the tough schedule have been made and starting next week all aspirants will commence cross country running and calisthenics. As soon as conditions permit, the squad will start actual skiing to determine what men will be on the varsity and junior varsity teams. Lack of early practice last year seriously handicapped the Bowdoin team in early meets.

Other prospective skiers at the meeting included: Bob Tevalof, Joe Bradley, C. R. Green, A. L. Dunphy, John Blatchford, Bill Skelton, Paul Brown, Tom Tarrant, Paul Hwoschinsky, John Newton, G. E. Quail, Phil Glidden, George Fox, and Hal Kimball.

FOR SALE

1931 Model A Ford Roadster

First Class Condition, Engine Overhauled, Five New Tires, Seat Covers, New Top, Repainted 1946, Chromium and General Appearance Excellent, Mileage Low. Write or phone:

LINCOLN SUPPLY COMPANY
15 EXCHANGE STREET
PORTLAND, MAINE
Telephone 3-3459

Bowdoin's Lone Touchdown Against U. of Mass.

AL NICHOLSON grabs Dave Burke's touchdown pass which put Bowdoin ahead 6-0 in the second period against Massachusetts. Another aerial gave the visitors a 7-6 triumph.

Undeclared Jeffs Of Amherst Are Loaded For Bear

The Lord Jeffs of Amherst will really be loaded for bear when they meet the Bowdoin Polars Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Big White will be seeking their first win in three starts, while the hosts, Amherst, have thus far been undefeated with wins over Champlain and Coast Guard Academy.

A Win for Bowdoin on this Massachusetts jaunt would give them 8 wins against 15 losses in the series which started in 1899. One game was tied.

Several injuries in the ranks of regulars on the squad have hampered the Walshmen from getting their gridiron machine in perfect running order this year, but, in dropping a close one to the University of Massachusetts, 7-6, last Saturday they showed fine offensive power as backs Doble and McAvoy gained yardage consistently. The absence of Capt. Jake Stankis has left the line defensively weak. He probably will see no gridiron activity until the State Series, three weeks hence.

At least seven members of the Amherst team that beat Bowdoin by a 7-0 margin last year will start in Saturday's encounter. Led by Capt. Grand Ford, a stalwart at fullback, they boast a heavy, fast, powerhouse aggregation.

In left tackle Pete Morse, the Lord Jeffs have not only a tower of defensive strength, but a downfield blocker that has wrecked the secondaries of many opposing defenses. Morse's place kicking has scored nearly a perfect record of points after touchdown.

The Amherst passing attack features last year's luminary, right halfback Smith, and quarterback Gold in the pitching department, while a 1946 substitute, Ed Kelley has been a consistent receiver of their offerings. Smith's passing was the bane of Bowdoin's hopes in the game last year.

The Bowdoin squad will leave for the game by bus on Friday morning at 7:40 and stop for lunch in Fitchburg, Mass. Following an afternoon practice session at Amherst, the team will stay overnight at the Weldon Hotel in Greenfield.

After the game they will travel to Boston for a stop-over at the Bellevue Hotel, returning to Brunswick Sunday afternoon.

Speaking Tryouts

Trials for the final speakers in the Annual Prize Speaking Contest will be held Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock, October 21, at 101 Memorial Hall.

At that time each competitor should be ready to read a three to four minute passage from any selection he chooses. The passage used in the trials need not be that which the speaker would, if chosen, use in the final contest. Contestants who wish to discuss the contest or consult on their readings should see Mr. Thayer in his office in the Library.

Interfraternity Football Schedules Now Complete

Infraternity football will be run differently this fall.

Each fraternity will have two teams, one to play at 1:30 the other to play at 3:30. Each team will be in a league with five other fraternities. Games will be played five days a week, each team not playing more than three times in one week. At the conclusion double playoffs will be held, i.e., champions of the 1:30 teams and the 3:30 teams will be chosen and the college champions will be the winner of the final playoffs between these two teams.

A complete set of rules will be given to each house, two rules are noteworthy: All men out for varsity, junior varsity, and freshman football, and cross country are ineligible; and each house will furnish a referee when they play.

League A—1:30 p.m. League B—3:30 p.m.

OCTOBER 13 A.T.O. - D.E. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 14 Beta - D.U. Zeta - A.D. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 15 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 16 Chi Psi A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 17 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 18 Beta - D.U. Zeta - A.D. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 19 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 20 Chi Psi A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 21 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 22 Beta - D.U. Zeta - A.D. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 23 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 24 Chi Psi A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 25 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 26 Beta - D.U. Zeta - A.D. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 27 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 28 Chi Psi A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 29 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 30 Beta - D.U. Zeta - A.D. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 31 Psi U. - S.N. A.T.O. - K.S.

OCTOBER 21 A.T.O. - K.S. Zeta - Psi U.

NOVEMBER 2 to 7 Playoffs

Art Exhibit

[Continued from Page 1]

"In recording the dramatic story of how one industry geared itself to meet the vast problems of global war, these pictures also show how that industry is equipped to give fuller meaning to the years of peace."

"Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) felt the necessity for permanently documenting this crowded and productive period. Over a year and a half ago, the company commissioned, through the Associated American Artists, 16 of America's leading painters to do its ultimate uses in far parts of the world."

In the fall of 1919 the ice hockey rink was located between Hyde Hall and Hubbard Hall.

451 men enrolled in Bowdoin College in the fall of 1919 broke "the record for total enrollment in a normal year."

BOWDOIN WIVES!

Would you like to meet your Bowdoin neighbors? We want to meet YOU! Join us at our first fall get together... 8 P. M., Thursday, Oct. 9, in the MOULTON UNION LOUNGE

We're brimming with ideas and we need YOU! See you in the Union on Thursday night. REFRESHMENTS AND IDEAS FOR ALL!!!

ANNOUNCING

The opening of

The College Shop Harmon's

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15th

AT

199 Maine Street

Next door to the Brunswick Flower Shop

Just A Step off Campus

On next Wednesday morning HARMON'S will open our college Shop. Pledging to the men at Bowdoin that we will at all times present for your selection the finest products manufactured by the best known makers of men's clothing and furnishings.

Further, we promise to maintain the same service and attention to your needs that we have in the past at our various showings on the campus.

HARMON'S

Bath

Brunswick

"Dancing with a Deb" GREAT RECORD! ★

—"Skitch" Henderson's Newest Disc for Capitol

"Skitch" and some of his side-men looking over an arrangement of "Dancing With a Deb."

IT'S CAMELS WITH ME!

The platter that's causing plenty of chatter in juke circles is "Skitch" Henderson's latest instrumental—"Dancing With a Deb." Boy—what a record!

It's obvious "Skitch" has had plenty of experience in tickling those ivories, and he follows that experience rule in smoking too. "I smoked many different brands and compared," says "Skitch." "My choice from experience is Camel."

Try Camels. Compare. Let your own experience tell you why more people are smoking Camels than ever before!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO. Winston-Salem, N. C.

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

"Prologue", New Publication, Links Maine Campus Writers

By Fred Willey '47

When the first issue of the new magazine "Prologue" appears on the Bowdoin, Maine, Bates, and Colby campuses in December, students of Bowdoin will be reading a publication which was conceived and originated by Roy A. Gallant '47 and Donald B. Strong '48 in an effort to "reflect the student opinion" of the four Maine Colleges through articles "worthy of publication."

Strong and Gallant decided some effort should be made in accepting less literary pieces that will not only "inform those outside the educational world of the intent of students upon graduation but at the same time will also make an initial move to coordinate education among Maine Colleges."

"Prologue"—so named because, in the words of Gallant, it is actually the prologue of the present day student in college—aims at appealing to the general reading public by offering opportunities to undergraduates to display their talent in the field of writing and to gain experience on the business and advertising staffs.

The co-publishers maintain that their venture has received numerous indications of enthusiasm and interest from many sides. As proof of the serious intent of the two, their organization was incorporated under the title of Strong and Gallant, Publishing Co., Inc., with Strong serving as president and Gallant as vice-president and treasurer.

As further proof that the magazine is no flighty enterprise, the publishers received the plaudits and advice from several members of the Bowdoin faculty, the "practical slant of dollars and cents" from interested businessmen, and the legal aid from lawyers "in order to protect ourselves and those writing."

And in case anyone is in further doubt as to the permanency of "Prologue," the corporation has already laid plans for expansion so that within a year and a half they hope "to have a good representation throughout New England."

"Prologue" itself, containing 32 pages, eight of which are advertising, will be the approximate size of the "Bowdoin Alumnus." Selling at $0.25, it will contain feature articles, consisting of reports on economics, government, world problems, international as well as domestic, and religion. A sports section carrying local campus and national sports activities, a woman's page, cartoons, and a businessman's section telling of the conditions that the student will cope with upon graduation are designed to attract the interest of parents and general readers, as well as that of the students of the four colleges.

Besides a smattering of poetry and short stories there will be an alumni page written by some prominent graduate of one of the colleges. The December issue will contain an article by Bowdoin's Professor Robert P. T. Coffin '16. Although Gallant and Strong are Bowdoin men themselves, they made it plainly understood that the magazine will be representative of all the colleges. To insure equal selection of material, they have set up regular staffs at each campus consisting of a managing editor and his assistants, who will handle the editing and contributions, advertising, publicity, and circulation for their district.

As an inducement to student contributions "Prologue" is offering a prize of fifteen dollars for the best feature article and short-story or poem.

Bowdoin Quill Ready To Accept Stories

"The Bowdoin Quill," campus literary publication, has announced that it is ready to accept contributions for its November issue, and that all students are eligible to submit material; the editors assert that all contributions will be carefully considered.

Suspended during the war, the "Quill" reappeared in the spring of '46 and has continued to offer students a chance to see their poems and short stories in print. This year three issues are planned; in November, March and May. It is a non-profit organization, supported by the Blanket Tax.

Material should be submitted to Alec Curtis, Zeta Psi; Dave Boulton, Chi Psi; or Boyd Murphy, Kappa Sigma by the first week in November.

Fraternity List Of New Pledges

These are the fraternity pledge lists which show pretty well how the largest group of entering students has been accommodated in the houses.

Alpha Delta Psi

James Benedict, John Blatchford, Elliot D. Blodgett, Wendell P. Bradley, Edward M. Brown, William P. Brown, David Burke, Robert Bruce Cay, Robert J. Eaton, Joseph W. Gould, Benjamin V. Haywood, Stephen R. Hustvedt, Robert A. Johnston Jr., James A. Nathews, Charles N. Neuhoff, Walter Prior 3rd, Kenneth C. Trotter, Jr., George T. Vose.

Psi Upsilon

William B. Adams, Frank L. Allen, Thomas W. W. Atwood, Peter D. Blakely, Roger N. Boyd, Charles A. Bradley, Walter F. Brown, Robert I. Carley, Thomas C. Casey, James F. Connolly, John H. Hutchinson, Howard A. Lane, Harry McCracken, Carroll F. Newhouse, Donald C. Seamans, Herbert C. Shaw, William G. Skelton, Hubbard Trefts, Richard D. VanDer Feen, Paul J. Zdanowicz.

Chi Psi

Frederick W. Dawson, Joseph H. Flather, James K. Nelson, Prescott H. Pardee, Eric M. Simmons, David C. Willey.

Delta Kappa Epsilon

Peter S. Barnard, Norris B. Bond, Paul M. Burr, Bruce J. Gower, William T. Graham, Robert J. Gullian, Paul Hwoshinsky, William W. Ingraham, Jr., Lloyd F. MacDonald, Thomas A. Manfuso, David M. Marsh, Edward J. Merrill, Theodore P. Noyes, Jr., Lynn F. Reynolds, Fagan J. Simonton, Phineas Sprague, Richard S. Stacey, Joseph E. Swanton, Richard H. Tinsley, Donald Union.

Theta Delta Chi

Joseph Britton, Roger Conklin, John T. Daggett, Robert Decosta, James Draper, Norman E. Hanson, Lee Hughes, Charles Hulman, William S. Lashman, David E. Packard, Stephen J. Packard, Albert M. Rogers, Edward W. Rogers, Leroy Smith, Donald A. Tuttle, Mark Vukic, Wallace A. Wing, Reginald H. Worthington, Rossiter Worthington.

Delta Upsilon

Frederick J. Beech, John D. Cronin, William H. Davis, John D. Flynn, Albert Goon, Walter S. Hamburger, Keith W. Harrison, Charles A. Kerr, William King, Donald S. Mathison, John D. Newton, William S. Oerle, Evans F. Sealand, Jay B. Snape, Robert S. Spooner, Robert D. Strong, Arthur Q. Tuttle, Hugh C. Ware, Robert F. Weiskotten, Kenneth Monty.

Zeta Psi

Frederick Andrews, Alan J. Baker, James G. Blanchard, Frederick A. Carlson, Richard N. Coffin, William N. Campbell, Richard Dorisko, Peter J. Detroy, Dudley Dowell, Burton M. Gottlieb, David R. Getchell, Donald W. Gould, Roy P. Heely, Donald R. Kimmel, Jon A. Lund, Bruce A. Lunder, John F. Loud, E. Richard Loomer, William M. Patterson, William H. Prentiss, C. Boardman Thompson, Harry C. Thompson, Charles J. Taylor, Richard M. VanOrden, Donald J. Moore, Robert D. Strong, Kenneth M. Simpson, James M. Kelley.

Kappa Sigma

Herbert L. Gould, Stanley Harting, Richard A. Leavitt, Watson J. Lincoln, Steward S. Marsh, Edward K. Miller, Albert P. Phillips, John M. Westcott, Laurence Y. Westcott.

Beta Theta Pi

Fred R. Abbott, John L. Bacon, Owen Beekunwer, Francis P. Bishop, Jr., Gary M. Boone, Paul W. Costello, Edwin R. French, Elmo Giordanetti, R. M. Hallett, Jr., Edward J. Hrynowsky, Russ L. Humphrey, Tom J. Jules, Theodore J. Kaknes, C. Arthur Lovejoy, Jr., Grover C. Marshall, Lewis P. Mason, James D. Murtha, George M. Reoces, Welles A. Standish, Jr., Edward Williams.

Sigma Nu

Peter Arnold, Robert Brownell, Edgar S. Catlin, William H. Clifford, Henry L. Conway, Donald D. Dennis, Gilman N. Friend, Eugene O. Henderson, Norman A. Hubley, Leopold F. King, David F. Reid, Robert L. Roberts, Carl W. Roy, John Sanborn, Everett E. Schmidt, Thomas F. Shannon, Robert C. Young.

Alpha Tau Omega

Harry E. Adams, Richard M. Bamforth, Paul K. Bishop '49, Bruce G. Brackett, Carl B. Brewer, Robert F. Corliss, Robert N. Filmore, Charles R. Foker, Peter L. Hall, Philip L. Hyde, Graham W. Joy, Robert J. Kemp, Thompson M. Little, John B. MacChesney, Edward J. McCuskey, Jr., Laurence T. Ray, Robert E. Riddle, Barclay M. Shepard, Merle E. Spring, Henry Giddlen.

The Alpha Rho Upsilon pledge list was not available.

Billiard Champ

[Continued from Page 3]

of 75 points and after several minutes Paul W. Moran '48 hesitantly accepted. Mr. Ponzi proceeded to score a straight run of fifty six points and after missing only one shot continued to win the match seventy five to zero.

Vet Information

[Continued from Page 2]

lection unit in New England, he is strongly urged to give his permanent address, so that the money will be forwarded to the correct branch office, and so that his insurance account will be properly credited.

Veterans who attended Bowdoin in the second half of the Summer Trimester must report to the VA's office before the first of May 1948 to fill out a mimeographed selection form which now takes the place of any kind of leave of absence pay application. The form must be filed. It designates whether or not a veteran wishes to receive 15 days' subsistence allowance during the between semester interim.

According to the VA's system of subsistence payment on a starting-to-end date basis, 15 days subsistence allowance can be obtained from an affirmative answer on the form. This form, once filed, is unreturnable. The 91 men entering Bowdoin this Fall under the G. I. Bill have already filed the form.

Any questions should be directed to the VA office in Winthrop Hall. Mr. Goud's office is open Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

In 1916 the tickets for the Ivy Dance cost $3.50 including refreshments.

Statement Of Ownership

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AS AMENDED BY THE ACTS OF MARCH 3, 1915, AND JULY 2, 1946.

Of The Bowdoin Orient published weekly (college session) at Brunswick, Maine, for October 1, 1947.

State of Maine, County of Cumberland, ss. Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared C. Cabot Easton, who, having been duly sworn according to law, depose and say that he is the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Orient and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily, weekly, semi-weekly or tri-weekly newspaper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the acts of March 3, 1915, and July 2, 1946 (section 597, Postal Laws and Regulations), printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Name of Post office address
Publisher, Bowdoin Publishing Co., Brunswick, Maine
Editor, Richard A. Willey Brunswick, Maine
Managing Editor, Frederick W. Willey, Jr. Brunswick, Maine
Business Manager, C. Cabot Easton Brunswick, Maine

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one percent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual owner, must be given.)

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding one percent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) None

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of the stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee, or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the twelve months preceding the date shown above is 1449. (This information is required from daily, weekly, semi-weekly, and tri-weekly newspapers only.)

C. Cabot Easton Business Manager
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of October, 1947.
William E. Morgan
My Commission Expires May 20, 1949

J. V. Football

[Continued from Page 3]

attempted pass bogged down the Bowdoin attack. Coburn used a line shift that was very effective on the defense.

Back Bob Gullian and ends Chuck Begley and Ken Hutchinson were effective defense men. 6 Pt. Team Lineup

TOWN TAXI

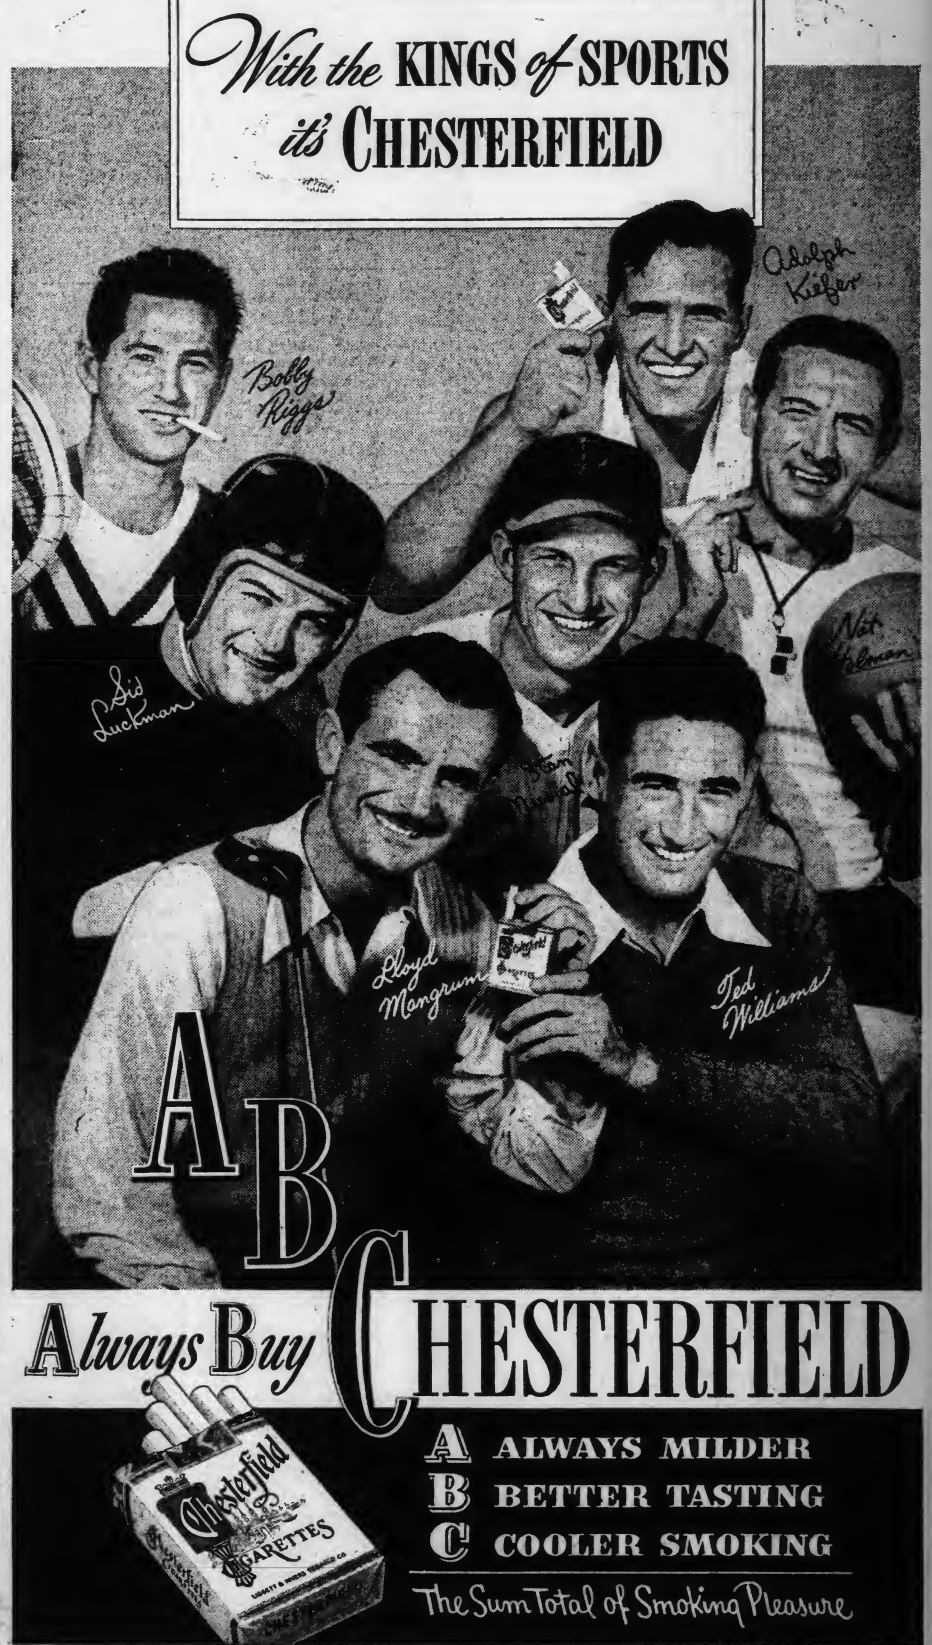

Dependable Drivers

Town Hall Place
Phone 1000

"If I don't bring home Dentyne Chewing Gum, they attack!"

"Boy! Do these kids make my life miserable if I forget the Dentyne Chewing Gum! I can't blame the little shavers, though. I'm as keen as they are on that refreshing, long-lasting flavor. And Dentyne helps keep their teeth white, too." Dentyne Gum—Made Only by Adams

With the KINGS of SPORTS it's CHESTERFIELD

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The Sum Total of Smoking Pleasure

CUMBERLAND

Thurs. Oct. 9

DEEP VALLEY

with
Ida Lupino - Dane Clark
also

Fox News Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. Oct. 10-11

BRUTE FORCE

with
Burt Lancaster - Hume Cronyn
also

Paramount News Short Subjects

Sun.-Mon.-Tues. Oct. 12-13-14

DOWN TO EARTH

with
Rita Hayworth - Larry Parks
also

Paramount News

Wed.-Thurs. Oct. 15-16

THE UNSUSPECTED

with
Joan Caulfield - Claude Rains
also

Fox News Short Subjects

Fri.-Sat. Oct. 17-18

DARK PASSAGE

with
Humphrey Bogart
Laurey Bacall
also

Paramount News Short Subjects

Here's Your Chance . . .

. . . to swap, sell, or buy—

- that used Ec book at half price
- that Model "T" flivver
- that "slightly used but wears like new" tuxedo
- or any of a thousand items of interest to college men

Try a Classified Ad in the Bowdoin ORIENT. Exceptionally low rates - 2c a word (30c minimum).

MAIL your ad, payment, and name and address to the ORIENT today, or LEAVE IT in the ORIENT drawer in Don Lancaster's office, 2nd Floor, Moulton Union.

Your ORIENT Classified Ad will prove that midgets can perform gigantic tasks.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. LXXVII

BRUNSWICK, MAINE, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1947

NO. 10

Baxter, Hon. '44 To Honor James Bowdoin Scholars

Outstanding Students
Will Be Honored
At 11:00 Ceremonies

Dr. James Phinney Baxter III, Hon. '44, winner of a 1947 Pulitzer Prize and President of Williams College, will be the chief speaker at the seventh annual observance of James Bowdoin Day on October 22.

The morning of James Bowdoin Day, classes will be dismissed by 10:30. An academic procession of faculty members and James Bowdoin scholars will form at 11:00 before Hubbard Hall. Afternoon classes will be held as usual.

Historian and college administrator, Dr. Baxter is a native of Portland and a graduate of Williams. He went to Harvard for graduate work in history. Even before he received his doctor's degree he became a member of the faculty. He was continuously connected with Harvard for twelve years, until 1937. At that time he was Professor of History and Master of Adams House. He then left to go to Williams as its President.

"Scientists Against Time," Dr. Baxter's study on the Office of Scientific Research and Development, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in History this year. In 1933 Dr. Baxter gave a Delta Upsilon lecture at Bowdoin. His grandfather, James Phinney Baxter, was an overseer of the college and the donor of a fund for the purchase of works of art in memory of Professor Henry Johnson '74.

Named in honor of the earliest patron of the College, James Bowdoin Day was instituted in 1941 to accord recognition to those undergraduates who distinguish themselves in scholarship. At a convocation of the entire College, the exercises consist of the announcement of the names of the scholars.

Political Forum Names Wheeler, Fickett Officers

The Political Forum held its first organizational meeting of the fall trimester in the Moulton Union last Thursday. The business of the meeting was turned over by Professor Ernst C. Helmreich, Faculty Advisor, to Lewis P. Fickett Jr. '47.

The main business of the evening was the selection of new student officers for the coming year. Joseph C. Wheeler '46 was elected President; Lewis P. Fickett Jr. '47, Vice-President; and Sherman D. Spector '50, Secretary-Treasurer.

Wheeler is a member of the Debating Council and the Student Council, and was the Bowdoin delegate to the National Student Association this year. Fickett, also on the debating team, belongs to Bowdoin-on-the-Air and was recently initiated in Phi Beta Kappa. Spector, besides his activities with the Political Forum, was a representative to the Student Union Committee this summer.

The group decided to hold future meetings every other Tuesday. The next meeting will be Tuesday, October 21. Suggested topics for discussion at future meetings are: Imperialism in the Far East, Russian-American Relations, and the Struggle Bill.

The Forum invites all students interested to attend their meetings.

President Sills Answers Critics

President Kenneth C. M. Sills answered the critics who condemn this term's large enrollment by posing and answering two questions. Why has the college taken in such a large enrollment this fall? How long will the enrollment continue to be so large?

The college feels that it has a two-fold duty with regard to the first question, he stated. First, all American colleges feel that they must do their part to fill up the educational deficit caused by the war, which took so many men away from their studies. Secondly, the college recognizes its responsibility to the boys coming up from the secondary schools.

The large enrollment will last probably until next year, after which it is expected to decline to 700 or 750 in the next four or five years, he revealed.

Newly Elected Student Council Representatives

MEMBERS OF THE STUDENT COUNCIL for the year 1947-48 are shown seated left to right: first row, Branchi, Lanigan, Porteous, Burke, Weatherill; second row, Troubh, Wheeler, Taylor, Gross, Pitcher, and Clarke.

Troubh Elected President Of New Student Council

Raymond S. Troubh '50, was elected president of the Student Council today. Other officers are Ira B. Pitcher '49 vice-president, and Jared T. Weatherill '49 secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Council for the coming year are: Jared T. Weatherill '49, Alpha Delta Phi; Ira B. Pitcher '49, Psi Upsilon; Joseph C. Wheeler '48, Chi Psi; Louis R. Porteous, Jr. '46, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Vincent C. Lanigan '50, Theta Delta Chi; Clinton B. Clarke, Jr. '46, Delta Upsilon; Lawrence J. Ward '46, Zeta Psi; Arnet R. Taylor '50, Kappa Sigma; Henry J. Branchi '46, Beta Theta Pi; Fred W. McConkey '49, Sigma Nu; Raymond S. Troubh '50, Alpha Tau Omega; and Samuel Gross '46, Alpha Rho Upsilon.

Porteous and Troubh are the only men reelected from the Summer Student Council, being President and Vice President respectively. Porteous was on the varsity hockey team and has been active in interfraternity athletics.

Troubh is a managing editor of the BOWDOIN ORIENT and a member of the B.C.A. He is student manager of the Alpha Tau Omega dining club and has been active in interfraternity athletics. Wheeler has been the guiding factor behind the move to have fraternities sponsor foreign students at Bowdoin and has done much to insure the success of the plan. He also was the summer Student Council's appointee to represent the college at the Constitutional Convention of the United States National Students Association which was held in Madison, Wisconsin August 29 through September 7.

Pitcher was Vice President of the Student Council for the 1945-46 term and is Vice President of the class of 1949. He is also a football letterman.

College Shylocks Out For Easy Pickings This Year

By David Crowell '49

The dollar today is the key to America's destinies, abroad. The dollar today is the fifty cents of a decade ago. The dollar today has become the prize in all material pursuits. It is our God.

Even at Bowdoin — Bowdoin which has become, in many ways, a world itself — the dollar takes on an unusual aspect. For it is here that every scheme short of printing our God has been conceived and exploited.

A wave of chain letters is lapping at the threshold of many of us. This contrivance will return $1056 after an outlay of four sheets of green. There is no strain on anyone, if one's friends do not fail to maintain strong links in an endless chain. This, then is one of the risky plots calculated to reap effortless returns.

An athletic friend has produced an amazing football pool whose returns range to 75-to-1. We have tried to beat that, but there is always a Northwestern to upset a UCLA and shatter illusions of the acquisition of the precious stuff.

One character we know will give favorable odds on the length of a chapel service or the food-stuffs for tomorrow's dinner. He is one who found it easy to support the Dodgers at 9-to-5 in a recent debate. This earner is a common type from our observation.

We understand that an enterprising sophomore has taken sure steps toward wealth, but work — an unpopular phase of the acquisition of dollars — is involved here.

The Building and Grounds Committee has approved his plan which calls for the installation of Bendix Laundromats in every college dormitory. For a quarter of a dollar one can do a week's wash. And the sponsor loses nothing!

October is the month for fierce promotional campaigns. Everything from campus publications to professional journals are hawked with high-sounding motives. Newspapers can be delivered to our doors — we can have them to alleviate the pains of an eight o'clock conference session. Order blanks are flashed, names are signed, and agents line their pockets.

Laundry agents tell of mangled sheets (and disarrayed mangled shirts) at the lowest prices as they promote every cleaning establishment from Portland to Damariscotta. They too see significant commissions twinkling in the eyes of every customer.

Even our desk blotters are said to mean a substantial bankroll for some worthy. Used car dealers, jewelers, pharmacists and haberdashers see in the blotter trade a reliable means of putting their names inevitably close to freshmen noses. And the blotter sponsors find a substantial yield in this convenience, distributed free, but heavily backed by local merchants.

From Gorham to Lincoln County roams another class. They will publish in PROLOGUE is still available. Manuscripts must be in by October 20 in order to be published in the December issue. If the contribution is used, the author becomes eligible for the $15.00 for the best fiction or poem and the $15.00 prize for the best non-fiction. PROLOGUE reaches four campuses and the general public.

(Continued on Page 3)

SCDC To Toughen Up On Freshmen Rule - Breaking

Strict enforcement of Freshman Rules is the primary aim of the Student Council Disciplinary Committee this fall.

While the Rules remain similar to those of recent years, L. Richard Porteous Jr. '46 emphasizes the fact that "severe penalties" will be imposed on violators. The Student Council president commented that any upperclassman should feel obligated to report infractions of the Rules by Freshmen.

Freshmen are reminded that the regulations relative to Freshmen caps are to be observed not only on the campus but throughout the town of Brunswick.

Regulations to be observed by fall entrants in the Class of 1951 follow: Freshmen must wear the regulation hat and name tag at all times except on Sundays, or when entertaining guests, or when journeying to or from Brunswick.

Freshmen must speak first to Upperclassmen, giving the traditional Bowdoin "hello". Freshmen must carry matches. Freshmen must not walk on the grass. Freshmen must not wear preparatory school insignia.

Every house is represented on the newly-elected SCDC. The following men are members: William J. Beardon '50, Alpha Delta Phi; Ellis Annis '50, Psi Upsilon; Donald Hansen '50, Chi Psi; Hartley Baxter '50, Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Also George P. Shaw '47, Theta Delta Chi; Phillip S. Slocum '50, Delta Upsilon; John Sabasteani '50, Zeta Psi; James T. Burgess '48, Kappa Sigma; William G. Wadman '49, Beta Theta Pi; Howard Hall Jr. '49, Sigma Nu; Walter Thomas '50, Alpha Tau Omega; and Gerald L. Cogan '50, Alpha Rho Upsilon.

Robert D. Elliott To Join Faculty

Mr. Robert D. Elliott, a graduate of the University of Chicago, is expected to join the Bowdoin Faculty as an Instructor of Economics beginning October 20. Mr. Philip S. Wilder, Assistant to the President, announced this week.

Mr. Elliott obtained his Master of Arts degree at the University of Chicago, and has done work for his Doctorate at Columbia University. He was an Army captain during the war, and has recently done research work for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

This addition to the Economics Department was necessitated by the increase of enrollments in the Economics courses.

Mr. Elliott is expected to live at 13 Lincoln Street in Brunswick.

Opportunity For Student Writers

The opportunity for undergraduates to have their work published in PROLOGUE is still available. Manuscripts must be in by October 20 in order to be published in the December issue. If the contribution is used, the author becomes eligible for the $15.00 for the best fiction or poem and the $15.00 prize for the best non-fiction. PROLOGUE reaches four campuses and the general public.

Polar Bears Down Amherst 8 - 6; Team Gains First Win Of Season

"Spiritual Health Needed" Says Chapel Speaker

In his chapel address last Sunday the Reverend Wallace W. Anderson, D. D., Hon. '42, of the State Street Congregational Church in Portland, stressed the need of maintaining spiritual health in a world of spiritual sickness.

Dr. Anderson pointed out the necessity of personal spiritual strength in facing the problems of the world today. He typified the influence of spiritual strength on life by contrasting two men, the first of whom, lacking in spiritual stamina, deplores the problems facing himself and the world, gives up on them, and consequently adds nothing to their remedy. The second, strong in spiritual stamina, sums up his courage and powers, fights and tries to overcome these problems. Dr. Anderson pointed out that the world cannot right itself without more men of the latter type.

He said that St. Paul knew that man's unaided powers were not enough, but that inner spiritual strength was needed.

Spiritual strength cannot be gained by direct attack, Dr. Anderson continued. It isn't something which one can grasp like some form of knowledge. Two things are necessary: faith and hope. He said that everyone has some sort of faith, even the cynic who believes that nothing in life is worthwhile.

Through worship one becomes strong in his faith and in spiritual strength.

Dr. Anderson deplored the overambition rampant in modern society. He noted the wretched moral conditions in our country, where over a billion dollars was spent last year at the racetracks, and over seven billion spent on liquor, while important social problems such as slums were neglected.

Orient To Give Seminar Series On Journalism

The first of a series of seminars will be held for members of the ORIENT staff tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the newspaper's office.

"Writing the News Story" will be the subject of this first informal talk and will include the coverage, collection, and writing of routine news stories and special events such as speeches and interviews.

The series, which will run periodically throughout the college year, will include such topics as "Headlines"; "Management and Editing"; "Make-up and Composition"; and "Feature and Column Writing and General Policy Problems."

The discussions are being conducted with special reference to the ORIENT, however, not only members of the newspaper staff, but also any interested in journalism are invited to attend and participate in these meetings.

It Happens Here

7:00 p.m. — Moulton Union. Organizational Meeting of Bowdoin Debate Council in Conference Room "B". Election of officers. General plans. All former members are urged to attend.

2:30 p.m. — Pickard Field. J. V. vs. "Maine Annex."

2:30 p.m. — Pickard Field. Freshman Football vs. Higgins Classical Institute.

Saturday
12:00 noon — Cross-Country at Williams.

2:00 p.m. — Football at Williams.

5:00 p.m. — Chapel. William G. Saltonstall, A. M., Principal of the Phillips Exeter Academy. The Choir will sing "Tenebrae Factae Sunt," by Vittoria.

Monday
3:30 p.m. — Freshman Cross-Country vs. Portland High School.

8:15 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Yves Tineyre, tenor, accompanied by a string quartet.

Guest Speaker

JAMES P. BAXTER, III
President of Williams College who will address the James Bowdoin scholars.

Ten Houses Put Men In Office For Fall Term

Ten Fraternities have held their elections for house officers and the other two houses are planning to hold elections within a few days. These men will be in office for the Fall Trimester. The results of the elections are as follows:

Alpha Delta Phi
Harry V. Carey '46, President; Paul H. Hanley '47, Vice President; Donald M. Lockart '45, Secretary; Robert de Sherbinn '45, Treasurer.

Psi Upsilon
Sylvester J. Stankis '48, President; William C. Rodger '48, Vice President; Albert M. Stevens '46, Secretary; Milo W. Wilder III '50, Treasurer.

Delta Kappa Epsilon
Wolfe B. Devine '48, President; John W. Stanley '45, Vice President; Albert L. Babcock '47, Secretary; Emerson Lewis '49, Treasurer.

Theta Delta Chi
Franklin Kimball '47, President; Vincent C. Lanigan '49, Vice President; Alan C. Bugbee '48, Secretary; William T. McCormick '50, Treasurer.

Delta Upsilon
Peter A. Angerame '45, President; Robert S. Shepherd '43, Vice President; Robert K. Carey '48, Secretary; Edward Goon '49, Treasurer.

Zeta Psi
Stanford G. Blankinship II '45, President; John L. Merrill '45, Vice President; Thomas H. Boyd '47, Secretary; Everett W. Gray '48, Treasurer.

Kappa Sigma
Donald W. Richardson '49, President; James T. Burgess '48, Vice President; Bryant H. Whipple '50, Secretary; Martin E. Wooden '49, Treasurer.

Sigma Nu
Norman L. Barr '45, President; Robert R. Jorgenson '50, Vice President; Loring E. Hart '46, Secretary; Donald G. Egan '47, Treasurer.

Alpha Tau Omega
Robert Swann '50, President; Warren E. Cornack '46, Vice President; Bernard LeBeau '48, Secretary; Conrad H. Peacock '49, Treasurer.

Alpha Rho Upsilon
Jordan H. Wine '48, President; Erving E. Gordon '50, Vice President; Gerald Ritter '50, Secretary; George E. Junger '47, Treasurer.

Beta Theta Pi and Chi Psi will hold elections at a later date.

Other business included discussion of a service to be held at the Brunswick Congregational Church on November 16th.

Plans were also made for a religious forum, taking place on February 16th through 19th. William M. Davis '49 was elected chairman. H. Noyes Macomber '49 was appointed publicity manager of the B. C. A.

The B. C. A. holds its weekly meetings every Monday evening in one of the Conference rooms of the Moulton Union. All students are welcome to attend these meetings, and it is the hope of the B. C. A. that everyone will take advantage of this opportunity.

Eleven Scores On Safety, Touchdown Made In Third

Bowdoin's victory-starved Polar Bears gave Amherst fans something to groan about last Saturday when they rocked the Lord Jeffs in an impressive 8-to-6 triumph at Amherst, Mass.

The home forces jumped to an early advantage with a score in the first period, but the Bears counted two points on a safety in the second, and G.I. Dobie's touchdown after five minutes had edged in the third stanza provided the margin of victory.

Bowdoin's supporters, among whom was the Hon. Horace A. Hildreth '25, Governor of Maine, grew restive as Amherst marched forty-seven yards at the finish but Jim Pierce's pass interception on the twenty-yard stripe made the White's victory sure. The defeat was Amherst's first of the season.

The visitors held a 12 and 9 edge in first downs, an edge which is indicative of the superiority which they enjoyed. The running of Pierce and Dobie and the kicking of Gordie Beem was rivalled only by the outstanding play of Amherst's Knobby Smith. But Smith's failure to catch one of Dave Gold's superior passes cost the Jeffs their opportunity to move ahead in the last quarter with less than three minutes to play.

The game was marred, at the start, by the plague of fumbles which has cost the Polar B's several defeats over the past two seasons. But the bobbling which had typified the play of old ended after it had given the home squad the opportunity to move ahead in the early minutes.

Gil Dobie's twelve-yard return of the opening kick-off put Bowdoin on the twenty-six at the start. A fifteen-yard dash by the same halfback clinched a first down at the forty-five, second later. George Bughnell fell on Pierce's blocked punt giving Amherst the ball at the Bowdoin policy of the Debating Council this year will be to use as many men as possible. The debate form will be varied by the radio type, panel discussions, cross examination and panel forums.

Although there are not many definite bookings yet, the schedule is rapidly being completed. Plans are under way to inaugurate a Maine Inter-collegiate League. These debates will be held during the second semester.

The second annual Triangular Debate with Williams and Amherst, will also take place during the second semester. Other trips which are being planned are an exhibition debate at a well known college in Massachusetts; another with a men's college; and a Southern tour.

An organizational meeting will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. in Conference B. All former members are urged to take part in the election of officers which will take place at this time.

B. C. A. Discussion Centers Around Coming Parley

The Conference of the Maine Area Colleges of the Student Christian Association Movement in New England, to be held at Augusta, Maine, on October 17th through 19th was the foremost topic of discussion at the meeting of the Bowdoin Christian Association last Monday evening.

The topics for discussion before the Conference will be: "The urgency of our times demands our common thinking," and "As Christian students we have a significant work to do together."

Bowdoin will be represented by Merton G. Henry '50, Richard A. Leavitt '50, Donald W. Henderson '50, Harold N. Burnham '48, and Willard C. Richan '49.

Another phase of the discussion Monday evening was the Bates Christian Association Commission System which provides for the organization of school functions social, religious, and academic, under different committees. Due to our fraternity system the plan was judged impractical for Bowdoin.

However, Walter S. Mather '50, John E. Good '48 and Merton G. Henry '50 were appointed to draw up a policy under the guidance of Dr. Henry G. Russell, former faculty advisor of the B. C. A. and Dr. Ernst C. Helmreich, present advisor.

Other business included discussion of a service to be held at the Brunswick Congregational Church on November 16th.

Plans were also made for a religious forum, taking place on February 16th through 19th. William M. Davis '49 was elected chairman. H. Noyes Macomber '49 was appointed publicity manager of the B. C. A.

The B. C. A. holds its weekly meetings every Monday evening in one of the Conference rooms of the Moulton Union. All students are welcome to attend these meetings, and it is the hope of the B. C. A. that everyone will take advantage of this opportunity.

Reserve Officers Elect Leaders

At a meeting of the Bath-Brunswick Reserve Officers Association held in the Moulton Union Lounge last Monday night, 1st Lieutenant Peter Detroy was elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Association. The speaker at the meeting was Lt. Colonel James A. Shaw, Commander of the first Army Caravan.

Lt. Detroy, who entered college this fall, is a pledge of the Zeta Psi Fraternity. He succeeds Lloyd A. Goggins who left college this September.

Continuing as President of the Association is Lt. Colonel Philip S. Wilder assistant to the President of the College. Major McKee '50, who is in charge of the Bowdoin dormitories at the Naval Air Station, remains as Vice-President.

Foreign Students Need Our Aid

American colleges and their undergraduate bodies must undertake the responsibility for financing education here for increased numbers of foreign students who look to the United States as the stronghold of democracy and the only hope for world peace.

The flow of foreign students to this country from Europe, the most critical area in the struggle for power, has "bogged down" and threatens to come to a virtual standstill according to a recent State Department report published in "The New York Times". Last spring the Congress appropriated several million dollars for a cultural program dealing with Latin-American countries. No money was allowed for other nations.

At the same time the Soviet Union is spending vast sums to attract foreign students, especially from Eastern Europe, through scholarships and grants. These students receive better food and sleeping quarters than the Russians themselves. The effectiveness of this program is illustrated by the fact that more than 1,000 students from Yugoslavia are studying in Russia, compared with only "four" from that country in the United States.

Foreign students, unable to come here, are turning toward the Soviet Union for their cultural and educational program. A Hungarian representative came to this country and begged for scholarships so that young people from his nation might study here. Our officials could do nothing, but Russia offered forty full scholarships.

Our representatives in Congress prefer to spend the public money on the armaments of war—both military and economic. Their efforts are those of protective defense but in no way solve the basic problem of conflict, which can be attacked solely through education on the broadest possible scale and its consequent understanding and mutual sympathy.

Bowdoin has already taken a great forward stride in the joint sponsoring by the College and several fraternities of a small number of foreign students. But this movement must be extended throughout the entire Bowdoin campus. It must be carried to other colleges in the land.

If our Government will not take the shortest and surest road to peace, let us take the initiative into our own hands. With the cooperation of our College and through our fraternities, our student organizations like the Student Council, the Political Forum, the Christian Association, and our publications, let us campaign vigorously for the money needed to bring many hopeful foreign students to this country.

For young men from other lands to work, to live, to eat with us is the most effective method of banishing international distrust. To make this extensive plan a reality will require money, which inevitably must come from our own pockets and the treasuries of our fraternities and organizations. Surely funds thus raised would be of more value than endless economic programs in achieving that goal—toward which so many of us wish to make a personal, positive contribution—world peace.

The opportunity is within our reach. Let us not, through our inertia, allow it to pass unheeded. R. A. W.

Student Attitude At Games Poor

Bowdoin students need a radical overhauling of their collective attitudes as spectators. The spontaneity that is most conducive to successful support of a team is lacking in our stands at present.

After the University of Massachusetts defeat, Coach Adam Walsh gave his football charges a talk which he should have given with certain modifications, in chapel two days in succession. He said, in effect, that the stands were lifeless and had little or nothing to offer the team. He went further and mentioned how lukewarm the entire college was toward athletics and that the position of the sportsman around Bowdoin was not enviable.

During that game, there was quite a little noise from the boys at times, but the spirit was for the most part facetious and indifferent. From the loudspeakers and the portables we heard almost as much about the world series and some games around Boston and Alabama as about that singular little tussle going on right below us. Cheers were flat and seemed to be the product of considerable effort on the part of the patrons. If the cheerleaders looked like last generation's vaudeville maybe it was because of the clay-pigeons they were trying to pull a song from.

It is essential to the team, to the college, to the occasion and to the self respect of every undergraduate that there be vigorous psychological support for the players from those who watch. We can do much more than merely look on and make cracks while our classmates fight for a victory which is not theirs alone, but ours also.

Sports are not always the main feature of college curriculum. They are not the main premise of Bowdoin's educational ideals. Nevertheless, athletics are an integral part of the students' activities, and their pursuit is based on a fundamental need of human nature, that of learning to work together and of cultivating a healthy spirit of competition. Even though Bowdoin is not as athletically dedicated as some colleges, its athletic program can still be its brightest spark and the potential source of enviable prestige. R. S. T.

Letter To The Editor Sophomore Seeks Just Criticism

All letters must be typewritten, double-spaced, under 300 words in length, and signed by the writer. The writer's name will be withheld by request. The ORIENT reserves the right to delete all matter it considers libelous.

To the Editor of the Orient:

Having recently perused the first Fall Trimester's issue of the "Voice of Bowdoin—The Bowdoin Orient," I read the outspoken editorial on the present conditions of the College. The opinions expressed were legitimate and interesting to the entire College body. But, man, where is your constructive criticism? Surely amidst the overwhelming deluge of complaints and whinings which induced the writer of the editorial to express his critical thoughts, there was at least one hidden brain cell which beamed with an optimistic blaze.

We are not suffering at Bowdoin now. As the President and as innumerable members of the Faculty have repeatedly outlined to the College—Bowdoin is exceedingly fortunate to be able to exist under conditions favorable to all concerned. Do we live four hundred to a gymnasium? Must we share cooperative study rooms? Does the Library compel us to wait countless days for reserve books? Are classes so jammed as to demand lectures via public address systems? I know you have answers prepared for the above questions. But, have you stopped to recollect that this is 1947 and not 1945? Crowded American colleges had instituted unfavorably cramped conditions as soon as Public Law 348 went into effect, circa 1945. This is almost 1948, and Bowdoin has exerted itself to maintain comfortable, suitable, and pleasant conditions for the students since V-E Day and V-J Day. Crowded colleges are now groping for that long-awaited halt in veteran enrollment. The minority of veterans entering Bowdoin this fall is proof of the imminent halt.

I can remember from grammar school days a pertinent poem entitled "The Critic" which I advise the "Orient" staff to digest. Let's stop being picaresque and assume a pound of pride for our school. Constructive criticism will benefit much more than petty fault-finding. Let's be able to read suggestions for the betterment of what is now satisfactory.

Thank you,
S. D. Spector '50

The constructive criticism is simple—either decrease enrollment or improve facilities. True, Bowdoin has handled the situation better than most other colleges. Yet comparison means nothing—the ideal of perfection is always to be sought after.—ED.

It used to be a "time-honored custom" for the freshmen to burn their caps at the end of the freshman year.

TOWN TAXI
Dependable Drivers
Town Hall Place
Phone 1000

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

Moore To Head Sailors; Club Plans Season Races

The elections of the Sailing Club last week restored Fred Moore '49 to Commodoreship and elected Fuller Marshall '47 as Vice Commodore with Art Walker '50 Secretary. At the first meeting forty-two men were present, twenty-two being new members.

This fall three races were scheduled under the sponsorship of the Intercollegiate Yachting Association and its thirty-four member colleges. Two of the races have already been held. October fifth Art Simonds '48 and his crew placed first in the B division, racing against Tufts, B. U., Colby, Middlebury, Dartmouth, and Harvard. The combined scores of the A and B divisions placed Bowdoin in fourth place for the meet. The Association Member's Championship was held on October twelfth, Bowdoin placing second in the A division and fifth in the B division. The team total was forty eight points and the combined scores resulted in a fifth place.

One of the main reasons that Bowdoin has not placed higher in these meets is that there is a great lack of sailing equipment and facilities at the college. The Sailing Club is raising a fund which, it is hoped, will be large enough soon so that the Albert T. Gould Recreation Pavilion may be completed this spring.

Dunning Awards Campus Fund Check

Warren H. Dunning II '49, Chairman of the Campus Chest Committee, presented a check for $615 to Allen E. Morrill, Chairman of the Brunswick-Topsam Community Fund on Monday afternoon.

This contribution from Bowdoin's students represents about one third of the money collected in the Campus Chest drive last spring. The presentation was made in a brief ceremony at the Brunswick Community Center.

An additional $350 is to be donated in the near future to the Cancer Research Fund.

The Campus Chest Drive, initiated last year, hoped to raise $3,000 which will be divided among several charities as follows: Brunswick Community Chest (USO, Boy and Girl Scouts), 35%; American Red Cross 25%; World Student Service Fund (to benefit students in poverty-stricken countries) 20%; Cancer Research 10%, and others 10%.

This fund is designed as a blanket charity to which a student, with one contribution, can give assistance to several causes.

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC

RECREATION EQUIPMENT

Near Fire Station

MIKE'S PLACE

BOTTLED BEER

ITALIAN SANDWICHES

Phone 974-M for delivery

Maine Street

Brunswick Maine

Easton Announces Plans To Equip Campus Studio

Plans for a Bowdoin radio station neared completion in a meeting of Bowdoin-on-the-Air Monday night with the announcement by C. Cabot Easton, president of the organization, that the group intends to equip a campus studio and begin broadcasts as soon as possible.

Tentative plans call for the location of the transmitter and studio facilities in a basement room in Moore Hall. The intention of the group, according to Easton, is to make a modest start, and to expand and add improvements as the success of the station warrants them.

Initially, transmission will extend over the lighting system only to buildings on the college campus. Broadcasts will be received over students' radios in the same manner as those of regular commercial stations. Facilities will later be enlarged to include fraternity house reception.

The new project will act as an impetus to all campus activities, said Easton, as it will afford an opportunity for all types of student expression. College organizations will be able to reach the student body as a whole. Plays, recitals, debates, talks, recorded music, and broadcasts of athletic contests will be carried throughout the campus.

The campus station will also be used to experiment with new types of programs for use on regularly scheduled Bowdoin-on-the-Air broadcasts over commercial stations in Portland. These broadcasts serve as an important means of publicizing Bowdoin and its activities to Maine people interested in the college.

Robert S. Morris '50 and H. Cabot Ware '51 will install the studio and supervise technical details. Morris has worked as a sound engineer with the National Broadcasting Company in New York. Ware was a radio technician in the Army and has been a radio "ham" for several years.

Plans for a campus studio were first considered when President Kenneth C. M. Sills appointed a faculty-student-alumni committee to study such a project. This committee's reports have guided Bowdoin-on-the-Air in its current decisions. Its faculty members, Mr. Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, Dr. Dan E. Christie, Assistant Professor of Physics and Mathematics, and Mr. Lawrence L. Pelletier, Assistant Professor of Government, have been largely responsible for the success of plans to date, according to Easton.

The concept of evil which Professor Brumbaugh used, was not that of something of opposite polarity to good, but rather, of non-good, an absence of good. Evil itself is devoid of form or character, he suggested.

Sills, Munn Attend College Conclave

The nineteenth annual meeting of the Association of New England Colleges was held on Oct. 7th and 8th at Boston University. President Kenneth C. M. Sills and Professor Norman L. Munn of the Psychology Department represented Bowdoin, the only Maine college in the association.

The Association was originally composed of men's liberal arts colleges and is the oldest association of its kind today. Numerous education problems, which are not disclosed for publication at this time, were informally discussed by the educators.

President Sills then went on to New York and on the tenth of October attended a meeting of the Bowdoin Campaign Committee for the raising of $3,000,000 for the building fund; at the office of Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the fund drive.

President Sills then rounded out a full week with a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

World Affairs American Aid Necessary To Avoid Communist World

By Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47

Since last June 5th, when Secretary of State Marshall made the need for European economic aid a stern reality in his Harvard Commencement Address the problem has occasioned an increasing amount of interest and discussion. While there are distinct differences of opinion as to its immediacy and its extent, most Americans recognize that some form of aid to Europe is vitally necessary.

While, admittedly Europe is our first concern, we must, however, awake to the necessity for a far broader program, a Marshall plan for the World. There are in the world today many poverty areas which, in a very real sense, are potential and easy prey for Communism—the Far East, the Middle East, and even in our own backyard, Latin America. Most of these lands possess little in the way of a democratic tradition.

And, even if they did, it must be emphasized that "no one can eat democracy." As John Fischer points out, "We must demonstrate (to the world) that our system will provide a better living and more freedom than the Communists offer. If we fail, it's a poverty areas of the world will be sucked into the Russian orbit sooner or later in spite of all the military force we can muster." In other words, if we are going to make the world anything like invulnerable to the encroachments of totalitarianism, we must develop a constructive program to aid all peoples in their own respective ways to attain the positive benefits of democracy.

Some would contend that such a program would be an economic impossibility for the United States. This viewpoint obscures the reality that such an undertaking could not be a world-wide "pork-barrel," but like the proposed Marshall Plan would necessarily have to be limited to certain vital "self-help" projects.

Some would fear the consequences of "necessarily increased internal economic controls. Let them ponder how else in our complex industrial society we have any hope of approaching world stability and prosperity without a minimum of democratically-controlled planning.

What about Russia? There are two possibilities. There is still hope that the Soviet Union may ultimately recognize the benefits which could be derived from cooperating in such a program. Certainly, we should strive earnestly toward the realization of such collaboration. If, however, Soviet intransigence persists, a constructive program of American economic aid might well be the dawn of hope to a world which desires to be free.

Newly-elected officers of Bowdoin-on-the-Air are: C. Cabot Easton '48, president and acting business manager; Robert R. Rudy '46, vice-president; Richard C. Hatch '50, secretary; John J. Mul-lane '50, corresponding secretary; and H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45, provisional publicity manager.

Other members include Clarence W. Fiedler '49, Malcolm E. Stevenson '50, Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47, and Willard C. Richan '49.

All men interested in joining the organization are urged to attend a smoker to be held soon.

Exeter Principal

[Continued from Page 1]

Island, until discharged as a lieutenant commander.

A leader in civic projects as well as in the classroom and on the athletic field, Exeter's energetic Headmaster enjoys tremendous popularity among his fellow townspeople, faculty, and students alike. All Bowdoin anticipates his visit here with the keenest pleasure.

Man with a system

Simply pick up your telephone and you can route your voice through any one of thousands of central offices—some with dial mechanisms so complex they stagger the imagination, yet so efficient they seem to work like magic—others staffed by competent, courteous operators whose standards of work have long been a fine tradition.

You command, in effect, millions of miles of telephone wire and cable.

You can direct your call—one of some 110,000,000 that will be made today—to any one of some 53,000,000 telephones here and abroad.

The operation of this vast system is big business. It is a complex, many-sided business in which thousands of college trained men are working in their chosen fields—development or research, engineering planning, accounting or statistics, public contacts, supervision of operations or other phases of management. These men have found highly interesting and rewarding careers.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, October 15, 1947 No. 16

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, Johnson Poor '49
News Editors William S. Anderson '47, Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '48, Raymond S. Trough '50
Executive Editor Albert B. Patton '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editor Harvey S. Jackson '48, William M. Davis '48,
Charles E. Dillaway '48, John F. Neeson III '50
Editorial Assistants: George E. Berliavsky '48, Paul L. Bishop '48,
Edward M. Jackson '48, George Paradis '48, Robert G. Gilliam '50,
John L. Bacon '51, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Cortias '51, John
D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Edwin R. French '51, Albert P.
Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Robert S. Spooner '51
Sports Assistants: William C. Rogers '48, Fagan H. Strouton, Jr. '50
Laurence M. Edwards '51
Photographers Roger Hupper '48, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Leavoy, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Advertising Managers Alfred F. Waxler '47, Edward S. Early '49
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmeck '49, C. Craig Ryder '49,
Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Camstapiano '48, Ernest L. Bainton, Jr. '48,
Gordon F. Lincoln '50, Aaron W. Anchor '51, John Blatchford '51,
Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardee '51,
Donald Union '51.

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors ... Professor Atherton P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip
M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49
News Editor for this issue David Crowell '48

ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.
430 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.
Cable: ADVERT-SERVICE
Telephone: MU 2-1234

Published weekly except during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Hamilton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

Polar Bears State Championship Called Battle For Improving Team

By George McClelland '49

Comes the dawn! At last, after two false starts, the Polar Bears have righted themselves. Our only regret is that it couldn't have been at Whittier Field. However, there are two more games at home, a couple of pretty important tilts that will do much to settle the destiny of the 1947 Bowdoin mole-skin brigade. And, if the Big White can tack a mule hide and a bobcat skin to the wall of their lair, that state crown may come back where it belongs.

For a long while it looked like Adam Walsh would have to wait another year for his first victory over Amherst, but the Polar Bears came from behind to pull it out. Fumbles in the first period gave the Lord Jeffs a touchdown, the third in three games scored against Bowdoin resulting directly from loose ball handling. This time, though, the Big White overcame their early deficit to give the victory starved Bowdoin rooters something to talk about. And there were no further injuries! That would be good news in itself. With most of the invalids on the mend and a victory under the belt that trip to Williamstown may turn out to be a pretty enjoyable one.

The University of Maine, the Pine Tree state's last representative in the unbeaten class, fell by the wayside Saturday before a surprising University of New Hampshire eleven, 28-7. Bowdoin played the Wildcats even in that bruising pre-season scrimmage. So maybe the Black Bears aren't too tough after all. Bates got back into winning ways topping Tufts 12-7 with Blanchard doing the dirty work. That guy has to be stopped! And Colby took it on the chin, again, 20-6 from Coast Guard. The Mules appear to be the only weak sister in the state. But Holmer promises some surprises for future foes, and the state tangle may become a four cornered affair after all.

Accompanying the football squad down to Williamstown will be the less publicized but equally hard-working cross-country team. Coach Jack Magee has a balanced team that may yet turn into a state title threat though Maine has its usual powerhouse, Saturday's meet with Williams will determine just how strong the team is.

The watchword this week is beware your purse strings! The harness races over at Topsham are turning quite a few unsuspecting Bowdoin men. Take it from one who knows—you can't win. Those things just don't add up. After impressively taking its first heat, many a nag winds up a bad last in its second. However, it's an exciting and fairly painless way to lose money. Just don't take any hot tips. Guessing is by far the most successful method.

For a change read the editorials on page 2. Especially read, mark, learn and inwardly digest that written by R. S. T. There's a lot to that one.

Comment for the week from an innocent Bates co-ed: "Bates does not give athletic scholarships!"

Shylocks

[Continued from Page 1]

be seen in Topsham next week, huddled around the betting windows looking for a new Titian Hammer from among the harness ponies.

It is strange to see that, no mat-

HELLO BOWDOIN

MAY WE SERVE YOU?

Pan American
ShetlandHart Schaffner &
Marx

Big rugged and frankly flattering. It's the New Pan American styled by Hart Schaffner and Marx. Unusually durable for a soft Shetland type fabric the Pan American gives you an Easy Comfort and that casual air that marks today's smart dressers. Drop in and step into one today.

$50.00

Oxford Grey Flannel

Leopold Morse

Here is THE suit of Bowdoin Men. Tailored in the traditional Campus Model from pure wool flannel by Hockanum. 3 button singlebreasted with a deep center vent and plain front trousers. Sizes - Regulars, Long and Shorts.

$55.00

Special - for Opening Week Only

Oxford Grey Flannel Trousers 12.50
White or Solid Color Oxford Cloth Shirts with Button Down Collar 3.50

The College Shop
HARMON'S

100 Maine Street, Brunswick

104 Front Street, Bath

Skiers Invited To Attend Meeting

Students interested in variety or junior variety skiing are urged to attend the preliminary meetings and training groups which will assemble in front of the Gym on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 4:30 p.m.

Skiing is a variety sport and variety letters will be awarded. Practice slopes and equipment will be provided as soon as snow is on the ground.

Frosh Gridders Await Opener

The Freshman version of the Polar Bear football squad will have its first test Friday afternoon when it meets the Higgins Classical eleven. Coach Beezer Coombe has no predictions to make on the game, but the Big White Freshmen have a team filled with experienced high school performers, a few of all-state calibre. The squad list is as follows:

Pete Arnold, R. H. Avery, Norris Bond, Charles Bradley, Paul Burr, Fred Carlson, Tom Casey, Paul Costello, John Daggett, R. E. DeCosta, Robert Fillmore, Phillip Glidden, W. T. Graham, Eugene Henderson, R. G. Hikel, J. M. Kelley, Frances King, Knights, Howard Lane, Thompson Little, D. M. Marsh, J. A. Manfuso, H. B. McCracken, Theodore Noyes, S. J. Packard, William Patterson, W. H. Prentiss, Bob Roberts, Carl Roy, Leonard Sauter, T. F. Shannon, Jules Siroy, Richard Van Orden, Richard Voke, Lawrence Wescott, Edward Williams, Edward Rogers, Young.

Tankmen Prepare For Ambitious Schedule

With twenty-eight men already out for the team, Coach Bob Miller has started swimming practice in earnest. From this squad, which includes several returning lettermen as well as former J. V.'s and new freshmen, a well-rounded team should be formed for the opening meet with Dartmouth, December 13.

This season's schedule is somewhat more ambitious than those of the past few years, with appearances in both the Eastern Intercollegiate and National meets planned. However with the abundance of experienced men returning, it is expected that the Big White Natators will be able to face all tests. The squad list is as follows.

Morrow, Soltysiak, Zeitler, Pidge.

[Continued on Page 4]

J. V. Eleven Bows To Star Bridgton Academy Team

Fumbles, Penalties
Mar Second Hard
Fought Grid Contest

In a wide-open contest last Friday, the Bowdoin J. V.'s bowed to the visiting Bridgton Academy eleven, 19-0.

The game was marred by eleven penalties, five interceptions, and four fumbles. The aerial wizardry of Bridgton's Dick Brown, who passed for the three touchdowns, was impressive.

The Bridgton single-wing unbalanced-line proved effective in the first quarter, barking the J. V.'s into defensive territory and setting up their first touchdown: Brown to Deitz. The conversion was fumbled by captain Dana Brown and quarterback Jojo Wright.

The second quarter found Bowdoin deep in her own territory despite precision ground-gaining by Bobby Gaff the visitors took over and doubled the score Brown to Cath. The pass for the premium fell incomplete. Joe Gauld was carried off in this period with a fractured right leg - the result of a vicious down-field block.

In the third quarter Bridgton was set back on her heels following Bill Beahm's kick, by Bob Speirs, who broke up an end run and tossed the Bridgton back for a 17-yard loss. Brown kicked out to the 40 and Bowdoin drove back to the 22 but Dick Harlow intercepted to halt the drive and the period ended.

In a feverish fourth stanza the Bridgtons blasted their way out of their back yard with a kick that rolled out on the Bowdoin 20. After a rapid exchange of passes Brown completed his third scoring pass to DiBiase, while running to his right. DiBiase cashed the extra point by rushing. Desperation passing and inspired defensive play by quarterback Toscani were to no avail as the final whistle blew.

The lineup:
Bridgton (19)
Smith, le
Levesque, lt
Parrellin, lg
Cobb, c
Scott, rg
Post, rt
Spivey, qb
Dietz, qb
Brown, rb
Root, rfb
Harlow, fb
Score by periods
Bridgton 6 6 0 7-19
Bowdoin 0 0 0 0-0

Bridgton scoring: Touchdowns - Dietz, Cash, DeBlase. Point after touchdown - DeBlase (rush).

Bridgton substitutions: Ends - Rovnak, McCall; tackles - Ring, Bellovance; guards - Hill, Tolman; center - Cash; backs - Gardner, DeBlase.

Bowdoin substitutions: Ends - Akers, Gould, Hitchcock, Holden; tackles - Reiche, Early, Robinson; guards - Lewren, Badger; center - W. Reardon; backs - McInnes, Huen, Toscani, Gullan, Carley, Beahm.

Officials: Referee - Fortunato; Umpire - Farrington; Linesman - Ochmanski. Time - 4:12.

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Telephone 224-W.

Football And Cross Country Teams To Meet With Williams On Saturday

First Contest Of Year For Runners

Bowdoin's Varsity cross country team will leave Friday morning for Williamstown, Mass. where Coach Jack Magee's men will meet the Williams hurlers Saturday morning in the first meet of the season for both teams.

Despite the absence of last year's captain, Cab Easton, Coach Magee will be able to send an experienced aggregation to the starting line. The team has been training hard and should be ready to go. The probable starters are lettermen Joe Woods, George McClelland, and Harvey Jackson, Mort Lund, Dick Wiley, Fred Auten, and Dick Schrack.

This year the team looks as if it may be strong enough to wrest the state championship from Maine, which has held the crown for many years. After the Williams meet, a triangular run with Bates and Middlebury are scheduled. These meets are to be followed by the all-important State Meet at Augusta and on November 3rd the New England meet in Boston.

Amherst Game

[Continued from Page 1]
forty-two, but Bill Ireland's tackle of Lou Hammond forced Smith to punt for Amherst from the fifty.

Dobie returned the kick smartly, but fumbled when he was hit and Grant Ford's recovery set up the Jeff's score. It took four plays to gain a first down on Bowdoin's seven but after Hammond's one-yard buck, Smith went to paydirt on a smart reverse. The conversion failed, but Amherst led 6 to 0.

Jim Pierce's thirty-three-yard end run after the kick-off return gave the Polar Bears a first down at midfield. Another followed, but Jim Howard halted the drive by failing on another fumble on Amherst's forty-five.

Eddie Gillen's twenty-four-yard dash on a fake reverse, Ralph Knodel's grounding of a Bowdoin stand on her own twelve after a Bear march and Smith's punting were further highlights of the game.

The lineup:
Bowdoin (8)
Ireland, lt
Smith, lg
Levesque, lt
Dietz, lg
Cobb, c
Scott, rg
Post, rt
Spivey, qb
Dietz, qb
Brown, rb
Root, rfb
Harlow, fb

Bowdoin scoring: Touchdowns - Dobie; Safety, Smith (tackled by MeAvoy); Amherst scoring: Touchdown - Smith.

Bowdoin substitutions: Ends - Burgess, Zdenowicz; tackles - Anspers, J. Butler, Bailey; guards - Fortin, Fite, Staples, Reardon; centers - Pfeiffer, Newton; quarterback - Gillen; halfbacks - Becker, Bobbi, T. Butler, Zoony, Vase; fullback - MeAvoy.

Amherst substitutions: Ends - Billings, Emeyer, Horton; tackles - Young; guards - Bittel, Fulton, Ziebarth, Parsons; center - Meland; backs - Rossh, Simon, Knodel, Gold, Smith, Lonsack, Barry, Siler, Beard.

Officials: Referee - C. W. Merritt; umpire - H. A. Swaffield; line-man - G. J. Fitzgerald; field judge - W. J. Coyle.

To Lead Bears Against Williams

JOHN BUTLER and JOHN SIBSON, both tackles, will spark the Polar Bear offense against Williams College Saturday.

Amherst Program Praises Walsh And Bowdoin Spirit

The following article is reprinted from the Amherst College Football Program for October 11, 1947.

Throughout the early fall reports have been circulated from the State of Maine that the Polar Bear is on the rampage and Adam is back. Beware the bear. To football fans this means that Bowdoin is coming up with one of their typical Maine teams, a contender for State honors. Adam is none other than the former Notre Dame great of the Four Horsemen era, in fact, he was captain and one of the best lineemen in Notre Dame history. For the past few years he has been on leave from Bowdoin and during this time was coach of the Championship Cleveland Rams in the professional league. A hard man to beat prior to this experience, he now returns from the post graduate game to again coach Bowdoin and to say that the students, alumni and townspeople are elated would be an understatement.

Bowdoin opponents have not only deepest respect for their splendid play which is hard, tough and smart, but also for the sportsmanship which is taught by their staff. This does not come about by accident. Back of this is a splendid organization, the administration of the college believing that athletics form a healthy part of college life. A belief that students should play at being athletes and not athletes playing at being students. The athletic department, under the guidance of Mal Morrell, is an efficient and well-knit group working for a common cause. To give every Bowdoin man an opportunity to participate and above all, to so conduct themselves that winning or losing, they do not detract from the splendid Bowdoin athletic tradition but gain the respect of their opponents.

The townspeople of Brunswick are for Bowdoin as one gathers by comments when a team steps on the field. They, too, are fair but Bowdoin is their team.

The Bowdoin alumni are also an athletic minded group and back their teams to the limit. They like good football and well played contests, and are very rarely disappointed.

Someone has said: "winning streaks are the result of—"

Good material

School spirit and administrative support.

Good coaching

Psychology of the situation

If this is true, look out for the Polar Bear group. They have all of them with the psychology of the situation standing out. Their coach has returned and he is an excellent teacher and a splendid competitor. His teams reflect his teachings. It will take him a little time to complete his organizational work, but once he has accomplished this phase, the Bowdoin teams will be plenty difficult.

The Bowdoin schedule is so arranged as to have the team ready for all-important Maine series but the other games are with old traditional rivals. Amherst appreciates the opportunity of reviewing the rivalry, realizing that the men, representing the Polar Bear, will be hard to beat but knowing that the football fan will see an interesting game.

Blow the whistle, Mr. Referee.

Eleven Will Seek Second Triumph

On Saturday afternoon at two o'clock in Williamstown, Mass. a strengthened and revitalized Bowdoin eleven will go after its second victory in four starts this season.

This week's game will find the Polar Bears the guests of the Ephemen of Williams who will be going all out to avenge their 26-0 setback at the hands of the Bowdoin team last fall.

This weekend will find the Bowdoin team strengthened by the return to full active service of their stellar fullback, Bob McAvoy. McAvoy saw only limited service in last week's Amherst game due to a broken nose suffered in the previous week's contest. Despite this he was in the Amherst game long enough to score the all-important winning points. Capt. Jake Stankis will probably remain out of the lineup, and it is not now known whether or not he will be available for the State Series.

Two other question marks in the lineup are end Pat Slattery and halfback Ted Butler. Slattery, with a leg injury, may see service, and it is sure that Butler will see at least limited service. A cracked rib, suffered in the New Hampshire scrimmage, has kept him out all season, except for his attempted conversion in the Amherst game.

Another strengthening factor in Bowdoin's cause is the psychological lift brought about by the upset victory over Amherst. It was Adam Walsh's first victory over the Jeffs, and it couldn't have come at a better time. It showed the boys what they can do when they really get going and when the plays are carried through as intended. That advantage of over 125 yards in the rushing department looked good!

The Ephemen, although sporting an unimpressive record, will be out to get the Polar Bears this year. They will be seeking their first win in three starts this season, having lost a close game to Middlebury and suffering a smarting 40-0 setback at the hands of RPI last week.

Nevertheless the Purple will present a strong and experienced eleven before the Williamstown fans. Their proposed starting lineup included four men who started last year's Bowdoin game, and five others who served as substitutes. The only new men in the starting lineup will be center Lyons and half back Blanks.

With Bud Higgins, who starred in last year's contest, and Bud Wilson, a tentative starter who has been out most of the season due to an early injury, the Purple will have two experienced triple threat men in their backfield. Either one of them is capable of exploding at any time.

The factor which will make or break the Williams attack is the quarter back post. Vic Fuzak, a reserve back on last year's squad is the probable starter at that post. It remains to be seen whether or not Coach "Whoops" Slivley has been able to fashion a T

[Continued on Page 4]

of "Club 15"
Air Show

Andrews Sisters

It's the latest disc for Decca...

"ON THE AVENUE"

More people are smoking
CAMELS
than ever before!

Those terrifically popular Andrews Sisters have an individual singing style all their own. When it comes to cigarettes—well, let Patty tell you: "I've smoked many different brands and compared, and I learned from experience that Camels suit me best!"

With thousands and thousands of smokers who have compared cigarettes—Camels are the "Choice of Experience."

Try Camels. Let your own experience tell you why Camels are setting a new record!

CAMELS
sure click with me!

K. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Campus Survey

Get The "Hot Dope" By Looking At The College Bulletin Board Frequently

By Frederick W. Willey '47

Among the many humorous cartoons depicting the trials and tribulations of the enlisted man, those of Private Sad Sack perhaps struck home closest to the GI. The pot-bellied little non-com with the cowl and the bulbous nose bore every indignity and misfortune that could possibly be a subject for a satire of Army life.

One classic cartoon that stands out from the lot showed Sad Sack thumbing through leaves of notices on an Army camp bulletin board. He has progressively buried himself under the mass of GI red tape, issues, commands, and orders; and the Sack, himself a prototype of the honest, eager rookie who, nevertheless, always seems to run afoul of his sergeant, has assiduously read every one.

In the final picture night has fallen, and candle in hand, Sad Sack has burrowed to the last order: All men will fall out on the grinder for muster early tomorrow morning in preparation for crossing the Delaware. (signed) G. Washington.

Although you will never find the original Bowdoin charter buried somewhere beneath the Dean's List on the college Bulletin Board (gift of the class of 1898) beside the chapel, you will gradually learn that a daily look at the new notices will help you immensely toward the development of a full college life.

For it is on the Bulletin Board that you will discover where your seat is located in chapel. It is there that you may easily determine just which of the upperclassmen belong to that hallowed and exclusive list issued by Dean Kendrick, proclaiming that the individual has secured B's or better in all his subjects, and hence has the privilege of sleeping through his eight o'clocks.

It is there that you will read of the campus meetings, campus speakers, and, also, the campus jokers. In short, according to your bible, there is no crime more heinous than for a freshman not "to keep a weather eye peeled on the Bulletin Board."

Only an infraction of one of the Freshman Commandments (Thou shalt carry matches, thou shalt not walk on the grass, thou shalt not date the local wenches, etc.) is conducive to a more expedient entanglement with that college ogre, that retainer of the "Bowdoin Way of Life," that inviolate and self-righteous organization that metes out punishment to unsuspecting bean-earners. The obvious allusion is, of course, to the American letter fraternity, the esteemed SCDC.

"Having trouble with Organic Chemistry?" one Aden P. Merrow asks in an ultra-modern advertisement located on the north side of the board. If so - and all indications point to an amazing business career for the enterprising Mr. Merrow - then just contact him "over at the swimming pool" or "the Zeta house at chow time." The question now arises, shall we bring along our Reynolds ball pointed pens that are guaranteed to write under water, and does a free meal at the Zeta house go during, in between, before, or after calculations of organic formulae?

For all intents and purposes the editors of the "New Yorker" need to look no further for an item to fill the "Social Notes From All Over" department. At any rate, and there are probably few premature cynics at Bowdoin who will rise up in righteous indignation at this rather naive trust in human nature, we seriously question the semantic validity if not the logic of "by mistake" in the following notice that was posted last week:

"The boys who were given a ride from Gardner to Brunswick last Sunday evening took by mistake a gray-brown check sport coat, a blue shirt, and a green-brown tie. Please return them to Herbert G.

Smith, P. O. Box 2184, So. Portland, Me."

Oh, well, perhaps Mr. Smith is a Bowdoin Graduate himself.

Mrs. Rollins swears she will have "Laundry Done At Home," and it will be ready Thursday or Friday for all those who cannot stand the starchy work of Clem Richardson, Deke House representative for the Universal Laundry in Portland or the missing buttons of Dennis Petropoulos "The Greek" (superfluous Mr. Petropoulos) who is the agent for College Laundry Service, picked up and delivered. So if you miss the maternal touch and Mrs. Rollins' neat print is indicative of her work, then just phone Br. 1175-R.

Probably the pre-war students never thought they would see the day when fathers at college would be solicited as prospective buyers, this time by another enterprising student anxious to make a little side money. Yet Roger Hustvedt of the AD's, who is probably viewing slides in the Walker Art Building right now, seduces us with this one:

"FATHERS! Want to be a proud father? Get a picture of your child. Junior will look human in a drawing - guaranteed! FRESHMEN! Lonely already? Longing to feel those lush lips? Bring the memory closer - get an enlargement of that pint-size photo in pencil. (Also, pastels, oils, water colors.)"

James Bowdoin Day Ceremonies

[Continued from Page 1]

ment of awards, the presentation of books, a response by an undergraduate, and an address. The name of the student speaker has not yet been disclosed.

The James Bowdoin Scholarships, carrying no stipend, are awarded to undergraduates who have completed two trimesters' work, in recognition of a high average in their courses to date or of superior work in their major departments.

A book, bearing the plate of the Honorable James Bowdoin (1752-1811) is presented to every undergraduate who has maintained an "A" record throughout two consecutive trimesters - only one such award, however, being made to any one man in his college course.

Following the ceremony in Memorial Hall, a luncheon has been planned in the Moulton Union in past years for the James Bowdoin Scholars and invited guests. Last year's Bowdoin Scholars numbered 68; the straight "A" men 8.

Swimming Team

[Continued from Page 3]

con, VanVoast, Thomas, Gath, Page, Curry, McGowan, Simpson, Prentiss, Oehrle, Mitchell, Ingraham, Loomer, W. Brown, Blaine, E. Brown, E. Reid, Erswell, Foulke, Wheeler, Lawless, A. Boyd, Kyle, Barnestone.

Turner Laments Tourists' Neglect

Perley S. Turner, Associate Professor of Education speaking in Chapel Thursday, October 9, on "Maine Souvenirs," mocked the way in which tourists buy imported manufactured mementoes, while neglecting our abundance of natural ones.

The story was told about a student from Pennsylvania who was inquiring for directions on how to find a real Maine souvenir. Not wanting a commercialized product that didn't really represent Maine, he asked how he could get one that would convey to him the traditions and general feeling of Maine. Detailed directions were given by Professor Turner for several spots to visit, where he would have a very good chance to find treasures of Maine's past.

Outlines were given of the shell beds of Damariscotta, the gold that can be found in Maine, and the Indian and settler relics that can be found in the reddish soil around the seacoast.

The story was closed in a rather ironic way when it was learned that the student did not try to make use of the information that was so generously offered to him. He bought a metal souvenir, manufactured in Connecticut by the thousands, to remind him of Maine.

Yves Tinayre To Open The 1947-48 Music Season

With the fourth annual concert of Yves Tinayre, tenor and musician, the 1947-48 music season at Bowdoin will begin Monday October 20. The program will feature the first American performance of Scarlatti's "Motetto da Requiem."

Mr. Tinayre specializes in music written before 1700 back to the ninth century. Most of the music presented is rarely heard because it is still in manuscript. The only performances the music obtains are through the efforts of musicologists like Mr. Tinayre who has search of manuscripts into the vocal literature in the libraries of cathedrals and museums in Europe. From the sketches and notes he has transcribed from manuscript, he has amassed a personal library numbering over two thousand works.

Beginning his career as an interpreter of modern works, he became interested in early sacred music. His search for music predating Mozart.

Born and trained in France, he also studied in Italy and in England. His aim is to "make his audience intent on the music rather than his voice."

Mr. Tinayre will be assisted in his fourth annual concert by a quartet from the New England Conservatory and Professor Frederick E. T. Tillotson of the Bowdoin Music Department. Mr. Tillotson will perform the cello and basso continuo accompaniment.

Williams Game

[Continued from Page 3]

formation attack which will click. Thus far the new formation has had little success, but shifting a team used to the single wing to the T is a man-sized job, and little success can be expected until the team has been thoroughly familiarized with it.

This Saturday's contest is also notable in that it will mark the first time that this year's Pole Bear eleven has met an opponent which uses the same attack. The Tufts, Mass. State, and Arherst games there was sporadic use of the T, but the single wing predominated. The consensus of opinion is that the Big White powerful line, speedy backs, familiarity with the T, plus the ever present guiding hand of Adar Walsh will decide the contest in Bowdoin's favor.

1946 - 47 Orient Income Report

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY Brunswick, Maine
INCOME STATEMENT
Volume 76 April 1, 1946 - March 31, 1947
OPERATING INCOME	$ 25.84
Sales	1,072.10
Advertising	1,088.50
Blanket Tax	750.00
	$ 2,887.04
OPERATING EXPENSES
Printing	$ 2,465.15
Postage	44.70
Telephone and Telegraph	52.21
Stationery and Supplies	49.00
Travel Expenses	48.16
Equipment	50.00
Miscellaneous	46.84
Staff Salaries	120.00
	$ 2,886.16
Operating Profit	$.68
Non-Operating Income
Interest Income	16.92
Net Income	$ 16.90
BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
BALANCE SHEET as of March 31, 1947
ASSETS
Cash in Checking Account	$ 977.09
Cash in Savings Account	808.90
	$ 1,785.99
LIABILITIES
Subscriptions Received in Advance	$ 43.04
Arplies	1,742.95
	$ 1,786.99
Respectfully Submitted, C. C. Easton, '48 Business Manager
Audited and Approved, Kenneth J. J. '47

You'll find that our...

"Know How" about Printing

for Bowdoin Men will be helpful when you want

PROGRAMS STATIONERY TICKETS
INVITATIONS MENUS FORMS
Or Other Printing

Bring us your ideas. We'll help you develop them into attractive printing at reasonable prices.

PRINTERS OF THE ORIENT

THE RECORD PRESS

75-77 Maine Street

Phone 1 or 3

You probably know a number of men in your class who were pilots in the wartime Air Force. They are the best advertisements for the Aviation Cadet program. Talk with them about it.

Chances are, they'll tell you their service as pilots was one of the most interesting and exciting phases of their lives. Fast action, comradeship, and the chance to serve their country paid them dividends they don't forget... added something to their stature and poise that they couldn't have gotten anywhere else.

Cadet life today is no different. As a potential pilot in the new U. S. Air Force, you serve at a time of equal importance to the nation. Freedom, responsibility, the chance to use your own initiative are all yours.

The training you get is the finest your government can provide - $35,000 worth for every Cadet.

You're taught by skilled instructors, fly the best airplanes. Your living facilities are excellent.

Learning to fly today opens profitable fields to you in aviation - which is expanding more rapidly than at any other time in history.

Pilot training is open, now, to single men, 20 to 26½ years old, who have completed at least one-half the credits for a degree from an accredited college or university - or pass an equivalent examination. Cadets completing the course will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, ORC, and assigned to active duty as pilots with the Air Force. During their tours of duty they will be given a chance to qualify for Regular Air Force Commissions. This is your opportunity! Look into it today at your nearest U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

U. S. ARMY AND AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

"ALL MY FRIENDS
KNOW CHESTERFIELD IS MY BRAND"

Rita Hayworth

STAR OF COLUMBIA'S
TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION
"DOWN TO EARTH"

A
B
C

Always Buy

CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The sum-total of smoking pleasure THEY SATISFY

Colby President Bixler To Speak In Sunday Chapel

Eminent Scholar Is Author Of Several Theological Works

JULIUS SEELYE BIXLER
President, Colby College.

President Julius Seelye Bixler of Colby College will be the guest speaker at the Bowdoin College chapel service on Sunday, October 26. President Bixler, a distinguished scholar, educator, author, and theologian left his position as professor of philosophy and Bussey Professor of Theology at Harvard Divinity School in 1942 to become President of Colby.

Dr. Bixler was graduated from Amherst College in 1916 and taught for a year in a missionary college in India before he returned to do graduate work at Union Theological Seminary. After several months in the Army during World War I, he went abroad once more, this time to teach at the American University at Beirut, Syria. In 1924 President Bixler received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Yale. After serving nine years on the Smith College faculty he went to Harvard.

At Colby, Dr. Bixler has made several noteworthy improvements with special emphasis on the development of the department of Fine Arts. He also introduced the Averill Lecture Series whereby many famous scholars have lectured at the college.

Author of several well known theological books, Dr. Bixler recently had published "Conversations with an Unrepentant Liberal." An active member of many societies and organizations, he has been president of the American Theological Society and of the National Council on Religion in Higher Education.

President Bixler has honorary degrees from Amherst (D. D.), Harvard (M. A.), and Union (L. H. D.). He is also President of the Pine Tree Society for Crippled Children, Director of the Maine Seacoast Mission, and Trustee of the American International Colleges of the Near East.

Students Receive 72 Scholarships

Undergraduate scholarships for the full trimester totaling approximately $11,000 have been awarded to 72 members of the student body, President Kenneth C. M. Sills has announced.

The largest award, amounting to $250.00, was given to Richard A. Wiley '49 of Springfield, Massachusetts, editor-in-chief of the ORIENT. Wiley received the Emory Scholarship established in 1934 by Mrs. Anne Crosby Emory Allen, an honorary Bowdoin graduate, in memory of her father, the Honorable Lucius A. Emory, LL. D. '61, and her mother, for an award to "an individual boy to be selected by the Dean."

From the fund established in 1934 by Charles Potter King of Augusta for "students of Colonial or Revolutionary ancestry," the Kling Scholarships have been awarded to Robert W. Biggar, Jr. '49 of Saco, Warren H. Dunning '49 of Lynn, Massachusetts, and Paul T. Welch '50 of Middletown, New York.

John E. Duffer '50 of Brunswick has been awarded the Annie E. Purinton Scholarship established in 1908 by Mrs. D. Webster King in memory of her sister, with preference being given to a Topham or Brunswick boy.

The Class of 1916 Scholarship was given to Norman M. Winter '50 of Golden Bridge, New York. John G. Winter, A. M. Mr. Winter's father, is a member of the Bowdoin Class of 1916.

Polar Bears Set For Tussle With Colby Mules Saturday

Bowdoin Seeks Third Consecutive Victory; Colby Improving After Losing First Four

By Robert J. Waldron '50

An improved Polar Bear eleven will be seeking its third consecutive victory in its opening State Series encounter with Colby this Saturday at Whittier Field. The Colby Mules which have suffered setbacks at the hands of their first four opponents, seem to be steadily improving and will be out to break into the win column against their old state series rival.

The Colby team that will take the field this Saturday has had a disappointing season thus far, but its full potentialities have yet to be realized. Their first game was with a New Hampshire State powerhouse. The aftermath of this four touchdown loss was a general weakening of the team, very similar to that which affected the Polar Bears after their scrimmage with the Wildcats.

Colby will present an experienced squad, with seven members of their starting team holdovers from last year's team. Lomen McSweeney, Cook, and Pui's all started last year's game, while Washburn, Mitchell, Roberts, and Alex served in that game as substitutes.

The four new members of the starting team are backs King and Lawson, end Lunden, and tackle Mercer. In addition to these men, the Mules squad includes another eight men who saw considerable service last year.

This Colby team will be coming to fight the Polar Bears fresh from a heart-breaking 13-7 defeat at the hands of Amherst. But for a few unfortunate breaks the Mules might have broken into the win column against the powerful Jefs. The Series fever which always puts extra fight into the Maine clubs can conceivably give them the push they have thus far lacked.

The Polar Bears should be at top strength for this meeting having come through the Williams game unscathed. Captain Jake Stankis will still be on the sidelines, but the rest of the team will be intact. The Big White looked much better in the later part of the Williams game, but still have to keep going to their best pace all the way to throttle the strengthened Mule aggregation.

Bowdoin Polar Bears Band Arranges Winter Schedule

The Bowdoin dance orchestra, the Polar Bears, is off to a start under the leadership of Phillip T. Young '51. Phil Young has had experience with several bands in Boston, plays both trumpet and sax, and also does the arranging.

Trials To Be Held To Select Teams For Debate

The Achorn Debate trials for selecting members of the freshman and sophomore prize debating teams will be held on Monday, October 27 at 7 p.m. in 101 Memorial Hall.

Each competitor will present a five minute argument and short rebuttal on one side of the following question: Resolved that the best interests of the country would be served by the use of federal funds for further regional developments similar to the T. V. A.

The Achorn Prize consists of the annual income of a fund of $1,214 bequeathed by Edgar Oakes Achorn '81. It is awarded annually for excellence in debating between members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes.

This year's participation in the Achorn Debate will determine the assignment of underclassmen to regular intercollegiate debates.

Tinayre Gives "Excellent Program Of Rare Music"

By Paul L. Bishop '49

Yves Tinayre presented an excellent concert of rare music before a small crowd in Memorial Hall last Monday evening. The program featured a moving and distinctive rendering of the Scarlatti Motetto da Requiem, being heard for the first time in the United States.

Mr. Tinayre's vocal delivery was nearly always well controlled. He showed himself equally adaptable to the many styles demanded by his program, singing with proper feeling and projection either the opening ballads or the operatic Scarlatti opus.

This work was deeply emotional. The exacting long solo runs of the first and last parts had tonal brilliance. The second part offered a delightful restrained rhythmic melodic line. The contrasting recitations were powerful. The fourth part stood forth for the beautiful somber majesty of Mr. Tinayre's voice and the restrained playing of the accompanying artists.

The Mozart aria, written by that genius at the age of 14, was momentarily interrupted and recommenced after the tenor upset a violinist's music stand. "Too enthusiastic in my conducting!" he commented and then continued with the "Ora Pro Rege," a program of refreshing simplicity, but profound content.

The program opened with "Roselys" of Machaut a ballad of soft gentle and delicate French poetry. Mr. Tinayre explained each work before he sang it, reading the French poem, as above, or translating the words. Prior to the first musical numbers, all presented in manuscript form and taken from his library of works collected in cathedrals and music libraries in Europe. Du Fay's Chanson, "Verine bella" offered rich contrasts in changing tonal colors and feeling. The violin's lyric passages complemented the preceding dramatic solo. Phrasing was notably well handled.

The "Motet per il Santo Spirito" of Colonna presented second at the concert offered Mr. Tinayre difficulty with its very high notes in the two recitatives. These broke on the tenor, probably because of their extreme height. The preceding and following passages were unmarred by this difficulty and one would assume those notes were beyond his range or that his voice were not yet "warmed up" sufficiently. There was excellent breath control in the long phrases of the aria and skilled handling of the vigorous closing Alleluia.

The assisting artists presented the little-known Sinfonia No. 5 of Manfredi. The entire opus was done with evenness of projection and fullness of tone. The restrained beauty of the opening Adagio offered some lovely violin passages. The Fugue had a quivering and tenderness rising to heights of exalted beauty. The third part with its deep pathos led to a colorful Allegro which the instruments gave a brilliant subject and answer.

The artists were Jean Stillman and Marlis East, violins, Edward Troupin, viola, Mrs. Charles T. Burnett, violin-cello, and Frederic Tillotson, cembalo.

Quill Board Sets November 24 Date For New Deadline

Literary Magazine Reveals Final Date For Available Work

A recent interview with Alexander J. Curtis '49 reveals the deadline for material contestant for publication in the winter issue of the Bowdoin Quill to be Monday, November 24.

Members of the Quill board are Curtis, president; Arnet R. Taylor '50, business manager; Boyd Murphy '48, and David W. Boulton '49, editors. Students are urged to give material to be judged for printing in the coming edition to any member of the board.

The Bowdoin literary magazine, the Quill, has always been interested in printing works primarily of a literary nature as opposed to such articles dealing with political or economical subjects. It was founded in 1898 and since that time has sponsored the college writings of many famous writers. Among authors now familiar who wrote for the Quill are Robert F. Tristram Coffin, W. H. Auden, Charles H. Merdahl, and Vance Bourjaily.

Although many readers believe material for the Quill must be in the form of a poem or short story as in the past, essays, personal or otherwise, plays, sketches, or any other literary forms are entirely acceptable.

Since its revival the Quill has suffered from the reputation of being controlled by a small group interested in printing only their own writings. The rapid turnover of editors as well as a glance at any recent edition shows that these notions are unfounded. Since it is supported by the Blanket Tax, every student not only receives a copy of the Quill, but also has a stake in its publication. It is a magazine published for and by the students.

Curtis points out, "With abnormal conditions at Bowdoin as well as at other colleges, too many students feel that the most valuable thing is a good mark in every course. This seems to be the result of a feeling, especially on the part of older veterans, that they have lost time and the one thing to be achieved now is to graduate from college. This has been evidenced by a decided lack of interest where no financial profit is involved and no professors mark given. Neither of these objectives is further delayed by a curricular writing for the Quill."

The Quill is subscribed to by many alumni in writing and publishing professions. Freshmen as well as upperclassmen contributions are welcomed. The Quill, like all other campus organizations is anxious to have new men among its contributors and editors.

Masque and Gown To Set Schedule

At the Masque and Gown Smoker in the Moulton Union lounge Friday evening, October 24 at 7:00 the play to be presented at Christmas Houseparties will be announced, as well as the tentative schedule of the college dramatic organization for the 1947-48 season.

Of immediate interest to members and to other men interested in its activities is the election to the Executive Committee of the Masque and Gown of William G. Wadman '49 to fulfill the duties of the Junior Member-at-Large. Thus, the board of the Masque and Gown is: Robert R. Bliss '47, President; William M. Davis '49, Secretary; Robert F. Fargo '49, Business Manager; Richard J. M. Williams '46, Production Manager; Peter T. Poor '50, Production Advisor; Edward L. Kallop, Jr. '48, Publicity Manager; Boyd Murphy '48 and Wadman, Members-at-Large.

At the Smoker on Friday all members of the Masque and Gown are requested to be present or to send a representative as substitute. Non-members and freshmen are earnestly urged to attend. Men in college who are interested in drama, play-writing, acting, painting, scene designing, production work, or business managing are cordially invited.

Elliot Holds First Economics Classes

Mr. Robert DeWitt Elliott met with his first, elementary economics classes on Monday, as he became the fifth member of the Economics department now teaching at Bowdoin.

85 Named James Bowdoin Scholars; Wiley Wins First A.R.U. Cup Award

Honor Senior As Scholar, Athlete

A. R. U. Scholarship Cup Recipient

The first presentation of the James Bowdoin Cup, donated by the Alpha Rho Upsilon Fraternity and dedicated to "high achievement in scholarship and athletics," was made this morning to Richard A. Wiley '49 at the James Bowdoin Day exercises.

The terms of the award, established last spring, are as follows: This cup is given by the Alpha Rho Upsilon Fraternity to be awarded to the student who in the previous college year has won a varsity letter in active competition and has the highest scholastic average. In the case of two or more students being tied, the award shall go to the man having the best scholastic record during his entire stay at Bowdoin.

"The name of the recipient of the award is to be engraved upon the cup, and the cup retained for the following year by the college group (fraternity or non-fraternity) of which the recipient is a member. The award of the cup shall be in charge of the Faculty Committee on James Bowdoin Day."

Wiley is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and is Editor-in-Chief of the ORIENT. He has won two letters at a member of the varsity track team and is a member of this year's varsity cross-country team. A past officer of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity, Wiley is also a member of the Debating Council and the Political Forum. Last June he was awarded the Almon Goodwin Phi Beta Kappa Prize for scholastic achievement.

S. C. D. C. Decides Policy For Fall; Elects Chairman

James T. Burgess '48 was elected Chairman of the Student Council Disciplinary Committee at a recent meeting. Another meeting was held on October 25th, and the group discussed and decided upon its policy. Until now there has been no definite interpretation of the Freshman Rules, and this year the S. C. D. C. has taken upon itself the task of not only enforcing these rules but also interpreting them in order to eliminate confusion on the part of many Freshmen. The purpose of the rules is not merely to put the Freshmen in a subordinate position, but also for the sake of tradition and custom and to unite the Freshmen as a class; all being subject to the same regulations which will tend to bring them together. Following are the rules:

All Freshman Rules are suspended over the weekend; beginning Saturday noon, ending Monday morning at eight o'clock.

Hats must be worn in Brunswick as well as on campus. Smoking is not allowed on campus, except in Moulton Union, fraternity houses, and in the dormitories.

All Freshmen are required to attend the football rallies. Freshmen must make a greater effort to remember the "Bowdoin Hello," as this is a tradition typical of the friendly atmosphere of the College.

The remainder of the rules seem to need no explanation, although the term "loud clothing" is rather indefinite, and is more or less left to individual judgement.

If any Freshman is reported to the S. C. D. C. he will receive a card informing him of the time and place of his appointment with the S. C. D. C.

As yet there has been no definite decision regarding the date on which the rules will end. Some members are in favor of extending.

Tillotson To Hold Glee Club Trials

Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson announced that Glee Club Quizz trials will be held October 27 and 28 from 2 to 4:30 o'clock in the Music Room, in preparation for a concert at the Rossini Club in Portland, on November 6. Seventy men will be selected, some of whom will be placed on A and B lists to act as substitutes in the case of regular men not being able to participate at the time. Every member of this group is expected to sing at the Messiah Concert, December 12, Professor Tillotson said.

RICHARD A. WILEY '49, editor of the ORIENT, was awarded the A.R.U. cup today at the James Bowdoin Day Exercises in Memorial Hall.

Students Turn Out To Fight Topham Inferno

At the request of Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, and lured by the promise of free cuts and seventy-five cents an hour, scores of Bowdoin men forsook their classes from Wednesday on to fight the forest fires which had been raging in Topham for over a week.

Saturday Last Day To Buy Columbia Concert Tickets

Under the captainship of Peter J. Fennel '49, Zeta Psi, the College team sponsoring the campus membership campaign for the 1947-48 season of the Columbia Concerts Corporation plans to close its box offices Saturday unless the quota of tickets (300) is sold out beforehand.

The representatives selling tickets in the various Fraternities are: Alpha Delta Phi: Herbert S. French, Jr. '46; Psi Upsilon: Daniel B. Kunhardt '49; Chi Psi: Donald D. Steele '50, who is also canvassing the Delta Upsilon house; Delta Kappa Epsilon: Samuel W. Hale, Jr. '49; Theta Delta Chi: Herbert Gillman, Jr. '48; Zeta Psi: Donald B. Snyder, Jr. '50; Kappa Sigma: James T. Burgess '48; Beta Theta Pi: David W. Garland '50; Sigma Nu: David A. Bowdoin '49; Alpha Tau Omega: David Thordike '46; Alpha Rho Upsilon: Robert T. Tanner '49.

The price of season tickets for students and their wives is $2.50, tax included.

Wielding shovels, axes, and portable water pumps, they worked long and hard to halt the spread of the fire. Others helped carry the heavy fire hoses and attacked the main blaze itself.

Their efforts were of little value; for the blaze, which is rumored to have started in a Topham sawdust pile, has continued to spread. It covers thousands of acres and has moved deep into the town of Bowdoin, where it is being attacked by bulldozers.

The complete lack of rain has complicated the fire-fighters task; the streams have run dry and water to be used on the fire, must be trucked long distances in tanks. Fortunately, as yet no homes have been destroyed, but there is little hope of extinguishing the blaze until it rains.

Tests Given By Music Department

Certain selected students having musical background or taking advanced work in music were given a test by the Music Department last Monday and Thursday to determine their ability to write or

[Continued on Page 3]

Union Committee Makes Plans Under New Officers

As a result of recent elections, the officers of the Union Committee are: Donald D. Steele '50, Chairman, Delta Upsilon; Warren H. Dunning '49, Theta Delta Chi; Secretary: James T. Keefe Jr. '50, Alpha Delta Phi, Treasurer.

Other members of the group include: Robert W. Allen '50, Beta Theta Pi; Winslow F. Baker '50, Alpha Tau Omega; Lawrence F. Deane '48, Psi Upsilon; Sherman E. Fein '49, Alpha Rho Upsilon; Carl H. Francis '46, Kappa Sigma; Leland B. Hamilton '50, Chi Psi; F. Proctor Jones '50, Sigma Nu; Richard B. Lewsen '49, Zeta Psi; Clement F. Richardson '50, Delta Kappa Epsilon. A barn dance to be held in the Moulton Union on November 21st is the first in a series of programs sponsored by the Union Committee. The dance, directed in conjunction with the Student Wives Committee, will take place on Friday evening, and the admission is free to all students and their dates. Refreshments will be served during the course of the evening.

The next dance, it is announced, is to be on December 12th, and again all students are invited. The Polar Bears will provide the music for the semi-formal affair, beginning at ten thirty, lasting till midnight.

There is going to be a pool tournament in the near future, and all interested candidates should contact Paul W. Moran '48, at the Zeta house.

A series of football movies, not only of Bowdoin, but also of other teams coached by A'am Walsh will be shown. In addition there will be short subjects.

The Union Committee is establishing a poster service so that anyone desiring posters for some campus activity will be able to purchase them through the Committee at nominal cost.

A more definite schedule for the coming events will be announced, and soon the Union Committee will make known its plans regarding Lectures. There will be several speakers, representing different fields of industry, business, and politics.

Bowdoin Scholars Hear Mr. Baxter

85 James Bowdoin Scholars and 17 books bearing the nameplate of the Honorable James Bowdoin, and the Alpha Rho Upsilon Cup were awarded to the outstanding students of the college at the seventh annual observance of James Bowdoin Day this morning at Memorial Hall.

Featured at the exercises was an address by Dr. James Phinney Baxter, III, President of Williams College and winner of a 1947 Pulitzer Prize in history, who spoke on "Scholarship in the Post-War World."

After the announcement of the scholarship winners and the presentation of books to men of straight "A" standing by President Sills, a response was delivered by Richard Arthur Wiley '49 for the undergraduates. Wiley, also winner of the ARU cup for combined athletic and scholastic achievement, was chosen to speak by a committee of three Phi Beta Kappa students: William D. Cappellari '48, Alexander J. Curtis '49, and Robert W. Biggar '49.

Those receiving James Bowdoin Scholarships were: Emil William Allen, Jr. '50, Robert Watson Allen '50, James Robert Barlow '50, David McMichael Berwind '50, Robert Watson Biggar, Jr. '49, David Watson Boulton '49, Walter Foster Byron '45, William Dominic Cappellari '48, Charles Woodside Carruthers '50, Jesse Maxwell Corum, 3rd '45, Alexander Johnson Curtis '49, Philip Fowler Danforth, Jr. '50, Clark Danielson '49, Cornelius Paul Darcy '50, Stanley Fuller Dole, '47, Keith Dowden '49, Robert John Dowling '49, John Eckhardt Duffer '50, Warren Halsey Dunning, II '49, Howard Richard Dwellley '49.

Louis Perley Fickett, Jr. '47, Hayden Bernard Goldberg '49, Edward Goot '48, James Theodore Goussard '48, George Hathaway Griffin '47, John Fowler Gustafson '50, Earl Dorchester Hanson '47, Loring Edward Hart '46, Robert Earl Hart '49, Merton Goodell Henry '50, Richard Eugene Herrick, Jr. '50, Stillman Patterson Hilton '48, Wolcott Anders Hokanson, Jr. '50, John Roscoe Hopper '50, Ralph Elwood Keirstead, Jr. '48, Roger Lee Kenvin '48, William James Kline '50, Donald Merritt Lockhart '45, Harold Edward Lusher '48.

William Carroll McCormack '50, Douglas Hall McNally '46, James McKee '50, Allan Hugh McKinley '50, Archie Bassford Maxwell '46, Richard Arthur Maxwell '48, Archie Yates Melville '49, Paul Wilson Moran '48, Donald Frank Mortland '50, Boyd Murphy '48, Lawrence Alfred Nadeau '49, William Thompson Norton '50, Norman Franklin Otley '50, Donald Robert Paquette '46, George Albert Parsons, Jr. '49, Philip Brown Parsons, Jr. '46, Albert Bence Patton '50, Nelson Douglas Payne '50, Harlan Berkley Peabody, Jr. '50, Richard Ernest Poulos '50, Johannes Peter Prins '50.

Earle Gene Ramsey '49, Dana Phelps Ripley '50, Paul Harold Rubin '50, Joseph John Schmuck '49, [Continued on Page 2]

It Happens Here

Tomorrow
3:30 p.m. — Varsity Cross-Country vs. Bates and Middlebury at Lewiston.

Friday
2:30 p.m. — Pickard Field. Freshman Football vs. Hebron.
7:00 p.m. — Moulton Union. Masque and Gown Smoker.

Saturday
11:00 a.m. — Special Chapel Service for Bowdoin Fathers and sons, the President presiding.
12:15 p.m. — Moulton Union. Bowdoin Fathers Luncheon.
1:30 p.m. — Whittier Field. Football vs. Colby.

Sunday
5:00 p.m. — Chapel. Julius Seelye Bixler, LL. D., President of Colby College. The Choir will sing: "To God on High," by Decius.

Monday
12:40 p.m. — Chapel. Navy Day Program. Professor Noel C. Little will speak on "The Navy looks to Science".
2:00 - 4:30 — Music Room. Glee Club Quizz trials will be held. Seventy men will be selected.

8:30 p.m. — Freshmen Cross-Country vs. Deering High School.
7:00 p.m. — 101 Memorial Hall.

Grades Emphasized Too Much

"To understand the nobler and wiser aims of the race, those visions which dictate the ethical foundations of society" — this according to Episcopal Canon Bernard Iddings Bell should be the aim of a democratic education. It may well also be considered the proper aim of scholarship itself.

Recognition for high scholastic achievement was accorded a number of undergraduates at the annual James Bowdoin Day exercises this morning. Such recognition is wise, for scholarship in these times is liable to general neglect.

But the question at once arises as to whether this achievement is true scholarship or merely the attaining of marks, numerical grades which give a false conception of the real understanding of the student.

Scholarship should be a genuine search after the truth. But unfortunately this search is often eclipsed by accompanying pedagogy. The present system of education forces all but a few unusual students to seek marks as an end in themselves.

Not only is this situation discouraging to the undergraduate while in college, but it also acts as a deterrent to many excellent men who might otherwise have entered the teaching profession. For they see the professor too as a fellow victim of the highly organized system of meaningless grades.

Students and teachers not only are very likely to lose themselves in the maze of the alphabet from A to E, but, more important, to forget the relationship of their particular field of study to the whole — the problem of "why".

Cannon Bell also said that "Americans will never be mature if all they recognize as real are the things of this and now, as long as they deal forever with what and never why."

Too many undergraduates wander aimlessly through four years of college education showing no enthusiasm or interest. They are in many cases confused, searching for a purpose amid all the meaningless of which marks are a part. For they are repeatedly told that marks mean nothing — yet find that they mean almost everything.

Through enlightened course teaching, through extended sympathetic personal contact, through frank discussion of life's most important questions by speakers in chapel, the College might undertake to lead the student, not into narrow confusion and frustration, but to genuine hope and understanding.

R. A. W.

Give The Assistants Coffee Too

At the risk of being considered "unethical", we should like to take exception to the extremely biased article written by one Bernard A. LeBeau '48, a student assistant at the Library. His article is self contradictory in that he, himself, presents only one side of the situation, although he insists that we must consider both sides.

The problem of back issues of periodicals seems rather superficially treated. Why cannot the library keep these back issues for a nine or twelve month period instead of having them bound after six months? Theft or careless loss of copies could be avoided by having the back issues kept in the stacks, or the basement where they would be readily available, and still not stolen or lost. Admittedly the stacks are crowded, but it would seem that some arrangement could be worked out.

The question of stack privileges is very important to the student body, and although the present structural features of the Library will not permit an "open stack" system, every attempt should be made to work out some type of said system. As regards the new exit, surely the door could be fixed in such a way so that it would require a key to leave the building as well as to enter it. Such a plan would allow the faculty to enter and leave by this door, and yet effectively prevent any student from leaving "undetected".

Now to the defense of the poor student assistant in this bureaucracy. It is "alleged" that certain salaried members of the library staff skip afternoon coffee in a well appointed room located on the premises — and from which all student assistants are excluded. One more reason as to why THE ORIENT has campaigned wholeheartedly for an autonomous student library committee to advise on matters of policy, regardless of friend LeBeau's insinuation that such a committee would be both superfluous and inefficient.

R. S. T.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, October 22, 1947 No. 11

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, Johnson Poor '49
News Editors William S. Augerson '47, Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47
David Crowell '49, Raymond S. Trough '50
Executive Editor Albert B. Patton '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editors Harvey S. Jackson '48, William M. Davis '49
Charles T. Dilaway '49, John F. Noxon III '50
Editorial Assistants: George E. Berliawsky '48, Paul L. Bishop '49,
Edward M. Jackson '49, George Paradis '49, Robert G. Gullian '50,
John L. Bacon '51, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corlies '51, John
D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Edwin R. French '51, Albert P.
Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard Van Orden '51
Sports Assistants: William C. Rogers '48, Fagan H. Simonson, Jr. '50
Laurence M. Edwards '51
Photographers Philip F. Ellsworth '50, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Advertising Managers Alfred F. Waxler '47, Edward S. Early '49
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmutz '49, C. Craig Ryder '49,
Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Castiglione '48, Ernest L. Rainton, Jr. '49,
Gordon F. Lincke '50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blatchford '51,
Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardee '51,
Donald Union '51

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors ... Professor Athana P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip
M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49
News Editor For This Week Raymond S. Trough '50

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.
College Publishers Representatives
480 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO - CLEVELAND - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly with changes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter on the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is five ($5) dollars.

It gives me incalculable pleasure to introduce the next speaker of the evening, Senator Fillpot, who has a timely message of incalculable importance to the modern student. But first, will the audience please move down to the first row.

Student Assistant Defends Much-Criticized Library

By Bernard A. LeBeau '48

There seems to be no other institution on Campus which is the target of so many attacks and so little real praise as Hubbard Hall, the College Library. Both privately and through the columns of the ORIENT, it has been almost a standard practice for students to condemn the Library in some form or other.

It is high time that Bowdoin students realize that most of these condemnations are neither justified nor verified by fact. Too many complaints and even suggestions on how to remodel Hubbard Hall are ideas conceived without any attempt to understand the facts involved. In my opinion, any student who conceives such a charge should try to see both sides of the question before taking a pot shot at the Library.

One of the most frequently asked questions is: "Why cannot the Library operate under the 'open stack' system?" This is a legitimate question as everyone knows how difficult it is to select exactly the book you need from among the ten or fifteen on that topic listed in the card catalog. But, as Mr. Boyer or any student assistant will be only too happy to explain, the present structural features of Hubbard Hall make such a system impossible. Also, the problem of theft and how to prevent it is a serious one, as there is a rear exit from the stack through which anyone could leave undetected. As a matter of fact, it would be harder for the average student to find a book in an "open stack" system because he would be completely unfamiliar with the method used to locate the general sections of literature, history, sociology, etc. (It takes many hours to thoroughly train a student assistant in the operation of the stack system.)

Even more important is the fact that the staff has never denied free access to the stack to any person who had a legitimate reason for so asking. And Mr. Boyer has been liberal enough to include "serious browsing" as a legitimate reason.

The Librarian has also assured the writer that when the Library is enlarged, or when a new wing is built, one of the first questions to be considered will be whether or not to allow "open stack" privileges. Thus I feel that any intelligent student can see that the "open stack" system is impossible under the present physical set-up of the Library.

A problem of a different type concerns the inability of both students and faculty to secure back issues of current periodicals for the six to twelve month period preceding the current issue. The invariable answer is: "It's at the bindery." And, through no fault of the Library, this situation cannot be changed, although it is being greatly improved.

As periodicals finish their current year and issue indices, the Library must have these back issues bound. It cannot have all of them bound during what used to be the summer vacation period, as the bindery at that time is swamped with work from the public schools. So, periodically, the Library must send back issues to the bindery thus taking them out of circulation.

During the war, it took as long as nine months to get books back from the bindery. The waiting period has now dropped to three months, and Mr. Boyer feels that it will soon drop to the usual peacetime six-week period. If the periodical in question is in the Library binding room awaiting shipment, it is always made available.

To buy duplicate copies is financially unfeasible and would only be a costly duplication. The problem is one that the Library dislikes as much as the student does, but there seems to be no solution. The writer does not wish to moralize, but the Library has one very serious problem directly caused by (some) students. I refer to the unethical misuse of library privileges—the failure to return open or closed reserve books, the outright theft of current periodicals, and other similar practices.

As individual students, we have every right to complain if the closed reserve book we must have is missing, or if the latest "Time" or "World Report" has been misappropriated. But if by our own actions we directly contribute to this problem, or even if we condone such malpractices, we greatly increase the serious nature of the problem.

Actually, this is our problem, not the Library's; we are the guilty party, not the Library. And the only way that it can be solved is to develop in ourselves a sense of fair play and responsibility in our use of the Library and its privileges. We must both develop our own standard of ethics as regards the use of the Library, and see to it that others do likewise. At least here is one so-called problem that we can solve.

It has been suggested that a Student Library Committee be formed as a solution to the problem of student-Library relations. Such a committee might well act as a liaison between the Library and the student body; the committee to present the views of the student body to the Library, and the Library to explain how the problem affects it.

Mr. Boyer has indicated his complete willingness to see such a committee formed if it will serve a useful purpose. However, both Mr. Boyer and Mr. Heintz have always been available to individual students or groups of students, and therefore the formation of such a committee might prove both superfluous and less efficient than the present system. But it is up to the student body to decide whether or not the situation warrants a Student Library Committee.

[Continued on Page 4]

Saltonstall Talks On "Conscience" In Sunday Chapel

Dr. William G. Saltonstall, headmaster of Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, New Hampshire, was the speaker at Chapel last Sunday.

Dr. Saltonstall opened his talk with a quotation from Deuteronomy in which Moses exhorts the Children of Israel to obedience of the Law. This, said Dr. Saltonstall, signified an appeal to conscience. He then developed the idea of the importance of conscience in directing the path and tenor of our knowledge, citing the necessity of moments of quiet meditation for listening to the "still, small voice."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Dr. Saltonstall listed three general questions for which the individual and collective American conscience must be the guide. First, the problem of the Food Stings Program, which must realize its success through universal cooperation. The impetus for this, he said, must come from the dictates of conscience. Secondly, students and teachers of America, enjoying rich material advantages and the priceless asset of cultural freedom must make it a matter of conscience to understand the position and interests of the less fortunate students of foreign countries, and we must prepare to combat the forces which are promoting collectivism rather than individualism in certain quarters. Thirdly, Dr. Saltonstall concluded by indicating the necessity of our conscience leading us to God and to truth. Quoting a maxim to the effect that "goodness without knowledge is weak and knowledge without goodness is dangerous," he said that a combination of the two is the basis for the development of a "good old New England conscience."

Student Opinion Divided On Rules, For Limited S.C.D.C.

By William A. Augerson

Now that the fall trimester, with its freshmen, has arrived, the values of Freshman Rules, and their enforcement, are again issues of campus controversy. THE ORIENT has collected the following opinions, at random, from students on campus, in class, and in their rooms.

Questions:
1. Do you think Freshman rules are necessary and worthwhile at Bowdoin and should they be continued?
2. Do you think the SCDC is necessary, and should it be continued?
3. Which rule do you think is the most worthwhile?
4. Which rule do you think is the least important?

Answers:
• Joseph C. Wheeler '48. 1. I don't think the rules are necessary, but since they are a part of Bowdoin tradition they might as well be continued.

2. No.
3. The "Hello".
4. Oh,

Polar Bearings

Bears Set For Series Bell; Should Down Colby Saturday

By George McClelland '49

And so the state series is finally upon us. Four games are behind the Polar Bears of Adam Walsh and the story of those four games is one of tedious but steady improvement. Fumbles cost the Tufts game. A defensive defect in the middle of the line brought defeat against the U. of Massachusetts. These weaknesses were present against Amherst, but heads-up football gave Bowdoin its first win. Against Williams, Bowdoin looked very bad for awhile, but when they got rolling they won going away.

Without fanfare or the fixing favorites role, the Big White rolls into action against Colby Saturday. Injuries hurt Bowdoin's chances in early games, but these are healing and since no serious injuries were suffered Saturday, the squad is in better physical shape than it has been at any time this year. Even the schedule aids the Polar Bears. Colby is considered the weakest team in the state, and although the law of averages or the fickle finger of fate may upset the applicant, this Saturday's tilt should prove a breather for the grueling tests ahead.

Playing Bates at home will be a big help and that one is the key. A victory over the Bobcats would set Bowdoin on the highroad. That game up at Orono will be a tough one, but it will be a lot easier if Adam Walsh goes up there with two state series wins.

So while our hearts are at Whittier Field for the Colby game our thoughts may well be on that Bates-Maine struggle at Lewiston. And from this corner we'll be rooting for Bates (for the first time in a long while) because from here Maine looks like the team to beat. However, Bates will have considerable trouble in producing this desired result. Art Blanchard got hurt Saturday and they'll need him at full effectiveness to triumph. Nick Valores played well against Northeastern and Allen Howlett can move, but Blanchard is the man that makes that team function. The Garnet line received a boost when Wally Leahy returned for tackle duty but Blanchard still is the main cog.

Maine has it this year. Allen has a team of holdovers from the squad that started late but found themselves at Bowdoin's expense last season, and this time they started off fast. New Hampshire stopped them temporarily, but they have come right back and are ready to go. Depth will be with the Black Bears and that may well tell the tale. We don't paint a pretty picture of the Bates prospects, but those screaming coeds (by the way Bates coeds cannot come to Bowdoin campus more than once a month now. They evidently consider Bowdoin men a bad influence. hmm!) might do something for their team.

But Bowdoin will have to take these eleven in order. The first one to consider is the Colby game. The Mules look easy but let's hope they don't have a 12th man, overconfidence on their side.

Bowdoin Downs Williams Eleven, 14 - 0

Inter-Fraternity Football League Starts '47 Season

Nineteen games were played last week to complete the first third of the interfraternity football competition.

Of the 24 teams, 11 are undefeated and only one team has yet to see action. In the 1:30 league the A. D.'s and the Dekes are the teams to beat. The man to watch on the A. D. squad is passer Don Russell while the Dekes are sparked by Steve Monaghan, the Divine brothers and Fred Giddings.

Outstanding play in the 3:30 league comes from the Sigma Nu's, featuring passers Gervin and Verrill to Hawkins et al, and the triple threat D. U.'s with trackster Matt Branche and twirler George Hickey. A possible dark horse in the twilight contests is the A. D. team led by a freshman combination, Benedict to Prior.

The house referees have done well in nearly all contests with the notable exception of the A. T. O.-Deke opener in which the Dekes scored two contestable safeties. The White Key will hand down a decision on this game and define the safety-touchback rules and scoring at its next meeting.

League A1
Beta-D.U. 18-6
A.D.-Zeta 14-6
Deke-Chi Psi 18-12
A.D.-D.U. 24-6
Deke-Zeta 18-8
Chi Psi-Beta 14-12
League A2
Zeta-A.D. 12-12
A.R.U.-Sigma Nu 18-12
Psi U.-T.D. (postponed) D.U. Psi U. 18-6
A.T.O.-K.S. 20-8 Sigma Nu-Zeta 12-0

Coach Walsh's Squad Departs For Williamstown

THE VARSITY TEAM, just before leaving on the bus for Williamstown, Mass., where they defeated the Purple eleven, 14-0.

Bowdoin Harriers Lose To Williams

Williamstown, Mass. Oct. 18.—A powerful and well balanced Williams cross-country team overwhelmed the Bowdoin varsity harriers by a perfect score of 15-40 here at noon today.

Kelton of Williams was the individual star of the meet, negotiating the 3.7 mile course in the excellent time of 22:14.5. He was followed by five other Purple harriers, and not until seventh place did a Bowdoin runner cross the finish line on the Weston field track.

Joe Woods and Fred Auten came in together more than two minutes after the winner to take seventh and eighth places, followed by Dick Schrack. Trailing another Williams runner was the rest of the Bowdoin team.

The scoring:
Won by Kelton (W); Delany (W), second; Cook (W), third; Collins (W), fourth; May (W), fifth; Chisholm (W), sixth; Woods (B), seventh; Auten (B), eighth; Schrack (B), ninth; Davis (W), tenth; McClelland (B), eleventh; Lund (B), twelfth; Jackson (B), thirteenth; and Wiley (B), fourteenth. Time: 22:14.5.

Orient Seminar

[Continued from Page 2]

viewing to the reporters who attended the seminar.

Future meetings are being planned to give instruction in headlines, management and editing, feature writing, make-up and composition and general policy.

Freshman Football Team Triumphs Over Higgins

Brunswick, Oct. 17.—Bowdoin College's first post-war Freshman football team opened its season today with a 13-2 victory over Higgins Classical Institute.

Len Sauter scored in the third period and Bob DeCosta added the insurance touchdown in the final quarter on a pass from Paul Burr. The visitors points came on a safety in the last stanza when Hickson blocked Jules Siroy's punt.

The schoolboys found the rugged Junior Polar Bears too much for themselves and did well in keeping the score within respectable bounds. Only once did Higgins threaten to score. After a pass interception they drove to the Bowdoin 3 yard line only to stall.

Except for this drive and the blocked punt, the Freshmen were in control all the way. Sauter and Siroy ripped great holes in the Higgins defense only to be stopped by last ditch stands. It was by the aerial route that the touchdowns came. Burr set up the first with a toss to Sauter good to the 1 yard line from where the latter went over and then passed to DeCosta for the final 5 yards of another drive.

The lineups:
Bowdoin Fresh (13)
Bradley, le
Rogers, c
Casey, le
Shannon, rt
Danforth, rt
Castello, rt
Ror, re
Burr, qb
DeCosta, lhb
Siroy, rhh
Sauter, rb

The present heating plant was the college Union thirty years ago.

By periods:
Bowdoin 0 0 6 7-13
Higgins 0 0 0 2-2
Bowdoin scoring: Touchdown—Burr (rush). Higgins scoring: Safety—Siroy (tackled by Hickson). Bowdoin substitutions: ends—Carlson, Marsh; tackles—Manfuso; guards—Voxil, Clifford; center—Packard; backs—Hick, Kellier, Patterson, Graham. Higgins substitutions: ends—Nichols, Caruso; tackles—Burk, Fowler; center—Foss; backs—Bouldie, Richardson, Mahoney, Offish; Referee—Shanahan (H.C.), Umpire—Farrington (Bowdoin), Head linesman—Gustafson (New Hampshire), Time—4:12.

Big White Scores Twice On Pass, Purple Misplay

Williamstown, Mass. Oct. 18.—Shoved all over the field for almost three periods, Adam Walsh's improving Polar Bears suddenly caught fire to score twice in three plays and down a stubborn Williams eleven 14-0 at Weston Field this afternoon.

Annex Tops J. V.'s In Final Seconds On Pass, 12-6

Brunswick, Oct. 17.—Lionel Roy, who attended Bowdoin this summer, was the chief instigator in the Maine Annex's 12-6 victory over the Bowdoin Jayvees today as he threw two touchdowns passes to Leslie Leggett, one in the last minute of play.

The Big White seconds scored first on a ten yard aerial thrust from Bob Graft to Bob Speirs in the opening period. The first Roy to Leggett pass covered 28 yards and came in the second stanza. The second came after Dom Toscani, Bowdoin quarterback, elected to punt the ball on 4th down on his own 3 yard line and the Annex took over on downs at that point.

Bowdoin's score was set up when Speirs recovered a fumble on the Maine 37. Howie Turburn and Bob Carley picked up first downs to the 10, preparing the way for the score. The little White failed to capitalize later in the period when Bill Reardon recovered another fumble on the Annex 18.

After that the story was mostly Maine. The boys in blue threatened twice in the second period before they scored and had the edge following intermission.

Despite the loss to heavier opponents, Bowdoin was a far better team than the one that lost so miserably last week. Graft, Speirs, Robinson, Brown and Reardon were standouts.

The lineups:
Maine Annex (13)
Jordan, le
Carr, rt
Hickson, rt
Whitney, le
Graft, qb
Gelin, rt
Reardon, rt
Brown, re
Roy, c
Leggett, lb
Frost, rb
Kilroy, rb

Score by periods:
Maine 0 0 6 6-12
Bowdoin 0 0 0 0-6

Maine scoring: Touchdown—Leggett 2. Bowdoin scoring: Touchdown—Speirs. Substitutions: backs—Graft, Block, Mason, Sawyer, Legare; center—Duke; guards—Benson, H. Noyes, Webster; tackles—tackle—Part. Barney; ends—Flagg, Kelsey, McLeod, Green. Bowdoin substitutions: ends—Bennett; tackles—Santander, Bailey; guards—Bulger, Lewson; center—Simonton; backs—Small, Toscani, Wright, Bailey, D'Alay, Morrison, Beahm, Emmons.

Refer to: Portsmouth (Boston College), umpire—McCall (Springfield), head linesman—Ochmanaki (Duke), field judge—Kent (Bowdoin), Time—4:12.

Music Tests

[Continued from Page 1]

visualize what heard musically. These tests were devised by Mr. James Aliferis, Assistant Professor of Music at Minneapolis University, and called Achievement Tests in Aural Visual Discrimination.

The first touchdown came on the next to last play of the third period when Dave Burke completed a fourth down pass 15 yards to Paul Zdanowicz in the end zone to climax a 30 yard march set-up by a Williams fumble. On the first play of the final canto, after Quinlan had returned the kick-off to his 5, big John Butler fell on a loose pigskin in the end zone as Dick Whitney's punt attempt backfired. Jim Draper place kicked both extra points. Bowdoin's first of the campaign.

The Big White was kept back on its heels during most of the first half, but the Ephraims lacked scoring punch. The lack of an adequate passer cost the home team heavily for at times they moved at will through the middle of Bowdoin's forward well only to stall at critical spots. Dick Whitney and Hank Collins stood out in the Williams backfield, eating up huge chunks of yardage. Frank Todd and Gene Murphy were the bulwarks of the line. However, triple-threat, Pat Higgins, was sorely missed.

Bowdoin seemed to get better as the Purple Cows tired, and turned on spurts of excellent football in the last half. Bob McAvoy, Ed Gillen, Dave Burke, Rog Williams and Ted Butler were the visitors backfield threats along with Gordon Beem, whose kicking kept the Big White out of trouble. The line play for Bowdoin was spotty, but as proved by their determined goal line stand, was adequate.

Ireland kicked off to open the game and most of the first period was a study in futility, but in the dying minutes Whitney juggled with Gordon Beem, whose kicking kept the Big White out of trouble. The line play for Bowdoin was spotty, but as proved by their determined goal line stand, was adequate.

The Ephmen came right back to the 25 but stalled again. Finally Ted Butler grabbed off a Fuzzak toss and returned to his 49. With only seconds to go Bowdoin took to the air with Gillen throwing. First he tossed to Jack Begley for a first down on the 33. Then Dick Becker just missed a pass thrown deep in the end zone as the half ended.

The Purple came back after intermission like a house afire. Collins took the kick off on his 15 and raced all the way to Bowdoin's 35 before he was knocked out of bounds. Wilson completed a floating aerial to Mahoney on the 18 for a first down only to have Bill Ireland recover a fumble on the next play.

Several plays later Beem punted to Quinlan on the Williams 30, but the ball squirted out of his arms and into those of Rog Williams. Burke tossed one to Becker on the 17 for a first down. Here the drive stalled until fourth down when Burke hit Zdanowicz in the end zone. Draper made it 7-0 when he split the uprights.

[Continued on Page 4]

Outfitters to College Men
If You're An "Oxford" Man

ARROW

Oxford Shirts Are Your Meat

As good as they are Arrow shirts cost you less—than other shirts—not as good—and here's what you get in an Arrow Oxford. Arrow's smooth fitting collar—anchored buttons—they won't pop off—Mitoga cut—they fit but don't bunch. Long wearing oxford that won't shrink—and a choice of white, plain colors and stripes.

$3.75 and $3.95

An Arrow Oxford
"Short" Story

Arrow is the most comfortable short—on the market—and in oxford cloth—it's one of the best wearing and laundering shorts money can buy—"Nuff said".

$1.25

Headquarters for Arrow Shirts - Ties - Underwear - Handkerchiefs

Benoit's

Senter Building

Brunswick

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning ----- Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

The Three Suns
reading down:
Morty Dunn
Artie Dunn
Al Nevins

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

Campus Survey

Topsham Fair Found To Be A "Theme Of Disillusionment"

Lascivious Sal Replaces Aunt Prue To Student Delight

By Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47

According to the sentimental traditionalists, most of whom are out-of-state local colorists who invade a region to exploit it for all they can get from their publishers, the mere mention of the state of Maine is synonymous with philosophical hicks who gather around the cracker barrel of the village store, prop their boots on pot-bellied iron stoves, regard all city slickers with hostility, and occasionally slap their thighs in moments of found enthusiasm, simultaneously yelling, "Wal, I swan," or "Gory Be!"

To this class of spurious writers every graven-faced native of the Pine Tree State finds his occupation in lobstering, in playing Indian guide for urban capitalists who seek the capricious doe and the wily trout, or in producing a bumper crop of Arrostook potatoes and caching the profits in a tin box under the farm floorboards. There are no doctors, lawyers, or bankers. Everyone is an unsophisticated hick.

More in the line of earnest realism, heightened rather than tainted by the intrusion of romanticism, are Bowdoin's own luminaries. Professor Robert P. T. Coffin and Albert T. Gould, who can distinguish between a Casco Bay lobster and one of Cape Cod, Boston Baked beans and those of Maine, a Lubece dialect and a Westbrook Junior accent.

To a certain degree, Maine people are every people, Maine institutions are all institutions, and they are generally pictured by these writers with such humorous insight and skill that it is a pity (always the situation the local colorist must cope with) that those outside the New England periphery cannot catch some note of universality.

Perhaps it is an illusion of the past; certainly it is ignored by the sentimentalists, and to the romantic realists it must be a thorn in their side: Maine fairs are no longer Maine fairs, or, more specifically, the Topsham Fair is no longer a state outfit, made up of native citizens and native products.

The most that can be said for Brunswick's twin city production is that it was a cheap debauchery of Maine traditions and customs, melting what should have been a fair into a blaring carnival. Gone—if there ever were any—were the Aunt Prues at their knick-knack booths, selling quilted puffs and early nineteenth century specimen bottles of Dr. Black's all-purpose medicine, unearthed from picket-fenced backyards and kept as family heirlooms. Sadly missing were the food contests in which blue ribbons with gold seals are awarded to the stout farmers' wives who produce the best "punkin" pies and the tastiest quarts of strawberry jams.

Jack Magee Picks Another Winner

Photo By Adams

Even a close inspection of the Topsham fairgrounds disclosed nothing more steeped in the New England countryside than an inconspicuous little white shack bearing the humble sign, "Ma Mitchell's, Fried Clams, and Boiled Lobsters," the ubiquitous Maine Street "Mike" and his aluminum "hoddog" stand, the wonderful harness races, and an indifferent livestock exhibit.

In place of the mythical fair was a modern Hogarth painting, complete with smells and noises. Even the horse dung on the race track, one student complained, had a slightly foreign pungency, as if "ringers" from out-of-state were brought in to compete with Maine thoroughbreds.

No less than four girly shows, complete with raucous Concy Island barkers with New Jersey accents and scanty star-spangled costumes on bored heavyweights, were set up to lure thrill-seeking spectators inside the small-tops. Groups of Bowdoin students, all wearing button down Oxford shirts, b'ck k't ties and Cambridge grey bannels, stood in self-conscious, aloof knots away from the "peasants." Slowly, surreptitiously, led by their fraternity presidents, they edged their way toward the ticket-taker, laid down their fifty cent pieces, and scurried inside to see the wiggings of Sally, The Continental Reviewers, Miss America, or the Hawaiian Girls.

Cheap jewelry, specially engraved, with the New York Novelty Co. label prominently displayed was available for less than a dollar. Mary Page, the "Girl in the Iron Lung," proclaimed a "Scientific, and Educational Exhibit."

The Topsham Fair, in short, was an anachronism, a gaudy display, and a theme of disillusionment, written by a racey crowd of profiteers who had a facility for taking the dollar away from the bowing Yankee sucker.

Library Defense

[Continued from Page 2]

It is my earnest opinion that the solution to many of these problems lies in the hands of the students themselves. First of all, we should try to consider both sides of the situation before we begin to damn the Library and its staff. At least we could check with the Library to see if the facts in the case are correct, and then, if we still believe that we have a legitimate complaint, go ahead. And secondly, we must play fair with the Library in the manner in which we use its privileges.

In this way, the student body and the Library can work together in harmony and cooperation. The results to be gained from such an ideal situation are inestimable, both to the students themselves and to the Library.

S. C. D. C. Rules

[Continued from Page 2]

ling them till Thanksgiving, while others want them to end with the Bates game. Although there has been an idea submitted which would end the rules after the last Freshman football game, provided the Freshmen are victorious, it is probable that a compromise will be made, and the rules will end with the Maine game on November 8th.

Heintz Cites Book Storage Problem

In Chapel Speech

Edward C. Heintz, Assistant Librarian, in his Chapel address of Thursday, October 16, discussed the serious problem which the enormously rapid output of printed matter presents to college and university libraries of today. According to a survey made by Fremont Rider, Librarian of Wesleyan University, the large university or research library doubles in size, or number of volumes, every sixteen years.

According to Mr. Rider's calculations the outcome of such doubling in size would result in Yale University possessing 200 million volumes one hundred years from now. Such a library would resemble a huge warehouse of books, staffed by an incredibly large number of people, and its card catalog would occupy an area of approximately eight acres. Such a situation does not face Bowdoin since we are not a university, nor do we have a huge research library. The size of Hbbard Hall increases as do all other libraries, but not as rapidly as large libraries.

$16.68 was the total term bill sent to the parents of Bowdoin freshman in 1945.

Polar Bears Defeat Williams Eleven;

Score Twice On Pass and Blocked Punt

[Continued from Page 3]

Two plays later the ball game was on ice, as Butler fell on Whitney's missed punt in pay dirt. Draper again added the point and it was 14-0.

It was not long before the Big White was hammering on the door once more. Gordon Beem intercepted a Fuzak pass and lateraled to Gillen who lugged to the Williams 33. Ed swept end for 12 and then passed to Beem who lateraled to Dobie for another first down on the 15. Gordie Beem carried to the 5 for another first down only to fumble on the next play.

Williams recovered and on third down Dick Whitney broke through a packed Bowdoin secondary and sprinted 78 yards to the Bowdoin 6 where Gillen caught him. The Polar Bears dug in and held, saving enough strength to go after another punt exchange to the Williams 18 from where Draper failed in a field goal attempt just before time ran out.

Williams outgained Bowdoin 185 to 122 on the ground, but it was reversed 81 to 44 through the air, not including interceptions.

The lineups:

Bowdoin (14)
Ireland, lt
Sisson, lt
Sweet, lt
Draper, c
Lowrey, rg
Donoherty, rt
Barlo, qb
Beem, lb
Dobie, rlb
McAvery, fb
Score by periods:
Bowdoin 0 0 7 7-14
Williams 0 0 0 0-0

Bowdoin scoring: touchdowns—Zdanovick, J. Budanovics, J. Butler. Points after touchdown—Draper (place-kick) 2. Bowdoin substitutions: ends, Bagley, Zdanovics; backs, Angus, J. Butler, J. Butler; guards, Fife, Staples, Beardon, March; center, Fletcher; backs, Beckler, T. Butler, Gillen, Pierce, Williams, Toomy, Vaele. Williams substitutions: ends—Cool, Reynolds, D. Belmer; guardfield—tackles—M. Detmer, Billwell; guards—Hewlin, Ratcliffe, Lemch; center—Conway, Roach; backs—Fuzak, Wilson, Conray, Quinlan, Farmer, McDonald, Stowers.

Blanket Tax Fund To Be Announced

"In view of the size of the college this year, I feel sure that the requests received from the various activities can be granted," announced Professor Morgan

B. Cushing, chairman of the Blanket Tax Committee last Thursday October 16.

The committee met last Monday to consider requests and refer them to the faculty to be discussed at its next meeting. The committee's final recommendations cannot be made public until the faculty passes on them.

Wives Association Given First Tea

The first in a series of informal teas for mothers and babies of the Bowdoin Wives Association was given by Mrs. Philip S. Wilder at her home on McKean Street last week.

A representative of the local baby clinic, Miss Mills, gave a short talk, after which the mothers compared babies, formulas, and husbands, and altogether had a good time.

During the afternoon, tea, cider, cookies and fresh diapers were served; but in general the children (age, 6 weeks to 3 years) were very well behaved.

Of the 107 married students at Bowdoin, about 25 have children; but the proportion is rising, and should be above 30% by June. The sad fact remains, however, that Bowdoin fathers are not replacing themselves.

The Bowdoin Wives Association is primarily a social organization, but operates a placement bureau for wives who desire a higher standard of living than possible on $90 a month; it also provides baby sitters. The Association hopes to hold a baby contest soon.

President K. C. M. Sills received the Democratic Party nomination for United States Senator in 1916.

Wanted

To rent; garage near campus.

Paul Moran. 16 Hyde Hall.

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Telephone 224-W

CUMBERLAND

WED.-THURS. Oct. 22-23
"THE OTHER LOVE"

with
Barbara Stanwyck
David Niven
also
News Short Subjects

FRI.-SAT. Oct. 24-25
Red Skelton
in

"MERTON OF THE MOVIES"

also Short Subjects

SUN.-MON.-TUES.-WED.
Oct. 26-27-28-29

Bing Crosby
Barry Fitzgerald
in

"WELCOME STRANGER"

also Short Subjects

THUR.-FRI.-SAT
Oct. 30-31 Nov. 1

Robert Young
Robert Mitchell
in

"CROSSFIRE"

also Short Subjects

MOULTON UNION STORE

MODERN LIBRARY BOOKS

Webster's Collegiate Dictionary
French and German Dictionary

Sweat Shirts $1.95
Sweat Pants $2.59
Gym Sneakers $2.39 - $4.25

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

If You Haven't Read
R. P. T. Coffin's YANKEE COAST
You Have A Treat In Store

This will make a wonderful gift to send home for Christmas. The book has gone into its second printing.

Ask Us For First Edition

Autographed $4.00

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

"I go all out for Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"Excuse it, please—but I'll come flying anytime anybody offers me Dentyne Chewing Gum! That clean-tasting, long-lasting flavor is out of this world, and Dentyne sure helps keep teeth white."

Dentyne Gum—Made Only by Adams

Just A Few of the Famous Brands
Carried
At

THE COLLEGE SHOP

HARMON'S

ARROW Shirts
McCURRACH Ties
HART SCHAFFNER
and MARX Suits
MCGREGOR
Sportswear
BEAU BRUMMELL
Ties

JANTZEN
Ski Sweaters
WESTMINSTER
Hose
CAPE COD
Handwoven Ties
GILBERT Hose
ALLIGATOR
Rainwear
CONGRESS
Sportswear
HICKOCK
Belts and Suspenders

Just a Few Steps
From Campus

Come In You're Welcome

The College Shop

HARMON'S

199 Maine Street

"CHESTERFIELDS ARE NO STRANGERS THEY'RE ALWAYS WELCOME"

Bring along

APPEARING WITH
BARRY FITZGERALD IN PARAMOUNT'S
"WELCOME STRANGER"

ALWAYS BUY

CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The sum-total of smoking pleasure
They Satisfy

Students Assist In Battling Disastrous Forest Fires

Students Who Set Up Fire Control

Photo By Hupper

BOWDOIN FIRE CONTROLMEN, left to right, front row, Alan Slater '49, Arthur D. Betz '50, Donald D. Steele '50, and Edward J. Burke, Jr. '50. Back row, Evans F. Sealard '51 and Kenneth J. Monty '51.

Fraternities And Dorms Establish Fire Control

By Albert B. Patton '50

Organized through the fraternity houses and dormitories with the Bowdoin Fire Control Office in charge, Bowdoin has been patrolling the campus and sending 280 men a day to Hollis Center to fight the forest fire.

Friday, at a meeting of the entire college in Memorial Hall, Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick explained that the fraternity presidents would have direct authority in organizing the various groups needed by the college. Requesting that the students remain on the campus over the weekend, Dean Kendrick asked that each fraternity house post a man to answer the telephone in case men were needed for an emergency.

The Bowdoin Fire Control Office, which was organized by Dean Kendrick and Donovan D. Lancaster, manager of the Moulton Union, has been working both day and night since Tuesday directing the groups of fire fighters and campus patrols. The men running the Fire Control Office are: Edward B. Chamberlain, Head Fire Control Officer, Arthur D. Betz '50, Philip B. Burke '44, Kenneth J. Monty '51, Evans F. Sealard '51, Alan Slater '49, Donald Steele '50, James McKeen and John L. Merrill '45 have been in charge of the Bowdoin College students on the scene.

Buses are being supplied by the Brunswick Transportation Company and are being paid for by the Red Cross. The Red Cross is also supplying police escorts for the buses, food and gloves at Hollis Center, and clothes for refugees and fire fighters. The Salvation Army is also helping.

Enterprising Deke Competes With Many Local Laundries

"Blue Mondays" are a thing of the past if the well-laid plans of Bruce White '50 do not go astray. This enterprising student has received the permission of the Building and Grounds Committee to install Westinghouse washers on the first floor of Hyde, Winthrop and Appleton Halls.

Bruce, whose full name is Bruce Hugh Miller White Jr., conceived the idea of a Laundromat service at Bowdoin in a moment of pique after several unhappy experiences with local laundries.

There are to be three machines at first, one in each dormitory, which will be available for use by undergraduates and faculty members at all times. The washers, which are coin operated, will do ten pounds of washing for only a quarter. White described the operation of these devices as follows:

"You weigh your laundry, put it in the washer, put in a quarter, close the door and come back in half an hour."

At the end of that time, he pointed out, the clothes would have been washed, rinsed and dried to a point where an hour of further drying would complete the job — with no strain or pain.

White, who lives in Topsham, is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is apparently busy with other things besides his new business and the ski team, for when we asked him about some of his other activities he replied airily as he drove off. "Oh lots of things."

At the moment, he cannot continue with his installation plans until several critical parts arrive from the Middle-West. As an additional service he plans to provide soap for the washers, at cost.

To further impress us with the value of his system, he contrasted it with the operation of certain laundries. He spoke vigorously and seemed to draw upon personal experience for examples. But, he emphasized, he was in his own business and that he did not want to antagonize anyone by his friendly competition.

He requested that students try not to jam more than ten pounds into the machines for such practice slows operations and eventually damages the machines. Bruce also mentioned that he has one unit in operation at the Harriet Beecher Stowe House, for public use. He said anyone was welcome to come over and see how the service operates.

White, who lives in Topsham, is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and is apparently busy with other things besides his new business and the ski team, for when we asked him about some of his other activities he replied airily as he drove off. "Oh lots of things."

Local Blazes Keep Fighters Active Throughout Week End

College Volunteers Respond To Fires In Brunswick, Topsham, and Naval Air Station

By William S. Augerson '47

The forest fires which have been plaguing the state have also provided Bowdoin students with an approximation of William James' "moral equivalent of war," complete with colonels, confusion, excitement and "deals".

To some, it was like a bad dream, or as one weary undergraduate was heard to sigh as he slumped over a cup of coffee in the Union, "I never thought I would ever pull guard duty again!"

The nearest fire, over in Topsham, escaped much notice with the greater interest in the fair to the blaze.

The Red Cross jeep, with sandwiches (chopped ham and onions Tuesday), minced ham and relish Wednesday) and coffee was a familiar sight climbing along the rough fire trails made by bulldozers.

The work in the woods provided a chance for the students to work under a variety of interesting Maine characters who acted as foremen in work near their homes. One figure who was virtually everywhere was "Bla ky" the warden, who had been fighting the fire for two weeks, and who was barely able to speak above a whisper, after his long hours of directing operations.

There were changes in campus fashions following the new interest in the rugged sport of fire-fighting. Old battered service clothes, which had been looked upon with disfavor by new civilians, were dragged out of storage and put to use by the amateur foresters. The cold nights in the woods inspired an odd mélange of old field jackets, watch caps, jump boots, dungarees and coveralls.

Tuesday, October 21, a serious fire started near the Brunswick dump and fanned by a high wind, swept past the homes of married students on Jordan Avenue and up to the Bath road, menacing the Bowdoin Pines. Some men on their way to class from the base, saw the fire near the pumping station and turned to help fight the blaze. Students, working side by side with volunteer members of the Brunswick Fire Department rendered valuable aid in saving several houses from the approaching flames.

Classes were cancelled for that afternoon and the college was sent out to fight the fire. Just how or where the fire was to be fought was not made clear but the students swarmed out along the road to do their bit. The absence of equipment and organization made a tragedy of the whole affair.

For every man actually fighting the fire there were about five engaged in spectating and offering disinterested comments. Sam Fleming and Newman Marsh showed considerable initiative by using Sam's jeep to procure hand pumps to keep the flames from jumping the road. Students from the University of Maine turned out to defend their home, some watching the flames from the end of a run and the Williams. It should be noticed that small groups of students, urged on by promises of fabulous pay, had been fighting the fire prior to the weekend of the 19th. As the situation became more serious a gradual change came over the student body. Classes were smaller, some men finding the Dean's promise of cuts to fire-fighters providing a welcome escape from dull lectures in EC 95.

[Continued on Page 3]

Houses Plan Big Doings For Grads After Bates Game

The climax of the Bowdoin football season will be attained this weekend November 1, with the annual Alumni Weekend and the Bates game.

The highlight of the weekend's entertainment will be the Alumni Dance at the Sargent Gymnasium on Saturday evening from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m. Sabby Lewis' Orchestra, of Psi Upsilon fame at the summer house party, will present the music.

Summer students will remember well the successful dance and ensuing jam session which Lewis gave last summer. It is expected and hoped that he will start another similar session during the intermission or after the dance.

Many of the fraternities are giving initiation banquets on Friday evening and there are various cocktail parties, teas, and dances scheduled for Saturday.

The Alpha Delta Phi fraternity will have a tea dance on Saturday from 4:30 to 7:30 and it is rumored that Psi Upsilon hopes to have an evening dance with Gene Krupa.

The Chi Psi's will present their annual tea from 4:00 to 6:00 after the game, and the Delta's will have a dance that same evening.

The Theta Delta Chi will have a cocktail party immediately following the football tussle. The Zetas will also have a cocktail party in the afternoon.

The Kappa Sigma will present a dance featuring Frank Littlefield's Lewistonians, and the Betas will have Bob Warren's band on Saturday evening. The ATO's intend to have a quiet time with a punch bowl and a Vic dance.

The most fascinating prospect of the week-end was revealed by a "usually reliable" source at the Delta Upsilon House: "The forthcoming weekend of the Bates game will see many and various teaming activities at the Delta Upsilon Fraternity House. These will run the usual gamut of minor houseparty activities. The entertainment committee, headed by Henry DeWitt 'Moose' Page has lined up several interesting, attractive, feature attractions. Super on Saturday evening will probably be informal."

Harry Trust '16 Bangor President, To Speak Sunday

President Harry Trust '16 of the Bangor Theological Seminary will be the guest speaker in Sunday Chapel on November 2.

Dr. Trust, a distinguished scholar, educator and theologian, was the first alumnus of the Seminary to later become its president.

Born in Devonshire, England, in 1883, Dr. Trust came to the United States in 1910, and was naturalized in 1916. He first attended the Bangor Theological Seminary, and came to Bowdoin in 1914, graduating in the class of 1916.

Dr. Trust was ordained a minister of the Congregational Church in 1913, and held successive pastorates in Winthrop, Maine, in 1914; Biddeford, Maine, in 1917; Springfield, Ohio, in 1921; and Mansfield, Ohio, in 1926. In 1933 he was appointed President and Fogg Professor of Sacred Rhetoric and Oratory, which position he now holds.

Dr. Trust received the M. A. and D. D. degrees from Bowdoin, the D. D. degree from Boston University, and the Doctor of Letters degree from the University of Maine. He has written many articles for leading publications. He is resident of Bangor, and a leader in community and church affairs. He is the District Governor of Rotary International, a member of the National Council of Boy Scouts, and a member of the Executive Club of Bangor. In 1931 he was the moderator of the Congregational Christian Conference of Ohio, and in 1933 he was chairman of the Ohio Pastors State Convention. At Bowdoin he became a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

He has two sons, Harry Knowlton and Thomas Warren, the first of whom graduated from Bowdoin in 1944.

Dr. Trust To Lead BCA Discussion

Doctor Harry Trust, President of the Bangor Theological Seminary, will lead an informal discussion entitled "One World" in Conference A of the Moulton Union Sunday, November 2, at 6:30 p.m. All students and faculty members are cordially invited.

A Frequent Scene In The Past Week

Photo By Ellsworth

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN crowd the Air Station Bus which has been making many trips to fire-stricken areas in the vicinity.

Moulton Union Undertakes Feeding Of Fire Fighters

Since Monday, October 20, the Moulton Union under the direction of Mr. Donovan D. Lancaster Director of the Dining Service has been serving food to the fire fighters, both students and townspeople.

Bowdoin Sends Delegates To NSA Parley at Holyoke

The presentation by Bowdoin delegates Raymond S. Trough '50, President of the Student Council, Lawrence J. Ward '46, Joseph C. Wheeler '48, members of the Council, of a plan for the enrollment and support of foreign students in American colleges highlighted a student educational conference held at Mt. Holyoke college last weekend.

Ward was elected to an important position, that of Chairman of the Maine colleges of the NSA. His job will be to coordinate and facilitate NSA business with the member colleges.

The conference consisted of representatives of thirty New England colleges. The group formed the Northern New England Region of the National Student Association and adopted a constitution setting forth its aims and organization.

The plan, presented by Ward, follows the present arrangement adopted by some fraternities in Bowdoin last Spring. It states that campus groups such as fraternity houses, eating clubs, etc. would offer to supply the necessary room and board facilities, for foreign students if their respective college or university administrations would waive tuition charges.

If the school accepts this offer, the groups are then to request credentials of eligible students from the Institution of International Education. Preferences as to Country may be indicated. From the credentials the organizations may select the applicants they want and make arrangements.

[Continued on Page 2]

Pepsi-Cola Co. Offers Awards

Twenty-six graduate fellowships, each of which will pay full tuition and $750 a year for three years, are being offered to college seniors this year for the first time by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board.

Seniors who wish to apply for one of these fellowships should write to the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, 539 Emerson Street, Palo Alto, California and the board will remit the necessary application forms. The Board must receive the required information before January 1, 1948.

[Continued on Page 4]

Alumni Meet To Organize Sesquicentennial Fund

At a meeting of outstanding alumni to be held this Friday at the Eastland Hotel in Portland, plans for organizing the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund drive will be discussed in an effort to seek $5,248,750 — half of it in the next two years.

The plan is not to seek all of this amount in the immediate future, however. A "primary" goal of $3,025,000 to meet the College's immediate needs is to be sought in two years; the "secondary" goal of $83,223,750 will be asked for later on, although the Sesquicentennial Fund hopes that the great bulk of the College's needs, if not the entire amount, will be forthcoming by 1952.

The appeal, the headquarters of the Fund in Portland points out, is the first of its kind in more than twenty-five years. It is not a campaign to erase a deficit, but an appeal necessitated by two facts upon which the Sesquicentennial Fund base their claims for alumni contributions.

Bowdoin's faculty salaries "are not in line with the times" and "many of our buildings are not of the most up-to-date design for modern teaching, research, and scholarship."

Endowment for teachers, a [Continued on Page 4]

Urgent Summons Brings Help To Hollis Center

By Samuel T. Gilmore '50

At one-thirty Sunday morning an urgent call came to the Fire Fighters Headquarters in the Moulton Union for Bowdoin students to aid in putting out raging flames which were leveling the wooded area around Hollis and Hollis Center, twenty miles west of Portland.

Sills Announces Cancellation Of Alumni Day Plans

President Kenneth C. M. Sills announced yesterday afternoon that all Alumni Day activities scheduled for this Saturday, November 1, had been cancelled by reason of the current emergency.

Whether or not the game with Bates will be played depends on the weather conditions. If the game is played, alumni and others attending will be urged to arrange for their own meals before reaching Brunswick, as there will be no Alumni Day luncheon.

It is expected by the College that initiations will be held by most of the fraternities on this Friday evening as scheduled.

Observance of the eightieth anniversary of Zeta Psi may be delayed to a later weekend. If the game is not played, Chi Psi Lodge will cancel their afternoon tea.

The fall meeting of the Bowdoin Alumni Council has been postponed to a date to be announced. Alumni are being informed by letter of the cancellation of Alumni Weekend.

"Hay Fever" To Be Masque and Gown Christmas Drama

"Noel Coward's hit comedy, 'Hay Fever' has been chosen as the play for Christmas Houseparty," announced Robert R. Ellis '47, president, at the Annual Smoker of the Masque and Gown last Friday evening October 24, in the Moulton Union Lounge.

Also the tentative schedule for the rest of the 1947-48 season of the Bowdoin dramatic group was disclosed at that time. On February 23 the contest of Bowdoin original one-act plays will be staged. In connection with the one-act, manuscripts to be submitted for consideration must be handed in by Mr. George H. Quinn, faculty director of Bowdoin dramatics, not later than January 12.

On January 19 the judges' choice of the three of four best plays will be announced. The winning scripts will then be put into production by their authors.

A $25.00 first prize and a $15.00 second prize will be the awards to the best productions of the selected one-acts.

Not only because of the relatively small cost of the Coward production this Christmas time, but also because the Masque and Gown wishes to continue its policy of a yearly presentation of a Shakespearean drama, the First Part of "Henry IV" is being considered for Ivy weekend.

The Commencement play in June to be announced later, will be produced in conjunction with the Classical Club. The annual meeting of the Masque and Gown is scheduled for February 23.

Students Form Catholic Society

Catholic students met last week with the Reverend John L. Dougherty S. J., of the St. Charles Church, Brunswick, and formed the "Bowdoin Undergraduate Catholic Club."

David F. Burke '51, Peter A. Angeramo '45, John J. Butler '50 and Joseph E. Bradley '49 were elected to a temporary executive committee. Meetings are to be held every Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in the Moulton Union. All interested Catholic students are invited to attend.

Sixty-five University of Maine Annex students together with seventy-nine Bowdoin men representing every fraternity on campus gathered in front of the Moulton Union to depart in three buses, hired by the Red Cross, for the flaming area.

Awakened by hot black coffee prepared by the Union Staff with fifteen minutes after the emergency, the group left at 2:30 under the leadership of Jake Stanis '48, injured captain of the football team.

After using brooms, shovels, and fire extinguishers all night long in an attempt to keep the fire from creeping into the town, some of the students were relieved by a fresh crew of 144 who left Sunday afternoon with James McKee as their leader.

A week ago Saturday as the White Bear roared its victory call over Williams and while many students were away for a weekend of fun, the words "forest fire" first struck close to home with an alarming meaning. The woods surrounding Topsham and Bowdoin Center were aflame.

Those on campus were quick to respond. Approximately sixty men under the leadership of Donald D. Steele '50 and Arthur D. Betz '50 headed the call.

In Topsham their help contributed toward keeping the fire under some semblance of control, and, as Monday arrived and all members of the college realized the impending danger to the Brunswick locality, these initial sixty were relieved for some well-deserved "sac" time.

Yet this was only the beginning of new conflagrations; for while attention was focused on Topsham, a new fire broke out on the College's very doorstep. The wooded area of the Air Base was smoldering, which across the Bath road, fires, aided by a forty mile wind, had spread from behind Jordan across to several miles out of the town along Route 1.

Commenting on the proximity of the flames around Jordan Acres, the home of many Bowdoin married men, one student stated, "Those fires were only twenty feet from the buildings until the wind changed their direction."

In another report Don Steele estimated that nearly eighty per cent of the students were at the blaze along the Bath road. To another observer the one drawback consisted of the lack of equipment which somewhat neutralized the willingness of the large number of men.

[Continued on Page 4]

It Happens Here

Tomorrow
Chapel, Service in Tribute to the Returning War Dead, Rev. Chauncey W. Goodrich, D. D., Hon. '15.

Friday
Chapel Musical Service, 2:30 p.m. Pickard Field, JV Football vs Maine Maritime Academy.

Saturday
2:30 p.m. Pickard Field, Freshman Football vs Ricker Junior College.

Evening: initiation in the several fraternity houses.

Sunday
ALUMNI DAY
1:30 p.m. Faculty Room. Alumni Council Meeting.

Noon: Sargent Gymnasium. Alumni Day Luncheon.

1:30 p.m. Whittier Field, Football vs Bates.

After the game, tea at the President's house.

Evening: Sargent Gymnasium. Student Council Dance.

Sunday
5:00 p.m. Chapel, Harry Trust, '16, President of Bangor Theological Seminary.

Monday
Chapel, Lewis P. Fickett, Jr., '47 speaks on "The Marshall Plan," under the auspices of the Political Forum.

Cross Country; State Meet at Augusta.

3:30 p.m. Freshman Cross-Country vs Lincoln Academy.

Tuesday
Tryouts for Masque and Gown production, "Hay Fever," in Masque and Gown office in Mem Hall.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Polar Bears Favorable Game Schedule Upset By Developments

By George McClelland '49

The present series of conflagrations that is sweeping the state of Maine with such devastating results swept even the plans of Bowdoin College's football team along in its path and as a result a most favorable series schedule has been upset (no pun intended).

This coming Saturday the Polar Bears, who were planning to open their quest for the state diadem with a comparative breather in a winless Colby eleven, will have to do some quick revamping to get ready for a Bates team that is gunning for their second straight championship. If Adam Walsh can get his squad ready for a team that he has comparatively little scouting data on and rig adequate defenses for the Garnet's powerful attack built around a citizen named Art Blanchard, who can do everything with a pigskin but devour it, he will have accomplished a minor miracle.

Without a doubt the shift in schedule has hurt Bowdoin's series chances. Under the Big White victory formula, Bowdoin should be entering the Bates game with a Colby scalp under the belt. Not only that, but Walsh would be using charts of the Bates-Maine game to plot strategy for the remaining games. While the Polar Bears might well have remained under wraps against the Mules, up in Lewiston both elevens would have shot the works. Everything would have been in Bowdoin's favor, but that's all over now—up in a few thousand whiffs of smoke and stark reality must be faced. The experts are pointing to the Bates-Maine game, now scheduled for November 15th, as the State of Maine 1947 football classic and perhaps they're right but for some reason we don't agree. On paper "the men who claim to know" seem to find ample evidence for this prediction. On the surface both comparative scores and play material point to either one of these two as ultimate state winners. Down here in Brunswick, we don't share these generally accepted beliefs and we have our reasons.

Despite the lack of information on Bates, we believe in Adam Walsh. If it is humanly possible for Bowdoin to defeat Bates come Saturday, Walsh will see that possibility becomes a fact. Bowdoin has had its ups and downs but, when the chips are down the Polar Bears will be in there. Injuries got the Big White off with a limp, but the bulk of the invalids will be ready to go. Overconfidence will be an advantage this week for the Bobcats appear to be looking ahead and might attempt to take Bowdoin in stride. If the visitors take the field with that attitude, they'll leave with a jolt.

So Bowdoin fans get those lungs ready and use them at Whittier Field. Let everyone know that we know that the Barrows Trophy is coming back to Brunswick to stay, and down out those feminine voices from across the field!

No Date Set For Freshman Tilt

The Freshman football game scheduled for last Friday afternoon with Bates Academy was postponed indefinitely due to the fire conditions. The Freshman Cross-Country meet with Bates on Monday was also postponed.

Pool Tournament Gets Underway In Moulton Union

A pool tournament under the direction of the Union Committee has been scheduled to run from Wednesday, October 23, to Thursday, November 13.

All matches must be played in the Moulton Union, and all matches are composed of 100 points of 14-1 pocket billiards, with the exception of the final, which is 200 points.

The winner of each match must report the result of his match on or before the deadline outlined below, doing so by printing his name and the score on the horizontal line following the names of himself and his opponent on the Moulton Union bulletin board.

Until the tournament is completed, the manager of the Union has granted tournament contestants priority in use of pool tables at such times as their matches can be arranged. Cooperation of other players in yielding the tables to contestants will be appreciated by the Union Committee.

Finals will be played at a time to be arranged and announced, in order that all who wish to see it may be present.

Bowdoin Plays Colby After Maine

Tillotson Sets Date For Annual Fraternity Sing

The Annual Interfraternity Singing Competition will be held on January 19, 20, and 21, 1948. Professor Frederick E. T. Tillotson of the Bowdoin Music Department announced this week.

The competition has been moved from its usual December date to January because of "the congestion of activities before Christmas," Professor Tillotson said.

One half of the fraternities will sing on Monday, January 19, 1948, and the other half will perform on Tuesday, January 20. Each night two fraternities will be chosen to participate in the finals, which will be broadcast on January 21, 1948, at 8:15 p.m. The fraternities will sing at 8:15 on the preceding two nights "to avoid late arrivals because of house meetings," declared Professor Tillotson.

Each fraternity sings two songs. One must be a fraternity or college song. The other may represent any choice of the group. Those wanting suggestions for songs should contact Professor Tillotson.

Bowdoin Riders Given Facilities At Riding Club

Arrangements have been made with the Brunswick Riding Club to make their horses and facilities available to Bowdoin students who are interested in riding.

A Bowdoin Riding Club is being formed in order that all who are interested in riding, both experienced and beginner, will have an opportunity to ride and improve their form. This is the first organized attempt since before the war to get Bowdoin students on horseback, and plans are underway for a big season.

Expert instruction will be given to novices by a capable horseman, while more experienced riders will have the opportunity to prepare for competitive riding in horse shows. It is hoped eventually to form a Bowdoin riding team.

Harriers Elect Woods Captain Of 1947 Fall Runners

Joseph W. Woods '47 was elected captain of the 1947 Bowdoin varsity cross-country team at a meeting of the seven squad members last Saturday.

"Joe" has distinguished himself in both athletics and extra-curricular activities here at Bowdoin. He was a member of the 1946 varsity harriers and the leading two-miler on the varsity track team last year.

Recipient last year of the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cup for "that member of the three lower classes whose vision, humanity, and courage most contribute to making Bowdoin a better college," Woods is at present President of the Bowdoin Christian Association. He is also a past president of the White Key, and a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity.

Local Blazes

(Continued From Page 1)
Typical of the students who went to the aid of Richmond is Judd Merrill who turned out for that fire after putting in a day fighting fire at Topham. We have heard one tale that serves to demonstrate the love of Bowdoin men for bridge. It seems that there were four of them assigned to keep the flames away from a certain farm house that cold and unhappy evening.

November 15 Is The Date Set For Postponed Tilt

At a special meeting in Waterville Sunday, the coaches and athletic directors of the four Maine colleges decided to move the opening day series tilt between Bates and Maine in Lewiston and Bowdoin and Colby at Brunswick to November 15th.

Harriers Trail Middlebury In Triangular Meet

The Bowdoin varsity cross-country trailed the Middlebury College harriers, 24 points to 42, while the home team, Bates, finished last with 62 points in a triangular cross-country meet held at Lewiston last Thursday.

Even though Fred Auten finished second, and Captain Joe Woods fourth, the overall balance of the Vermonters proved too much for the Bowdoin runners. Middlebury placed men first, third, fifth, sixth, and ninth. The individual winner was Gustafson of Middlebury who completed the 4.2 mile course in 24:25.2.

Bates' first man did not cross the finish until seventh place, and he was soon followed by McClelland and Bowdoin who ran to a dead heat for tenth place with the sixth Middlebury man. Other places taken by Bowdoin were Jackson, twelfth, Wiley, fourteenth, Lund, fifteenth, and Schrack, seventeenth.

Only eight seconds separated Joe Woods in fourth place from the winner, and the improved performance of the entire team over that at Williams gives added hope for the state championship meet with Maine and Bates to be held at the Augusta Country Club Monday.

The scoring:
Won by Gustafson (M); Auten (BO), second; Gelken (M), third; Woods (BO), fourth; Mason (M), fifth; Cochran (M), sixth; Mahoney (BA), seventh; French (BA), eighth; Drobat (M), ninth; McClelland (BO) and Bates (M), tie for tenth; Jackson (BO), twelfth; Brown (BA), thirteenth; Wiley (BO), fourteenth; Lund (BO), fifteenth; Quigley (BA), sixteenth; Schrack (BO), seventeenth; Howard (BA), eighteenth; Denard (BA), nineteenth; Wilson (BA), twentieth; and Vyras (M), twenty-first. Time: 24:25.2.

Bowdoin Plans Rifle Schedule

The National Rifle Association is now acting on Bowdoin's preferential selections for a winter rifle schedule which will include postal as well as shoulder-to-shoulder meets.

Although the College has acquired the rights to use the outdoor rifle range at the Air Base, only indoor meets will be held this season. Home competition will be conducted in the basement of Adams Hall, according to an announcement by the Director of Athletics, Malcolm E. Morrell.

MIKE'S PLACE
HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

Saturday's Game To Open State Football Contest

By Robert J. Waldron '50

Unless the threat of fire is still with us, The Polar Bear eleven will open the state series with Bates this Saturday afternoon. The Bobcats, although no longer sporting their unbeaten record, will be going all out to continue their string of series victories. They will arrive at Whittier Field with an aggregation boasting many veterans from last season's championship team who still have that winning glint in their eyes.

The Garnet eleven has lost but one game this season, and as upset the hands of a powerful high-scoring Trinity eleven. Among their victims have been Northwestern, Tufts, and Mass. State, the latter two of whom are responsible, for, both Polar Bear losses. However, those who make a practice of comparing scores may find things a bit confusing, for in none of the games was there a difference of more than a single touchdown.

Bates will be loaded for the Big White, however, with Art Blanchard, injured in the North-eastern game, back at his starting post after a good long rest. The remainder of the team will also be in top shape after benefiting from last weekend's lay off due to the fire situation. The Garnet squad, which seems at least as strong as last year, lists eleven lettermen from last year's team and several more men brought up from their regular Junior Varsity squad.

The only positions in which the Bobcats seem at all weakened are those on the left side of the line. The entire left side was lost through graduation. With the exception of Linley Blanchard, who was out due to injuries most of last year, Al Angelosante is back at center, and Don Connors, Bill Perham, and Bill Cunnane form a powerful line. They are backed up by a powerful second string. In the backfield there is the

[Continued on Page 4.]

Goodrich To Lead Memorial Service

The Reverend Chas. W. Goodrich will conduct the War Memorial Service to be held in chapel tomorrow at noon.

Cheerleaders Urge Students To Learn Cheers For Game

In the hope that Bowdoin men will learn the College cheers, the Polar Bear Cheerleaders requested that the following cheers and chants be printed as an easy reference for students and their dates at the football game this Saturday.

Students who do not learn the cheers will not be brought before the student council for subversive influence upon College spirit, but a vigorous yell, a "Hold That Line" and a "We want A Touchdown," psychology tells us, may contribute another tally towards the slaughter of the Bates Bobcats at 1:30 on Whittier Field.

BOWDOIN BEATA
HELLO BATES!!
HELLO BATES!!
BOWDOIN SAYS HELLO!!

OTHER CHANTS
HEY, HEY, TAKE IT AWAY
HEY, HEY, TAKE IT AWAY
(etc.)
YOU GOTTA GO TEAM
YOU GOTTA GO! GO! GO!
YOU GOTTA GO TEAM
YOU GOTTA GO! GO! GO!
(etc.)

BOWDOIN SAYS HELLO
HELLO BATES!!
HELLO BATES!!
BOWDOIN SAYS HELLO!!

BOWDOIN LOCOMOTIVE
B-O-W-D-O-I-N Rah, Rah, Rah,
B-O-W-D-O-I-N Rah, Rah,
B-O-W-D-O-I-N Rah,
BOWDOIN, BOWDOIN,
FIGHT, TEAM, FIGHT!

BOWDOIN CHANT
(left stands) B-O-W-
(right stands) D-O-I-N
(left stands) BOWDOIN
(left stands) BOWDOIN
(all)
FIGHT, TEAM, FIGHT!

BOWDOIN THE SHORT WAY
B-O-W-Rah, Rah, Rah,
D-O-I-N-Rah, Rah, Rah,
BOWDOIN
BOWDOIN
FIGHT, TEAM, FIGHT!

Outfitters to College Men

A BOWDOIN WINTER Isn't Fig Leaf Weather

Ours is a good stock of ---

Sure - Fire

Warm-er-uppers

In our years of keeping store for Bowdoin men—we've yet to see a winter—that didn't have its share of cold weather—and with that in mind, we've got a good stock of warm-jackets or coats—you'll need. Plenty of 'em at the right prices. Here are a few.

MAINE GUIDE "REVERSIBLE"
$20.00
SHEEP LINED JACKET
$25.00
¾ LENGTH SHEEP LINED COAT
$39.50

¾ LENGTH PILE LINED COAT
$39.50
FULL LENGTH PILE LINED COAT
$44.50
PILE LINED WOOL GABARDINE
$79.50

Heavy - All Wool Argyles

All right—go without a hat if you insist—but try going without stockings—So since you're going to wear them—why not the best looking—and warmest you can buy.

British Imports
$3.75

Fine Domestics
$2.00 and $2.50

Benoit's

Sander Building

Brunswick

A RECORD HIT in the making!

... It's Desi Arnaz's—
"I Love to Dance" (RCA Victor)

"From the MGM picture:
"This Time for Keeps"

THIS volatile Cuban's rhythms have been sweeping the country. Everywhere he's played, Desi Arnaz has broken attendance records! And, when Desi lights up a cigarette, it's the brand that's been a national favorite for years and is now making new records of its own! Yes, more men and women are smoking Camel cigarettes than ever before!

Why? The answer is in your "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Thrust).
Try Camels. Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience!"

CAMEL
is the cigarette
for me!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO.
Winston-Salem, N. C.

SCDC Rides Again As Frosh Offenders Pay Penalties

In accordance with the statement issued last week by the S. C. D. C. to the effect that the Freshman Rules were becoming negligent in their adherence to the Freshman Rules and that punishment would be swift and sure to the guilty ones, the S. C. D. C. is now fulfilling their promise.

Last Friday five members of the class of '51 became the first Freshman to receive the little yellow cards inviting them to appear at Room X, Moore Hall. That night, at eight o'clock, the five Freshman sat on the cold floor outside Room X and waited. One by one the offenders were called into the room. All was dark except for a lone chair in a corner with a light focused on it. The Freshman was directed to the chair and the light turned full upon his face.

"You have been accused of failing to comply with all of the Freshman Rules," someone spoke from the dark, "have you anything to say?"

The Freshman had nothing to say. He was told to leave, the punishment was decided, and he was brought back to hear it.

The punishment was the same for all five of the guilty ones. Each was told that by the next morning he was to have a large card with his name printed in three inch letters to hang about his neck, and S. C. D. C. was to be painted in red on their foreheads.

The worst offender was to wear a tail of six beer cans, in addition. The cards and the tail were to be worn at all times and at every chapel they were to greet the student body at the door. The punishment was to be enforced one week.

The Freshman Rules most frequently violated to date seems to be, the lack of a name tag on a Freshman cap, and the failure to say "hello" to all upperclassmen.

"The rules must be obeyed," warns one of the members of the S. C. D. C., "and the Freshman had better put their noses to the grindstone or Baldy will soon be a popular Bowdoin nickname."

Freshman Rules are to terminate at noon, November 8. Until then Freshman are to know and obey the Rules, as ignorance is no excuse.

Result Of Purge

Photo By Hupper
RUDOLPH J. HIKEL '51, a victim of the latest SCDC hunt for freshman offenders.

Bates Game

[Continued from Page 3]
ever present Art Blanchard. His power may well be the decisive influence in the entire state series. Rounding out the Bates backfield are Al Howlett and converted centers Norm Parent and Jesse Castanias. The backfield reserves, headed by Nick Valoris and Red Horn, are nearly as potent as the starters. Considering the team as a whole, it is difficult to find any real changes in efficiency from last year's team. They pack a stronger offensive punch, and their defense is at least as good, despite the loss of two linemen.

However, the Big White will also put a power packed aggregation on the field Saturday. The game may well boil down to a struggle between Blanchard and the single wing and the deception of Adam Walsh's use of the T formation.

Masque And Gown To Hold Tryouts

Tryouts for the Masque and Gown's production of Noel Coward's hit comedy, "Hay Fever," to be presented at Christmas homeparties will be held next Tuesday, November 4, from ten to twelve a.m. and from eight to ten p.m. in the Masque and Gown office in Memorial Hall.

Copies of the play are on open reserve in the library for any student who wishes to read the play. The Masque and Gown is particularly on the look-out for "fresh-material" for this production.

Little Discusses Naval Science At Chapel Ceremony

On Monday, Navy Day, Professor Noel C. Little, a Commander in the United States Naval Reserve, conducted the daily chapel service, and gave a talk entitled, "The Navy Looks to Science."

President Sils introduced the speaker, praising the job done by him while he was in charge of the Navy pre-Radar School conducted at Bowdoin during the war.

Professor Little started by distinguishing between pure and applied science, saying that the former was simply "a playground for professors," while the latter gave the Navy its know-how. He stated that the practical research carried on by the Navy could not be termed pure science, although the Navy had supported about 650 projects of a purely scientific nature, such as their experiments regarding the rarefied air of the superstratosphere. Any knowledge gained by such experimentation, the Navy of course hoped to be able to put to practical use, with some subsequent development.

Professor Little commented on the fact that before the war the admirals of the Navy had made it known that the fifteen million dollars appropriated for their scientific research was much more than necessary, while they are now spending many times that figure for this purpose. This shows the results of the many scientific advancements made in naval warfare during the war.

Forest Fire

[Continued from Page 1]
Fortunately the flames in the surrounding woods of the Air Base were quickly brought under control, and patrols were set up to insure that state.

In order for a more efficient organization to answer new calls, the college set up a group of directors in Conference Room A of the Union. Besides Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick and Mr. Donovan D. Lancaster, director of the Union, Don Steele, Kenneth J. Monty '49, and Mansfield Hunt War Surplus purchaser, aided in keeping a continual crew at the Topham fire.

Because many students felt it expedient to remain at their classes until the actual need for fighting arose, this organization did little in recruiting new men. They did succeed in unifying the efforts of Bowdoin with those of the Maine Annex, Bates, and Brunswick High. "Bowdoin," stated Steele, "should feel a definite pride in coordinating their efforts with these other schools during the disaster."

Working continually during these fires were several women under the direction of Mrs. Philip Wilder. Mrs. Kay Draper, a student wife, Miss Sue Young, Alumni Secretary, and Mrs. Dorothy Levesque, head of the Student Bookstore served as aids to Mrs. Wilder.

Taking food and coffee to those battling the blaze turned out to be a twenty-four hour job with little relief. The fire board received aid not only from these but also from many college employees who utilized Bowdoin equipment in extinguishing the flames.

The Hollis and Hollis Center call interrupted work around those towns, but students contributed considerably toward checking the blazes.

Air Force Officers To Organize Unit

Reserve Officers of the Air Force are invited to attend a meeting, to be held for the organization of the 179th Composite Reserve Squadron, on Thursday, October 30, at 8:00 p.m., in Room 210 of the Post Office Building, 125 Forest Avenue, Portland.

ORIENT Receives All Sorts Of Incidental Information

By Harvey S. Jackson '48

(Jane Black in "The New Hampshire," Durham, N. H.)
Upperclass manhood is divided into three categories. The first is "Prince Charming." The men in this group are the ones I dreamed of all Summer — me and all the other girls in the class of 1951. All of these men have either blond, black, brown, red, or in-between colored hair. They are sometimes good-looking, but certainly not always. They dance reasonably well and have a good line of chatter. They are friendly, not fresh, and have a few manners. We don't see much of this type.

APOLOGY

To you, Dear Readers, we humbly submit this copy for what it may be worth to you as stale news. With furrowed brow and bowed head, due, not to shame, but regret that we were unable to cope with our mahinery as time has done so successfully we as time has done so successfully we as we shall eventually come out on schedule. — "Maroon and Gold", Elton College, N. C. Huh?

Portrait of Bethany Brawn. Gathered under the title of the Varsity "B" Club are the members of the Bethany teams who make up in nerve and courage what they lack in subsidization. — Caption under photograph of Bethany lettermen in "The Bethany Tower".

PRINCE CHARMING AND WORDS OF ONE SYLLABLE DEPARTMENT

Bowdoin Fund

[Continued From Page 1]
classroom building, and a chemistry building, both with equipment, an addition to the library, a hockey rink, and a remodeling of Seales Science building are the immediate needs on the "primary" list.

Some items of the "secondary" goal include a College theatre, an Arctic Museum, additions to the gymnasium, including squash courts, lockers, and space for basketball bleachers, and a general campus improvement and maintenance fund.

Members of the Student Council served on a committee composed of faculty, alumni, and College officials. This committee has been at work for some time determining the needs of the College.

Undergraduates will be given an opportunity to contribute to the Sesquicentennial Fund when the campaign gets under way in spring of 1948.

All activities for the nationwide campaign will be centered in the national headquarters of the Fund at 142 Free Street, Portland.

"A consignment of 'stiffs' arrived at the Medical Building last week and attracted the usual amount of attention on the part of the Freshmen." (ORIENT October 24, 1916)

Kendrick Lauds Students - Town Cooperation

"Developing a more harmonious relationship between students and the town" was the subject of a chapel talk by Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick on Saturday, October 18.

Since the strain always seems to be highest at this time of year between Bowdoin and Brunswick, the Dean urged the students to conduct themselves with the thought of keeping justifiable criticism at a minimum point.

Dean Kendrick expressed his thanks to the large number of students who volunteered their aid last week in combating the Topham forest fire.

The students were also thanked for the donation of six hundred dollars which was raised last spring and was contributed to the recent Community Chest Fund. The Dean pointed out that this was a particularly commendable gesture since the money will be used for projects not directly associated with campus interests.

The fact was emphasized that Brunswick is not only a college town but also an industrial community. While this creates a social relationship that is healthy in many ways, it is liable to introduce complications.

Fellowships

[Continued from Page 1]
The Company will follow the customary pattern in awarding these fellowships basing their choices on grades, character, and financial necessity. There will be no limitation as to which school the selectee may want to attend so long as it is in the United States or Canada. Any field of study may be chosen if it leads to an M.A., Ph.D., M.D., or other professional degree.

"The Freshman is by no means to be pitted for having to wear this cap for while it may not be worn in the best of society, it is a very convenient article of headwear." (ORIENT April 22, 1919)

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

CUMBERLAND

WED. Oct. 29

Bing Crosby
Barry Fitzgerald
in

"WELCOME STRANGER"
also
Short Subjects

THUR.-FRI.-SAT

Oct. 30-31 Nov. 1

Robert Young
Robert Mitchum
in

"CROSSFIRE"
also
Short Subjects

SUN.-MON.-TUES, Nov. 2-3-4

"WILD HARVEST"
with
Alan Ladd
Dorothy Lamour

also
Short Subjects

WED.-THURS. Nov. 5-6

"UNFINISHED DANCE"
with
Margaret O'Brien
Cyd Charisse

also
News

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Telephone 224-W

TOWN TAXI

Dependable Drivers

Town Hall Place
Phone 1000

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT

Near Fire Station

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning ----- Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT

Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It
BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL
COCKTAIL LOUNGE

192 Maine Street Brunswick

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Our good strong fibre
Laundry Cases have arrived.
These are reinforced with metal corners and edges.
$4.00 and no tax
Our Bowdoin Banners are the finest quality that can be made.

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

BOWDOIN MEN! The Outside World Wants To Know What You're Doing!

You can be certain that your parents and friends receive their own personalized copy of each news-packed issue of the BOWDOIN ORIENT by entering a subscription for this purpose. This

Take advantage of the low subscription rate — only $2.00 a year. Copies mailed anywhere in the world.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

To: BOWDOIN ORIENT
Moulton Union
Brunswick, Maine

Enclosed please find $2.00 for a full year's subscription to the BOWDOIN ORIENT.

Please mail to the following address:

Cash _____
Check _____ enclosed

Please Bill _____

"I'M A
CHESTERFIELD FAN
BECAUSE THEY REALLY SATISFY"
Barbara Stanwyck
SEE BARBARA STANWYCK IN
WARNER BROS. PICTURE
"CRY WOLF"

A B C CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The sum-total of smoking pleasure

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

VOL. LXXVII

BRUNSWICK, MAINE, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1947

NO. 13

Foreign Students Air World Opinion

MEMBERS OF THE BOWDOIN-ON-AIR forum are left to right: Robert Y. Lee '49 of Shanghai, Clarence W. Fiedler '49, student announcer, J. Peter Prins '50 of Amsterdam, and Namer A. Jawdat '50 of Baghdad.

Foreign Students Speak At First Radio Broadcast

WGAI is to present the Bowdoin College Radio Club's first program of the 1947-1948 season tomorrow which will feature the personal opinions of foreign students on controversial questions of the day.

Smith Appointed College Forester By College Board

President Kenneth C. M. Sills of Bowdoin College has announced that at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Governing Board held in September Mr. Stanton G. Smith of Brunswick was appointed Acting College Forester. Mr. Smith, who holds the degree of Master of Forestry from Yale University fills the position vacated by the death of the late James W. Sewall of the Class of 1906 of Old Town and held for many years by the late Austin Cary of the Class of 1887.

Mr. Smith served for more than twenty-five years with the U. S. Forest Service having been supervisor of the Grand Canyon National Forest and of the Snoqualmie National Forest in the State of Washington. The work at Bowdoin is largely of an advisory nature but both Mr. Cary and Mr. Sewall gave invaluable assistance to the College, not only in connection with the campus trees but in the preservation of the Bowdoin Pines and in the planting and care of other college lands.

Glee Club Soon To Open Song Season

The Bowdoin College Glee Club will participate in a joint recital with the women singers of the Rossini Club, in Portland, the evening of Thursday, November 6. The Rossini Club was founded in the 19th Century and is the oldest singing club for women in this country.

The program will consist of three parts, first the Glee Club will sing alone, then the members of the Rossini Club will sing and the last few numbers will be sung by the two groups together.

The Glee Club, consisting of many new men, will offer these selections, "Waters Ripple and Flow," "Shenandoah," "Brothers Sing On," "Listen to the Lambs" and a Bowdoin medley.

Governor Hildreth Expresses Thanks

State of Maine
Office of the Governor
Augusta
November 5, 1947

Dr. Kenneth C. M. Sills
President, Bowdoin College
Brunswick, Maine

Dear President Sills:
I am sure you can appreciate that it would be impossible for me to thank all the individuals who have contributed so generously of their time and energies in our recent fire disasters.

I do know, however, of the grand spirit of many some of Bowdoin and of their efforts to help out in our emergency. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to you—one for all—and ask you to be so kind as to convey my sentiment to the members of the student body and faculty.

Sincerely yours,
Horace Hildreth

Dr. Trust Stresses Need For Reliance On Religion

Dr. Harry Trust '16, President of the Bangor Theological Seminary, gave a talk in Sunday Chapel entitled "You and Tomorrow," in which he stressed that the people of today should not be distressed by the changes going on in the world about them, but should rely on religion as a stabilizing force by which to guide their lives.

Dr. Trust pointed out that people tend to forget that the world has been ever changing. Starting with the Roman Empire, which was built with slavery, he traced the changes of the world through the feudal system, the trades system, down to capitalism. He pointed out that the inevitable abuses of capitalism had led to communism, and to the present-day labor problems, two of the most distressing problems of the times. He said that there are today both prophets of hope and prophets of doom, and that people do not know which to believe.

He noted a growing paganism in this country, citing some instances where spiritual force is needed but lacking. It has been said that there were no atheists in the foxholes during the war, but the new-found firmness in religion has been forgotten in most cases by those who had thus acquired it, when there was no longer the urgent need for it. The U. N., such an important and potentially powerful body, did not even bother to begin its meetings with a prayer invoking God's aid in its work. He said that it seems a difficulty for collegians of today to assert and live up to their religious principles, but that this should not be the case at all. Religion is a stabilizing and stimulating force in life, and it is needed for the best life, not for the second best.

Dr. Trust pointed out that so many young Russians have pitched in with such zeal to push forward their "Five Year Plan," regardless of personal gains, striving to forward the progress for

(Continued on Page 3)

Council To Present Constitution To Twelve Fraternities Tonight

Wheeler, Gross, Porteous On Charter Committee

The Independent group on campus will be a representative on the Student Council providing the proposed constitution, approved by the Student Council, is ratified by two-thirds of the fraternities. The constitution, printed in full in this issue of the ORIENT, will be on the agenda of the house meetings tonight for consideration.

The task of drawing up the constitution was given to a committee of three appointed by the President of the Student Council, Raymond S. Trough '50, who served on the committee as an ex officio member. Appointed as Chairman of the committee of the Council was Joseph C. Wheeler '48, the representative from Chi Psi Fraternity. Working with him were Samuel Gross '46 of Alpha Rho Upsilon fraternity and Louis R. Porteous '46, a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Wheeler, who is president of the Political Forum, was the Student Council representative to the National Student Association Constitutional Convention last summer and was one of the Bowdoin delegation to the regional convention of this organization at Mount Holyoke October 25 and 26. He served on the constitution committees at both of these meetings. Porteous was the President of the Student Council during the summer trimester. Trough, news editor on the ORIENT, was also a delegate to the Mount Holyoke convention where he played an active part on the Domestic Commission.

This constitution also provides for membership running for the whole school year with a new Council for the summer trimester. It was felt that if the Council had the same membership through the year there would be more continuity in the various projects undertaken and a better acquaintance with the work to be done.

The Committee, by including in the Preamble the statement of belief that the students "should help the faculty and the administration in their functions by both direct assistance and advice," looks toward a new era in the functioning of the Student Council. It was pointed out that heretofore the chief function of the Council has been to run the social events on campus. Now, with the possibility of Bowdoin's joining the National Student Association, it is probable that the Council will want to be represented on more faculty committees and will want to advise on more administrative decisions.

The members of the Student Council, when they attended their first meeting in October, were greatly surprised to find that there was no known constitution and that the Council had been operating for more than a year without any at all.

Student Council Constitution

Preamble

Believing that the students of Bowdoin College should help the faculty and administration in their functions by both direct assistance and advice, that the students of Bowdoin College should develop and administer their own social activities, and that a student council, representing the student body, can best perform these duties, we hereby establish this constitution for the Student Council of Bowdoin College.

(Continued on Page 4)

McAfee To Lead B.C.A. Discussion On China Problem

Malcolm McAfee, New England Traveling Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will lead a discussion on the topic, "The Sources of Hope for the Chinese Situation," on Thursday at the Delta Upsilon house, at 7:00 p.m., under the auspices of the Bowdoin Christian Association. All students and faculty members are cordially invited.

At a recent business meeting of the B.C.A., committees were appointed and policies were discussed for an eventual coming year. Harold N. Burnham Jr. '48 was appointed chairman of the Discussion Committee, along with Rupert O. Clark '51, and David M. Berwind '50.

William M. Davis was made chairman of the Religious Forum Committee, with Richard A. Leavitt '50, Willard C. Richan '49, and Bernard A. Le Beau '48 as members.

The Rotation Eating Committee now consists of Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47 as chairman, Jordan H. Wine '46, and Charles L. Erickson '48. The committee will look into the possibilities of arranging for the exchange of a certain number of guests at the fraternity houses for dinner each Tuesday night.

The idea, inaugurated last year, although considered by members of the B.C.A. as fundamentally sound, met with considerable difficulty about campus. New methods of approach will be determined by the present committee, in the hope that the plan will succeed this year.

The B.C.A. meeting of November 17 will be held in conjunction with the Christian Association of Westbrook Junior College. A short business meeting will be held that evening in Conference Room B of the Moulton Union, prior to the journey down to Westbrook for the joint meeting at 8:00 p.m.

It was decided to hold future business meetings on the first and third Mondays of each month, and to sponsor discussion groups during the second and fourth weeks.

Council Constitution Framers At Work

COMMITTEE MEMBERS, left to right, Samuel Gross '46, Joseph C. Wheeler '48 and L. Robert Porteous '46. Standing, Raymond S. Trough '50, President of the Student Council.

Political Affairs Discussion Examines Marshall Plan

The Student Committee on Political Affairs began another of its integrated programs this week with chapel talks on the Marshall Plan by Lewis P. Fickett '47, on Monday, and Joseph C. Wheeler '48 on Tuesday.

Fickett considered the background of the plan and Wheeler supplemented this with additional facts and phrases the questions which are arising from these sweeping programs.

Wheeler stressed the importance of the plan by quoting from President Truman's call for a session of Congress. He quoted "A period of crisis is now at hand... the perils of cold and hunger in Europe make this winter a decisive time in history."

Both men gave a comprehensive history of the whole business of U. S. aid to Europe. Fickett sketched the outline of United States foreign policy which he characterized as "nearly two years of vacillation from the semblance of appeasement at one extreme to outright intervention on the other."

Wheeler eliminated several misapprehensions when he made two points, one, the plan is no longer Marshall's, it is now up to Congress to decide what is to be done, and two, there is no "plan" all that we have is a series of requests and estimates which resulted from the economic conferences in Paris.

Fickett traced the course of the council of Foreign Ministers and of the withdrawal of the Soviet Union from the meeting of ministers and the subsequent refusal of all the states in the Russian sphere to participate in the economic discussions which were trying to solve Europe's problems.

The Student Committee on Political Affairs began another of its integrated programs this week with chapel talks on the Marshall Plan by Lewis P. Fickett '47, on Monday, and Joseph C. Wheeler '48 on Tuesday.

(Continued on Page 2)

It Happens Here

Tomorrow

1:30 p.m. — Station WGAI Bowdoin-on-the-Air presents a program featuring interviews with three foreign students.

2:30 p.m. — Pickard Field. J. V. Football vs. Maine Central Institute.

Glee Club sings with the Rossini Club, in Portland.

Friday

Chapel, Musical Service, Professor Root presiding. The Bowdoin Brass Choir will play.

Freshman Football at Hebron.

Saturday

1:30 p.m. — Football at the University of Maine.

Sunday

5:00 p.m. — Chapel, Rev. Joseph O. Purdue of the Winter Street Congregational Church, Bath. The Choir will sing "Cantate Domino" by Hassler.

It Happens Here

Tomorrow

1:30 p.m. — Station WGAI Bowdoin-on-the-Air presents a program featuring interviews with three foreign students.

2:30 p.m. — Pickard Field. J. V. Football vs. Maine Central Institute.

Glee Club sings with the Rossini Club, in Portland.

Friday

Chapel, Musical Service, Professor Root presiding. The Bowdoin Brass Choir will play.

Freshman Football at Hebron.

Saturday

1:30 p.m. — Football at the University of Maine.

Sunday

5:00 p.m. — Chapel, Rev. Joseph O. Purdue of the Winter Street Congregational Church, Bath. The Choir will sing "Cantate Domino" by Hassler.

Alumni To Aid In Sesquicentennial Endowment Fund

Fund Needs 3 Million By '49, More Later For Newer, Better Bowdoin

Seventy-five representative alumni of Bowdoin College from New England and the East met in Portland last Friday at a luncheon at the Eastland Hotel to pledge wholehearted support to the College's Sesquicentennial Fund.

The Fund seeks ultimately to raise a sum of six and a quarter million dollars for endowment of faculty salaries and needed new buildings. The immediate goal is $3,025,000 by 1949, the balance to be sought by 1952, the 150th anniversary of the opening of the College at Brunswick.

Harvey D. Gibson, Bowdoin 1902, and President of The Manufacturers Trust Company of New York City, is Honorary Chairman of the College's drive.

Major General Wallace C. Philo, U.S.A. (Retired), '05, General Chairman, welcomed the alumni, several of whom were flown here by special plane from other cities.

Kenneth C. M. Sills, President of the College, pointed out that "Bowdoin is now the only small college of the liberal arts for men that is New England in its location, in its tradition and in its constituency. We think Bowdoin is a pretty good College, and that its New England background offers much to its students, from whatever part of the country they may come to us."

The President told the alumni that unlike many other institutions, Bowdoin is not seeking funds to erase a deficit. The College, however, is frankly in need of better salaries for its teachers and of more and modern classrooms, science laboratories, athletic and other facilities and buildings.

"Excellent teaching in wooden buildings is far better than wooden teaching in beautiful buildings," said President Sills, "but the workman is worthy not only of his hire but of modern tools with which to work. Bowdoin deserves the support of the public in its effort to do an even better job in its second 150 years."

General Philo announced the "primary" and "later" goals of the Sesquicentennial Fund.

"The primary goal of $3,025,000 is for partial salary endowment, a classroom building, chemistry building, addition to the library, remodeling of the present science building and a much-needed covered hockey rink."

The secondary goal of $3,223,750 provides for the balance of salary endowment and building costs and other needed improvements. These include, according to General Philo, additions to the gymnasium for bleachers, lockers and squash courts, a College theatre, an Arctic Museum and improvements to the campus grounds.

Endowment for maintenance of all new construction is included in the over-all goal.

"Of the total of $6,248,750 needed," the General announced, "2,000,000 is required for salary endowment, $2,483,000 for new buildings, modernizing certain present buildings and new equipment, and $1,763,750 to endow the

(Continued on Page 2)

Polar Bears vs Black Bears Tussle In Orono Saturday

Adam Walsh's battered Polar Bears make the long trek to Orono this weekend still seeking their first series victory and apparently facing a Herculean task in attempting to upset the Maine Bears.

Behind this rugged forward wall are a stream of speedy and agile ball carriers. Allen's T-formation is smoother every time out and Hal Parady is doing a fine job of generating. Steve MacPherson and Charlie Sprout are jale driving fullbacks who have been difficult to stop. The collection of halfbacks is numerous. Perhaps the most dangerous is Hank "Rabbit" Domkowski, but Phil Colombe, Reggie Lord, Charlie Loranger, Art Clark and others can carry the mail with authority. All in all this is an awesome assortment of football talent. Allen has a big squad, a fast one that is experienced and one that so far has escaped the injury jinx.

On the other hand Bowdoin lost its second string quarterback, Ed Gillett, through injury placing the entire burden on Dave Burke. Unless further injuries are detected, Walsh will probably send the same team against Maine that almost downed Bates.

From end to end the line posts will be manned at least two deep by experienced and rugged operatives. Bob Emerson and Alan Wing are the leading wingmen, but Eck Allen has a handful of rangy replacements who know their business. George Marasankis and Norm Benson are back at the tackle posts and little All-American Jack Zollo and Phil Murdoch

Required Freshman Marks Might Improve Fraternity Scholarship

A raising of the level of scholarship in fraternities and a revision of their attitude towards studies is sorely needed. Several chapters on campus have been censured by their national officers for low scholastic averages, and in the past fraternities have been labelled as anti-intellectual.

Freshmen at Bowdoin pledged to fraternities immediately upon their arrival and are then hastened through a month of pledge training and initiated, all before they have had a genuine opportunity to place all the elements of college life in their proper perspective. During this crowded month many neglect their studies and in their crucial first semester adopt an attitude which is harmful to them during the succeeding four years.

Fraternities might well be considered as another form of extracurricular activity. And it is agreed by all that no freshman should burden himself too heavily at first with outside activities.

We therefore propose a system of delayed initiation, with definite scholastic requirements for initiation into fraternities. Freshmen would be pledged as usual, but initiation would be delayed until the beginning of the second semester. At that time grades for the first term would be available, and fraternities would undertake not to initiate any pledge who did not possess marks of at least graduating rank, half C's and half D's. Any man failing to achieve this level would continue as a pledge until such time as he earned satisfactory ranks.

Such a plan would not weaken the strength of the fraternities since men not achieving adequate ranks would be retained as pledges. The delaying of initiation for a semester would also permit the freshmen to study more comprehensively their pre-initiation fraternity material.

And most important, this plan would enable freshmen, unhurried by fraternity pressures, to begin their college studies on a firm basis. The possibility of not being initiated would also act as an incentive to better marks in the first and even later terms.

Such a move should come from the fraternities themselves and not as a college ruling. The fraternities might thus recognize that phase of their ideals in which they now fall far short, and might cooperate with the primary aim of the College — the pursuit of true learning.

R. A. W.

Provinciality Demands Publicity

At Bowdoin, nearly 75% of the students come from the States of Maine and Massachusetts.

Although we pride ourselves as a college of liberal arts, we are not even able to make contacts with men from sections of our own country which have made large contributions to the welfare of the United States and of the world. How can one claim to have a liberal education when he cannot count among his friends men who have first-hand knowledge of the social and political climates of every part of this country?

This provincialism, it appears, is either sanctioned by the College authorities or is dictated by the absence of other than local publicity through the press and through alumni groups. If less than 1% of the student body comes from states west of the Mississippi, it would appear that Bowdoin is unknown in that area. Nine Bowdoin students from five states have their homes in that section. If less than 1% of the student body comes from Eastern states south of Washington, D. C. it would appear that Bowdoin is unknown in that area. Six Bowdoin men are from the South. Slightly more than 2% of the present enrollment is traceable to four of the Great Lakes States.

The College is to be commended in its support of the foreign student program. Ten foreign students added this fall bring the total to fourteen. But when a Westerner or a Southerner is also looked upon as a foreign student, the authorities must take stock of the present admissions and publicity policies.

Once again we express the view that Bowdoin is in serious need of a full-time publicity director whose sole job would be to plant seeds in the barren fields of the West. He would make Bowdoin known outside of New England.

D. J. C.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, November 5, 1947 No. 13

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, Johnson Poor '49
News Editors William S. Augerson '47, Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47, David Crowell '48, Raymond S. Trough '50
Executive Editor Albert B. Patton '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editors Harvey S. Jackson '48, William M. Davis '48, Charles T. Millaway '49, John F. Noxon III '50
Editorial Assistants George E. Berliavsky '48, Paul L. Bishop '49, Edward M. Jackson '48, George Parada '48, Robert G. Gellan '49, John L. Bacon '51, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Edwin R. French '51, Albert F. Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Robert S. Spenser '51, Richard Van Orden '51
Sports Assistants William C. Rogers '48, Fagna H. Simonton, Jr. '50, Laurence M. Edwards '51
Photographers Roger Hopper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Advertising Managers Alfred F. Wauker '47, Edward S. Early '49
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schwach '49, C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis B. Currie '50
Business Assistants Umberto Cantanese '48, Ernest L. Bainton, Jr. '48, Gordon F. Link '50, Aaron W. Ancher '51, John Blatchford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward B. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardo '51, Donald Union '51
Directors Professor Atherton F. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49
News Editor For This Week William S. Augerson '47

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
 Directors ... Professor Atherton F. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49
 News Editor For This Week William S. Augerson '47

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.
 College Publishers Representatives
 480 MADISON AVE. New York, N. Y.
 CIRCULARS • CATALOGS • ADVERTISING • 500 PERCENT

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class mail at Brunswick, Maine, October 10, 1946. Post Office No. 100. Subscriptions: one year $2.00 in advance. Single copies 10¢.

Bowdoin Fire Control

Alumni Pledge Support To College Building Fund

Letter To The Editor. Tradition Unfair To Helpless Goat

All letters must be type-written, double-spaced, under 300 words in length, and signed by the writer. The writer's name will be withheld on request. The ORIENT reserves the right to delete all matter it considers libelous.

To The Editors of the Orient:

There is a well grounded theory that man is in the process of evolving from a stage of low bestiality to a higher being of superior mind and spirit. It is a long, slow struggle. Educators are endeavoring to lead those men who come within their influence toward becoming superior persons, so that the mind and spirit attempt at least to overcome the tendencies toward reverting to the animal.

Have you seen the traditional "Goat Fight"? Here is group action which in a few hours can do more to bring out the qualities of the beast in man than the teachings of the College can counteract in months. If some men are not sufficiently conscious of this conflict to beware of the forces which degrade them, they must be guided, most certainly when the opportunity appears, by those who are aware of it. We ask that they be so guided concerning this traditional obscenity.

The fact that it is lower than inhuman slowly to tear a defenseless animal apart until finally someone finds himself prompted to shoot it out of pity seems too obvious to dwell upon. The fact that just this has happened proves that it is not obvious enough. So, we must plead that the Guilders do something about this, too.

Very truly yours,
 Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. LeBlanc '49

We agree—ED.

Rev. Joseph Purdue To Speak November 9

The Reverend Joseph O. Purdue of the Winter Congregational Church in Bath will be the chapel speaker this Sunday, November 9th.

Although born in England and brought up in Norway Mr. Purdue studied in America graduating from Ohio Northern University and the Boston University School of Theology. Except for war service as chaplain (major) with 131st General Hospital in the European Theater, he has served in Bath since 1933. He has participated several times in the Religious Forums of the BCA.

Even then as Now. A stirring temperance speech was made last Saturday evening, by a local orator, on the mall. Judging from the frequent applause of his hearers his appeals were effective and his logic irresistible.—ORIENT June 13, 1933

Bowdoin Hotel AND Restaurant

115 Maine Street

[Continued From Page 1] maintenance of all new buildings. "It is utterly impossible," General Philo told the group, "for teacher or student to do the best kind of work, for example, in chemistry — a subject in which more has been learned in the past two generations than in all the preceding years of history — in a laboratory that was built in 1894, however adequate it may have been at that time."

"Our task will not be an easy one," the General warned. "The College has not had a campaign for capital funds for more than 25 years, and that means starting practically from our 10-year line. "We are now organizing a Bowdoin team," the campaign chairman continued, "on which every Bowdoin man must play as an active member. If we are to win, no Bowdoin man can watch from the grandstand."

Harvey D. Gibson emphasized that the loyalty of Bowdoin men in giving to the College through the Sesqui-centennial Fund will be the measure of Bowdoin's success in its second century and a half. "I call upon all of you here," Mr. Gibson said, "to give to the utmost — in time and thought and effort, as well as of your substance — that Bowdoin may continue to build on its great traditions of the past in rendering still greater service to the State and the nation."

Clement F. Robinson, '03, president of the College's Board of Overseers, offered a resolution, part of which follows: "Be it RESOLVED that the Bowdoin men assembled in Portland on this thirty-first day of October, 1947, being some 75 in number and representative of many Classes, many walks of life and many places of abode, do hereby:

1. State our utmost confidence in the plans of the College to meet its expressed needs for the future.
2. Pledge ourselves unstintingly to help bring about realization of these needs in every way within our means.
3. Urgently call the attention of our fellow Bowdoin men and of all friends of Bowdoin College, wherever they may be, to the present opportunity and need for providing a better Bowdoin for our sons, and for the sons of others, who may be called upon to lead in the name of freedom."

The resolution was unanimously adopted by rising vote.

At the conclusion of the luncheon meeting, announcement was made of the appointment of two key committee chairmen. Harry L. Palmer, '04, of New York City and Skowhegan, Maine, accepted the chairmanship of the Special Gifts Committee; and Harrison K. McCann, '02, of New York City, accepted appointment as Chairman of the campaign's Publicity Committee.

Good Old Days
 Only two rooms in South Winthrop occupied this year.—ORIENT October 17, 1933

Records - Radios
 Electric Supplies
 —and—
 Service

NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE

212 Maine Street. Phone 1205-W

FOR A QUICK
 BIT ... AND
 A GOOD BITE

SKY-WAY SANDWICH BAR

NAVAL AIR STATION ENTRANCE

Open 5 P.M. Until 1 A.M.

Brunswick, Maine

Father's Day Plans Set For Fifteenth

It was announced Tuesday that Father's Day will definitely be held on the weekend of November 15. There will be a special Father's Day chapel which will be held at 11:10 Saturday morning, and after the Colby game Presidents and Mrs. Sills will hold open house from five o'clock on. There will also be a meeting of the Bowdoin Father's Association Saturday.

Father's Day was originally scheduled for October 25 and was postponed because of the forest fires in the state. Even though the meeting of the Bowdoin Father's Association was cancelled about 27 fathers managed to get to Brunswick.

The special Father's Day Chapel was not held, but the visiting fathers and their sons lunched in the Moulton Union, and that afternoon President and Mrs. Sills held open house for the visitors.

Forest Commissioner Sends Letter To Sills

The following letter is a communication to both Bowdoin and the Brunswick Branch of the University of Maine, from the Forest Commissioner of the State of Maine.

I am taking a brief moment to acknowledge the very great help your students have been in our present fire needs. The way they have been quickly dispatched in organized groups has been of valuable help to our wardens in the field.

I shall appreciate your continuance of this fine cooperation and will contact you immediately when emergency need for your men is over.

Very truly yours,
 (signed)
 Raymond E. Rendall
 Forest Commissioner

Political Forum

[Continued From Page 1]

Wheeler enumerated some of the needs of Europe, and examined our ability to be of assistance. Both men carefully enumerated the results of the real cooperation of the Economic Council work at Paris and stated the chief points of the report, of these economists from the 16 participating nations.

They estimated that Europe would need about 22.4 billion dollars in the next four years if it was to become self supporting. The needs for recovery listed were these:

1. An unparalleled productive effort by all 16 nations.
2. The creation and maintenance of internal financial stability in all of these countries.
3. The development of economic cooperation among the member nations... with a possible European Customs Union as the result.
4. Most important of all, the solution of the export deficit with the American continent.

Wheeler concluded by asking several questions about the possible extension of aid to other regions of the world. He noted the variety of motives which people had for supporting the plan. He ended on this note "In not too many years we will know if we have taken the right course."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

TOWN TAXI

Dependable Drivers

Town Hall Place
 Phone 1000

COLLEGE SPA SPECIAL DINNERS

Thursday to Sunday

GRILLED SIRLOIN STEAK

Cole Slaw, Vegetable, French Fries

95c

SLICED CHICKEN CLUB SANDWICH

Cole Slaw, French Fries

65c

GRILLED BEEF TENDERLOIN STEAK

Cole Slaw, Vegetable, French Fries

$1.00

A Student Speaks . . . Many Advantages Presented To Student Body By N. S. A.

By Lawrence J. Ward '46

What does the NSA have to offer to Bowdoin? This question will ultimately arise when our Student Council Representatives are called upon to ratify the United States National Students Association's Constitution, thus making Bowdoin an integral part of student opinion in America. The conventional answer is that NSA has to offer to Bowdoin Students that which we wish to take from it, and that which we desire to give it.

Bowdoin has contributed much to the formation of this organization. Our delegates have been instrumental in the constitutional committees and setting forth its policies. At the Mount Holyoke conference, our delegation presented our Fraternity-College-Foreign Student Aid plan to the general assembly.

Because this program is functional, many favorable comments ensued. With all of this active participation, the NSA is as much Bowdoin's as it is that of any other school.

On a local level, NSA can help us to have a better, more active, student council. The association will provide us with a means whereby ideas can be exchanged with other governing boards. It will suggest methods in solving campus problems, methods which have proven satisfactory at other colleges. We will have a reliable source of information to which future governing boards will be able to refer. In other words, NSA will induce our Student Council to function as the voice of student opinion, and not merely as a "house party committee" or "free tickets to the flicks" outfit as many consider it to be.

On a national level, NSA will compile student opinion from Bowdoin as well as all the other colleges and universities on such controversial issues as discrimination in American campuses, and the equality of educational opportunities in the South. With these results it is intended to bring pressure to bear on those institutions where such practices are in effect. On the other hand, it will urge the holding of the line of tuition fees of scholarship students, the establishment of student-faculty committees on curricular reform, student evaluation polls on courses and departments, and the instigation of the so-called "great issues" courses. Such opinion and action will be relayed to the regional officers via the Student Council.

Furthermore, NSA will be a valuable source of information on foreign study. The association, in cooperation with other organizations, is arranging for the distribution of material concerning expensive summer study tours. NSA is also closely allied to the Institute of International Education, which is currently working on the problem of less costly transportation to Europe. Such material will soon be available to Bowdoin Students who so desire.

The International aspects of NSA are tremendously important. During the last years, the United States has not been adequately represented at international student meetings. The charge is made, evidently well founded, that this summer at the World Youth Festival, the American delegation "sold the nation down the river." That delegation was not representative of the American Students. The USNSA is and will continue to be representative of the American Students. At time when international under-

[Continued on Page 3]

Nevalainen, Finnish Student Arrives On Bowdoin Campus

Tauno Nevalainen, who is the foreign student sponsored by Chi Psi under the plan initiated by Joseph H. Wheeler '48, arrived from Helsinki, Finland last Friday.

Tauno had just completed four years advanced college work in two years when he was notified of his scholarship to Bowdoin. Because of difficulties in getting a passport and an eight-day strike of the pilots of the American Overseas Airline, it was a month later before he left Helsinki. He arrived in New York City on the 24th of October after a 30-hour flight via Stockholm, Copenhagen, Iceland, and Newfoundland.

New York City was impressive to him its size, its abundance of good food, its elevated trains, and its fifth—all in contrast to Finnish life. Fruits and sugar are especially rare in Finland and the cities, though less mechanized, are cleaner.

Nevalainen, following the pattern of education for college students in Finland, spent three years in elementary school, nine years at the Gymnasium, received his bachelors degree and passed the government test for the University of Helsinki. At the University of Helsinki, he was one of a group of 700 Political Science majors who met twice a month in parliamentary form to hear various speakers including prominent political figures. Tauno was elected Prime Minister and served for the last year as head of eighteen ministers he had selected. There are four political parties in this group, the Conservatives, Liberals, Communists and Socialists. Tauno, elected by the Conservatives and the Liberals, is not a member of either party and commented "I am a diplomat." He was unable to take his Masters exam in Political Science before leaving for this country.

Printing and Binding

Alvin Settle Drug Store

Town Building Phone 89-W

Prescriptions Serviced

Ouellette Motors Inc.

Studebaker Agents

Middle Street

Telephone 7

PIC

Have you seen the new PIC?

You should... it's the best buy in magazines for college men.

Sports... Careers... Apparel... Fiction...

Campus Survey

Delta Upsilon Golden Haired Commandos Get Wasteland, Annihilate Capra Bovidae

By Frederick W. Willey '47

At 1930 on the evening of Wednesday, October 29, a lone patrol of seven junior patriots, of the Delta Upsilon tribe advanced slowly and stealthily toward the Wasteland behind the castle of Delta Kappa Epsilon. Their immediate military objective was the capture and consequent annihilation of Capra Bovidae, a common and innocuous beast indigenous of pastoral lands.

Within the Wasteland, Epsilon-dians had set up strong defenses for the protection of this beast. Precautionary measures had been taken, and the order from the feudal hierarchy to the martial serfs was, "Retain Capra Bovidae at all costs!"

It has not been definitely determined why the beast was of such importance to Epsilon. Spies gaining access to the household have reported that Capra Bovidae is a vital symbolic part of this Spartan community and that, although there were several dissenters, according to a peculiar custom commonly called "tradition," it would have been rank insubordination and heresy to dispense with the annual defense of Capra Bovidae.

It must be stated, however, that Epsilon-dians accorded every comfort and accommodation to the living symbol of their creed. For Capra Bovidae had ample freedom of movement and action, being only tightly chained by his four legs to the girth of two mighty trees. He could wiggle his nose, roll his eyes, and wag his tail, although it was an impossibility for him to bend his neck to crop the grass at his feet.

Approximately forty Epsilon-dians were on hand to meet the first assault of the Upsilon-dians. The unprepared attack of the inital seven upon the outer ring was quickly repulsed due to the numerical superiority. Amid the tumult and noise of battle, Capra Bovidae was heard to emit a lonely Maasaa.

Deke Goat Debate

Photo By Ellsworth

The Upsilon-dians retired and, consulting the heads of many nations, gained allies from the tribes of Zeta Psi, Kappa Sigma, Beta, and Theta Delta. Meanwhile the Epsilon-dians were not idle; for a brawny group of Psi Upsilon-dians, who have been at odds and at peace with the Epsilon-dians for many years, were persuaded to desert their usual habitat of the gridiron to defend a common cause.

Once again the reinforced Upsilon-dians led an assault upon Capra Bovidae and his brother defenders. The battle waged for two hours with many attackers gaining the inner ring of defense, only to be sent hurrying back into the Wasteland. The common method of punishment for those daring gladiators who penetrated within smelling distance of Capra Bovidae was the removal of the loincloth.

At the end of the battle, a tabulation disclosed the stripping of half a hundred loincloths. Indeed, it was not unusual for a single warrior to be deloinclothed three times.

Soon the Epsilon-dians found their defense rings being broken systematically by the offensive side. Even the stellar blocks and tackles of the Psi Upsilon-dians could not repulse the charging fullbacks who were seeking Capra Bovidae. At last the Epsilon-dians, foreseeing imminent defeat, confused, and fatigued, decided upon the destruction of Capra Bovidae, rather than upon his surrender to the opponents.

A noble Epsilon-dian took careful aim with a gun, and standing a full five paces away, with skillful aim discharged four bullets into the hide of Capra Bovidae. Capra Bovidae could not stagger. He could not even stumble, for he was still chained to the girth of two mighty trees. Gradually, he collapsed onto the ground, bleated feebly, and heaved a last sigh before departing to the valhalla of many previous Epsilon martyrs.

Student Council Presents Charter To Fraternities

[Continued from Page 1]

Constitution

Article I. Membership. Section 1. The Student Council shall consist of one representative from each fraternity or alternative group at Bowdoin College.

Section 2. Each member shall be elected at the first regular meeting of the group held in the fall semester.

Section 3. Each member shall serve through the regular school year unless he resigns, graduates, is unable to serve or loses the confidence of his group.

Section 4. Special elections shall be held at the discretion of the represented groups to elect representatives to hold office for any summer semester.

Section 5. Any student at Bowdoin College, a member of a represented group, shall be eligible for election.

Article II. Officers.

Section 1. There shall be a President, Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer elected by the Student Council.

Section 2. These officers shall be elected at the second meeting of the Student Council. The Student Council shall elect a temporary chairman at the first meeting to serve until the election of permanent officers. This chairman shall appoint such temporary officers as he shall deem necessary.

Section 3. All officers shall be elected by a majority vote. If there is not a majority vote on the first ballot another ballot shall be taken. If there is still no majority the man or men receiving the lowest number of votes shall be dropped and another ballot taken and if necessary this same procedure shall be repeated.

Section 4. These officers shall hold their positions through the regular school year or, if elected in the summer, through the summer semester.

Article III. The Student Council shall use Parliamentary procedure as interpreted by Robert's Rules of Order, Revised.

Article IV. This Constitution shall be amended only by a two thirds majority of the represented groups.

Article V. This Constitution shall be adopted when approved by two-thirds of the represented groups.

Quinby Announces Fall Fencing Meeting

Professor G. Hunnewell Quinby announced that there would be a meeting of all men interested in fencing this winter, in Conference Room B of the Union at 5:30, Thursday, November 6. Professor Quinby stated that he would be in charge of these activities.

Bates Downs Bowdoin, 9 - 7; Blanchard Scores For Victors

[Continued from Page 3]

not grab the ball until Cummane was waiting to rock him for a safety. Bates led 2 to 0.

Bowdoin finally made her first gain from scrimmage as the second quarter started and was able to fight on even terms until the half ended. The three penalties for unnecessary roughness levied in this period indicate the tenacious this battle gathered with each succeeding play.

Doble, Beem and McAvoy hit the center of the Bates line for three first downs to start the third period, but the wall finally stiffened and Dave Burke was forced to attempt a thirty-yard pass to Beem in the end zone. It was too long, and Bates gained the offensive again after a punt. They worked the ball to the fifty, where Blanchard reacted back to heave a long pass. It was then that Gordie Beem flirited with fame when he set up Bowdoin's touchdown on his fifty-two yard return of his leaping interception.

It took a driving lunge by Norm Parent, a defensive titan all afternoon, to stop Beem. McAvoy plunged for five, Beem was stopped and McAvoy took the ball on third down. A four-yard plunge scored those lead points for Bowdoin and there was a lull in joy on the Bowdoin side of the field. A punt exchange late in this period gave Bates the ball on her own thirty. Blanchard's gains made a first down and Howlett brought the ball three more yards to the forty-six. Then it was Blanchard's turn. The 186th. Sophomore, greeted by a tremendous hole in the line, waited through and cut off right tackle. Driving and cutting past the whole Bowdoin team, Blanchard finally scored after Gil Doble's desperation lunge on the five fell short. John Thomas converted and the visitors had ended the scoring at 9 to 7.

Bates (9)
Scott, 10
Thomas, 10
Conners, 10
Angelo, 10
Reed, 10
L. Blanchard, 10
Cunneane, 10
O'Brien, 10
Howlett, 10
Parent, 10
Custard, 10
Bates, 10
Bowdoin, 10

Touchdowns: McAvoy, Blanchard. Points after touchdowns: Draper, Thomas (both by placement). Safety: Pierce (kicked by Cummane). Referee—Dowd (BC); Umpire—Barry (Princeton); Head Linesman—O'Brien (Princeton); Field Judge—McNair (BC); Time—4:15.
Bates Substitutions: Porter, Treadwell, Thompson, Valora, Meloy, Leach, DeMarco, Hawkins. Bowdoin substitutions: Gilen, Roder, Butler, Beem, Tommy, Effe, Begley, Piche, Williams, Angeramo, Zdanowicz, Bailey, Marsh, Speira.

Sab Lewis Soothes Saddened Alumni

Sabby Lewis and his orchestra provided a gay study in ebony and hot music as the Gym band for a Bates weekend which featured dances in four fraternity houses.

Dejected as Bowdoin rooters were as they trudged back from the game, they soon cheered up as they entered into activities at the various fraternity houses. As the campus brightened up and parties began, the unpleasantness of the afternoon was easily forgotten.

The Chi Psi Lodge held its annual tea after the game, cocktail parties were held at the Psi U, Zeta, and T. D. houses and the A. D.'s held a tea dance featuring Lloyd Raphael's band.

The large numbers of graduates who were up for the game created a quasi-Alumni Day, but without the usual organized functions. The dance given in the Gymnasium was in honor of the Alumni and was sponsored by the Student Council.

Students and their dates circulated from house to house with the Bowdoin Polar Bears packing the DKE house. Frank Littlefield and his Lewistonians at the Kappa Sigma house and Bob Warren at the Beta house served to keep traffic moving around the campus.

Fire Control Thanks College

Thanks to the entire College for the splendid cooperation it gave during the recent emergency were expressed by Arthur D. Betz on behalf of the Fire Control Council. The Council concluded its duties and was disbanded at midnight last Monday.

Three Men Remain In Pool Tourney

Nineteen contestants have been eliminated in the play so far in the annual White-Key-sponsored pool tournament.

Three players have reached the semi-finals and the fourth contestant will be determined this week. Bill Martin, who conquered Whitcomb and then List, will face Dale Welch for a final berth. The Welch-Moran battle was the high spot of the early competition, when Dale nosed out his opponent 100-97 after being passed eight times during the match.

Sam Polakewich, who took eleven points from one-time world pool champion, Andrew Ponzi in a recent exhibition, eased his way into the semi-final round by defeating Merrill and Miller, and will face the winner of the Bill Campbell-Lee Buker match for a final post.

Richard C. Acker '49 Recovers From Fall

Richard C. Acker '49, was released from the Dudley Coe Infirmary Sunday after his recovery from injuries received fighting the Richmond area fire, at which he was part of a Bowdoin contingent dispatched there October 23rd.

Acker hurt his back in a fall from a truck carrying a makeshift water tank rig over one of the rough back roads of the Goshen Road area. He and several others were riding on the barrel up a steep incline when the water shifted and the barrel tore loose and slid from the truck. Acker, last of those to be thrown and the only man reported injured, was rushed by ambulance to the Gardiner General Hospital after receiving first aid treatment from a local physician, Dr. George I. Gould.

The tank, however, was also a casualty of the upset, and had to undergo treatment for a broken spigot before it could be returned to service. Acker, denied responsibility for the damage done to the tank, in spite of having fallen on it.

Transferred to the Coe Infirmary on October 27th, Acker expected to be released today, but had recovered sufficiently by Sunday to return to active college life. He spoke very highly of the work done by the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, and volunteers from the college in aiding the local fire departments combat the tragic fires. Acker had been out for approximately eighteen hours, enjoying two hours rest in that time, and he reported that his group, working in wet-down clothes, had saved a farm house from the flames in the process of their activities, fighting singly and in groups most of the time.

Trust Chapel

[Continued from Page 1]

the general good. He asked why young Americans have not displayed the same type of zeal in supporting their Christian and democratic creeds. He said that Americans must become more willing to sacrifice personal luxuries for the good of all. The New Deal in the economic life of the country, started a few years ago, has done much for the nation, but Dr. Trust hopes also for a "New Deal" in religion, which would likewise do much good.

Quinby Announces Fall Fencing Meeting

Professor G. Hunnewell Quinby announced that there would be a meeting of all men interested in fencing this winter, in Conference Room B of the Union at 5:30, Thursday, November 6. Professor Quinby stated that he would be in charge of these activities.

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

Bowdoin Christmas Cards Available Now
2 for 15c — 14 for $1.00 — 100 for $6.00

Bowdoin Seal or Fraternity Seal Beer Steins
$1.55 Each

Complete Selection of Modern Library Books
$1.25 - $1.95

Dictionaries - Webster's Collegiate, 5th Edition also

German, French, Russian, and Italian

YOUR DOLLAR BUYS MORE AT THE

MOULTON UNION STORE

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

On November 4th

A New Book by DAVID HECHT

Russian Radicals Look To America,

1825 - 1894

PRICE $4.00

Mr. Hecht will autograph any copies bought at this store.

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT

Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It

BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL COCKTAIL LOUNGE

192 Maine Street

Brunswick

You'll find that our...

"Know How" about Printing

for Bowdoin Men will be helpful when you want

PROGRAMS STATIONERY TICKETS
INVITATIONS MENUS FORMS

Or Other Printing

Bring us your ideas. We'll help you develop them into attractive printing at reasonable prices.

PRINTERS OF THE ORIENT

THE RECORD PRESS

75-77 Maine Street

Phone 1 or 3

"I'll read the last line first—it says Dentyn Chewing Gum."

"My eyesight may be weak, but I can always see Dentyn. It stands right out for flavor. Yes, sir, Dentyn Chewing Gum's in a class by itself for refreshing, long-lasting flavor. And it sure helps keep teeth white, too!"
Dentyn Gum—Made Only by Adams

Again it's ABC

VOTED TOPS! - CHESTERFIELD
THE LARGEST SELLING CIGARETTE
IN AMERICA'S COLLEGES
(BY NATION-WIDE SURVEY)

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The Sum-Total of Smoking Pleasure

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

Donald MacMillan To Present Talk On Arctic Tonight

"North To The Polar Eskimos" Subject Of Noted Arctic Explorer

Donald B. MacMillan '38, famed Arctic explorer and author will give an illustrated lecture entitled "North To The Polar Eskimos," tonight at 8:15 in Memorial Hall.

He will show some of the motion pictures photographed on his latest expedition to the Arctic this summer aboard his yacht, the Bowdoin.

Mr. MacMillan is the most famous for his expedition to the North Pole with Admiral Peary in 1908-09. His many books include "Four Years in the White North," "How Peary Reached the Pole," and several others. However, in spite of his many activities he has always remained in close touch with the college.

All of MacMillan's life has not been spent in exploration. After graduating from Bowdoin, he entered the field of secondary school education and served as principal of Levi High School and later as head of the Classical Department at Swarthmore, Preparatory School.

[Continued on Page 4]

Tillotsons To Give Dual Concert Next Monday Night

Mrs. Frederic E. T. Tillotson will be featured in a two piano group to be presented in a piano recital by Professor Tillotson in Memorial Hall on November 18.

Liszt's two piano arrangement of the Schubert Fantasia, Opus 15, will be featured on the program. This work, also arranged by Liszt for piano solo and full orchestra, will be presented with Mr. Tillotson as soloist at a Portland Symphony Orchestra concert on March 2 and again at next Spring's "Pop" concert.

The program has been divided into representative styles. Three works, written originally for harpsichord, will open the program. Scarlatti's Sonata in D minor and the Cat's Fugue (the subject of which was the composer's cat walking across the piano). In the Baroque style will be Bach's Toccata and Fugue in G minor.

Rococo: Mozart's Sonata in D major; Romantic: Chopin's Mazurka in G minor; Impromptu in E flat major; Nocturne in C sharp minor; Etude in C minor; Valse in G flat major; Two Preludes in E flat major and G minor.

The impressionistic school: Debussy's Gardens in the Rain; Girl with the Flaxen Hair; Reflections in the Water; Mistral: Fireworks.

Mrs. Tillotson will join in the two piano group: Bach's Sheep May Safely Graze and the Schubert-Liszt Fantasia Opus 15.

Mrs. Tillotson has given recitals throughout New England. Mr. Tillotson's last Bowdoin piano recital was in the fall of 1945.

Orient To Give Headline Seminar

Headline writing will be the subject of the second in a series of informal seminars for members of the ORIENT staff which will be held tomorrow evening at seven in newspaper office.

All editorial staff members are urged to attend.

Forum Poll Shows Student Approval Of Marshall Plan

European Reconstruction Seen As First Need; Aid To Russia Rejected By 77.2% Questioned

According to the results of the Political Forum Poll November 6, 1947, the Marshall Plan was favored by 89.6% of the students who filled out a questionnaire.

The results of the other questions were as follows:

1. Would you approve of "stop-gap" aid to Europe before the Marshall Plan (if adopted) could be put into effect? No 20%, Yes 80%.
2. Do you favor the Marshall Plan in principle? Yes 89.6%, No 10.4%.
3. What do you think the purpose of the Plan should be? Check one or more of the following:
 - a. To stop Communism, 19.9%.
 - b. Reconstruction and rehabilitation, 47.8%.
 - c. To maintain American economic well-being by sustaining the American export market, 20.9%.
 - d. Combination of all three, 40.9%.

4. Do you think the Marshall Plan will succeed in this purpose? No 41.2%, Yes 52.7%.
5. Do you believe that the Marshall Plan should be limited to:

- a. a gift, 14.6%.
- b. A loan 42% or a combination of both 46.5%.
8. Would you favor a return of internal domestic controls - rationing, price control, etc. - if necessary to make reconstruction aid possible? No 36.1%, Yes 63.9%.
9. If the Marshall Plan were not approved by Congress, would you support another British Loan? No 47.1%, Yes 51.3%.
10. Would you approve a reconstruction and rehabilitation loan to Russia? No 77.2%, Yes 22.8%.
11. Would you approve reconstruction and rehabilitation aid to any of the following? Finland 70%, Poland 44.7%, Czechoslovakia 37.7%, Hungary 29.1%, Rumania 21.5%, Bulgaria 16.8%, Yugoslavia 20.9% and Albania 28.5%.

This poll was sponsored by the Bowdoin Political Forum in cooperation with the Bowdoin Christian Association and the Bowdoin Orient.

Troubh Announces Plans For Christmas Houseparty

Raymond S. Troubh '50, Alpha Tau Omega, President of the Student Council, has announced that plans are now being formulated for the coming Christmas Houseparties.

A Student Council entertainment committee has been appointed by Troubh to supervise all social activities usually handled by the Council. Vincent C. Langan '50, Theta Delta Chi, has been named chairman of the committee and Lawrence J. Ward '46, Zeta Psi, Fred W. McConkey '47, Sigma Nu, and L. Robert Porteous, Jr. '46, Delta Kappa Epsilon, will assist him.

The committee is at present busily at work contacting nationally known name bands, as the Council is determined to make this Houseparty one that will be remembered as an outstanding Bowdoin social event. In view of the fact that this year has seen the greatest enrollment in Bowdoin's history, a major event of this nature is in the offing, said Troubh.

The Council has tentatively set the dates for the dance as December 18, 19, and 20. The time has only to meet with the specific approval of the administration to be official. The last day of the Houseparty will coincide with the beginning of the extended Christmas vacation and the usual Houseparty rules regarding safety, times of recreation, and classes, will prevail.

Difference In Purpose Seen In Foreign Universities

J. Peter Prins '50

Difference in direct purpose accounts for the chief differences between the American and European systems of education.

In Europe the instruction in the universities has only one aim: the stimulation and development of intellectual interest. The university (separate colleges do not exist) does nothing but collect tuition fees, engage professors, organize lectures, and set the requirements for degrees, in which matter much freedom is left to the individual professor.

The universities assume no responsibility whatsoever for the student, his studies, or his way of life. To put it in as few words as possible: he who pays tuition can take examinations, no matter where and when he gets the knowledge.

The American college caters to a wider public. In addition to the above mentioned group one finds a number of people in college who are there in the pursuit of a label, which is supposed to help their future careers. They are out for a bachelor's degree and only too often carefully measure out their efforts in order not to overshoot this target.

I shall try to present a few observations on the faults of both systems without attempting to discuss the desirability or practicality of change in either, or both.

To make it possible for the second category of college students

Nixon Speaks On Lack Of Spirit At Pre-Game Rally

A small gathering of Bowdoin students, representing the pre-game rally, heard Paul Nixon, former Dean of the College and present Winkley Professor of the Latin language and literature, speak words of disapproval of the lack of student spirit, from the steps of the Walker Art Building last Friday evening.

Led by a six-piece band, the group marched from the AD house around the campus, increasing in numbers as it went, and ending up in front of the Art Building. Many interested Bowdoin men peered from the windows of the various fraternity houses and dormitories as the group passed.

L. Robert Porteous '46 introduced Professor Nixon, who made with a few anecdotes, then proceeded to admonish the lack of student interest. He said that he would rather watch a Bowdoin game, even if lost by 40 points, than see the best Army-Navy game.

Difference In Purpose Seen In Foreign Universities

J. Peter Prins '50

Difference in direct purpose accounts for the chief differences between the American and European systems of education.

In Europe the instruction in the universities has only one aim: the stimulation and development of intellectual interest. The university (separate colleges do not exist) does nothing but collect tuition fees, engage professors, organize lectures, and set the requirements for degrees, in which matter much freedom is left to the individual professor.

The universities assume no responsibility whatsoever for the student, his studies, or his way of life. To put it in as few words as possible: he who pays tuition can take examinations, no matter where and when he gets the knowledge.

The American college caters to a wider public. In addition to the above mentioned group one finds a number of people in college who are there in the pursuit of a label, which is supposed to help their future careers. They are out for a bachelor's degree and only too often carefully measure out their efforts in order not to overshoot this target.

I shall try to present a few observations on the faults of both systems without attempting to discuss the desirability or practicality of change in either, or both.

To make it possible for the second category of college students

Officers Elected For Local Student Federalist Group

Spector, Henry Named Temporary Leaders Of New Organization

Sherman D. Spector '50 and Merton G. Henry '50 were elected temporary co-presidents of the Student Federalists, a new political organization, at its first meeting held last week in the Moulton Union.

Francis R. Currie '50 was elected temporary secretary. There are 15 charter members in the group.

Joseph C. Wheeler '48, president of the Political Forum, became interested in starting such an organization on the Bowdoin campus while attending a Student Federalist convention. The group is under the auspices of the United World Federalists, a political organization basically striving for a Federal World Government.

The Statement of Beliefs of the Student Federalists is as follows: "We believe that peace is not merely the absence of war, but the presence of justice, of law, of order—in short of government and the institutions of government; that world peace can be created and maintained only under world law, universal and strong to prevent armed conflict between nations." The Statement of Purposes is "Therefore, while endorsing the efforts of the United Nations to bring about a world favorable to peace, we will work primarily to strengthen the United Nations into a world government of limited powers adequate to prevent war and having direct jurisdiction over the individual in those matters within its competence."

This organization is not restricted to any one part of the country or to any one type of school. There are councils at such colleges as Harvard, University of Chicago and the University of Minnesota, in addition to high schools.

Daggett Explains Marshall Plan To Political Group

Limitation is the greatest danger to a program of European aid, or, in his own words, "too little and too late," said Ather P. Daggett, Professor of Government, in an address at a Student Committee on Political Affairs meeting held on Tuesday, November 4 in the Moulton Union.

Professor Daggett's speech was a summation of the speeches given by Lewis P. Fickett Jr. '47, and Joseph C. Wheeler '48 in recent daily chapels, on the Marshall Plan. These were the first in a series of speeches on problems of current affairs sponsored by the Committee under its plan of having two student speeches, a summarization by a faculty member, and a subsequent campus poll on each subject.

In his speech Professor Daggett stressed that active public support was needed for the success of the Marshall Plan. He pointed out that recent public opinion polls of the country show that only about 60% of the people know specifically what the Marshall Plan stands for, and said that this was a poor base on which to build popular support of world cooperation.

Two problems exist to be solved by American aid to Europe, he continued. The first was immediate relief of Europe's suffering, and the second its long-term, all-over recovery. He went on to say that America need not fear the Communist menace as long as we could solve our own problems, and help the free nations of Europe to solve theirs.

The meeting was well attended, and the whole program of Marshall Plan discussions was considered successful. It was pointed out that the campus poll would show the students to be in favor of the Marshall Plan.

Independents Meet Tonight In Union

There will be a meeting of all Independents in the Moulton Union Lounge, Wednesday, November 12 at 6:45 p. m. to discuss the possibility of forming a loose organization to provide representation in student activities for non-fraternity students. It is very important that all non-fraternity men attend this meeting.

Masque And Gown Announces Cast For Forthcoming Noel Coward Play

Male Principals For "Hay Fever"

MASQUE AND GOWN MEMBERS who will take the principal male roles in "Hay Fever" are left to right: Peter T. Poor '50, Robert W. Kyle '49, Herbert L. Gould '50, Harold E. Lusher '48.

Gould, Kyle, Lusher, Poor Selected For Male Leads

Johnson Poor '49

Herbert L. Gould '50, Robert W. Kyle '49, Harold E. Lusher '48, and Peter T. Poor '50 have been announced as the male members of the final cast of the Masque and Gown's forthcoming production, "Hay Fever," by Noel Coward.

Early December Set As Date Of First Quill Issue

The editors of the Bowdoin Quill announced today that the first issue of the year will be presented to the student body early in December of this year.

The Quill, long since the literary voice of the college, will continue to accept manuscripts from any of the undergraduates who may wish to submit their work.

Since the Fall edition will not be compiled until November 24, any man now in College is invited to join the ranks of the contributors. All manuscripts are carefully read by the board, and, if rejected, will be returned to their respective authors.

The Quill is the undergraduate magazine of Bowdoin College. It is not a profit making enterprise, and is assembled for the undergraduates and interested Alumni. The Quill must depend on student interest for its advancement and success.

Manuscripts may be submitted to any of the following editors, or mailed to The Quill, Moulton Union: Alexander J. Curtis '49, Zeta Psi House; David W. Boulton '49, Chi Psi Lodge; Boyd Murphy '48, 3 Hyde Hall; and Arnet Taylor '50, Kappa Sigma House.

Bowdoin Fathers To Meet Saturday

The Bowdoin Fathers Association has announced that the program planned for October 25 will be carried out on November 23, the Colby weekend, now that the forest fire emergency has subsided. The festivities will be run exactly as previously planned. Responsible for the success of the organization is Mr. Carlton Young, one of the founders and the present secretary of the Bowdoin Fathers Association.

The purpose of the Association is to enable Bowdoin fathers who are not Bowdoin Alumni to have a means by which they may become more closely acquainted with the College.

At 11:00 a. m. there will be a special chapel service for fathers and sons.

Dinner will be served in the Moulton Union after 12:15 p. m. The football game with Colby will be played on Whittier Field, begins at 1:30.

Social Scientists Meet At Bowdoin

The annual conference of the Maine Society of Social Scientists will be held on the Bowdoin campus Friday and Saturday of this week, announced Ather P. Daggett, '25, Professor of Government, recently. Prof. Daggett is President of the association.

Two meetings will comprise the schedule of the conference, which brings together members of the History, Economics, Government, and Sociology departments of the four Maine colleges. The first, a banquet to be held in Moulton Union at seven o'clock Friday evening, will be key-noted with a speech by the Hon. Edward C. Moran, '17, of Rockland. Mr. Moran is a former member of the U. S. House of Representatives and has served as Assistant Secretary of Labor, as well as a member of the U. S. Maritime Commission. He will speak of his experiences during his many years as a public servant and government official. At the banquet President Sills will extend the college's greetings to the conferees.

Saturday morning Dr. Flechtheim, of the History department at Colby College, will address the group. Dr. Flechtheim has just returned from Germany where he was a member of the Prosecution staff at the Nuerberg trials. His talk will cover those trials and be followed by discussion.

Others in the cast include Mrs. Ather P. Daggett, Mrs. James B. Draper, Jr., Mrs. Dwight W. Pierce, Jr., Mrs. Fagan H. Simonson, Jr., and Miss Drusilla Congdon.

Understudying the leading male roles are Sherman B. Carpenter '49, Hayden B. Goldberg '49, Robert Stetson '49, and Robert P. Tavaloff '46. These men were chosen from more than 20 students who originally tried-out for the parts.

Working on the production end of the play will be: Johnson Poor '49, stage manager; Robert C. Alexander '49, assistant stage manager; Joshua W. Curtis Jr. '50, properties; William G. Wadman '49, costumes; Richard J. M. Williams '46, production manager; Robert F. Fargo '49, business manager; and Edward L. Kalloun '48, publicity manager. George H. Quinby, Director of Dramatics, will be the director.

Gould, playing the part of David, the father of the unusual Bliss family, ran his own stock company last summer near Boston. Portraying the part of Simon, the son, Kyle until recently, has been attending the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

Lusher who has appeared in a number of Masque and Gown shows, the most recent of which was "The Private Secretary," will play the role of Richard, a visiting diplomat. In the part of Sandy, the boxer, Poor will bring to the stage experience gathered in leading roles in the "Cyclops" and "As You Like It" as well as work done in summer stock at Nantucket.

Heading the cast of women is Mrs. Daggett who will be remembered for performances in many Masque and Gown productions, last appearing in "How He Lied To Her Husband" the faculty one act play last year.

Mrs. Draper who plays the part of Myra, the vamp, has done dramatic work both in Oberlin College and the Northwestern School of Speech. After graduating from the latter institution she did drama shows on the radio and during the war directed and took the leading role in a special service production of "The Man Who Came To Dinner" which toured Europe.

[Continued on Page 4]

It Happens Here

Friday
7:00 p. m. — Annual dinner of the Maine Conference of Social Scientists at the Moulton Union. The speaker will be the Hon. Edward Carl Moran of the class of 1917.

Saturday - Fathers Day
10:00 a. m. — Alumni Council Meeting in Massachusetts Hall.
11:10 a. m. — Special Chapel Service for Bowdoin Fathers and Sons, the President presiding. The choir will sing "Fathers and Sons" by Saint-Saens.
12:15 p. m. — Bowdoin Fathers Luncheon at Moulton Union.
1:30 p. m. — Football vs. Colby at Whittier Field. President and Mrs. Sills will be at home after the game, to Bowdoin Fathers and Sons and the "Freshman Faculty". The Walker Art Building will be open from ten to one and for one hour immediately after the game.

Sunday
11:00 a. m. — First Parish Church. Service conducted by members of the B.C.A., followed by refreshments in the Parish House. All members of the College are invited to attend.
5:00 p. m. — Chapel. Rev. Frederick M. Meek, D. D. Hon. '39 of the Old South Church of Boston. The choir will sing "Hark, the Vesper Hymn is Stealing", a Russian air.

Monday
7:00 p. m. — Moulton Union. Brief B.C.A. business meeting, followed by a joint meeting with Westbrook Junior College Christian Association to discuss mutual problems.
8:00 p. m. — Bradbury Prize debate trials in 101 Memorial Hall.

Glee Club Concert At Portland Rossini Club

The Bowdoin College Glee Club presented its first program of the 1947-1948 Series for the Rossini Club at Frye Hall in Portland on November 6.

Thayer Announces November 17 Date Of Bradbury Trials

Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, has announced that on Monday evening, November 17, at 8 o'clock, trials will be held in 101 Memorial Hall for selecting finalists in the Bradbury Prize Debate and men to be placed on the varsity debate squad.

All members of the upper three classes, including Achorn debaters, are eligible for the Bradbury contest. Although the final contest will not be held until around the middle of December, trials are scheduled at this early date as a means of selecting men to participate in a December tournament at the University of Vermont and in a dual debate with the University of Maine. The subject for the Bradbury is the same as that to be used in the Vermont and Maine contests, said Professor Thayer.

The question is: Resolved, that a Federal World Government should be established.

[Continued on Page 2]

Exchange Papers Made Available

Newspapers of other colleges with which the ORIENT maintains exchange relations are now available for student use in the north end of the periodical room in the library.

These newspapers will be changed each week and include those from Worcester Polytechnic, Vassar, Colby, Tufts, New Hampshire, U. of Massachusetts, Bates, Williams, Wheaton, Springfield, B. C., Rhode Island, B. U., M. I. T., Clark, Mt. Holyoke, Wesleyan, Amherst, and Brown.

Freshmen Relax With Ending Of Disciplinary Committee

At twelve o'clock noon on Saturday, November 8, open season on freshmen came to an end and the Student Council Disciplinary Committee became a memory for the class of '51. For the remainder of the year, upperclassmen will have to furnish their own matches and perhaps even be the first to speak when encountering the frosh.

James T. Burgess '48 of the S.C.D.C. announced that the Committee held its final meeting of the year on Monday. During the freshman rule period, nine freshmen had been summoned by means of invitations appropriately edged in black. When asked about the small number of punishments invoked, Burgess stated that there had been a lack of cooperation from the upper classes.

"To tell the truth," said Burgess, "we didn't expect too much help from the older veterans, who are concentrating on making up for lost time; but with the swing back to normalcy in age groups, the student interest in the work of the Committee should increase in the years to come."

Another member of the Committee, John Sabatanski, '50, who was found tearing up New York City directories, made a lengthy statement on the subject. Said he, "They were lucky."

As for the nine unfortunate, they were busy scrubbing the red "S.C.D.C." from their foreheads, ridding themselves of tin cans, and storing the placards, which they were required to wear, among their souvenirs.

NSA Presents Many Advantages; Bowdoin Might Profit By Joining

The student body of Bowdoin will shortly be called upon to decide whether or not it wishes to join the National Student Association. It is of the utmost importance that this decision be made by the students only after the fullest possible understanding of the organization, methods, and aims of the NSA.

We firmly believe that this organization of undergraduates on a national scale would enable Bowdoin students to take a very real part in the bettering of their own college and in contributing to the welfare of other colleges and to international good will and understanding.

Bowdoin has already played a very important part in the establishment and early conduct of the NSA. Delegates were in attendance at the initial Chicago conference and at the national constitutional conference at Madison this past summer. The Bowdoin delegates to the regional conference held recently at Mt. Holyoke played a leading part in the organization of the Northern New England Region which comprises Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. Our foreign student plan received much praise. One of the Student Council members is now Vice-Chairman of the State of Maine Area for this region and is responsible for the affiliation of colleges in this state with the NSA.

The question at once arises as to what the NSA has to offer to the Bowdoin student body. The organization intends to work on a regional level through the individual student councils. Requests will be made for orientation courses for freshmen, improvement of student unions, and the better organization of social life on the campus. Part-time employment and placement services, problems of housing, and the improvement of student newspapers will also come under consideration.

The NSA will also emphasize scholarships for the needy, and holding the line on tuition fees if possible. The problem of discrimination in colleges will also receive attention. NSA will press for the establishment of student-faculty committees on curricular reform. Especially it hopes to press for the study and eventual initiation of courses in the so-called "great issues".

On the national level the aims of the NSA are even more ambitious. It intends to strengthen the activities of student councils and looks forward to cultural exchange between colleges here and universities abroad as well as among the colleges of this country. Festivals will be held, and student opinions and ideas will be exchanged.

Internationally the NSA plans to cooperate with the World Student Service Fund and the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. Plans are already underway to facilitate study abroad by securing more scholarships and easier transportation. NSA also intends to organize economical travel tours in other nations for Americans and in this country for foreign students.

A number of questions might well be asked about the NSA. One of these is the financial obligation which Bowdoin would be called upon to meet as a member. The funds for the organization will be obtained through a system of dues levied in proportion to the number in the student body. For us the annual dues would be seventy-nine dollars since we fall into the category of 1001-2000 students.

The affiliation of NSA with the International Union of Students has met with some criticism. It is recognized by many that this Union is oriented far to the left of the American students. But Americans cannot shirk the responsibility of presenting their viewpoints to and attempting to cooperate in every way with students of other nations, especially students in the Soviet sphere of influence. But we are going into this international organization as a minority group and can disaffiliate by means of only a majority vote of the NSA national congress.

Bowdoin has three sound reasons for joining this organization. First, it can help us have a better, more effective student council, and in turn a better college. Second, we will be able to help to raise the educational standards and opportunities in the nation as a whole. Third, we will be able to contribute to international understanding.

We cannot recommend too highly that Bowdoin students join this truly progressive organization.

R. A. W.

Faculty Approves Blanket Tax Grants; Dramatics Head Non-Athletic List

BLANKET TAX COMMITTEE
Summary 1946-1947		For Year 1947-1948
Balance Forward	$ 1230.94		$ 2394.93*
Taxes, Summer '46	3232.50		3469.50
Taxes, Fall '46	9523.12		10500.00 (Est'd)
Taxes, Spring '47	9567.00		10000.00 (Est'd)
Total Receipts	28553.56		26364.48 (Est'd)
Apprs. For Year 1946-47
Blanket Tax Printing	19.18	19.18	30.00
Christian Ass'n.	825.00	824.37	900.00
Band	418.78	355.59	1375.00
Band Uniforms	500.00	0.	0.
Bowdoin-On-Air	415.00	164.26	500.00
Bowdoin Pub. Co.	750.00	750.00	1000.00
Debate Council	550.00	477.80	550.00
Glee Club	115.00	109.52	118.00
Manque and Gown	975.00	916.52	1250.00
Quilt	875.00	868.90	975.00
White Key	200.00	193.70	250.00
Rifle Club	150.00	7.01	200.00
Music Records	100.00	100.00	75.00
Political Forum	175.00	125.95	225.00
Cheer Leaders	0.	0.	100.00
Student Council	60.00	60.00	300.00
Total Non-Athletics	7127.94	5958.63	8910.00
Athletics	15200.00	15200.00	14900.00
Totals	22327.94	21158.63	23810.00
Receipts Not App'd.	1225.62		2554.43 (Est'd)
Balance Forward*		2394.23*
Totals to Balance	23553.56	23553.56	26364.43

*The Balance Forward includes the Receipts Not Appropriated, $1225.62, plus the Unexpended Appropriations for 1946-47, to the amount of $1169.31, — totaling $2394.93. The Committee's recommended appropriations for the year 1947-48 are listed in the third column of figures, which include allocations made last summer. If these recommendations are approved by the faculty, each activity will have available for the Fall and Spring semesters the amount of the difference between the total appropriation for the year and the sum already expended during the summer.

THE BLANKET TAX COMMITTEE

Yearly Service Marks Ceremonies On Armistice Day

The traditional Armistice Day Service which has been the same since 1919, was given in the Bowdoin College Chapel with President Kenneth C. M. Sills as speaker on Tuesday, November 11.

The organ prelude was the "Grave and Adagio" from Mendelssohn's second Organ Sonata. The service was opened by the singing of "America". After the responsive reading and Gloria Patri, the congregation observed the traditional two minutes silence at 11:00.

The hymn "The Son of God Goes Forth to War" was followed by the reading of the names on the Honor Roll of both the First and Second World Wars. After the prayer and benediction, the service was terminated with the first verse of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The organ postlude was the "March Solenne".

Humanist Group Opens Essay Contest

An essay contest for college students is being held by the American Humanist Association, publishers of "The Humanist," a quarterly magazine.

For an essay of 1000-1400 words on the subject "Building a Positive Way of Life in accordance with the Scientific Method and the Highest Aspirations of Mankind," the first is $25.00, second prize $10.00.

Essays may be given shorter titles, if desired, and essays written by groups will also be accepted. The first prize for group essays, which should result from group discussions, will be $25.00 and the second prize will be $10. Manuscripts should be sent to the American Humanist Association, 569 South 13th East, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Debating Trials

[Continued from Page 1] At the trials each contestant will prepare a five minute constructive argument on that side of the proposition below, which he favors. He will also be paired with an opponent for a three minute rebuttal. Handbooks, which are on the debaters' reserve shelf should not be removed from the Library, said Professor Thayer.

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Telephone 224-W

MIKE'S PLACE

NOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick

At a Faculty Meeting held at four o'clock Monday afternoon, 10 November 1947, Professor Morgan B. Cushing, chairman of the Blanket Tax Committee presented recommended appropriations to the faculty. All recommendations for the fiscal year 1947-48 were accepted at this meeting.

During the fiscal year 1946-47, the Blanket Tax Committee met all requests for appropriations to support non-athletic and athletic activities. Because of excess tax collections and the failure of some non-athletic activities to spend the funds appropriated to them, the carry-over to the current fiscal year was nearly $2400, of which $500 was earmarked for band uniforms.

Total appropriations for the year 1947-48 meet the aggregate request of all non-athletic and athletic activities, and still leave the committee with a surplus in hand to take care of subsequent applications which any activity may reasonably request.

Philoon, Munn Report To Faculty

Major General Wallace C. Philoon, U. S. A. (Retired) '05, General Chairman of the Sequen-tennial Endowment Fund; Professor Norman L. Munn of the Psychology department; and Professor Edward S. Hammond, Director of Admissions, were speakers at the faculty meeting held Wednesday, November 5.

General Philoon spoke of plans for raising the fund and of its organization. Mr. Munn reported on the meeting of the Association of Colleges in New England held recently at Boston University. Mr. Hammond reported on the last meeting of the College Entrance Examination Board. He also spoke of a recent meeting of the 12 colleges which take part in the M. I. T. joint degree plan. He will speak on this topic in Chapel Wednesday, November 12.

Brass Choir Presents Tower Concert Series

The brief concert given from the tower of Hubbard Hall on the day of the Bates game was the first in a series of new type concerts being instituted by Professor Frederic E. T. Tilletson head of the Bowdoin Music Department.

The concert was given by the Bowdoin Brass Choir. Members are Emil G. Hahnel '49 and Robert S. Currier '50, trumpets; Philip F. Danforth Jr. '50 and William J. Kirwin Jr. '50, trombones; Charles Lermond '50, baritone and John E. Duifer III '50, tuba. Tower concerts date from the seventeenth century when reigning princes and churches presented from towers concerts of specially composed band music. Next Spring, on special days and occasionally on warm evenings, the Brass Choir will present selections of Tower Music, of which the Music Department is making a collection.

Students will now be able to take hour exams in the basement of Hyde Hall, which has been equipped for that purpose.

A date has not yet been set for the transfer of offices to Rhodes.

TOWN TAXI

Dependable Drivers
Town Hall Place
Phone 1000

FOR A QUICK BIT... AND A GOOD BITE SKY-WAY SANDWICH BAR

Open 5 P.M. Until 1 A.M. Brunswick, Maine

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH
NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE
ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP
NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE

Prescriptions Filled
Specialty of the Week:
Heine's Tobacco in Half-Pounds

Hecht Publishes Documented Study

David I. K. Hecht, Instructor in Russian History, joined the ranks of Bowdoin authors this week with the publication of his book, "Russian Radicals Look To America, 1825 - 1874" by the Harvard University Press.

Mr. Hecht describes his book as a documented study of the Russian revolutionary intelligentsia in the nineteenth century, and how they were influenced by American ideas and institutions.

This book, which was three and a half years in preparation, is concerned mainly with the predecessors of the Bolsheviks.

It explains how the early Russian radicals admired American democracy because of its universal suffrage, wide-spread character, and free position of women. Between the Civil War and 1900, however, their admiration diminished as trusts and monopolies increased.

Separate chapters are devoted to such famous early Russian radicals as Michael Bakunin, Marx's great opponent in the First International and guest of Longfellow in Cambridge; Alexander Herzen, the first Russian Socialist; Nicholas Chernyshevski, Lenin's favorite nineteenth century radical; and others whose names are Russian bywords.

Several Offices To Move In Rhodes

Increased enrollment in the college and a correspondingly larger amount of administrative work have necessitated the transfer of certain offices of the school from Massachusetts Hall to Rhodes Hall. Philip S. Wilder, Assistant to the President, announced early this week.

The Alumni office and the office of the Superintendent of Buildings will move into Rhodes, while their former quarters will be taken over by Director of Admissions Edward S. Hammond and the payroll department, respectively. Mr. Wilder will then move into Dr. Hammond's present office.

With the new offices occupying the first floor of Rhodes, the second floor, formerly used for hour examinations, has been partitioned into several conference rooms, which are already in use.

Students will now be able to take hour exams in the basement of Hyde Hall, which has been equipped for that purpose.

A date has not yet been set for the transfer of offices to Rhodes.

Mustard And Cress Hardships Of Air Base Life Noted By Bitter Inhabitants

Biggar '49 and Adams '49

(This article is the first in a series on Air Base life. It deals with Transportation.)

Had that towering cloud of yellowish smoke mushroomed like Bikini, the portentous fear which seized Bowdoin students could not have been greater. All eyes were riveted on the sky toward the East road that windy Tuesday morning and the air was electric with the thought that it was possible for the fire to spread to the pines and eventually to destroy the college. Forgotten now were the rustic dramatics and confused maneuverings of the Topham Fire Department as the students, lured by excited cuts and vague promises of fabulous remuneration, set out to contend with The Blaze.

The contingency was received with mingled feelings of apprehension and glee when it was realized that a way of life was thus imperiled. Obviously, it is culture, Air Base style which we shall examine, expose, but not condone in the ensuing bagatelle. Future historians may lack a description of this nomadic system, and it is for them that we make an indelible record here, safe from the ravages of any conflagration or natural registration.

Unfortunately, our nearness to this contemporary social phenomenon provides an outlet for powerful emotional disturbances which blur and even forbid a cold scientific analysis. Therefore, we must revert to the flood of half-remembered sensations which sensitive introverts shared during their year's sentence at the Base. The first, as well as the most painful, whirlpool in this adventure in stream of consciousness spirals eerily about the buses which shuttle between Base and Town. We merely cite the necessity of collecting each morning a complete library and wardrobe for the journey to the campus. Many lessons on the indispensability of the gadgets of our materialistic economy were impressed upon our minds during the countless times we sacrificed an hour from our overburdened schedule to fetch a forgotten notebook, shoe, or bottle. Overshadowing these time-consuming pilgrimages is the still horrible recollection of just-missed buses. The tragicomic developed in the following manner:

At night, the serenity of the campus was shattered by the clash of gears as the bus lurched from its main stop in front of the Union. The dorm grinds would then block their ears to escape the desperate, heart-rendering cries of "Hold it!" and "Wait a damn minute!", which inevitably arose from the small knot of unfortunate who surged from all directions, just in time to choke on the blue haze of the exhaust.

Purdue Presents Contrasts In Life

The antithesis between the outer appearances of wealth, health, happiness and success, and their respective opposites, poverty, affliction, misery and failure formed the subject for last Sunday's chapel talk by Reverend Joseph O. Purdue, of the Winter Street Congregational Church, Bath.

Rev. Mr. Purdue criticized the pursuit of happiness as an ideal, saying that an individual's contribution to the world should be based on the future regardless of the consequences it might involve at present. "Out of the darkness shall you see the greatest light," continued the speaker, citing many examples of the greatest fruits for society being derived from the acutest suffering on the part of great men such as Lincoln, Tolstoy, Dostoyevski, George Fox, Nehru and others.

He was granted an honorary degree as Doctor of Divinity by Bowdoin in 1939 for his scholarly and literary sermons, Christian service, and wide sympathies.

William Lyon Phelps was the Annie Talbot Cole lecturer in 1916.

ON THE TELEPHONE, TOO!

This is broadcasting as you see it.

What you do not see are the thousands of miles of telephone wire and cable that link broadcasting stations from coast to coast... that make national networks possible.

The administration of these vast broadcasting links requires the varied skills of college-trained men.

And this is but one of the many interesting phases of the telephone business. There's opportunity and adventure in telephony.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, November 12, 1947 No. 14

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, Raymond S. Trough '48
Charles T. Dillaway '46, Harvey S. Jackson '46

Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49

Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50

Assistant Editors John F. Noxon III '50, George E. Berilawsky '48

Reporters: Paul L. Bishop '49, George Parada '49, John L. Bacon '51,
Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51,
Albert P. Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Garrett J. Sheehan '51,
Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard C. Van Ouden '51, George M. Fox '51,
Gerald C. Sheehan '51.

Sports Assistants: William C. Rogers '48, Fagan M. Stenstrom, Jr. '50,
Lawrence M. Edwards '51

Photographers Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50,
Harry E. Adams '51

Cartoonists William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '48

Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48

Advertising Managers Alfred F. Wexler '47, Edward S. Early '49

Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmitt '48, C. Craig Ryder '49,
Frankie R. Ormle '50

Business Assistants: Umberto Cantalano '48, Ernest L. Balston, Jr. '48,
Gordon F. Blake '50, Aaron W. Anshor '51, John H. Halden '51,
Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward B. Miller '51, Prescott R. Parboe '51, Donald Usher '51.

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY

Directors ... Professor Atholm F. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49

News Editor for this issue Raymond S. Trough '50

RESERVED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives

430 MADISON AVE. New York, N. Y.
CHICAGO • CLEVELAND • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address all correspondence to the Editor and subscriptions communicating to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Student Union Building, Brunswick, Maine.

Entered as second class matter on the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is five ($5) dollars.

Campus Survey

Managing Editor's Lot Is An Unhappy One, But He Is The Newspaper's Unsung Hero

Frederick W. Willey '47
"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown." Yes, and uneasy lies the head that wears the managing editor's title; for they, to resort to the cliché, are the unsung heroes of any newspaper, especially if it is a college newspaper which receives only disinterested and adamant support from a student body.

For the managing editor and his staff of cohorts, recognition is slight, criticism is heavy, but personal gratification is abundant once he has put "baby" to press down at the Record Office at two or three on Wednesday morning.

This article will quite frankly solicit sympathy in a biased attempt to persuade its readers that there are more jobs in the putting out of the Bowdoin ORIENT than assigning and editing a story. To those who casually pick up the ORIENT each Wednesday afternoon in their fraternity lounge and after a cursory glance at the sports page quibble, "There's nothing in this newspaper that interests me," the retort is, paradoxically, "There's nothing in this newspaper that should interest you, unless you maintain a reading interest that ranges from the gridiron to the Classical Club."

For the job of the ORIENT, as outlined by the editor, is twofold: first, it must cover the campus news systematically and thoroughly, including in that coverage the obvious and the subtle, from the athletic to the extra-curricular, from the usual to the grotesque. Second, in the realm outside the strict presentation of news, it must represent the best, and not necessarily the majority, student opinion.

To fulfill these objectives, the Editor calls a meeting each Wednesday night at eight o'clock. By ten the afternoon issue has been hashed and reshaped, and plans for the following issue have been laid: what stories will go in, barring a fire in Adams Hall; what features are to be written, what cuts are to be taken, and who is to work on this issue.

Posting a prominent notice on the bulletin board and requesting the waiters of every house to announce the assignment meeting for one o'clock on Thursday afternoon will not suffice to flood the ORIENT office in the Moulton Union with a group of eager reporters. Many must be personally contacted, and many must then be bludgeoned into accepting such an inglorious assignment as covering the current exhibit at the Art Building.

Friday, Sunday, and Saturday night from six until twelve, the managing editor hears many tales of woe and lamentation: I tried to turn in my assignment but I have an hour exam scheduled for tomorrow; my girl took sick; I couldn't contact the source.

Each article must be edited and sometimes rewritten. Headlines and cut captions must be mathematical certainties if they are to fit the desired space. And the "look" of the paper, the "make-up", must then be drawn accordingly to fit the explosiveness or the inertia of the lead story. Every article must, according to its length and importance, have a proper space in the make-up.

Monday and Tuesday mornings, eight o'clock class or no, the copy must be down at the Record Office by eight so that the printer will not be bogged down when the deadline on Wednesday morning occurs.

The most tedious and exasperating work of all may well stretch into a straight ten-hour job on Tuesday evening when printer's ink and column rules test the managing editor's mental and physical fortitude, and his imagination and dexterity in fitting stories into spaces that are more often too short or too long than just right.

Just when he has taken the final page proofs and checked the entire paper for obvious errors, he is apt to find that Adams Hall has burnt down. And regardless of whom it may hurt and whose name it may omit, some less important article must be thrown out to make space.

Wednesday evening rolls around again. And under the collective wrath of his colleagues, who spare no mercy in reporting what the "guys in the house" have said, the managing editor finds himself deep in the planning of another issue.

After the meeting, if he is lucky, some munificent fellow may treat him to a ginger ale in the Union, as payment for a good issue. More often than not, however, he will stumble back to his room to try and make up last week's work all the while humming, "I've got those man-a-ging-ed-i-tor blooos.".

"Hay Fever" Casting

[Continued From Page 1]
Playing the role of Sorel, the daughter, Mrs. Pierce has had previous experience in many amateur productions. Miss Congdon, as the maid of the household, is the assistant director of dramatics at Brunswick High School and acted in the winning one-act play of last year. Mrs. Simonton has had previous experience in high school and college dramatic productions.

CLASSIFIED ADS

WANT TO EARN WHILE YOU LEARN? Be a baby-sitter, study in peace and quiet amid home-like surroundings, and earn your pin-money while you're relaxing. Call 214-M or visit the ORIENT office in Moulton Union between 10 and 12 AM Monday through Friday.

Bowdoin Wives Association

Maine Game

[Continued from Page 1]
Bowdoin's thirty-seven and McAvoy, Pierce and Gil Doble went on from there to run up Bowdoin's longest sustained drive of the game — a drive which was finally broken up by that one-foot-line fumble.

On the last scrimmage play of the period Dombkowski angled off left tackle, cut sharply to his right and bounded to a touchdown despite Doble's desperate tackle which felled him in the end zone.

Bowdoin came back even again when, with four minutes to go in the game, Pierce recovered Lord's fumble giving Bowdoin the ball on Maine's forty-one. Bill Toomey bucked for three and McAvoy plunged to the twenty-nine before being hauled down by MacPherson. Toomey and McAvoy kept plugging, but a fourth down plunge fell a foot short. That was it. Dombkowski's interception and Coulombe's touchdown only increased the score.

The lineup:
MAINE (13) — La. Emerson; rt. Maanakis; lg. Murdoch; c. Gordon; rg. Zollo; rt. Oddy; rg. Wing; qb. Parsley; lb. Dombkowski; rh. Coulombe; fb. Sproul.
BOWDOIN (6) — La. Ireland; rt. Sisson; lg. Loveloy; c. Draper; rg. Fife; rt. Dougherty; re. Speirs; qb. Burke; lb. Pierce; rh. Doble; fb. McAvoy.
Touchdowns — Dombkowski and Coulombe. Point after touchdowns — Dombkowski (placement).
Substitutions: Maine — White, Loranger, Clark, MacPherson, Ord, Schmidlin, McBrady, McDermott, Otzman, Barron, Tamm, Riddout, Adams, Bowdoin-Becker, Butler, Beem, Toomey, Begley, Fletcher, Williams, Angeramo, Zdanowicz, Bailey.

Evolution of Rushing Note
The curator of the Art Building very kindly opened the building to visitors from seven until nine last Saturday evening in order that the visiting sub-Freshmen might be able to view its treasures.—ORIENT June 2, 1905

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

Use Of Animals In Rites Banned

After conferring with Mr. E. A. Dyer, Agent of the Maine Humane Society, and Mr. Walter Higgins, State Humane Officer, President Kenneth C. M. Sills of Bowdoin College stated to the press that action had last week been taken by the college to prevent any repetition of the Deke goat episode. Fraternities have been forbidden to use animals—goats, dogs, cats, or other animals—in pre-initiation or initiation ceremonies. Although the accounts in the press of the goat episode were exaggerated—and certainly no cruelty was for a moment intended—the College and the fraternity alike deeply regret the incident, which was entirely accidental and due to a combination of circumstances that should have been but were not foreseen.

MacMillan

[Continued from Page 1]
His joining of Admiral Peary's expedition on 1908 marks his beginning in the field of major exploration. After his return to the U. S., he went on several more trips and in 1913 he was made the leader of the Crocker Land expedition.

In 1918 he was commissioned Ensign in the Naval Reserve. By 1920, however, he was back to exploring again. The following years saw him more active than ever, continually journeying to the North.

He returned to Bowdoin in 1932-33 as the Tallman Foundation Professor, and in 1937 he served as director of the Bowdoin College Kent's Island Scientific Station.

He is a member of the Royal Geographic Society and many exploring and yachting clubs. In 1927 he was awarded the Elisha Kane medal for "daring exploration and scientific research." He resides in Providence, R. I.

Celebrity Concerts Open January 12th

This year's Bath-Brunswick Celebrity Concert Series will feature three concerts.

The Columbia Grand Opera Quartet will play at Bath January 12; Gorodnitzki, pianist, will play at Bath March 15 and Todd Duncan, baritone, will be at Brunswick High School April 14.

Ticket holders may attend all the above concerts as well as those given under the auspices of

Bowdoin Wives To Sponsor Dance, Jobs, Newspaper

An old fashioned barn dance sponsored by the Bowdoin Wives Association will be held in the Moulton Union lounge November 21, at 8:30 in the evening.

There will be social as well as barn dancing at the party which will be open to all students and faculty, according to an announcement made by Mrs. J. B. Draper Jr. Dungarees, plaid shirts, and old clothes will be the required dress.

The tickets will cost sixty cents, tax included.

The Bowdoin Wives Association has opened an office in the Moulton Union for the purpose of obtaining baby sitters. The agency will grant a dual service by providing sitters for the wives and furnishing employment for the students Mrs. Draper announced.

A fortnightly newspaper, "Chit-Chat" will be the latest venture of the Bowdoin Wives Association. The mimeographed newspaper will present news of the wives and feature articles on home economics.

The Community Concerts in Lewiston, Augusta, Bangor and Rockland.

Crowell Promoted In ORIENT Changes

The appointment of David Crowell '49 as a Managing Editor heads a series of changes in the editorial staff of the ORIENT announced recently by Richard A. Wiley '49, Editor-in-Chief.

Crowell was named to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Johnson Poor '49. At the same time William S. Augerson '47 resigned as News Editor, and William M. Davis as Assistant Editor.

The two vacancies in the posts of News Editor have been filled by Harvey S. Jackson '48 and Charles T. Dillaway '49. George E. Berliawsky '48 was chosen an Assistant Editor.

Foreign Education

[Continued From Page 1]
There are many more angles to the problem. They are, however, irrelevant to the following conclusion. Few are intellectuals by birth. In most cases development is necessary. In my opinion the European system is better fitted to give this development than the American, even though the organization on the graduate level is much more satisfactory.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine
STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

Records - Radios
Electric Supplies
— and —
Service
NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE
218 Maine Street. Phone 1205-W

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT
Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It
BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL COCKTAIL LOUNGE
192 Maine Street Brunswick

SOME THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT AVIATION CADET TRAINING

Here, in question and answer form, are some facts on the U. S. Air Force Aviation Cadet program. They cover details you may have been wondering about—and will be useful to you if you want to learn to fly and begin a career in one of today's fastest-moving fields.

1. Who is eligible for appointment to the Cadets?
You, if you're physically fit, single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a college degree from an accredited institution—or pass an equivalent examination.
2. How long does the training last—and what does it cover?
You receive approximately 52 weeks' training—worth $35,000—in primary, basic, and advanced flying, along with other related courses designed to give you the finest background in your specialty.
3. What's the story on duty after graduation?
After successful completion of the course, you will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Officers Reserve Corps, and assigned to pilot duty with the U. S. Air Force at a starting monthly salary of $336 (including flight pay). You will serve on active duty for three years unless sooner relieved, and be eligible for $500 a year bonus for each year of active duty as a Reserve Officer. If you're interested in a Regular Air Force commission, you'll be given a chance to qualify.
4. What are the civilian career opportunities?
That's one you can answer for yourself by taking into consideration these facts: Contrary to what some people think, aviation is not overcrowded—for pilots or anyone else. No field is expanding more rapidly or offering more profitable openings to qualified men. After Aviation Cadet training, you can compete on an equal basis with any flier in the world.

These are only a few of the advantages. Why not stop in today at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station and get all the details?

U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service

"THERE'S ONLY ONE CIGARETTE FOR ME... MY FAVORITE CHESTERFIELD"

Joan Bennett

MISS BENNETT IS AT HER BEST IN REO RADIO'S CURRENT PICTURE "THE WOMAN ON THE BEACH"

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The sum-total of smoking pleasure

Fraternity Mortgage Burns

ZETA PSI MORTGAGE IS BURNED by Emerson W. Zeitler '20, who stands before the charter granted the local chapter in 1867. Others, l. to r., are Nathan I. Greene '28, Stanford G. Blankinship, II '45, Mr. Zeitler and Paul K. Niven '16.

Zeta Mortgage Burned At 80th Anniversary Banquet

Stating that "we should regard the fraternities as handmaidens of the college," President Kenneth C. M. Sills made a new expression of faith in the Bowdoin fraternity system at the Zeta Psi Initiation Banquet last Friday evening.

President Sills keynoted the occasion of the Lambda Chapter's Eightieth Anniversary Celebration and looked on as the chapter house mortgage was burned by members of the House Corporation at the close of the dinner.

The president went on to say that he believed the autonomy of local chapters is of primary importance. "The more independence the local chapters can have... the better for all concerned."

The mortgage burning consumed an alumni drive which was conducted by Nathan I. Greene '28, vice president of the Canal National Bank in Portland and a trustee of the Zeta Psi Fraternity of North America. Mr. Greene stated that the returns of this fund had made possible not only the dispensation of the mortgage, but also the construction of a memorial library in honor of those members of the chapter who lost their lives in three wars. Other physical improvements will be made in the future.

Herbert R. Brown, Professor of English, emphasized the importance of firm fraternity-college relationships. He pointed out that President Sills is a past honorary president of the Delta Kappa Epsilon, and that the national president of Zeta Psi, Dr. Theodore A. Dietler, is also a college president. Mr. Brown was toastmaster.

Stanford G. Blankinship, II, president of the local chapter, stated that the fraternity members first duty is to the college. "Through helping your college you naturally help your own fraternity," he said.

William N. Campbell '50 spoke for the new initiates and Edwin H. Blanchard '47, an editor of the New York Sun, spoke for the fathers. Professor Perley S. Turner '19, faculty advisor, also spoke.

Curtis '47 Earns T. D. Scholarship

Charles W. Curtis '47 was awarded the first Educational Award of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity at the Centennial Banquet held in New York City on October 30.

Since he graduated from Bowdoin in September, Curtis has been doing graduate work at Yale University in the field of Mathematics. He intends to teach after completing his study at Yale.

According to President Kenneth C. M. Sills, he is "one of Bowdoin's outstanding undergraduates in character, attainment, and ambition, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, a good athlete, former editor-in-chief of the ORIENT, and a member of the College who is greatly liked by his fellow students and admired and respected by the Faculty."

Elections Tonight For Independents

There will be a meeting of the independents tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the small lounge of the Moulton Union for the election of officers.

Campus Studio Plans Near Realization As Class Of 1924 Gift Establishes Fund

Discussion, Poll To Be Held On D.P. Legislation

H. Newman Marsh Jr. '45 and Emil G. Hahnel '49 will conduct the second in a series of chapel discussions on world problems on December 1 and 2 by pointing out the features of the Stratton Bill and its effect on the problem of displaced persons.

The bill provides for the admission to this country and naturalization of 100,000 displaced persons annually for a period of four years.

Ernst C. Helmreich, Professor of History and Government, will lead a student discussion of this problem in Conference Room "B" of the Moulton Union on December 2 at 7:00 p.m. All interested students are invited to attend.

Later in the week a poll, designed to reflect accurately student opinion on questions raised by the Stratton Bill, will be conducted by the Political Forum in cooperation with the ORIENT.

The poll will be distributed throughout the campus and its results will be published in the ORIENT on December 10. These results will be forwarded to the Maine Senators and representatives, as well as other interested Congressmen.

The Student Committee on Political Affairs, sponsored by the Political Forum in cooperation with the B.C.A., the Union Committee, and the ORIENT, will continue to promote discussions throughout the year in order to develop a sense of awareness of important issues of the day and their relation to the student as the future citizen.

Noted Clergymen Will Speak Here In Coming Month

Scheduled for the coming month are a number of speakers who will present programs of wide variety.

The first speaker on the list, Rev. Harry B. Scholefield '36, is a graduate of Harvard School of Divinity. Rev. Scholefield was minister at churches in Gloucester, Mass., and Dunkirk, N. Y., before entering the Army Chaplain's Corps in 1944.

He received the battle star during the Central Germany Campaign and remained with the Army of Occupation in Germany for two years. He speaks in chapel Sunday, November 23. His subject is unknown as yet.

Tuesday, November 25, Dr. Peter Manniche, principal and founder of the People's International College in Elsinore, Denmark, is scheduled to speak in the Moulton Union at 8:15 p.m. Dr. Manniche, who has lectured in China, Scandinavia, England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada, and this country, will speak upon the Danish Social Legislation. Dr. Manniche's book, on the subject "Denmark—Social Laboratories" is in the College library.

On the Sunday following Thanksgiving weekend, Dr. William W. Patton will speak in chapel interpreting the work of the Near East Colleges and their importance in the light of international affairs. He is the assistant director of the Fund for Near East Colleges and has toured the country, giving talks on the subject, during the past summer. In connection with Dr. Patton's address, a movie, "Outposts of American Education," will be shown at 7:00 p.m. in the Moulton Union Lounge.

Record Audience Applauds Brilliant Recital By Tillotsons

By Paul L. Bishop '49

A record audience, including many standees, enthusiastically greeted the duo-piano recital of Frederick and Marjory Tillotson last evening.

Feature of the program was the brilliance in the solo works by Mr. Tillotson and the climactic performance of the Schuett-Liszt Fantasia. This virtuoso work was surpassed in evenness of the ensemble by the deft execution of the very trying technical demands.

"Sheep May Safely Graze," which preceded, was warmly treated. The encore, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," was more evenly balanced. Generosity of encores keynoted the long program, a second to the duo-piano group being a "Spanish Dance."

Of the four groups played by Mr. Tillotson, the roccoco Mozart "Trumpet" Sonata in D Major was the high point. The expressive performance of the Adagio left little unrevealed. The moving beauty of the classically simple melody was fully presented. And the very difficult allegro showed sparkling humor.

Council Constitution Upheld, Changes Already Proposed

The past few weeks have seen much activity on the Bowdoin campus regarding the writing and rewriting of constitutions.

The Student Council was the first to organize itself by a formal constitution. An affirmative vote by two thirds of the fraternities was necessary for its ratification, and this was achieved last Wednesday night.

Nine houses were in favor of accepting the constitution as it was; two houses did not vote; and one house, Psi U, rejected the constitution. The Psi U's felt that membership of the council should be limited to Juniors and Seniors.

Consequently they thought it better to change the constitution first rather than possibly amending it later. Their reasons: a Junior or Senior is better acquainted with the College; and perhaps it is placing too great a responsibility on a lower classman when he is asked to serve as a member of the Council. The argument has been counteracted by the evidence of good work that has been done by Sophomores in the past.

Another amendment has been suggested regarding the election of officers for the Council. According to the Constitution, officers are elected at the first meeting of the term. Some feel it more advisable to wait until the third meeting in order that there will be time to recognize the most suitable men. In conjunction with the amendment is the possibility of having two meetings during the first week, thus enabling the election of competent officers as soon as possible.

Last Wednesday evening the Independents accepted a constitution which will probably give them representation on the Student Council.

The Student Council has requested all Campus organizations to file their constitutions at the Library. Frequently various organizations have lost their constitutions and this plan will prevent that from happening in the future.

Henderson Talks At B.C.A. Service In Local Church

The Sunday service of the Brunswick Congregational Church was conducted this week by members of the Bowdoin Christian Association. The sermon entitled "Keep Your Expectations High," was given by Donald W. Henderson, '50.

Henderson's father and brother attended Andover Newton Theological Seminary and he expects to follow them.

Henderson suggested three methods of spiritual improvement. He said that individuals should expect more of themselves by accepting more responsibility, and too, should expect more of their friends thereby encouraging truer and closer friendships. The third method, Henderson feels, is to seek in God the guidance one cannot find on Earth.

Walter S. Mather '50, opened the service with the Call to Worship, Invocation, and Lord's prayer. Jesse M. Corum III '45, conducted the Responsive Reading after which William M. Davis '49, read the Scripture Lesson. Clayton J. Kamppe '49, gave the prayer.

UNESCO Delegate To Speak Dec. 5

Dr. W. Albert Noyes Jr., Adviser to the U. S. Delegation to the First General Conference of UNESCO, and President of the American Chemical Society, will speak under the auspices of the Bowdoin College Institute on World Politics and Organization and the Chemistry Department on December 5, at 8:15 in Memorial Hall.

First in a series of speakers sponsored by the Institute, Dr. Noyes is professor of physical chemistry and chairman of the department of chemistry at the University of Rochester. He has served as section chairman and division chief of the National Defense Research Committee since 1940, and was on the staff of Chief of Chemical Warfare Service for the duration of the war.

Parsons Elected Chi Psi President

Philip B. Parsons '46 was elected president of Alpha Eta Chi Psi at the bi-weekly house meeting last Wednesday night.

Joseph A. Boyer '48 was elected vice president and Nelson D. Payne '50 was chosen secretary. Parsons is a member of the varsity track team, the Glee Club, and the Sunday Chapel Choir. Boyer has been a member of the White Key and is a member of the Political Forum. Payne is a member of the ORIENT staff.

Students Discuss Palestine Problem At Forum Meeting

In an animated discussion of the Palestine problem at last night's Political Forum meeting in Moulton Union, Namer A. Jawdat '50 and S. David Spector '50 highlighted the respective merits of the "partition" plan.

When interviewed Jawdat emphasized the fact that as a native of Iraq he had been in close contact with the problem much of his life. He went on to explain how difficult it was for those who did not have first hand information to appreciate the Arab point of view. After being asked his own personal opinion on the Palestine issues, he replied as follows:

"The solution of the Palestine problem by partition is not acceptable to the Arabs. There is no historical, legal, or logical reason for believing that this solution is realistic. The first step towards solution is to cut the issues away from petty politics and sentimentality. I do feel, however, that the final solution must come from the United Nations."

In discussing the other side of the issue, Spector based his assumptions on a calm appraisal of the facts, both past and present. He brought the central theme of his speech to a focus when he tossed to his audience the rhetorical question, "...why not a modified Marshall Plan for the Arabs?" He went on to say, "The development instead of the exploitation of Arabia would twist the present Arabian dissension to view the Jewish homeland in Palestine with favor. Exploitation could be halted by the placing of 'control rods' in Arabian hands."

Spector is Secretary-Treasurer of the Political Forum and is himself quite interested in the Palestine problem. Jawdat, whose home is Bagdad, is the son of the Iraqi minister to the United States. While no compromise solution was reached they admitted the merits of each other's views.

Wives To See Film About Psychiatry

A British film entitled "Psychiatry in Action," will be shown at a meeting of the Bowdoin Wives Association at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 4, to which the students and faculty are invited.

The film was obtained by Norman L. Munn, Professor of Psychology, to show to the classes in Abnormal Psychology. It is a policy of the Psychology Department to show educational films related to the subject of its classes.

The Psychology I classes recently saw a March of Time picture entitled "Life With Baby," concerning infant psychology, and the Abnormal Psychology classes were shown yesterday a March of Time production called "Problem Drinkers."

Richard Eames '47 Dies In Air Crash; Campbell Unhurt

Richard E. Eames '47 is believed to have been killed yesterday afternoon in an air crash at Sanford, Maine.

While Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick was in Sanford last night overlooking search operations for the body of the twenty-one-year old Bowdoin student, there was little hope that Eames would be found alive.

Eames was the son of Mr. Paul H. Eames '21 of Winterport, formerly of Montclair, N. J. His only brother, Ens. Paul H. Eames Jr. '46, was killed in the Pacific when the cruiser Indianapolis sank off Leyte in July, 1945.

The circumstances which surrounded the crash are uncertain. Eames and William N. Campbell '50 had rented single-seat Cessna planes from the Sanford Municipal Airport early yesterday afternoon.

After each pilot had taken off in his own plane, they flew over Baum's Pond, Sanford, at 1000 feet, Eames apparently lost sight of Campbell and collided with the other plane, the impact crippling his craft and forcing it to crash in the thirty-five-foot deep lake.

Campbell was able to maneuver his own craft back to the airport. Although it was seriously damaged, he landed unhurt.

Eames was a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity and was active in musical activities at Bowdoin. He was a member of the Polar Bears dance orchestra and participated in the activities of the college band. He was a veteran of Naval service.

M.I.T. Plan Change Helps Students In Graduate Work

The Bowdoin - M.I.T. student can now stay four years at Bowdoin before finishing his last two years at M.I.T., according to Edward S. Hammond, Director of Admissions and Professor of Mathematics.

He may then enter M.I.T. as a graduate student instead of as a junior, unless he wants an engineering degree. Those who decide to enter the Institute as graduate students after four years here will not be assured entrance, regardless of marks, but will be considered as other students applying for admission to the school.

Professor Hammond said that registration blanks for all Bowdoin men interested in the combined plan will be issued some time this week. Interested students should make arrangements with him at the beginning of the Freshman year if they wish to transfer after three years. If they wish to transfer after four years, they should make arrangements at the beginning of the sophomore year.

Colby Freshmen Make Paint A Most Costly Tool Of Art

By Albert P. Phillips '51

Seven Colby Freshmen, last Friday morning painted parts of the Polar Bear, gift of the Class of 1912, which stands in front of the Sargent Gymnasium.

The word "Colby" was painted on the bear's back and sides with a water-base paint. The same word appeared in oil pigments on each side of the granite block upon which the bear stands.

The watchman on duty, James Martin, saw the students finishing the job. He gave to the Brunswick police, as much of the license number as he could see when the car drove off. Sergeant Soule of that department arrested the men as they were driving through Topsham on their way back to Waterville.

The seven men were held in the Brunswick jail until Saturday morning when they appeared in Brunswick Municipal Court. They were charged with malicious mischief to which all seven pleaded guilty. Each was fined ten dollars, and costs amounting to six dollars and eighty-two cents.

Radio Station Will Soon Be Constructed In Union

By Harvey S. Jackson '48

The offer of the Class of 1924 to make available a portion of its 25th Reunion Gift for the establishment and equipment of a radio broadcasting studio in the Moulton Union was accepted at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Governing Boards of the College held on Saturday, November 15, according to a statement made by President Kenneth C. M. Sills.

New Constitution Binds Together Independent Body

A group of 40 independents met last Wednesday evening, November 12, to establish a loose organization for non-fraternity students so that they might have representation in student activities.

The meeting was led by Merton G. Henry '50, Donald Paquette '46, and William J. Kirtwin Jr. '50. After the establishment of an organization had been unanimously approved, the proposed constitution was read by Rupert O. Clark '51, temporary secretary. A few minor changes were made and the constitution was ratified by all those present.

There is one article embodied in the Constitution which is a bit disturbing to some. Previously the Independents were an unorganized group. But now, under their constitution, everybody who is not an active member of a Bowdoin fraternity is a member of the organization. Many feel this to be basically wrong, but no one seems to know what should be, or could be, done about it.

The following men were nominated to office at the end of the meeting: John R. Small '30 and Merton G. Henry '50, president; William H. Wheeland '40, Roger C. Finney '51, and Clayton J. Kamppe '49, vice president; Rupert O. Clark '51, Secretary-Treasurer; Donald Paquette '46 and James McKee '50, Student Council; Charles A. Lermond '51 and Igor Blake '51, Student Union Committee.

Sociology Made New Department

With the addition of courses in Criminology and the family to be offered this spring, the Sociology Department was separated from the Economics Department last week.

This increase in curriculum brings the number of Sociology courses up to seven. However, it has not yet been decided whether the department will be able to offer majors in the field.

The family course will be taught by Burton W. Taylor, Associate Professor of Sociology, and will cover various aspects of the family in a changing society. Samuel Mencher, Instructor in Sociology, will give the criminology course, which will cover the causes of crime, the treatment of offenders and the techniques of crime prevention.

Approximately $4,000 will be needed to finance a dual-purpose (campus broadcasting and transmission broadcasting) studio, according to a report made by the Alumni Faculty Undergraduate Committee appointed by President Sills last spring to make a study of the possibilities of getting a Campus Studio.

A study of the experiences of various colleges with studios, the increasing interest of Bowdoin undergraduates in this activity, and the real opportunities a Bowdoin studio would offer for serving both the undergraduates and the College convinced the Class Alumni Faculty Undergraduate Committee that the project should be pushed ahead just as soon as funds could be procured. It was felt that, from the standpoint of public relations, much would be gained by having such a studio in operation, especially during the period of the Fund raising Campaign.

This gift will make possible an appreciable increase in the program now being prepared and broadcast from Portland by "Bowdoin-on-the-Air," the undergraduate organization particularly concerned with broadcasting, and will also facilitate the broadcasting of College lectures, concerts, and other events of general interest," the President stated.

Plans call for the remodeling of the room in the Moulton Union now being used as the ORIENT office. A monitoring and control room for handling programs originating in the studio and for piping in addresses and other events from elsewhere on campus will be installed. Provisions will be made for seating approximately 75 spectators.

All installations will be made in such a way that the equipment may be eventually moved to a more permanent place.

A campus studio, with leads from the gymnasium, athletic fields, and Memorial Hall, will enable the College to pick up directly athletic events, institute lectures, programs by visiting musicians, and other attractions, which may be relayed by wire to a professional studio. The Studio would also put directly on the air programs for Campus Community.

C. Cabot Estlin '48, president of Bowdoin-on-the-Air, emphasized the versatility of such a studio. "Every student and college activity will have a chance to make use of these broadcasting facilities. The studio will be designed to handle all types of programs such as Glee Club concerts, inter-fraternity sings, etc."

[Continued on Page 2]

It Happens Here

7:30 p.m. — 17, of M. Brunswick Campus. Film, "Ivan the Terrible."

12:45 p.m. — Moulton Union. Faculty luncheon.

Friday 8:15 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Dual Debate with 17, of M. 8:30 p.m. — Moulton Union. B.W. A. Barn Dance.

Sunday 3:00 a.m. — Moulton Union. Student recital and tea. 7:00 a.m. — Rev. Harry B. Scholefield '36.

Monday 7:00 a.m. — Panster Hall. Achorn Prize Debate. 8:15 p.m. — Moulton Union. Lecture by Dr. Peter Manniche.

Wednesday Noon — Thanksgiving Recess begins. 8:00 a.m. — Thanksgiving Recess ends.

Thursday, December 4 7:00 a.m. — Moulton Union. Professor Helmreich on Stratton Bill.

Sunday, December 7 Chapel — Dr. William W. Patton. Monday, December 8 8:15 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Alexander Prize Speaking Contest.

Fraternities Should All Share In B.C.A. Exchange Dining Plan

Eight fraternities have declined to take part in the Bowdoin Christian Association exchange dining plan. It would be well for them to reconsider their decisions and to join the four fraternities which have already placed in operation this laudable and sorely needed scheme.

A similar plan was attempted last spring but failed because of poor organization and lack of support from the fraternities.

But this year the supporters of the dining plan have organized well. Competent members of the B.C.A. have over-all direction, and each of the participating houses has chosen a member to be responsible for receiving the guests with proper hospitality and arranging for men to go to the other houses.

Yet only the Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Upsilon, Zeta Psi, and Alpha Rho Upsilon fraternities have elected to join the plan. And last night representatives of these fraternities in groups of five ate dinner in dining rooms other than their own.

The need for such a plan is obvious. If fraternities are content to remain within themselves, there will be even more cause for the lamenters of college spirit. These groups might well remember that they cannot remain in isolation but must share together as a part of a more significant institution — the College as a whole.

Freshmen are especially harmed by this lack of exchange between the fraternities, and at a time when new friends are very important to them.

The presence of guests might also be conducive to improved fraternity hospitality and dining room manners.

Bowdoin has always stressed a full liberal education as its primary aim. The arousing in the student body of a social consciousness and interest should form an important part of this education.

We agree that it is difficult to meet new people and to form new friendships. But the rationalization that students are much too busy in the evenings to bother with guests is not valid. Nothing can be more important to us, especially at this stage in our education, than to train ourselves to meet people, to become interested in them and their activities, and to share ourselves with them.

This plan by no means demands excessive effort on the part of anyone involved. All that is required is a renunciation of individual and fraternal isolationism — a move which would be of benefit to all.

We sincerely hope that the eight non-participating fraternities will reconsider their action and share themselves with the entire College.

R. A. W.

Radio Studio Needs Cooperation

A generous gift from the Class of 1924 has brought a radio studio at Bowdoin many strides closer to reality. But it also has raised a question which should be considered before plans are advanced further.

Bowdoin-on-the-Air, the college radio organization, should be commended for the excellent job it is doing this fall. The bi-weekly Thursday programs and the special Meddibempester broadcasts promise to attract more interest than ever.

But the organization and running of a full-scale radio studio, even for only a few hours a day, with the possibility of broadcasts both over regular radio stations and over a campus system, is a much larger task than the present one.

This job, if it is to be done properly, will require the assistance of many new men in the organization, men who are willing to work hard and regularly to make Bowdoin broadcasting truly successful.

Extracurricular activities now are notoriously handicapped by lack of student interest and support. Before undertaking the investment in valuable equipment and the establishment of a studio, Bowdoin-on-the-Air has a right to know what sort of student support it can expect.

The success or failure of broadcasting at Bowdoin depends on student interest — your interest.

R. A. W.

Strategic Regions Neglected By U.S., MacMillan States

America's lack of interest in Greenland was condemned in a lecture by Donald B. MacMillan '98, famed Arctic explorer and author, last Wednesday night in Memorial Hall.

Mr. MacMillan recalled Admiral Perry's prophecy that Greenland would one day be important to America's defense and pointed to its strategic value in the last war.

The lecture was illustrated by motion pictures made on MacMillan's last Arctic trip along the coast of Baffin Island and Greenland. Glaciers were studied for geological information.

Mr. MacMillan has not spent all his life in Arctic exploration. He has served as teacher and principal in several secondary schools and at one time was Tallman Foundation Professor at Bowdoin. He is the author of several books and at present supports a school for Eskimos in northern Greenland.

President Greet Bowdoin Fathers

Father's Day postponed from October 25 because of the fire hazard, was held Saturday, November 15.

The father and son weekend was opened by a special chapel service conducted by President Kenneth C. M. Sills at 11 o'clock. All classes at that time were excused.

The President extended a welcome to the parents at Bowdoin for the special day. He stressed the importance of a close relationship between a son and his father.

The chief purpose, the President said in pointing out the purposes of the College, is to "emphasize the importance of learning and the search for truth." He said that the College, in attempting to accomplish these purposes, must not only have the support of the general public, but in particular it must have the support of the parents of the students.

The chapel service was followed by a luncheon in the Moulton Union for fathers and sons. After the game, President and Mrs. Sills were at home for the visitors to the College. The "Freshman Faculty" was also present at the President's house.

H. R. Brown Talks At New York High School

Students and faculty of Scarsdale High School, Scarsdale, N. Y., heard lectures given by Herbert R. Brown, Professor of English, last Wednesday, November 12.

Professor Brown spoke to the student body on "Contemporary American Fiction." His subject for the faculty address was "Proper Preparation For College in Reading and Writing."

B.C.A. Dining Plan

[Continued from Page 1] place for the participants each Tuesday evening, and a chance for them to make new friends around the campus. He added that the participation should be on a voluntary basis, no one being forced to go elsewhere for his meal, and everyone should have the opportunity at one time or another to do so.

Campus Broadcast Plans Expedited By Gift Of '24

[Continued from Page 1]

chapel talks, student recitals, athletic events dramatic presentations, debates, panel discussions, record shows, live musical shows, news commentaries, interviews, variety shows, and on-the-spot reports of campus activities.

Broadcasts for the Campus community may be transmitted directly through the electric system or by special wires running through the heating system. A telephone trunk line connected to station WGAN in Portland would be used for programs to be broadcast over the air.

The Alumni-Faculty-Undergraduate Committee examined possible locations for the studio and decided that the Conference Room in the Moulton Union now being used by the ORIENT would be best adapted for broadcasting. Besides the auditorium, the plan for the studio would call for a broadcasting stage, a broadcasting booth in the corner next to the closet and leading into the closet, and an exit to the main hall.

Donovan D. Lancaster, Manager of the Moulton Union, said that he felt a studio on the campus would be of great help to the College as a whole and would greatly add to the facilities of the Union. He expressed the hope that the auditorium could be used as another conference room, thereby relieving the pressure put upon the two already in use. He felt it might also be used as a practice room if a piano were set up in it. The studio may join the Inter-collegiate Broadcasting System, an association of college radio stations for mutual benefit, which provides engineering consultation, legal services, publications, and representation before the Federal Communications Association.

Plans for broadcasting facilities at Bowdoin have been under consideration for some time. The idea that the College should have a studio originated seven years ago with an undergraduate.

The Alumni-Faculty-Undergraduate Committee appointed by President Sills last spring is headed by Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English and faculty advisor to "Bowdoin-on-the-Air." Other members of the Committee are: Dr. Dan E. Christie, Assistant Professor of Physics and Mathematics; Lawrence L. Pelletier, Assistant Professor of Government; Herbert S. French Jr. '46; Lewis P. Fickett Jr. '47; C. Cabot Easton '48, and Richard A. Wiley '49.

The Class of 1924 Reunion Gift has been built up since the graduation of that class and will be made up of payments of insurance policies covering a considerable number of the Class, and from gifts made outright by others in the group.

Malcolm E. Morrell, Director of Athletics, is president of the class of 1924 and as such has done a great deal of work in getting funds for the studio.

State Constitution Change Badly Needed, Says Sills

Advocating the need for a state convention to draw up a new constitution for the State of Maine, President Kenneth C. M. Sills welcomed the Social Science departments of the Maine Colleges, to their two day conference at Bowdoin last Friday and Saturday.

Pointing to the provision for the Executive Council as an example of the antiquity of many of the constitution's provisions and citing other cumbersome amendments, President Sills said that our just pride in the many other virtues of Maine should not allow us to let this situation continue as it is now.

Calling attention to the recent successful revision by New Jersey of their constitution, the President urged the people of the State in general and the legislators in particular to think over the advisability of such a revision.

One incidental advantage, said President Sills, of a constitutional correction would be an aroused public interest, a consummation devoutly to be wished.

The Honorable Edward C. Moran, former Congressman from the Second District, was the speaker on Friday and he gave some off-the-record reflections on a political life.

Saturday's speaker was Dr. Ossip K. Flechtheim of the Department of History at Colby College, who was forced to flee from Germany with the coming of the Nazis. Dr. Flechtheim was one of the persons in charge of the preparation of evidence at the Nuremberg Trials and his speech was of his experiences there. He said he thought the trials had adequate legal justification but that he was not in accordance with the means of punishment. Not that the punishment was too lenient or too harsh, but of the wrong nature. It should be one of humiliation, he felt.

Athens P. Daggett, Professor of Government, and Burton W. Taylor, Associate Professor of Sociology, were in charge of the conference.

B.C.A. Sends Men To Williams Talks Held This Week

At the joint meeting of the Bowdoin and Westbrook Christian Associations last Monday night, the B.C.A. reported that Willard C. Richan '49, John E. Good '48, and William M. Davis '49 will represent Bowdoin at a conference to be held at Williams November 22-23. Amherst will also attend.

Each organization gave its respective views on the Augusta conference of Maine Christian Associations held last October 17. Harold N. Burnham '48, B.C.A. secretary, gave Bowdoin's interpretation after Alice Going had spoken for Westbrook.

Others present representing Bowdoin were Joseph W. Woods '47, president of the B.C.A.; Rupert O. Clark '51; Donald S. Mathison '51; Merton G. Henry '50. The B.C.A. has announced the resignation from office of John E. Good '48, vice-president. He has been appointed chairman of the Relief Committee. This committee plans to make three Thanksgiving baskets to go to needy families this fall.

Wilder Represents Veterans In Panel

Bowdoin will be represented by Mr. Philip S. Wilder, Veteran's Administration on campus, at the Third Conference of New England Colleges on Veteran's Administration to be held at Harvard University School of Business on Wednesday November 19.

Mr. Wilder will participate in a panel discussion of procedures and policies in the issuance of books and supplies and the typing of papers. On the same panel will be: Mr. Mason I. Ingram, Assistant to the Bureau, Dartmouth; Mr. Arthur D. Butterfield, Director, Veterans' Education, University of Vermont; and Miss Margaret A. Witt, Assistant to the Counselor for Veterans, Harvard University.

McKeen Will Address Reserves On Monday

The Bath-Brunswick Chapter of the Reserve Officers' Association will meet in the Moulton Union, Monday, November 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The speaker for the evening will be Major James McKeen, Bowdoin '30, of the Coast Artillery Reserve. Major McKeen, who is in charge of the Air Base dormitories, will give an illustrated lecture on the history and development of rockets and guided missiles. Major McKeen gave an address on the same subject before the First Army while he was on active duty this summer.

Former officers of all services are invited to attend.

Russian Picture Tonight At Annex

A Russian motion picture, "Ivan the Terrible," will be shown in the Gymnasium at the U. of M. Brunswick campus this evening at 7:30. Any Bowdoin students or faculty members are invited to attend.

Faculty Lunches Start Tomorrow

Donovan D. Lancaster, Manager of the Moulton Union, has announced that a series of Faculty luncheons are to be held in the Union Dining Room, beginning tomorrow at 12:45.

The purpose of these luncheons is to give the members of the faculty the opportunity to see each other more often. Prior to the war the small dining room in the Union was used as a Faculty room, but because of the increased enrollment of the college, it became necessary to turn its use over to the students. It is hoped that these luncheons will prove a popular substitute for the old Faculty room.

Cards have been sent to all members of the Faculty to determine the number who wish to attend. The luncheons are to be paid for individually by those present.

Friends Sponsor Industry Project

The American Friends Service Committee is sponsoring a "Interne-in-Industry" project this year in Philadelphia to acquaint students with industrial problems.

The students will live cooperatively but will find their own jobs in local industry. Discussions will be held twice a week and leaders from management and labor will give talks.

Other features of the project will include field trips to labor union meetings, and to meetings of the Labor Education Association.

Those interested in further details should write: Interne-in-Industry, American Friends Service Committee, 20 South 12th Street, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

"It has been conclusively proved that the kitty's milk was stolen by one of the many chapel dogs. Gullible says that he did not get indignation from drinking it. Let's hope that the old cat dies an easy death!" ORIENT, March 24, 1926—Let's!

Building new telephone lines for you takes well planned teamwork by these two »

Behind this giant plow train, burying a new transcontinental telephone cable, there's a story of typical teamwork by Western Electric in helping the Bell Telephone Companies to give you faster, even better service.

As the supply member of the Bell Telephone team, Western Electric is producing the coaxial cable which can carry 1800 telephone messages at once—can transmit television network programs, too. Complex machines—designed by Western Electric engineers—are turning out this cable mile after mile to keep the plow trains pushing forward on schedule.

Ever since 1882, Western Electric has been an integral part of Bell Telephone service—helping to make it the world's best at the lowest possible cost.

Western Electric
A UNIT OF THE BELL SYSTEM SINCE 1882

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, November 19, 1947 No. 15

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John E. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, Harvey S. Jackson '48, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Raymond S. Trough '50
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '48
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editors John F. Naxon III '50, George E. Berilavsky '48
Reporters: Paul L. Bishop '49, George Faraday '48, John L. Bacon '51, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corlies '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Albert P. Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Garrett J. Sheehan '51, Gerald C. Sheehan '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard C. Van Orden '51
Sports Assistants: William C. Rogers '48, Fagan H. Simonton, Jr. '50
Photographers Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Leayon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager C. Cabot Easton '48
Advertising Managers Alfred F. Waxler '47, Edward S. Early '49
Circulation Managers Joseph J. Schmuck '49, C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis E. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Umberto Castalamone '48, Ernest L. Bainton, Jr. '48, Gordon F. Lingo '50, Aaron W. Anchor '51, John Blatchford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardoe '51, Donald Union '51.

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Athern P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49
News Editor for this Issue Harvey S. Jackson '48
PUBLISHED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
Chief Publisher Representative
480 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO • CINCINNATI • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO
Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address correspondence to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Brunswick College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

TOWN TAXI

Dependable Drivers
Town Hall Place
Phone 1000

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC
RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good food - Pleasant Surroundings
Reasonable Prices
Remember, it's the

COLLEGE SPA

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

WANT TO EARN $9000 A YEAR?

Would you like to be your own boss... with professional standing in your community? Then you'll be interested in the opportunities offered by a career in life insurance selling for The Mutual Life. Many of our representatives earn $4,000 to $9,000 a year, and more!

If you can qualify, we offer a 3-year on-the-job training course, with a 2-year compensation plan which will not make you dependent upon commission. After that, the Mutual Lifetime Plan provides an opportunity for earnings limited only by your own efforts... plus a liberal retirement income at 65. Send for Aptitude Test Today! Address Room 1104.

THE MUTUAL LIFE
INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK
30 Nassau Street
New York 5, N. Y.

and so's the Greyhound fare
HOME

Your pocketbook won't be on the losing side... if you let Greyhound's low-level fares throw a block against heavy travel expenses! Whether you're heading for home, the big game, or a week-end visit, you'll go farther for less by Greyhound! While you're at it, you can sleep, study, or relax in one of Greyhound's deep-cushioned chairs. So take it easy on your budget... make it easy on yourself... take an easy-riding Greyhound!

	One Way	Round Trip
BOSTON	$ 2.25	$ 4.05
ALBANY	5.95	10.80
NEW YORK	5.70	10.30
MEMPHIS	20.58	37.55
WASHINGTON	9.60	17.30
CHICAGO	19.05	34.30
PEORIA	19.80	35.70
SOUTH BEND	16.75	30.65
BALTIMORE	8.90	16.05
SPRINGFIELD	4.45	8.05
DETROIT	14.60	26.30
MIAMI	26.40	48.50

Plus U. S. Tax
ALLEN'S DRUG STORE, INC.
M. C. Perkins, Ph.G. Mgr.
148 Maine Street
Brunswick, Maine
GREYHOUND

Polar Bearings Injuries Hinder '47 Team, 5 Men Out Entire Season

By George McClelland '49

It's all over again for another year. So wrap the pigskin in mothballs, and try to forget the woes of 1947. Next year it can't possibly be so bad. Old man injury started hamstringing the Polar Bears from the first day of practice. And as the campaign moved along it became almost a question of, "whose next?"

Tausig was lost due to an operation, and thus Walsh missed a 220 lb. tackle before the first practice session. This was just the beginning. Captain Jake Stankis, last year's bulwark at guard, and Bud Smethurst, a fine end, were sidelined for the season in the first scrimmage. The Big White were impressive in the New Hampshire scrimmage, but that was another costly afternoon. Marty Lee, probably the best end in the state, both offensively and defensively, was incapacitated for the season, and backbacks Jim Pierce and Ted Butler were sidelined for varying periods of time.

All this happened before the first game. In the Tufts curtain raiser, Tim Donovan, an excellent all-around back, broke his leg. After this almost every game saw someone else missing. Pat Slattery, John Sabasteanski, Vic Fortin and Lyle Sweet all were hit by the Jinx. Quarterback Ed Gillen, broke his collarbone in the Bates game. These aren't the only ones. This partial list doesn't include the boys who answered the starting whistle every Saturday wrapped in tape. Doc Hanley did a wonderful job in a trying situation, and our hope is that he will be aided, certainly not supplanted, in the future by a trainer who would work under his direction.

Adam Walsh couldn't conceivably have captured the state title under the circumstances. But he kept switching his personnel and his preparations and came very close at that. A bad pass from center and one burst from swivel-hipped Arf Blanchard lost the Bates game. A fumble on the one-yard line and another numeral 41, this time Rabbit Dombkowski, spelled the difference up in Orono.

The names to remember from the '47 Polar Bears are numerous. Of course, Bob McAvoy, the hard charging fullback, is one of the first. McAvoy was the leading ground gainer all year long. Without him the attack was impotent. He is Bowdoin's leading candidate for all state honors. Dave Burke improved all season long, and next year he may blossom into the state's leading field general. His knack of intercepting enemy aerials came in handy. Acting Captain Gil Dobie, possibly the smartest footballer in the squad was underrated but very efficient. Gordie Beem and Jim Pierce also deserve a lot of credit. In the line, Bill Ireland, Jim Draper, Charlie Lovejoy, and Jim Sibson stood out, with the rest of the forwards showing well at times.

Football Program Thursday Features Walsh and Morrell

Bowdoin-on-the-Air will present the second program in its fortnightly radio series tomorrow afternoon at 1:30.

In a program which will attract wide interest from Maine sports fans, the radio club will present Bud Cornish, Adam Walsh, Mal Morrell, and Marty Lee, '50.

This group, organized and directed by H. Newman Marsh, Jr. '45, will discuss the past football season and Bowdoin's prospects for 1948. Bud Cornish, sports writer and radio commentator for the Gannett Publishing Company will act as Master of Ceremonies.

Catching the questions which Cornish tosses will be Adam Walsh, nationally known head football coach of Bowdoin and the Portland Sagamos; Mal Morrell, Director of the Bowdoin Athletic department; and Marty Lee, outstanding end at Deering High School and Bowdoin. Lee was injured in a pre-season game this

(Continued on Page 4)

Bowdoin - On - Air To Seek New Men

Bowdoin-On-The-Air urges all men interested in radio producing, announcing, script writing, programming, acting or engineering to attend a smoker on Thursday, December 4, at 7 p.m. in Conference Room B of the Moulton Union.

Definite plans for the new Bowdoin radio station will be discussed and ideas formulated for future broadcasts.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Brunswick, Maine
STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

B.C.A. President Shocks Spectators

Adding color and humor to the halftime lull during the Colby game last week, two Zete six-man teams paraded through satirical football antics which cheered the cold crowd.

BCA president Joe Woods shocked the gathering by appearing in long, drop-seat underwear, and the Shorty Stouts and Slim Jims astounded the assembled by a varied assortment of deceptive plays.

Christmas Gambol Starts Dec. 8th, Turkeys Awarded

Coach Jack Magee announced Monday that drawings would commence this week for the 30th annual Christmas Gambols to be held from December 8th to the 13th.

Each contestant will draw from a hat a list of six track and field events, taken from the 13 to be held, and he must compete in four of these. The events will be spread over the week so that there will not be more than three in a day.

Coach Magee conceived this intra-squad event shortly after coming to Bowdoin and it has become famous, with coaches all over the country now using it.

The purpose is to give a man a chance to discover natural ability in events he has never tried before. Magee said that often distance men found they were talented sprinters and visa versa. Every man who wishes to compete must be in good condition and the track coach wants them to start training at once.

The traditional turkeys will be awarded to the top eight men. Two of last year's winners will be back for another crack at the gobblers. These versatile performers are Captain Matt Branche and Dick Wiley.

The list of events: the 40 yard dash, the 440 yard run, the 880 yard run, the 1 mile run, the 2 mile run, the 45 yard high hurdles, the 45 yard low hurdles, the broad jump, the high jump, the discus, the pole vault, the 16 lb. shot put, the 35 lb. weight throw.

Records - Radios
Electric Supplies
—and—
Service

NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE

212 Maine Street. Phone 1205-W

Bowdoin Romps Over Mules 21 to 6, Ties For Second Place In State Series

Bowdoin Sparkplug Makes A Gain

BOB McAVOY carrying to Bowdoin's thirty careers to the ground after a short gain. Gordie Beem (25), Colby's Bob Cook (43) and Bill Ireland are in the background.

Breaks Give Team Scores In Finale

By David Crowell '49

A powerful Bowdoin attack earned the Polar Bears a 21-6 triumph over Colby last week as the White moved into a three-way second-place tie behind Maine at the finish of the State Series.

Although the home forces were completely shackled by fierce Colby line play in the first half, Bob McAvoy and Dave Burke were able to mobilize the offense after the intermission. A disappointing crowd of 4000 attended the game at Whittier Field.

Colby broke a scoreless deadlock on the third play on the second half when Harry Marden scored on a 46-yard pass interception return. Dick Beckler's plunge across midfield three plays later marked Bowdoin's first entrance into Mule territory. But then the Bears moved.

Bill Toomey had returned Al Sarner's kick-off twenty yards to Bowdoin's forty. McAvoy, who had looked on through most of the first half, went for seven yards. This was the first time he carried the ball in the game, but his role was destined to be an heroic one. Beckler moved the ball to the Colby forty-seven.

Then McAvoy and Toomey, taking the ball on alternate power plays, plunged for three successive first downs to the Mule 12. When Gordie Beem received his first running assignment the next play, he cut through the line, twisted, and actually fought his way past five Colby defenders to a touchdown, which evened the score at six apiece. Jim Draper's conversion brought wild acclaim from the stands as Bowdoin went ahead 7-6.

The form was completely reversed by this crushing Bowdoin offensive which scored from sixty yards out. Colby had cracked, and they never again entered Bowdoin's ground. The White went on to another touchdown after Dave Burke's pass interception and scored on still another when Galloping Charlie Huen, making his first varsity appearance of the year, grabbed a fumble in midair and ran forty-eight yards for the score. Bill Ireland and Sonny Pitcher collaborated for two more points when they blocked Carl Miller's end-zone punt for a safety. The first issue of "Chit Chat", shortly before the game ended. But Bowdoin had sustained a real fright, before their second half scoring. Jim Pierce's 45-yard

(Continued on Page 4)

Basketball Drills Started By Shay

Monday afternoon Coach Dinny Shay began the herculean task of lifting Bowdoin from the basketball doldrums as from a 30 man squad he tries to mold a hoop squad that can pull Bowdoin out of the state series cellar.

Only five lettermen are back from last year's rather dismal failure, and there is little new blood on the squad, most of the remaining candidates moving up from the Junior Varsity or Freshman teams or from interfraternity clubs. The lettermen include Captain Larry Deane, Bob Speirs, Pat Slattery, Steve Monaghan, and Danny Morrison.

Jack Tyrer, a big center, who earned his letter before going into service will probably fit into Shay's plans along with Paul Zdanowicz, a transfer from Maine.

(Continued from Page 4)

Hockey Candidates Meet Next Monday

There will be a meeting for all hockey candidates in Adams 108 on Monday, November 24th, at 4 p.m. Candidates for manager should see Coach MacFayden in his office in the Gymnasium immediately.

Frosh Nip Hebron 14-13, Siroy And Saulter Score

Bowdoin's first post-war Freshman football team wound up its season by coming from behind to defeat Hebron Academy 14-13 Friday at Pickard Field. The win was the Frosh's third in four games.

Jules Siroy and Lenny Saulter, the Bowdoin workhorses, each scored a touchdown. Siroy galloped 45 yards in the first period to climax an 80 yard drive and Saulter went the last five yards at the end of the final march. Siroy and DeCosta rushed for the all important extra points.

After Bowdoin's first score the visiting preppers put up a stubborn defense and on two plays in the second half almost tore the game wide open. Early in the third stanza Hanlon threw a flat pass to Bob Hartly and the latter raced 74 yards to score. McQuillan's placement tied it up and then in the final canto the same play covered 59 yards to the Polar Cub 25. McQuillan blasted his way to the one and Phillips smacked over. The all-important point after was blocked and the stage was set. Saulter and Siroy tore through the Big Green line as if it were paper on the tide turning excursion, with the former picking up 22 yards on one of his plunges.

This same Hebron team tied Bowdoin's J. V.'s 0-0 and has yet to win a game. However, the visitors made a battle of it all the way today.

The line-ups:

Bowdoin (14)	(13) Hebron
Bradley, le	le, Moley
Roberts, le	le, Moley
Carey, le	le, Sturges
Shannon, c	c, Atkinson
Clifford, rg	rg, Bradley
Manfuso, rt	rt, Vitalis
Roy, re	re, Barbadoro
Hikel, qb	qb, McQuillan
DeCosta, lbh	lbh, Howe
Siroy, rbb	rbb, Huel
Saulter, lb	lb, Phillips
Bowdoin	Hebron
7 0 0 7-14	0 0 0 6-13

Bowdoin scoring: Touchdowns — Siroy (rush); DeCosta (rush); Hebron scoring: touchdowns — Hartly, Phillips. Point after touchdown — McQuillan (placement). Bowdoin substitutions: Ends — Marsh, Carlson; tackles — Roberts, Costello; guards — Dearet; center — Packard; backs — Van Arden, Kelly, Graham. Hebron substitutions: Ends — Conney; tackles — Mannix, Cady; guards — Raymond, Fowler; Smith; center — Sherwood; backs — Hanlon, Trevor, Lewis, Shapiro, Markey, Reno. Officials: Referee — Fortunate (B. C.); umpire — Flannagan (H. C.); head lineman — Shannan (H. C.); field judge — Kent (Bowdoin). Time 4-12.

"Track proves to be the most popular required sport. One hundred and twenty-three men have reported for track." ORIENT, Dec. 17, 1925.

Listen To

ROBERT P. TRISTRAM COFFIN

"A Maine Thanksgiving"

Monday, November 24, 8:00 PM WCOU

Take Notice of this Record! ★ ★ ★

... It's Joe Mooney's latest Decca disk — "Lazy Countryside"

Joe Mooney

Here's another great record!

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before

I know from experience CAMELS suit me best!

MAYBE you've heard other good disks of this tune—but that was before Joe Mooney waxed it. His record is a standout. Another record that stands out is the record of Camel cigarettes. More men and women are smoking Camels than ever before!

You'll find the answer in your "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Throat). Try Camels. Discover why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

CAMEL
TURKISH & DOMESTIC BLEND CIGARETTES

When you invest your (or somebody's) hard earned dough in a pair of stockings — you're swapping money for hosiery — So if the hose shrinks — so does your moola. Now here are really fine all wool 6 x 3 rib anklets that are shrink resistant (please don't boil 'em) if only reasonable care is used in washing. Yes, these will keep your hosiery dollar at an even keel — and the quality of wool plus the nylon heel and toe may make 'em wear long enough to even out-ride inflation. In smart plain colors.

$1.35

Benoit's

Senter Building

Brunswick, Maine

Campus Survey

No Women, No Social Notes; Founding Fathers Didn't Err

By Frederick W. Willey '47

We now bow humbly before the spirits of the original Trustees who in drawing up the Bowdoin charter so wisely decided that woman's place is, after all, in the home. And if Bowdoin were co-ed, the ORIENT would most assuredly have a stout female reporter whose nose for gossip would leave nothing sacred for the male student population.

The leer and the innuendo would be in order, and a reputation would die with every column. To illustrate our point we herewith reprint a few choice morsels from the social column of the "New Hampshire." Miss Elaine Nord-hum is the Louella Parsons of NHU.

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times. He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

He's not interested in fishing boats either. One Theta U sits up writing letters 'til the wee small hours. Looks serious, Jean." It is Jean reports that her checks from Daddy are not coming as frequently as she expected, and she has been conducting an active campaign to hit the old man for more dough. Jean wants to keep in style and is desperately trying to build her wardrobe into the "new look."

"We understand that Ralph Napies has finally found the love of his life." Ralph reports that he is crazy about Marlene Dietrich in her recent role in "Golden Earrings."

"AGR's Dean Hammond is still taking care of a certain school teacher in Woodsville." Dean's spunkier aunt, who is approaching eighty, is still unable to wrangle an old age pension from the Woodsville Board of Education; and Dean is generously sending her his athletic subsidization checks from the University. "Chi O joined the Ivy league this weekend with a visit from Dartmouth's Bruce Borden. Nice, huh Joyce!...What was the cause of Jack Wiseman's sudden awakening last Thursday afternoon?"

But what if we follow these saccharine tidbits to their logical conclusions. The undistorted truth might prove interesting:

"Ellie Gay deserted campus in favor of that Colgate flame last weekend." Miss Gay, who lives in Hamilton, New York, sped to the fire to help check the flames which were threatening the neighborhood of her home. Al Sweida, K Sig, has been heading for Gloucester several times.

Wives Association Publishes Paper

The first issue of "Chit Chat", the Bowdoin Wives Association's fortnightly newspaper, was published last Thursday, November 13.

The four page paper is edited by Mrs. James B. Draper Jr. Other members of the staff are Mrs. Joseph T. Chadwick, publisher; Mrs. William T. Hume, home editor; Mrs. Laureston C. Dobbrow, art editor; and Mrs. Rowe B. Metcalf and Mrs. Joseph S. White Jr., reporters.

News about the wives is contained in the paper. Columns have been titled "Social Calendar," "News of the Week," "Swap Shop," "Found!", "Opportunity Corner," and "Home-making Department."

The motto chosen for the paper is "Happy Wives Mean Happy Husbands!"

A representative of the group will be in the ORIENT office from ten to twelve weekday mornings, Monday through Friday. Jobs, baby sitters, information, and sympathy are offered and wanted, according to the paper.

The Association is sponsoring a barn dance in the Moulton Union Lounge Friday, November 21, at 8:30 p.m. Tickets will be 60 cents per couple and students, as well as faculty members, are invited to attend.

Polar Bears Down Colby With Power In Last Half

[Continued from Page 3]

kick set the Mules back to their own 33 when Bowdoin's ground attack had proved fruitless, but Joe Verriglia's stellar play sparked the Blue and Gray to a real touchdown threat midway through the first quarter.

Verriglia's fifteen-yard pass to Jim Lundin gave Colby a first down on the Bowdoin forty-five and, after he had run for three, he tossed twenty-two yards to Jack Alex on the nineteen. Alex was felled by Beem and Gil Doble as he caught the pass. Alex and Marden plunged to the twelve, but Verriglia could not reach home on two passes. Marden barely failed to catch the second one in the end zone.

Neither team could martial a sustained drive in the second period, but Dave Burke's outstanding pass defense tactics cost Colby two scoring chances and it was 0-0 at the half.

Bowdoin received the kick-off opening the second half as McAvoy appeared on the scene with a 20 yard runback. But after Toomey failed to gain, Bowdoin elected to pass. Harry Marden came from nowhere to grab Burke's heave at midfield and, cutting to the far sideline, he out-distanced every pursuer to score. But the McAvoy-Toomey-Beem drive put Bowdoin a point ahead after the Bears received the next kick-off.

Tubby Washburn returned Ireland's low kick-off to the thirty-five, but the bandaged Bowdoin forwards held and the Mules had to return to the air. Marden's ten-yard heave was the victim of one of three Burke interceptions, however, and Bowdoin took over at the 20 after his sparkling 30 yard return. Again it was McAvoy and Toomey, with an assist by Beem, who carried to the one-yard line. Burke received due credit for the touchdown on a fourth-down naked reverse.

Then it was left to Charlie Huen to add the crusher. His forty-eight-yard gallop after grabbing John Mahoney's fumble did just that. Bowdoin had earned a second-place Series tie as the season ended.

The line-ups:
Bowdoin (21)
Ireland, le
Sisson, lt
Lowejoy, lg
Draper, o
Fife, rg
Doberty, rt
Bepko, re
Burke, qb
Hib, qb
Pierce, lb
Toomey, rbb
Williams, fb
Score by periods:
Bowdoin 0 0 13 8-21

Bradbury Trials Are Called Off

Trial for selecting finalists in the Bradbury Prize Debate and men to be placed on the varsity debate squad were postponed indefinitely last Monday evening because of the illness of one of the contestants.

World Relations Debate On Friday

The University of Maine and Bowdoin will meet in two debates Friday evening, November 21.

One contest is to be held at the Maine Annex, the other at Memorial Hall. Both are to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Lewis P. Fickett Jr., '47 and John R. Hupper '50 will present at the Annex the affirmative argument to the question, "Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should be Established."

Ian McInnes '45 and John L. Merrill '45 will present the negative argument at Memorial Hall.

This debate will open the state series, discontinued during the war. Debates with Bates and Colby will follow.

Ladd Elected To Personnel Council

Samuel A. Ladd Jr., Director of the Placement Bureau, was elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association at the annual meeting of the organization held November 6-8 in Schenectady, N. Y.

The placement bureau directors met this year as guests of Union College. Each year a different college is host to the group. Representatives from most big industries also attend the meeting.

The purpose of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association is to coordinate various college personnel officers and personnel officers of industry in placing students. Paul Nixon, Winkley Professor of the Latin Language and Literature, was one of the founders of the organization.

Football Program

[Continued from Page 3] year and has been on the bench through the regular schedule. These programs are sponsored by the Portland radio station WGAN every other Thursday at 1:30 in the afternoon.

Basketball Drills

[Continued from Page 3] Al Tobey and Kirk Foster who saw some service at the end of last season are also in the thick of the fight for starting posts.

Coach Shay, who can be grateful that very few of the squad are completely inexperienced, plans to drill his squad thoroughly on fundamentals before scrimmaging them. Bowdoin is already far behind other Maine colleges who have had practice for some time.

Non-lettermen candidates: Kirk Foster, Paul Zdanowicz, Jim Sisson, Connolly, Milt MacDonald, Paul Callahan, Al Tobey, Bob Leonard, Phil Bird, Dick Hanson, Bob Allen, Dick Buttner, Ed Merrill, Willey Martin, Don Toscani, Chink Winn, Foster Tallman, Forrest Randall, Miles Martin, George Hickey, Don Reimer, Charley Huen, Al Stevens, Ed Lundwall, W. B. Schoenthaler, J. C. Schoenthaler.

Dr. Munn To Lecture In New Haven Tonight

Yale Psychology Department graduate students and faculty this evening will hear a lecture by Norman L. Munn, Professor of Psychology, on the subject "The Introductory Course In Psychology."

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning ----- Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

KISSES $1.00

"I'll take Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"He's got something there! When it comes to girls you can love 'em and leave 'em, but once you've tasted that swell flavor of Dentyne Chewing Gum, you're sold solid for life, Brother! Dentyne helps keep teeth white, too!"

Dentyne Gum — Made Only By Adams

JUST RECEIVED...

Sheepskin Lined GREAT COATS

18 - 19 Oz. Army OFFICER'S "PINKS"

Whitman's Cotton Gabardine Outside with Shearling Sheepskin Lining Sleeves are Interlined with Leather

100 % All Wool Elastique "Pinks" Made with flaps on both hip pockets Plain Front HARMON'S Made a Special Purchase on These

¾ Length $38.50 Full Length $47.50

at $17.50

The College Shop

HARMON'S

199 Maine Street

Brunswick

"You strike it rich when you choose Chesterfield... they're tops!"

Ray Willard

ACADEMY AWARD WINNER STARRING IN PARAMOUNT'S "GOLDEN BARRINGS"

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder B BETTER TASTING C COOLER SMOKING

The sum-total of smoking pleasure

THEY SATISFY

Krupa's Band to Highlight Coming House Party Formal Fraternities Plan Usual Dances And Sleigh Rides

Highlight of the gala festivities planned for Christmas House parties is a formal dance with Gene Krupa and his orchestra at the Sargent Gymnasium on Friday evening December 19.

Krupa, famous for his talent with the drums, has featured with his orchestra, Buddy Hughes, Dolores Hawkins, and The Jazz Trio. With Benny Goodman and Tommy Dorsey, Gene Krupa helped to educate the public to the rage of swing music in 1934. He is now one of the leading dance masters and he has played at many of the best locations in the country, including Hotels Pennsylvania, and Sherman, the Paramount and Strand Theatres in New York, and the Palladium in Hollywood.

The gymnasium will be decorated by the Student Council and the Bowdoin Wives. On the Student Council Houseparty Committee are Vincent C. Langlan '50, Chairman, Fred W. McConky '49, Louis R. Fortescue '46, and Lawrence J. Ward '46.

Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" will be presented by the Masque and Gown in Memorial Hall at 4:00 p.m. on Friday. The members of the cast are Herbert L. Gould '50, Robert W. Kyle '49, Harold E. Lusher '48, Peter T. Poor '50, Mrs. Atheron P. Daggett, Mrs. James B. Draper, Jr., Mrs. Dwight W. Pierce, Jr., Mrs. Fagan H. Simonson, Jr., and Miss Drusilla Congdon.

The fraternity plans for the weekend are various and interesting. The Psi Upsilon fraternity will have a dance on Thursday evening with Ted Herbert and his orchestra. A Vic dance will be held at the Chi Psi Lodge on the same evening.

Phi Upsilon's Polar Bears will divide their time on Thursday night between the Deke and D and U's. Both fraternities are also considering sleigh rides after their dances.

Theta Delta Chi will have a punch party followed by a buffet supper and dancing to Norm Hill on Thursday. Cocktails will be served before the banquet on Friday.

An informal dance with Lloyd Raphael and a hayride are planned by the Zetes for Thursday. A dance is also being looked forward to at the Kappa Sigma House that same night. Frank Littlefield and his "Stylists" will perform.

The Beta's will start the Houseparty with a dance featuring the Maine Black Bears on Thursday and a cocktail party on Friday preceding the Gym dance.

Bob Warren's orchestra will play for a dance at the ATO House on Thursday. On the following day they will have a cocktail party after the play and a sleigh ride in the evening.

Seven Faculty To Assist Fund

The appointment of a special seven-man faculty committee on the College's Sesqui-centennial Fund has been announced by President Kenneth C. M. Sills.

The committee of which former Dean Paul Nixon is chairman, will act as the "clearing house" for all matters affecting the relations of the faculty and administration with the Sesqui-centennial Fund organization.

In addition to Dean Nixon, other members of the committee are Stanley P. Chase and Herbert R. Brown, Professors of English; Morgan B. Cushing, Professor of Economics; Samuel E. Kamering, Professor of Chemistry; George H. Quinby, Associate Professor of English and Director of Dramatics; and Malcolm E. Morrill, Director of Athletics.

The newly appointed faculty committee will maintain liaison with the Sesqui-centennial Fund directors and assist in general public relations.

Bowdoin Scholars To Attend Dinner

The James Bowdoin Dinner will be held Thursday evening at 6:45 in the Moulton Union. Members of the faculty as well as the 54 James Bowdoin Scholars have been invited to attend. Professor Kirkland will give an informal talk for the faculty.

Dean Releases Warning Figures; 317 Men Deficient

With the warning that "not only men of major warning standing now, but also those who were on major warning in their last term, whether it be summer or spring, can be dropped in February for failing two courses," Dean Nathaniel G. Kendrick released the figures on major and minor warnings at the review of grades.

Because of an increase in the enrollment of 963 for last year to 1069 for the present term, and a decrease in the number of veterans entering college, the 117 major and 200 minor warnings were not "unusual." These tabulations show a percentage increase of from 7.6% to 10.7% which is "almost the average for the last ten year period."

Kendrick continued by reasoning that "there is no tangible, specific way of cancelling out all causes due to fire fighting." However he added that fires might have been the reason in several cases. A failure to understand the English language caused some foreign students trouble. Having given these reasons, the Dean warned that "26 of the major warnings, however, were issued to freshmen, whose work at the present time is most important in order to hold a place in the College."

Recounting past years, the Dean revealed that this review of grades showed no all time low, nor by any means a new high. The study-conscious veterans were becoming less, and the classes are becoming more and more of a pre-war character, the Dean continued.

Glee Club Sings First 'Glee' Song At Hebron Prep

The Bowdoin College Glee Club sang the first "glee" song ever written in its concert last Friday evening at Hebron Academy.

The program directed by Professor Frederic Tiltson, Professor of Music, also featured additions to the club's growing repertoire. "The Drinking Song" from Vaughn Williams' Cantata and "Windsor Forest," a work of Fallstaffian humor were sung.

The glee song "Glorious Apollo" in three parts was originally sung in English at its first performance. The formation of clubs to sing these "glees" led to our present day Glee Clubs.

The concert followed a supper given for the Glee Club. The other numbers included "Waters Rimple and Flow," Tchaikovsky's "Pilgrim's Song," "Listen to the Lambs," "Shenandoah," and Grieg's "Brothers Sing On."

Will Bowdoin Accept NSA? Students To Vote Tonight

George Paradis '49
Tonight the student body of Bowdoin will determine whether or not Bowdoin should accept the United States National Student Association, popularly known as NSA.

The voting will be carried on by each fraternity on campus. After each fraternity has voted, the entire votes of all students at Bowdoin will be counted. A two thirds vote is necessary to make Bowdoin College a member of the NSA.

Raymond S. Trough '50, Joseph C. Wheeler '48, and Lawrence J. Ward '46, Student Council members, represented Bowdoin at the Mt. Holyoke College meeting of the NSA this Fall.

These men have suggested the following reasons why Bowdoin should be affiliated with the NSA. 1. NSA will have a great influence over student thinking and action. We should help supply intelligent participation. 2. We are not in any organization of this sort; membership is not overlapping.

They also remind us that 3. some phases of NSA do not concern us, but many do; for instance, international student activity and relief work. Helping to register a positive stand is better than inaction, and no college can have influence in the development of an organization if it stands on the outside.

The NSA is an organization of college students, formed at Madi-

Bowdoin-on-the-Air Gives Smoker for Enthusiasts

F.M. Can Be Converted To Standard Radios; 31 New Men Join Bowdoin Radio Station

Under the direction of Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, and C. Cabot Easton '48, there was a smoker given by Bowdoin-on-the-Air last Thursday evening in order that those interested in furthering the enlarged program might become acquainted with its organization.

During the afternoon, the Faculty, student and Alumni Committees met to discuss present problems. It was revealed at that meeting by Mr. Roger W. Hodgins, chief engineer of station WGAN in Portland, that the General Electric Corporation manufactured a frequency modulation instrument for schools which could make the program available throughout the area.

To add to this because of the few number of radios which will receive F.M., he announced that converter sets could be placed in the basements of the dormitories and fraternity houses, each with an oscillator. He said that until more people have the new radio receiver F.M. sets, we can still make the programs available under the old standard radios.

Easton announced that thirty-one new men had joined the organization. He added that the group still has a great need for more men, even though "we were extremely gratified at the number that turned out for the smoker last Thursday."

The students who joined the organization include Milton A. MacDonald '49, Richard C. Barr '51, David M. Marsh '51, Robert H. Frost '51, Charles H. Barrett '50, Donald W. Richardson '49, Edward D. Miller '51, Albert Goon '51, Richard J. Williams '46, John L. Mace '49, George E. Fogg Jr. '43, William E. Gilmour '49, Louis A. Piper II '46.

Others are Robert E. Fillettaz '50, William D. Steele '49, John E. P. Davis '49, F. Proctor Jones '50, Benjamin M. Smethurst '50, Richard M. Van Orden '51, Peter J. King '49, Phillip S. Bird '51, William D. Bailey '45, John A. Mufson '51, Robert F. Fargo '49, William S. Lishman '49, Robert H. Brownell '50, Curtis M. Foster '50, James H. Whitcomb '48, George F. McClelland II '49, Herbert L. Gould '51, and Donald Union '50.

Any students interested in any phase of radio work, such as announcing, programming, sports, newscasting, scriptwriting, acting, producing, publicity, or technical should get in touch with Easton at 25 Moore Hall.

Portland High Wins Scholastic Debate League

Portland High School won first place in the N. H. High School, second place in the Bowdoin Interscholastic Debating League's annual debate held last Saturday afternoon, December 6, in the Moulton Union and Memorial Hall.

This year's subject was: Resolved that the best interests of this country would be served by the use of federal funds for furthering the development of similar to the T.V.A.

Those high schools participating were Portland, South Portland, Deering, Cheverus, Sanford, Bangor, and Laconia. N. H. Each of these schools were represented by two candidates.

Atheron P. Daggett, Professor of Government, was chairman of the Moulton Union Forum, and Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, was chairman of the one held in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Burton W. Taylor, Mrs. Richard Storr, Arthur C. Cressy, Instructor in Government, Eaton Leith, Associate Professor of Romance Languages, Nathan Dane II, and Hubert S. Shaw Assistant Director of Admissions, judged the debate.

Richard Gott of Portland and Charles Ellis of Laconia were cited as the best speakers of their respective sections.

Patton Discusses Near East Problem

"Arms and food alone are not sufficient to keep the Near East democratically minded. What the Eastern Mediterranean countries need most is educated leadership," declared Reverend William W. Patton, D.D., who spoke last Sunday in chapel.

Using the story of Cain and Abel as a basis for his talk, he reminded his audience that the keeping of peace is the responsibility of every man and that human charity, understanding, and honesty are the requisites for a peaceful world.

"We must make the most of the world as it is," he said, "without attempting to convert every one to our way of thinking."

Dr. Patton is the Director of Near East College Association, which supports and operates eight colleges in that troubled area. He was introduced by President Sills who had a personal interest in the Doctor's comments, since he is a trustee of Athens College, a member of the Association.

The services were brought to a close by the College Choir which sang "Holy Lord," a Russian hymn, under the direction of Professor Tiltson.

Carnegie Heads Choose Sills

President Kenneth C. M. Sills has been elected to the Carnegie Foundation Executive Committee as announced by President of the Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Combined Groups To Sing "Messiah" Friday Evening

The combined glee clubs of Bowdoin, Colby and Colby Junior College will present Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah" at 8:00 Friday evening, December 12, at the First Parish Church.

Roger N. Williams '46, tenor and John M. Dunlap Jr. '48, baritone, will be soloists with the choral group of 350, and members of the Portland Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Professor Frederic E. Tiltson. Elizabeth Williams, soprano and Ruth P. Crouse, alto, will return as soloists, having sung with Williams in last year's performance.

The entire performance will be repeated at Colby on Saturday evening, December 13. The Bowdoin Glee Club will be given supper prior to the concert and will attend a special dance following.

Presented by the Bowdoin College Glee Club and sponsored by the Brunswick Choral Society, which instituted the annual affair in 1937, the groups will be augmented by sixty female voices from the Colby Junior College Glee Club of New London, N. H., and eighty female voices from the Colby College Glee Club.

[Continued on Page 2]

Maritime Bill Support Urged

The Executive Committee of the Bowdoin Political Forum, Joseph C. Wheeler, '48, Lewis P. Fickett, Jr., '47, and S. David Specter '50, are urging Bowdoin students to write to their New England Congressmen requesting the "extension of the authority of the House Maritime Committee beyond March 31, 1948," and for "continuation of the Coast Guard Safety Waiver Bill beyond the deadline March 31, 1948."

The Political Forum Committee Members point out that if these two routine bills now in effect are permitted to expire, American students will not have the use of Government "C-4 Type" ships as transportation to study abroad next year. These vessels have been costly travel expenses with less costly travel expenses than other means, and have proven very satisfactory in the past. Last summer over 6000 American students took advantage of these ships and studied abroad.

Students should warmly urge members of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and members of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee for extension and continuation of their bills before Congress recesses. No other plan has been devised by these committees and there is no formal opposition to the extension bills. Since every American student is an "American Ambassador," it would seem essential that inexpensive means of transportation be continued.

New England members of the Senate Interstate and Foreign

[Continued on Page 2]

Student Council to Poll Opinion on Curriculum

Students Approve Stratton Bill In Recent Forum Poll

The Stratton Bill Poll recently sponsored by the Political Forum, disclosed that 52% of the 400 Bowdoin students who voted approved the Stratton Bill in principle.

The results to the other questions were as follows:

1. Do you favor the Stratton Bill in principle? Yes 52%, No 46%, N. V. 1.5%.
2. Do you favor the admission of displaced persons without regard to race, creed, and religion? Yes 46%, No 46.8%, N. V. 5.3%.
3. There exists four alternatives to the settlement of the refugee problem. Which do you favor?
A. Enforced repatriation Yes 19.8%,
B. Indefinite maintenance of D. P. camps Yes 5.3%,
C. Granting of civil freedom in countries containing refugees Yes 25.95%,
D. Admission to other countries including the United States Yes 42.25%.

4. Do you favor a revision of the United States' present immigration quota laws which now permit the admission of 11,000 people from the Baltic, Balkan and Central European countries? Yes 41%, No 52.8%, N. V. 6.3%.
5. Do you think Communistic infiltration will result if the Stratton Bill is effected? Yes 46.5%, No 43%, N. V. 3.5%.

In admitting displaced persons to the United States; to which factor would you give priority?
[Continued on Page 2]

Smith '13 Named Acting Head Of Fund Campaign

Mr. Lawrence W. Smith '13 of Brunswick, Maine insurance representative, has assumed duties as acting executive director of the Bowdoin College Sesqui-centennial Fund at the national campaign offices of the fund, 142 Free Street.

In a letter to Smith, President Kenneth C. M. Sills of Bowdoin College stated that, "This is a very real service to the college, and I wish to assure you of my personal and official gratitude for the loyalty and devotion which your affection shows. It gives the fund a real lift."

In the Sesqui-centennial Fund, which will start an initial campaign next spring, Bowdoin seeks a primary goal of approximately three million dollars to provide increase in teachers' salaries, construction of new buildings and modernization of others.

Bowdoin Fund Publishes Booklet Expressing Need

The Bowdoin College Sesqui-centennial Fund has sent a preliminary announcement in booklet form entitled "For a Better Bowdoin" to all Bowdoin alumni and friends of the college.

In the introduction to the booklet President Sills calls attention to the fact that there is no institution more dynamic than a college.

"It is an eternal small boy," said the President, "always outgrowing his clothes. A college like Bowdoin cannot stand still; it must go ahead or sink into mediocrity. We all know that we have lacked the facilities that so many colleges of our class have had for years. The lack must be made good."

It has been twenty-five years since the College has called on its graduates, friends, and the general public for funds. He pointed out, The College, under able guidance, has come through the war years without a deficit and hence there is no need for any of the Sesqui-centennial Fund to be used to pay off any indebtedness.

"Bowdoin is not a rich college, nor a rich man's college," said President Sills, "only a college rich in tradition and service. As every Bowdoin man and friend of the College to aid in this difficult and challenging task. Without

Committee To Analyze All College Departments

Walter S. Mather '50
The Student Council Curriculum Committee's questionnaire for a student evaluation of courses will be distributed to all students this evening, announced Raymond S. Trough '50, President of the Student Council.

College Physician

Dr. Johnson Dies Suddenly At Home Of Heart Attack

Dr. Henry L. Johnson, popular College Physician for twenty years, died suddenly at his home on Boody Street December 3 from a heart attack.

In reference to the Doctor's service to the College, President Kenneth C. M. Sills said in a Memorial Chapel Service held last Wednesday, "Never was there a more kindly, a more loving, and a more devoted friend to the college than Doctor Johnson."

Dr. Johnson has been on a leave of absence for the past two years. For the three years preceding his leave, the Doctor established a private practice in Brunswick, because so many physicians entered the armed services.

Dr. Johnson was born in Wiscasset February 16, 1886. He attended the Wiscasset Schools and when his family moved to Brunswick, he went to the Brunswick High School. He was graduated from Bowdoin in 1907, entered the Bowdoin Medical School and in 1912 was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University.

All men having completed four or more courses are requested to fill out at least four questionnaires, one for each course which they wish to evaluate. It is hoped that through this method all courses will be substantially covered. Freshman have been excluded from this initial poll under taking.

Students are especially urged by the Council to take full advantage [Continued on Page 4]

It Happens Here

- TONIGHT
8:00 p.m. — Basketball vs Bates
TOMORROW
6:45 p.m. — Moulton Union Dinner for James Bowdoin scholars
FRIDAY
3:30 p.m. — JV Swimming vs Portland High School
8:00 p.m. — First Parish Church Handel's Messiah with 325 voices, soloists and orchestra.
SATURDAY
2:00 p.m. — Swimming vs Dartmouth
5:00 p.m. — Freshman Basketball vs Thornton Academy
8:00 p.m. — JV Basketball vs Maine Annex.
SUNDAY
5:00 p.m. — Chapel. The President
MONDAY
8:15 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Masque and Gown presents "Hay Fever."
TUESDAY
3:30 p.m. — Freshman Basketball vs Hebron.
8:00 p.m. — JV Basketball vs Portland Junior College.
8:00 p.m. — Showing of Biking Atomic Bomb Films at Moulton Union.

Fraternities' Spokesman Wrongly Condemns Liberal College Action

"College and university administrators who attempt to prevent forcibly the nation's fraternities from exercising racial and religious restrictions in choosing members are violating the tenets of democracy," David A. Embury, chairman of the National Interfraternity Conference, said yesterday at the conference's thirty-ninth annual convention.

The speech which gave rise to this article in the New York Times over a week ago is well worth the attention of all Bowdoin men whose fraternities are members of this conference. For it reveals unsound reasoning on the part of national fraternity officials and an obvious desire for these men to force their views on undergraduates.

We agree with Mr. Embury's essential argument — that the college fraternity is a close-knit group which should have the right to determine its own qualifications for membership. "It is our privilege to . . . form a fraternity of . . . bow-legged men," he claims. True, but are the fraternities really free to establish their own membership qualifications?

Mr. Embury argues that for a college to say that a group must omit restrictions is not democracy, but regimentation. He even urges alumni to withdraw financial support from any college which so threatens its fraternities. And he argues that the instigators of this movement have been "left-wing radicals" and student councils tinged with red.

We wish to point out that the chairman of this interfraternity conference which represents fifty-seven fraternities in the United States and Canada wishes the colleges to restrain from allowing chapters to be free from restrictions so that the national fraternity officials may impose them.

The colleges which have taken the course mentioned have merely attempted to free the local chapters from the domination of national fraternities to the extent that the undergraduates might actually choose those with whom they wish to "live together, eat together, sleep together, date together, and share each other's joys and sorrows."

While with one hand they consistently violate the rights of the local chapters, the national fraternities, as represented by Mr. Embury, are hypocritical enough to proclaim that colleges are "violating the tenets of democracy" and should mind their own business.

Local chapters have a definite right to question the intentions of the organizations of which they are a part. Through unified action they would realize sufficient strength to win the exercise of their own rights from men who are supposedly serving the undergraduates.

R. A. W.

Consider Your NSA Vote Tonight

Very little interest has been shown by the student body in the subject of Bowdoin joining the National Student Association. Yet the important campus-wide vote on this topic is to be taken at fraternity meetings tonight.

The fault for the lack of interest is not due to inadequate publicity. Members of the Student Council have given the subject full coverage through chapel talks, circulars, and articles in this newspaper. The advantages of NSA have been made clear and possible objections and criticisms answered.

Of course most students at once ask — what's in NSA for me? The answer is the improvement of college social life, attention to the problem of discrimination, establishment of faculty-student committees on curricular reform, orientation courses for freshmen, part-time employment service, and a host of other advantages.

Cultural exchange will be established between colleges here in this country and students abroad. World-wide travel and study will be greatly facilitated. It is in this exchange of information and the gathering of new ideas that the greatest advantage of NSA lies.

The cost to us, it has been well pointed out, is negligible, for the profits we shall gain. And the danger of domination of the organization by left-wing groups is very slight.

Bowdoin's future in intercollegiate student relations largely depends on your vote. Consider it carefully.

R. A. W.

On behalf of the undergraduates of Bowdoin the ORIENT wishes to extend its deepest sympathy to the family of Dr. Henry L. Johnson, late college physician, who was a real friend and an unfailing servant to so many Bowdoin men.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, December 10, 1947 No. 16

Editor-in-Chief . . . Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors . . . John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors . . . Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, Harvey S. Jackson '48, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Raymond S. Trough '50
Sports Editor . . . George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor . . . Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editors . . . John F. Noyon III '50, George E. Berliawsky '48
Reporters: Paul L. Bishop '49, George Paradi '49, John L. Bacon '51, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corlies '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Albert P. Phillips '51, John G. Root '51, Garrett J. Sheahan '51, Gerald C. Sheahan '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard C. Van Orden '51

Sports Assistants: William C. Rogers '48, Fagan H. Stimson, Jr. '50
Photographers . . . Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists . . . William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager . . . Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager . . . Alfred J. Waxler '47
Circulation Managers . . . C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Arthur H. Shewalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Eustison, Jr. '48, Joseph H. White, Jr. '49, John F. Avey II '50, Donald Union '50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blatchford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Fardoe '51

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors . . . Professor Albert P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49, Edward S. Early '49
News Editor for this issue . . . Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47

NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.
College Publishers Representative
480 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO • CINCINNATI • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor, and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Hamilton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter of the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is five ($5) dollars.

'SAME OLD STORY'

Noyes Praises Efforts Of World Science Organization

Nelson D. Payne '50

Dr. Albert Noyes Jr., head of the chemistry department at the University of Rochester and president of the American Chemical Society, spoke, under the auspices of the Bowdoin Institute of World Politics and Organization, on the subject "The International Aspects of Science" in Memorial Hall, December 5, at 8:15 p.m.

Speaking with the authority of an outstanding scientist, educator, and scholar, Dr. Noyes traced the growth and decay of various attempts at international cooperation in the fields of science. Citing as a random example, the International Union of Chemistry, he described its organization, its objectives, and the type of support it received from the time of its establishment after the last World War to the present time.

He pointed out that the Union's support was derived mainly from those countries where scientific and technological development had reached a high degree of maturity. As objectives the Union had the standardization of symbols, dissemination of technical publications and the cooperative exchange between countries of students and scholars.

He said this effort at international cooperation was severely curtailed by lack of adequate funds and by an attitude for apathy on the part of those who should have been most interested in the Union's success. "The body's one great fault is", Dr. Noyes said, "it is not well equipped to aid in stimulating scientific activity in areas where it is very weak."

As a step in the right direction Dr. Noyes pointed to the work of the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. He quoted from its preamble: "Since war begins in the minds of men; it is in the minds of men that the defenses of peace must be constructed." He went on to explain that the Natural Sciences division of this important body had arrived at a program that was acceptable to the several participating countries more speedily than those divisions where differences of political ideologies had hampered the discussion of the field's objectives. As a general outline of the program the Natural Science division would follow, the division listed the following:

[Continued on Page 4]

Orchid Corsages

FROM HAWAII OVERNIGHT BY AIR

Write or wire us. We'll have gorgeous, rare Hawaiian orchid corsages rushed via air mail special. Each lovely flower is 7" to 9" in diameter. Overnight delivery almost anywhere. Freshness longer lasting. Guaranteed. Reference: Security First National Bank. Gift boxed and gift card enclosed.

Be right with your gift. There's no time to lose. And where can you beat these prices.

Skyway FLOWERS

117-C South La Brea • Inglewood, Calif.

Records - Radios
Electric Supplies
—and—
Service

NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE

212 Maine Street. Phone 1205-W

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

Ladd Announces Pre-Christmas Job Interviews

Samuel A. Ladd Jr., Placement Director, announced that representatives from industrial firms will be on campus sometime before Christmas for interviews with the February graduates.

Arrangements with Mr. Ladd should be made by men interested in being interviewed and by those who are graduating in February.

Some of the firms represented include the International Business Machine Company, the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, the American Optical Company, the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, the E. I. Du Pont Company, and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Stratton Bill

[Continued from Page 1]

- ority?
- Relatives in the United States Yes 21.3%.
 - Skilled labor in all fields Yes 22.5%.
 - DP's suffering the most desperate economic conditions Yes 21.4%.
 - DP's fleeing political and religious persecution Yes 23.8%.
 - Do you think admission of displaced persons will aggravate the problem of unemployment in the United States? Yes 59.8%, No 32.7%, N.V. 7.5%.

The poll was under the auspices of the Political Forum, the Bowdoin Christian Association, the Student Union Committee, and the ORIENT.

NSA Question

[Continued from Page 1]

As the first step in this direction, NSA has a seat on the National UNESCO Council of the UNO. NSA stands in close cooperation with WSSF, the World Student Service Fund and is channeling all its relief for foreign students through the now enlarged program of WSSF.

A committee of NSA is arranging terms for, and studying the full implications of, membership in the International Union of Students. A list of the member countries in the organization will show that all types of political setups and ideological backgrounds are represented in IUS, and NSA feels that it would be a positive step to meet and exchange information with other students of different beliefs and cultures. In this way NSA can play a part in international student activity and promote closer understanding.

We need not be apprehensive about our affiliation in case NSA does not function as it promises to do, or in case we cannot support its future positions. To take care of these eventualities, the constitution has been written so that withdrawal is an easy and uncomplicated matter.

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

FOR MEN LONELY $1.00

See Nancy Smith's Christmas Card of Bowdoin Chapel

WONDERFUL SELECTION OF CHRISTMAS CARDS
(We print your name on cards at very reasonable rates)
Petit Larousse is back in stock - $4.50

CUMBERLAND

WED.-THURS. Dec. 10-11

"CARNEGIE HALL"

with Martha Hunt
William Prince
also
News
1st Eve. Show at 6 P.M.

FRI.-SAT. Dec. 12-13

"THUNDER IN THE VALLEY"

with
Peggy Ann Garner
Lon McCallister
also
Short Subjects

SUN.-MON.TUES. Dec. 14-15-16

"HER HUSBAND'S AFFAIRS"

with Franchot Tone
Lucille Ball
also
Short Subjects

WED.-THURS. Dec. 17-18

"THE UPTURNED GLASS"

with
James Mason
Ressmood John
also
Short Subjects

Henry '50 Heads Independents

Merton G. Henry '50 and Clayton J. Kamp '49 were elected President and Vice-President respectively of the Independents at a recent meeting in the Moulton Union. Rupert M. Clarke '51 was elected to the class of Secretary-Treasurer, and James McKeene '50 was chosen to fill the new post for the Independents on the Student Council. Igor R. Blake '51 was elected as Union Committee representative.

Beam Announces December Exhibit

Throughout December there will be a special exhibition of original cartoons by Daniel Fitzpatrick of the St. Louis "Post-Dispatch" at the Walker Art Building.

Daniel Fitzpatrick has for many years been one of America's most famous newspaper editorial cartoonists. His work has been frequently honored; he won the Pulitzer Prize for Cartoons in 1926. His drawings are owned by Museums and Collectors in numerous foreign countries.

Also on view are a series of colored wood-block prints of flowers and fruits by Luigi Rist. Both Mr. Fitzpatrick's cartoons and Mr. Rist's prints may be purchased.

"Messiah" Concert

[Continued from Page 1]

Professor Tillotson, who rehearsed the Bowdoin Glee Club and the Brunswick Choral Society assisted by Lucille Morin, accompanist, will direct the entire production. William Dougherty '46 and Frederick Moore '49 are business managers for the production.

The members of the Portland Symphony are under the direction of Russell Cook. Florence Barbers directs the Colby Junior College Glee Club and John Thomas, the Colby Glee Club.

High school students will be admitted to the 2:30 p.m. dress rehearsal on December 12. Admission is 25 cents. The Choral Society hopes in this way to relieve the demand for tickets for the evening performance which turned away 300 persons last year.

Ticket holders for the evening performance will be admitted at the south entrance of the First Parish Church. Admission is $1.20 and tickets are on sale at the Moulton Union College Book Store.

"Hayfever" Not Promising; Cast, Sets Discouraging

Edward L. Kallop '48

The brief and cursory glance we had taken of the set for the Masque and Gown's forthcoming production "Hay Fever" by Noel Coward proved not too enlightening. Several corners, doors, and windows, all bathed in a frozen pea green seemed rather sombre and forbidding.

A further glance at the finished sketch, carefully painted by Bob Bliss revealed a set not at all forbidding, but to use another's coined phrase "homey and hearthright," complete with grand piano and Florentine vase.

On this nascent stage an interesting and varied cast will cavort and carouse next Monday evening at 8:15, and again on the afternoon of Friday, December 19, at 4:00 in the midst of the house-party festivities.

The bottom steps after a time became rather uncomfortable and the great hall's gothic grandeur a bit too much for our simple tastes. Descending the dusty and listing staircase gave us a bit of fright—the kind that comes from any insecure position at great heights.

We sighed with new relief and settled back into the relative luxury of lower Upper Memorial Hall to witness the rehearsal of this famous and facile comedy.

Unfortunately we came in at a crucial moment in the play. No one seemed anxious to do very much, at least not until tea had been served. As a result, our interest wandered to the sidelines where there seemed to be tremendous, almost heated activity.

Peter Poor was thrusting his arm up an down in the manner of a threshing machine. Mrs. Draper seemed a bit excited, undoubtedly organizing a labor union for Bowdoin's more promising actors and actresses. The others, though garroulous, were docile in comparison. Even Mrs. Daggett appeared slightly glum, probably in deep concentration over the State of the Play.

At the close of the first act Mr. Quinby, the director, shepherded the cast over the perilous route to upper Upper Memorial Hall to see the unfinished set. On their way out several members of the cast, viewing our note-taking, glowered at us with all the hauteur of a J. Parnell Thomas. Herb Gould, quite seriously concerned, pleaded for us to remain for the second act. The second act, he declared, was really much better than the first.

As delighted as we were with the first act, we were forced to leave while the second act was still in progress, since time and the elements were pressing.

In the entryway we found Joshua Curtis reverently serving on a piece of golden damask that would make the eyes of even the staidest archbishop pop. Upon inquiry he revealed the damask was a window curtain in the making.

Once again in the quiet cold of Maine's new fallen snow, we trudged happily homeward, Noel Coward's brilliant lines still ringing in our chilled ears.

The New England member of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee is Representative Horace Seeley-Brown of Conn.

Bookstore Income Statement

BOWDOIN BOOK SERVICE
Summer sessions 1947
Income		$11,568.68
Expense
Cost of books		9,354.50
Gross operating profit		2,214.18
Less: Operational expense
Wages, telephone, misc.	1,098.72
Plant improvement	582.34	1,681.06
(Alterations - Basement of Moore Hall)
Balance — End of period		473.12
Balance — From last period		331.26
Total — Reserve account		$ 804.38
Approximate saving to the student body		475.00
Paid by the Book Service to student help		433.20
For the Committee
W. H. Dunning
Secretary

Business, too, must have expert navigation

IN the telephone business, much of the knowledge of "where we are" and guidance as to "where we are headed" comes from the analysis of statistics.

Telephone statisticians and engineers are constantly studying trends and figures. They assemble the facts, analyze them, correlate them, discover their significance, draw guidance from them.

The work of these men is vital to our never-ending task of improving telephone service. In such work many college-trained men have found satisfying and rewarding careers.

And this is but one of the many interesting phases of the telephone business.

There's opportunity and adventure in telephony.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Bowdoin Rejects ECAC; To Await Normal Times

Lovejoy '50 To Lead '48 Football Team

[Continued on Page 4]

Shay's Courtmen to Challenge Bates Tonight in First Home Game

Frosh Hoopsters Prepare To Meet Thornton Prep

93 Men Receive Athletic Awards

Junior varsity numerals went to William J. Reardon, J. Ward Stackpole, Fagan H. Simonton Jr., Richard L. Badger, Ian MacInnes, David L. Early, Dana W. Brown, Richard Archibald, Kenneth C. Hutchinson, D. Bruce Alden, Le-

[Continued on Page 4]

Mules Down Bears 38-36 In Opener; Fouls Cause Loss

The line-ups:		FG	F	P
BOWDOIN
Connolly, lf		7	1	1
Pandora		1	0	3
Schoenthaler, rf		4	1	3
Lundwall		0	0	0
Speirs, c		0	1	1
Reimer		0	0	0
Zdanewicz, lc		2	0	2
Tobey		0	0	0
Deane, rg		2	1	1
Burke		0	0	0
Totals		16	4	12

Polar Bears No Pushover In First Series Contest

Girl Sets Mark At Maine A.A.U. Swimming Meet

[Continued on Page 4]

Three Gridders Make All-State

Bates and Maine each placed four men and Colby two as ties caused the selection of three ends

Swimmers To Meet Dartmouth Saturday

With the installation of the three year rule again, Bowdoin expects to be at its weakest against Dartmouth. Top breaststrokes Soltysiak and Morone, who are usually counted on for first and second will have to bypass this event because of Dartmouth's superior strength. Gath and Blaine will have rough going in the diving also.

Lee Reveals White Key Purpose And Schedules

Lee, in closing the interview, gave out the schedules for the basketball league and the bowling league, both of which start on Monday, Dec. 8. The schedules are as follows:

1947 - 48 Winter Sports Schedules

VARSITY BASKETBALL			VARSITY SWIMMING
December
6 Colby	Away		13 Dartmouth		Home
10 Bates	Home		10 Tufts		Home
12 Maine	Away		17 Mass. State		Home
16 New Hampshire	Home		February
January			13 Trinity		Away
9 Trinity	Away		14 Wesleyan		Away
10 Wesleyan	Home		14 Western University		Away
17 Maine	Home		21 Williams		Home
20 Colby	Home		28 Amherst		Home
22 Bates	Away		March
February			13 New England		M.T.T.
14 Amherst	Home		J.V. SWIMMING
17 Colby	Home		December
21 Suffolk	Home		12 Portland		Home
24 Bates	Home		January
27 Maine	Maine		9 Hebron		Home
J.V. BASKETBALL			17 Edward Little		Home
13 Maine Annex	Home		23 Brunswick		Home
16 Portland Jr.	Home		24 Exeter		Home
January			February
10 M.C.I.	Home		13 Portland Boys Club		Away
17 Maine	Home		23 Deerinc		Home
20 Colby	Home		28 Hebron		Home
22 Bates	Home		March
24 Coburn	Home		5 State Meet		Home
February			VARSITY TRACK
12 Bridton	Home		January
17 Colby	Home		24 K. of C. Games		Bo-ton
20 New C.C.I.	Home		February
24 Bates	Home		7 B.A.A. Games		Boston
27 Maine	Home		14 New Hampshire		Home
FRESHMAN			21 Bates and Colby		Home
12 Thornton	Home		28 Amherst		Home
16 Hebron	Home		March
January			6 I.C.A.A. New York		New York
9 South Portland	Home		12 Interfraternity
16 New England Bus.	Home		FRESHMAN TRACK
20 Deerinc	Home		January
22 Brunswick	Home		14 Portland		Home
24 Fryeburg	Home		23 Bates		Home
February			February
VARSITY HOCKEY			11 Deerinc		Home
January			25 South Portland		Home
10 Fort Devens	Home		J.V. TRACK
14 New Hampshire	Home		January
16 M.T.T.	Home		17 Andover		Home
17 Colby	Home
20 Colby	Home
22 Suffolk	Home
24 Tufts	Home
February
13 Northeastern	Home
16 New Hampshire	Home
16 M.T.T.	Home
J.V. HOCKEY
January
10 M.C.I.	Home
12 Bridton	Home
14 M.C.I.	Home
22 Hebron	Home
24 Maine Annex	Home
February
11 Hebron	Home
14 Maine Annex	Home

Wesleyan Renamed To 1948 Grid Schedule

Bowdoin's 1948 football schedule was brought up to its pre-war level with the announcement that Wesleyan has been returned to the card in place of the University of Massachusetts.

OUTFITTERS TO COLLEGE MEN

Right - to the nth degree
TUXEDOS

A limited Supply Of Arrow Tux Shirts

Inquire at store about our Rental Evening Clothes Service

Benoit's

Senior Building

Brunswick, Maine

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good food - Pleasant Surroundings
Reasonable Prices
Remember, it's the

COLLEGE SPA

"Right Off the Campus"
Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

CLASSIFIED ADS

FOR SALE .
MOTORCYCLE, one three-wheel-
 ed. Excellent condition. '42 model.
 Call R. A. Jensen, A.T.O. House.

This Record Rings the Bell!

...IT'S JOHNNY LONG'S LATEST SIGNATURE RELEASE -

"Jingle Bells"

"JINGLE BELLS" is in for another season of popularity owing to that southpaw of the violin, Johnny Long. Yeah, man, Johnny, you've got a great record!

There's another great record in the spotlight. It belongs to Camel cigarettes. More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!

YOU BET-
CAMEL
IS MY CIGARETTE!

—And here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

Campus Survey

College Rush Shows Signs Of Let-Up, Says Hammond

Albert P. Phillips '51

Since the war years a previously small office has grown into the most important office on campus.

One cannot pick up a daily newspaper or magazine without being vividly reminded of the problems facing Deans of Admission all over the country. Millions of returning veterans are taking advantage of the marvelous generosity of our government. The importance of a college education is apparent to more and more high school graduates.

Though all of us as Bowdoin students have been in contact with the Office of Admissions on campus, many of us know very little of the methods used to choose our fellow students.

Bowdoin standards are based upon unit credits. Each unit represents a year of study in one subject covering four or five hours per week. After an applicant has met this requirement he must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test given by the College Entrance Examination Board.

In the case of veterans Dr. Hammond considers not only his unit standing and the results of his Scholastic Aptitude Test, but also any record he has in training schools while in the service.

Bowdoin, unlike some other colleges has no geographical per cent system. Dr. Hammond has stated that the college wishes to receive more students from parts of the country other than New England, New York, and New Jersey. At present the majority of men come from these areas. This is probably due to the fact that Bowdoin is a family college and was originally meant for New England men.

The importance of the family is shown also in the fact that sons of Bowdoin men, provided they meet the scholastic standards, are given special consideration by the office.

Last May Dr. Hammond received a much needed and capable assistant, Mr. Hubert S. Shaw. Mr. Shaw who is secretary for the class of '36, has taught for the last several years in Washington, D. C. He has planned a trip after Christmas which will take him to Chicago and the middle west and then to Washington and through Virginia and the South. Through this trip the Office of Admissions hopes to introduce men in these regions to the ideas of Bowdoin.

Of the class entering the college in February the majority will be veterans, many of whom have attended Bowdoin before. Most of the non-veterans entering will be men who were students at Bowdoin during the past summer.

Dr. Hammond told our reporter regarding present enrollment conditions "the enrollment will probably go no higher and we can look forward to a gradual decrease in the near future."

Skiers May Join Trip To Mt. Washington

The Ski Squad may go to Mount Washington this weekend. There are five vacancies on the bus. Any undergraduate wishing to go is requested to sign a list in the Gymnasium by Thursday afternoon at five o'clock. Details may be found on the bulletin board in the Gymnasium.

93 Men Receive Athletic Awards

[Continued from Page 3]

land B. Howe, Robert L. Small, Rodman C. Robinson, Bladen Smith, John H. Sabatanski, J. Brooks Aker, Robert M. Emmons, Joseph J. Wright, Jr. Dominic P. Toscani, Charles W. Huen, Thomas R. Graff, Daniel W. Harrison, William J. Beahm, Milton A. MacDonald, Howard L. Thorburn, Robert L. Carley, Henry F. Daley Jr., Joseph W. Gault, Gale W. Bennett, Richard C. Hatch, Victor L. Fortin Jr., Richard Lewson, Richard B. Holden, Lyle W. Sweet, Alfred D. Venge, and Assistant Manager Samuel T. Gilmore.

Freshman numerals were awarded to Robert H. Avery, Norris B. Bond, Charles A. Bradley, Fred A. Carlson Jr., Thomas C. Casey, William H. Clifford Jr., Paul W. Costello, John T. Daggett Jr., Robert E. DeCosta, William T. Graham Jr., Eugene O. Henderson, Rudolph J. Hikel, William J. Knights, John A. Manfuso Jr., David M. Marsh, Theodore Noyes, Stephen J. Packard, William M. Patterson Jr., Robert L. Roberts, Edward W. Rogers, Carl W. Roy, Leonard G. Sauter.

Sills Visits Truman While In Capital

President Kenneth C. M. Sills, while in Washington, D. C. on November 28, at the request of the president of the United States, Harry S. Truman, had a friendly, informal talk with the President on matters concerning Maine and the nation in general.

Thomas F. Shannon, Jules F. Stroup, Richard M. Van Orden, Richard S. Vokey, Laurence A. Westcott, Edward P. Williams, Robert C. Young, and Paul M. Burr.

A.A.U. Swim

[Continued from Page 3]

Ingraham took the 220 freestyle easily over team-mate Bob Blake in 2:26.2. Adin Merrow, All-American Intercollegiate backstroke, beat out Dick Lucas, All-American Interscholastic dorsalist in 2:33.9.

220 yard backstroke invitation — Won by Merrow, Bowdoin; second, Lucas, P.B.C.; third, Ingraham, Bowdoin. Time 2:35.3.

50 yard breaststroke, novice, for women — Won by Blinn, P.B.C.; second, Chisholm; third, Stout, P.B.C. Time 24.9 seconds.

50 yard freestyle, invitation, for women — Won by Pat Scott; second, Olsen, P.B.C.; third, Diane Sawyer. Time 23.8 seconds.

100 yard freestyle, open, for men — Won by Blake, Bowdoin; second, Wishart, P.B.C.; third, Solyznak, Bowdoin. Time 27.9 seconds.

Diving for women — Won by Crookston, P.B.C.; second, Blanchard, P.B.C.; third, Rogers, P.B.C. Winning score 38.18 points.

25 yard freestyle, invitation, for men — Won by Ingraham, Bowdoin; second, Blake, Bowdoin; third, Lucas, P.B.C. Time 22.2.

100 yard backstroke, AAU Championship, for women — Won by Patricia Scott, P.B.C.; second, Crookston, P.B.C.; third, Sawyer, P.B.C. Time 1:11.9. (New Maine AAU Record — old record 1:15.2)

100 yard breaststroke, Junior AAU Championships, for men — Won by Knowles, P.B.C.; second, Van Vleet, Bowdoin; third, Selick, P.B.C. Time 1:16.6.

50 yard freestyle, novice, for women — Won by Chisholm, P.B.C.; second, Piper, P.B.C.; third, Gullian, P.B.C. Time 36.3 seconds.

50 yard freestyle, novice, for men — Won by Papp, Bowdoin; second, Stearns, Decatur; third, Williams, Bowdoin. Time 27.7 seconds.

50 yard freestyle, invitation, for women — Won by Christianson, P.B.C.; second, Olsen, P.B.C.; third, Crookston, P.B.C. Time 24.6 seconds.

300 yard medley relay — Won by Bowdoin (Morrow, Moran, Eravell); second, Bowdoin (Morrow, Van Vleet, Curry). Time 3:15.1.

Council To Poll Course Opinion

[Continued from Page 3]

of the opportunity to make additional comments on any phases of the instruction or curriculum which has not been covered by the questionnaire.

The completed, integrated report containing the individual analyses of all departments will be presented to President Kenneth C. M. Sills, sometime during the February trimester and will be published in the ORIENT following his approval.

In a joint statement issued after today's meeting, the Student Council said that its primary purpose in taking steps to coordinate student thinking was to help better the educational set-up here at the college.

The most important part of the college, continued the statement, is the courses it offers to the students. It therefore seems natural that the Council should pay its first attentions to this curriculum by having a serious study made of the situation.

"Count Ilya Tolstoy, the second son of the famous novelist, Liev Tolstoy, will speak in Memorial Hall Saturday evening on the present condition of affairs in Russia." ORIENT, Nov. 16, 1921.

Carpenter Wins Speaking Contest; Stetson Runner Up

The Alexander Prize Speaking Contest was won by Sherman B. Carpenter '49 last Monday night in Memorial Hall.

Mr. Carpenter chose "Conspicuous Bravery" by Tom Powell as the subject for his oration. It related to the post-war experiences of a veteran who was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for "Conspicuous Bravery".

Robert Stetson '50, who won second prize, chose a very different topic from "The Thurbur Carnival" by James Thurber. The other contestants were Howard R. Dwellley '49, John R. Hupper '50, Forrest H. Randall '49, and Robert W. Kyle '49.

Bates Game

[Continued from Page 3]

remaining starting post. The second five comprises Dick Pandora, Ed Lundwall, Don Reimer, Al Tobey and Dave Burke.

BOWDOIN: Canhois, f. Jenkins, c. Simpson, c. Barnes, c. Deane, c. Zdanowicz, g.

Swimmers to Try Telegraphic Meet

Bowdoin's varsity swimming team is engaging Emory University in a telegraphic meet on Thursday, December 11th in a new project instigated by Emory officials in Georgia.

If this venture is found to be successful in stimulating individuals and the team as a whole, Bowdoin will probably try to get such a meet for every Thursday before a varsity meet at home or away.

Noyes On Science

[Continued from Page 3]

world by advanced methods of socialization and the other was to increase the means of production in the needy countries.

Said Dr. Noyes: "The broad problem of raising the standards of living everywhere is one which science must implement. A broader base of education, the training of scientific men in all countries by the provision of institutes of higher education, and finally the carrying into practice of the knowledge which we have acquired must proceed in all countries of the world, if the standard of living is to be raised."

Henry, Mullane Win Achorn Prize Debate Contest

Merton G. Henry '50 and John J. Mullane '50 won the Achorn Prize Debate held last Monday evening, November 24, in Bannister Hall.

The subject of the debate was: Resolved, that the best interests of the country would be served by the use of federal funds for further regional developments similar to T.V.A.

Henry was awarded first prize for individual speaking. Stevenson won the second prize for individual speaking.

Albert Abrahamson, Professor of Economics, Burton W. Taylor, Associate Professor of Sociology, and Richard Storrs, instructor in American History were judges for the contest.

Football Captain

[Continued from Page 4]

He played perhaps his best game against Maine when he shoved the Black Bears' little All-American guard, Jack Zollo, all over the field. Lovejoy was named on the Portland Sunday Telegram's All-Maine eleven.

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

FOR CHRISTMAS AND A LIFETIME

ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA

FREE—Booklet and Information

Write—Phone—or Call
4 Cleveland - Phone 935-M

The Christmas Gift For Her . . .

New Parker Demi - "51" $12.50 - $15.00
Sets $17.50 - $22.50

Student discount on all pens, pencils, and sets for remainder of the semester

GYM WORK-OUT SUITS

Shirts $1.95 Pants $2.59

BOWDOIN CHRISTMAS CARDS

2 for 15c 14 for $1.00 100 for $6.00

Available NOW at the

MOULTON UNION STORE

The U. S. Air Force offers you

$336 a month one year after graduation

THAT's what you can earn after completing one year of pilot training and winning your wings in the Air Force.

It is a good deal from the start. While you're an Aviation Cadet you draw $75 per month, plus food, quarters, uniforms, medical and dental care. After successfully finishing the course, you are commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Air Force Reserve, and assigned to active duty with the Air Force at $336 a month (including flight pay), with excellent chances for further increases as promotions come through.

In addition, you get an extra $500 for each year of active duty, and will be given a chance to compete for a commission in the Regular Air Force if you are interested in a service career.

This opportunity, which cannot be duplicated anywhere else at any price, equips men for well-paid, responsible positions throughout the aviation industry, at high pay from the beginning. It is open to you if you're single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or pass an examination measuring the equivalent). Ask for details at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or write to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

U. S. ARMY AND U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

NOTE: If you were awaiting assignment or taking training when the Aviation Cadet program was cut back in 1944-45, you can re-qualify simply by passing the physical examination, provided you meet the other requirements listed above. Write for information to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

CAREERS WITH A FUTURE

U. S. Army and
U. S. Air Force

"I've smoked Chesterfield for years and find they completely Satisfy."

James Stewart

STARRING IN
ROBERT RISKEIN'S NEW PICTURE
"MAGIC TOWN"
RELEASED BY RKO RADIO PICTURES

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The sum-total of smoking pleasure

THEY SATISFY

Choir To Present Christmas Carols On Station WGAN

Steele And Weidner Are Feature Soloists For Holiday Program

The Bowdoin Chapel Choir, the Bowdoin Brass Sextet, Donald D. Steele '50, and Frederick Weidner III '50 will be featured in a program of Christmas music to be presented in the Bowdoin College Chapel tomorrow, December 18, at 1:30 p.m. under the auspices of Bowdoin-on-the-Air, the Bowdoin Music Department, and radio station WGAN.

Students, faculty, and the general public are cordially invited to attend, but no one will be allowed to enter the chapel after 1:20 p.m.

The Choir will present the following selections, to be broadcasted at 1:30 over WGAN: "The Boar's Head", a 15th century English song; "In Dulci Jubilo", a 16th century German Christmas carol; "Lo, How A Rose E'er Blooming" by Michael Praetorius, 16th century composer; "The Carol of the Russian Children"; and "Hodie Christus Natus Est", according to Frederic E. T. Tillotson, Professor of Music, one of the finest examples of the contrapuntal type of music of the 16th century.

The Choir will also sing the following three selections, to be transcribed and broadcasted later on January 6 at 8:21 p.m. over WGAN: "Tenebrae Factae Sunt" by Thomas Ludovicius Victoria, "Cantate Domino" by Hans von Hasler and "If Ye Love Me" by Thomas Tallis.

The Sextet will play the following numbers, arranged by Mrs. Maxine A. Dane, wife of Nathan Steele II, Assistant Professor in Classics: "Adeste Fideles", a "Christmas Carol Medley" including "Joy to the World", "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear", "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing", "Silent Night", and "Gloria in Excelsis Deo", and Irving Berlin's "White Christmas". They will close their part of the program with Gottfried Reiche's "Sonata No. 7".

Weidner and Steele will present the following program: "Sing We Noel", a baritone solo by Steele with Weidner singing the descant (a melody sung above the plain song of the baritone); "Down in Yon Forest", a duet; "I saw Three Ships", a solo by Steele with Weidner singing the descant; and "Masters In This Hall", a solo by Weidner.

The program will be produced by C. Cabot Easton '48. The announcers will be James T. Burgess '48, John E. P. Davin '49, and Herbert L. Gould '51.

Lovejoy Elected By Class Of 1950

The class of 1950 named Charles A. Lovejoy Jr. president, James H. Sibson vice-president, and Howard C. Rieche Jr. secretary-treasurer in an election held under the auspices of the Student Council, on December 4 in Memorial Hall.

The Student Council Committee in charge of the election was: Henry J. Bracchi '46, chairman, Larry J. Ward '46, Robert Whitman '45, Clinton B. Clark '46, and Jared T. Weatherill '49.

The presidential race proved to be the closest contest of the election with Lovejoy winning over Martin H. Lee by six votes. Lovejoy was also, recently elected next year's football captain.

Fund Chooses Area Chairmen

Two new regional chairmen have been appointed to the Bowdoin College Sesquicentennial Fund, Maj. Gen. Wallace C. Phillips, general chairman of the fund, announced last week.

Aahmed White '12, president of Pierce, White and Drummond, Inc., Bangor, has accepted the position of regional chairman for Maine and Charles S. Braden '26, of the firm of Upton, Braden and James, Ltd., Montreal, Canada, has accepted the position of regional chairman for Canada.

In his first official act as regional chairman for Maine, Mr. White announced that Karl R. Philbrick '23, trust officer of the Eastern Trust and Banking Co., Bangor, will serve as area chairman for Penobscot County.

Braden will organize the support in Canada and areas outside the United States for the College's drive for funds.

Combined Choral Groups In "Messiah" Presentation

FREDERIC TILLOTSON leads the Bowdoin, Colby and Colby Junior Glee Clubs, and the Brunswick Choral Society in the great oratorio at the First Parish Church. Roger N. Williams '46, tenor, is the soloist.

Music Review

Tillotson Directs Brilliant Performance As Glee Clubs Give Handel's "Messiah"

By Charles T. Dillaway '49

Meddiebempsters Schedule Recitals For Winter Term

The Meddiebempsters this year are better than ever and their program includes the widest variety of performances since they were organized.

This double quartet is in the process of doing radio broadcasts which may be heard over Station WGAN in Portland every Tuesday night at 8:20. Their outside engagements include a concert at the annual Snowball Fest at Wellesley College, and a benefit performance for the French Club at the Morse High School in Bath.

The ten men who are responsible for the popularity of the Meddiebempsters are: George Vose '51, Morgan Heussler '46, Don Lyons '48, all tenors; Roger Williams, '46, Dan Kunhardt '49, 2nd tenors; Don Snyder '50, Herb French '46, baritone; Charlie Lovejoy '50, Chuck Perry '48, Bob Whitman '45, bass.

Walter L. Sanborn Will Start Fund

Under the will of the late Walter L. Sanborn '01 of Lansdale, Pa., the College will receive a fund amounting to approximately one-quarter of Mr. Sanborn's residual estate to be known as the "Walter L. Sanborn Oxford County Scholarship Fund," according to President Kenneth C. M. Sills.

Dramatic Review

"Hayfever" Setting Excellent, Production Is Entertaining

By William M. Davis '49

Monday evening at 8:15 the curtain went up for the Christmas Houseparty production of the Masque and Gown - Noel Coward's "Hayfever", the excellent setting, a living room in a country home in England, designed by Robert Bliss, President of the organization, the direction by Professor George Quinby, Director of Dramatics for the college.

It is a pleasure to have the attractive Mrs. Catherine Daggett come more on the Masque and Gown stage. With the finesse of ability and the sureness of experience, Mrs. Daggett subtly and smoothly portrays the delightful English actress who "retired so very finally last year" from the stage, and consequently is sighing away, indulging in every opportunity to bolster her morale by creating dramatic interpretations of her "quiet" life, as landed gentry in Cookham.

Understanding, evidently, how such a grand lady ought to feel, Mrs. Daggett makes Judith Bliss a fascinating and realistic woman. She strolls through her garden in

One of the delightful highlights of the Christmas season is the performance of Handel's "Messiah", with its mighty choruses and pastoral atmosphere telling beautifully the simple story of the Son of God.

Committee Cites Students' Apathy In Curriculum Poll

About 820 completed Student Council Curriculum Committee questionnaires were returned out of over 3500 distributed to the student body last week.

Other blanks have yet to be returned. But the student response is very disappointing, according to a statement made by Richard A. Wiley '49, chairman of the Curriculum Committee.

"Students constantly complain about faults or omissions in the curriculum at Bowdoin", Wiley said. "But when they are offered an opportunity to have their opinions considered and possibly be of some influence, these same students pass up that opportunity."

"Perhaps this poor response to the poll indicates that most students fail to find fault with the curriculum. In any case the forms submitted will be analyzed and the completed report submitted to the President."

Return of completed questionnaires by subjects were as follows: Art, 13; Astronomy, 11; Biology, 33; Chemistry, 30; Education, 21; Economics, 75; English and Comparative Literature, 142; French, 42; German, 35; Government, 97; and Greek, 6; History, 75; Latin, 11; Mathematics, 57; Music, 5; Philosophy, 27; Physics, 48; Psychology, 46; Religion, 7; Sociology, 33; Spanish, 7.

tea gown and goloshes, woos her daughter's beau with "Parlez-moi d'Amour," yet is able to quibble with alarming fervor with her husband as to whether the Rue St-Honore or the Rue Boissy d'Anglas leads into the Place de la Concorde. At times Mrs. Daggett's voice is perhaps flat and winnish, although her overall performance certainly leaves little to be desired.

Top honors, though, are in order for Mrs. Kay Draper's restrained, convincing performance of Myra Nelson - a lady who can't be kissed, (it's too hot and the ride down in the train was beastly!) yet manages to bring along a tennis racket for her weekend in the country.

Mrs. Draper is never awkward but gay and precise. From her opening "Judith, my dear, this is divine," to her tussle with the maid about the missing sugar-bowl, and her comments about the Blisses who must "roll about in bed for hours - they're such a slovenly family," Mrs. Draper gives her lines with an expert dose

Friday evening in the First Parish Church, Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson directed a brilliant performance of this great oratorio with a chorus composed of the Bowdoin College Glee Club, the Colby Junior College Glee Club, and the Brunswick Choral Society.

The soloists were Elizabeth Williams, soprano, Ruth P. Crouse, alto, Roger N. Williams '46, tenor, and Jack Dunlap '48, baritone. Supporting the voices were members of the Portland Symphony Orchestra and Lucille Morin, accompanist.

The program was started successfully by Williams' well-enunciated rendition of the recitative, "Comfort ye my people". The ensuing aria, "Every valley shall be exalted," was sung with technical ability and confidence. Later in the evening in a well balanced duet with Mrs. Crouse, he combined precision with expression.

Miss Williams' lovely voice shone in the soprano recitatives and showed great skill and the effects of good training in the arias. "O thou that tellest good tidings", one of the loveliest compositions ever written for the alto voice, was sung by Mrs. Crouse in a delightful manner. She gave feeling and exactness to "He shall feed his flock" and the duet, "O death where is thy sting?"

Dunlap's rendition of the extremely difficult bass aria, "Why do the nations", showed technical skill and precision. In his part aria, "But who may abide the day of his coming?", he seemed addicted to slurring and muffled enunciation, which may have been the result of nervousness.

Professor Tillotson's meticulous direction of the choruses came very little short of perfection. His excellent ability as a conductor was displayed in the choruses, "Surely he hath borne our griefs", and "All we like sheep have gone

[Continued on Page 4]

11 Houses Accept NSA Constitution

The National Student Association was accepted by the Bowdoin student body last Wednesday evening by a vote of 548 to 111.

"Should the Bowdoin College student body affiliate with the National Student Association (NSA)?" was the question asked at meetings of the twelve fraternities and the Independents.

Gene Krupa's Orchestra To Perform While Secret Committee Of Faculty Names Christmas Houseparty Queen

Two Teams Argue World Problems At Vermont Talks

Two Bowdoin Debating teams, competed at the Second Annual Invitational Debate Tournament, held at the University of Vermont, on the issue: Resolved that world federal government should be established.

According to Mr. Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English and coach of the teams, the tourney was carried on in the nature of a practice session to aid individual speakers rather than in the nature of a competitive exhibition between colleges.

There were 45 colleges represented in a grand total of 180 separate debates. Each contest and its participants were judged by a coach from a college not represented by the competitors. Since each team did not have an opportunity to debate with all the other participating teams, no final winning team was chosen.

Bowdoin's affirmative team consisted of Lewis P. Fickett, Jr., '47, and John R. Hopper '50 was opposed by Temple, Vermont University, McGill, and Brooklyn. The former two decisions were lost and the later two decisions were won.

The negative team consisting of Merton G. Henry '50 and Sherman E. Fein '49 was opposed by Champlain, Rensselaer Polytechnic, Mount Holyoke, and Wesleyan. The team won the latter two decisions and lost the former two decisions.

Ireland, Magee, And Curtis Take NE Rhodes Exams

Three Bowdoin College graduates, Charles T. Ireland, Jr., '42, of Portland, John F. Magee '47 of Bangor, and Charles W. Curtis '47, of Wellesley, Mass., were selected in August in December 10 by the Maine Rhodes Scholarship Committee to represent Maine in the New England competition held in Boston on Saturday, December 13.

An exceptional occasion to have all representatives of Maine for the competition from one college, all three men were distinguished graduates of Bowdoin. Ireland, who was a captain in the marine corps was awarded the Silver Star, is now at Yale Law School. Magee is now attending Harvard Business School and Curtis is doing graduate work in mathematics at Yale Graduate School.

The members of the Maine Scholarship Committee, all former Rhodes scholars themselves are: Dr. Payson Smith of the University of Maine, chairman, Professor Cecil J. Reynolds of the University of Maine, secretary of the committee, Professor Carl Weber of Colby College, R. H. Peters, publisher of the Bangor Commercial, and Dr. J. Paul Scott of the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory in Bar Harbor.

Foreign Students To Organize Club

Bowdoin foreign students met Tuesday evening, December 9, in Conference room of the Moulton Union to form a very loose organization.

The purposes of the group are to spread knowledge of the student's home countries among the whole student body and to give the foreign students a chance to take advantage of each other's presence at Bowdoin to get acquainted with their home countries.

A different member will act as chairman of each meeting and will give an informal talk on any subject he may be interested in, preferably giving some information about his own country. This will be followed by discussion.

The next meeting will be conducted in Conference B room of the Moulton Union Tuesday evening, January 6, by Zeleke Bebe of Ethiopia. Anyone interested is invited to attend these meetings.

Forum Speaker

SUMNER SEWALL, former governor of Maine, will speak to the Political Forum on January 8 on "The Situation in Germany."

Sewall To Discuss German Situation At Union Jan. 8th

"The Situation in Germany" will be the topic of a speech by the Hon. Sumner Sewall, ex-governor of Maine, in the Moulton Union on January 8 under the auspices of the Political Forum, announced President Joseph C. Wheeler '48.

Dr. Sewall, who has just returned from service in the Military Government of Germany, is at present a candidate for Senator from Maine. He is running against Governor Horace Hildreth and Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith of Skowhegan.

Sumner Sewall was born in Bath, Maine, in 1897 and as a boy started along the conventional educational path, attending Winchester School in Connecticut and entering Harvard in 1916. At that point, however, he left it never to return. He went to France as a member of the American Field Service.

Later, when the United States entered the war, he joined the American Air Service, commanded his squadron, was designated an Ace, and received decorations from three governments - his own, and those of France and Belgium.

In the postwar period Sewall helped to organize Colonial Air Transport, and later became a director of the United Air Lines Transport Corporation.

Literary Criticism

Hall Sees Uncertain Future Facing Neophyte "Prologue"

By Lawrence S. Hall '36

The advent of Prologue on the New England campus will confirm some prejudices and upset others. The institutionalists who support only what is sponsored by accepted authority will reject this newcomer. The traditionalists who believe not in competition but only in certain established competitions may even boycott it. The purists who like non-profit making enterprise because of its inherent chastity will shy at Prologue's commercialism. And, of course, those whose faculty is embarrassed by any creative effort whatever will not consider it at all.

But the person who dislikes to be squeezed into one of these classifications will realize that the publication of any new magazine is significant as an experiment with popular intelligence. The editors of Prologue indicate plainly that they are conscious of making an experiment and hopeful that the significance of it will not be mistaken or ignored. Their hypothesis is that the American student is acquiring a perspective - broader than the one he has always had - which modifies his former relationships with his fellows and the world at large. They cite some of the evidence of his new outlook and go on to say that what is certainly true - that any vigorous development in the

Masque And Gown To Give Noel Coward's "Hayfever"

By Walter S. Mather '50

A precedent has been set by the 1947-1948 Student Council in that the Houseparty Queen will be chosen by a carefully selected, special committee of the faculty, announced Vincent C. Lanigan '50 Theta Delta Chi, chairman of the Student Council Houseparty Dance Committee.

Delta U's To Hold Annual Conclave January 9 - 10

Nine New England college chapters of the Delta Upsilon fraternity will send delegates to the annual conference of Province I to be held at the Bowdoin chapter on the weekend of January 9 and 10.

Two men each from Amherst, Brown, Colby, Dartmouth, Middlebury, M.I.T., Tufts, Wesleyan, and Williams and a representative from the national fraternity will attend the two-day session.

Peter A. Angeramo '45, president of the local chapter, has been chosen senior delegate from Bowdoin and the president of the conference, and Richard A. Wiley '49 will serve as junior delegate and secretary.

All of the visiting chapters are preparing reports on various phases of fraternity activity. Some of the topics scheduled are: rushing and pledge training; methods of scholarship improvement; chapter finance, cooperation between chapters and alumni; and chapter publications.

17 Bandmembers Get Major Letters J. Murtha Manager

The awarding of seventeen varsity letters to members of the band was announced Tuesday, December 9, by Frederic E. T. Tillotson, professor of music.

Awards, made to seniors and men with two years service in the band, were as follows: Charles E. Cole '49, Taylor W. Cole '45, David S. Collins '48, Robert S. Currier '50, Phillip F. Danforth '50, John E. Duffer '50, Charles E. Erickson '48, Emil G. Hahnel '48, J. Richard Jackman '50, William J. Kirwin '50, William C. McCormack '48, Carroll F. Newhouse '48, Theodore P. Nixon '50, James S. Segal '50, James Utterback '49, Charles W. Wilder '50, and Norman M. Winter '50.

It Happens Here

Tomorrow 12:10 p.m. - Chapel, Professor Herbert R. Brown. 4:30 p.m. - Christmas Houseparty officially begins. Friday 12:10 p.m. Annual Christmas Cur-ol Service in the Chapel. 4:00 p.m. - Masque and Gown presents "Hayfever" in Memorial Hall. 10:00 p.m. - Houseparty Formal Dance, Sargent Gymnasium. Saturday 12:00 noon - Houseparty officially ends and Christmas Vacation begins. Monday, January 5, 1948 8:00 a.m. - Christmas Vacation ends.

The students at the University of Maine Annex have also been invited to the dance and it is expected that many will attend. Arrangements have been made to accommodate them at all fraternity houses to which they are all welcome.

The closing hours on both nights will be at 4:00 a.m., and all festivities must cease on Saturday noon, since the college will be closed at that time for the annual Christmas vacation.

The A. R. U. fraternity will have a cocktail party on Thursday at 172 Maine Street. Later in the evening they will have a dance followed by a sleigh ride. After cocktails on Friday there will be a formal banquet for members of the fraternity.

The students at the University of Maine Annex have also been invited to the dance and it is expected that many will attend. Arrangements have been made to accommodate them at all fraternity houses to which they are all welcome.

The closing hours on both nights will be at 4:00 a.m., and all festivities must cease on Saturday noon, since the college will be closed at that time for the annual Christmas vacation.

[Continued on Page 4]

Sills Eulogizes Dr. Johnson In Memorial Chapel Address

The ORIENT has undertaken to print the full text of the tribute paid to Dr. Henry Lincoln Johnson '07, late college physician, by President Kenneth C. M. Sills at the Memorial Chapel Service held last Sunday afternoon.

Of the many teachers and officers who compose a modern faculty not one, with the possible exception of the Dean, comes into more close and personal relations with the undergraduates than does the College Physician. To him the students turn not only for professional service but for personal and intimate advice and counsel of the most varied kind. When a man has occupied that important position for nearly twenty years, he has seen and advised hundreds of students and has been tested and tried in countless ways. That Dr. Johnson met all these conditions ideally is the universal judgment of faculty and undergraduates alike, and is one reason among many others that his name will long be held in affectionate memory by the College he loved and served so well.

As is the case with most professional men, his life consisted of careful preparation and continuing effective activity. He was born February 16, 1886 at Wiscasset of good Maine stock, with a particularly devoted mother to whom he was a particularly devoted son. When he was ten the family removed to Brunswick and he graduated from the High School here, took the pre-medical course at Bowdoin with the strong and closely knit class of 1907, and in 1912 obtained his degree of Doctor of Medicine at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University. It was characteristic of him that throughout his life he kept up his friendship both with his college and his professional classmates. Following his graduation from medical school he served as interne at the Rhode Island Hospital, Providence Lying-in-Hospital and Bellevue Hospital in New York City. From a professional point of view he was thus thoroughly prepared and imbued with the highest standards of his generous exacting profession.

His active career was divided into two parts. From 1913 to 1927 he practiced medicine at Westerly, Rhode Island, where his name is still held in grateful memory by his old patients and by his many friends. In 1917 he attended Rockefeller Institute for special research work in infection and immunity, and in World War I he served as Lieutenant in the Medical Corps of the United States Army spending about a year overseas. After his return to Brunswick in 1927 he kept up his contacts with Rhode Island and for many summers was the physician at Watch Hill having as his patients prominent people from all parts of the country.

From 1927 until October 1945 he was our College Physician, and since the latter date until his death at his home here on December 3rd although on leave he voluntarily helped Dr. Hanley not only in the Infirmary but on the athletic field. By training, attainment and disposition he was the ideal College Physician, patient, kindly, sympathetic, unassuming of himself, skilful, with a lot of common sense, and always and every where very human. During all these years, to paraphrase the comment of Plutarch on Pericles, it can be truthfully said that no parents of desperately ill Bowdoin students had ever to wear mourning because of his neglect or lack of skill. And I suspect that many a wayward youth owes more to him for the recovery of moral principles and character than to any other man. In his general practice too he never for a moment thought of sparing himself and night and day was always on call. He saved many others; himself he never cared to save.

When a man's work is over, one turns naturally and first to those in his own calling or profession for an assessment of that work. In judgment of his peers, of prominent physicians both in the State of Maine and outside he had the reputation of being a good man. He was skilful in diagnosis, careful in preparation of reports sent on to specialists, in touch with the latest important developments in his profession. For example, what is not generally known, he did much study along psychiatric lines although he never said much about it. But he realized that a good physician must know something about ministering to minds diseased. Bowdoin College was exceedingly fortunate in having such rare professional skill at its service for so many years.

And when we turn for a moment to consider what was thought of him not as a physician but as a man, one finds tributes pouring in on all sides of his friendliness, his humor, his cheery manner and his constant kindness. Should you go into almost any store in Brunswick you would hear only words of praise from those who work there. And in many a farmhouse in the vicinity of Brunswick his name is a household word revered. And this kind of judgment he would perhaps himself value above all others.

We of the faculty mourn him deeply for our daily associations bind us so closely together. As President of the College I am speaking of course for the Governing Boards and the Alumni as well; personally I mourn the loss not only of my physician but of a very dear friend. And although in this inadequate tribute one must not be too personal or intimate even in this group that represents the Bowdoin family, one must add that his home life was ideal and that from his devoted wife and children he derived that comfort and inspiration that helped to make him in all his relationships a good man. To those of you here who knew him well there will come for many a day remembrances of some kindly act, some friendly word, some humorous cheerful comment, so characteristic of one who spent himself in helping others.

He died as he would have wished in his home and in harness. Less than two years ago he came to my house very early in the morning to tell me of the sudden death of a dear colleague, and I remember he said then that that was the way he would wish to go. Those of you who are thinking and planning to study medicine and in whose hands some day before long will be the crises of life and death may well take Dr. Johnson as your model, and learn from him, in the words of the Hippocratic oath, to keep pure and holy both your life and your art. And the rest of us both old and young ought to be better all the rest of our lives for having known so good and so human a man.

An Aid For New Visitors — And the Unsure

Letter to Editor

Harvard S. C. Asks For Xmas Rooms

To the Editor of the Orient:
Nearly one hundred of the foreign students at Harvard University have no friends in America with whom they have been able to make plans for the Christmas recess, and these students are unable to return to their homelands for this short period of time.

The International Activities Committee of the Harvard Student Council has undertaken to find homes where our foreign students may spend a weekend, a few days, or all of their vacation.

Though we have many offers of Christmas dinner from homes in and around Boston, we are most anxious to find homes in the countryside where these foreign students may ski and skate, as well as have a close personal contact and intercultural exchange with Americans.

The foreign students who have expressed interest in this type of vacation are including, if necessary, board and room charges. Our main objective is to get them out of the city and school environments and directly into American homes, where they can get a firsthand view of American life.

These students represent countries from every area of the world, and are mainly between the ages of 20 and 25. Please accept our apologies for writing you at this late date, but if any of the families in or near your town are interested in entertaining one or two foreign students, we would appreciate it if you would contact us at your earliest convenience. It would help us greatly if you would include information as to the age and nationality preferred by each family, the number of days available, sports which may be engaged in, and an estimate of expenses that may be expected.

Very sincerely yours,
Eric A. Weld, Jr., President
Michael B. Rothenberg, Chairman
International Activities Committee
Harvard Student Council
Phillips Brooks House
Cambridge 38, Mass.

Mixup Causes Poor "Hayfever" Headline

The inaccuracy of the headline, "Hayfever Not Promising; Cast, Sets Discouraging," which appeared above the article written by Edward L. Kallup '48 about the Masque and Gown production was due to a misunderstanding between the author, the news editor, and the managing editor as to the intent of the article.

"A question which is at present under serious discussion is the problem of deferred initiations," ORIENT, Dec. 14, 1921.

Campus Survey

Ladies Arrive Despite Complex Schedules; Even Grandfather Went To Houseparties

By Frederick W. Willey '47

The college houseparty of today is run, like everything else, on a fast twentieth century business schedule that demands definite dates for entertainers and decorators, requires colorful publicity if it is to survive, and harasses the student organizers to distraction. The sum of $1800, for instance, will be paid to Gene Krupa, who according to the brochure sent to the Orient by his press agent, "ruins another suit, certainly drops a couple of pounds" everytime the lanky haired master "gives out with the heat beat."

The transportation system is a necessity, as girls from New England and its periphery drop their Christmas shopping list to come by train, bus, airplane for the two-day festivities. The rush is on with dates to be broken, dates to be gotten, trains to be met, evening dresses to be unpacked and pressed, and tuxes to be struggled into. In such an age and environment, in short, even the American college boy must worry and organize and plan and worry again before he may play - at dances, sleigh rides, cocktail parties, and formal banquets.

But things were not so terribly different after the Civil War, if we may believe the authenticity of the Orient reporters who, writing for the infant paper, recorded the social events in the bi-monthly paper. As early as 1877 we find that "a large number of lady friends from out of town lent their charms" to the commencement exercises. Two years before, it is true, graduating seniors were obliged to devote their commencement week to such events as "An evening concert by Miss Annie Louise Cary... and the Philharmonic Club of Boston." Or perhaps they listened to "A poem by H. W. Longfellow... on occasion of the 50th anniversary of the class of 1825."

those were not the days of milk and toast, optional chapel attendance. As one lucid prose writer for the editorial staff put it, "Services at sunrise, morning, and afternoon, and to crown all, services at night!" Students were up at five-thirty to meet this compulsory attendance which the same writer categorized as "old fogeyism, an absurdity, a relic of puritanical fanaticism which clings to college customs like a millstone around a drowning man's neck."

By 1879, we may read that nine couples attended the Ivy Hop, and for the same dance in 1884 thirty couples were whirling to the "excellent music of Mr. Guinier and his seven." Intoxicated by genteel feminine scents and d swishing gowns, the Orient writer was non-plussed, "The mind of your reporter," he observes, "was in such a dizzy whirl that he failed to take notes on the charming costumes of the ladies."

It is interesting, however, (and somewhat astonishing) to note this parallelism with the modern houseparty: "When the company separated in ample time for breakfast, it was general sentiment that 85's hop had been a success." Again, the following year, for the Orient recorded, "The company then separated in time to give a few hours' sleep to those intending to go to Lewiston to see the ballgame." (This ballgame, incidentally, fell to the Polar Bears, 9-6, on the strength of their own lusty twenty-one hits and on the weakness of Colby's sieve-like infield which permitted no less than nine errors.)

Ten years later in 1894 the "new Town Hall" of Brunswick was completed. The Ivy Dance reached supreme heights in that building as the Orient gloriously disclosed, "As a social event it has been unsurpassed by but few occasions in Brunswick." The Salem Cadet Band undoubtedly lured "an unusually large number of ladies from out of town," just as surely as the drummer who "gives out with the heat beat" Friday night will entice many girls to Sargent Gymnasium. Dancing was not as strenuous but it was certainly more varied. The dance programs to be filled listed the waltz, the two-step, the polka, the Schottische and the Portland fancy.

An Amherst student, William G. Hammond, visiting Bowdoin in 1847, recorded in his diary that he "liked the college pretty well, but there seems less sobriety than among us." Certainly within the space of a few decades the students increased in temperance; for the Orient reporter is careful to observe about the 1894 Ivy Hop that "Ice-cream and cake were served during the intermission, and the couples danced away the happiest eve of the year."

FOR CHRISTMAS AND A LIFETIME

ENCYCLOPAEDIA
BRITANNICA

FREE—Booklet and Information

Write—Phone— or Call
4 Cleveland - Phone 935-M

CUMBERLAND

WED.-THURS. Dec. 17-18

"THE UPTURNED GLASS"

with James Mason
Rosemond John
also
News Short Subjects

FRI.-SAT. Dec. 19-20

"SLAVE GIRL"

with Yvonne DeCarlo
George Brent
also
News Short Subjects

SUN.-MON. Dec. 21-22

"NEW ORLEANS"

with Arthur DeCordova
Dorothy Patrick
also
News Short Subjects

TUES.-WED. Dec. 23-24

"FRIEDA"

with David Farrar
Glynis Johns
also
News March of Time

WANT TO EARN $9000 A YEAR?

Would you like to be your own boss... with professional standing in your community? Then you'll be interested in the opportunities offered by a career in life insurance selling for The Mutual Life. Many of our representatives earn $4,000 to $9,000 a year, and more!

If you can qualify, we offer a 3-year on-the-job training course, plus a 2-year compensation plan to provide an income while you are learning. After that, the Mutual Life-time Plan provides an opportunity for earnings limited only by your own efforts... plus a liberal retirement income at 65. Read for Aptitude Test Today! Address Room 1100.

THE MUTUAL LIFE
INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK

34 Nassau Street
New York 5, N.Y.

Alexander E. Patterson
President

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for

Good food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices

Remember, it's the

COLLEGE SPA

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

That's Mighty Low!

and so's the Greyhound fare HOME

You won't get caught short at Christmas... you'll save more to spend on gifts, clothes, or entertainment—when you ride a Greyhound home for the holidays! In addition to the savings you make on Greyhound's mighty low fares, you can enjoy the comfort of reclining chairs and the convenience of well-timed schedules. So when that campus calendar says it's time to go home... remember it's time to go Greyhound!

	One Way	Round Trip
BOSTON	$ 2.25	$ 4.05
ALBANY	5.95	10.80
NEW YORK	5.70	10.30
MEMPHIS	20.58	37.55
WASHINGTON	9.60	17.30
CHICAGO	19.05	34.30
PEORIA	19.80	35.70
SOUTH BEND	16.75	30.65
BALTIMORE	8.90	16.05
SPRINGFIELD	4.45	8.05
DETROIT	14.60	26.30
MIAMI	26.40	48.50

Plus U. S. Tax

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE
M. C. PERKINS, P.L.G., Mgr.
149 Maine Street
Brunswick, Maine

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, December 17, 1947 No. 17

Editor-in-Chief... Richard A. Willey '49
Managing Editors... John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors... Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47, Harvey S. Jackson '48,
Charles T. Dillaway '49, Raymond S. Trouth '50

Sports Editor... George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor... Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editor... George E. Berilawsky '48

Reporters: Paul L. Bishop '49, George Paradis '49, Nelson D. Payne '50, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51,
George M. Fox '51, Albert P. Phillips '51, Garrett J. Sheahan '51,
Gerald C. Sheahan '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51

Sports Reporters: William C. Rogers '48, Fagan H. Simonton, Jr. '50,
Laurence M. Edwards '51

Photographers... Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50,
Harry E. Adams '51, Richard M. Frye '49

Cartoonists... William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49

Business Manager... Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager... Alfred J. Waxler '47

Circulation Managers... C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis H. Currie '50

Business Assistants: Arthur H. Shwalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Balston, Jr. '48, Joseph H. White, Jr. '49, John P. Ashley II '50, Donald Union '50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blatchford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardee '51

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors... Professor Athern P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Willey '49, Edward S. Early '48

News Editor for this issue... Charles T. Dillaway '49

PRINTED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK 17, N.Y.

CHICAGO - CINCINNATI - LOS ANGELES - SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by members of Bowdoin College. The paper is published for the students and faculty and is not responsible for the opinions or statements of the writers. The paper is published for the students and faculty and is not responsible for the opinions or statements of the writers.

The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Professor Coffin's "Yankee Coast"

AUTOGRAPHED — makes a fitting Christmas present from Bowdoin

Beautiful Christmas Cards
The American Past $10.00

"I've always been a part of your telephone service"

"You'll find my name on your Bell telephone—you see it on reels of cable being fed into manholes or strung on poles—you'd find it, too, on the complex equipment in your telephone exchange."

"As the supply member of the Bell Telephone team, I manufacture equipment, purchase supplies, distribute both to the telephone companies, and install central office equipment."

"Year in, year out, I help my Bell Telephone teammates to give you the world's best telephone service at the lowest possible cost."

"Remember my name—it's Western Electric."

Western Electric
A UNIT OF THE BELL SYSTEM SINCE 1882

How to be SURE

of a FULL TIME CHRISTMAS VACATION

GO BY TRAIN! Avoid traffic jams—by-pass tricky winter weather. You'll leave on scheduled time and you'll enjoy cozy comfort, dependability and safety all the way. Ask your Railroad ticket agent about economical fares in modern sleeping cars and comfortable coaches.

-and how to

SAVE MONEY when you return

New "College Special" Round-Trip Tickets go into effect on all railroads on Christmas day. Buy one at your "home station." It will give you a longer limit for your return trip back home during Spring Vacation or at the close of the school year. The new tickets will be on sale for Students and Teachers any day between December 25 and January 16. Take advantage of money-saving round-trip tickets especially tailored for the needs of college men and women. Consult your home town ticket agent or any Railroad representative for cost of tickets, return limits and stop-over privileges.

For a Time and Money-Saving Trip

Go by train

IT'S CONVENIENT—COMFORTABLE—SAFE

AMERICAN RAILROADS

Polar Bearings . . . Basketball "Arrives" Here; Quintet Extends Opponents

By George F. McClelland '49

Basketball has finally arrived as a major sport at Bowdoin. The current hoop edition has not won a game at this writing, but to anyone who has witnessed the Shymen in one or more of their opening efforts the previous statement will seem more than correct. It was not until 1941 that Bowdoin fielded a varsity team, and since then the annals of Polar Bear basketball have been far from bright. Last year Bowdoin won two games. This year they may not better that mark by much, but the change in personnel and attitude has made the Big White a tough club to beat.

In pre-season forecasts Bowdoin was not even mentioned as a state threat. Everyone was to have a breather against the Polar Bears. Well, Bowdoin has yet to win, but every one of the other state fives has been extended all the way back to eke out a 38-36 win and highly touted Bates and Maine pulled away only in the final seconds.

The feature this year's array possesses that previous teams lacked, is a few operatives who can find the basket with consistency. Dick Pandora and Sid Connolly are a fine pair of forwards who can feint and shoot with the best in the state. Both have broken into double figures twice in three games.

Captain Larry Deane is a steady influence and accurate set shooter while his guard mate Jim Schoenthaler is also a fine floor man and a threat from the floor. Paul Zdanowicz has been an excellent defensive center. Bob Speirs, an all-state holdover, has been out with a bad ankle, and when he returns some badly needed reserve strength will be added. It has been this lack of reserves and a serious inadequacy at the foul line that has kept Bowdoin out of the win column so far. If Shym can overcome these defects the Big White will surprise someone.

Maine has moved in front in the standings with three wins, but all is not joy in Orono when they remember last season's collapse. Ted Boynton of Maine looks from here to be the outstanding ball player in the state. Bates is paced by big Bill Simpson and little Russ Burns. Tubby Washburn is Colby's standout. Bowdoin has several candidates for all state honors also in Pandora, Connolly, Deane and Schoenthaler, but the season is young yet and new stars may develop.

The greatest fear is that the new spirit may wane in light of the present losing streak. We fervently hope that this doesn't take place.

Remember

Christmas & New Years

with a

HALLMARK CARD

from

SMITH'S PHOTO SHOP

Swimmers Defeat Emory of Georgia In Airmail Meet

Two days before the Dartmouth meet Bowdoin's mermen scored a 45-21 victory in an informal meet against Emory University of Georgia in which both teams went through the normal schedule of events, then mailed their respective sets of times to the other team.

For the White freshman Bill Ingraham and Captain Adin Merrow were the stars. Bill Ingraham, ineligible to swim in the New England League, won the 220 and 440, negotiating the latter in Bowdoin record time of 5:16.9.

Merrow was only a hair behind Bill on the distance, doing 5:17.1, also under the old record. Adin also won the 150 yard backstroke, and swam the first leg of the winning medley relay. For the Georgians Stephanos was the big gun, winning the century, while taking second in the 220 and third in the quarter.

Summary:
300 yard medley relay — Won by Bowdoin (Merrow, Moran, Erswell); time 3:08.25; second, Emory (Cunningham, Blank, Newton); time 3:12.4.
220 yard freestyle — Won by Ingraham (B); 2:28; second, Stephanos (E); 2:29.3; third, Zeitler (B); 2:39.6.
50 yard freestyle — Won by Grace (E); 25.2; second, Soltysiak (B); 25.5; third, McGowan (B); 25.6.
Diving — Won by Gath (B); second, Blaine (B); third, Turk (E); Not counted in the score because of difficulty in scoring comparatively.

100 yard freestyle — Won by Stephanos (E); 54.5; second, McGowan (B); 54.9; third, Soltysiak (B); 58.2 (B).
150 yard backstroke — Won by Merrow (B); 1:41.0; second, a tie between Newton and Van Pelt (E); 1:49.1.
200 yard breaststroke — Won by Moran (B); 2:39.2; second, Blank (E); 2:45.2; third, Van Voast (B); 2:50.1.
440 yard freestyle — Won by Ingraham (B); 5:16.9; Merrow (B); 5:17.1; third, Stephanos (E); 5:30.2.
400 yard freestyle relay — Won by Bowdoin (Curry, Erswell, Soltysiak, McGowan); 5:52.4; second, Emory (Van Pelt, Cunningham, Newton, Blank); 4:00.6.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE
SOLICITED

New Hampshire U. Routs Quintet 73-37

The New Hampshire Wildcats encountered no trouble from the Bowdoin quintet last night as they breezed through the Durham game to a 73-to-37 victory. Dart and Cotter, with seventeen and fifteen points respectively, led the Statesmen's scoring. Sid Connolly again topped the Bowdoin team as he registered twelve points.

Maine Wins 55 - 47 In Orono Contest; Quintet Drops 3rd

Bowdoin's varsity basketball quintet dropped their third straight game Saturday night up in Orono as they bowed to the University of Maine's rangy five 55-47 before a packed house.

The undefeated Black Bears started slowly leading only 21-17 at halftime, but the Blue increased the tempo in the second stanza to win going away. Dick Pandora of Bowdoin was high man with 18 points while George O'Donnell of Maine trailing with 16 marks.

The Polar Bears did surprisingly well against their towering opponents' fast break and height advantage. The sharpshooting of Pandora and Larry Deane made things tough for the winners, but again it was from the foul line that Bowdoin failed. The Big White put in 7 out of 15 while Maine got 15 out of 27 free throws.

The line-up:
Maine (55)
Bates, lf 21 17
Boydton, rf 2 10
Fosney, rf 0 0
Goddard, c 5 14
Houkins, lf 2 0
O'Donnell, rf 16 8
Totals 55 47
Bowdoin (47)
Pandora, lf 8 21
McDonald, lf 2 8
Connolly, rf 12 8
Zdanowicz, c 1 2
Schoenthaler, lf 1 2
Speirs, lf 6 24
Deane, rf 2 4
Totals 47 27
Referee: Park, Shannahan. Time 2:00.

Clem Brown Wins Christmas Meet; Bob Carley Trails

Clem Brown paced the Turkey winners on Jack Magee's track squad in the Christmas Gambol with 22 points, followed by Bob Carley with 20 and Phil Parsons, Marty Lee, Ollie Emerson, Joe Woods, Erlin Briggs and Dwight Adams in that order.

The summary:
40 YARD DASH — Won by C. Brown; second, Lee; third, Murphy; fourth, Demetriades; fifth, Lovejoy; sixth, A. Brown. 140 YARD RUN — Won by C. Brown; second, Carley; third, Adams; fourth, Briggs; fifth, Lee; sixth, Newhouse. 45 YARD LOW HURDLES — Won by Carley; second, Lee; third, Swann; fourth, Bradley; fifth, Newhouse; sixth, Adams. DISCUS — Won by Nicholson; second, Briggs; third, Sabastanski; fourth, Smith; fifth, Volney; sixth, Carley. 300 YARD RUN — Won by Jackson; second, Woods; third, Wiley; fourth, C. Brown; fifth, Newhouse; sixth, Hamblin. BROAD JUMP — Won by Carley; second, C. Brown; third, Davis; fourth, Lee; fifth, Newhouse; sixth, MacInnes. 1 MILE RUN — Won by Adams; second, Gould; third, Jackson; fourth, Schreck; fifth, Lund; sixth, Timely. POLE VAULT — Won by Nichols; second, Cross; third, tie between Lovejoy and MacInnes; fifth, Parsons; sixth, tie between Conway, Swann, Sheahan, and Woods. 15 HIGH HURDLES — Won by Emerson; second, Newhouse; third, Cross; fourth, Woods; fifth, Davis; sixth, Wiley. HIGH JUMP — Won by Emerson; second, tie between Barron and Briggs; fourth, Gould; fifth, tie between Nicholson and Swann. SHOT PUT — Won by Parsons; second, Sabastanski; third, Meathlin; fourth, Sprine; fifth, Nichols; sixth, MacInnes. 35 LB. WEIGHT — Won by Parsons; second, Sabastanski; third, Barron; fourth, Smith; fifth, Nichols; sixth, Timely.

Frosh Rout Thornton, 45 Fouls Mar Contest

In a game marked by 45 fouls, Bowdoin's Freshman basketball five walloped Thornton Academy 50-32 Saturday afternoon at the Sargent Gymnasium.

Bowdoin (50)
Burr, rf 1 3
Kerry, rf 3 0
Hubley, lf 5 11
H. Van Arden, lf 1 3
Prentiss, c 8 4
Kelley, c 0 0
Bike, rf 0 0
Siroy, rf 1 0
Kemp, rf 0 0
Morelock, lf 1 0
Totals 50 32
Referee: Parks, Shannahan. Time 2:00.

Action As Bates Downed White

DICK PANDORA, (6) of Bowdoin, shoots at the Bates basket as Jenkins (3) of Bates tries to block the shot.

Bobcats Outlast Bowdoin; Simpson Decisive Figure

A persistent jinx, which has permitted Bowdoin to defeat Bates only once in the two colleges' seven year basketball rivalry, worked like a charm Wednesday night when the Bobcats outlasted the Polar Bears 66-59 in one of the finest games seen at the Sargent Gymnasium.

The visitors led by a small margin most of the way and it wasn't until the last two minutes that Bates pulled into a comfortable advantage. Ace Bailey of the Garnet led the scorers with 21 points with Dick Pandora of Bowdoin right behind hitting for 20 points. However, the difference between the two teams was Bill Simpson. The rangy Bates pivotman tossed in 17 points and controlled both boards while he was in.

Bates led 15-14 after a cautious first period, and after Bowdoin assumed a 23-17 bulge, came back to lead 29-26 at intermission. With Simpson and Bailey leading the way, the Bobcats opened a 56-47 gap in the last period, but Bowdoin stormed back to within three points before the final flurry.

Bowdoin (59)
Pandora, lf 8 4
Tobey, lf 0 0
MacDonald, lf 8 20
Connolly, rf 8 0
Sibby, rf 0 0
Zdanowicz, c 0 0
Tyrrer, c 0 0
Reimer, c 0 0
Piper, lf 0 0
Boone, rf 5 11
Burke, rf 0 0
Schoenthaler, rf 4 2
Totals 59 66
Referee: Parks and Fortunato. Time 2:20.

White Swimmers Stun Dartmouth But Lose, 40 - 35

Home Relay Team.
Wins Over Green By Half Length Of Pool

The Indians from Dartmouth outswam the Polar Bears at the Curtis Pool Saturday by the slim margin of 40 to 35 as the Big White natators pulled several surprises, but weren't quite strong enough in the first three events to edge out the Green when it came down to the final relay.

The Bowdoin swimmers were paced by Captain Adin Merrow, the only double-winner of the day. In the 300 yard medley relay he turned in a fast first leg, but Moran and Erswell couldn't quite hold the lead, as Dartmouth won the event in the fast time of 3:05.6.

In the 150 yard backstroke Merrow won an easy first with 1:41.6, just short of his own New England record in that event. Two events later he came back to walk away with the 440-yard freestyle, coming only a few seconds from the Bowdoin record which he has broken twice recently.

Bob McGowan, an eligible freshman swimmer, won the century in 56.4, a very good time for this early in the season. He also swam a close third in the 50-yard freestyle, and turned in a fast last leg of the winning freestyle relay.

Tony Soltysiak, who was forced to swim out of his usual event, was just out-touched by McGowan in the fifty and took a third in the hundred. Len Gath showed himself to be in top form by outscoring the Dartmouth divers by nearly 15 points. Bill Blaine was just nosed out for second by Kroehler of the Green.

Paul Moran took an easy second in the 200 yard breaststroke, but couldn't quite hold the pace of Dartmouth's captain, Urstadt, one of the country's best in that event. Zeitler and Mitchell tied for third in the 220-yard freestyle, while Widgery Thomas outstripped the Dartmouth second backstroke for the third slot in the 150 yard dorsal event. Bowdoin's freestyle relay, composed of Curry, Erswell, Soltysiak, and McGowan, won over the Green's final relay by nearly half the length of the pool.

The summary:
300 yard medley relay — Won by Dartmouth (Jackson, Urstadt, Pettit); second, Bowdoin (Merrow, Moran, Erswell). Time 3:05.6.
200 yard freestyle — Won by Solberg and Belfit, Dartmouth (tie for first); second, Zeitler and Mitchell, Bowdoin (tie for second). Time 2:28.7.
50 yard freestyle — Won by Polak; Dartmouth; second, Norton, Dartmouth; third, McGowan, Bowdoin. Time 24.8 seconds.
Diving — Won by Gath, Bowdoin; second, Kroehler, Dartmouth; third, Blaine, Bowdoin. 90.6 points.
100 yard freestyle — Won by McGowan, Bowdoin; second, Pettit, Dartmouth; third, Soltysiak, Bowdoin. Time 54.4 seconds.
150 yard backstroke — Won by Merrow, Bowdoin; second, Dodd, Dartmouth; third, Thomas, Bowdoin. Time 1:41.6.
200 yard breaststroke — Won by Urstadt, Dartmouth; second, Moran, Bowdoin; third, Osborne, Dartmouth. Time 2:33.
440 yard freestyle — Won by Merrow, Bowdoin; second, Solberg, Dartmouth; third, Deery, Dartmouth. Time 5:21.
400 yard freestyle relay — Won by Bowdoin (Curry, Erswell, Soltysiak, McGowan); second, Dartmouth. (Time 3:53.2).

"Last evening the Ibis snowed out the Outing Club Cabin, where it held its regular meeting." ORIENT, March 14, 1923.

The Christmas Store for Men

Ski Wear

YOU'RE ON THE RIGHT TRAIL - WHEN YOU COME TO BENOIT'S FOR SKI CLOTHES

You don't have to be an expert skier to know that Benoit ski clothes were designed and are the kind worn by experts — Their class tells — so if you're buying ski clothes as a gift or for your own use — you can feel confident that — you're on the right trail here. All wool gabardine trousers, latex inside waist band — zipper pockets — perfect tapering legs — for that straight line look — or part wool gabardines — if you want them — from Trousers to Mitts — these clothes are right.

All Wool Trousers

Fine all wool gabardine — in Navy — Gray — Black. Regulars and lounge.

$22.50

SKI SWEATERS — $9.95

Part Wool Trousers

Fine grade 70% and 30% rayon in Navy — and slate Gray. Regulars and lounge.

$15.95

SKI MITTS — $2.50

Parkas and Jackets

Pull over jackets or longer parkas — made for skiing action.

$9.95 and $12.50

SKI SOCKS — $1.35

Benoit's

Center Building

Brunswick

"MY HOW THE TIME GOES BY..."

when you're listening to HAL MCINTYRE'S newest (MGM) record

ONE OF the grooviest ork-pilots on the MGM record roster is Hal McIntyre. Like so many other top-notch performers, Hal is a Camel fan from 'way back. He prefers Camels because: "Camels suit me best all ways."

For the same reason — more people are smoking Camels than ever before! A great new record for a long-time favorite.

Try Camels. Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

And here's another great record —

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

"Hayfever" Setting Excellent, Production Is Entertaining

Photo By Adams

LEADING ACTORS are, left to right: Mrs. Dwight Pierce; Mrs. Athern Daggett; Herbert Gould '50; Mrs. James Draper; Peter Poor '50; and Mrs. Fagan Simonton.

[Continued from Page 1]
of Coward acidity. She obviously enjoyed her part also, and creates a brightness of character for Myra that is wonderful.

Sorel Bliss, the daughter of the amazing household, is played by Mrs. Norma Pierce. Mrs. Pierce is generally good, although at times I thought her portrayal a little forced or rushed. Miss Drusilla Congdon as Cora, the maid, is entirely adequate. Mrs. Mary Simonton was a joy as Jackie Corydon. Her agonized first scene with fellow houseguest Greatham was fine comedy admirably played. The parlor game scene in Act Two was winningly executed; Jackie was a lovely young girl obviously frightened by her overpowering hosts.

The men in the production were almost equally capable. Robert Kyle worked hard as Simon, a strange young man who sits on the floor drawing, but feels its so silly of people to try and cultivate the colossally temperamental, and finds people ignorant as frogs.

Harold Lusher played to the hilt Richard Greatham. A diplomat he was, careful to stand always when a lady was in the room, cleverly at sea when talking with an unfamiliar girl, a modest Sir Galahad, polished and mirthful, who worried about his necktie in a most successful way.

Peter Poor was the strapping athlete in Cookham as Judith's guest. Poor's "I'm most awfully sorry" hit the right note of youthful anxiety to add another type to the medley of characters down for the weekend. Equally well played was the father, David Bliss, by Herbert Gould. As a noted author who is just completing his latest novel, "A Sinful Woman," Gould is properly preoccupied. A smooth performance is highlighted with his and Myra's polished love scene.

It is interesting to note that this, the 45th season of the Masque and Gown is aptly enough dedicated to President Sills who, in his annual reports to alumni and friends of the College from 1927 to 1946, has named a theater as one of our needs. With "Hayfever" as an example of the superior work done by Mr. Quinby's group even under the considerable handicaps of Memorial Hall, it is hard not to feel that a theater ought to be among the first needs of the College.

Glee Clubs Join To Sing "Messiah" In College Church

[Continued from Page 1]

stray". In the dramatic "Surely he hath borne our griefs" the expression conveyed by the swelling crescendos and diminuendos was beautifully done. "All we like sheep" displayed well the technique and ability of the director.

Although the famed "Hallelujah Chorus" was performed at a more rapid pace than usual, the response of the choral groups to Professor Tillotson was exact and indicated that the excellent performance had been preceded by weeks of laborious rehearsals.

All parts of the chorus seemed perfectly coordinated in what was probably the best choral rendition of the evening - "Glory to God in the highest". Seldom is heard an opening done with such beauty and expression. Direction, response, feeling, and enunciation all were perfect.

After the echoes of the inspired "Amen Chorus" had died away, the audience's enthusiasm reached such a peak that the lovely silence after such a brilliant performance was broken with a well-deserved ovation for the director, soloists, chorus and accompanists.

ATO's Give Party For Town Children

A Christmas party is being held at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house next Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of local children.

Fifty children are expected to be present for the festivities which will be highlighted by a personal visit from Santa Claus himself.

The fraternity has planned a

Skiing Team Plans Full Winter Card; Practices Start

Coach Lawrence M. Burke '50 states that the ski team made its first trip of the season to Pinkham Notch at Mount Washington on Saturday, December 6.

Considerable time was devoted to practicing fundamentals under the guidance of Burke and White; the remainder was spent running downhill and slalom. The team also practiced recently at Cranmore Mountain in North Conway.

The team is as follows: Varsity - Alden, Burke, Caldwell, Hworschinsky, Langaard, and White; J.V. - Boone, Coryell, Foulke, Gerchell, Leadbetter, McCloud and Newton.

Burke, Langaard, and White will represent Bowdoin in the varsity team's initial meet, a giant slalom at Franconia, N. H. on December 22. On January 17, there will be a hexagonal meet at Bridgton, Maine, followed by the Bates Carnival on February 6 and either the Colby or Dartmouth Winter Carnival on February 13.

The State Meet will be held at Orono on February 20 and 21. These events will be interspersed with a number of meets sponsored by the Eastern Amateur Association.

The J. V.'s will meet Hebron at Hebron on February 21 and will ski against the Maine Annex on February 28; there are several additional meets pending.

A colored movie of the team is being made and it is hoped that it will be shown to the college about February 1.

full afternoon for the children. A minstrel show will be presented by some of the brothers while others have planned a short drama "Casey at the Bat."

Hall Sees Uncertain Future Facing Neophyte "Prologue"

[Continued from Page 1]

would have been patent and complete even in the absence of competition. Now the Quill has a competitor who has tried (and it may be successfully) to gain a sound insight into the relationship between a magazine and its public.

Prologue has broken what today seems to be the unacceptable habit of publishing magazines devoted exclusively to belles lettres, and solicited art and non-fiction. It has broken the institutional habit and solicited contributions from several colleges. But most important of all, I should say, it has solicited - it has not merely accepted.

To predict Prologue's future is probably impossible right now. A student magazine must remain in the hands of students or alter its values completely, and the administration of an intercollegiate publication is too intricate to be passed on easily from one academic generation to another. For this reason Prologue may disappear. It may disappear also for lack of resources with which to weather the initial insolvency almost inevitable in the case of an unsponsored magazine. Or it may disappear simply because its editors have miscalculated the extent and creativity of the new student consciousness they wish to articulate. Meantime, if they hold to their purpose vigorously and sincerely, maintaining the quality of some of their selections and improving upon others, they will have jolted the subsidized complacency of their rivals with a valuable lesson in magazine dynamics. Whatever occurs, everyone should benefit from being shown the ignorance of making righteousness a substitute for imagination.

Maine Annex Five Takes White J. V.

Bowdoin's junior varsity basketball team became just another victim on the victory trail of a strong Maine Annex five as a last period burst gave the visitors from the Air Base a 59-54 win at the Sargent Gymnasium Saturday night.

Maine led at the half 25-23 and the game was close until Bowdoin battled into a 41-41 tie early in the final period. Then the Annex pulled away. Don Kelsey of the

Portland H.S. J.V. Swim 34 to Here Last Friday

Bowdoin's junior varsity swimming team was edged by Portland High squad 34-33. Curtis Pool last Friday.

The summary:
150 yard medley relay - Won by Bowdoin (Lancaster, Van Vleet, Time 1:31.1).
220 yard freestyle - Won by Bowdoin; second, W. Knowles, third, Mitchell, Bowdoin. Time 2:09.8.
50 yard freestyle - Won by G. Portland; second, Wheeler, third, Loomer, Bowdoin. Time 1:08.0.
Diving - Won by Oherle, Bowdoin; second, Barnstone, Bowdoin; third, Portland. Winning point.

100 yard freestyle - Won by G. land; second, Mitchell, Bowdoin. Williams, Bowdoin. Time 1:15.0.
100 yard backstroke - Won by H. land; second, R. Lucas, Portland. Lancaster, Bowdoin. Time 1:15.0.
100 yard breaststroke - Won by Knowles, Portland; second, Bowdoin; third, Van Vleet, Bowdoin. Time 1:44.6.
200 yard relay - Won by (Green, W. Knowles, R. Lucas, Hart.) Time 1:44.6.

visitors and Kirk Foster J.V.'s tied for scoring honor 18 points.

The line-up:
Bowdoin: J. V. Hickey, if Helmer, Martin, c Morrison, c Leonard Foster, lz Merrill McDonald, rz Totals

Procrastination

in the matter of Christmas gifts is a failing we can easily remedy.

In addition to the most authentic collection of men's furnishings and gift items from here to Cambridge we have a large and comprehensive stock of ladies gifts such as:

LADIES TWEEDS
HAND SEWN LOAFERS
SCOTCH SHETLAND SWEATERS
BRITISH HAND-BLOCKED 36" x 36"
SILK AND CASHMERE SCARVES

All purchases gift boxed, wrapped, and mailed without charge

J. F. Ryan & Company

Men's Fine Imported & Domestic Apparel

The Merrill Studio

Photographers To The College

Stephen E. Merrill '35

Brunswick

Camera Bargain!

CIROFLEX 2 1/4 x 2 1/4 REFLEX

With case, filters, hood, etc.

Original Cost $95.00

Like New - $70.00

THE MERRILL STUDIO

66 Maine Street

Brunswick

MOULTON UNION STORE

Biltmore Pipes $3.00 - $4.25 - $6.50

Keywoodie Pipes $5.00

Bowdoin Belt Buckles $2.25

With Fraternity Crest $2.75

Complete line of Parker 51 Pens, Pencils and Desk Sets

Buy your gifts here and save money

Gift wrapping service every afternoon 3-5

WIN A FREE TRIP TO SCANDINAVIA

To commemorate the Swedish Pioneer Centennial in 1948, the Swedish American Line offers six trips to Scandinavia, for the best

ESSAYS on

"The Influence of Swedish Settlers on a Community or Region"

6 Free Trips to Scandinavia and 12 Other Grand Awards

Three groups of contestants judged separately:

1. College undergraduates
2. High School and Preparatory School students
3. Adults regardless of occupation

Contest closes April 1, 1948. Write today for complete contest information to Contest Editor (Dept. X. B. B.)

SWEDISH AMERICAN LINE

636 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, N. Y.

Include Scandinavia in your next trip abroad. Travel on the famous White Viking Fleet of the Swedish American Line. Regular sailings direct to Gothenburg, Sweden.

The White Viking Fleet

Offices or agencies in all leading cities.

"I FIND CHESTERFIELDS
GIVE ME THE MOST SMOKING PLEASURE"

Lizabeth Scott

STAR OF THE HAL WALLIS PRODUCTION FOR PARAMOUNT RELEASE

"I WALK ALONE"

Always Buy

CHESTER

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

Right Com
World's B

Campus Survey

Veteran Indifference Felt In Non-Academic Interests

Student Groups Struggling For Existence In Efforts To Regain Pre-War Standards

By Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47

Nothing seems harder to explain than the lethargy that has swept the Bowdoin campus in the immediate post-war years. The leaders of extra-curricular activities find themselves in the same position they were in during the war years when lack of personnel nearly disintegrated many student functions that enjoyed immense pre-war popularity.

Bowdoin is a college with an enrollment of nearly 400 men—almost twice the normal number—and yet many student activities have diminished into nothingness. Publications have been crying for support even though top-notch journalists are swarming the campus. The Orient is doing well if half a dozen reporters appear for an assignment meeting. The familiar plight of the Quill demands that its editors solicit material when they should have their hands full merely separating the good from the excellent.

In part the answer to this indifference may lie in the experienced and hardened veteran, selfish in his ways after devoting his younger years to the common cause of the nation. Sure of his own purpose, compiling an enviable scholastic record, the veteran has been dominating the campus life.

Deservedly, his college education is now being financed by the government as part payment for the sacrifice which interrupted his schooling. He does not have to worry about money to meet the bare necessities of collegiate existence. Consequently there is not

[Continued on Page 3]

Bowdoin Fund Receives Half Million In Pledges

Year-end pledges of more than $400,000 to the Sequen-tennial Fund of Bowdoin College, by all members of the Govern-ing Board, have secured a conditional gift of $100,000 offered by Harvey Dow Gibson, President of the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York City, according to an announcement made recently by Maj. Gen. Wallace C. Philcox, General Chairman of the Fund.

"Mr. Gibson, alumnus trustee and Honorary Chairman of the Fund in making his generous offer about six weeks ago stipulated that every other member of the board must pledge something by December 31, 1947, and that these other pledges must aggregate not less than $400,000," General Philcox explained.

"As General Chairman, I have just assured Mr. Gibson that his conditions have been met and he has therefore removed all restrictions from his generous gift, and it has now become a permanent part of the Fund."

"With more than $500,000 pledged by the Trustees and Overseers," continued the General, "we have accomplished the first step in our plans to raise $3,025,000 during the next two years for urgent building needs and additional endowment for faculty salaries."

"Now that the first objective has been reached, the next group to be approached will be the faculty of the College," General Philcox concluded, "While the Sequen-tennial Fund is being raised."

[Continued on Page 3]

Students Discuss Marshall Plan

A recent nationwide survey by Pollster George Gallup revealed the startling fact that an average of only 65% of Americans know of the existence of the Marshall Plan for European aid.

On what promises to be an extremely informative program over WGAN tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, Bowdoin-on-the-Air will present a lively discussion on the timely question: "Are We Ready for the Marshall Plan?" Various problems connected with the administration of the plan will be considered as well as the effects, such as price control, that such a program may have in the United States.

The participants in this discussion are particularly well-informed about the Marshall Plan. Lewis P. Fickett Jr., '47, who will act as student moderator, has just completed extensive research on the subject of the prematurity of the plan. John P. Ashley, Jr. '50 is an authority on price controls, and Mr. Atherton P. Daggett, popular Professor of Government, will without doubt lend an astute hand in making the board of experts complete.

Sills Stresses More Independence For Local Fraternities At Parley

Globe Scholarship Winner

Photo By Ellsworth

JOSEPH C. WHEELER '48, has been named a regional winner of the Boston Globe Foreign Study Fellowship and plans a year of study at Geneva, Switzerland.

Greene Accepts Local Bowdoin Fund Position

Nathan Ira Greene, vice-president of the Canal National Bank of Portland, has accepted the chairmanship of the Portland area for the Bowdoin College Sequen-tennial Fund for Maine.

"As area chairman, Mr. Greene will supervise the solicitation of capital gifts to Bowdoin College from alumni and friends of the College for the area of Greater Portland and vicinity," Mr. White declared.

While at Bowdoin, Mr. Greene was manager of the college club and prominent on the track team, being a state champion hurdler in 1927. He is a member of the Zeta Psi Fraternity and was elected a trustee of the Zeta Psi Fraternity of North America in 1947.

It was also previously announced that Colonel Boyd W. Bartlett, '17 professor of physics at the United States Military Academy, West Point, has accepted the chairmanship for "Bowdoin men in Armed Forces and the U. S. Possessions" for the Fund.

Colonel Bartlett will assist the Fund officials in the initial preparations for the solicitation of gifts for the intensive campaign drive scheduled by the Sequen-tennial Fund for next Spring. The College's first drive for capital funds in over 25 years.

Colonel Bartlett was for many years a member of the College Physics department. During the war he was acting professor of physics at the Military Academy, and has recently received a permanent appointment there. He was the official delegate of the Military Academy to the Sequen-tennial Convention at Bowdoin College in 1944.

Sewall Stresses Aid For Despair-Ridden Germany

Asserting that the big problem confronting the United States today in Germany is the conversion of despair to hope, Sumner Sewall, former governor of Maine and recently returned from Germany where he served in the Military Government of Germany, spoke to a group of faculty and students Thursday, January 8 in Moulton Union.

Mr. Sewall, speaking under the auspices of the Political Forum, said that we must still send food to Germany but with the insertion of hope for despair Germany will dig herself out.

Questioning the need of shipping large quantities of coal and steel to Germany, the former governor pointed out that the Ruhr Valley was extremely wealthy in coal and iron ore. "It is the heart of Western Europe, only the heart isn't beating," he said. "If we set the heart to beating the Ruhr should be able to care for its own steel and coal shortages. We can't maintain Germany, they must maintain themselves. They have the manpower and the resources."

Wheeler '48 Wins Globe Fellowship For Study Abroad

Joseph C. Wheeler '48 has been awarded the Boston Globe Memorial Fellowship.

The award made to Wheeler before Christmas, is for $1,000 to be used for studying in a foreign country. Only students in New England Colleges are eligible to compete for this scholarship which is designed to be a living memorial to men who died in World War II.

Basis for selection is made on the type of interest and activities of the applicant in the field of international understanding. Wheeler served four years in the Student Executive Council of the Student Federals which are now the Student Division of United World Federals. While holding this position, he organized the Concord Conference on World Government, which is the birthplace of the Student World Government.

Wheeler also organized Student Federalist World Government Institute in California, Chicago, and Exeter, New Hampshire. Last fall he was a Bowdoin delegate to the Wisconsin Constitutional Convention of the National Student Association Convention, representing the Maine-Vermont region on the Constitutional Committee. The Boston Globe was particularly impressed by the foreign student plan at Bowdoin started by Wheeler last year.

Wheeler will graduate in February. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity, Student Council, and is president of the Bowdoin Political Forum. He plans to apply his scholarship to study at the University of Geneva in Switzerland, where he will study International Law and Finance, along with French. He expects to leave for the University in June.

Praises D.U. Lectureship And Foreign Student Plan

The importance of autonomy for local chapters of national fraternities was stressed by President Kenneth C. M. Sills, principal speaker at the banquet last Saturday evening at the Delta Upsilon House which concluded a two-day conference of the New England chapters of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

Pointing out that conditions and problems vary in different chapters, colleges, and universities, President Sills emphasized that no college or university ever tells a fraternity to take or not to take any boy. He urged that national fraternity organizations should likewise refrain from dictating to their chapters.

The undergraduates, the President continued, are entirely capable of selecting their own members, and the choice should be left with them. Affiliation with the national fraternity is very important, but there must also be more independence for local chapters than exists today.

Although he urged fraternities to realize that they are under criticism at the present time with many people calling upon them to justify their very existence, President Sills expressed his view that fraternities can play a very important part on college campuses.

He said that although the primary function of the fraternities must be social, they must also contribute to the real purpose of the college - the purpose of transmitting learning and increasing the horizons of learning - and must also concern themselves with the intellectual life of the undergraduates. He claimed that they are not rendering the service of which they are fully capable when all of their main interest centers on athletics and social life.

The President cited several important constructive contributions to college activities which originated with fraternities: the Delta Upsilon Lectureship which brought such figures to Bowdoin as Mary Ellen Chase, Alexander Woolcott, Felix Frankfurter, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt; the Bowdoin Religious Forum; and the Chi Psi foreign student scholarship plan.

Significant among the ideas stemming from the three business sessions of the conference was that of a general point cup for all college activities in which a student might participate. Such an award, the delegates agreed, with points awarded for competition in college sports, extracurricular activities, and scholarship would tend to stimulate.

[Continued on Page 2]

Oxford Debaters To Meet Bowdoin Team January 31

The Oxford Debate, which brings to Bowdoin three Oxford University debaters who are touring this country, is scheduled for Saturday, January 31, at 8:15 p.m., in Upper Memorial Hall.

The subject of debate is the question of the desirability of forming an Anglo-American alliance to secure world peace. The debate will be conducted with split teams, David Kenneth Harris of Oxford, Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. '47 and John R. Hupper '50 of Bowdoin will constitute the affirmative team. The negative team will consist of The Honorable Anthony Neil Wedgwood Benn and Sir Edward Charles Curney Boyle of Oxford, and Richard A. Wiley '49 of Bowdoin. Paul Nixon, Professor of Latin, will preside.

The debate will be decided in the English fashion, in that there will be no judges and neither team will actually be declared the winner. The sentiments of the audience on the question will be determined by a showing of hands at the conclusion of the debate.

David K. Harris served in the Anti-Aircraft division of the Royal Artillery, and in the R.A.F. as a liaison and staff officer during the war, and in 1945 was attached to the Medical Corps on Psychological Research, doing social therapy work. He was a History Scholar at Wadham College, Oxford, graduating in June, 1947. He helped to refund the Oxford magazine "Isis", of which he was the dramatic critic and literary editor. He is a contributor to British magazines and B.B.C. broadcasts, and a member of the Oxford Union Society.

The Honorable Anthony Neil Wedgwood Benn is the son of the Right Honorable Viscount Stansgate, P.C., D.S.O., D.F.C., former Secretary of State for India and World Inter-Parliamentary Union. During the war he was an R.A.F. Pilot-Officer. He graduated from New College, Oxford, in 1946, as a Bachelor of Arts in Politics.

Albert R. Thayer, Associate Professor of English, said that a call would be issued for new men at the beginning of the second trimester in February, and that the Debating Council was planning a

[Continued on Page 2]

Dramatic Group To Elect Officers

Edward L. Kallop '48, present publicity manager of the organization, has announced that the annual meeting for election of officers of the Masque and Gown will be held on Friday, January 23, 1948 in the Moulton Union Lounge at 7:00.

At this time the retiring executive committee will give various reports concerning their respective departments. The members of the present body include: president, Robert R. Bliss '47; secretary, William M. Davis '49; production advisor, Peter T. Poor '50; production manager, Richard J. M. Williams '46; publicity manager, Edward L. Kallop '48; members-at-large, Boyd Murphy '48; William G. Wadman '49.

Entries for the One Act Play contest sponsored by the Masque and Gown have been submitted to the Director George H. Quinby and a reading committee of faculty members who will judge the manuscripts.

The three winning plays will be presented by the Masque and Gown at some future date. Henry IV is being considered for the annual spring production. The Masque and Gown is looking forward to a prosperous season in view of the recent success of "Hay Fever."

Radio Station To Plan Shows

All members and men interested in the activities of Bowdoin-on-the-Air are urged to attend a very important meeting of the organization at 7:00 p.m., Thursday January 15, upstairs in the Moulton Union. Plans will be formulated for future programs and for the new Bowdoin Radio Studio.

Dr. J. W. Tupper To Give Tallman Course In Spring

"One of the few genuinely great teachers of undergraduates of his generation in America", James Waddell Tupper, Professor Emeritus of English at Lafayette College will teach at Bowdoin this Spring under the Tallman Foundation, as announced by Dr. Herbert R. Brown, Professor of English.

Dr. Tupper will give a course in English Literature covering the period from Milton to Burns and also present a series of lectures, of which one is entitled "The Poet as Critic". Retiring last year after more than forty years at Lafayette, he has also taught at Western University, Bryn Mawr College, and Harvard.

After graduating from Delhousie College in Nova Scotia, Professor Tupper studied at Johns Hopkins University for his Doctor of Philosophy degree under James Wilson Bright, a pioneer scholar in English philology.

Four members of the Bowdoin College faculty, Professors Herbert R. Brown and Atherton P. Daggett, and Associate Professors George R. Quinby and Albert R. Thayer, began their teaching careers under Dr. Tupper at Lafayette.

Professor Tupper has written books on restoration drama, Anglo-Saxon poetry, and poetry of the Eighteenth Century.

Opera Quartet To Sing Tomorrow Night In Bath

The first concert for holders of Bath-Brunswick Community Concert tickets will be held in Bath at Morse High School on January 15 at 8:15.

The Columbia Grand Opera Quartet will perform. The quartet consists of William Hain, tenor; Edna Hain, soprano; Arthur Kent, baritone; and Helen Olheim, contralto. Despite their youthful ages, the performers have had much experience in the music field. Hain has sung with the Boston Symphony and the others have all sung with the Metropolitan Opera Association.

Bus transportation to and from Bath for the benefit of Brunswick ticket holders is being arranged. Further information will be posted on the bulletin board. Admission is limited to those already holding tickets.

Bowdoin College Bulletin Most Imitated In Country

By Richard M. Van Orden '51

The Bowdoin College Bulletin is today one of the finest and most widely imitated college catalogs in the nation.

Written in an informal readable style which does away with the dry stiffness of the typical college catalog, the Bowdoin catalog in its open and honest presentation and appraisal of the college is a pleasing combination of dignity, practicality, and attractiveness.

In 1942 the committee on college publications was appointed by President Sills to look into the matter of a new catalog that would be an improvement over the old less literary one. This committee composed of Professors Chase, Holmes, and Daggett, the Librarian, Associate Professor Beam, Associate Professor Riley, and Messrs. McIntire and Ladd and under the chairmanship of Professor H. R. Brown felt that a catalog was like any other activity of the college and, as such an activity, it ought to put forth as favorable an impression of the college as possible.

Many changes had to be made. The size of the page was enlarged to do away with the necessity of small hard-to-read type. The catalog was rewritten in a new easy informal style intended to produce an interest in the reader. Photographs of the school and its activities were incorporated along with a student index. A new map did away with the old surveyor type map. A history of the college explaining the hows and whys of Bowdoin was introduced.

Expert On Russia To Lecture Here Saturday Evening

"World Security And Russia" Subject Of Institute Speaker

The electric topic, "World Security and Russia", will be the theme of a speech by Richard B. Scandrett L.L.B., prominent New York lawyer, at Memorial Hall on Jan. 17.

Mr. Scandrett, who has just returned from Russia where he was connected with UNRRA, had an opportunity to observe first hand conditions in that country. He also traveled through Europe as an official of the State Department.

The lecture will begin at 8:15 and will last about an hour and a half. The most interesting aspect of the evening will be the fireside chat, conducted by Mr. Scandrett, at the Moulton Union immediately after the lecture.

If students are urged to attend and those interested are requested by Dr. Orren C. Hornell, DeWalt Stanwood Alexander Professor of Government, to sign up in the library.

Mr. Scandrett made three trips to Europe after the war and has amassed a wealth of data on the European situation. During the war he was Treasurer of the Committee of Christian Refugees.

During the First World War he was an ensign in the Naval Air Corps. After the war he practiced law in New York.

In 1921 he was Associate Manager of Calvin Coolidge's pre-election campaign. A "dyed-in-the-wool" Republican, Mr. Scandrett was the delegate to the Republican State Convention in 1930 and 1938, and in 1936 was delegate to the National as well as the State Convention.

All this time he was engaged in active law practice in New York. He is a partner in the firm of Scandrett, Tuttle, and Chaplaine. He has written many outstanding books including the well-known "Divided They Fall".

Mr. Scandrett is now living in Cornwall, New York. While he is at Bowdoin, he will be the house guest of Mrs. Charles T. Burnett.

Reserve Officers Hear Lecture

The Brunswick-Bath Chapter, Reserve Officers Association of the United States, met 7:30 p.m. on Monday, January 5, in the Moulton Union Lounge.

Colonel Thomas C. Van Cleave, MI Reserve, introduced the speaker, 1st Lieutenant Peter DeTroy Jr., MI Reserve, who spoke on "The Strategic Organization of The Russian Armed Forces". A film was also shown.

Many former officers of other services attended the meeting.

College Activity Award Urged To Revive Student Participation

A general award to that fraternity or other organized social group on campus which contributes the most to college life, as proposed at the recent conference of the New England chapters of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity, presents a possible solution to two of Bowdoin's most pressing undergraduate problems.

Already proved successful at other colleges, the plan calls for an elaborate point system for achievement in scholarship, extracurricular activities, and intercollegiate athletics. Points would be allocated according to the degree of responsibility and amount of time demanded by any given position. This allocation might best be undertaken by the Student Council, or a special undergraduate or student-faculty committee.

Ten points each might be given for the editorship of this newspaper, the presidency of the Student Council, membership in Phi Beta Kappa, or the captaincy of a varsity athletic team. Lesser numbers of points would be granted for less important attainments and posts.

Such an award would not encroach upon the province of recognitions like James Bowdoin Day, the fraternity scholarship cup, or the award for interfraternity athletic supremacy. Rather it would supplement them and lend to the various phases of college activity the coordination needed in the eyes of the average student.

Two dilemmas might be brought nearer to solution by such a general award for fraternity participation in college life. Interests would be stimulated anew in attainment of high scholarship, and new personnel would be obtained for many extracurricular activities which are now continuing under alarming handicaps. And highly important, the trend of athletics from varsity teams to interfraternity athletics might be halted and even reversed.

Idealist will object that material rewards should not be needed for undergraduates to assume collegiate responsibilities. However, we find that students are not accepting responsibility unless a definite goal and concrete rewards are presented to them. If results are desired, incentives must be reckoned with.

The general award here proposed is a practical solution to a very practical problem. We call upon the Student Council, the fraternities, and all those concerned with extra-curricular activities to consider this project with a view to possible realization.

Publication Becomes Difficult

Regular followers of these not too frequently read columns may have observed that the length of the editorials has steadily increased while that of the masthead has proportionately decreased. This loss of staff members without the addition of new ones has made the production of this newspaper increasingly difficult.

No college activity demands more of its members than does the newspaper. And at the same time in no activity are the material rewards—public attention, glory, or remuneration—less. This newspaper fully recognizes that the ordinary student cannot be expected to perform continuous, hard work without sufficient reward.

There are those who claim that satisfaction with a job well done and a genuine interest in the work is enough. This point of view is ideal—the meeting of weekly deadlines is very practical.

This newspaper is not alone in suffering from this malady—the avoidance of any position which does not offer sufficient material reward for the labor involved. Many other activities here on campus and many elements of our national and international life appear also to be stricken.

But the burden of publication should not be borne week after week by the same small group of faithful staff members.

In the past this prevalent undergraduate attitude might have been called a lack of "college spirit." We believe that the cause is more deep-rooted. But efforts at discovering this cause and attempting its correction are soon waylaid by those whose complacency is about to be disturbed.

This shirking of responsibility in the community carries not too important consequences with it at the college level except as a portent of things to come. We seem to have forgotten that results are obtained only proportionately to the effort expended.

"I Was Once A 97 Pound Weakling. But Oh! Look At Me Now."

BCA Dining Plan Failure Due To Stiff Opposition

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

At the regular meeting of the Bowdoin Christian Association on Monday, January 12, it was voted to discontinue the Exchange Dining Room Plan under B.C.A. sponsorship.

Since there has been such complete lack of information about this program, I should like to inform the participating dining rooms of the reasons for this decision. The general spirit on the campus is definitely against any exchange plan under which men would eat at different dining rooms once a week. Many students who participated in the program expected to be treated like guests at other dining rooms but were reluctant to even introduce themselves to "exchangees" in their own dining rooms. Those who did not participate in the program often did much to lower the esteem of their individual houses by rudely ignoring "exchangees."

Despite stiff opposition, the Exchange Dining Room Plan was put into effect on Tuesday, November 18, with the purpose of stimulating good manners and cordiality in the various dining rooms as well as to combat fraternity isolationism and to further all-campus "solidarity" and unity. The Plan was then carried out for six weeks, with always at least two houses exchanging five men on Tuesdays from November 18 to January 6. The Moulton Union, Kappa Sigma, Zeta Psi, Alpha Delta Phi, and Delta Upsilon dining rooms were in the program for all six weeks. Alpha Tau Omega was in the program for four weeks. Chi Psi and Psi Upsilon, although not in the program, were willing to try and had at least one successful exchange evening. Beta Theta Pi was willing to try but could not participate through no fault of their own. The Theta Delta Chi, Sigma Nu and Delta Kappa Epsilon on dining rooms showed little or no interest.

Students who were "exchangees" expressed the opinion that only the Moulton Union and Kappa Sigma dining rooms extended real hospitality. Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Upsilon also received some praise.

There is no point in continuing this program when students, especially freshmen, have to be forced to participate and when "welcoming committees" have to be organized to cover up for ill-mannered students.

All the dining rooms should be urged to make more of the regular Thursday (and in some cases Sunday) "guest nights", and they should also be urged to exchange on an individual basis if possible. Thanks are due to those students who helped to make the B.C.A. Exchange Dining Room Plan the most success that it was this semester. The committee in charge has tried hard to accomplish its aims, but because of circumstances beyond its control it feels forced to announce publicly that it has failed. Only a growth of individual responsibility on the part of the students could make a similar plan succeed in the future.

Sincerely,
Wolfgang Hussler Rosenberg '47
for the Exchange Dining Room Committee of the Bowdoin Christian Association.

Sewall Stresses Aid

[Continued from Page 1]

tent. Give them every right except, "except the right to wage another war."

The former governor said that he did not see how a man without an army, without a secret police, and without control over the thinking of a people could become a dictator.

Turning next to the Soviet issue in Germany, Sumner Sewall said that the Russians were sure of a coming economic crash in the United States. This means much to their way of thinking, he pointed out and the United States could best disappoint the Russians and deal communism in Europe a vital blow by avoiding such a crash. Russia as a nation is not friendly toward the United States, declared Mr. Sewall, and those Russians who do profess friendship are quickly transferred. The next five years are precarious ones for our foreign relations with Russia. We must watch our name calling very carefully.

Germany's problems are intricately involved with our lives and at the present the stands ready to follow us. It is up to the United States to supply the hope she needs, so that she may solve her own problems. If we do not supply it, Germany may turn to Russia.

Sills At Parley; Speaks For More Local Freedom

[Continued from Page 1]

ulate interest in activities and reverse the movement of men from varsity to interfraternity athletics.

It was also emphasized at the conference that chapters must have closer contact with alumni, trustees and councillors on financial matters, and that good and regular chapter publications are essential to alumni support.

A loose organization of the New England chapters of D.U. was voted to facilitate the exchange of information among the units between these annual conferences. The host chapter each year will act as a clearing-house.

Papers presented for discussion by the chapters present were: Bowdoin, Chapter Officers, Their Functions and Qualifications; Brown, Keep Scholarship High; Colby, Chapter Finance; Dartmouth, Cooperation Between Chapters and Alumni; Middlebury, Cooperation Between Chapters; M.I.T., Delta Upsilon's Extra-Curricular Activity; Tufts, Chapter Publications; Wesleyan, Good-Will Methods Toward Other Fraternities; and Williams, Make Delta Upsilon First on Every Campus.

Also present at the business sessions was William F. Jones, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the national fraternity. He discussed a campaign to make D.U. first on every campus, plans for new chapters, and the addition of a new travelling secretary.

Paul Nixon, Professor of Latin, served as toastmaster at the Saturday banquet at which Peter A. Angeramo '45, president of the local chapter, and Eaton Leith, Associate Professor of Romance Languages, also spoke.

Visiting delegates were: Brown, John T. Swanton '50; Williams, Charles B. Cook '49 and Harry E. Ess '50; M.I.T., David L. Sutter '50 and Richard S. Pauli '50; Middlebury, Harold W. Richardson '45 and Robert M. Roemer '50; Dartmouth, William C. Melohn '47 and Herman W. Stein, Jr. '49; Tufts, Roger P. Peck '48 and H. Chester Young '49; Colby, Robert M. Wasserman '48 and J. Philip Berquist '49; and Wesleyan, Joseph C. Bauer, Jr. '48 and Paul T. Bagley '49.

Delegates from Amherst failed to attend the conference.

All arrangements for the meeting were under the direction of Peter A. Angeramo '45, senior delegate from Bowdoin and president of the conference, and Richard A. Wiley, junior delegate from Bowdoin and secretary.

The conference next year will be held at the Tufts chapter.

World Affairs... Jewish Forces Need Unity To Meet Arab Opposition

By George E. Berliawsky '48

The decision of the United Nations to partition Palestine has led to bitter indignation and violence on the part of the Arabs. To meet Arab hostility successfully will certainly require unity on the part of the Jews. However, the fact remains that the Jewish community has three separate armies to champion its cause, and in the past these three organizations have miserably failed to cooperate.

The main military force is the Haganah which, luckily enough, has the support of probably 90% of Jewish Palestine. It was organized in the early days of colonization to protect new settlements from hit-and-run Arab raiders. Since the white paper of 1939, the Haganah's main function has been that of smuggling "illegal" immigrants into their long coveted promised land.

The Haganah is organized somewhat like the Swiss army for almost every Jewish boy and young man is a part time member. It is, in reality, the official organization of Palestine's Jewry. It obeys all the commands of the Jewish agency and never acts contrary to the will of the people.

The Irgun Zvai Leumi is an extremist group that makes up in notoriety what it lacks in numbers. It was formed in the early thirties by a small group of nationalists who favored a more retaliatory policy against both Arabs and British. However, it was not until after the end of the war that it actually began to make itself felt.

Estimates of the Irgun's strength place it at around ten thousand men. Nevertheless, it is a powerful force for it is well trained and carefully organized. Most of its members received training by fighting with the British in Africa or with various undergrounds in occupied Europe.

The Irgun claims to be non-political and to have no Irgun ulterior intentions. They grow bitterly indignant when the charge of being Fascists is levied at them. But history has proven that the boundary between militaristic ultra-nationalism and Fascism is one that is easily crossed.

When World War II opened, most of the Irgun bridled their anti-English sentiments and joined the British army. But a few hundred of them were so embittered over the white paper and the Empire's tactics in general that they refused to cooperate. Under the leadership of Abraham

Stern they formed the Fighters for the Freedom of Israel which came to be known as the Stern Group.

From their very inception the Sternites did not balk at killing Englishmen when they felt they were responsible for loss of Jewish life. A famous example is their assassination of Lord Moyne for refusing admittance to a refugee ship which later sank.

The purpose of this article has been not to theorize but merely to give some of the background which may prove useful to a fuller understanding of the situation. But one conclusion does present itself. That is that the survival of the Jewish state may depend on whether the two prodigal undergrounds return to the fold. For the U.N. will be hard put to call the partition a success if the Jews cannot even get along among themselves.

Oxford Debate

[Continued from Page 1]

Philosophy and Economics. He was selected to be a Parliamentary candidate for the British Labor Party in 1947, and is the President of the Oxford Union Society.

Sir Edward Charles Curney Boyle is the son of Sir Edward Boyle, former Chairman of the Balkans Committee. He attended Eton College, and was a History Scholar of Christ Church, Oxford. He was Editor of the "Eton College Chronicle". During the war he was with the British Foreign Office. He is the Secretary and Librarian of the Oxford Union Society, and Treasurer of the Oxford University Conservative Organization.

Bradbury Debate

[Continued from Page 1]

smoker at that time. Many top debaters will be lost at February graduation, and their places will be open. An ambitious schedule is in store for the second term.

The first Maine Intercollegiate Debates, with all the Maine colleges participating, is set to be held at Colby sometime during the third week of March. World federation will again be the subject of debate, and each college will field both a negative and affirmative team.

Quill To Feature Essays And Poems

The first issue of the Quill for this year will be distributed this Thursday. Almost the entire list of contributors will be new to the Quill.

The lead article for this issue will be a personal essay by Slava Klima, student from Czechoslovakia. An essay in reply to the popular critics of New England by Donald Mortland should be of interest, especially to those students who feel that New England's nationwide reputation is a case of mistaken identity.

Elmo Giordanetti is a new writer who shows considerable promise. He has two articles in the forthcoming issue. There are several short pieces of writing by Adin Merrow, also new to the Quill. It is hoped that this issue will stimulate considerable interest in the Quill on the part of many new students at Bowdoin.

Stroke Seizes Dr. Brumbaugh

Dr. Robert S. Brumbaugh, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, suffered a paralytic stroke at his home on New Years' Day, and has been laid up at his home since.

The stroke was not, however, considered severe, and the doctors believe him to be improving. The paralysis caused by the stroke is receding.

William H. Leue, Instructor in Philosophy and Psychology, will continue to conduct Professor Brumbaugh's courses in Philosophy 4 during his absence.

Kendrick At Meeting Of College Leaders

Dean Nathaniel Kendrick is currently attending a joint meeting of the American Conference of Academic Deans and the Association of American Colleges January 12 through 14, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

WANT TO EARN $9000 A YEAR?

A career in life insurance selling can be both profitable and satisfying... with your income limited only by your own efforts. Many of our representatives earn $4,000 to $9,000 a year, and more! We invite you to send for our scientific Aptitude Test, which measures your qualifications for this interesting work.

After taking the test, you'll hear from our manager in or near your community. If you qualify, he'll explain our 3-year on-the-job training course, with a special compensation plan to help you become established. After that, the Mutual Lifetime Plan offers liberal commissions, and substantial retirement income at 65. Mail the coupon today!

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK
31 Nassau Street, New York 1, N.Y.
First in America

PLEASE SEND APPTITUDE TEST
NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, January 14, 1948 No. 18

Editor-in-Chief: Richard A. Wiley '48
Managing Editors: John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '48
News Editors: Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, Harvey S. Jackson '48, Charles T. Dillaway '48, Raymond S. Troubh '50
Sports Editor: George F. McClelland II '48
Assistant Sports Editor: Robert J. Waldron '50
Assistant Editor: George E. Berliawsky '48
Reporters: Paul L. Bishop '48, George Paradis '49, Nelson D. Payne '50, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Albert P. Phillips '51, Garrett J. Sheahan '51, Gerald C. Shrahan '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51

Photographers: Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists: William St. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager: Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager: Alfred J. Waxler '47
Circulation Managers: C. Craig Ryder '48, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Arthur H. Shovalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Bainton, Jr. '48, Joseph H. White, Jr. '48, John P. Ashby II '50, Donald Union '50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blaisford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Fardoe '51

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors: Professor Athos P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Eaton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49, Edward S. Early '49.

News Editor for this Issue: Harvey S. Jackson '48

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
430 Madison Ave., New York 17, N.Y.
GROVER • GROSS • LEE • ROSS • SOD • THOMAS

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news correspondence to the Editor, and advertising correspondence to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Student Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The Subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

Used Records 25c

COMPLETE STOCK OF
Victor - Columbia - Decca
Capitol - Signature Records

Radios and Players
For Rent

NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE

212 Maine St. Phone 1205-W

Orchid Cossages

FROM HAWAII
OVERNIGHT BY AIR

3 orchids in corsage... $4.00
5 orchids in corsage... $5.00
7 orchids in corsage... $7.50
Post-d. airmail special. Gift boxed.
Price - $20.00

SKYWAY FLOWERS
117-C South La Brea • Inglewood, Calif.

CUMBERLAND

WED. Jan. 14

Bing Crosby - Bob Hope
in

"THE ROAD TO RIO"

also
Paramount News

THURS.-FRI.-SAT. Jan. 15-16-17

"OUT OF THE PAST"

with
Robert Mitchum
Jane Greer
also
Short Subjects

SUN.-MON.-TUES. Jan. 18-19-20

"BODY AND SOUL"

with
John Garfield - Lilli Palmer
also
Paramount News

WED.-THURS. Jan. 21-22

"BLACK GOLD"

with
Anthony Quinn
Katherine Demille
also
News March of Time

Polar Bears... Hoopsters Lack Height; Puckmen Need Indoor Rink

By George F. McClelland '49

Dimmy Shay's basketballers returned from their sight, seeing tour of Connecticut still seeking the shining light of victory. Don't get the idea Bowdoin's basketball team just went to look at the scenery. Their object all sublime was to turn the tide of defeat at the expense of either Trinity or Wesleyan and if possible to conquer both.

The will to do so was there but the cards were stacked against the visitors from Maine. This year both Trinity and Wesleyan happen to have just about the best teams in the hoop annals of those two institutions. Bowdoin's present cluster is the best one produced by a Bowdoin mentor, but there is still a long way to go.

The story on the trip appears to be lack of height. The Polar Bears met two tall, rangy and very capable teams. Both had not nights and there was little the travel weary Big White could do about it. They were just out of their league!

Shay isn't discouraged and neither are we. This Bowdoin team is going to win some games this year, despite what some fair weather supporters are saying. Basketball has arrived and in the very near future Bowdoin teams will add basketball championships to state laurels in other sports.

To those who have witnessed Danny MacFayden's hockey team two things are evident. The first is that Bowdoin needs an indoor rink, and fast! It's pretty cold on the Delta in sub zero weather with the wind blowing and anyone who stays out for 60 minutes of hockey is either so frozen he can't leave the scene of battle or just crazy. The second point is that Mr. MacFayden has a pretty good group of puck chasers.

Despite the loss to Devens Saturday, the hockey stock at Bowdoin seems to be up a few points over last year. The first line is intact from last year and the second wave is just about as good. The third line scored on Saturday and may well be a constant scoring threat. While defense remains a bit unpolished, with Jim Fife and Bill Ireland on ice, enemy forwards have to be on guard. Larry Norton and Jim Draper are capable netminders and the junior varsity has some promising performers for the future. So, with good ice and continued good support from hardy fans, the Big White sextet may really go places.

A sport that has long been dormant in this fine old institution has at last started on the upward path. Under the tutelage of Pat Quinby, a fencing team is being organized, and if sufficient promise is found in the aspirants, intercollegiate matches will be scheduled. At present, Dave Thorndike, Tom Little, and Larry Ray are leading in a round robin held for squad members. The return of this ancient sport to Bowdoin is a welcome one.

The visitors ahead until Prentiss' goal turned the tide. Hubby led the scorers with 14 points.

The line-ups:

Bowdoin (37) (South Portland (36))

Hubby, f. 7 0 14 Carmichael, g. 3 4 10

Van Arden, f. 0 2 2 Legere, f. 2 2 6

Burr, f. 2 0 0 Jordan, f. 2 0 6

Burr, f. 1 0 2 Howe, c. 4 0 8

Prentiss, c. 4 2 10 Wiggins, g. 3 1 7

Monro, c. 0 0 0 Sears, g. 0 0 0

Sadler, g. 0 0 0

Shay, g. 1 1 3

Totals 16 8 73 Totals 14 8 36

Referee—Parks, Flaherty. Time 48:5.

Women students at the Adventist College of Walla Walla, Washington, are required to wear their dresses within twelve inches of the floor. ORIENT, Jan. 20, 1926.

Bowdoin Mermen Successful At Meet In Florida

Merrow Looking For
Berth On 1948 U.S.
Olympic Team

Four Bowdoin students, Adm Merrow, Widgery Thomas, Gordon Page and Robert MacGowan, have returned from a two weeks swimming meet, which was comprised of probable Olympic candidates from the leading colleges east of the Mississippi.

The meet is an annual event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and the National Collegiate Coaches Association, but had an added zest this year due to the possibility that many of the men will be at the Olympic trials in Detroit in June. Sports writers considered this a pre-view of the trials, and predict that two-thirds of the Olympic team will be made up from the 400 men and women who participated in the Florida contests.

The Bowdoin students were put up at the Casa Mona Hotel, and attended daily forums on swimming, conducted by such outstanding coaches as Matt Mann of Michigan, Kiputh of Yale, and Peppé of Ohio State, who will be the American Diving Coach for the Olympics.

The big event of the meet was the East-West contest, dividing the colleges at the Appalachians for east, and from there to the Mississippi for the western team. MacGowan of Bowdoin was the individual best in the fast leg of the medley relay.

Merrow placed third in the back stroke relay, beating the heretofore 3rd best man in the country, Dick Maine of Iowa State University.

Veteran Disinterest

[Continued from Page 1]
Only a few short years remain before the last of the veterans will graduate and their places will be taken over by the new freshmen. The college can then look to a resurgence of extra-curricular interest from students who will substitute enthusiasm and curiosity for whatever they lack in maturity and experience.

Five Breaks Jinx, Tops Tufts, 49 - 45

Fast Action In Devens Net Saturday

A FLEET BOWDOIN WING is shown fighting for the puck near the University of Massachusetts at Devens net in a close game which Devens won 4-3.

New Scoring For Bowling League As Play Renews

The Interfraternity Bowling League has now been operating at full tilt since the week before the Christmas Holidays.

Thus far the results in twenty-four of the matches have been turned in to the White Key Officials, but no tabulation of the standings has yet been made.

A new method of scoring is being used in the league this year, with a point being given to the winner of each string and one to the match winner, a total of three points awarded for a clean sweep. The four highest teams will meet in the finals after the regular season.

The remainder of the schedule:

Wednesday, Jan. 14

Sigma Nu vs. AD

Deke vs. Kappa Sig

Chi Psi vs. Zeta

Thursday, Jan. 15

Beta vs. Psi U

Zeta vs. Deke

Chi Psi vs. Kappa Sig

Monday, Jan. 19

DU vs. AD

ATO vs. TD

Sigma Nu vs. ARU

Tuesday, Jan. 20

Chi Psi vs. TD

AD vs. Deke

Psi U vs. DU

Pucksters Drop Opener To Mass. State At Devens 4 - 3

Bowdoin's hockey sextet dropped its season's opener to the University of Massachusetts at Fort Devens by a 4-3 count on the Delta Rink Saturday afternoon before a shivering crowd.

Bowdoin put the pressure on the visitors' goaltender at the opening whistle and scored at 1:27 when the first line combined on a rush, Dick Field getting the goal. The lead was short lived, however, for Jim Devlin of the visitors received a pass from Chet Wakeham and scored 15 seconds after the face-off. Bill Burns sent Devens a goal in front with a shot from close range at 13:50 of the initial frame, when Bowdoin was a man down.

The Polar Bears got a temporary equalizer at 1:25 of the second stanza when Captain Ed Leason counted on a pass from Bill Ireland. Bowdoin pressed during most of the period, but fell behind when Mickey Metayer blasted one in from the blue line in the middle of the period. Metayer got an insurance tally early in the third period on another long shot, and the lead proved enough. Bowdoin closed the gap with the third line on at 6:50 when Daley rammed the rubber past Downes.

The scoring:

1. Bowdoin, Field (Burke, Leason) 1:25.

2. Devens, Devlin (Wakeham) 1:40.

3. Devens, Burns (Roche, Marmo) 13:50.

Penalties: Fife (handling puck without stick); Joyce (slashing).

4. Bowdoin, Leason (Ireland) 1:27.

5. Devens, Metayer (unassisted) 14:25.

Penalties: Archie (tripping); Roche (roughing).

Third period: 6. Bowdoin, Daley (Crookford, Haskell) 6:50.

7. Devens, Metayer (Devlin) 1:45.

Penalties: Field (slashing); Roche (stiff stick); Kelley (bucking).

Devens scorers: Marmo, Roche, Burns, McLoughlin, Joyce, Tooley, Fife, Rogers, Galusha, Hussey.

Bowdoin scorers: Archibald, Hansen, Blanchard, Crookford, Pierce, Haskell, Bonasanti, Daley, Badger, Clark, Norton.

Referee—Harlow, Sullivan. Time—3:20.

Pandora, Connolly Star; Last Period Attack Wins

Breaking into the win column for the first time this season, an underdog Bowdoin quintet, trailing by four points going into the final period, suddenly caught fire last night to whip a powerful Tufts five, 49-45, before a roaring crowd in the Sargent Gymnasium.

Trinity, Wesleyan Defeat Bowdoin 79-49 And 68-46

Bowdoin's wireless basketball team dropped both tilts in their two day tour of Connecticut, losing to Trinity at Hartford, Friday night, 70-49, and then being belted at Middletown by Wesleyan 68-46 on Saturday.

Hopelessly outclassed by both Nutmeg quintets, the Polar Bears battled desperately to prevent both games from turning into routs.

Friday night they ran up against the same two sharpshooters who helped Trinity crush Bowdoin last year in Ed Faber and Tom Watson. Faber hit for 23 points and Watson chipped in with 15 to engineer the home team's easy triumph. Bowdoin made it close for most of the first half, trailing 37-29 at intermission, but from then on it was no contest. Dick Pandora and Sid Connolly led the Big White with 9 points each.

The Cardinals from Wesleyan put the damper on Bowdoin's hopes for a split with a first period outburst which sent them ahead 28-9 at the quarter. From there on it was just a question of how high the score would be. For the second night in a row a big center, this time Bill Dundas, broke 20 points, illustrating Bowdoin's height disadvantage. Jim Schoenthaler led Bowdoin with 10 points.

At Hartford, Friday night:

Trinity (78) Bowdoin (49)

Watson, f. 7 15 Connolly, f. 3 3 9

Bohland, f. 1 0 Tyrone, f. 0 0 0

Habrowski, f. 0 0 McDonald, f. 2 2 6

Pitkin, f. 2 3 Pandora, f. 4 1 9

Holden, f. 1 3 Foster, f. 0 0 0

Saber, c. 10 33 Spiers, c. 2 2 6

Boyd, c. 0 0 Tobey, c. 0 0 0

Hochstetler, c. 1 0 2 Schoenher, c. 4 0 8

Ponselle, c. 3 1 7 Zdanowicz, c. 0 0 0

Scully, f. 1 0 2 Piper, g. 0 0 0

Malon, g. 0 0 Deane, g. 4 1 9

Leahy, g. 2 1 5 Reimer, g. 0 0 0

Strainard, g. 1 1 3

Totals 29 12 70 Totals 19 11 49

At Middletown, Saturday night:

Wesleyan (68) Bowdoin (46)

Cole, f. 1 2 4 Connolly, f. 3 0 6

Robertson, f. 0 0 0 Pandora, f. 3 0 6

May, f. 5 10 McDonald, f. 1 0 2

Hofray, f. 0 1 1 Spiers, c. 3 1 6

Dundas, c. 8 5 21 Zdanowicz, c. 0 0 0

Little, f. 1 1 2 Foster, c. 0 0 0

Walsh, c. 0 1 1 Schoenher, c. 5 0 10

Whiting, g. 5 4 14 Tobey, g. 2 0 4

Schleifer, g. 0 0 0 Deane, g. 3 2 8

Hall, g. 0 0 0 Rime, g. 1 0 2

Werner, g. 4 1 9

Bushan, g. 0 0 0

Totals 27 14 68 Totals 21 4 46

Referee: Winters and Carrigan. Time: 2:20.

Swimmers Easily Sink Tufts, 54-24; Sweep Five Events

The Polar Bear swimmers paddled to an easy 51 to 24 victory over Tufts in Bowdoin's home tank last Saturday.

The Big White aggregation made a clean sweep of the breaststroke, diving, 220, and medley relay, besides garnering firsts in the century, the backstroke, and the quarter. The only spot where the Tuftonians broke through was in the 50, in which Manthey out-touched Mitchell and Hamblen of the White, and in the final relay, where Manthey swam a fast last leg to pull out the Tufts win in the event.

Pacing the Polar Bears rampage were Tony Soltysiak and Captain Adin Merrow. Both boys teamed up with Dick Curry to coast to an easy win in the medley relay, winning by a margin of 50 yards. Tony was chased for 200 yards by Morin in the breaststroke, but Soltysiak won by about four feet. In the 150 yard backstroke, Merrow had the pool pretty much to himself, winning the dorsal event by 25 yards. Merrow missed his own New England record by 3/10ths of a second, doing a fast 1:38.3, although in practice he hit a 1:36.7. Wedge Thomas outspurred the Tufts second and won for a close third.

The summary:

[Continued on Page 4]

OUTFITTERS TO COLLEGE MEN

A down - to - earth price for Smart - all - wool

CARDIGANS

For knock about wear — the Cardigan sweater is considered tops in smart fashion — These made by Alkom do something about the cost of going-to-College. Their down-to-earth price — and excellent tailoring — do the most for the fine pure wool yarns. In Navy — Maroon — dark Green and Camel.

$6.95

Pull over sweaters from $5

Benoit's

Santer Building

Brunswick

THE NEW SENSATION KIMBERLY POKETTE PEN

No longer than your Cigarette
but when open it's full size
with full ink supply

$4.95 — All Colors

Come in and try them

$18.00 Eversharp for $5.10 this week

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Rave Record

"MAHALANI
PAPA DO"

... new RCA Victor hit by

Vaughn Monroe

Vaughn once again displays his vocal versatility—backed up by the Moon Maids. You'll like this record—so lend an ear! Another great record is the one belonging to Camel cigarettes.

More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!

More people are smoking
CAMELS
than ever before!

CAMELS
SUIT MY
'T-ZONE'
TO A 'T'

Vaughn
Monroe

R. J. Reppel's Tob. Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

B.C.A. Plans Series Of Open Forums On Christianity

Problems Of Marriage And Christian Ethics Topics Of Discussion

Final plans of the new series of discussion groups recently inaugurated at the First Parish Church were made known, and initial steps for the reorganization of the B.C.A. were taken at Monday night's weekly meeting of the Bowdoin Christian Association in the Moulton Union.

"The Message of the Prophets," an informal address by Dr. Thompson E. Ashby in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, started the discussion Sunday night. The general topic of the first series of forums is "A Survey of Christianity."

Under this general topic, Dr. Chauncey W. Goodrich will speak on "The Message of the Gospels" next Sunday evening, January 18, at eight o'clock. Addresses by Dr. Henry G. Russell, Assistant Professor of Religion and President Kenneth C. M. Sills on the succeeding Sundays will complete the Christianity survey series.

The problems of marriage and Christian ethics will concern the second and third series of discussions, respectively. The meetings are arranged primarily for college students and their wives. All members of Bowdoin College are cordially and earnestly invited to attend.

Upon the recommendations of the B.C.A. Executive committee action was taken to transform the present organizational set-up of the association from the committee scheme, under which the B.C.A. is presently organized, to a cabinet or department scheme. Such a reorganization would divide the duties of the B.C.A. into three general cabinets: a cabinet for Religious Education and Spiritual Growth, a cabinet concerned with

Party Queen

Merrill Stradio

MRS. FRANCES LEAVITT, wife of Brooks R. Leavitt '46, who was crowned Queen of the Bowdoin Christmas Houseparties of 1947.

Tufts Swim

[Continued from Page 3]
300-Yard Medley Relay—Won by Bowdoin (Morrow, Soltysiak, Curry). Time, 3m. 21.8s.
100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Erswell (B); 2. Zeltzer (B); 3. Appel (T). Time, 2m. 31s.
50-Yard Freestyle—Won by Manthey (T); 2. Mitchell (B); 3. Hamblan (B). Time, 25.2s.
Diving—Won by Gath (B); 2. Blake (B); 3. Hill (T). Winning points, 105.68.
100-Yard Freestyle—Won by McGowan (B); 2. Manthey (T); 3. Williams (B). Time, 57s.
150-Yard Backstroke—Won by Morrow (B); 2. Kuhl (T); 3. Thomas (B). Time 1m. 33.3s.
200-Yard Breaststroke—Won by Soltysiak (B); 2. Moran (B); 3. Welch (T). Time, 3m. 42.1s.
400-Yard Freestyle—Won by Zeltzer (B); 2. Appel (T); 3. Pare (B). Time 5m. 42.6s.
400-Yard Relay—Won by Tufts (Nelson, Kuhl, Cooke, Manthey). Time, 4m. 5s.

welfare and relief work, and one for the social work of the B.C.A.

Secret Group Names Bowdoin Wife Party Queen

Gene Krupa, as the maestro, and Mrs. Brooks R. Leavitt, as Queen of the Houseparty, were the feature attractions at the 1947 Bowdoin Christmas Houseparty.

The music of Gene Krupa and his band at the formal dance on December 19 contributed much towards making the affair a very enjoyable highlight of the weekend. Krupa's recent change to playing soft, sweet music has been quite successful if the enthusiasm of the dancers may be taken as a sign of approval.

Mrs. Leavitt, whose husband is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity, was chosen Queen by a secret committee, composed of Dr. Lawrence L. Pelletier, Assistant Professor of Government, Mr. Richard J. Storr, instructor in American History, and Mr. Gerald M. York, instructor in Mathematics.

L. Robert Porteous '46, representing the Student Council presented the Queen with a beautiful compact. The qualifications by which Mrs. Leavitt was chosen were poise, beauty, and personality.

Although the bills are not all in, the Student Council expects to

Ski Team To Meet Bates And Brown At Bridgton Meet

With three weekend practice trips to the White Mountains behind it, the Varsity Ski Team will compete with Bates and Brown at Bridgton on Saturday, January 17, Coach Lawrence M. Burke announced.

The Junior Varsity will meet Lewiston High School on the same meet. Downhill and slalom will be the only events entered. There are tentative arrangements for cross-country.

The members of the varsity team are Lawrence M. Burke, Bruce H. M. White Jr., Dabney W. Caldwell, Paul Hwochinsky, and John D. Newton.

The cross country team is composed of Dabney W. Caldwell, Gary M. Boone, and Thomas N. Tarrant; the jumping team, Dabney W. Caldwell, Thomas N. Tarrant, and John Wescott.

The junior varsity team is represented by David R. Getchell, Stewart S. MacLeod, P. T. Simpson Jr., Fred Coryell, and Roy A. Foulke.

have lost $200 on the expensive weekend party. The Sargent Gymnasium was pleasantly decorated with evergreens and Christmas trees.

Hockey Team Outscores New Auburn Legion, 5 - 3

Bowdoin's varsity hockey team defeated the New Auburn Legion sextet 5-3, in a final tune-up for the regular season's opener, last Tuesday evening on the Delta rink.

Coach Danny MacFayden used four separate lines in a contest which saw the Legion go out in front early in the first period only to have the Polar Bears equalize the score towards the end of the stanza and then pull away with two markers in the second.

Phil Burke and Jim Pierce each scored twice for Bowdoin as the first two lines did all the scoring. The defense was ragged but Jim Fife was a standout on the backline while he was in. Both Big White netminders handled themselves well.

The summary:

Legion
Bowdoin
Norton, 5
Fife, 1d
Ireland, rd
Burke, 1
Cote, 1
Field, 1w
Legion spars—Pierce, Bonzani, Hansen, Blanchard, Crookford, Archibald, Marshall, Clark, Badger, Draper, Legion spars—Bedard, Berube, Ayotte, Referee—Harlow, Linesman—Sullivan.
Saves—Norton 20, Draper 12, Fife 36.
First period scoring:
1. Legion, Cote 4:00.
2. Bowdoin, Field, (Lessoon, Burke) 17:25.
Penalties—Ireland, Roucher, Bedard.

Second period scoring:
3. Bowdoin, Burke 4:00.
4. Bowdoin, Pierce (Archibald) 18:33.
Penalties—Ireland, Morin, Cote.
Third period scoring:
5. Legion, Cote (Cloutier) 3:30.
6. Bowdoin, Burke (Field) 6:59.
7. Bowdoin, Pierce (Blanchard) 10:40.
8. Legion, Bellemare 18:15.
Penalties—Berube, Morin.

White Key League Sees Good Season

The White Key Basketball League has got into full swing since college reopened last week. The prospects for a very successful season are in sight, with several thrilling one and two point victories already in the records. A complete report on the progress of the league, along with the standings and a resume of the scores of the games week:

Wed. Jan. 14—7 p.m. Deke vs DU
Thur. Jan 15—7 p.m. Zete vs AD
9 p.m. KS vs TD
Mon. Jan. 19—7 p.m. Psi U vs SN
9 p.m. ARU vs Beta
Wed. Jan. 21—9 p.m. Chi Psi vs ATO

J.V.'s Score 9-2 Over Prep School In Hockey Game

Bowdoin's junior varsity hockey sextet conquered two of Maine's better prep school teams over the weekend, defeating M.C.I. 9-2 at Pittsfield on Saturday and downing Bridgton 5-4 on the delta rink on Monday.

The fast skating Polar Bear seconds, coached by Don Davis, had an easy time against M.C.I. The Big White pressed all the way and scored almost at will. Against Bridgton the jayvees blasted into a 5-1 lead in the first two periods and then coasted with reserves.

J.V. Tankmen Dunk Hebron Academy

Bowdoin's Junior Varsity Swimming team crushed the Big Green of Hebron Academy 44-21 Friday in the Hebron Pool in a meet which saw Bowdoin cop six out of eight firsts with Bill Ingraham the only double winner.

The summary:
50-Yard Freestyle—Won by Mitchell (B); second, Mulesky, (H); third, Page (B). Time 27.4 seconds.
100-Yard Breast Stroke—Won by Reich (B); second, VanVoast, (B); third, Blake (H). Time 1:16.2.
220-Yard Freestyle—Won by Ingraham (B); second, Kyle, (B); third, Wheeler (H). Point—41.6.

M.C.I. Defeats Bowdoin J.V.'s In Hoop Tilt

A powerful M.C.I. basketball quintet crushed Bowdoin's jayvees, 60-45, at Pittsfield on Saturday afternoon, coasting to victory after establishing a 16-4 lead at the close of the first period.

The rangy preppers who were never in danger, led 35-17 at halftime and 47-31 at the third period mark. John Feehan of Bowdoin and Duke of the winners tied for scoring honors with 21 points.

The line-ups:

Bowdoin	G	F	P	M. C. I.	G	F	P
Martin, f	0	0	0	Duka, f	10	2	2
Leonard, f	6	1	1	Mott, f	0	0	0
Fisher, g	3	2	1	Holton, g	0	0	0
Morrison, c	2	1	5	Mam, f	1	2	4
Gault, g	1	0	2	Walker, g	1	0	2
McDonald, g	1	0	2	Cooper, c	7	2	16
Burke, c	0	0	0	Arney, g	1	0	2
Landwall, g	1	0	2	Fuller, g	2	3	8
				Park, g	1	0	2
				Crowley, g	1	1	3
				Holman, c	0	1	1
Totals	20	5	45	Totals	25	10	60

(H) Time 2:26.6.
100-Yard Back Stroke—Won by Ingraham (B); second, Lancaster, (B); third, Kanter, (H). Time 1:07.
100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Byerly (H); second, Mitchell, (B); third, Williams, (B). Time 1:01.5.
150-Yard Medley—Won by Bowdoin, (Lancaster, Van Voast, Relche). Time 1:34.
200-Yard Freestyle Relay—Won by Hebron, (Mulesky, Barnes, Lewis, Byerly). Time, 1:41.
Diving—Oherle, (B); second, Sherwood, (H). Point—41.6.

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good food - Pleasant Surroundings
Reasonable Prices
Remember, it's the
COLLEGE SPA
"Right Off the Campus"
Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

"Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"Well, rub my eyes—if I'm dreaming of delicious Dentyne Chewing Gum, don't wake me up! I'm all set for that keen, clean taste—and do I like the way Dentyne helps keep my teeth white, too!"
Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

Why I'm an Air Force Pilot

"I guess it began when I was just a kid, making non-stop flights around the dining-room table. Later on, the town got an airport. I got to know every plane, right down to the smallest bolts and screws.

"During the war I took off with the Aviation Cadets. The folks were all for it. They figured—correctly—that it was the best way to get me into the air where I belonged.

"I made it all right. Trained in the best planes the Air Force has, and now I'm heading for transition work in jets. The pay? Now that I'm a pilot, $336 a month, plus $500 for each year of active duty. And there's plenty of room for promotions.

"But that's not the real point. Some men belong in the air. They were born wanting wings—with the action, the pride, the freedom that go with them. There's no better way to have all that, along with the world's finest flying training, than to join the Aviation Cadets. And the future—in civilian aviation or in the Air Force—is as wide open as the horizon. If you want the fast-moving life, why not drop around to the Recruiting Station in your community or the nearest Air Force installation."

U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service

WIN YOUR WINGS

with the Aviation Cadets

"You can count on Chesterfield's ABC's to give you a grand smoke"

Loretta Young

LORETTA YOUNG
COSTARS IN SAMUEL GOLDWYN'S
NEW PICTURE
"THE BISHOP'S WIFE"

It takes ABC TO SATISFY

When you change to Chesterfield
THE FIRST THING YOU WILL NOTICE IS THEIR MILDNESS
...that's because of their Right Combination
World's Best Tobaccos

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
They Satisfy

AD's, Dekes, Psi U's, Zetes Win Fraternity Sing Trials, To Compete For Cup Tonight

WGAN To Carry Wass Cup Contest Tonight At 9:30

The Zetes, Psi U's, A. D.'s and DKE's meet tonight at 9:30 for the Interfraternity Sing Trials in Memorial Hall.

The finals will be broadcast over Station WGAN, and the audience must be seated by 9:15. Honorable mention in the trials went to the Betas and the ATO's. The spirit of the trials was high evidencing keen competition from all 12 fraternities. The audience gave enthusiastic applause throughout the trials.

Monday night Donald B. Snyder, Jr., '50, led the Zetes to first place, with "Schneider's Band," and "Badge of Zeta Psi." The Psi U's under Daniel B. Kunhardt, '49, took second with the "Psi U Fellowship," and a medley of "Bill Bailey" and "Ain't That a Shame." In third place were the Betas under Frederick Weidner III, '50 singing the "Grand March" from "Aida," and the fraternity Marching Song.

Tuesday, the AD's under the direction of Herbert S. French Jr., '46, placed first with "Po' Ol' Lazrus," solos by Donald Lyons, '48, and Charles W. Lovejoy, '50, and the AD Marching Song, "We Come." Second: the DKE's under Oliver F. Emerson II, '49 with the DKE Initiation Song, Samuel W. Hale, Jr., '49, soloist, and a Fred Waring arrangement of "Dry Bones." Third: David Thorndike, '46, lead the ATO's in the fraternal song, "Our Jewels," and "Ol' Man River," with Merle Spring, '51, soloist.

The judges are Ernest C. Heimreich, Professor of History and Government, a member of the Brunswick Choral Society; Mrs. George Edgar Folk; and Mr. Ronald Hurle, a member of the Bristol Royal Orpheus Glee Society (founded in 1844). While the judges were making their decision, on Monday and Tuesday nights, Frederic E. T. Tiltonson, pianist, performed.

Announcer for the broadcast is James T. Burgess, '48. Robert Rudy, '46, is producer, and Peter Poor, '50, is author of the script. The Meddiesingers will sing while the judges are making their decision.

Tonight's winner will receive the Edward Holmes Wass Cup, presented "In memory of the beloved Bowdoin Professor of Music." The AD's won the cup last year. The President's cup is awarded to the fraternity showing the most improvement over the preceding year. The Betas received this cup in 1947.

Conducting the other fraternities were Wallace K. Evers, '46, T.D.; Frederic W. Willey, Jr., '47, Chi Psi; Sherman Fein, '49, ARU; David Bowdoin, '49, Sigma Nu; Roger N. Williams, '46, Kappa Sigma; Donald MacDonald, '50, DU.

Authors To Stage Their Prize Plays

Roger P. Mergandahl '50, Peter T. Poor '50, and Albert P. Phillips '51, have been selected as the winners of the one act play contest, announced George H. Quincy, Director of Dramatics.

The three plays will be produced sometime late in February when another panel of judges will award first and second prizes. Each author will cast and direct his own play.

The three judges were Mrs. Glenn McIntire, Paul Nixon, Professor of Latin, and Burton Taylor, Associate Professor of Sociology. A total of five manuscripts were submitted to the contest the other two come from James R. Waburne Jr., '50 and Donald F. Mortland '50.

55 To Graduate On February Seventh

February commencement exercises will be held on Saturday, February 7, in the First Parish Church.

President Kenneth C. M. Sills will address the graduating class of fifty-five members. After the exercises, there will be the usual commencement luncheon for graduates, their families and friends. Special guests of the luncheon will be the members of the Governing Boards, who will hold a meeting later in the day.

Oxford Students Coming Here

OXFORD DEBATERS who will meet Bowdoin here Jan. 31 are (l. to r.) The Hon. Anthony N. W. Benn, David K. Harris and Sir Edward Boyle.

Anglo-American Alliance To Be Debated With Oxford

Bowdoin College will debate with Oxford University on January 31st at 8:15 in Upper Memorial Hall. The topic of discussion at this program is the desirability of an Anglo-American alliance for the security of world peace.

Monaghan Elected President of '48 For 5-Year Term

Stephen E. Monaghan was elected president of the Class of 1948 at a meeting of the Class yesterday. Dabney W. Caldwell was elected vice-president, and C. Cabot Easton, secretary-treasurer. Robert Whitman '45, a member of the Student Council, presided at the meeting.

It was unanimously agreed that the term of these officers will be limited to five years and, at the end of that time, new officers will be elected.

Monaghan, former Bowdoin baseball, basketball, and football player, and football cheerleader last fall, set 100% as the goal for Class subscriptions to the Alumni and Sesquicentennial Funds.

Dee Caldwell is a member of the ski and swimming teams, and Cab Easton is a former ORIENT Business Manager, and is president of Bowdoin-on-the-Air.

Community Concert Program Viewed With Mixed Emotions

By Paul L. Bishop '49

Shades of Theda Bara! Melodrama is back — with music.

We refer to the first of the Bath-Brunswick Community Concert Series given last Thursday night when the "Columbia Operatic Trio" sang some operatic selections pleasantly and some opera, unpleasantly.

The trio, Agnes Davis, soprano, Elwood Gary, tenor, and Carlos Sherman, baritone, gave evidence of operatic background by bringing to the concert platform nearly all the obvious ridiculous mannerisms and posturings one always sees on the operatic stage. We seldom see much annoying action at concerts, in fact, we never have.

Only the last of three trios sang by the group was well done. The Prison Scene from Gounod's "Faust." They were warmed up for this, the last number of the evening. Here, as elsewhere, the ensemble suffered from muddy diction. Verdi and Strauss' only the last was successful. This sounded like second rate Gilbert and Sullivan and was entitled "Who Would Think That Such A Lawyer Would Betray His Own Employer?"

Most notable of the soloists was Mr. Gary, singing in English, selections of Victor Herbert and an Irish ballad. His diction was admirable, his range excellently controlled, even in the high notes, whether softly or too loudly projected. His voice was not suited to Puccini's demanding "E lucevan le stelle" from "Tosca" nor much better in the old "Rigoletto" warhorse, "La donna e mobile," both in Italian.

Miss Davis exhibited a good operetta voice in her English rendition of Oscar Strauss' "My Hero" from "Chocolate Soldier" and excellent diction in an encore "The Sleigh." Italian opera again suffered as she "scopied up" to high notes and swallowed climaxes in Mascagni's "Voi lo sapete" and Puccini's "Vesti d'arte." Both works lacked sufficient feeling (which was not supplied by posturing) and the latter work started poorly. Miss Davis having forgotten apparently where Puccini put his Eb.

We did not care for Mr. Sherman though we did note with interest our program which explained: "He proved his versatility last season by traveling with the 'Bloomer Girl' company as a leading artist." We were not a little disappointed when he blew his nose in a lyric interlude in the middle of his aria from Giordano's "Andrea Chénier." After sobbing through this, he ranted through Moussorgsky's "Battle of Kazan." This, heard in lieu of Wagner's "Song to the Evening Star" called for a second substitution for a Gerhart: Mallot's "Song of the Open Road." His voice cracked as he attempted to soar into the tenor range in this number.

Miss Davis and Mr. Gary sang French well and with feeling, offering a warm presentation of the diyet "Parlez-moi de ma mere" from Bizet's Carmen. Their performance of Romberg's "Maytime" called forth an encore by Jerome Kern.

Able piano accompaniments were given by Otto Lehmann who often joined his fellow artists with elaborate gestures.

Bowdoin Plan For Foreign Students To Be Published

Ward's Report Cites Advantages Gained By Aiding Foreign Men

The Bowdoin Plan for the admission of foreign students to American universities and colleges will be published in pamphlet form within the next few weeks, for distribution to other college campuses. It was announced this week by Joseph Wheeler '48 of the International Activities Committee of the Student Council.

The printed pamphlet, as its foreword explains, attempts to "answer requests for information concerning the Bowdoin Plan and at the same time present an account of the various factors contributing to the success of the plan at Bowdoin."

The brochure stresses three overall objectives:

1. Provision of educational experience in the promotion of international understanding.
2. The value of prestige and public approval given the sponsoring group.
3. The value of unity and purposefulness given the sponsoring group.

The greater part of the pamphlet is devoted to a concrete discussion on how interested student groups can ease the financial problems that confront foreign students, as they contemplate study in America, at small inconvenience to the sponsoring group itself.

In addition to the methods already in use by the five fraternities participating in the plan at Bowdoin, several alternate proposals for non-fraternity colleges and universities are discussed, which the costs of tuition, room, board, and personal expense for

[Continued on page 2]

Kendrick Attends College Officials' Cincinnati Parley

The thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges was held in conjunction with the fourth annual meeting of the American Conference of Academic Deans January 12-14 in Cincinnati, Ohio with Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick representing Bowdoin at both meetings.

One of the major issues at the Deans meeting was the question of Federal Aid to higher education. A great many colleges expressed apprehension of their financial future without such aid. At the same time, however, many were fearful of the implications of accepting such aid, fearing that with Federal aid would come Federal control.

The tax exemption status of the colleges was discussed and the deans were unanimous in the hope that such exemption would continue.

The Association of American Colleges meeting, attended by nearly two thousand delegates, consisted largely of speeches and discussion periods.

The relationship of the colleges to the UNESCO, and the place of religion and need of emphasis of moral and Christian principles in the colleges were typical of the matters discussed.

One of the most hotly debated issues of the meeting was that of Universal Military Training with President Dods of Princeton leading the fight in favor of the measure and President Guerry of the University of the South heading the opposition. An informal show-of-hand vote on a resolution against the adoption of Universal Military Training showed the personal feelings of the representatives to be three to one in favor of the resolution.

NSA Endorses Bill On Vet Payments

The United States National Student Association has endorsed a Senate Bill calling for an increase in veteran subsistence rates with special regard to the size of the family unit, announced Lawrence J. Ward '46, NSA chairman, for the State of Maine.

This bill, S. 1394, passed by the Senate at the close of the 79th session, calls for increases up to $75 for single veterans and $105 for married veterans.

The USNSA is supporting S. 1394 and asking that it be amended to provide $100 for single veterans and $125 for married veterans.

Therefore, it is encouraging veteran students to write their Senators and Congressmen urging passage of the bill.

Stassen To Address Bowdoin Students At Institute Lecture On January 30; Scandrett Envisions Russian Treaty

UNRRA Official Calls U. S., Soviet "Unconquerables"

The United States must employ a positive attitude towards Russia in order to reach a bilateral agreement declaring that any political disputes between the two unconquerable nations will be settled by peaceful methods, Richard B. Scandrett, Jr., former member of the Allied Reparations Commission and UNRRA Commissioner for White Russia, told an attentive audience in Memorial Hall last Saturday night. Speaking under the auspices of the Institute of World Politics and Organization he chose "Russia and World Security," as the subject of his address.

"I propose no remedy for the United States - Russian situation," Mr. Scandrett declared in the opening sentences of his lecture. "The United States and Russia are unconquerable nations," he pointed out. "Thus if there is any hope for world security, 'the problem requires a bilateral agreement through mutual assurances of security.'"

Mr. Scandrett proposed that "the path to world security lies, not through the United States and Russia, but through The United Nations only after a bilateral agreement between the United States and Russia."

Emphasizing the fact that the issue between the two nations is a political one, he stated that "we are objecting to the Russian on principle." "We are using a negative instead of a positive approach by supporting the anti-Russian nations Mr. Scandrett pointed out. Clarifying this statement he declared that the Marshall Plan had begun as a program "to help Europe help itself" but in recent months had changed to a negative approach by emphasizing the winning of the Cold War.

Mr. Scandrett told his audience that he first went to Russia in American History Prize To Be Given

All Juniors and Seniors are invited to submit manuscripts on some phase of American History for the Class of 1975 Prize, announced Dr. Edward C. Kirkland, Professor of History.

The prize, which this year should amount to about one hundred dollars is awarded annually to the upperclassman who writes the best essay on American History. Contestants should choose their topic but should consult with Professor Kirkland before starting to work on it.

There is no definite length required for the reports, but it is advisable that they run about 3000 words. All manuscripts must be in by May 1. The winner will be announced on the Commencement Day program.

The prize was established by William John Curtis, LL.D., of the Class of 1875. It consists of the annual income of $4,545.

Five Fraternities Elect New Leaders

Five fraternities have recently elected officers for the coming trimester.

Psi Upsilon chose Ira B. Pitcher '49 president; William Steele '49 vice president; Bruce Alden '49 secretary; Milo W. Wilder III '50 treasurer.

Richard A. Wiley '49 was elected president of Delta Upsilon, William E. Blaine Jr. '46 vice president; Robert B. MacDonald '50 secretary; George R. Morgan '49 treasurer.

Zeta Psi elected John L. Merrill '46 president; John R. Hupper '50 vice president; Emil G. Hahnel '49 secretary; Dana T. Ripley '50 treasurer.

Kappa Sigma elected Edwin E. Leason '47 president; Malcolm S. Stevenson '50 vice president; Richard W. Whitney '50 treasurer; and Bryant H. Whipple '50 secretary.

Robert H. Allen '50 was elected president of Beta Theta Pi; Richard B. Becker '50 vice president; Johnson Poor '49 secretary; Earl D. Hanson '47 treasurer; Richard W. Lewis, Jr. '46 recorder.

Speakers On World Affairs

INSTITUTE SPEAKERS on 1948 program include Richard B. Scandrett, Jr. (l.) and Harold E. Stassen. Mr. Scandrett talked on "Russia and World Security" last week, while Mr. Stassen is scheduled to appear here January 30th.

Troubh and Ward Elected Delegates To NSA Conclave

Raymond S. Troubh '50, President of the Student Council, and Lawrence J. Ward '46, USNA chairman for the State of Maine, will be Bowdoin delegates to the coming National Student Association convention to be held on February 7th and 8th at Boston University. Their alternates will be Roy Gallant '48, and Terry Dunning '49.

The Bowdoin delegates will introduce discussion on the "Bowdoin Plan" for foreign student aid, and will distribute pamphlets on this subject to all delegates attending the convention.

Delegates will convene from both northern and southern New England regions, 75 students in six colleges in Maine alone being represented at the meeting. Attendance will not be limited to delegates, but will be open to college faculty members and to all interested observers.

The convention period will be spent in commission and joint plenary sessions, the discussion being concerned with both national and international aspects of student activities. Of particular interest will be the student government clinic, in which student governments of the various colleges will be closely pursued in an effort to determine in what ways they may better serve their respective institutions. Outside of the clinic such matters as tolerance campaigns, student-faculty relations, and course critique systems will be considered.

He described the structure that a world federal system would have, and stated that most nations would possibly join it. He added that Russia would possibly join an effective one, or could be persuaded to do so if the free nations had taken the initial step.

Glee Club's Boston Program Feb. 15 Includes Rare Song

The Bowdoin College Glee Club, directed by Frederic Tiltonson, will present Barber's "A Stop-watch and an Ordinance Map", a difficult work rarely attempted by college glee clubs, on its program in Jordan Hall, Boston on February 15th.

The work of a noted contemporary American composer, Samuel Barber, this piece contains difficulties both as to interpretation and performance. The Kettledrum accompaniment called for in the score will be performed by the tympanist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The Glee Club received a preparatory lecture from Lawrence S. Hall, Assistant Professor of English, on the interpretation of the symbolic poem of Scander used as text for the work. The text graphically and symbolically describes the death of a Spanish Civil War Hero occurring before a companion.

One of the earliest numbers written for an 18th century "glee" club, the "Glorious Apollo" of Samuel Webbe will open the program. A contemporary opus follows, Ralph Vaughan Williams' "Drinking Song," "Back and Side Go Bars" from the satirical "Wind-rose Forest," Roger N. Williams, '46 will sing the tenor solo in Tchaikovsky's "Pilgrim's Song."

The Chapel Choir will sing three numbers: des Pres' "Ave, Verum Corpus Christi"; Victoria's "Tenebrae Factos Sunt"; and Jan Sweelinck's "Todie Christus Natus Est." The Meddiesingers will also present a selected group.

The Glee Club will sing three excerpts from Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom" based on writings of Thomas Jefferson. Donald H. Lyons '48, tenor and Donald D. Steele '50 baritone will be soloists in Deems Taylor's arrangement of the Czechoslovak folk song "Waters Ripple and Flow."

Soloists for Dett's "Listen to the Lambs" are Roger N. Williams '46, Frederic Weidner Jr. '50, and Jerry Allen '48. The Glee Club will also offer Greg's "Brothers Sing On" and the traditional chantey "Shenandoah." The program closes with a Bowdoin College Medley.

John Williams '44, representing the Boston alumni, is sponsoring the concert. Mr. Williams was president and manager of the Glee Club during his four years at Bowdoin. He also sang with the Meddiesingers. Tickets, for the February 15th concert are available through Frederic Moore '49, Glee Club manager, and the Jordan Hall Box Office at prices from $1.20 to $2.40.

Republican Leader To Run Seminar, Talk On Europe

Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican Presidential Nomination, will speak here at the First Parish Church on Friday, January 30, at 8:15 p.m., under the auspices of the Bowdoin Institute of World Politics and Organization.

The topic of Mr. Stassen's talk will be the European situation. Undergraduates will have a chance to confer with him in the Moulton Union lounge after the speech.

In various speeches and in his recent book "Where I Stand", Stassen has declared himself in favor of a cut in taxes which would allow everybody to keep at least 90% of his income. He also has endorsed the Taft-Hartley labor bill as a basis for improved management-labor relations. In his book he intimated that relations with Russia will improve when the Bolshevicks realize that the U. S. will not have an economic collapse.

Stassen was born in West St. Paul, Minnesota in 1897. At sixteen he entered Minnesota University and in 1923 he graduated from the University's law school. Upon graduation he married and began practicing law in South St. Paul.

His political career began in 1930 when he was elected County Attorney for Dakota County. After serving for eight years at this post he was elected Governor of Minnesota in 1938. He has since then been the youngest man ever to hold that office in the state's history.

After serving two terms as Minnesota's chief executive, he resigned and entered the Navy in 1943. He was appointed to Admiral Halsey's staff and in 1944 was made assistant Chief of Staff. He was cited for outstanding performance of duty in the Second Battle of the Philippines and in April, 1945 he was appointed to be a U. S. delegate to the San Francisco conference of the United Nations.

Since his work at the conference Stassen's principal occupation has been campaigning, for he was the first man to announce his candidacy on the Republican ticket. He has spoken in various places throughout the country and last year he made a trip to the Soviet Union where he interviewed Stalin. Stassen will be the seventh speaker of the Institute on World Politics and Organization. He will be introduced by Mr. Clement F. Robinson, President of the Board of Overseers.

Some of last year's Institute speakers included Willard Thorpe, Assistant Under-Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, Senator Alben Barkley, Minority Leader of the Senate, Sir Frederick Puckle of the British Foreign Service, and Ralph J. Bunche, who was on the United States delegation to the United Nations.

It Happens Here

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Today | 3:30 p.m. — J.V. Hockey vs. Hebron. |
| Tomorrow | 9:30 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Interfraternity Sing. |
| Wednesday | 12:30 p.m. — Moulton Union. Faculty Luncheon. |
| Friday | 3:30 p.m. — Hockey vs Suffolk University. |
| Saturday | 2:30 p.m. — Freshman Track vs. Bates. |
| | 7:30 p.m. — J.V. Swimming vs. Brunswick High School. |
| | 3:30 p.m. — Freshman Basketball vs. Fryburg. J.V. Swimming vs. Exeter. J.V. Basketball vs. Coburn. |
| | 8:00 p.m. — J.V. Basketball vs. Coburn. |
| Monday | 8:15 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Concert by the Pro Arte String Quartet. |
| Friday | 8:15 p.m. — First Parish Church. Hon. Harold E. Stassen speaks on the current European situation. |
| Saturday | 8:15 p.m. — Memorial Hall. Debaters vs. Oxford University. |
| | Saturday Feb. 7 |
| | Noon — First Parish Church. Special Commencement Exercises of the Fall Trimester. |

Faculty Should Share Blame For Student Irresponsibility

Responsibility for the present lethargic, careless state of the Bowdoin undergraduate body lies with the administration and the faculty as well as with the students themselves. Action should at once be undertaken by the college to instill into the students that attitude of personal and community responsibility which is so sorely needed.

Many persons deplore the lack of interest in extracurricular activities and athletics — worst yet, there is even less concern for studies. There is no need to repeat the details of the dismal picture painted by the almost complete absence of curiosity and enthusiasm. We may note that the enrollment of the College is double that of pre-war years.

This problem of the avoidance of responsibility — both moral and material — is at once an ideal and a very practical one. Practical solutions have been attempted. One college publication offers substantial monetary rewards to its editor and business manager. Other activities, including this newspaper, are not in a position to offer financial compensation and have assayed other means. Last week in these columns a total point cup for participation in college activities was proposed as an incentive to students.

But these material rewards — grades, prizes, money, letters — serve only to obscure the real problem. And this problem is one of attitude — an attitude which cannot be brushed aside as attributable to the veterans, but which rather permeates our entire society today.

The evidence clearly indicates that faculty and students alike are generally conscious that something is wrong — and that that something is personal irresponsibility resulting from a failure to see a genuine meaning in life amid all its tiresome details.

But at the same time neither students nor faculty seem willing to take any forward steps to right this wrong. Rather a mutual fear prevails the college atmosphere — a fear of oneself and of one another.

Those who concern themselves with the solution of our pressing national and international problems might well recognize that their answer is to be found right here on our campus — within themselves and in their relations with their fellows.

The barrier of conventionality and fear surrounding us must be broken down if we are to achieve this understanding and sense of responsibility to others which is the basic error of our times. Both faculty and students must share this effort. The first move, it seems, must come from the faculty who are more mature, and more experienced.

Constructively, we advocate closer relations between students, both as individuals and fraternities, and faculty. This means invitation to the various houses for free and frank discussions. It means realistic teaching in courses and in the guidance of activities. Faculty members must remember that they are teaching students, who are individuals, to find their place in our world. And students must remember that they must endeavor to help themselves.

Sincere efforts of this sort have been made and failed. They must be revived and expanded. We must agree with Bernard Liddings Bell that "the lack of leaders capable of giving the direction we need is not due to a deliberate effort in the schools and colleges and universities to prevent the maturing of understanding. The educators have, rather, themselves, become the victims of the age; they have submitted too readily to the pressures of the very confusion which they should properly be trying to resolve, and trying to help others to resolve.

"If our schools are producing nothing much in the way of leadership in human understanding, the blame for that rests not on them alone but on all of us. We have been asking of them only lesser services and they have given what we have required. When we persistently, perhaps insultingly, begin to demand that they attend once more, with vigor and a sense of its centrality, to what is their chief business, only then will they recover from an easy-going trust in the adequacy of a knowledge of facts and processes."

At the beginning of this period when facts are at a premium — this is a demand.

Pan-American Art To Be Discussed By Dr. C. S. Smith

"Cultural Relations between North and South America since 1800" will be one of the high points of a series of lectures and discussions conducted by Dr. Carleton Swaggett Smith, Ph.D., renowned historian and musicologist, on Monday, February 9 at 8:15 in the Moulton Union.

Before his main lecture, Dr. Smith will give an informal talk to the Spanish 4 class at 1:30 Monday afternoon.

Tuesday morning Dr. Smith will give another informal talk to the Art 2 class. He will also be Tuesday chapel speaker. At 1:30 Tuesday afternoon Dr. Smith and Professor Frederic Tiltonson will give a combined concert. Dr. Smith will give a lecture on "South American Music" illustrating his talk with a performance on the flute accompanied by Professor Tiltonson.

Tuesday evening Dr. Smith will hold an informal meeting with members of the Political Forum. For a young man Dr. Smith has had a rich and varied career. After receiving A.B. and M.A. degrees from Harvard University and his doctor's degree from the University of Vienna, he turned his attention towards the field of history and its musical implications. Since his appointment as chief of the music division of the New York Public Library in 1931, he has been an instructor in history at Columbia University, has conducted courses at Stanford and New York Universities, and has lectured at Harvard, Yale and Princeton. He has spoken and given courses at the University of Chile, Montevideo, Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, Heidelberg, Frankfurt, and Vienna.

Scandrett Speaks

[Continued From Page 1]

1929 with the American Businessmen's Association to inspect the construction of a huge dam which was headed by an American engineer. "Even then," he said, "the Russians were preparing for war by providing measures for blowing up the dam in case of a future invasion."

After a lengthy discussion of his impressions of Russia and the Russian people gained from his visits there as a member of the Allied Reparations Commission and as head of the UNRRA mission in White Russia, he stated that the similarities, not the differences between the Russian and American people must be emphasized.

"The Russians distrust the British," Mr. Scandrett declared, "because of Mr. Churchill's charges against the 'Iron Curtain' policy in his speech at Fulton, Missouri. 'The American people need to have faith in themselves.' Mr. Scandrett concluded. 'If we aren't successful, we're sunk.' He ended his lecture by saying that Russia needs fifteen years to rebuild and therefore is in no condition to wage war."

Oxford Debating

[Continued from Page 1]

room for wit and humor, in its proper place.

The men from Oxford are on a tour of this country under the sponsorship of the Institute of International Relations. They are scheduled to go to many American Colleges where they will enter similar discussions of various topics of international interest.

David K. Harris served with the Anti-aircraft division of the Royal Artillery, in the R.A.F., and in the Medical Corps on Psychological Research. He has written for British magazines and for B.C. broadcasts. The Honorable Anthony N. W. Benn also served with the R.A.F.; in 1946 he graduated from New College, Oxford as a Bachelor of Arts in Politics, Philosophy, and Economics. Sir Edward Boyle was with the British Foreign Office during the War, and is now the Secretary and Librarian of the Oxford Union Society, and Treasurer of the Oxford University Conservative Organization.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

TOWN TAXI

Dependable Drivers

Town Hall Place

Phone 1000

Literary Criticism . . . Quill Contents Reveal Need For More Intellectual Activity

By Arthur M. Stratton '35

As Slava Klima points out in his article in Prologue, "...an entire culture of a people lies behind the answers..." to any question about freedom and politics. And in like manner, it is clear that an entire culture must lie behind any piece of writing, or any thought process, or any spoken word — or gesture.

It is plain that nothing in words is worth even the kinetic effort involved if the writer or speaker has nothing to say, or the reader or listener has nothing to hear. Two writers, at least, in the January, 1948, issue of the Bowdoin QUILL have various things to say, and even more important — have the ability to communicate their experiences. The question now arises whether anyone's going to read them.

These two men are Slava Klima and Elmo Giordani. Klima's command of the English language is nothing short of first rate; and his mind works in its own way (though I admit I don't know his background in literature — what he's read, who his "influences" are); he shows evidence of perception and discipline: the basis of education.

Giordani, like Klima, has had to make up his own mind about values and standards; and because he has been given a good mind, and because he has a "good" background — again I speak in terms of perception and discipline — he has written a successful impressionistic article, and an experimental short story — which is not entirely successful. To my mind, he should have abandoned realism to get across the desired effect of helplessness and of inevitability.

That's as may be; it is not important. The QUILL has picked up its function once again, and has brought to the attention of its readers good beginning writing. Whether the audience is going to respond or not, I can not say.

Nothing can exist in a vacuum; a vacuum full of nothing. Every human experience must take place at least "à deux" be it the communication between the shadow and the substance, the conscious and the sub-conscious, the intellect and the "soul," the man and his god.

In other words, Pandarus has — once or twice, but rarely — brought truth into operation, in what operation art, of all kinds, has its existence. It takes a writer and a reader to produce literature.

Bowdoin Aid Plan

[Continued from Page 1]

foreign students may be minimized or eliminated.

The present pamphlet will be used as a basis for discussion at the joint meeting of the Northern New England and Southern New England regions of the N. S. A., when the International Activities Commission of that body raises the question of foreign student exchange on February 7th and 8th at Boston University.

At present Bowdoin College is the only school in the United States where the full expenses of several foreign students, except personal items, are underwritten through the joint cooperation of the administration and the student body.

In this manner it is hoped that the Bowdoin Plan will achieve flexibility and be readily adaptable to a great variety of campus situations.

Lawrence Ward '46, who wrote the pamphlet, said that ever since the Bowdoin Plan was first conceived it has gained momentum and popularity. He explained that the seeds of the plan were sown, when the Chi Psi Fraternity in a letter to President Sills offered to provide free room and board to a foreign student if the college would provide the foreign student's tuition. The idea gained a wider audience when it was introduced as the Bowdoin Plan to the N. S. A. conference at Mt. Holyoke in October.

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Phone 224-W

Bowdoin-On-Air Led By Rudy '46; Plans Announced

At a general meeting of Bowdoin-on-the-Air last Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the spring term: President, Robert R. Rudy '46; Vice-President, Malcolm S. Stevenson '50; Secretary, Richard C. Hatch '50; Corresponding Secretary, James T. Burgess '48; Business Manager, John J. Mullane Jr. '50; Publicity Director, Peter T. Poor, '50; Member-at-large, Executive Committee, Herbert L. Gould '51.

Charles W. Carruthers '50 and H. Cabot Ware '51 of the transmission engineering staff submitted their drawing of the layout plans for the proposed Moulton Union studio. The tentative plans envision two separate studios, a control room, a transcription studio, and a transmitter room. These facilities will be constructed in the present ORIENT office as soon as equipment becomes available.

Program plans for February include a broadcast by the Bowdoin "Polar Bears" and a sports round-table with coaches and players.

Rev. Winston Sees Need For Intellect

"Incompatibility of Intellect and Religion" was the theme of a talk by Rev. Alexander Winston, First Parish Church (Unitarian), Portland, at last Sunday's Chapel.

The Rev. Mr. Winston spoke of man's desire to return to religious simplicity, particularly simple Christianity, and discussed the unfortunate preponderance of a second hand knowledge of God and the futile attempt to rationalize the fundamental worship of God.

He related a very interesting anecdote: "A young man, sick on a hospital bed all alone, stared up at a patch of blue sky. The doctors and nurses did nothing, for there was nothing they could do; and yet he was healed. 'God takes and mends what is broken.' Later this man was studying in Paris and there gradually grew within him an understanding of the profound harmony of things. He saw God with an inward eye. He knew God first hand."

Rev. Mr. Winston paused, smiled, and said simply, "That man in the hospital and that man in Paris was myself." He paused again and looked around and it seemed as if everyone in the chapel understood. Then he went further and defied a scientific or an intellectual explanation of the truth of God. He said: "There can't be an intellectual approach to religion. Reason can't explain the fundamental things of life. There is no machine to measure a passion."

THE NEW SENSATION
KIMBERLY POKETTE PEN
No longer than your Cigarette
but when open it's full size
with full ink supply
$4.95 — All Colors
Come in and try them
$18.00 Eversharp for $5.10 this week
F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning . . . Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

if you won't be back next term...

security Facing the future, with uncertainty? Here's your chance for security with high income and the finest retirement plan. The new Army and Air Force offer unprecedented opportunities for young men with the capacity for leadership. Your college training will help you get swift advancement. Veterans will get full credit for previous service experience in assignment, rank and rate of pay. College level courses offered through the Armed Forces Institute will enable you to round out your education. Talk over the advantages of this depression-proof career with your faculty adviser or local recruiting officer today.

good pay advancement

retirement plan

free health care education

travel

U. S. ARMY AND AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE
Room 25, P. O. Building, Bath, Maine
Room 318, Federal Building, 76 Pearl Street, Portland, Maine
Central Fire Station, Washington Street, Biddeford, Maine
Town Hall, Main Street, Sanford, Maine

Campus Survey . . . Wheeler Stamps Campus As "Hot Bed" Of Conservatism

By Joseph C. Wheeler '48

Bowdoin has a politically stagnant campus. At almost any time college in the country at least a large segment of the student body is more alive to the burning issues facing our civilization. Most students here don't even have the initiative to write their congressmen regarding a raise in subsistence allowances.

The most striking example of the "laissez faire" attitude was the Stratton Bill discussion. To the Political Forum meeting came a small group interested in displaced persons — but not one disapproving of the Stratton Bill in principle. Yet 47 per cent of the campus opposed it according to a poll taken a few days later.

Perhaps we don't have, in the structure of the Forum, a political organization. If we are to have vitality on our campus we must have ideas and ideals to cling to. For this reason the appearance of the campus of politically awake groups is refreshing. These organizations deserve the consideration of every Bowdoin man.

The Student Division of United World Federalists, commonly known as Student Federalists, is one of the largest purely student organizations in the country. There are chapters on almost every large campus. Its members are middle of the road — see the one supreme need today to be the establishment of law on a world level through basic amendments to the United Nations Charter. Other issues are important but world law is the goal.

Another group, Students for Democratic Action, is also ready to take its first breath of Bowdoin's political, or non-political, atmosphere. Its membership might be considered New Dealish.

Play-Reading Held By Classics Club

The main feature of the Classics Club recent meeting held on Tuesday, January 13 at the Kappa Sigma House was the prepared program of readings from three versions of the "Medea".

Reading from the "Medea" of Euripides, the "Medea" of Seneca, and the "Medea" of Robinson Jeffers was a group headed by William Davis '49. Others who participated in the readings were: Charles Dillaway '49, Edward Kallouf, Jr. '48, H. Berkley Peabody, Jr. '50, George Fox '51, and Malcolm Stevenson '50. The group had chosen to read corresponding passages from each version to offer a better basis for comparison. The chief object of the readings, however, was to show how each author differed in his concept and interpretation of tragedy.

7 Houses Support Bowdoin Aid Plan

Seven of Bowdoin's fraternities have already decided to support exchange students next year. Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Theta Delta, Delta Upsilon, Zeta Psi, and Beta Theta Pi.

Due to rising costs, it has been announced that the number of full scholarships will have to be reduced; thus, the fraternities will greatly aid the scholarship policy.

MIKE'S PLACE HOT DOGS

BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M
for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

Used Records 25c

COMPLETE STOCK OF
Victor - Columbia - Decca
Capitol - Signature Records
Radios and Players
For Rent

NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE

212 Maine St. Phone 1205-W

CUMBERLAND

WED.-THURS. Jan. 21-22

"BLACK GOLD"

with
Anthony Quinn
Katherine DeMille
also
News March Of Time

FRI.-SAT. Jan. 23-24

"THE TENDER YEARS"

with
Joe E. Brown - Noreen Nash
also
News Short Subjects

SUN.-MON.-TUES. Jan. 25-26-27

"GOOD NEWS"

with
June Allyson
Peter Lawford
also
News Short Subjects

WED.-THURS. Jan. 28-29

"THE EXILE"

with
Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.
Maria Montez
also
News Short Subjects

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, January 21, 1948 No. 19

Editor-in-Chief . . . Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors . . . John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors . . . Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, Raymond S. Trough '50,
Charles T. Dillaway '49, George E. Berliawsky '48
Sports Editor . . . George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor . . . Robert J. Waldron '50
Reporters: Harvey S. Jackson '48, Paul L. Bishop '49, George Paradise '49, Herbert L. Gould '50, Nelson D. Fayle '50, Richard N. Coffin '51,
John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51, Robert F. Corliss '51
Sports Reporters . . . Adin R. Merrow '45, Edward R. Murphy, Jr. '49
Photographers . . . Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50,
Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists . . . William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager . . . Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager . . . Alfred J. Wadler '47
Circulation Managers . . . C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Arthur H. Showalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Balston, Jr. '48, Joseph H. White, Jr. '49, John P. Ashby II '50, Donald Union '50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blackford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Fardoe '51

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors . . . Professor Athena P. Daggett, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, C. Cabot Easton '48, Richard A. Wiley '49, Edward S. Early '49.
News Editor for this Issue . . . Raymond S. Trough '50

REPRODUCED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
480 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO • CINCINNATI • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address correspondence to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the QUILL OFFICE in the Moulton Union, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The Subscription rate for one year is Two ($2) dollars.

Religion In World Today Topic Of Next BCA Forum

William M. Davis '49, Chairman of the Bowdoin Christian Association Religious Forum Committee, made known the plans for this, the 15th Annual Religious Forum at the weekly meeting of the organization Monday night.

The Forum is to be held on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday evenings, February 15th, 16th, and 17th, Davis stated. The topic of this year's Forum is "The Influence of Religion in the World Today."

Principal speakers for the Forum will be Dr. Roy L. Minich, Pastor of the First Congregational Church of Malden, Mass., who will be the Chapel speaker Monday, February 16th. Rabbi Morris V. Dembowitz, Director of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America at Boston, Mass., will address the College in the Chapel on Tuesday, February 17th.

Col. R. V. C. Botley, author of the most recent full-length biography of Mohammed will lecture Sunday evening, February 15th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Moulton Union.

on "Islam—the Explanation of Asia's Controversies Today." The Sunday Chapel speaker, Davis said, would be announced later. That the twelve ministers who will lead the informal discussions in the several fraternity houses of the Forum's general topic Monday and Tuesday evenings have been obtained was also revealed in the BCA meeting. The plan of the Forum has been slightly altered by the present Religious Forum Committee.

Instead of having the minister who leads the discussions at a fraternity house the first night direct the sessions there the second night, the present scheme will shuffle about the men so that each minister will lead the Forum at a different house the second night. Davis' purpose for this alteration in the usual Forum schedule is to offer each fraternity on the campus an additional slant on the influence of religion in the world to day, and to avoid the possibility of having Tuesday night's discussion a rehash of Monday night's.

Eddies Beaten By Jayvee Swimmers

Bowdoin's jayvee swimming team crushed Edward Little High 37-28 Saturday afternoon in the afterpiece of a Curtis pool Swimming doubleheader, giving up only two firsts to the schoolboys.

The summary:

150 Yard Medley Relay—Won by Bowdoin (Lancaster, Van Vleet, Boyde). Time—1:24.4.

220 Yard Freestyle—Won by Ingraham, Bowdoin; second, McAllister, Eddies; third, Hartson, Bowdoin. Time—2:24.5.

50 Yard Freestyle—Won by Marsh, Bowdoin; second, tied by Gilbert, Eddies, and Graham, Bowdoin. Time—2:47 seconds.

150 Yard Individual Medley—Won by Davis, Eddies; second, Van Vleet, Bowdoin; third, Smith, Eddies. Time—2:04.

100 Yard Freestyle—Won by Loomer, Bowdoin; second, Cooper, Eddies; third, Russell, Eddies. Time—1:51.3.

100 Yard Backstroke—Won by Lancaster, Bowdoin; second, Lowit, Eddies. Time—1:16.9.

Debate Council Names J. Hupper President

The Debating Council elected John R. Hupper '50 President for the next semester at their meeting on January 12th.

Robert S. Hart '49, and Malcolm S. Stevenson '50, were elected Manager and Assistant Manager respectively.

The Debating Council will take part in a series of debates with the other Maine colleges and has made plans for a New England tour to visit such colleges as Amherst and Williams within the next few months.

Maine Illustrator To Give Air Talk

Mr. F. Wenderoth Saunders, well-known Maine artist and illustrator for John Gould's "Farmer Takes A Wife" and "House That Jacob Built," will be the featured guest of Bowdoin-on-the-Air at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, January 29.

Freshmen Swamp Portland Runners

A well-balanced Bowdoin Freshman track team completely outclassed Portland High School's thinclads last Wednesday afternoon, walloping the schoolboys 73-13.

One Mile Run—Won by Gould, Bowdoin; second, Spring, Bowdoin; third, Connolly, Portland. Time—4 min. 55 sec.

Broad Jump—Won by Davis, Bowdoin; second, tied by Davis, Portland and Demetriades, Bowdoin. Winning distance 19 feet 9 3/4 inches.

500 Yard Run—Won by Avery, Bowdoin; second, Tinsley, Bowdoin; third, Blakeley, Bowdoin. Time 1 min 23.2 sec.

1000 Yard Run—Won by Tinsley, Bowdoin; second, Blakeley, Bowdoin; third, Gould, Bowdoin. Time 2 min 45.7 sec.

40 Yard Dash—Won by Patterson, Bowdoin; second, Berry, Portland; third, Demetriades, Bowdoin. Time 4.9 sec.

45 Yard High Hurdle—Won by Demetriades, Bowdoin; second, Bradley, Bowdoin; third, Toppl, Portland. Time—4.5 sec.

300 Yard Run—Won by Berry, Portland; second, Demetriades, Bowdoin; third, Patterson, Bowdoin. Time—35.1 sec.

High Jump—Tied by Bradley, Friend, Bowdoin; third, Davis, Portland. Height 5 feet 1 inch.

12 Pound Shot Put—Won by Saulter, Bowdoin; second, Demetriades, Bowdoin; third, Kopack, Portland. Distance 43 feet 10 inches.

Relay—Won by Bowdoin (Demetriades, Avery, Gould, Patterson). Time—2 min. 20.8 sec.

Graduate Record, Aptitude Exams Scheduled Feb. 2-4

Twenty-one students will take the Graduate Record Examination and six students will take the Professional Aptitude Test at Bowdoin February 2-4 according to the chief examiner, Dr. E. Parker Johnson, of the Psychology Department.

The Graduate Record Examination is a series of tests designed to show the nature and extent of the student's education and understanding in comparison with that of other college students. The test itself is divided into two parts: the profile test which covers broadly the principals of a liberal arts education, and an advanced test which is given in the students major field of study.

The Professional Aptitude Test, given only to premedical students, is a series of tests designed to measure the students ability and knowledge in comparison with other candidates for the study of medicine. This test is divided into four parts: verbal ability (vocabulary comprehension), quantitative ability, premedical science, and social studies.

The Graduate Record Examination is given four times a year while the Professional Aptitude Test is given twice. The fee for either test is $5.

Anyone interested in taking either test should see Dr. Johnson. The next Graduate Record Examination will be given in May and the Professional Aptitude Test will be given again next October.

New Area Workers Named By Fund As Pledges Rise

John H. Halford, '01, of Norristown, Pa., has accepted the regional chairmanship for Pennsylvania and Delaware for the Bowdoin College Sesquicentennial Fund, according to an announcement made in Portland on January 18 by Maj. Gen. Wallace C. Philoon, USA, (Ret.), general chairman of the Fund.

Dr. Ezra R. Bridge, '03, of Rochester, N. Y., has been appointed area chairman for western New York state. He will assist Roy A. Foulk, '19, regional chairman of the Fund for New York and New Jersey.

Three sub-chairmen have been appointed to assist Henry W. Stoneman, of Albany, N. Y., area chairman of the Fund for North-eastern New York.

James H. Wetherell, '22, of Newburgh, N. Y., will serve as chairman for Dutchess, Orange and Ulster Counties of that State.

James B. Colton, 2nd, '31, of Albany, N. Y. will head the drive in Albany, Columbia, Fulton, Montgomery, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady, and Washington Counties.

Asa S. Knowles, '30, president of the Associated Colleges of Up-per New York, Plattsburg, N. Y.,

Varsity Takes PBC; Deering Tops Frosh

The varsity basketball team came from behind to defeat a strong Portland Boys Club five last night, 45 to 43. Dick Pandora and Sid Connolly again led the White's scorers. Deering High downed the Frosh quintet 33 to 26, in an afternoon contest.

will serve as chairman for Warren, Essex, Clinton, Franklin, St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Oneida, Madison, Otsego, Chenango and Broome Counties.

Through the Sesquicentennial Fund, the first organized campaign drive for capital funds conducted by Bowdoin in over 25 years, an ultimate total of $6,248,750 is sought by 1952, the 150th anniversary of the opening of the College at Brunswick, Maine. The funds will be used to provide endowment for faculty salary increases, urgently needed new buildings and general plant improvements and modernizations.

Already over $500,000 in contributions and subscription pledges has been received from members of the Governing Boards of the College. Outstanding was the gift of $100,000 from Harvey D. Gibson, '02, president of the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York and a trustee of the college.

Vassar Conference Delegates Sought; To Discuss Arts

Bowdoin has been invited to send delegates to the National Inter-Collegiate Arts Conference, to be held at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y. on February 27, 28, 29, announced Raymond S. Trough '50 President of the Student Council. Since the Student Council has decided not to sponsor any delegates to this conference, any members of the college wishing to attend as observers should contact their Student Council Representatives immediately, said Trough.

The theme of the conference is the inter-communication between concern both the communication entailed in the artist's creation of a work of art, and the communication by those interested in widening the effects of art production in society.

This arts conference is the first of its nature ever conducted specifically for and by the undergraduate. Its aim naturally has been determined by the fact that delegates attending will represent a cross-section of interests and activities in the different fields of art.

Student Federalist Group Organized; Shulman Elected

The Student Federalists were formally organized at their last meeting which was held on Tuesday, January 13, at the Moulton Union with eighteen members attending.

Committees were appointed to handle the group's activities, but the election of new officers and the formulation of definite plans for action will take place in the next term.

Martin Shulman '50, chairman, David N. Harris '50, and Zeleke Bekele '51 were appointed as a committee on International Correspondence. They will contact foreign students and diplomats.

A public information committee was appointed consisting of Gordon F. Linke '50, chairman, Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47, and Roger N. Walker '47. This group will put out a mimeographed newspaper and publicize the organization's work.

J. Peter Prins, chairman, C. William Allen Jr. '50, and Zeleke Bekele '51 were designated as the Field Work committee. They will organize chapters in high schools, communities, and other Maine colleges.

MOULTON UNION STORE

Desk Calendar Memo Pads	$.95
Masonite Comb. Clipboard and Spring Binder90
Wool Ski Socks95
Sweat Shirts	1.95
Sweat Pants	2.59

NEW SHIPMENT OF PIPES
Special Prices — $1.00 to $6.50
Biltmores - John Surreys - Sportsman - Kaywoodie

The Bowdoin Book Service will have books for the new term available at Moore Hall Store from 9:30 to 11:30 and 1:30 to 4:30, Feb. 2nd to 7th.

You'll find that our . . .

"Know How" about Printing

for Bowdoin Men will be helpful when you want

PROGRAMS STATIONERY TICKETS
INVITATIONS MENUS FORMS
Or Other Printing

Bring us your ideas. We'll help you develop them into attractive printing at reasonable prices.

PRINTERS OF THE ORIENT

THE RECORD PRESS

75-77 Maine Street Phone 1 or 3

Now Is The Time...

to dine at the COLLEGE SPA for
Good food - Pleasant Surroundings

Reasonable Prices
Remember, it's the

COLLEGE SPA

"Right Off the Campus"

Open 6 A.M. to 10 P.M.

required reading...

... for every man on the campus! PIC rounds out your liberal education with information on careers . . . sports . . . apparel . . . fiction. PIC brings you extra credits in entertainment with the latest reviews in music . . . records . . . stage . . . screen. Add PIC to your regular curriculum . . . it's your best magazine buy.

PIC
THE MAGAZINE FOR YOUNG MEN

PIC, 122 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

Enclosed find ☐ check ☐ money order for $1.50 for the one year special college subscription.

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____ COLLEGE _____
CITY _____ STATE _____

Subscribe NOW... only $1.50 per year

TWOECHO FARM DAIRY

Extends to the Bowdoin
College Basketball,
Swimming, Hockey and
Indoor Track Teams

Best Wishes
For A Successful Season

H. S. SANDELIN & SONS

Brunswick, Maine

"My cigarette is the MILD cigarette... that's why Chesterfield is my favorite"

Ronald Reagan

STARRING IN
"THE VOICE OF THE TURTLE"
A WARNER BROS. PRODUCTION

It takes ABC TO SATISFY ME!
says Picture Star Ronald Reagan

When you change to Chesterfield THE FIRST THING YOU WILL NOTICE IS THEIR MILDNESS ...that's because of their Right Combination World's Best Tobaccos —

A ALWAYS Milder
B BETTER Tasting
C COOLER Smoking

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Loewy & Hines Tobacco Co.

Van Orden Named Campus Head Of NSA Group

Group To Collaborate With Student Council In Publicity Campaign

Richard M. Van Orden '51, has been appointed campus chairman of the National Student Association committee of the Bowdoin Student Council, according to an announcement by Raymond S. Trough '50, President of the Student Council and chairman ex-officio of the NSA committee.

Because Bowdoin had the foresight to become a charter member of the National Student Association, a coordinating sub-committee of the Student Council is necessary to efficiently carry on the work of the organization on the Bowdoin campus, said Trough. Such things as publicity for the "Bowdoin Plan", which has already received National recognition through the facilities of the NSA, dissemination of information on all campus activities, and the preparation and evaluation of polls are some of the tasks which the committee will have to perform.

Lawrence J. Ward '46, Chairman of the NSA for the State of Maine and a member of the Student Council, and Trough will also remain on the committee as advisory members. Van Orden, as chairman, will choose four other students to assist him in his work.

Phillips, Poor, Mergendahl Vie For Play Prize

The Fourteenth Annual Student One-Act Play Contest will be held March 1 at Memorial Hall at 8:15 a.m. This year, Phillips, Poor, Mergendahl '50, Peter T. Poor '50, and Albert P. Phillips '51, will be judged by Mrs. Athern P. Daggett, Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, and Mr. Jeffrey J. Carre, Instructor of Romance Languages, for prizes of twenty-five and fifteen dollars offered by the Masque and Gown.

Each play is directed by its own author and will be judged for its effectiveness including dialogue, direction, and acting.

The plays were postponed from the original date, February 23, because of the holiday. They will be presented as usual against a setting of black velvet drapes which should be adequate for the three productions without giving any one author an unfair advantage.

Mergendahl was runner-up in the contest last year with his "Afterpiece". Poor submitted a play but it was not produced. He is now president of the organization. Phillips, like Mergendahl, is successful in reaching production of his play as a freshman.

Straight "A" Men Listed By Sills

The straight "A" list was announced by President Sills in the Chapel on Friday, February 6, 1948.

President Sills said that the list included only those who received all "A's", although those who carried five subjects and received four "A's" were entitled to credit, also.

The list included: Eugene S. Boyd '50, Charles A. Bradley, III '51, Umberto Cantalamessa '48, Keith Dowden '49, Howard R. Dwyer '49, Lewis Perley Fickett, Jr. '48, Leonard B. Gilley '51, Eliza Giordano '51, James T. Gourdeux '46, Paul Charles Hanna, Jr. '48, Wolcott A. Hokanson '50, Richard A. Maxwell '48, E. Gene Ramsey '49, Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47, Sherman D. Spector '50, Harold G. Vincent '49, Eric Holden Weren '48, Richard A. Wiley '49, Jordan Howard Wine '48, and James D. Young, Jr. '48.

Carleton Sprague Smith Lectures On Latin - America

New York Library Expert Notes Cultural Ties; Talks To Political, Artistic, Musical Groups

Dr. Carleton Sprague Smith, Chief of the Music Division of the New York Public Library and lecturer on Latin-American affairs at New York University, highlighted a series of lectures and discussions with the Bowdoin faculty and undergraduate body on Monday and Tuesday.

"Cultural Relations between North and South America" was the subject of Dr. Smith's first lecture delivered on Monday evening in the Moulton Union.

On Tuesday evening Dr. Smith addressed the Bowdoin Political Forum, discussing the cultural, economic, and political situation in Europe. Of particular interest was his idea that the Central and Eastern European countries are subscribing to Communism in order to combat feudalism, not necessarily to combat democracy.

Dr. Smith presented a talk on "South American Music" illustrated by two compositions of modern Latin-American composers played by Dr. Smith on the flute and accompanied by Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson of the Bowdoin faculty on Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Smith's interest in Latin-America and Art led him to meet with Professor Eaton Leith and the Spanish four class and Professor Philip C. Beam and the Art-two class.

Because of his library work and his knowledge of music, Dr. Smith was interested in the Bowdoin library's extensive collection of Longfellow poems set to music.

In addition to his duties in New York, Dr. Smith has lectured extensively in South America and has written articles for several music publications.

Renowned as a musicologist and historian, Dr. Smith is also instructor in history at Columbia University, has conducted courses at Stanford and New York Universities, and has lectured at Harvard, Yale, and Princeton. He has also appeared at the universities of Chile, Montevideo, Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, Heidelberg, Frankfurt and Vienna.

For a young man Dr. Smith has had a rich and varied career. After receiving A.B. and M.A. degrees from Harvard University and his doctor's degree from the University of Vienna, he turned his attention towards the field of history, and its musical implications.

NSA Adopts Bowdoin Plan At Boston Conference

The Bowdoin Plan was officially adopted as a working project by a joint meeting of the Northern New England and Southern New England regions of the National Student Association held at the College of Business Administration Buildings of Boston University on February 7, 8.

The Official Bowdoin College delegation consisted of Lawrence J. Ward '46, Chairman of the National Student Association for the State of Maine and Raymond S. Trough '50, President of the Student Council; Warren H. Dunning, II '48, and Roy A. Gallant '50 were the alternates. Also attending the conference were Samuel Gross '46 and Richard Van Orden '51.

The Bowdoin Plan, a "plan already working", was the first topic for consideration on the agenda of the International Activities Commission. It was adopted unanimously as the first working project of the coming year by the 300 voting delegates present. They represented over 100,000 students in 45 New England Colleges and Universities.

Ward led the discussion on the plan for foreign student aid. Many questions were raised by the various New England delegates concerning the applicability of the Bowdoin Plan to colleges and universities which do not operate under the fraternity system.

Ward explained that the Plan was not designed specifically for a fraternity college but could be carried on with facility under any form of eating club or dormitory system. Taking the important aspects of his remarks from the foreword to the Plan, which he wrote in collaboration with

[Continued on Page 2]

Stassen Suggests Cautious U.S. Policy Toward Soviet

The disclosures of the secret agreements made in 1940 and 1941 between Russia and Germany, "emphasize that neither appeasement nor trust should guide our relations with leaders of the Kremlin," Harold E. Stassen warned an audience of students, faculty, and townspeople at the last stop of his whirlwind campaign of the New England States.

The former Governor of Minnesota emphasized that "secret diplomacy should not be used by the United States of America," at the Institute of World Politics held at the First Parish Church a little over two weeks ago. "No short-cut alliances or negative combinations against Communism are safe foundations for our future security," Mr. Stassen, who served as Admiral Halsey's Aide during the last war, maintained that the revelation of secret negotiations between Russia and Germany early in the war, "emphasized again some rather fundamental lessons of international relationships which are also apparent in other periods of history."

The presidential aspirant listed these lessons as: 1. "That an agreement for joint aggression and division of spoils has tragic results for all; 2. that a negative agreement directed toward joint defense against a threat is of limited value; 3. that secret diplomacy which seems to yield temporary clever results has devastating long-term consequences."

Mr. Stassen concluded that the three lessons should "tend to make difficult and slow process of strengthening the United Nations and building our economic and international relationships with the objective of and advance in the standards of living and freedoms of peoples everywhere, hold the best prospect of peace and progress for ourselves and for others."

Expressing a distrust of secret diplomacy, he told the capacity audience that the high objectives of international relations, "can best be advanced by open publication of facts, open diplomacy, and open agreements."

The husky Republican candidate expressed a firm desire for the calling of a convention of the United Nations within the next five years to amend the Charter so that the world organization could be strengthened. He added that this convention could be called in spite of the veto power.

Mr. Stassen gathered an attentive audience of undergraduates in the Moulton Union Lounge after the address at which he expressed his views on a variety of questions fired at him by the students.

54 Graduate At Special Service; Six Get Honors

Fickett '47 Receives Summa Cum Laude; 5 Subject Honors

Bowdoin College Special Commencement Exercises at the conclusion of the fall trimester were held in the First Parish Church on February 7, 1948. President Sills gave the commencement address.

Those graduating were: Robert Hugh Allen '46, Peter Anthony Angeramo '45, Paul Robert Aronson '48, Donald Stanley Bloomberg '48, James Hall Bonney '49, Walter Foster Byrom '45, Joseph Thayer Chadwick '46, Eatey Paul Charak, Jr. '46, Clinton Burnes Clarke, Jr. '46, William Sumner Clenoff '46, Arthur Perry Curtis '44, Edward Toomey Devine '45, David Alexander Dickson '48, William Anderson Dougherty '46, John McConaughy Dunlap, Jr. '45, Charles Beason Estabrook, Jr. '45, John Stuart Fallow Jr. '48, Walter Brooks Favorite '49, Lewis Perley Fickett, Jr. '47, Richard Chaplin Field '46, Carl Henry Francis '46, William Charles Geddes '46, Frederick Hersom Giddings '45, Paul Charles Hanna, Jr. '46, Philip Wren Herron '46, John Morgan Heussler '46, Robert Worth Johnson '32, James Edwin Kimball II '48, William Bradford Kirkpatrick '49, Emerson Lewis '49, Milton Morse McGorrell, Jr. '48, Harold Newman Marsh Jr. '45, Miles Walter Martin, Jr. '49.

Daniel Webster Morrison, Jr. '48, Anthony Frederic Moss '48, Phineas Stewart Newton, Jr. '48, Robert Sumner Oransk '46, Anthony Joseph Pelletier '45, Irvin Arnold Polakewich '49, Martyn Herrick Randall '46, William Raymond Rogers '48, Paul Joseph Sirovica '48, Sylvester Jake Stanis '48, John William Stanley, Jr. [Continued on Page 2]

Fraternities To Be Foster Parents Of War Orphans

All the Bowdoin fraternity chapters will join in sponsoring a child war victim under the Foster Parents' Plan For War Children.

Under the Plan, $180 helps to provide for a child living in some country devastated by the war, for one year. Each child receives food, shelter, clothing, medical care and schooling. It is not a mass relief plan. It helps individual children regardless of race or creed.

The assisted children may live in colonies, in private families, or in their own family if such exists. The Plan provides that the donor may specify the nationality, age and sex of the child to be helped. The history and picture of the child is sent to the donor, and correspondence is encouraged.

The Plan is offered by Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc., a charitable organization with headquarters in New York City. Over 50,000 little war victims have been provided for already in this way.

The Plan was first brought to the attention of the Student Council, who devised the idea of splitting the cost among the fraternities.

Glee Club Opens '48 Spring Season At Boston Concert

Concerts under the direction of Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson, Head of the Music Department, at Jordan Hall in Boston and at Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley highlighted the opening of the Bowdoin Glee Club's Spring tour.

The Club was welcomed to Boston by John Williams '44, representing the local alumni who sponsored the concert at Jordan Hall. Alumni turned out in a large number Sunday afternoon to offer the Club an enthusiastic reception for its program.

The Glee Club left early Saturday morning, delayed by the inclement weather. Thursday evening, February 5, at the First Parish Church in Yarmouth, Maine, the Club sang a pre-tour concert. Busiest men on the tour were Professor Tillotson and the Chapel Choir. In addition to the busy schedule of travelling, rehearsing, and two concerts with the rest of the Club, this group also offered music for the service Sunday morning at Trinity Church.

Frederick A. Moore '49 and Herbert S. French, Jr. '46, in their roles as manager and accompanist, guided the Club both on and off the stage.

The Middleburyers were warmly received at each concert. Professor Tillotson shared conducting honors with Ruth Ann Shepco at Pine Manor on Saturday evening. Here the Pine Manor Choral Club and the Glee Club of Bowdoin sang individual and combined selections before a small audience. A dance followed the program.

Faculty Pledges Surpass Quota

Members of the Bowdoin College faculty have pledged $12,373.00, more than double their previously assigned quota, to the College's Sesquicentennial Fund, Maj. General Wallace C. Philton, USA, (Ret.), general chairman of the Fund announced recently.

A sixteen-man committee under the chairmanship of Professor Paul Nixon carried on the faculty drive. Each of the 92 members of the Bowdoin teaching and administrative staff, with the exception of one professor on sabbatical leave, contributed to the fund.

The faculty drive was the second phase of the campaign to raise $3,025,000 by 1949. A total of $6,248,750 by 1952 is the goal of the Fund. Members of the Governing Boards of the College pledged $502,000 in the first phase of the campaign.

Gross To Direct Bowdoin Fund Drive On Campus

Student Quota Set At $5,000 In 3 Year Campaign For Funds

A student committee has been appointed to direct the activities of the Sesquicentennial Fund Drive for the coming year on the campus. Samuel Gross '46, a member of the Student Council, will serve as chairman of the committee. Other members of the committee are Henry J. Brachdi '46, member of the Student Council, Richard A. Wiley '49, Editor of the ORIENT, and Warren H. Dunning II '49, Union Committee member. Raymond S. Trough, '50 President of the Student Council, is a member of the committee ex-officio.

Gross has announced that he will appoint certain members of each fraternity and of the Independent group as representatives of the committee in their respective groups in order to facilitate the process of pledging and collecting the funds.

The main objective of the drive is to secure a 100% pledge from the student body. The student quota has been set at $5,000, or approximately $5.00 per student.

The drive is to last three years, and payments may be made any time during that period in any manner the student wishes, either in lump sum or by installments. However, Gross emphasized that the immediate collection is not the important part of the drive. He said that it is necessary for the committee to be able to assure the alumni that the student body is 100% behind the drive to secure needed new buildings, both athletic and classroom.

Alumni Council To Review Progress, State Of College

The Bowdoin Alumni Council will hold its third annual on-campus meeting here February 20 and 21 to review Bowdoin's progress during the past year and to discuss problems with which the college is now confronted.

Kenneth C. M. Sills, President of the College, will speak to the Council on Friday afternoon in the Faculty Room in Massachusetts Hall at 3:15 p.m. on "The State of the College". Following the President's address, C. Kendrick, Dean, and Edward S. Hammond, Director of Admissions and Professor of Mathematics, will speak on "Enrollment" and "Admissions" respectively.

An Alumni Council Dinner will be held in the Moulton Union Friday evening at 6:15 p.m. Paul Nixon, former Dean and present Professor of Latin Language and Literature, Major General Wallace C. Philton, Ret., General Chairman of the Sesquicentennial Fund Drive, and Donovan D. Lancaster will be the guest speakers.

The Alumni Council is the executive body of the various Bowdoin Alumni Associations throughout the country. In the past the Council has rendered valuable service to the College by supplementing and establishing services which the College was unable to provide.

Through its field offices the Council facilitates careful selection of Bowdoin candidates and at the same time acts as an unofficial public relations office.

ORIENT To Figure At Press Meeting

David Crowell '49 managing editor, and Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47, feature editor, will represent the ORIENT at the third annual New England Intercollegiate Newspaper conference at Wesleyan University this coming week-end.

Held in previous years at Smith and Wellesley, this Conference brings together newspapers of this area for discussion of common problems, exchange of information, and promotion of cooperation. This aim is accomplished through group discussions over a two-day period.

Opening the conference on Friday will be a banquet with prominent figures in professional journalism as the principal speakers. Bowdoin is a charter member of this Conference.

Governing Boards To Limit Future Bowdoin Enrollment

Dr. Hanley Appointed College Physician; Four New Faculty Chosen For Trimester

By Harvey Jackson '48

"Thus the period of expansion is over and the period of contraction has begun," announced President Kenneth C. M. Sills after a meeting of the Governing Boards of Bowdoin College on February 7. For it was decided at that meeting to limit the admittances to the College such that enrollment will, as quickly and sanely as possible, be cut down to that of pre-war years.

The number of new freshmen and transfers to be admitted for the summer and fall trimesters of 1948 was limited to a total of 185. For the fall of 1949 and the fall of 1950 the number was limited to 175 each. This will mean that fall enrollment in 1948 will be about 1,000, fall enrollment in 1949 will be about 925 and fall enrollment in 1950 will be about 750.

Daniel F. Hanley, M.D., was appointed College Physician. He has been Acting College Physician since September, 1946, and succeeds the late Henry L. Johnson, M.D., College Physician since 1927, who died December 5, 1947.

Four men were appointed to the Faculty for the Spring Trimester: John S. Sweet, B.S., Instructor in English; Mr. Sweet was an announcer and script writer with the Army overseas from 1941 through 1945. Since then he has been an actor in London and New York.

Patrick F. Quinn, A.M., Instructor in English. Mr. Quinn was a teaching fellow at Louisiana State University from 1939 through 1941, and was a Major in the Signal Corps.

Lewis P. Fickett '47, A.B., Teaching Fellow in Government. Mr. Fickett was graduated from the College at the commencement exercises held earlier in the month.

Leonardo Crespo, Teaching Fellow in Spanish. An "Increased Cost of Living Allowance", amounting to 2 1/2 per cent of annual base salary or pay, was provided for all members of the Faculty and other full time employees on the College rolls on July 1, 1947, with the further provision that the minimum allowance shall be $100. Payment will be in a single lump sum, and will be prorated for employees entering the College service since July 1.

The Boards appropriated funds for the Bowdoin Interscholastic Track Meet, to be held March 13.

BCA Sponsors Fifteenth Weekend Religious Forum

With the "Influence of Religion in the World Today" as its general topic, the Fifteenth Annual Religious Forum of Bowdoin College, sponsored by the Christian Association, was held last weekend from Sunday February 15 through Tuesday February 17.

Liberal Students Form Chapter For Democratic Action

Emil W. Allen Jr. '50, John P. Ashe II '50, Charles L. Erickson '48 and Robert W. Golderman '47 were appointed delegates to the National Convention of Americans for Democratic Action at the first regular meeting of that organization at the Moulton Union last Thursday evening.

This convention will be held at Philadelphia on February 21-23. The program will consist of commission sessions and full reports concerning the organization's stand on foreign, domestic, and political policy. Among the speakers present will be Leon Henderson, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, Wilson Wyatt, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The main objective of the nationwide organization is to provide a medium and program to unite the liberal forces of the United States in a drive against totalitarianism and reaction, whether it be Communistic or Fascistic, and for an expanding democracy.

The temporary officers of the organization at present are: John P. Ashe '50 Chairman, and Robert E. Hart '49 Secretary-Treasurer.

Faith - religious faith - was emphasized in the Sunday Chapel speech of Dr. Roger Hazleton, Professor of Christian Ethics at the Andover - Newton Theological School, who keyed the Forum. Faith, after all, is the basis of religion, and religious faith is the only faith that helps one put oneself in one's own place; the truest sign of maturity. "A father disciplines his sons; a child is anxious to correct his elders' faults; yet a mature man is capable of self-discipline through faith in God."

In the Lounge of the Moulton Union Sunday evening, Col. R. V. C. Bodley lectured on Islam - "The Explanation of Asia's Controversies Today." Author of the popular "Wind in the Sahara", confidant of the renowned Lawrence of Arabia, and biographer of Mohammed, Col. Bodley advocated immediate withdrawal of "unwarranted, unwanted, international interference, i.e., the UN partitioning of Palestine, in a definitely oriental affair."

A Moslem holy war would be the inevitable result of continued UN meddling. Out of respect for the considerable American-British investments in the tremendous oil fields of Arabia a religious war caused by Moslem opposition to western interference must be avoided, stated Col. Bodley, who

[Continued on Page 2]

Who Left Flag On Pole? Question Answered On NBC

"Good-afternoon, friends. This is James Melton, welcoming you to your 'Harvest of Stars' on this first Sunday of the new year. Our music today includes compositions by Grieg, Dvorak, and Victor Herbert... and our story is about a Bowdoin College man who struggled for 25 years, until he finally became the first man to reach the North Pole!"

On January 4, a Sunday afternoon, these words were broadcast over the full NBC Network. The story of Admiral Peary and his fight to conquer the North Pole was dramatized on this particular "International Harvester Program" in connection with the special mid-winter mood which the program authors wished to establish.

Each week "Harvest of Stars", in addition to the musical selections, dramatizes little-known crises and events in the lives of the great or near-great. Thus, for the little-known events in Peary's life, his undergraduate days at Bowdoin were chosen, and there were many references to the college. The script, written by Hal Steck, began thus: "Hancock: It was the last night on the campus, in June 1877... at Bowdoin College - up in Brunswick, Maine."

George: Our last night together. Wonder where we'll all be ten years from now?

George: Franklin Pierce... class of 1820, managed to become President... Maybe that's what I'll be.

Tom: I'm going to be a poet like another Bowdoin man - Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. He wrote the words to "Stars of the Summer Night!"

Dan: And what about you, Bert?

Peary: Oh... you fellows just come up to the North Pole for our class reunion... That's where I'm going!

Tom: North Pole? Why... it hasn't been discovered yet! How'll we find you, Bert...?

Peary: Just look for our Bowdoin College flag. I'll put it there!

The dramatization ended with the announcer saying: "On the morning of April 6, 1909... a Negro and a white man stood in the vast Arctic... Robert Peary unwrapped two silk flags from his waist, planted them at the North Pole! One was the Stars and Stripes; the other - the flag of Bowdoin College..."

For the statistical-minded, we are informed that "Harvest of Stars" which usually has the largest audience of any NBC Sunday afternoon production, on this particularly Sunday had a Hooper rating of 10.5 which means that it reached approximately 3,000,000.

[Continued on Page 2]

Federalist Group To Back Speaker In Portland

World Government To Be Discussed By Mass. Founder

Sherman D. Spector '50, president of the Bowdoin chapter of Student Federalists, recently announced that in cooperation with the newly organized chapter of United World Federalists in Falmouth, Maine, the college organization will sponsor Mr. Albert Pratt, founder of the Massachusetts chapter of World Federalists.

Mr. Pratt will speak at the Portland High School Auditorium on Monday, February 23, at 8 p.m. The lecture is open free to the public, and all Bowdoin students are cordially invited to attend. The subject to be discussed will be "The Advantages of World Government." This will be the initial attempt to establish chapters in Portland and surrounding towns.

A delegation of five Bowdoin students will represent the chapter at the lecture. Mr. Richard J. Storr, instructor in American History, and faculty advisor of the Federalists, will accompany them. Mr. Spector will introduce the speaker at Portland.

There will be a meeting of the Student Federalists in Conference Room B in the Moulton Union on Thursday night, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m.

Spector, who is president of the Bowdoin Political Forum and a straight "A" man, was elected to head the Bowdoin Chapter of the Student Federalists last month. Francis Currie '50, a Circulation Manager of the ORIENT was elected Secretary at the same election.

Masque And Gown Sets Plays For Ivy, Graduation

The Masque and Gown Executive committee plans the production of two major plays for the Ivy Houseparty and Commencement, which will be cast on March 3 from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 8 to 10 in the evening in the Masque and Gown office in Memorial Hall.

For Ivy, the production will be "Of Thee I Sing" with book by George Kaufmann and Morrie Ryskind, music by George Gershwin, lyrics by Ira Gershwin. This musical play was first performed in 1932 and won the Pulitzer Prize for the season.

As planned by the Masque and Gown, this political satire will require a speaking cast of nineteen and a dancing cast of eight to a dozen - all male. The music will be recorded with the actors pantomiming or singing under the recorded music. Coming in the election year and offering some of Gershwin's most delightful music, the play should be an attractive feature of the Ivy Houseparty.

For Commencement, Henry IV Part I will be presented in Memorial Hall on June 4, in the Elizabethan manner with fore stage, inner stage, and upper stage, and no proscenium.

The play calls for seventeen men and three women with a great variety of very effective roles including the greatest of comic parts - Falstaff, the rake Prince Hal, the aging king, the warlike Douglas, and the eloquent Glendower are some of the attractive parts in this play.

Debate Rejects British Alliance

The International Debate between Bowdoin College and Oxford University, held January 31, in Upper Memorial Hall, focused student scholarship of two continents on the topic: The desirability of an Anglo-American alliance for the security of world peace.

The affirmative of this topic was presented by David Kenneth Harris of Oxford, Lewis P. Fickett Jr. '47, and John R. Hupper '50, of Bowdoin. The negative team was composed of The Honorable Anthony Neil Wedgewood Ben, Sir Edward Charles Cunney Boyle, of Oxford, and Richard A. Wiley '49, of Bowdoin.

After the debate, a poll of the audience was taken of the merits of the resolution. The audience was overwhelmingly in favor of no alliance between the United States and Britain.

Paul Nixon, former Dean and present Professor of Language and Literature, introduced the speakers and acted as moderator.

BCA Sponsors Fifteenth Weekend Religious Forum

[Continued From Page 1]

lived among the Arabs for seven years.

A Rabbi, ministers from the Lutheran, Baptist, Episcopal, and Congregational churches attended the Forum as well as representatives from the New England Student Christian Movement. Discussing various phases of whatever religious influence there is in the world today at the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity was Rabbi Morris V. Dembowitz, Director of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in Boston, Mass.

Dr. Roy L. Minich, Pastor of the First Congregational Church of Malden, Mass., led the discussion at the Psi Upsilon House, whereas Rev. George M. Hooten, Jr., Rector of the Congregational Church of Yarmouth, Me., led the Forum at the Psi Chi Lodge.

Rev. Harold C. Bonell, Pastor of the Central Square Baptist Church, Portland, Me., was at the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. The Theta Delta Chi House had Rev. Leonard G. Clough of the First Church of Cambridge, Mass., as Forum leader. The Pastor of the First Parish Church of Windham, Me., Rev. Robert C. Whitehead, was at the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

At Zeta Psi, Prontiss Pemberton of the New England Student Christian Movement, Boston, Mass., discussed today's religious influence; and Rev. Leslie R. Craig, the Pastor of the Freeport Congregational Church, was at the Kappa Sigma House.

At Beta Theta Pi was Rev. William E. Wimer of NESCM. Rev. Randall C. Giddings, the Rector of the Durham, N. H., Episcopal Church discussed the Forum Topic at the Sigma Nu House, and Rev. George F. Fisher, Pastor of the Wachogue Community Church of Springfield, Mass., led the Forum at Alpha Tau Omega. The Alpha Rho Upsilon discussion was conducted by Rev. Henry C. Wolk of the Lutheran Church, Florence, Mass.

Dr. R. L. Minich and Rabbi M. V. Dembowitz addressed the College in Chapel on Monday and Tuesday, respectively. A highlight of the Forum was a reception given by President and Mrs. K. C. M. Sills in honor of the visiting clergymen on Monday afternoon.

Bowdoin Sponsors Ship For Local Sea Scouts

On Thursday, Feb. 12, with the personal encouragement of President Kenneth C. M. Sills, Bowdoin College officially undertook the sponsorship of Sea Scout Ship No. 71 of Brunswick.

The committee of six, delegated to act as an advisory board, consists of two Brunswick businessmen, Mr. Harrison Hubbard and Mr. Frank Webb, and four Bowdoin professors: Dr. Lawrence S. Hall, asst. professor of English, Mr. Albert S. Rowe, instructor in art, Mr. David Sawyer, teaching fellow in biology, and Mr. Hubert Shaw, assistant director of adminissions. The two year old "ship" originally sponsored by the Verney Mills, will meet weekly at the Maine annex. The Portland district headquarters has acquired a twenty-three foot motor launch for the sole use of "Ship No. 71," and Skipper Frank Munsey announced the planning of outings, cruises, and hikes, as well as occasional social events.

Membership in the "Ship", now consisting of seventeen, is limited to those between the ages of 15 and 18.

Commencement

[Continued From Page 1]

'45, Albert Merle Stevens '46, Thomas Nathaniel Tarrant '49, William Hodge Toomey '46, Nelson Lee Towers '47, Robert Moran True '46, Thomas Clayton Weatherill '48, Eric Holden Wren '45, Joseph Coolidge Wheeler '48, George Lester Whitney '48, and Jordan Howard Wine '46.

Those men receiving honorary commencement appointments were: Summa Cum Laude, Lewis Perley Fickett, Jr.; Magna Cum Laude, Jordan Howard Wine; Cum Laude, Walter Foster Byrom, Eric Holden Wren, Joseph Coolidge Wheeler, and George Lester Whitney. Honors in Economics were awarded to Paul Charles Hanna, Jr. and Eric Holden Wren. Walter Foster Byrom, Louis Perley Fickett, Jr., and Joseph Coolidge Wheeler received honors in Government.

The Order of Exercises was: Prelude, "Fantasia in G Minor," Back; Commencement March, "Marche Religieuse," Guilmant; The College Hymn; Prayer; "Fathers and Sons," Saint-Saens (John McConoughy Dunlap, Jr. '48, Baritone); Conferring of Degrees; "Lord God of Abraham" from "Elijah," Mendelssohn (Dunlap, Baritone); Address by the President; Benediction; "Rise, Sons of Bowdoin," "The Star-Spangled Banner," and Postlude, "Fugue from Marche Religieuse," Guilmant.

NSA Conference

[Continued From Page 1]

Joseph C. Wheeler '48, originator of the Bowdoin Plan, Ward said that the success of the Bowdoin Plan depends entirely upon the initiative of the students and the cooperation of the administration. Because the National Student working solution to an obvious Association joint regional meeting felt that the Bowdoin Plan was a problem they unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"Be it resolved that all delegates to the joint regional meeting of NSA, February 7 and 8, 1948, urge support and adoption of the Bowdoin Plan or similar type project to increase the flow of foreign students to this country, by presenting the Bowdoin Plan to the student body and student government which they represent, for action."

It was brought out by the Bowdoin delegates that the Plan presented an excellent opportunity for fraternities which have been under constant attack in the past year throughout the nation, to justify their existence. Various other important phases of campus life discussed at the convention will be brought out in next week's edition of the ORIENT in an article by Ward. Ward will also speak in Chapel on Thursday, March 4, presenting to the student body an overall picture of the recent convention and the conclusions and recommendations of the Bowdoin delegates.

Orient Announces Staff Positions

The appointment of two new editors and a feature editor heads a list of changes in the editorial staff of the Orient as announced at the general editorial meeting held last week.

William S. Augerson '47, former news editor, has been re-appointed to that position. Richard P. Davis '49, a former managing editor just returned from service overseas, has also been chosen a news editor.

These two positions were made vacant by the acceptance by former news editor Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47 of the newly created post of feature editor and the withdrawal from college for this term of news editor George E. Berliawsky '48.

Two new members have been added to the news staff: Joshua W. Curtis, Jr. '50 and William J. Nightingale '51.

Quill Sends Call For New Material

The editors of the Quill have issued a call for articles, stories, and poems for the coming March issue. The deadline for manuscripts has been set at March 1. Contributions may be submitted to The Bowdoin Quill, 3 Hyde Hall.

Placement Bureau Deadline March 1

All students who expect to call upon the services of the placement bureau prior to graduation in June should register with Mr. Ladd at the Placement Bureau not later than March 1st, if the men wish to take advantage of the series of campus interviews that will be conducted from that date on.

Phi Beta Kappa Initiates Five

Loring Edward Hart '46, Jordan Howard Wine '46, David Sumner Wyman '47, Clark Danielson '49, and William Carroll McCormack '49 were initiated into the Alpha of Maine of the Phi Beta Kappa Society on Monday evening February 16 announced Stanley P. Chase, Henry Leland Chapman Professor of English Literature. Present members of the famous honor society among the undergraduate body are: William Dominic Cappellari '48, Robert Watson Biggar, Jr. '49, Alexander Johnson Curtis '49, and Richard Arthur Wiley '49.

Beta Jazz Group Jams Jive, Blues

The first in a series of weekly jam sessions was held last Saturday night at the Beta House, under the auspices of the Hot Jazz Society of Lower McKean Street. More than 75 people listened to the hot and blue strains of "Darktown Strutters' Ball," "Tin Roof Blues," and "I've Found A New Baby." Featured were Roy Healy on the cornet; Reid Cross, trombone; Jim Draper and Jim Murtha, saxes; Vin Lannigan, drums; Lyle Sweet, bass; and Tom Macomber, piano.

Peary Broadcast

[Continued from Page 1]

The "Harvest of Stars" program which includes James Melton and Dr. Frank Black, is directed through the McCann-Erickson advertising agency. Several Bowdoin men are in this firm—H. K. McCann '02; Harrison Atwood '08; Hugh Mitchell; and Lloyd O. Coulter '19, vice president in charge of radio.

Political Forum Names Spector New President

Sherman D. Spector '50, Meriton G. Henry '50, and Emil W. Allen Jr. '50, were elected president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer respectively at the January 20th meeting of the Political Forum.

At this meeting, the last one of the fall semester, it was voted to send two delegates to a convention to be held at Mount Holyoke College at South Hadley, Massachusetts.

The subjects to be discussed will be: 1. What are the objectives and policies of the Great Powers in the Middle East? 2. What are the local attitudes and reactions? 3. What role can the United Nations play in this area?

The next meeting of the Political Forum will be held on Tuesday, February 23, at 7 p.m. in Conference B in order to make plans for the coming Mt. Holyoke Conference.

Bowdoin Wives Elect Leavitt

Mrs. Brooks Leavitt, was elected president of the Bowdoin Wives Association last month. Mrs. Jan McInnis was elected vice-president, and Mrs. Jesse Corum, program chairman. The executive committee, elect, consists of: Mrs. F. C. Andrews, Mrs. L. D. Wheeler, Mrs. A. C. Britton, Mrs. S. B. Sylvester, and Mrs. D. P. Beedy.

Mrs. James Draper and Mrs. Laureston Dobrow are still co-editors of the wives' newspaper, "Chit-Chat." Mrs. Helen Beedy is conducting the Baby Sitters Placement Bureau and the job agency (tel. 581-WK).

The next meeting of the wives will be held Thursday Feb. 19, at which time plans will be made for a "pot-luck" supper to be held at the home of Philip Wilder, assistant to the president, on March 5.

Classics Club Elects Stevenson President

Malcolm S. Stevenson, '50 was elected president of the Classics Club at a meeting held in the Moulton Union on Tuesday, February 10. Other officers chosen were John B. Small '50, vice-president, H. Berkley Peabody '50, secretary, and Martin E. Wooden '49, treasurer.

J.V. Swimmers Win, Tie, And Lose In Past Weeks

Bowdoin's junior varsity swimming team easily defeated the Portland Boys' Club last Friday night at the losers pool in a meet that saw Bowdoin capture five firsts including both relays.

The summary:

50-Yard Freestyle—Won by Marsh, (B); second, Harrison, (B); third, McCuskey, (B); Time 1:17.8.
100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Sellick, (PBC); second, Kyle, (B); Time 2:42.4.
220-Yard Freestyle—Won by Sellick, (PBC); second, Kyle, (B); Time 5:15.6.
100-Yard Backstroke—Won by Lancaster, (B); second, I'Amble, (PBC); third, W. Haskell, (PBC); Time 1:55.6.
100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Loomer, (PBC); second, Packer, (B); third, Major, (PBC); Time 1:50.1.
100-Yard Freestyle—Won by Ochsle, (B); second, E. Haskell, (PBC); third, Gallagher, (PBC); Winning points 12-4.
150-Yard Medley Relay—Won by Bowdoin (Lancaster, Lawless, Dennis); Time 1:43.6.
200-Yard Freestyle Relay—Won by Bowdoin (Strong, Boyd, Bond, Nelson); Time 2:02.2.

A make-shift Bowdoin jayvee swimming team had to come from behind to tie a surprisingly strong Brunswick High team, 33-33. A victory in the final relay earned the deadlock.

The summary:

150-Yard Medley Relay—Won by Brunswick (Jones, Belanger, Given); Time 1:38.8 seconds.
220-Yard Freestyle—Won by Kyle, Bowdoin; second, Holmes, Brunswick; Time 2:49.1 seconds.
50-Yard Freestyle—Won by Pete St. Pierre, Brunswick; second, Harrison, Bowdoin; third, Dennis, Bowdoin; Time 29.5 seconds.
100-Yard Backstroke—Won by Loomer, Bowdoin; second, Holiday, Exeter; third, Norton, Exeter; Time 1 minute 5.4 seconds.
100-Yard Breaststroke—Won by Ralche, Bowdoin; second, Van Vant, Bowdoin; third, Weary, Exeter; Time 1 minute 13.3 seconds.
200-Yard Relay—Won by Exeter (Seely, Johnson, Krudener, Stone); Time 1 minute 43.7 seconds.

J.V.'s Trounce Bridgton, Coburn

Bowdoin's jayvee basketballers walloped Coburn 56-36 on the victors floor on the Saturday night before exams as Danny Morrison closed out his college career as high scorer with 17 points.

Bowdoin JV's (56)				Coburn (36)
G		F		G		F
Fechan,lf	2	2	6	Magell,lf	2	1	5
Hickey,lf	2	2	6	Grover,lf	0	0	0
M'Don'd,lf	1	0	1	Quintellan,lf	0	0	0
Leonard,rf	3	1	7	D'Blas,rf	4	2	10
Porter,lf	5	2	12	Hodgins,rf	1	0	2
Morrison,rg	6	5	17	Ludwig,rf	4	2	8
M'Donald,rg	0	0	0	Pittsall,lf	1	0	2
				Goulet,lf	4	2	8
				Hurley,lf	1	0	0
				Deach's,rg	1	0	0
				Sinclair,rg	0	0	0
Totals	21	14	56	Totals	16	4	36

Referees—Parks, Shanahan. Time 4-10's.

Referee—Parks, Shannah. Time 4-10.

Bowdoin's jayvee basketball five poured it on Bridgton Academy Thursday night to a tune of 71-40 with Al Tobey and Curt Foster paving the attack, accounting for 19 and 16 points respectively. The victors led at halftime 36-16.

The line-ups:

The line-ups:
Bowdoin JV (71)				Bridgton Acad'y (40)
	G	F	P		G	F	P
Fechan,lf	4	0	8	Chakos,lf	4	5	13
Hickey,lf	2	0	4	Pomerleau,lf	0	0	0
M'M'Don'd,lf	1	0	2	Cobb,rf	0	1	1
Leonard,rf	3	0	1	Lobby,rf	0	0	0
Porter,lf	7	1	16	Sharples,lf	6	1	13
Tobey,rg	9	1	19	Gilpen,rf	0	1	1
Piper,rg	0	0	0	Blanchard,lf	1	4	6
Hill,lg	1	2	4	Nietze,lg	0	0	0
L.M'Don'd,lf	1	0	2	Kerhew,rg	2	2	6
Reamer,lf	1	0	2	2 M'Launlin,rg	0	0	0
Silmon,rg	2	1	6
Burke,rg	0	0	0
Leavitt,rg	1	1	3
Totals	32	7	71	Totals	13	14	40

Alpha Delt Elect Shortell President

Joseph H. Shortell, Jr. '47, was recently elected president of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity for the current term. Other elections to offices were: vice-president, Hunter S. Frost '47; secretary, Walter L. Bartholomew '46; treasurer, Robert I. deSherrin '45; and steward, Donald H. Lyons '48.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, February 18, 1948 No. 20

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors William S. Augerson '47, Richard P. Davis '49, Charles T. Dillaway '49, Raymond S. Troubh '50
Feature Editor Frederick W. Willey Jr. '47
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Reporters: Harvey S. Jackson '48, George Paradis '49, Ralph R. Anderson '50, Joshua W. Curtis, Jr. '50, Herbert L. Gould '50, Nelson D. Payne '50, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M. Fox '51, William J. Nightingale '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51
Photographers Roger Hupper '49, Philip F. Ellsworth '50, Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager Alfred J. Wazler '47
Circulation Managers C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Arthur H. Shewalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Bainton, Jr. '48, Joseph H. White, Jr. '49, John F. Ashley II '50, Donald Union '50, Aaron W. Aschler '51, John Blatchford '51, Keith W. Harrison '51, Edward D. Miller '51, Prescott H. Pardoe '51
Bowdoin Publishing Company
Directors Professor Athena F. Daggett, Richard A. Wiley '49, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, Edward S. Early '49
News Editor for this issue Charles T. Dillaway '49

RECEIVED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
480 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CINCINNATI • CHICAGO • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly, when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The Subscription rate for one year is five ($5) dollars.

212 Maine St. Phone 1205-W

CUMBERLAND

WED.-THURS. Feb. 18-19

Ida Lupino - Errol Flynn

in

"ESCAPE ME NEVER"

also

NEWS "SHORT SUBJECTS"

FRI.-SAT. Feb. 20-21

"RELENTLESS"

with

Robert Young

Marguerite Chapman

also

NEWS "SHORT SUBJECTS"

SUN.-MON.-TUES. Feb. 22-23-24

"MY WILD IRISH ROSE"

with

Dennis Morgan - Andrea King

also

NEWS

WED.-THURS. Feb. 25-26

"THE FLAME"

with

John Carroll - Vera Ralston

also

NEWS "SHORT SUBJECTS"

MOULTON UNION STORE

Because of a change in the interpretation of the G.I. Bill last year, we have too many fountain pens on our inventory. We are selling these pens at a great discount to anyone eligible to be a customer of this store. This sale applies only to the following Pens and Sets.

Parker Lifetime Pen $8.75 Value for $5.25
Parker Pen and Pencil Set $12.50 Value for $7.50
Moore Guaranteed Pens $8.75 Value for $5.25
Moore Pen and Pencil Set $12.50 Value for $7.50

White and Wyckoff Stationery 60 sheets of paper
50 envelopes — 75c
Bowdoin Stationery — $1.00
Fraternity Crest Stationery — $1.00

It's new!

It's the talk of the campus

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

It's "comfort contour"

collar styling

Here's "Comfort Contour" the new marvel of collar styling, now featured on all Van Heusen shirts. Low-cutting, neater, smarter, it's making the grade on every campus from coast to coast. You'll find it on fine white shirts and exclusive Van Heusen patterns, all Sanforized, all laundry-tested, in your favorite collar models. $3.50; $3.95 and $4.95. PHILLIPS-JONES CORP., NEW YORK 1, NEW YORK.

You're the man most likely to succeed in
Van Heusen Shirts
TIES • SPORT SHIRTS • PAJAMAS

Recognize This Picture?

It's familiar to almost everyone because pictures and stories of the atomic bomb tests at Bikini appeared in newspapers throughout the nation within hours after the historic blast.

Speed is a creed with newsmen and the Bell System helps make that speed possible.

It provides the local, Long Distance, and radio-telephone, telegraph, teletypewriter and wire facilities over which news is channeled to presses and microphones.

Keeping these facilities in top condition, ever improving and ever expanding, is the interesting job of many qualified men.

It is but one phase of the many-sided telephone industry in which thousands have found challenging and rewarding careers.

There's a future in telephony.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Tupper A Teacher, Interviewer Learns By Drying Dishes

By Bill Augerson '47

James W. Tupper, Visiting Professor on the Tallman Foundation, was not at his Bowdoin Court apartment when we trudged out to interview him. We did get a neat outline of the professors character from the wife of a faculty member as we dried the professor's dishes.

When Professor Tupper did arrive, he took time out from the business of moving into his new home to talk about Bowdoin and what he plans to do here. The first point that he made, in his easy and conversational manner, was that he was first, and above all things, a teacher.

Teaching has been his life for nearly half a century, and forty-one of those years have been at Lafayette University. Born in Nova Scotia, doing his undergraduate work at Dalhousie, and his graduate work at Johns Hopkins, Professor Tupper left Harvard in 1906 to teach at Lafayette.

There, it was his dubious privilege to establish a course in freshman English at a lousy college which had never before had a required course in that subject. Professor Tupper does not appear to be a calloused man, but he must have been tough to overcome the vigorous student opposition to his efforts. As he says, "they kicked a bit".

After establishing a firm base in elementary English at Lafayette, Professor Tupper went on to his greater interest, interpreting the great literature of our language. Through him, that college encountered its first "survey" course in literature. Professor Herbert R. Brown, Lafayette '24, is a concrete tribute to the English department founded by Professor Tupper.

In speaking of his plans for his course at Bowdoin, Professor Tupper outlined a survey of the period from Milton to Burns, in which the students will have to slog

Visiting Tallman Professor

JAMES W. TUPPER, retired professor of English at Lafayette College at his new Bowdoin Courts home.

Skaters Capture Two Out Of Three

A powerful Northeastern hockey sextet overpowered Bowdoin's pucksters by a 12-4 count on the Delta Rink last Thursday afternoon before a large gathering in the Polar Bears final home game of the season.

Northeastern (12) G F P Matthews, g 10 12 10 P. Bell, id 10 12 10 Kellian, rw 10 12 10 J. Reid, lw 10 12 10 MacKenzie, rw 10 12 10 J. Bell, c 10 12 10

Paced by Dick Archibald's four goals, Bowdoin's varsity hockey team crushed the Auburn Legion sextet 6-1 on the losers rink on January 20th with Larry Norton losing a shutout on a second period tally by Bellemare.

The summary: (1) Auburn A.L. Norton, g 6 1 0 Archibald, rd 6 1 0 Fife, id 6 1 0 Burke, c 6 1 0 Field, rw 6 1 0 Leason, lw 6 1 0

Driving home 8 out of 83 shots, Bowdoin's varsity hockey team overpowered Suffolk University, 8-3, on the Thursday before exams at the Delta rink in a game which saw Bowdoin press the issue throughout and completely dom-

Rain, Slush Ruin 'Hampshire Hockey

Due to last Friday's rain storm the varsity hockey game scheduled with the University of New Hampshire for Saturday at Durham was postponed until Friday. The J. V. game with the Maine Annex was postponed until this afternoon on Delta ice.

inate the action through the last period and a half.

The summary: (3) Suffolk University g. Adams 0 0 0 St. Adams 0 0 0 St. Adams 0 0 0 St. Adams 0 0 0 St. Adams 0 0 0 St. Adams 0 0 0

Art Collection Offers Many Prizes

The Walker Art Building has available a large number of framed colored reproductions of important paintings which may be rented by students to decorate their rooms at a charge of 25¢ per year.

The works of outstanding artists of many different countries and periods are included in the collection. Students desiring to rent reproductions should see Mr. Roe at the Walker Art Building between 10 and 12 or 2 and 4.

Frosh Five Beats B.H.S., Drops Cony

Bowdoin's Freshman basketball five encountered little difficulty with Brunswick High in crushing the local schoolboys 48-32 on the victors court on the Thursday before exams.

The box score: Bowdoin Fresh (48) Brunswick (32) G F P Hubley, lf 6 14 12 Blum, lf 2 1 5 VanOrden, lf 1 0 1 Merrill, lf 1 0 2 Sanborn, lf 1 0 1 Lebel, lf 1 0 2 Kerr, rf 0 0 0 Bonas, rf 3 2 8 Burr, rf 2 0 0 Locke, rf 0 0 0 Baker, rf 0 0 0 Partridge, c 1 0 2 Mutha, rf 0 1 1 Ormsby, c 2 1 5 Prentiss, c 7 16 10 Lord, lg 1 1 3 J. Kelley, c 0 0 0 Stuart, lg 0 0 0 Carlson, c 0 0 0 Johnson, lg 0 0 0 Hinkel, c 0 1 1 DeOrsey, rg 0 0 0 Wing, lg 0 0 0 Berry, rg 1 0 2 Sirov, rg 2 0 0 Devin, rg 0 0 0 Mordock, rg 0 0 0 Williams, rg 0 1 1 Totals 48 10 48 Totals 32 8 32

Cony High's basketballers staved off a late drive by the Bowdoin Frosh to edge the Polar Cubs 50-47 on the losers floor. Jules Sirov and Bill Prentiss who had 19 and 17 markers respectively paced the futile drive.

The lineups: Cony (46) G F P Folsom, lf 3 2 8 Hubley, lf 3 0 6 Bradford, lf 0 0 0 Burr, rf 1 0 2 Milliken, rf 4 1 0 Kerr, rf 7 2 16 Prentiss, c 1 0 2 Mordock, lg 0 0 0 Eganey, lg 4 0 8 Hinkel, c 2 0 0 Pequin, rg 2 0 0 Saulter, lg 1 1 3 McCullum, rg 0 1 1 Sirov, rg 8 3 19 Totals 22 4 60 Totals 20 7 47

Referee: Shanahan. Time: 4:55.

Hoopsters Lose To Amherst

Bowdoin's varsity basketball team dropped its tenth decision in twelve starts to the Lord Jeffs of Amherst by a 73-61 score at Amherst on Saturday evening.

The Polar Bears trailed most of the way and the only real bright spot was the scoring leadership of Sid Connolly who garnered 15 markers. The winners had a 37-24 lead at intermission.

This line-up: Amherst G F P Bowdoin G F P Chamblain, lf 5 11 11 Schoch, lf 3 1 7 Barry, lf 0 3 3 Hickey, lf 1 0 2 Ralney, rf 4 0 0 Connolly, rf 6 8 15 Rossano, lf 0 0 0 Foster, lf 1 0 2 Pressing, lf 2 1 4 Pandora, c 3 1 7 Kelley, c 5 11 11 Tyler, c 2 0 4 Gerathy, lf 1 1 3 Piper, c 0 0 0 Hammond, lf 6 13 15 Spier, lg 4 2 10 Bowen, c 0 0 0 MacDonald, lg 1 0 2 Getes, c 0 0 0 Burke, c 0 0 0 Newman, rf 6 4 14 Hill, lf 1 0 2 Richenaker, lf 2 1 5 Totals 30 15 73 Totals 26 9 61

Referee: Fortnaco, Shanahan. Time: 2:20's.

Bates JV's (75) Bowdoin JV's (59) G F P A'heol, lf 4 0 10 Feehan, lg 7 8 17 Connors, lf 2 0 4 Buckle, lf 0 1 1 Houghton, lf 1 0 2 Hickey, rf 4 1 9 Hanson, rf 2 1 5 Leonard, rf 4 1 9 Sutherland, lf 7 17 17 Piser, c 2 0 4 Somerville, lf 7 2 16 Lundwall, c 0 0 0 Winslow, lg 4 1 9 Morrison, lg 0 0 0 Stewart, lf 1 0 2 McAvoy, lf 1 0 2 Livingston, rg 3 2 8 Sibson, lg 0 0 0 Allen, lf 1 0 2 Foster, rg 5 1 11 Reimer, rg 0 1 1 Totals 32 11 75 Totals 24 11 59

Referee: Samml, Nanigan. Time: 4:00's.

respectively. All of these four teams seem sure of playoff berths, barring some unforeseen mishap, for they have shown considerable superiority over most of the opposition they have faced.

A.R.U.'s First In Bowling Competition

As the Interfraternity Bowling League swung into its final weeks of action, it was announced that the ARU's have gained a considerable lead and seem to be a sure thing for the league's leading position at the season's close.

The nearest competitors are the Sigma Nu's, DU's, and Chi Psi's

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL of LAW

Admits Men and Women

Registration

Day and Evening Programs — September 13 to 15, 1948

Early application is necessary

Veterans accepted under G. I. Bills

47 MT. VERNON STREET BOSTON 8, MASSACHUSETTS

Telephone KEamere 6-5800

"Would you wrap the Dentyne Chewing Gum as a gift, please?"

"That dame drives me nuts! 'Wrap it as a gift,' she says! As if anybody wanted to bother with fancy gift wrappings to get at that delicious, clean tasting Dentyne Chewing Gum with the rich, long lasting flavor. Dentyne is a gift at any price because it helps keep teeth white."

Dentyne Gum — Made Only By Adams

"I'll be up there soon!"

UP WHERE the ceiling's unlimited and the horizon's as wide as the world! Up where there's freedom and adventure—and a man can dare to do what no man's done before!

You're on your way up there when you join the Aviation Cadets. After a year's pilot training, it's silver wings for you—and a commission as Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Reserve.

You are eligible if you're single, between 20 and 26½, and have completed at least half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or can pass an equivalent qualifying examination).

You'll fly the very best planes during your 12 months of pilot training. Then, after graduation, you'll pilot jet fighters and bombers. And you'll get a starting salary of $336 a month. During your three years on active duty you'll be given a chance to win a commission in the Regular Air Force.

This is a priceless opportunity for alert young men with the urge to carve their future in American aviation. Ask for details at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station. Or, write to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

U. S. ARMY AND U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

A CIGARETTE CAN BE MILD

"The more I smoke Chesterfields the more I appreciate how good they are"

Jack Oakie

STARRING IN "NORTHWEST STAMPEDE" AN EAGLE-LION PRODUCTION

WHY I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"When I bring my tobacco to market I'm always looking for the Liggett & Myers buyers because I know when I've got real good mild, ripe sweet tobacco they'll pay the top dollar for it."

"I've been smoking Chesterfields for about 25 years. I like their taste and I know the kind of tobacco that's in them."

Arthur Williams
TOBACCO FARMER
GREENVILLE, N. C.

YES—CHESTERFIELDS SMOKE SO MILD—SO MILD THEY SATISFY MILLIONS—SO MILD THEY'LL SATISFY YOU.

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS Milder BETTER Tasting COOLER Smoking

CAREERS WITH A FUTURE
U. S. Army and
U. S. Air Force

Student Committee To Solicit $5,000 In Subscriptions As Campus Phase Of Sesquicentennial Fund Campaign

Robert Taft To Speak Here On Domestic Affairs

Feb. 20—Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio will speak on "Domestic and International Politics" in an address to the student body Sunday evening, March 14.

The second aspirant to the Republican presidential nomination to speak at Bowdoin while on a New England tour, Senator Taft has agreed to appear with the understanding that he is speaking to "a group of students". Attendance, therefore, will be limited to the student body.

Sponsored jointly by the Political Forum and the Student Union Committee, the address will be held either in the Moulton Union Lounge or in Memorial Hall.

The son of President William Howard Taft and member of a family of statesmen and politicians, Senator Taft has himself had a long and varied experience in the government of our country.

Born in Cincinnati, most of his early career was spent in Ohio politics. Senator Taft is the sole Republican candidate who can claim the distinction of having already lived in the White House.

After finishing his secondary education at the Taft School, his undergraduate work at Yale, and his law study at Harvard, Taft was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1913. He practiced law in Ohio until the outbreak of World War I, when he was appointed to his first federal post, Assistant Counsel on Food Administration, under Herbert Hoover. He remained in this position through 1918 and 1919.

In 1921 he was elected to the Ohio State Legislature, and by 1926 was Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives. Elected to the Ohio Senate in 1931, Taft became a United States Senator.

Now completing his tenth year in the Senate, Taft has compiled a record of service which is to his advantage in the coming election. Author of the controversial Taft-Hartley Labor Law, he is now Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the recognized leader on matters of domestic policy.

College Receives Gift Certificates

Feb. 13—A gift of several certificates has been made recently to the College by Mr. Roy A. Foulke. These certificates, conferred on Professor Parker Cleveland, who served on the Bowdoin Faculty from 1805 until his death in 1858, were given to him by the European Universities of Halle, Dresden, and Jena, and by the Royal Society of Copenhagen during the period between 1825 and 1840.

Mr. Foulke, Vice President of Dun and Bradstreet, Inc. of New York, graduated from Bowdoin in the Class of 1919. Parker Cleveland was Professor of Mathematics, Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Natural Philosophy while at Bowdoin. A graduate of Harvard in the Class of 1802, and holder of honorary degrees from Bowdoin and Dartmouth, he won international distinction for his scientific work, particularly in the field of mineralogy.

Welfare, Relief Week Set By B.C.A.

Feb. 23—This week has been designated as "Welfare and Relief Week" by the Bowdoin Christian Association.

Members of the Welfare and Relief Committee have placed boxes in all fraternity houses and dormitories for the collection of old clothes, old neckties, and old phonograph records.

The clothes will be distributed in devastated areas of Europe by the American Friends Service Committee which recently won the Nobel Peace Prize for this work. The neckties and records collected will be sent to the Tugus Veterans Hospital.

Chairman William M. Patterson Jr. '51 will be assisted by Norman A. Huxley '51, John B. MacChesney '51, William M. Murch '51, John D. Newton '51, and David C. Willey '51.

Alumni Council Directors

ALUMNI LEADERS Glenn R. McIntire '25, Sanford B. Cousins '20, Ashmead White '12, Seward J. Marsh '12, and the members of the Alumni Council met at the college last Friday and Saturday.

NSA Provides Facilities For Travel, Study Abroad

Feb. 20—Full information concerning study, travel and work abroad for the summer of 1948 is now available for interested student from Richard M. Van Orden '51, Bowdoin N.S.A. Chairman, at the Zeta Psi House.

Information, gathered from a survey of all the embassies and legations, all of the educational organizations, and all the travel groups in this country has been compiled into booklet form by the International Activities Commission of the N.S.A. This data has been summarized into an easy reading style so that a quick comparison between opportunities can be made.

The N.S.A. booklet contains facts, as complete as possible at this date, of foreign universities offering summer courses and their entrance requirements, of those approved by the Veterans Administration, and of costs of living and travel. The cost of a summer abroad is not as high as some would suppose. Last summer students in France lived on approximately $70 a month. Included are the travel and work groups being planned for foreign countries by the Youth Hostels and similar organizations. The average trip is two months, and the total cost is roughly $500.

General information concerning undergraduate and graduate work at foreign universities is also available. Passport and visa information, entrance requirements and courses offered by foreign universities are also included.

(Continued on Page 2)

Masque And Gown To Present Student - Written Dramas

By Charles T. Dillaway '49

The Fourteenth Annual Student One-Act Play Contest featuring plays by Roger P. Mergendahl '50, Peter T. Poor '50, and Albert P. Phillips '51 will be held in Memorial Hall at 8:15 on March 1.

Each play, directed by its own author, will be judged by Mrs. Athern P. Daggett, Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, and Mr. Jeffrey J. Carre, Instructor of Romance Languages, for its general effectiveness including dialogue, direction, and acting. The prizes offered by the Masque and Gown are twenty-five dollars for the best play and fifteen for the runner-up play. The winner will also receive the Masque and Gown "Oscar".

"Skywriting" concerns a building that proves itself as real as a human being influencing the lives of men and is written and directed by Mergendahl who was runner-up in last season's contest with his "Afterpiece". The lead will be played by Mergendahl himself, and he will be supported by Robert M. Emmons '49, last seen in "The Skull", John E. Duffer '50, and Miss Candide Paquette who appeared in the one-act play by Robert R. Bliss last year. Stage management for this play will be done by Clement R. Brown '50.

"Our Way", a "drawing room comedy" concerning a young college professor who is proficient in

Prestige Is Key To Selling Bowdoin In Fund Drive

Undergraduate Representatives Hear Heads
Of Campaign At Dinner Meeting In Portland

"We all know that Bowdoin is a good college. But others are not aware of this fact, and we must sell Bowdoin to them." This feeling underlay the discussion of the development, organization, and goals of the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund conducted last evening by officials of the Fund before a representative group of undergraduates gathered at a dinner meeting at the Eastland Hotel in Portland.

"Prestige" is the key word in the present campaign, according to those men directing the drive: Maj. Gen. Wallace C. Philoon '05, General Chairman; Harry L. Palmer '04, Chairman of the Special Gifts Committee; and Lawrence W. Smith '13, Acting Executive Director.

Members of the Student Council, fraternity presidents, the Student Fund Campaign Committee, activities heads, and three delegates from the Bowdoin Wives Association learned that a concerted effort is underway to make the general public conscious of Bowdoin, its traditions, and its fine standards. For this effort an elaborate organization has been built from nothing and is of necessity moving ahead slowly.

In attaining the immediate goal of $3,025,000 within the next two years, the first step has been to solicit the immediate Bowdoin family, the Boards, the Faculty, and now the undergraduates. A 100 percent participation of these three bodies, said the Fund officials, will serve as a strong psychological argument when dealing with large outside givers.

A number of questions were posed and answered during the discussion, including whether undergraduates would be expected to give again as alumni after they had graduated. The answer was a definite no.

Although an order of priority for the appropriation of the money received is set forth in the Fund brochure, the ultimate disposition is at the discretion of the Governing Boards. But this order of priority does not mean that specific gifts for a certain building will not be welcomed.

Stress is being laid on an increase in faculty salaries because the "take-home" pay of teachers at Bowdoin will be diminished with the ending of the summer sessions.

It was emphasized that the officials of the Fund are not dictating to the Student Fund Campaign Committee as to how the campus phase of the drive should be run, but that every assistance possible is at the disposal of the undergraduates.

Independents To Discuss Changes

Feb. 25—The adoption of a new constitution and the election of new officers for the Independents will be discussed at a general meeting of all non-fraternity men tonight in the Moulton Union Lounge.

Among the suggested changes in the constitution is the adoption of the word "participation" for the word "membership", and the addition of two more members-at-large to the executive committee to give it a more representative nature.

The original Independent constitution was adopted in November, 1947, but obvious flaws made it unwieldy. In January a Constitutional Review Committee was established, and the results of this committee's work is the subject of the balloting tonight.

Present officers are Merton G. Henry '50, president; Clayton J. Kamp '49, Vice-President; Rupert Clark '51, Secretary-Treasurer; James McKee '50, Student Council Representative and Igor R. Blake '51, Union Committee Representative.

Speaking Contests Dates Announced

Feb. 25—Prize speaking contests for juniors and seniors for 1948 are now open and dates set for the final readings later this spring.

The Class of 1968 Prize, consisting of the income of a fund of $1081, will be awarded to the senior who writes and delivers the best oration. Manuscripts from 1200 to 1500 words long should be submitted for selection of finalists on April 1, the final contest to take place on April 26.

The Stanley Plummer Prize is the income of a fund of $1055, to be awarded "for excellence in original and spoken language on the part of the members of the Junior Class." The first reading of these parts, which should also be from 1200 to 1500 words in length will be on March 16, and the final contests will be on April 19.

Contestants for each of these contests are asked to report to Mr. Thayer.

Fund Director

WALLACE C. PHILOON, director of the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund desires 100% cooperation from the undergraduates.

Federalists Pick Five As Portland Representatives

Feb. 19—As representatives to a discussion on world government next week at the Portland High School auditorium, the Bowdoin chapter of the Student Federalists chose Sherman D. Spector '50, president of the organization, J. Peter Prins '50, Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47, Zeleke Bekele '51, and Merton G. Henry '50.

Other business on the agenda of the Federalists included the adoption of several resolutions, one providing for an increase of the organization's membership, and another for the placing of Student Federalist literature in fraternity libraries and on a specified shelf in the reading room of Hubbard Hall.

Plans were discussed for a joint meeting of the Bates and Bowdoin chapters to be held at Bowdoin in March.

Thayer Reports On College Meeting

Evidence of the lack of preparation in reading and writing on the part of military and naval trainees in college programs during the last war was presented in a report by Professor Albert R. Thayer at the annual mid-winter meeting of the school and College Conference at the Hotel New Yorker, in New York City, Saturday, February 20.

The report reveals that large classes, over-burdened teachers, low salaries paid to teachers, and the responsibility of extra-curricular activities all contributed to the failure of high schools to prepare students to read and write acceptably.

Professor Herbert R. Brown was a member of the committee which collected this information from college teachers throughout the country, private institutions as well as state universities.

Fraternities Pledge 51 Men In Mid-Year Rushing Season

Feb. 20—Fifty-one men were pledged by the twelve fraternities in the recent rushing season for the spring trimester.

The following men were pledged: Alpha Delta Phi—Harry B. Carney '49, John F. Basset '50, Trenton N. Kardlekas '51 and William J. Nightingale '51.

Pai Upsilon—Carl F. Anderson Jr. '51, Anthony E. Folio '51, and Edward J. Legere '51.

Chi Psi—Mark J. Anton '51, Charles R. Claffin '51, Arthur W. Gardner '51, George A. Murray '51 and John J. Shinner '51.

Delta Kappa Epsilon—Jack A. Bump '50, Douglas R. Hill '50, John B. Small '50, Gregory LaCue '51, Ronald J. Morlock '51 and Robert W. Waugh '51.

Seek 100% Participation As Important Objective

By Richard A. Wiley '49

Feb. 24—An over-all goal of $5,000 for the student phase of the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund Campaign will be sought next week by the five man Student Fund Campaign Committee in cooperation with the Student Council.

Faculty-Alumni Relationship Lauded By Chase

Feb. 21—"The American alumni feels an obligation to contribute practically during his later life, by money and by personal service, to the institution of his youthful allegiance," said Professor Stanley P. Chase in a chapel address.

After welcoming the members of the Alumni Council, who were gathered on campus for their annual mid-winter meeting, Professor Chase discussed the dependency of the American college upon its alumni and the "continuing, life-long, deep-seated attachment" which most American alumni feel for their colleges.

He indicated that the ideal status of the alumni, and certainly the prevailing one at Bowdoin, is one in which the alumnus has "an opportunity to keep still active one's concern with things of the mind, to refresh one's spirit with whatever of high thought and purpose one found here in youth, and to make, through this channel, one's own contribution toward keeping those springs of idealism still fresh and potent for succeeding generations."

The significance of this close relationship between the alumni college and its graduates meant that "American higher education must always be in touch with and responsive to the broader movements of American life." Professor Chase stressed the importance of this in the field of national and international affairs, citing the German universities, renowned for the high level of their scholarship yet powerless to stop the spread of Hitlerism, as an example of the dangers of remaining apart from the main currents of surrounding life.

He added that at the same time "an essential condition of continuing vitality in our colleges is that they shall not be completely assimilated to the outside world. They must retain their own special character as institutions of learning; they must remain true to their own heritage; they must owe no higher allegiance than to the truth." This concept of academic freedom is one of the large and fundamental ideas that constantly need "re-statement, interpretation, fresh application to the ever-changing course of public events."

Warning of the dangers to the American college of pressure groups attempting to influence its teaching or otherwise encroaching upon its prerogatives, he said that at Bowdoin "our governing Boards and our Alumni Council would be the first to resist any attempt of an outside group to usurp what are properly the functions of the Faculty and the Administration."

A pledge will be solicited from every undergraduate, the basic amount set at five dollars. For this purpose individual pledge cards will be distributed next Wednesday by the members of the Student Council.

The fulfillment of these pledges will be spread over a period of from two to three years. But the immediate goal, according to Samuel Gross '46, chairman of the Committee and member of the Student Council, is 100 percent contribution by the undergraduates.

Other members of this Student Fund Campaign Committee are: Raymond S. Trough '50, President of the Student Council; Richard A. Wiley '49, Editor-in-Chief of the ORIENT; Henry J. Bracchi '46, member of the Student Council; and Warren H. Dunning II '49, member of the Student Union Committee.

The first progress report issued by Maj. Gen. Wallace C. Philoon '05, General Chairman of the Fund, on February 16 cites the excellent response to the drive by the members of the Governing Boards and the Faculty. Over $500,000 was subscribed by the Trustees and Overseers, and the faculty members more than doubled their quota by pledging $12,000.

The ultimate goal of the Sesquicentennial Fund, originally planned for 1944 but delayed by the war, calls for a total contribution of $5,248,750. Of this, two million is slated for endowment for faculty salaries, more than two million for new buildings, and almost two million for building maintenance endowment.

Called the Sesquicentennial Fund in recognition of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the holding of the first classes in Brunswick in 1802, the Fund has set two goals—a "primary" and a "secondary" or later goal—within the over-all objective. The first will be sought within the next two years, the balance by 1952.

The immediate needs are for faculty salaries, a classroom building, a chemistry building, an addition to the library, a covered hockey rink, and the remodeling of the present Searles Science Building. Classified as secondary goals, and accounting for over three millions of the Fund are further teaching endowments, refrigeration for the hockey rink, a college theater, an Arctic museum, additions to the gymnasium, including squash courts, and a general improvement of the campus.

(Continued on Page 2)

Ivy Dance Date Set By Committee

Feb. 23—April 30, May 1, and May 2 have been set as the dates for the forthcoming Ivy House parties by the Ivy Dance Committee, which also appointed several sub-committees.

The main dance will take place Friday night, while Saturday evening will be left open for the various house dances.

The Ivy Dance Committee is divided into several sub-committees. Serving on the dance committee are Martin H. Lee '50, Zeta Psi; Ellis K. Annis '50, Psi Upsilon; Vincent C. Lanigan '50, Theta Delta Chi; Cornelius P. Darcy '50, Alpha Tau Omega; and Gerald L. Cogan '50, Alpha Rho Upsilon.

Members of the publicity committee include William T. Shoemaker, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Gerald N. McCarty '50, Delta Upsilon; '50, Delta Upsilon; Benjamin M. Smethurst, Jr. '50, Kappa Sigma.

The ticket committee includes Howard Reichle, Jr. '50, class treasurer, Beta Theta Pi; William H. White '50, Chi Psi; John J. Butler, Jr. '50, Sigma Nu; and Arthur H. Walker '50, Beta Theta Pi.

Also serving on the general committee are the officers of the class of 1950 which include Carroll A. Lovejoy, Jr., president; James H. Sibson, vice president; and Howard C. Reichle, Jr., secretary-treasurer.

Show Real Faith In Your College; Support The Bowdoin Fund 100%

A covered hockey rink, a little theater, an addition to the gym, a new classroom building, the strengthening of the faculty — these and many other improvements to Bowdoin have long been subjects for daydreams by fraternity house "grippers" and a long line of dissatisfied editorial writers.

The long-awaited opportunity to translate these dreams into reality and into a better Bowdoin is being offered to you and to me — as undergraduates — this coming week. A student committee will ask us to dig down deep and make our pledge to the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund.

Already the fifty members of the Boards of Trustees and Overseers have pledged more than $500,000, and the Faculty has more than doubled its quota by subscribing $12,000.

The assistance and support of the third part of the immediate Bowdoin family — us undergraduates — have now been summoned. And our response should be the most complete and spontaneous of all. For it is we who best know the fine qualities and the shortcomings of our College. And it is we who will benefit first from the results of this campaign.

A quota of $5000 has been set for the 1100 of us — five dollars for every man in College. It is not, however, the amount of the gift that is important, but the spirit in which it is given. Some will not be able to meet this individual quota; others may feel ready to give much more. But whatever the size of the gift it should be individual.

Bowdoin is a personal college — this is one of her greatest assets. And her students will be glad to respond to this appeal, not with a contribution from their parents or their fraternities, but from their own "flick" money.

Our goal must be 100% giving from the entire student body. For away from Brunswick a huge army of loyal sons of the College awaits the signal to seek the necessary millions.

But first these selfless men wish to show that Bowdoin herself, her governors, her faculty, and most important, her students, appreciate the efforts of those who in the past have built the College and realize that her best years lie yet ahead.

Our actual giving will be spread over two or three years. What is sought now is our pledge of aid. And when we pledge, we must remember that we are assisting not Bowdoin College, not the College, but our College.

Opposition To U.M.T Idealistic

"That neither ill-conceived idealism, ignorance, nor apathy shall be permitted again to betray the youth of the nation." To be idealistic about life is a great and noble thought. But idealism can be carried to such an extreme that it can be injurious to the security of a nation and its people.

To be idealistically opposed to such a subject as Universal Military Training is "ill-conceived" and "dubious." It seems unthinkable that so-called liberal people can reject any sort of a plan that would provide for their security. How can a thinking individual possess an ideal of peace and at the same time not be willing to make preparations for the defense of that peace?

A peaceful world is the ideal of all of us. But we must not be mistaken in believing that an ideal can be realized by sitting idly by and hoping that it will be handed to us on a silver platter by a beautiful woman with a laurel wreath on her head.

There is no such thing as an airtight security. The French spent many years and a great sum of money to build the Maginot Line. How long did France last? In order to have an effective national security it is necessary to have trained men to defend it.

Professor Van Cleve was not mistaken when he declared that, "under such circumstances it behooves us to seek to preserve within our own nation the principles which we deem the only just foundation of peace and security . . . they must not be obscured by well-intentioned, though dubious, idealism."

J. H. N. Jr.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, February 25, 1948 No. 21

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '48
Managing Editors . . . John H. Nichols, Jr. '48, David Crowell '48
News Editors . . . William S. Angerson '47, Richard P. Davis '49
Charles T. Dillaway '48
Feature Editor Frederick W. Wiley Jr. '47
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '48
Assistant Sports Editor . . . Robert J. Waldron '50
Reporter-Harry S. Jackson '48, Ralph H. Chew '49, Roger L. Kennedy '49, George Partridge '49, Ralph R. Anderson '50, Joshua W.
Curtis, Jr. '50, Herbert L. Gould '50, Nelson D. Payne '50, Richard
N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M.
Fox '51, William J. Nightingale '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51
Photographers Roger Hupper '48, Philip F. Ellsworth '49
Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists William M. Langton, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager Alfred J. Wexler '47
Circulation Manager . . . C. Craig Ryder '48, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Arthur H. Shouffer, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Babin, Jr. '48, Joseph H. White, Jr. '48, John P. Ashey II '50, Donald Union
'50, Aaron W. Ascher '51, John Blachford '51, Keith W. Harrison
'51, Edward B. Miller '51, Fremont H. Pardee '51
BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors . . . Professor Arthur F. Daggett, Richard A. Wiley '48,
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, Edward S. Early '49
News Editor for this issue Richard P. Davis '49

RECEIVED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING SERVICE, INC.
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representative
4820 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
CHICAGO • BOSTON • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly, except during the Fall and Spring trimesters in the months of November and May. Address correspondence to the Editor and Publisher, The Bowdoin Orient, c/o The Bowdoin Publishing Company, c/o the Bowdoin Office, in the Bowdoin Union, Brunswick, Maine. Subscription rates for one year: $1.00 (12) dollars.

"Take Cover, Here Comes That Man Again"

A. Frye

Letter To Editor . . . Student Opposes UMT, For Peace

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

Contrary to the views expressed by Professor Thomas Van Cleve in his Chapel talk last Friday, I do not believe America can be effectively prepared for the potential conflict in the world with citizen-soldiers, the product of universal military training. There is room for me to discuss only a few points in Professor Van Cleve's talk. He asserted that we are now the only nation potentially strong enough to protect the "civil rights of men as individuals" in a world that seems about ready to surrender them. We are certainly at a time of conflict. I agree that we must be prepared. But I seriously question the alternative of universal military training and the policy of armament.

Basically the idea of protecting our rights by force is opposed to the democratic ideal we are trying to protect: finding the truth behind a conflict and abiding by an agreed upon standard. Secondly we cannot isolate these principles on North America. Therefore, there is no protection, unless the rest of the world comes to value our ideal. The foundation of peace rests not on the "civil rights" themselves but obviously on the fact, that men recognize the truth and importance of this principle.

How then can we show the rest of the world the value of the democratic ideal, — especially if they won't let us do so? The important thing is that we believe in our ideal to be more important than ourselves. We all, sometime in our life, must have been confronted by someone who was so certain of what he was saying or doing, that he obviously didn't care what others did to dissuade him. Such a person is convincing. The standards of Christianity become important to our civilization not by violent dominance, but because men were willing to give their lives for them — because one man valued them so much, they lived by them, even though they were killed for it.

I do not pretend that in this role of teacher America will go unopposed. Ghandi's followers at Transvaal, Natal, and Champaran were not left unmolested in their practice of non-violent resistance; yet they have done more to raise the phenomenon of conflict to a level fitting human intelligence, than any war has done. Why? Because they taught by example.

What has America demonstrated, if trying to teach the ideal of order based on truth, she abandons it to keep order by force? Finally, what I mean by preparation is this: that we teach ourselves thoroughly this "elusive formula for peace", which Professor Van Cleve apparently does not think valid: a complete respect for the person and rights of one's neighbor and assumption of individual responsibility for social and political affairs — all based on the willingness to "decrease in order that one's neighbor may increase." I do not consider that the people of America are dedicated to this formula; and we can justly fear a universal training that would arm this people with militarism. It would be like giving a child a blow torch to find his way through an arsenal — a danger to himself and to the world. No doubt military preparedness helps to combat and end a war (or prolong it) and may postpone its arrival; but do not mistake that for peace. Does this seem hard or too idealistic to bother sacrificing for? Then I say this: if we are striving for our lives, for bread and warm homes, as the Communists now are, let us forget this idle talk about preparing for the next war, assemble our bacteria, gas, and atomic weapons, and clear the world of anything that appears to have the strength or motive to harm us. But if we really strive for a peaceful world, for principles and the fundamental rights of men, capable of responding to the divine Spirit of the universe, then let us live fearlessly in the world, the principles we would have the nations learn to value.

Harold N. Burnham '48

Spring Enrollment Shows Loss of 42

A drop in the enrollment of 42 men is revealed by registration figures released by the Dean's office.

These statistics show that there are now 1037 students enrolled, whereas, there were 1079 last fall. The February Commencement lessened the college's numbers by 54, while 36 men left college because of deficiencies in scholastic standing.

The difference was partially made up by the return of 33 men who had been at Bowdoin previously, and the arrival of 47 new men, freshmen, and transfers.

Bowdoin Fund

[Continued from Page 1]

Headquarters for the Fund have been established at 142 Free Street in Portland, and more than 250 men and women have already accepted appointment to important committees. This number is expected to exceed 700 when the alumni campaign begins in May.

Members of the Executive Committee of the Fund include such distinguished alumni as Harvey D. Gibson '02, Honorary Chairman; Harrison K. McCann '02, Chairman of Publicity and Public Relations Committee; Hoyt A. Moore '95, Vice-President; Board of Trustees; and Sanford B. Cousins '20, President, Alumni Council.

The past history of the College includes many campaigns launched to build specific buildings, Maine Hall, Appleton Hall, Hyde Hall, the Sargent Gymnasium, and the war memorial.

The only general campaigns since 1841 were the first Alumni Fund movement which raised $100,000 in 1873 and subsequent years, and campaigns in 1907-08 and in 1920-21, both associated with contributions from the General Education Board. The first of these was for $250,000 and the second for $600,000.

Study Abroad

[Continued from Page 1]

versities, cost of living, and travel estimates have been gathered with an eye to economy by the N.S.A.

Masque And Gown To Give One-Acts

[Continued from Page 1]

ert V. Powers '50, new to the Bowdoin stage, and Miss Florence Smith, who has appeared before in Commencement productions of the Masque and Gown. Robert C. Alexander '50, a member of the Masque and Gown Executive Board who also acted in "Tec Hall" and was assistant stage manager of "Hay Fever" will be stage manager of "The Cynic."

Take Notice . . .

Political Forum

Feb. 24—Congresswoman Margaret Chase Smith of the Second District of Maine will be the guest speaker at a meeting on April 27.

Four Political Forum delegates to the Mt. Holyoke College Middle East Conference were briefed on Middle Eastern Affairs by Mr. Arthur C. Cresney on February 22. The delegates are President Sherman D. Spector '50, Zeleke Bekele '51, J. Peter Prins '50, and Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47.

Church Discussion Groups

Feb. 24—"Marriage, Home and the Family" will be the general topic of a series of church discussion groups sponsored by the First Parish Church and presided over by local clergymen which will begin on February 29.

N.S.A.

Feb. 25—An organizational meeting of all men interested in serving on the Bowdoin N.S.A. Committee will be held tonight at 7:30 in conference B of the Moulton Union.

Married Vets

In order to insure prompt receipt of increased subsistence for April and thereafter, married veterans having children should furnish Mr. Goud, in 19 Winthrop Hall, with birth certificates for these children as soon as possible.

Play Tryouts

Tryouts for Ivy and Commencement plays will be held concurrently on Wednesday, March 3, from 10-12 a.m. and from 8-10 p.m. in the Masque and Gown office, off the balcony of Memorial Hall. The try play, "Of Thee I Sing" may be read by prospective actors in copies on open reserve in the library. Copies of the commence-

A Student Speaks . . .

Writer Opposes U.M.T; Cites Ineffectiveness Of Left-Wing Nationalist Youth Assembly

By Alexander J. Curtis '49

Universal military training has become a hot issue, and even on the Bowdoin campus it has been discussed and argued recently.

I am perfectly aware of the many reasons given by those in favor of such a program, explaining the need for adequate protection of our country, etc. These have been well explained by the propaganda poured out recently by the Army and Navy, their statements invading every possible publication.

There are also a good many valid reasons for opposing military training as proposed which seem to outweigh the arguments given in favor of it. Universal military training in the United States would tend to increase war hysteria and international tension and has never prevented a war. Experts are doubtful as to the value of UMT in an atomic war. UMT would increase the already tremendous power of the military in national affairs. And finally considering that the military system is exactly opposed to what we like to think of as democracy, and certainly in its present form, promotes some of the most undesirable elements in our social thinking, I am convinced that UMT would be a mistake at this time.

It was therefore with some interest that I heard about a National Youth Assembly against UMT to be held in Washington on February 15 and 16. This was to be an organization, I thought, to integrate groups opposed to UMT as well as present intelligent arguments on the subject to the American public.

To my knowledge, there was no single group which sponsored this assembly. It must be clearly stated that the National Student Association is in no way connected with this organization as NSA has decided not to take any stand on this highly controversial and political issue. A trip to Washington to attend this assembly as an observer seemed out of the question until a group calling themselves New England Students for Wallace offered inexpensive transportation on chartered buses to all those interested in opposing UMT.

Larry Ward and I decided to take advantage of this offer although neither of us are convinced of the value of Mr. Wallace's candidacy. By the time we arrived in Washington, it was clear to us that the group we were with were extreme leftists. The assembly was similarly discouraging as the group there was not at all representative of those who oppose UMT, being made up largely of representatives of campus AYD (American Youth for Democracy) and YPCA (Young Progressive Citizens of America) chapters. Nevertheless, the delegates came from all over the country.

It became evident after the first afternoon when panel discussions were being held that the group was interested largely in condemning UMT as part of the U. S. "Imperialist Foreign Policy". Parliamentary methods were largely overlooked in many of the proceedings. When we realized that the assembly was not what we had hoped for, we decided not to actively participate but rather, remain as observers.

We were the only people from Maine in that group of 1500 and we asked to see the Maine congressmen ourselves when the time arrived to go lobbying. It became evident that our own interpretation of effective lobbying was a good deal more conservative than the general sentiments of the group.

Unfortunately, we were only able to see Representative Pellets, with whom we spent about an hour, discussing UMT only a short part of that time. He expressed himself as being opposed to UMT at the moment, but sufficiently open-minded so that a change in events might make him change his mind. We had an extremely pleasant talk with him, he had several good words for Bowdoin (although he was graduated from U. of M.). We were also able to have a very interesting talk with May Craig on a variety of subjects close to the hearts of our legislators in Washington. Having lost most of our ardor for the National Youth Assembly, we completed our Washington visit with some sigh-relief.

It must be stated very clearly that we made it quite emphatic at all times that we did not go as delegates or representatives of Bowdoin College or of any group on this campus. We attended the assembly merely as individuals. We have returned feeling that the assembly probably did more harm than good to the cause of defeating UMT. We both feel just as strongly against it now as we did before going down, however. We do feel that this was not the way to mount public opinion and to present the facts about UMT clearly.

Thirteen Bowdoin Men Win Medical Awards

Feb. 17—Thirteen Bowdoin men were among the sixteen recipients of Garcelon and Merritt Fund Scholarships for medical students.

The Bowdoin men with their classes and graduate schools, are as follows: Frank R. Allen '43, Yale; Julian F. Ansell '44, Tufts; Russell L. Christopher '46, Maryland; Simon Dorfman '48, Vermont; Morton H. Frank '48, Vermont; Bernard E. Gorton '47, McGill; Frederick J. Gregory '45, McGill; Thomas R. Huleatt '45, Columbia; R. Bruce Hunter '47, Johns Hopkins; Gerald R. Nowlis '46 Yale; Albert A. Poulin '45, Vermont; Martin E. Robinson '48, Yale.

Dance To Follow Bradford Concert

A dance for the undergraduates will be held in the gymnasium following the Bradford Junior College-Bowdoin Glee Club Concert on March 6.

Donald D. Steele '50, Chairman of the Student Union Committee, revealed that no admission will be charged undergraduates to either the dance or the concert at Memorial Hall.

He further indicated that the Committee in charge of arrangements for the dance is composed of James T. Keefe Jr. '50, Chairman; Robert W. Allen '50 and Benjamin M. Smethurst, Jr. '50.

"I'm Western Electric. I back up your Bell Telephone Service with equipment and supplies."

There's a good reason why WESTERN ELECTRIC is in this family circle

Western Electric is a member of the Bell System family circle for exactly the same reason that your local Bell Telephone company is a member—to assure the close teamwork that is essential for efficient, economical, nation-wide telephone service for you.

As the supply member of the family, Western Electric makes telephone equipment, buys all kinds of supplies, keeps these things in stock at 29 distributing houses for delivery to the telephone companies, and installs central office equipment.

This unified service of supply results in many economies to the Bell Telephone companies and, in turn, to you who use the telephone.

Since 1882, Western Electric has been a member of the Bell Telephone family—helping to make your service the world's best at the lowest possible cost.

Western Electric

A UNIT OF THE BELL SYSTEM SINCE 1882

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning - - - Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC

RECREATION EQUIPMENT

Near Fire Station

First State Series Win

Photo By Adams
DICK PANDORA of Bowdoin and Don Zabriske of Colby battle for rebound on Thursday night's Colby game.

McClelland's POLAR BEARINGS

Mageemen Promise Unbeaten Season

Track pushed basketball, hockey and swimming temporarily out of the winter sports limelight last week as the Mageemen opened their indoor season with a convincing victory over New Hampshire. This Saturday's easy win over Bates and Colby leaves only the Lord Jeffs from Amherst in the way of an unbeaten indoor season.

This two week stand in the Hyde Cage afforded partisan fans a view of one of Bowdoin's more successful athletic organizations. This array of cindermen is undoubtedly inferior to some of those championship squads Jack Magee produced before the war, but it is a pretty well balanced group that may develop into a threat to Chester Jenkins' enormous cluster of talent up in Orono when the state meet rolls around in May.

Outstanding performers are few, Captain Matt Branche and weightman Al Nicholson being the only two who could make any his performance against the Mules, while far from polished, showed marked improvement and traces of what had been originally expected of him. He missed a lot of shots, but it was undoubtedly his work on the boards that kept Bowdoin in the ball game.

Subsequent outings against Colby and Suffolk brought continued improvement and while he may not have reached a sensational rating, yet we predict that with a little sound coaching and some more confidence in his own ability, Tyrer will blossom next year and bring Bowdoin its share of hoop wins.

He was pressed into service in the Colby game up in Waterville by the loss of Larry Deane and showing national competition, but the Big White have a good enough team to give any school in New England of comparable size a real battle. Branche, Marty Lee and Earl Briggs are a tough combine to beat in the hurdles. Mack Holmes and Bob Swann are capable sprinters. The 600 and 1000 provide points in the persons of Briggs, Harvey Jackson and Don Gould. However the real strength of the team lies in the weights. Nicholson is ten point man in the shot and discus with Parsons, Fortin and Martin tough operatives to beat in the 35 lb. weight. The only real weakness lies in the distance runs where Joe Woods is Bowdoin's only steady scorer.

The track outlook for the future is also on the bright side. This year's Freshman aggregation has an unblemished escutcheon and prospects for continuing victorious ways will be further enhanced by the admittance to Bowdoin of some material for Magee to develop.

Tyrer Key To Next Year's Hoopsters

Bowdoin's basketball team may not be going in any particular direction, but in Jack Tyrer, the Polar Bears may have unveiled a big asset for next year. This elongated junior who towers 6 feet 5 inches above a bit of basketball here before entering service and was looked upon as a key figure in this season's plans. However, for a long time Jack rode the bench and in his brief appearances on the floor displayed no great adeptness in holding onto the ball.

He was pressed into service in the Colby game up in Waterville by the loss of Larry Deane and

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT

Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It
BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL
COCKTAIL LOUNGE

192 Maine Street Brunswick

BRUNSWICK COAL & LUMBER COMPANY

FUEL OILS
BOTTLED GAS
BUILDING MATERIALS

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING

146 Maine St. Brunswick
Phone 224-W

MIKE'S PLACE

HOT DOGS

BOTTLED BEER

ITALIAN SANDWICHES

Phone 974-M

for delivery

Maine Street Brunswick

"YUP... YUP... YUP"

Sounds like a fine idea
... if you're not doing anything
else, that is. Get a touch of local color and listen to "Do
You Know Maine?" ... as a
matter of fact, we think it's rather interesting.

SUNDAY 12:30 Noon
MONDAY 8:00 p.m.

WGAN
WCOU

Sponsored by

THE BATES MANUFACTURING CO.

Colby And Bates Bow To Big White Trackmen In Three Cornered Meet

Branche, Nicholson, And Briggs Lead Team To Win

By Edward R. Murphy '49

Feb. 21—The Bowdoin Tracksters continued their winning ways by overwhelming Bates and Colby in a triangular meet where the Polar Bears amassed 72 points, Bates 31½ and Colby 13½.

Tankmen Drown B.U. But Suffer Defeat By Ephmen

Feb. 21—A fast improving Bowdoin swimming team completely sunk Boston University 53 to 22,

and kept the Williams powerhouse guessing down to the last relay.

Bill Ingraham and Captain Adin

Morrow were the stand outs for the Polar Bears. Although the score did not show much, Bow-doin's performance against New

England's top freestylers at Williamstown seems to indicate that the New England Championships

on March 12 and 13 will be a lot closer than they were last year.

And Bowdoin's chances will be pretty close to even with Williams.

The Big White's newest star,

Bill Ingraham, was the first swimmer to break into Williams' distance combination in nearly three years. Bill was just outouched by

Baldwin in an exceptionally fast

2:18.2. The Polar Bear natator was clocked in 2:18.9. Williams'

Reid was only a hair behind second place. In the quarter Reid,

Lambert and Ingraham paced each other evenly for sixteen laps but

Reid and Lambert, Captain of the Purple, outprinted the Bowdoin star, to come in in that order, with a winning 5:04.1. Ingy was close behind in 5:08.5.

The best races of the Williams meet came in the renewal of feud

in the 150 yard backstroke between Hank Wineman of the Purple and the White's Adin Morrow.

In the medley relay Morrow just out-touched the Williams' dorsallist in a 1:01.2 for the 100 back.

The 150 backstroke event was equally as close all the way, with

Wineman leading to the 50. Mer-row picked up the lead, holding it

by only a couple of yards right down to the finish. Both boys broke Morrow's New England and

Williams Pool record, the Polar

Bear Captain coming through in the fast time of 1:36.9, with Win-

eman on his tail in 1:37.7.

Bowdoin's other places came in the dive, the breaststroke, and the medley relay. Gath was back in form as he easily won from Hyde-man with 100 points. Tony Sol-tsiak and Paul Moran doubled in the 200 breaststroke, easily beating the Purple's Svenson in 2:36.5.

Morrow, Soltsiak, and McGowan took the 300 yard medley relay by 5 yards, even though McGowan missed his last turn and had to go back and touch.

[Continued on Page 4]

Led by Captain Matt Branche, Al Nicholson, and Earl Briggs, who each gained 10 points, the Mageemen closed the issue quickly. As usual, Branche, Lee and Briggs swept the hurdles. Mack Holmes won the dash with Bob Swann a close second.

With no outside competition, Parsons, Fortin, and Martin swept the 35 pound weight. Nicholson continued his supremacy in the shot and discus, with Parsons and Draper also grabbing points.

Branche climbed to 5' 11½" in the high jump with Bill Barron taking a second. Mike Latogola of Bates took advantage of Branche's absence to cop the broad jump with Bob Swann second. John Nichols outvalued his teammate Ken Cross for a first in the pole vault.

By far the outstanding performance of the meet was turned in by Jim Mahany of Bates, in the two mile. It was the first time since the war that ten minutes had been broken in the cage. Lapping the field Mahany unleashed a terrific finish to win easily. Red Horne, also of Bates, copied the mile in a mediocre time of 4:40. Joe Woods placing second in the mile and third in the longer run.

Continuing its superiority in the long distance Roger Howard, of Bates, outprinted Gould of Bowdoin to win the 1000. Earl Briggs, however, won the 600 in the fair time of 1:17.2.

Colby's only victory came in the 300 as Aaron Sandler streaked through the distance in 3:54. Based on time, Briggs and Swann tied for second in the long sprint.

The summary:

Discus Throw—Won by Nicholson, Bowdoin; second, H. Mitchell, Bates; third, Parsons, Bowdoin. Distance 128 feet 3 3/4 inches.

16 Pound Shot Put—Won by Nicholson, Bowdoin; second, H. Mitchell, Bates; third, Draper, Bowdoin. Distance 46 feet 1 inch.

300 Yard High Hurdles—Won by Branche, Bowdoin; second, Lee, Bowdoin; third, Briggs, Bowdoin. Time 6 seconds.

40 Yard Dash—Won by Holmes, Bowdoin; second, Swann, Bowdoin; third, Sandler, Colby. Time 4.7 seconds.

One Mile Run—Won by Horne, Bates; second, Woods, Bowdoin; third, Fellen, Colby. Time 4:40.

High Jump—Won by Branche, Bowdoin; second, Barron, Bowdoin; third, led by Gates, Colby, and J. Mitchell, Bates. Winning height 5 feet 11 1/2 inches.

400 Yard Run—Won by Briggs, Bowdoin; second, O'Halloran, Colby; third, Sawyer, Bates. Time 1:17.2.

Two Mile Run—Won by Mahany, Bates; second, Horne, Bates; third, Woods, Bowdoin. Time 4:40.

Pole Vault—Won by Nichols, Bowdoin; second, tied by Cross, Bowdoin, and Lawrence, Colby. Height 11 feet.

100 Yard Run—Won by Howard, Bates; second, Gould, Bowdoin; third, Cloutier, Bates. Time 2:15.

300 Yard Run—Won by Sandler, Colby; second, tied by Swann, and Briggs, Bowdoin. Time 3:54 seconds.

Broad Jump—Won by Latogola, Bates; second, Swann, Bowdoin; third, Maloney, Colby. Distance 21 feet 1 inch.

35 Pound Weight—Won by Parsons, Bowdoin; second, Fortin, Bowdoin; third, Martin, Bowdoin. Distance 47 feet 8 inches.

Cheverus Downs Frosh Hoopsters To Tune Of 44-38

Feb. 24—Bowdoin's Freshman basketballers dropped their season's finale this afternoon to a slick Cheverus High quintet, 44-38, despite Norm Hubley's 14 points. Sonny Conley paced the victors with 11 markers.

The lineup:
Cheverus G F P Bowdoin G F P
Clark, Jr. 2 8 1 Burr, Jr. 2 0 4
Gallant 0 0 0 Kerr 0 0 0
Flaherty, Jr. 2 0 4 Hubley, Jr. 5 4 14
Cady 0 0 0 Brennan, Jr. 3 2 9
Peniston, Jr. 3 2 8 Sirov, Jr. 1 0 2
Minnehan 0 1 1 Hikel, Jr. 1 0 2
Conley, Jr. 5 1 1 Morlock 3 1 7
Levere 2 2 6
Killey, Jr. 1 0 2
O'Brien 1 0 2
Totals 16 12 44 Totals 15 8 38

Frosh Five Downs Portland, 39-36

Bowdoin's Freshman hoopsters defeated a strong Portland High quintet, 39-36, Saturday night in a preliminary to the varsity, which saw Norm Hubley drop in 17 points to pace the victors attack.

The lineup:
Bowdoin Fresh (39) Portland (36) G F P G F P
Burr, Jr. 0 0 0 Smith, Jr. 5 2 12
Kerr, Jr. 0 0 0 Kowalski, Jr. 2 1 7
Hubley, Jr. 7 3 17 Campbell, Jr. 1 3 5
VanOrden, Jr. 0 0 0 Seare, Jr. 6 0 12
Fennell, Jr. 4 1 9 Hawes, Jr. 0 0 0
Williams, Jr. 0 0 0 Norriss, Jr. 0 0 0
Sirov, Jr. 0 0 0 MacMillan, Jr. 0 0 0
Henderson, Jr. 0 0 0
Hikel, Jr. 2 1 5
Totals 17 5 39 Totals 15 36 36
Referee: Kiley and Goudas. Time: 4-8.

Stuttering Bears Swish To Victory

Feb. 21—After a miserable first half Bowdoin's varsity basketballers came to life tonight to overwhelm an inept Suffolk University quintet, 58-35, in the feature attraction of a doubleheader in the Sargent Gymnasium.

For 20 minutes the Polar Bear attack stuttered and stalled. But after intermission the Big White found themselves and poured it on the hapless visitors for the last period and a half. The count was deadlocked at 10 all at the period mark and 20 apiece at the half.

Suffolk could collect only four free tosses in the third stanza, and it was in this session that Connolly, Tyrer and company started to roll. The second stringers, who were inserted in the final canto, kept up the torrid pace that swept the losers off their feet.

The lineup:
Bowdoin (58) Suffolk (35) G F P G F P
Connolly, Jr. 5 17 Ratnes, Jr. 3 2 4
MacDonald 0 0 0 Higbottom, Jr. 2 1 5
Schubler, Jr. 2 4 Kowalski, Jr. 2 1 7
Fandra 2 1 5 Steadman, Jr. 2 2 8
Hickey 1 0 2 Rubenstein 0 1 1
Toby 0 0 0 Devin 1 0 2
Tyrer, Jr. 5 1 1 Takott, Jr. 2 2 6
Piper 0 0 0 Silverblom 0 0 0
Sweizer, Jr. 0 0 1 Gorman, Jr. 1 1 2
Foster 1 0 2 Hirsch 0 2 2
Zakowicz, Jr. 1 0 2
Reimer 1 0 2
Totals 20 10 58 Totals 12 11 35

White Quintet Tires And Loses To Bates, 59-48

Feb. 24—Overcoming a five point halftime deficit, a battling Bates basketball cluster outlasted and outshot a game but tiring Bowdoin five tonight by a 59-48 count in the feature attraction of a doubleheader at the Sargent Gymnasium.

In the curtain raiser the Bates jayvees made it a sweep for the visitors by virtue of a torrid second half which earned them a 67-59 win over the Polar Bear seconds. Al Angelsean, parked the victors with 27 points while Al Tobey led Bowdoin with 20.

For three periods the varsity tilt was a tight ball game, with Sid Connolly, Paul Zdanowicz and big Jack Tyrer keeping Bowdoin in the running. The count was deadlocked at the quarter 16 all and when the Big White surged out to a 28-23 advantage at the half it looked like it might go down to the wire.

Bowdoin G F P Bates G F P
Connolly, Jr. 4 7 15 Burns, Jr. 4 2 10
Hickey 0 0 0 Hammond 0 0 0
Schubler, Jr. 3 0 6 Bailey, Jr. 6 3 15
Foster 0 1 1 Jenkins 0 0 0
Tyrer 0 0 0 Simpson, Jr. 6 11 23
Pandora 1 1 3 Angelsean 0 0 0
Piper 0 1 1 Stronck, Jr. 3 1 7
Sweizer, Jr. 2 0 6 Berry 1 0 2
Toby 1 0 2 Scott, Jr. 0 2 2
Zdanowicz, Jr. 3 0 6 Tibbitts 0 0 0
Totals 18 10 48 Totals 20 18 59

Bowdoin JV's Bates JV's G F P G F P
Hickey, Jr. 6 0 12 Jenkin, Jr. 7 1 15
Hickey 0 0 0 Paul 1 0 0
Porter, Jr. 2 0 4 Hansen 1 0 0
Fennell 1 1 3 Angelsean 13 1 27
Piper 0 0 0 Somerville, Jr. 7 2 16
Sweizer, Jr. 3 1 7 Lavastone, Jr. 2 0 4
Levere 8 2 20 Winslow, Jr. 6 2 4
Toby, Jr. 2 5 9 Totals 30 2 67

Sports At A Glance

LAST WEEK

Basketball
Varsity 45, Colby 42
Varsity 58, Suffolk 35
Colby 50, Jayvee 41
Jayvee 59, Maine Central In. 36

Hockey
Varsity at Colby, Cancelled
Varsity at New Hampshire, Cancelled

Swimming
Varsity 52, Boston U. 23
Williams 45, Varsity 30
Deering 36, Jayvee 30

Track
Varsity 72, Bates 31½, Colby 13½

NEXT WEEK

Basketball
Feb. 27—Varsity vs. Maine at home
Jayvee vs. Maine at home

Rifle
Feb. 28—Varsity at New Hampshire

Swimming
Feb. 28—Varsity vs. Amherst at home
Jayvee vs. Hebron at home

Track
Feb. 28—Varsity at Amherst
Feb. 25—Freshmen vs. South Portland High at home
Feb. 28—Freshmen vs. New Hampshire at home

This Record Goes Hum-hum-humming Along!

It's JEAN SABLON'S...

"A TUNE for HUMMING"

(RCA Victor)

IN ENGLISH or French, his singing is terrific!
His fans range from bobby-soxers to the lavender-and-old-lace set.

Why, he even lights his Camels with a Continental charm. Takes a leisurely puff and says: "Great!"
Yes, Jean, and millions of smokers agree with you about Camels. More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience!"

And here's another great record—

More people are smoking

CAMELS

than ever before!

Spring Tour To End In Washington With Climax At White House Reception

By Joshua W. Curtis '50

A reception at the White House by President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman will climax the Spring Concert Tour of the Glee Club. The reception will follow a concert at the Shoreham Arms Hotel in Washington, D.C. on March 23.

The Club will be the guests of the Washington Alumni Association while it is at the capital.

The Washington engagement will end a tour that will begin on March 18 in Concord, Mass., with a concert before the Concord Lion's Club, to be followed on March 19 with a joint concert with the Glee Club at Massachusetts State Teacher's College at Bridgewater.

A concert to be held in the Suburban Hotel in East Orange, New Jersey, will be sponsored by the Bowdoin Alumni Association of New Jersey in conjunction with the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Hospital of Newark. Following this concert there will be a dance with the undergraduate nurses.

Following a one-day stop the Baltimore Hotel in New York, the Glee Club will present a concert in the North Ballroom of the Hotel New Yorker sponsored by Harvey Dow Gibson '02 for the benefit of the employees of the Manufacturer's Trust Company.

Before beginning their tour, the Glee Club will be heard in two concerts with the Portland Symphony Orchestra, one to be held in Memorial Hall on March 2 and open to the general public, and a repeat performance in City Hall, Portland on March 9.

Featured on both programs will be Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom" by the Glee Club, and Schubert-Liszt's "Wander Fantasy" by Professor E. T. Tillotson. Dr. Russell Cook, regular conductor of the Portland Symphony, will conduct both programs.

The Glee Club has just finished several successful engagements in northern New England, beginning with a joint concert on February 14 at Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley.

Following the concert in Bardwell Hall at Pine Manor, the Glee Club appeared in the New England Conservatory's Jordan Hall in Boston, the program being sponsored by the Boston Bowdoin Alumni Association. Highlights of the program were the performance of Samuel Barber's "A Stop Watch and an Ordinance Map", an impressionistic number with tympany background, and Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom."

After a brief trip to Bridgeport Academy, the Glee Club appeared at North Conway Theatre, North Conway, for a concert

Make Mine Music

GLEE CLUB DIRECTOR, Frederic E. T. Tillotson, Professor of Music, shows what it takes to make a first class singing group.

Varsity Swim

[Continued from Page 3]

The summary:

Friday at Boston University:
500 Yard Freestyle—Won by Bowdoin (Morrow, Soltysiak, Erswell); second, B. U. Time: 3:07.5.
200 Yard Freestyle—Won by Ingraham (B); second, Williams (B); third, Nickerson (B). Time: 2:28.2.
50 Yard Freestyle—Won by McGowan (B); second, Kosowski (BU); third, Mitchell (B). Time: 2:5.4.
Diving—Won by Gath (B); second, Blaine (B); third, Robinson (BU). Points: 114.
100 Yard Freestyle—Won by Kosowski (BU); second, Mitchell (B); third, Curry (B). Time: 59.6.
50 Yard Backstroke—Won by Morrow (B); second, Thomas (B); third, Winniewski (BU). Time: 1:45.4.
200 Yard Breaststroke—Won by Moran (B); second, Van Yost (B); third, Quinn (BU). Time: 2:41.2.
400 Yard Freestyle—Won by Zeitler (B); second, Nickerson (BU); third, Ingraham (B). Time: 5:37.4.

sponsored by Harvey Dow Gibson for the benefit of a local hospital. Mr. Gibson added to the success of the concert by singing his favorite number, "The Skipper of St. Ives" while attired appropriately in "skipper" uniform. Following a reception and dance at the Eastern Slopes Inn, the Glee Club was guest at the Manufacturer's Trust resort, The Birchmont Club, and given Skimobile privileges for the weekend.

Radio Station To Install F.M. In Dormitories

"When Bowdoin-on-the-Air completes construction of their radio station, Bowdoin will be the second college in the country to install an F.M. station," said Robert R. Rudy '46, President of Bowdoin-on-the-Air.

Syracuse University has an F.M. station at present, but the Bowdoin station will differ in that "converters" will be placed in every dormitory in order that F.M. transmission may be picked up by ordinary radios. Within five or ten years, F.M. will be generally installed throughout the country, and Bowdoin-on-the-Air is looking ahead to that time, rather than having to make the change later on.

The station is still in the blueprint stage. H. Cabot Ware '51 and Charles W. Caruthers '50, the designers of the station are at work again after their plan for a four room station was declared impractical by an expert on acoustics from Johns Manville Company of Boston. Once a suitable plan has been submitted, the Johns Manville Company will do the actual construction.

As soon as everything is ready, the ORIENT will be moved to a new office in the basement of Moore Hall, and the station will occupy the present ORIENT office in the Union. Equipment will be ordered and installed, and eventually the station will be ready to operate. It is the goal of the organization to be installed not later than June, in time for Commencement.

The major equipment includes a 2.5 watt transmitter which will have a broadcasting range of about seven miles. One very desirable feature of the programs is the prohibition of commercials, due to licensing regulations.

At present, Bowdoin-on-the-Air is still putting on programs in connection with WGAN in Portland. Thursday, Feb. 26, at 2:30 p.m. the program will feature the Meddymen.

Thursday evening at 8:00 there will be a meeting of all members of Bowdoin-on-the-Air, in the Union. Anyone interested is invited.

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

Colonel R. V. C. Bodley's books in stock
More copies of Kinsey Report expected soon
Venus $3.50 Fountain Pen for $1.39
Typewriters For Sale and To Rent

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL of LAW

Admits Men and Women

Registration

Day and Evening Programs—September 13 to 15, 1948

Early application is necessary

Veterans accepted under G. I. Bills

47 MT. VERNON STREET BOSTON 8, MASSACHUSETTS

Telephone KEamare 5-5990

Majoring in economy?

$3.50
$3.95
$4.95

Yes, prices are an important item in every college man's curriculum these days, and that's one thing that makes Van Heusen shirts so popular. For these fine shirts are priced amazingly low! Other things that college men like are: smart new low-setting "Comfort Contour" collar styling; the action-tailoring; the figure-tapered fit; the tug-proof pearl buttons. In whites and exclusive patterns, in your favorite collar models. Sanforized—these shirts will stretch your budget but they'll never shrink out of size. You get a new shirt free if one does. $3.50, $3.95 and $4.95. PHILLIPS-JONES CO., NEW YORK 1, NEW YORK.

You're the man most likely to succeed in

Van Heusen Shirts

TIES • SPORT SHIRTS • PAJAMAS

VanCleve Calls For Peace Suggests Arming And UMT

Feb. 20—"Potential strength is not enough. Actual strength is necessary to our nation to lead the world to peace," stated Professor T. C. VanCleve in chapel.

Speaking on behalf of National Security Week, Professor VanCleve, a second vice-president of the Reserve Officers Association of Maine, said that the purpose of National Security Week is "to commemorate the deeds of citizen-soldiers and to remind all Americans that the security of the nation is the responsibility of every citizen."

He further explained that no other group of citizens is so keenly aware of the consequences of unpreparedness as the reserve officers. Having witnessed the sacrifice of thousands of men on the battle field, and having seen the apathy which often surrounds thinking on the part of citizens, the reserve officers "have been moved to dedicate themselves to the purpose that the youth of the nation shall not be betrayed again."

Pointing out that the United States in this present year is the only nation in the world remaining potentially strong and safe enough to guard the civil rights and liberties of mankind, Professor VanCleve stressed the need for translating this potentiality into activity. He cited Dante who, in his "de Monarchia", had stated that it is only under conditions of peace that man's potential intellect can be brought into full play; that only under the harmony of world peace can man find true happiness.

Since time immemorial man has had hope and faith that the elusive formula for perpetual peace might be found, he said. But "that time has not yet come" and consequently it is necessary that we deal realistically with the problem and "seek to preserve within our own nation the civil rights of man as an individual." It is principles like this that are being threatened throughout the western world. "Are we prepared to suffer their destruction?" he asked.

The program of National Security Week is peace through preparedness, Professor VanCleve revealed. This program stems from George Washington, who had maintained that the security of the republic is best insured by a well-organized, well-equipped, well-trained citizen soldiery along with a corps of professionally trained soldiers.

Junior Mules Down J.V. Five, 50-41 As Foster Sinks 10

Feb. 19—Bowdoin's jayvee hoopers dropped a 50-41 decision to the Colby seconds tonight in the first game of a twin bill at the Sargent Gymnasium after trailing at halftime 28-21.

The line-ups:
Bowdoin JV's (41) Colby JV's (50)
Hickey, Jr. 2 4 8 Billings, Jr. 3 1 7
Foster, Jr. 4 2 10 Brown 0 1 1
MacDonald 0 0 0 Carver 1 0 2
Foshan 1 1 3 Russell, Jr. 2 0 4
Piper, Jr. 3 1 7 Wilson 1 1 2
Tobey 2 1 8 Finnegan, Jr. 6 3 15
Reimer, Jr. 3 1 7 Shiro, Jr. 3 2 9
Legere 0 0 0 Laour, Jr. 3 2 9
Huen 0 0 0 Lyons 2 1 5
Sibson, Jr. 0 1 1 Thompson 0 0 0
McCarthy 0 0 0
Totals 15 11 41 Totals 20 10 50

Jayvees Nip M.C.I. In Upset Victory
A one hander from outside by Eddie Legere in the final second of play gave the Bowdoin jayvees a 59-58 upset victory over a strong M.C.I. quintet. After trailing 31-25 at intermission, the Polar Bear reserves went out in front in the third stanza only to have the Preppers surge back to a point advantage in the last minute setting the stage for Legere's basket. Al Tobey's 23 points led the scorers.

The line-ups:
Bowdoin JV's (41) M. C. I. (58)
Hickey, Jr. 2 4 8 Dyke, Jr. 7 2 16
MacDonald 0 0 0 Walker, Jr. 3 0 6
Foster, Jr. 4 2 10 Ham, Jr. 3 5 11
Foshan 1 1 3 Cooper, Jr. 1 4 4
Tobey, Jr. 3 1 7 Parke, Jr. 0 0 0
Reimer, Jr. 3 1 7 Fuller, Jr. 5 1 14
Legere 0 0 0 Crowley 1 1 3
Sibson, Jr. 0 1 1 Holmsen, Jr. 0 2 2
Burke 0 0 0
Totals 22 15 60 Totals 20 18 58
Referee: Parke, Koharian. Time: 42:05.

D'Aragnians Revive Dormant Foils Sport
Feb. 24—A round-robin fencing competition is being held to select the four men who will represent the college in a foil match with Boston University on March 6.

Professor George H. Quinby, coach of the squad listed the following men as competing: Thorndike '46, Frye '49, Boyd '50, Forker '51, Little '51, Phillips '51, Ray '51 and Skinner '51.

Five men were dropped from the squad in January to concentrate training for the two matches to be held with B.U. The second match will be held at Bowdoin on March 13.

Work with the saber and epee has been postponed until next season, when most of the original team will be back. This is the first competitive fencing to be held since before the war.

"I'VE TRIED THEM ALL,
CHESTERFIELD IS MY FAVORITE CIGARETTE"

Claudette Colbert

STARRING IN A
TRIANGLE PRODUCTION
"SLEEP, MY LOVE"
RELEASED THRU UNITED ARTISTS

WHY I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)
"I am at the auction sales practically every day and Liggett & Myers buy the best cigarette tobacco grown in this section.
"I am a Chesterfield smoker. So put me down for that. It's a good cigarette and I like it."

D. T. McLawhorn
TOBACCO FARMER, WINTERVILLE, N. C.

HESTERFIELD
ALWAYS Milder BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

HARVARD SUMMER SCHOOL

OF ARTS, SCIENCES, AND EDUCATION

June 28 to August 21, 1948

Coeducational—Graduate and Undergraduate Courses

Veterans may enroll under G.I. Bill

Dormitory Accommodations and Cafeteria Service

(Engineering courses available in Graduate School of Engineering Summer Term)

Address: Department O, 9 Wadsworth House
Harvard University, Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

MOULTON UNION STORE

Because of a change in the interpretation of the G.I. Bill last year, we have too many fountain pens on our inventory. We are selling these pens at a great discount to anyone eligible to be a customer of this store. This sale applies only to the following Pens and Sets.

Parker Lifetime Pen $8.75 Value for $5.25

Parker Pen and Pencil Sets $12.50 Value for $7.50

Moore Guaranteed Pens $8.75 Value for $5.25

Moore Pen and Pencil Sets $12.50 Value for $7.50

White and Wyckoff Stationery 60 sheets of paper

50 envelopes 1—75c

Bowdoin Stationery—$1.00

Fraternity Crest Stationery—$1.00

You'll find that our...

"Know How" about Printing

for Bowdoin Men will be helpful when you want

PROGRAMS STATIONERY TICKETS

INVITATIONS MENUS FORMS

Or Other Printing

Bring us your ideas. We'll help you develop them into attractive printing at reasonable prices.

PRINTERS OF THE ORIENT

THE RECORD PRESS

75-77 Maine Street

Phone 1 or 3

Fund Pledge Cards To Be Distributed To Students Today

$5.00 Gift Sought From Each Man; Drive On Two Weeks

Individual pledge cards for contributions to the Bowdoin Sequen-tennial Fund Campaign will be distributed to undergraduates at their fraternity meetings tonight by members of the Student Council.

The pledge cards will be accompanied by progress reports, a flyer prepared by Professor Herbert R. Brown outlining the part in the campaign to be played by the student body, and an introductory brochure entitled "For a Better Bowdoin".

This brochure gives a general outline of the projects to be covered by the fund, various breakdown analyses of costs and time schedules, regarding immediate and extended project needs, and a general statement by Maj. Gen. William C. Philon, General Chairman of the fund.

Student Goal Set

The goal of $5,000 which was set for the student body represents an average pledge of five dollars per man. Payments can be made in installments covering a period of two to three years, and no man will be asked for more than one contribution. The present drive will cover the next two weeks ending March 17.

The Independent organization will handle the pledging of all men not affiliated with fraternities and inactive fraternity members. A committee headed by Merton G. Henry '50 will commence soliciting today along with the fraternities.

Men now in college cannot expect to see material results of the campaign during their undergraduate stay, said Samuel Gross '48, chairman of the Student Committee; but by the next five years in college the projects contemplated should be witnessed.

Taylor Discusses Marriage, Family In Church Series

Professor Burton W. Taylor spoke to a small group of students on the subject "A Sociological Survey of Marriage" Sunday evening at the parish house of the First Parish Church. An informal discussion followed the talk.

Pointing out that many functions formerly fulfilled by the family unit have been taken over by other institutions, Professor Taylor stressed the need to emphasize the affectional aspects of family life.

Beginning of Series

Professor Taylor was introduced by Miss Barbara Dow, Director of Religious Education at the First Parish Church. Charles W. Wilder '50 conducted a brief worship service which preceded the talk.

The program was the first in a series of four on subjects dealing with marriage and the family. Samuel Mencher of the Sociology Department will discuss the husband-wife relationship and mixed marriages next Sunday at 8 p.m. Other guest speakers will be Rev. Bradford Johnson of Brunswick and Rev. Prentiss Pemberton of the Student Christian Movement in New England.

Fenton On Fund's Publicity Staff

Alfred H. Fenton of Brunswick, assistant editor of the Brunswick "Record", has recently been appointed to the publicity staff of the Bowdoin College Sequen-tennial Fund.

Under General Wallace C. Philon, USA (Retd) stated that Fenton, a member of the class of 1937 at Bowdoin and a former Boston and Providence newspaperman, will work on all phases of publicity and public relations for the fund, which seeks $3,025,000 of capital funds.

Former "Record" Editor A native of Boston, Fenton graduated from Winthrop, Mass. High School, served five years each with the Boston Herald and Providence, R. I. Journal and has handled public relations for the State of Rhode Island, Connecticut Blue Cross, and Tecton Incorporated.

Currently assistant editor of the Brunswick Record, Fenton is a veteran of World War II, having served in Europe as a correspondent for the U. S. Army Corps, and is the author of two biographies. He is married and has two children.

Employment Policy Discussed By Placement Director Ladd

Cites Questionnaires Indicating Preference For Liberal Arts Graduates With Experience

Calling attention to the sharp rise in college enrollments, Mr. Samuel A. Ladd Jr., Placement Bureau Director, has pointed out the need for realistic policies on the part of the employers in hiring college graduates and for information as to this policy on the part of the college graduate looking for employment.

Survey of Experts
"With this in mind a recent survey has been conducted," said Mr. Ladd, "to determine what business expects of the college graduate. The results show:

1. That college trained people receive preference as it is believed they are more adaptable and are better assimilated into the training program.
2. On the question of part-time work while attending college, most executives reported that this type of experience indicated ambition and initiative, desirable traits for applicants.

3. 70% of the executives interviewed believe that there is a great correlation between participation in campus activities and successful work in industry. It rounds out a person and makes him easier to work with. This experience is especially helpful in the field of sales and personal contact.

Favor Liberal Arts Training
4. Except in cases requiring a specialized training most of the executives favored a general liberal arts training.

Outing Club Organization Undertaken By Students

About forty men attended a meeting which the Outing Club held to determine its organization and purposes on Monday evening.

Laurence M. Burke '50, explained the need of such a club for such organized activities as skiing, mountain climbing, hiking and camping. He mentioned that there have been several successful skiing trips already and that a trip during the Spring Vacation is possible.

Mr. David Sawyer, Teaching Fellow in Biology, then outlined a plan used by other similar clubs for the election of officers.

Outlines Aims
The club's purpose said Mr. Sawyer is "to provide means for outdoor activity for every student." He stressed that there was no desire on the part of the club to duplicate any of the work done by the Athletic Department or other groups.

The Outing Club is to be non-competitive and until funds are appropriated equipment will be provided on a cash basis. A meeting for the election of officers will take place in the Union on Monday, March 8.

All men interested in such activities are urged to attend the second meeting in the Union. Burke, a member of Zeta Psi, is the coach and a member of this winter's varsity ski team.

World Federalists Discuss Middle East At Mt. Holyoke

By Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47

Representing the Bowdoin Political Forum at an intercollegiate conference in South Hadley, Massachusetts, last Friday and Saturday, S. David Spector '50, J. Peter Prime '50, Zeleke Bekkele '51 and Wolfgang H. Rosenberg '47 participated in discussions about the Problems of the Middle East.

Sponsored by the Mount Holyoke International Relations Club, the convocation was designed to further understanding of the present political and economic situation in the countries surrounding Palestine.

Although several resolutions of a very general nature were passed at the final plenary session, there was disagreement on most of the controversial questions, and the key problem of Palestine was not tackled. Seventeen colleges participated in the conference, including Dartmouth, Smith, Williams, Harvard, Springfield, Pembroke, Barnard and Cornell among others.

Foreign Views Explained
The keynote speakers, representing points of view that were allegedly Arabian, Turkish and American in outlook, gave speeches of a very general nature and bypassed the Palestine situation

80 Men Get $12,500 Scholarship Aid For New Semester

Year's Total $51,750; Dean Selects Wiley For Emery Scholarship

President Kenneth C. M. Sills announced Thursday the award of 80 undergraduate scholarships totaling approximately $12,500. The group of recipients includes nine married veterans.

These awards bring the total undergraduate scholarships awarded in 1947-48 at Bowdoin to more than $51,750. This total includes Alumni Fund Scholarships, John Johnson Scholarships, and Scholarships for foreign students now at the College.

Kling Awards Announced
Awards from the Kling Scholarship Fund, established in 1934 by bequest of Charles Potter Kling of Augusta "to provide free tuition and books to students of Colonial and Revolutionary Ancestry," have been made to six students.

The list includes Robert W. Biggar, Jr. '49 of Saco, N. H.; Dunning, II '49 of Brunswick, Robert W. Leonard '49 of Waban, Massachusetts, H. Berkley Peabody, Jr. '50 of Providence, R. I.; Conrad H. Peacock '49 of Hornell, N. Y., and Paul T. Welch '50 of Middletown, N. Y.

Wiley Selected by Dean
The Emery Scholarship for "an individual boy to be selected by the Dean" goes to Richard A. Wiley '49, of Springfield, Massachusetts, editor of the Bowdoin ORIENT.

Norman M. Winter '50 of Golden Bridge, N. Y., son of John G. Winter '16, received the Class of 1916 Scholarship, while Willard C. Richan '49, of Auburn, son of the late A. L. Richan '20, received the Class of 1920 Scholarship.

Rational Thought Marks Educated, Leith Maintains

"College education should at least, by correcting traditional misinformation and erroneous beliefs, lead us to respect and understand the ideas of others," said Professor Eaton Leith in a chapel address.

Speaking in observance of Brotherhood Week, Professor Leith pointed out that "such terms as Brotherhood, Democracy, Idealism, have become so suffused with emotional connotations that, at times, they have lost any genuine meaning." He stressed the importance and the necessity, if we are to make progress towards a peaceful world, of ridding ourselves of the cloud of emotional hypocrisy which surrounds much of our thinking.

Hypocrisy of Educators
Limiting his considerations to those of the educational world, he said that nowhere is greater hypocrisy to be found than in articles and addresses on tolerance, democracy, and brotherhood, by leading college and university educators.

He cited the subterfuges employed by many colleges to maintain racial and religious quotas of students, the barring of Catholics and Jews from the faculties of many colleges, and the "prejudiced" often found in many collegiate fraternities.

[Continued on Page 2]

12-Hour Broadcast Schedule Possible

The amount of time that the station could broadcast each day Bowdoin-on-the-Air will be left up to the students, members were told at a meeting held on Thursday, February 26.

The station will be free from government time regulations because of the noncommercial basis of operation. This means that the radio station could be on the air twelve hours a day if enough material and student interest can be found to support such a move.

Plans Approved
A new three-room floor plan to house the station, co-designed by H. Cabot Ware '51 and Charles W. Carruthers '50, has been approved by engineers of WGAN in Portland. The floor plan has now only to receive the sanction of Johns Manville Company engineers before work on its construction can be started.

Beginning Sunday, March 14, Bowdoin-on-the-Air will broadcast as 2:45 every other week from WGAN, until the Bowdoin station is completed. The programs to be broadcast will be a series of sports features covering post-season basketball and pre-season basketball.

Party To Follow Bradford Concert Saturday Night

Bob Warren To Play For Dance In Gym; Movies In Afternoon

A one-night houseparty will be given this coming Saturday, March 6, in conjunction with the Annual Campus Concert of the Glee Club and the Bradford Junior Glee Club.

This affair, called the "Sprig of Ivy Houseparty", is sponsored by the Student Union Committee. Students living in fraternity houses will vacate their quarters Saturday, so that they may be used to accommodate the Bradford girls and other dates for the week-end, and other dates for the week-end.

Prior to the concert there will be movies in the Union lounge at 3:00 Saturday. The concert will be held in Memorial Hall at 8:00 o'clock that evening. The Glee Clubs will sing separately and together.

Music by Warren

After the concert there will be a dance in the Gymnasium at 9:30, with music by Bob Warren and his band. This dance is free and open daily to members of the college and their dates.

Those in charge of the party are James T. Keefe Jr. '05, Benjamin M. Smetheurst Jr. '50, Robert W. Allen '50 and Winslow F. Baker '50. The Bowdoin Wives Association has taken charge of the decorations for the dance.

City Symphony Joins Glee Club In Recent Concert

On Tuesday evening, March 2, in Memorial Hall, the Bowdoin College Glee Club presented a concert in conjunction with the Portland Symphony Orchestra which this year is celebrating its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Season.

The program consisted of Hayden's Military Symphony played by the Orchestra; Randall Thomson's Testament of Freedom sung by the Glee Club; and the Wanderer Fantasy by Franz Schubert transcribed for orchestra and piano by Liszt with solo part by Frederic Tiltonson.

Jefferson Set to Music

The Testament of Freedom is in four parts: 1. The God who Gave us Liberty; 2. We have Counted the Cost of this Contest; 3. We Fight not for Glory or for Conquest; 4. I Shall not Die without a Hope. The above selections are from the text of the writings of Thomas Jefferson. A summary view of the right of British America (1774), Declaration of Causes and Necessity of Taking up Arms, July 6, 1775, Letter to John Adams, Monticello, 1821 are the topics.

This work was composed to honor the 200th Anniversary of Jefferson's birth. It was first performed at Cabell Hall by the University of Virginia Glee Club and conducted by Dr. Stephen D. Tuttle with the composer as accompanist.

Dr. Russell Ames Cook is the conductor of the Portland Symphony Orchestra and Professor of Music at Princeton University.

The Glee Club will also sing The Testament of Freedom at the City Hall Auditorium in Portland on March 9.

State Tourney Debaters Named

Professor A. R. Thayer has announced the varsity debate teams for the coming spring. This Saturday, March 8, the state tournament will be held at Colby College. John P. Ashley '50 and John R. Hupper '50 will take the affirmative with Everett L. Knight '51 and Merton G. Henry '50 the negative for Bowdoin.

At the Bowdoin-Amherst-Williams triangular debate to be held last night in April at Amherst Roger N. Boyd '51 and John J. Mullane '50 will form the affirmative and Malcolm S. Stevenson '50 and Richard M. VanOrden '51 the negative. John F. Loud '51, Robert R. Jorgensen '50, John E. Good '48 and Robert E. Hart '49 are the affirmative teams, and David A. Bowdoin '49, Morton E. Brown '51, George E. Fogg '43 and Sherman E. Fein '49 the negative teams for two pending debates.

All debates will have the World Federation as an issue. The teams were selected following the varsity tryouts last Thursday, February 26, in Memorial Hall. Each candidate gave a five minute case, either pro or con, and a two minute rebuttal.

Donahue Picked As Ivy Band As Assessment Plan Changes

One-Act Play Winner
$5 Price Probable For Spring Dance; 600 To Be Taxed

Thursday afternoon the Ivy Day committee adopted a proposition submitted by James McKeen '50 representative of the Independents to mitigate the present system of assessment. The committee also chose Sam Donahue as the band for Ivy.

Assessed students not desiring to take advantage of the Ivy Day activities will have a greater opportunity to dispose of their unwanted tickets.

Under the present system these assessed students are given two weeks "grace" to sell their tickets before they go on sale to the rest of the student body. Students with few contacts on campus have often been left with an unwanted and unredemable ticket they could ill-afford.

Central Ticket Agency

Under McKeen's proposal these tickets may be turned in to a central ticket agency run by the Ivy Day committee and sold to the remaining students. The amount of rebate on the turned in tickets will be adjusted in ratio to the number of tickets left unsold. Thus only part of the price of the tickets will be refunded, and there will be an incentive for the student to sell on his own initiative.

About six hundred of the student body will be taxed. Every member of the class of '50 and all other students with 13 or more credits will pay approximately $5 each to cover the expense of a band and decorations.

Donahue at $1500

Music for the Ivy Dance will be provided by Sam Donahue and his band. The Ivy committee has decided to spend $1500 for this item, and all profits or surplus will go into the class of '50 class fund. The original assessment considered was $6, but the large number of men being assessed and the reasonable price of the band has brought estimates down to $5 with good prospects for further reductions.

NSA Seeks Men In Fraternities To Aid In Work

"The work of the NSA in raising the tone and level of the Bowdoin campus and promoting better student-faculty relations," said State Chairman Larry J. Ward '46 at the first organizational meeting of the NSA committee, "can best be carried out if each fraternity will appoint two interested 'contact men'."

The business of the meeting was mainly occupied with outlining of the aims, principles, and history of the NSA. Various projects to be started in the future on the Bowdoin campus were discussed. Richard M. VanOrden '51, Bowdoin Chairman, pointed out specifically that the NSA has "no political axe to grind." Through its proposed projects, he said, it hopes to raise the morale of Bowdoin men in extra-curricular activities.

Group Visits Colby
At the invitation of Colby College a Bowdoin NSA delegation met with the student leaders and their deans on February 23, at Colby, to discuss the merits and benefits of NSA. Colby is seriously considering joining NSA. The Bowdoin group outlined a brief history of NSA, its past accomplishments, future plans, along with its aims and purposes.

The Bowdoin delegation included Larry J. Ward '46, Raymond S. Trough '50, Richard M. Van Orden '51 and Leonard Crespo, teaching fellow in Spanish. At the invitation of Colby College a Bowdoin NSA delegation met with the student leaders and their deans on February 23, at Colby, to discuss the merits and benefits of NSA. Colby is seriously considering joining NSA. The Bowdoin group outlined a brief history of NSA, its past accomplishments, future plans, along with its aims and purposes.

The Bowdoin delegation included Larry J. Ward '46, Raymond S. Trough '50, Richard M. Van Orden '51 and Leonard Crespo, teaching fellow in Spanish. At the invitation of Colby College a Bowdoin NSA delegation met with the student leaders and their deans on February 23, at Colby, to discuss the merits and benefits of NSA. Colby is seriously considering joining NSA. The Bowdoin group outlined a brief history of NSA, its past accomplishments, future plans, along with its aims and purposes.

The Bowdoin delegation included Larry J. Ward '46, Raymond S. Trough '50, Richard M. Van Orden '51 and Leonard Crespo, teaching fellow in Spanish. At the invitation of Colby College a Bowdoin NSA delegation met with the student leaders and their deans on February 23, at Colby, to discuss the merits and benefits of NSA. Colby is seriously considering joining NSA. The Bowdoin group outlined a brief history of NSA, its past accomplishments, future plans, along with its aims and purposes.

The Bowdoin delegation included Larry J. Ward '46, Raymond S. Trough '50, Richard M. Van Orden '51 and Leonard Crespo, teaching fellow in Spanish. At the invitation of Colby College a Bowdoin NSA delegation met with the student leaders and their deans on February 23, at Colby, to discuss the merits and benefits of NSA. Colby is seriously considering joining NSA. The Bowdoin group outlined a brief history of NSA, its past accomplishments, future plans, along with its aims and purposes.

The Bowdoin delegation included Larry J. Ward '46, Raymond S. Trough '50, Richard M. Van Orden '51 and Leonard Crespo, teaching fellow in Spanish. At the invitation of Colby College a Bowdoin NSA delegation met with the student leaders and their deans on February 23, at Colby, to discuss the merits and benefits of NSA. Colby is seriously considering joining NSA. The Bowdoin group outlined a brief history of NSA, its past accomplishments, future plans, along with its aims and purposes.

[Continued on Page 2]

Athens College Survives War To Build For Strong Greece

The following article about Athens College was written for the ORIENT by Anthony Demetriades, editor of the Athenian, the college newspaper, and brother of one of the foreign students studying here under the Bowdoin Plan. Articles about Bowdoin have been sent for publication in the Greek newspaper. President Kenneth C. M. Sills is a former Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Athens College.

Under the bright Attic sky, some four miles North of Athens, the town where Pindar met glory and Socrates death, Athens College lies on a picturesque green hill.

Strangers and foreigners are at first unimpressed, can scarcely believe that this single building, surrounded by playgrounds, is the Athens College they have heard so many things about. For however small and young in age, the College rates as one of the best Greek schools and plays a major role in the education of Greek youth.

The college opened in 1925 in a little building buried in one of Athens' streets. In the following years it was able to move to the new Psychiko building, which it now occupies. Here, until 1940, the ideals of higher education visual-

[Continued on Page 2]

Communist Czech Aggression Demands Strong American Stand

"Beneš Bows to Communists" read the leading headlines on the front page of The New York Times last Thursday morning. That single word "Communists" required re-reading to be sure that it was not spelled "Nazis". In October 1938 the headlines were disturbingly similar. Yet seven years of bitter war seem to have taught us little.

The editorial columns of the next day's edition The Times smugly declared: "It seems amazing that, having seen these things happen in Germany under Hitler, the Czech leaders and parties still dedicated to democracy should have permitted them to happen in Czechoslovakia — going along step by step, making one concession after another, until they were powerless to resist."

Rather the amazing fact is that the friendless Czechs resisted as long as they did.

We might well digest the final brief, but most meaningful sentence in that same editorial. "That in itself is a warning to all countries still under the delusion that they can cooperate with the Communists without signing their own death warrant."

That is a warning to the United States, and to us.

The days of Munich are being relived. Country after country in Central and Eastern Europe have been devoured Nazi-like since the end of the war. Others, Italy and Finland are hard pressed. And as before, the Western democracies, Great Britain, France, and the United States, are content to dispatch to the "aggressors" futile notes of polite protest.

The motives of the Russians are suspect. Their entire policy since the war has been one of gradual absorption of the defenseless "democratic" states of Europe. It might be well for us within the secluded academic walls to notice that the first moves of the Communists in Czechoslovakia included the control of the office of the director of the University of Prague, the formation of an action committee to take over the direction of student organizations, the hanging in every classroom, of a picture of Stalin and the confiscation of all present textbooks.

What guarantee have we that such plans of the masters of the Kremlin are not to be extended to include us?

Yet our realistic distrust of the Russians should not incite us to childish witch-hunts but should spur us to adopt a positive, understandable program in domestic and world affairs. The need for a positive American policy is demonstrated by the confusion caused in the United Nations by our circumlocution on the Palestine issue.

Our program, to be effective, must include — universal military training, immediate enactment of the European Recovery Program and even more economic aid to Europe and Asia, the undertaking of a vigorous program of democratic propaganda, and most important, the formulation of a clear, long-range policy toward the world.

Some would argue that such a program is evidence of a failure to live the Christian principles which are the very basis of our society. Others, the Wallacites and the idle dreamers, want us to place our faith in Russia.

To live absolutely according to our ideals is a noble sentiment. But we are living in a hard world in which our opponents will not play the game according to the rules. To extend our blind trust to a nation which lurks behind an "iron curtain" would be to place in jeopardy our own treasured way of life.

You may well ask what we, as students, can do now to insure the realization of a positive American program and of peace. The way has already been shown by the formation of many left-wing and "liberal" student groups on college campuses who bombard Congressmen with "ill-conceived idealism."

Our job is to organize at once other student groups — groups of realists who seek to avert future war through workable means. If we take a firm stand, then the Russians will realize that they are not hoodwinking a nation of complacent dreamers but are stirring up a hornet's nest of believers in the free way of life.

We would like to believe that the other fellow is motivated by the same high ethics as we. But in the case of Russia we are facing realistic men bent upon world domination, near fanatics who believe unswervingly in their Communist ideals. They are prepared to sacrifice everything in a fight against us.

By our sacrificing a little now we can save a great deal later. Are we once again to ignore the tragic, oft-repeated lessons of history?

It is much later than we think!

Letter To Editor ... Union Committee Expenses Scored

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

According to the charter of the Student Union Committee, the main purpose of this Committee is to promote functions "that will best serve the interest of the student body as a whole."

The Student Union Committee voted last Wednesday to send one, or possibly two of its members to the conference of The Association of College Unions to be held in Roanoke, Va. on April 29-May 1. At that time, the Committee decided to pay all expenses of the two delegates. The expenses of the delegates were estimated at $100 each, or a total of $200. The budget of the Committee for this semester is approximately $400 to $500. If the Committee executes its plan, it will spend nearly one-half of its total budget to send two of its members to the conference.

Therefore, it is extremely questionable whether the student body as a whole would derive as much benefit from this action as it would receive if this comparatively large amount of money was spent for a project of more tangible and lasting value.

Can the Student Union Committee justify this expenditure under the provisions of its Charter? I believe not, and earnestly suggest that the Student Union Committee follow the purpose for which it was originally formed.

Bernard A. LeBeau '48

February 26, 1948

Athens College

[Continued From Page 1]

rooms, have laboratory experience, and play basketball, volleyball and football on the fields of the campus.

There is much to be accomplished yet. In spite of the existing difficulties, however, the students, aware of their tedious task, struggle to prove themselves worthy of their ancient tradition. They are eager to build up a new Greece and to prevent others from destroying it.

The Hon. Robert P. Skinner, former Minister to Greece said: "Who knows but that, in modern Athens, a group of young men from Athens College shall arise to persuade the world that the greatest of all loyalties is loyalty to the world civilization itself, the heritage from ancient Greece, and that no more shall cathedrals, abbeys, works of art, schools and splendid libraries be wantonly destroyed in the outbreaks of fanatical nationalism."

Anthony T. Demetriades
Athens, February 1948

Non-Freshman Duties
Two Freshmen, recently undertook the trouble to blockade the door of a Professor's private study with snow.

Imagine their feelings when they received an immediate call from the Professor himself. They were requested to remove the snow and then to spend a season in his room. Both invitations were accepted. — ORIENT March 19, 1934.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine

STUDENT PATRONAGE
SOLICITED

CUMBERLAND

WED.-THURS. Mar. 3-4

"INTRIGUE"

with
George Raft - June Havoc

News also Short Subjects

FRI.-SAT. Mar. 5-6

"I WALK ALONE"

with
Elizabeth Scott
Burt Lancaster

News also Short Subjects

SUN.-MON.-TUES. Mar. 7-8-9

"TYCOON"

with
John Wayne - Laraine Day

News also Short Subjects

WED.-THURS. Mar. 10-11

"A WOMAN'S VENGEANCE"

with
Charles Boyer
Rachel Kempson

News also Short Subjects

Thanks But No Thanks

"LOOK, BUD - I DON'T NEED AN ESCORT"

CRUMBS

By Crumpwell

Pete's Barbecue's bottled beer at a quarter forced competitors down, but the parched individuals who were hoping for a real price war were disappointed. It's still at a quarter and the State still does most of the business. But thanks, Pete.

A Bowdoin graduate has Northampton in an uproar. His book is the top seller at the Hampshire Bookshop. You have done the Smith girls a favor, Prof. Kinsey — they must be educated somehow.

"Exhibit A" in the Art Building's entryway last Saturday morning was the aftermath of a big blow-out at Sigma Nu. It satisfied those curious individuals who wondered what a Model T would look like up there.

A Wheaton gal we met a couple of weeks ago tried to convince us that Wheaton is Bowdoin's sister college. We admitted that it might be a relief but questioned her sources of information.

Some of you can remember when such bands as Louis Armstrong, Tony Pastor, Larry Clinton, Jan Savitt, Harry James, Woody Herman, Charley Barnett, Count Basie, Jack Teagarden and, last Christmas, Gene Krupa were contacted for Houseparty Dances. The selection which was offered us for Ivy was far below this calibre. Perhaps our committees should make longer range plans.

It seems to us that the Polar Bear which used to appear at the top of the sports column was considerably more photogenic than McClelland. But he likes the present cut better.

One character we know, caught in a wave of mid-week exuberance, started a gay evening with "Cardinal Puff" at the Bowdoin's new cocktail lounge, played "The Prince of Wales" at Phil's, "Chug-a-lug" at Roland and Andy's, "Bingo" at Blondie's, discovered The Horseshoe, found The Top Hat closed, began to go under at Vic's, was refused a brew at The Hole, spilled his beer at the Eagle and crumpled out at the State: Untouched: Pete's and the Maine. That's all.

Dr. Fletcher Talks In Sunday Chapel

Saintliness and devotion to Christian principle was the Sunday Chapel topic of Dr. Joseph F. Fletcher, Professor of Pastoral Theology at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass.

Dr. Fletcher illustrated his theme with an absorbing story of a Russian girl, Maria, who, endowed at an early age with a love of her fellow men and women, became active in the socialist movement in Russia.

Arrested and exiled to Siberia for her activities, this girl came back to European Russia just prior to the First World War and took part in the early stages of the Russian Revolution. Having lost her faith in religion and disagreeing with the Bolshevik Revolutionists, she went to Paris, and there became active in social work. In this service she regained her faith and became a nun, though still maintaining her activity in the social field.

Resistance during German Occupation
During the second World War and the German occupation, Mother Maria used her organization, the "Action Orthodox Sociale", for resistance work in the underground.

Arrested for her part in the resistance, Mother Maria, after a short period in Dachau concentration camp, gave her life in the furnace to save one of her young cell mates.

Christian principle, Dr. Fletcher said in conclusion, was not an abstraction, or historical oddity, but a contemporary reality.

Dr. Fletcher has been interested in problems relating to capital and labor and is well known in that field. He was a disciple of the late Archbishop Temple, and was, for a time Dean of the Graduate School of Applied Religion of Cincinnati.

He was educated at University of West Virginia, Yale, London University School of Economics, Berkeley Seminary, and received his degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology from Kenyon. Dr. Fletcher has spent several years in England and on the Continent traveling and studying.

Cancer Gift

[Continued From Page 1]

Dr. Little's letter, recently made public by the Campus Chest Committee, acknowledged the donation by the student body and stated it would be of "real help" in the rebuilding program.

Take Notice

Married Students

All married undergraduates living off campus are now being sent copies of the ORIENT, by mail, to their homes. Anyone failing to receive his copy should write to the Circulation Manager, Moulton Union.

Bowdoin Wives Supper
There will be a pot-luck supper, for husbands and wives only, March 5 at 6:30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Wilder; followed by dancing and cards at the Union. To find out what to bring call Doris Britton 342-W-K.

NSA Notice
A short, important meeting of the NSA committee will be held Wednesday, March 3, at 8:30 in Conference "A" of the Union. All students are urged to attend.

Campus Chest
Due to a full schedule of activities in the Spring Trimester, the Campus Chest Committee has announced that there will be no Campus Chest Drive this spring.
Hormell Sabbatical
A survey of state regulation of public utilities will be the project of Professor Orren C. Hormell on his sabbatical which he plans to spend in Washington and the southern states.

Union Movies
The Student Union Committee will sponsor two movies in the Union on March 6 at 8:00 p.m.; the first show to be a short on aiding, the second is to be "Tobaccohand". Free.

ROA
Captain Trimble C. Kondiet MI Res., will be the guest speaker at the annual Reserve Officers meeting in the Union, March 8, at 7:30. A film will also be shown.

SDA
The next meeting of the Students for Democratic Action committee will be in Conference B of the Union at 8:30 Wednesday March 3. All students are invited.

BCA Clothing Drive
Members of the faculty who desire to donate old clothes to the BCA clothing drive are requested to leave them in Mr. P. S. Wilder's office, 17 Winthrop Hall.

Displays Present Art, Shakespeare

The present exhibit of Shakespearean scenes by Darley on display in the Library will continue three more weeks according to Kenneth J. Boyer, library director.

The prints, presented to the college by Mrs. Louisa G. Parker, will be exhibited four at a time, the exhibit being changed once a week.

Maya Murals On Display
In the Walker Art Building through the month of March will be exhibited thirty-six reproductions of Maya murals obtained through the United Fruit Company and the Carnegie Institute.

The murals, just discovered, have given art experts and explorers a new opportunity to study the ancient Mayan civilization.

New Independent Officers Chosen

The first general meeting of the Spring Trimester of the Independent was held on Wednesday, February 25, at 6:30 p.m. in the Moulton Union Lounge.

At this meeting a new slate of officers was elected. The new

[Continued From Page 1]

He emphasized the importance of the cooperation of the undergraduates with the faculty and administration to bring about better understanding and good-will among members of the college community. "Nowhere can this be more practically carried out than in the fraternities. A fraternity which desires to accept a man on his own merit should never permit the prejudices of a group of national officers or a minority of its alumni to exert pressure in order to bar that candidate from membership."

How many operators will we need NEXT YEAR?

This is but one of the many questions telephone men are called upon to answer.

Part of their work has always been to anticipate demands for personnel . . . to determine what additional equipment must be provided, what new construction will be necessary to handle the constantly increasing demands for service.

Careful planning in every phase of telephone work requires the services of many qualified men. For them, this growing business offers the opportunity for active, interesting careers.

There's a future in telephony.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, March 3, 1948 No. 22
Editor-in-Chief . . . Richard A. Wiley '48
Managing Editors . . . John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors . . . William S. Augerson '47, Richard P. Davis '49,
Charles T. Dillaway '49
Feature Editor . . . Frederick W. Wiley Jr. '47
Sports Editor . . . George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor . . . Robert J. Waldron '50
Reporters: Harvey S. Jackson '48, Ralph H. Chew '49, Roger L. Kon-vin '49, George Parada '49, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Joshua W.
Curtis, Jr. '50, Herbert L. Gould '50, Nelson D. Payne '50, Richard
N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corliss '51, John D. Flynn '51, George M.
Fox '51, William J. Nightingale '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Ordon '51
Photographers . . . Roger Mupper '48, Philip F. Ellsworth '50,
Harry E. Adams '51
Cartoonists . . . William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager . . . Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager . . . Alfred J. Waxler '47
Circulation Manager . . . C. Craig Ryder '48, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Philip R. Burrill '48, Arthur H. Showalter, Jr. '48,
Ernest L. Reinton, Jr. '48, Norman A. Gault '49, Joseph H. White '49,
John P. Aubrey II '50, John Blatchford '51, Prescott H. Fardoe '51,
William J. Nightingale.

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors . . . Professor Athorn F. Daggett, Richard A. Wiley '49,
Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, Edward S. Early '49
News Editor for this Issue . . . William S. Augerson '47

RESERVED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
480 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N.Y.
SINGLE COPIES - 10c; 100 COPIES - $10.00

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter, August 1, 1934, Post Office at Brunswick, Maine. The Subscription rate for one year is $25.00 (25) cents.

THE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

We have in Stock Fraternity Shields in Embroidered Silk 75c
Bowdoin College Stationery 15c
LAUNDRY CASES — $2.25 and $4.00
PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS
THE IDES OF MARCH — Thornton Wilder — $2.75

F. W. CHANDLER & SON

Telephone 234

Stripes

that are stoppers...

Perhaps you won't stop traffic in these new "Stopper Stripes" by Van Heusen. But you will stop more than your share of admiring glances. These smart new patterns are exclusive with Van Heusen—you'll find them on no other shirts! All of them boast new low-setting "Comfort Contour" collar styling and other fine details of Van Heusen's magic seamanship. All Sanforized—a new shirt free if your Van Heusen shrinks out of size! $3.95 and $4.95. PHILLIPS-JONES CORP., NEW YORK 1, N.Y.

You're the man most likely to succeed in

Van Heusen Shirts
TIES • SPORT SHIRTS • PAJAMAS

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

McClelland's POLAR BEARINGS

Saturday Was Big Day For Polar Bears

After the varsity and jayvee basketball teams had gotten the last big winter sports weekend off on a sour note Friday night, the swimming and track departments took over and made Saturday the red letter day of the winter athletic calendar.

Amherst College's Lord Jeffs took it on the chin on both fronts. While their swimmers were getting trounced by Bowdoin's powerful crew in the Curtis Pool, the Jeffs had their track team practically run out of its own cage by Jack Magee's well conditioned children. Just to make the day complete, the jayvee swimmers

All-State Basketball Team Selected

At this time we are going out on the well-known limb to pick our all state basketball five. Our choices are Sid Connolly of Bowdoin and Bob Gates of Maine at center, Bill Simpson of Bates at forward, Russ Burns of Bates and Ted Boynton of Maine at the guard slots. We picked these completely on our own observations and based them on their value to their own team. If any reserves are necessary we would take Bob Speirs of Bowdoin, Tubby Washburn and Gene Hunter of Colby and Ace Bailey of Bates.

A couple of performers on exhibition in the Hyde Cage in the not too distant past, have recently soared to national prominence in the track and field world. George Marsankis, blond U. of Maine crushed Hebron and the Frosh thincalms nipped the New Hampshire Freshmen to finish undefeated.

Though Bowdoin's hockey sextet will be the underdog and probably will take it on the chin, but good, next week in the New England play-offs, it is a good sign that the Polar Bears were even considered for a berth. The Big White isn't in the same league with B.U. and B.C. but the appearance of a Big White team again in Boston will enhance Bowdoin's sports reputation - and even if they are licked we know darn well they won't be outfought or disgraced!

weight thrower, copped the IC4A 35 lb. weight throw with a 56 feet 11 inch toss. When Bowdoin comes up against Maine this spring we'll be hoping against hope that our weight men can lick the Pale Blue star, but we're glad to see him give the favorites a beating and refute the common opinion that nothing comes out of Maine but potatoes.

Phil Thigpen, who ran last year for Seton Hall Prep in the prep school meet here, upset N.Y.U.'s highly touted Reggie Pearson in the 1000 of the A.A.U. meet in New York.

Speaking of feats in the track world, Merle Spier's performance in a recent Freshman meet is worthy of mention. Losing a shoe on the first lap of the 1000, Spier kept right on going - and won!

Freshmen Nip UN 46-44 In Track

For the second time in four days the Bowdoin Freshman tracksters pulled out a close decision, this time nipping New Hampshire 46-44, and thus wound up their indoor season without a setback. The Polar Cubs took only half the first places but secured enough seconds and thirds to eke out the victory.

The summary:
40 Yard Dash - Won by Bradley (B); second, Langwin (NH); third, Davis, Bowdoin. Time: 6.6 seconds.
50 Yard Dash - Won by Gately (NH); second, Langwin (NH); third, Demming, Bowdoin. Time: 4.8 seconds.
One Mile Run - Won by Neugebauer (NH); second, Spring (B); third, Quimby (B). Time: 5:04.
500 Yard Run - Won by Gately (NH); second, Avery (B); third, Casey (B). Time: 1:21.
1,000 Yard Run - Won by Chapman (NH); second, Tufts (NH); third, Dickson (B). Time: 2:54.

Sports At A Glance

Basketball
Maine 57, Varsity 43
Maine 55, Jayvee 47
Swimming
Varsity 41, Amherst 34
Jayvee 38, Hebron 27
Track
Varsity 82, Amherst 40
Freshmen 46, N. Hampshire 44
Freshmen 60 5/6, So. Portland 52 1/6

Blue Hands White 8th Series Loss; JV Falls 55-47

Running out of gas again in the second half, Bowdoin's varsity hoopers dropped their eighth series start Friday night as they bowed before a potent U. of Maine quintet, 57-43, at the Sargent Gymnasium.

The defeat cemented Bowdoin's cellar status and gave Maine clear rights to the title. The Polar Bears gave the Pale Blue a real run for their money for 20 minutes and left the floor at halftime, deadlocked at 24 all.

Drop After Half
After intermission the title bound Bears increased the tempo. Six quick points, four by Dan Danforth, and 2 by Bob Gates, hurtled the visitors into the lead and after the Big White managed to climb within a point of the leaders, Maine was off again with Danforth showing the way.

The box score:
Maine (57) Bowdoin (43)
Gately, Jr. 9 1 18 Donnelly, Jr. 5 1 12
Pessley, Jr. 2 0 4 Tobey, Jr. 0 1 11
Boyanon, Jr. 3 2 8 Schoenher, Jr. 5 0 10
Barnes, Jr. 2 0 8 Darnall, Jr. 3 0 8
Wing, Jr. 3 2 8 Fryer, Jr. 3 2 8
Kelley, Jr. 0 0 0 Anderson, Jr. 2 0 8
Danforth, Jr. 3 1 10 Fisher, Jr. 3 0 8
Lynch, Jr. 1 0 2 Spehr, Jr. 1 1 3
Hoskins, Jr. 0 1 3 Foster, Jr. 1 0 2
Frawley, Jr. 0 0 0 Danowski, Jr. 0 1 1
Totals 24 9 57 Totals 17 9 43
Referee: McCall, Fortunate, Time: 2:20.

Following the same script used up in Orono a month ago, Maine's junior varsity basketball cluster came surging back in the last period to up-end Bowdoin's seconds, 55-47, Friday night in the preliminary to the varsity game.

The lineup:
Maine (55) Bowdoin (47)
Lord, Jr. 4 1 10 Tobey, Jr. 5 1 12
Kelley, Jr. 2 1 0 Bessie, Jr. 0 0 6
Boyanon, Jr. 0 0 0 Hickey, Jr. 0 0 12
McCormack, Jr. 2 2 8 Darnall, Jr. 3 0 8
Keith, Jr. 1 1 0 Spier, Jr. 4 3 11
Prawitt, Jr. 3 0 8 Darnall, Jr. 3 0 8
Thurlock, Jr. 4 0 8 Ramsey, Jr. 3 4 10
Lynch, Jr. 5 3 18 Spehr, Jr. 0 0 0
Loch, Jr. 0 1 1 Belmer, Jr. 1 0 2
Totals 22 16 55 Totals 17 13 47
Referee: Shanahan, Bodnar, Time: 4:05.

Battermen Practicing In Baseball Workouts

Eighteen pitchers and nine catchers, candidates for this season's varsity and J.V. baseball teams, have completed a week of daily workouts in the Cage.

Eddie Gillen, Pete King and Evan Cox, lettermen from last season's nine, top the roster of receivers. Don Russell, a 1947 letterman, Lloyd MacDonald, who was a mainstay of the summer team's mound staff, and Bill Silsby and Chip Nevens who won letters as infielders in 1946 and 1947 respectively are among the pitching candidates.

Other returning lettermen include, in the outfield, Gordie Beem, Jack Clarke, Bob Speirs and Gale Bennett, and infielders Dick Burston, Bob Friberg and Pat Slattery. It is doubtful, however, that Slattery will compete this year due to a knee injury sustained in football last fall.

MIKE'S PLACE HOT DOGS

BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M
for delivery
Maine Street
Brunswick Maine

Baseball Meeting Set For Monday

There will be a meeting of all baseball candidates next Monday, at 3:45 in Room 108 Adams Hall. Pitchers, catchers, infielders, outfielders and managerial candidates should report at this time.

Undefeated DU's Lead House Fives

According to the latest results that have been recorded by the White Key the Interfraternity basketball league shows the DU's in the lead with an impressive 7 and 0 record. The Sigma Nu's, who have not had so many games recorded, boast a clear slate at 4 and 0.

With only a single loss to mar their record the strong Chi Psi five is sure to take one of the playoff positions. The fourth playoff position is an open race, however, with the AD's and TD's tied, but the Dekes, Betas, and Psi U's are all within easy challenging distance of these leaders.

The standings (according to games thus far reported):

Team	Won	Lost
Delta Upsilon	7	0
Sigma Nu	4	0
Chi Psi	6	1
Alpha Delta Phi	4	2
Theta Delta Chi	3	4
Delta Kappa Epsilon	3	2
Beta Theta Pi	2	3
Psi Upsilon	2	3
Alpha Rho Upsilon	1	4
Kappa Sigma	1	7
Zeta Psi	1	7
Alpha Tau Omega	0	6

Frosh Tracksters Down So. Portland

Bowdoin's Freshman track team upset South Portland High's cindermen, 50 5/6 to 52 1/6, in the Hyde Cage last Wednesday afternoon, to remain unbeaten.

Joe Vacciano, a South Portland graduate, engineered a discuss sweep that brought defeat to his former mates, for up to that event the Capers held a slim lead. The Polar Cubs grabbed seven firsts in pulling the meet out of the fire.

The summary:
40 Yard Dash - Won by Marshall, South Portland; second, Patterson, Bowdoin; third, tied by Deming, Bowdoin and Jewell, South Portland. Time: 4.8 seconds.
50 Yard Dash - Won by Bradley, Bowdoin; second, Ellis, South Portland; third, Demetriades, Bowdoin. Time: 5.4 seconds.
1,000 Yard Run - Won by Spring, Bowdoin; second, Bradley, Bowdoin; third, Ellis, South Portland. Time: 2:34.
40 Yard Low Hurdles - Won by Curry, South Portland; second, Bradley, Bowdoin; third, Demetriades, Bowdoin. Time: 1:8 seconds.
Shot Put - Won by Henderson, South Portland; second, Bradley, Bowdoin; third, Demetriades, Bowdoin. Distance: 45 feet 9 1/4 inches.
300 Yard Run (on time) - Won by Patterson, Bowdoin; second, Deming, Bowdoin; third, tied by Marshall, Wood, South Portland, and Demetriades, Bowdoin. Time: 3:3 seconds.
One Mile Run - Won by Beckwith, South Portland; second, Seaver, South Portland; third, Clarke, Bowdoin. Time: 4:37.
500 Yard Run - Won by Avery, Bowdoin; second, Michaels, South Portland; third, Daniels, South Portland. Time: 1:21.
Relay - Won by South Portland (Curry, Wood, Marshall, Michaels). Time: 2:12.4.
Broad Jump - Won by Davis, Bowdoin; second, Demetriades, Bowdoin; third, Sears, South Portland. Distance: 19 feet 3/4 inch.
High Jump - Won by Ellis, South Portland; second, Friend, Bowdoin; third, Sears, South Portland. Height: 5 feet 6 inches.
Pole Vault - Tied by Lovejoy, Bowdoin; Coppertwistle, South Portland; third, Bishop, South Portland. Height: 10 feet.
Discus Throw - Won by Vacciano, Bowdoin; second, Eaton, Bowdoin; third, Foley, Bowdoin. Distance: 117 feet 5 inches.

Trackmen, Swimmers Rout Amherst; Parsons, Ingraham Set New Records

Jeff Cage Mark Falls In Weight

Jack Magee's well balanced track team climaxed an undefeated indoor season by crushing an outclassed Amherst cluster, 82-40, in the losers Cage before a disappointed gathering of Amherst rooters last Saturday afternoon.

The Polar Bears captured 10 out of 14 first places, tying for another and adding 7 seconds and the same number of thirds to their impressive final total. Captain Matt Branch was again high scorer with firsts in both hurdle events and a tie for top honors in the high jump. Bob Swann copped firsts in the dash and 220 along with a second in the broad jump and running the first leg of a winning relay.

Team Shows Training
The superb condition of the Big White aggregation showed in the marked improvement of the men who grabbed seconds and thirds to insure the win. Joe Woods in the 2 mile and Dick Shrack in the mile turned in their first winning performances of the indoor season.

The outstanding individual performance of the afternoon was turned in by Phil Parsons who in his last find at the 35 lb. weight in his college career, broke the Pratt Cage record with a heave of 50 feet 11 inches. This was the first time he had hit the 50 foot mark and also sent the Amherst star, Roger Neuhoff, down to defeat for the first time.

Bears Take Hurdles

The Polar Bears got away fast as Branch and Marty Lee took the top two spots in the high hurdles. Swann added a point to the margin when he overcame difficulties at the starting line to sail home ahead in the dash. Schrack let the slow pace in the mile set up his finishing kick which brought him a close win over Kim Valentine of the Jeffs. Phil deGozzaldi brought Amherst her first win by nipping Earl Briggs at the tape in the 440. Woods also benefited by a wide pace alternately set by Bowdoin's George McClelland and Amherst's Don Bozarth as he sprinted home for his 2 mile victory.

Relay Revenge

From then on the outcome was certain but the remainder of the day was spiced by Parsons' feat in the weight throw and a Bowdoin relay victory over a combine that had previously edged the Big White in Boston.

The summary:
87 Yard High Hurdles - Won by Branch (B); second, Lee (B); third, Teaf (A). Time: 4.5 seconds.
27 Yard Dash - Won by Swann (B); second, Middleton (A); third, Howard (A). Time: 5:07.
1 Mile Run - Won by Schrack (B); second, Valentine (A); third, Gould (B). Time: 5:07.
440 Yard Run - Won by deGozzaldi (A); second, Briggs (B); third, Cusack (A). Time: 54.5 minutes.
35 Pound Weight - Won by Parsons (B); second, Neuhoff (A); third, Fortin (B). Distance: 59 feet 11 inches (new cage record).
220 Yard Run - Won by Swann (B); second, Brown, A. (B); third, Middleton (A). Time: 2:8.
Low Hurdles - Won by Branch (B); second, Lee (B); third, Peterson (A). Time: 4.3.
800 Yard Run - Won by Scott (A); second, Michaels (B); third, Gould (B). Time: 2:07.
8 Lap Relay - Won by Bowdoin (Swann, Newhouse, and Brown). Time: 2:44.1.

A Bowdoin Winner

Photo By Adams

TONY SOLTYSIAK pushes forward to victory in the breaststroke event against Amherst.

Polar Bears To Face B.C. In League Hockey Playoff

Bowdoin's varsity hockey sextet is hard at work this week preparing for the New England Intercollegiate Hockey League Play-offs which commence next Monday evening on Boston Arena Ice.

King Tops Scorers On Jayvee Sextet

The recently released scoring records of the highly successful jayvee hockey sextet reveal that the eight goals and five assists of Stubby King place him at the top of the scoring parade.

The Polar Bear seconds, coached by Don Davis and winners in six out of seven tussles, collected 35 goals against 15 for the combined opposition. Goalie Norm Hansen, who will move up to varsity netminder next season, had 130 saves in the seven games. Chet Homer's nine minutes in the penalty box mark him as the team's bad man.

The scoring:

Player	Goals	Assists	Pen. (min.)	Points
A. King	8	5	13	15
P. Porteous	3	5	0	8
Graham	5	2	1	7
Fleming	4	2	0	6
Homer	2	4	9	6
P. King	1	4	1	5
Marshall	1	4	0	5
Slimmons	3	2	0	4
Seaves	3	1	0	4
Hanson	1	3	0	4
Arnold	1	2	1	2
Morrell	1	0	0	1
Stafford	0	1	0	1
Barton	0	1	0	1
Stefford	1	0	0	1
Decker	0	0	11	0
Badger	0	0	1	0
Hansen	130
Stimmedorf	9
Langran	5
Shot Put - Won by Nicholson (B); second, Flower (A); third, Milroy (A). Distance: 45 feet 11 inches.
Broad Jump - Won by Sauser (A); second, Swann (B); third, Briggs (B). Distance: 20 feet 3 inches.
High Jump - Won by Branch (B) and Housen (A) (tied); third, Barroll (B). Height: 5 feet 8 inches.
Pole Vault - Won by Nichols (B); second, Cross (B); third, Martin (B). Height: 11 feet 8 inches.

Key Players Lost

The loss of several key players will lengthen the odds against the Big White and cause MacFayden to shuffle his lines drastically. Captain Ed Leason will move up on the first line to team with Dick Blanchard and Dick Archibald and provide Bowdoin with a potent first wave. Hank Daley, Bob Crookford and Phil Burke will comprise a second combination that is sure to see plenty of action.

Jim Fife and Bill Ireland will be on defense, backed up by Dick Badger and Steve Packard, and Jim Draper will be in the nets. Due to the poor condition of the Delta rink, the squad is traveling to Hebron Academy's covered surface for practice sessions.

Freshman Breaks 220-Yard Standard

The Polar Bear swimmers easily dunked the Lord Jeffs from Amherst to the tune of 41 to 34 in their last dual meet of the year, Saturday in the Curtis Pool.

Bill Ingraham paced the home team with a new Bowdoin record in the 220 and an easy second in the 150 yard backstroke. Co-captain Lew Ball of the Amherst team was the only double-winner of the day, winning the 50 and 100 from Bowdoin's Bob McGowan.

The Polar Bear medley relay team of Merrow, Soltysiak, and Dick Curry ran away with that event in the time of 3:04.2. In the 220 yard freestyle Bill Ingraham was paced for nearly 200 yards by the Lord Jeff's Keeseler, but his last lap sprint gave him a considerable margin as he cut his own record for the event down a second to 2:20.7. Bud Zettler took an easy third.

Close Decisions

The 50 yard dash was close right down to the wire, but Lew Ball got the nod in 24.8, as Bob McGowan and Pete Grant followed him in 25.2 and 25.4. In the diving Len Gath and Amherst's Fulton were even until the last dive in which Fulton got the judge's decision and with 98.6 points beat Len by only 4 tenths of a point.

Morrow and Soltysiak Again

Ball came back in the century, and leading all the way beat out Bob McGowan and George Erasmus in the comparatively slow time of 56.3.

The 150 backstroke was Bowdoin's all the way as Captain Adin Merrow and Bill Ingraham swam stroke for stroke right down to the finish, Merrow getting the touch in 1:44.5. The most exciting race of the meet was the 200 yard breaststroke, in which Tony Soltysiak and Amherst's co-captain "Buckets" Rawdon matched strokes through 7 laps. In the 8th lap Soltysiak out-gunned Rawdon and won by a hair.

[Continued on Page 4]

JV Takes 6 Races, Tops Hebron Team

Bowdoin's junior varsity swimming team swept to an easy win over Hebron Academy last Saturday in the Curtis Pool by a 38-27 count as the Polar Bears captured six firsts in a row to insure victory.

The summary:

150 Yard Medley Relay - Won by Bowdoin (Leicester, Rehe, Nelson). Time: 1:54.
220-Yard Freestyle - Won by Kyla, Bowdoin; second, Blake, Hebron; third, Whitney, Hebron. Time: 2:46.5.
50 Yard Freestyle - Won by Hambleton, Bowdoin; second, Page, Bowdoin; third, Lewis, Hebron. Time: 24.8 seconds.
Diving - Won by O'Leary, Bowdoin; second, Sherwood, Hebron. Points: 55.2.
100 Yard Freestyle - Won by Lomax, Bowdoin; second, Brady, Hebron; third, Eastman, Hebron. Time: 58.5 seconds.
160 Yard Backstroke - Won by Lancaster, Bowdoin; second, Whittey, Hebron; third, Page, Bowdoin. Time: 1:14.
100 Yard Breaststroke - Won by Blake, Hebron; second, Shackford, Bowdoin; third, McCluskey, Bowdoin. Time: 1:22.1.
200 Yard Relay - Won by Hebron (Byrley, Klen, Eastman, Lewis). Time: 1:49.4.

MOULTON WORLD STORE

Lang, Handbook of Chemistry
Chemical Rubber Handbook of Chemistry and Physics

Now available. This book is authorized under the G. I. Bill for Chemistry Students.

Parker and Moore Pens $8.75 Value $5.25

Parker and Moore Pen and Pencil Sets
$12.75 Value $7.50

"YUP... YUP... YUP"

Sounds like a fine idea
... if you're not doing anything
else, that is. Get a touch of local color and listen to "Do
You Know Maine?" ... as a
matter of fact, we think it's rather interesting.

SUNDAY

12:30 Noon

WGAN

MONDAY

8:00 p.m.

WCOU

Sponsored by

THE BATES MANUFACTURING CO.

Record Success Story!

RCA Victor's rising star of the keyboard

Larry Green - scores another hit ...

"GONNA GET A GIRL"

CAMEL
is the cigarette
for me!

WITHIN the past few months, Larry Green has climbed right up with the top bands of the land! If you ask Larry how he did it, he'll light up a Camel and say: "Experience is the best teacher in the band business - and in cigarettes. I know from experience that sweet music suits my band, just as I learned from experience that Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T'!"

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience!"

And here's another great record -

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

"Cancer Of Cracked Lips", "Sinus In L. Ankle" Recorded In Infirmary's Green Register Book

By Frederick W. Willey '47

The Dudley Coe Infirmary handily lists its patients and their ailments in a little green register book in which every potential hypochondriac must record his treatment in a column opposite his name.

This green register is open to anyone who cares to examine the ailments, feigned and otherwise, which send wounded grid stars, pale esthetes forced to fulfill the diabolical requirements of the athletic department, and houseparty specialists to the balms and heat lamps of the three-story brick building, given by Dr. Thomas Upham Coe of the class of 1857, in memory of his son.

Some interesting conclusions concerning the general health status of Bowdoin, the quality of humor of its students, and the ability of its patients to spell medical terminology can be gleaned from its impersonal pages.

From October 27, when the doors of the infirmary were officially opened to all students, to February 23, the green register has recorded the treatment of 2,249 patients. The first ailment listed, undoubtedly the most dangerous, is the ordinary cold. Fourteen other patients on the opening day followed with such indefinite and general sicknesses as "band aids," "leg," "ear," "nose drops," and "eye compresses."

The busiest day of the year, according to the green register, occurred on January 13, when forty-three patients kept the infirmary staff guessing and treating. The thirteenth, incidentally, was indicative of the entire unhealthy month of January, and especially of its last few days. For then the beginning of the examination period for some strange reason kept up students scurrying from the gymnasium to the infirmary for headache powders. December 8th proved to be the healthiest school day when only one student showed up for nose drops.

Some items in the green register are distinguishable for their medical rarity; some are indistinguishable from anything at all, while still others combine such a felicity of phrase or obvious attempt at humor or accuracy of language that a compilation of green registers from 1916 (when the infirmary was built) to the present day would reveal not only the medical history of three decades of Bowdoin men but also their casual use of slang.

The Doc At Work

Photo By Hupper

One man claimed he was suffering from "sinus in the L. ankle," although that is probably no more unusual a disease than "cancer of cracked lips," the tale of woe which another patient wrote down. Some love to indulge in ironical generalities, every one of which seems full of suggestions and innuendoes to intrigue the imagination of any high-salaried Hollywood script writer.

What, for instance, is the story behind the unfortunate lad who sadly penciled "heart ache" in the green register? And what solace, if any, did he receive at the infirmary? Does the simple but inclusive "aches and pains" indicate the condition of an unfortunate pledge, too terrified to write in bold phrase, "Branded by a paddle?" Or was he, being a mature freshman, simply too humiliated to record the penalty for joining an exclusive "campus frat"?

There is a certain devil-may-care distinction to the gay blade who wrote down with a sneer, "Check-up on noggin," as though he were sent at the insistence of his mother to the corner drug store to buy a bottle of mercurchrome. And we must certainly admire the rugged honesty, as well as the discretion, of the man who labels himself a prosaic Brown, and then writes "hangover" opposite his fascimile.

The trials and tribulations of four years of campus problems are revealed by the wry individual who penciled his entire scholastic schedule in the column marked "treatment." Someone wrote down "temperature tested," and another "gas" — which reminds one of the radio commercials asking us to stop at the friendly service station and have our car checked, oiled, lubricated, washed, greased, and filled up with that good gasoline.

Even a scientific dictionary fails to list either the treatment or the ailment apparently included in this garbled phrase, "benadrigle for snivelling." There are two cases of "jumpy nerves" to date; one of "malaise," possibly recorded by an ex-proselyte of Henry Wallace; and, despite the numerous dogs which cavort about the campus, only one misanthrope to cause "treatment of a dog scratch."

Chemistry majors authoritatively jot down "0.30 cc Hapamine" or "thiamix hydrochloride" while the non-scientists unpretentiously writes "feeling lousy" or "ingr. T." for ingrown toenail, or "lost my voice" or, euphemistically, "intestinal upset."

Yet whatever the ailment, students may feel fairly sure that the infirmary staff will not only give medical aid but also spiritual comfort. Take, for instance, the case of the young man who wrote "attention" on December 18. On December 20 he returned for advice and jotted "more attention." Two weeks later he considered himself a welcomed visitor, for he recorded the patience and benevolence of the infirmary staff and the peace of his own soothed conscience in the simple admission, "It's Harvey again."

Relay Men To Face Tufts, UNH Teams

Bowdoin's little-publicized varsity relay team will make its third appearance on the boards this season, in a mile race against New Hampshire and Tufts at Providence.

Records - Radios
Electric Supplies
— and —
Service
NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE

212 Maine St. Phone 1205-W

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
146 Maine St. Brunswick
Phone 224-W

ALVIN SETTLE

PRINTERS

Town Hall Building
Brunswick, Maine

Field's Radio Shop

Popular and Classical Records
Radio Sales and Service

Philco Radios - Refrigerators

147 Maine Street Phone 679

Heavy Duty
Electric Floor Polisher
For Rent or Sale

Brunswick Hardware
Company

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Admits Men and Women
Registration

Day and Evening Programs — September 13 to 15, 1948
Early application is necessary

Veterans accepted under G. I. Bills
47 MT. VERNON STREET BOSTON 8, MASSACHUSETTS
Telephone KEams 6-5360

CURTIS IGA MARKET

216 Maine Street Brunswick

Quality Meats - Vegetables - Frozen Foods
Fancy Groceries

All the "fixin's" needed for late snacks in dormitory or Fraternity

Convenient Location

Next to College Spa

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning - - - - Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

Mergendahl Produces Best One-Act Play In Contest

[Continued from Page 1]

curtain and the thing, unfortunately, did not quite come off. The framework of the play, built upon a veteran telling his buddies a story about his service days, was far too flimsy for creditable drama. It was as if someone were to take a Reader's Digest type anecdote, dress it up, pad it out a bit, and toss it upon the stage.

The flashback was mere deadwood as far as the play was concerned. The two cue lines leading into it — "It must be something like that corner of this room," and "I can picture it now," are a bit too time-worn and amateurish for further use.

Phillips deserves praise for playing his part with gusto and for projecting his characterization, something too few college actors ever do. William Davis also gave an entertaining performance, properly prudish as the prude, and Nadine Morgan and Robert Powers were capable and agreeable in their parts.

In many ways Peter Poor's "Our Way" was the most ambitious project of the three student-written plays presented. It was obvious that everyone concerned with it had spent a good deal of time preparing it; the costumes were good, the characterizations well thought out, and the stage manager certainly did an excellent job in utilizing the rather limited facilities as best as he could.

Our Way

"Our Way" was of interest primarily because of two superb performances — those of Norma Pierce and Herbert Gould. When the play was in their hands it fairly raced along and Poor's dialogue had the true ring of sound comedy about it. But the play was overlong and dragged considerably at times, notably the flashback scene, which was probably due more to the acting than the writing.

Indeed, the cast seemed somewhat in doubt as to just what type of comedy it was. Norma Pierce and Herbert Gould played it right, I think, as realistic comedy, but Dwight Pierce and Johnson Poor played it more as satire; Drusilla Congdon as if it were an old-fashioned melodrama; and Robert Kyle as if it were an out-and-out farce.

Faculty Piece

The faculty presentation for the evening was "Three Conversation Pieces," on the order of Noel Coward's "Tonight at 8:30," and written by a Bowdoin alumnus, William Happ '46.

Colby Billed $1263 For Football Prank

The following item appeared in the Colby Echo of February 25:

A bill for $1,263.68 was sent to Dean Nickerson by Dean Kendrick of Bowdoin. This was for expenses incurred in making repairs allegedly caused by Colby students prior to the Colby-Bowdoin football game.

At present, no definite action has been taken by the college. The matter has been referred to the Student Council and will be considered at the next meeting.

Happ writes a very witty, and often brilliant, piece of comedy. His feeling for comedy is of the very highest caliber; he has a light, deft touch and can draw a laugh from even the most subtle shades of meaning.

Deana and John Sweet played "Three Conversation Pieces" beautifully. They caught the spirit and the mood of each of the sketches and sustained them remarkably throughout.

Deana Sweet, in particular, added to Happ's shrewd wit her own keen sense of comedy and her own special charm and enthusiasm. She gave a thoroughly delightful performance, rollicking through the sketches at a merry pace, and bringing a professional finish and sparkle to the Bowdoin stage.

Hormell To Survey Utility Regulations

Professor Orren C. Hormell plans to make a survey of "Trends in Regulation of Public Utilities in the Last Ten Years", while on sabbatical leave this spring.

The study he plans will take him to Washington, D. C., and throughout the Southern States, where he will visit various public utility commissions. Special emphasis will be put on Tennessee and the TVA.

Amherst Swim

[Continued from Page 3]

The summary:
50 Yard Freestyle — Won by Ball (A); second, McGown (B); third, Grant (B). Time: 24.8.
100 Yard Freestyle — Won by Ball (A); second, McGown (B); third, Erswell (B). Time: 51.2.
200 Yard Freestyle — Won by Ingraham (B); second, Kessler (A); third, Zettler (B). Time: 1:20.7.
400 Yard Freestyle — Won by Kessler (A); second, Merrow (B); third, Zettler (B). Time: 5:12.5.
150 Yard Backstroke — Won by Merrow (B); second, Ingraham (B); third, Epstein (A). Time: 3:44.5.
200 Yard Backstroke — Won by Sollysial (B); second, Rawdon (A); third, Moran (B). Time: 2:35.5.
Diving — Won by Fulton (A); 98.6 points; second, Gath (B); 98.3 points; third, Blaine (B); 82.4 points.
300 yard medley relay — Won by Bowdoin (Merrow, Sollysial, Curry); second, Amherst. Time: 3:49.2.
400 Yard Freestyle Relay — Won by Amherst (Butler, Townen, Stevenson, Ball); second, Bowdoin (Grant, Curry, Williams, Mitchell). Time: 2:52.5.

"I've tried them
all and I like
Chesterfield the best"
Louis Jourdan

STARRING IN
DAVID O. SELZNICK'S PRODUCTION
"THE PARADINE CASE"
DIRECTED BY ALFRED HITCHCOCK

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"Liggett & Myers buy as fine tobacco as there is grown. They buy only mild, sweet cigarette tobacco."

"I smoke only Chesterfield cigarettes and I have smoked them right from the start."

P. V. Hardy

TOBACCO FARMER, MULLINS, S. C.

CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS Milder BETTER Tasting COOLER Smoking

Sen. Taft To Speak Here Sunday Night

Election Aspirant Here for Institute Talk at Memorial

Senator Robert A. Taft, candidate for the Republican nomination for President will speak in Memorial Hall Sunday evening at 8:00.

Following an earlier address in Portland Sunday afternoon, Senator Taft will speak on "International and Domestic Affairs". The audience will be limited to the undergraduate body and members of the faculty only. Student and faculty wives and friends will not be able to attend. There will be no conferences following the address. Ushers will be provided by the Political Forum.

Hildreth To Introduce Taft
Senator Taft will be introduced by Governor Horace Hildreth who will be introduced by President Kenneth C. M. Sills. During Sunday, Senator Taft will be the guest of Governor and Mrs. Hildreth at Blaine Mansion in Augusta.

A native of Ohio, Senator Taft received his secondary training at the Taft School. Following this he did undergraduate work at Yale, and studied law at Harvard. Admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1913, he practiced law until the outbreak of war in 1914 when he took a position under Herbert Hoover as Assistant Counsel on Food Administration.

In Senate For Ten Years
He began his political career in 1921 when he was elected to the Ohio State Legislature. Chosen Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives in 1926, he became a member of the Ohio Senate in 1931.

Senator Taft, now completing his tenth year as United States Senator from Ohio, was recently instrumental in the passage of the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill of which he was co-author, and is at the present time Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Gov. McConaughy Dies In Hartford; Was Teacher Here

James Lukens McConaughy, governor of Connecticut and a former member of the Bowdoin faculty, who died Sunday, March 7, was honored in a chapel address by President Kenneth C. M. Sills.

Governor McConaughy upon his graduation from Yale in 1909, came to Bowdoin as secretary to the Christian Association. Eventually he became a member of the Department of English, holding in 1914 the post of acting dean. For six years he remained on the faculty, earning in the meanwhile his master's degree from Bowdoin.

Heads Knox, Wesleyan
Leaving Bowdoin, Dr. McConaughy went first to Dartmouth and then to Knox College, where he became president at the age of 35.

Tuition, Teaching Discussed At Five-College Conference

By Ralph H. Chew '49

Representatives from five New England colleges, including Bowdoin, met recently for the fifth Pentagonal conference at Wesleyan College in Middletown, Conn.

A committee of four from Amherst, Bowdoin, Dartmouth, Williams and Wesleyan assembled on February 26, 27 and 28 to discuss problems peculiar to schools of their location and size.

The most significant subject discussed was the problems brought on by the pressure of inflation. All of the colleges have recently increased or made plans to increase their tuition, and the fear that these colleges would be transformed into "rich man's" colleges was expressed. To offset this threat each college indicated an adjustment of their scholarship policies.

It was remarked that a subsidy of fifty percent was accorded all students of amply endowed schools, and the hope was expressed that some arrangement could be devised so that students who could afford to pay the entire cost of their education would not deprive other students of the subsidizing they require.

Speaking Here

Courtesy of the Portland Press Herald
SEN. TAFT of Ohio who will address students only in his visit next Sunday.

Rabbi Appeals For Cultural Tolerance And World Amity

Rabbi Abraham Jacobson, of Temple Emmanuel in Haverhill, Mass. delivered a Sunday Chapel plea for racial tolerance and understanding.

In introducing the speaker, President Kenneth C. Sills pointed out that it was well to hear an address by a representative of Judaism, as the Christian faith stemmed from the Jewish.

Pleads For Liberalism
Rabbi Jacobson took as his topic the importance of the people of this nation gaining an understanding of the language and cultures of other nations, in order to gain an insight into them and a fuller understanding of them. He stated he was amazed to hear the majority of students in a sociology class at a nearby college raise their voices in protest against the printing of foreign language newspapers in this country.

He also expressed his disapproval of Hollywood's depicting a traitor or a spy against America as an individual with a foreign accent, declaring that foreigners have done much to advance the welfare of this nation in war as well as in peace.

Stresses Tolerance
Rabbi Jacobson feels that the knowledge of foreign languages and cultures give us many windows through which we can look out upon life. If we know only one language and culture, then our vision is limited; we can look through only one window.

The speaker laid particular emphasis on the theme that the more nations come to know and understand each other's philosophy and mode of living, the sooner will be dispelled the international suspicion and discord so prevalent at this time.

Tours for Foreign Students Planned By NSA Leaders

Will Travel to Augusta To Watch Legislature Of Maine in Session

With the establishing of a foreign student aid committee the NSA Committee of the Student Council, meeting last Wednesday, began the first of a series of contemplated projects for the service of Bowdoin students.

The foreign student aid committee was set up for the expressed purpose of making the foreign student's year at Bowdoin a more enriching experience and to aid him in orientating himself to the customs and practices of the American student.

Foreign Student Tours
Among the services planned by this committee to the foreign student will be guided tours to the industrial and historical regions of the State of Maine. The first tour, to be run shortly after Spring vacation, will consist of a visit to the Lewiston textile mills and from there they will travel to Augusta to see the Maine legislature in action and possibly to meet the Governor.

The members of the foreign student aid committee are: Richard E. Loomer '51, Milton Lown '50, Richard H. Tinsley '51, and Roy A. Foulke '50.

The NSA committee also established as a permanent function the library of information on study and travel conditions abroad. The information is available to all Bowdoin students on closed reserve in the library. To aid any student thinking of going abroad, three well informed student councilors are available at all times. The student can save himself much time and effort by calling upon their services. The councilors are Fred W. Willey '47, 23 Winthrop; Fred W. Dawson '51, 28 Maine; and Joseph H. Flather '51, 28 Maine.

The NSA is planning many new projects and invites all Bowdoin students to attend its meetings.

60% Pledge Mark Attained in Week Of Student Drive

According to unofficial figures issued by Samuel Gross '46, who heads the Student Committee of the Sesquicentennial Fund Campaign, sixty percent of the men in ten fraternities reporting have turned in their pledge cards to their student council representatives.

The figure does not include the Theta Delta, the Alpha Delta and the Independents who have placed their method of collecting pledge cards on an advance basis.

Hope To Exceed $500 Average.
The drive will culminate on the Bowdoin campus next Wednesday when the committee hopes to report to Major General Wallace C. Philson '03, General Chairman of the Fund, that one hundred percent of the students have filled out their pledge cards. A goal of $5,000 has been set for the campus quota, but according to Gross, unofficial figures seem to indicate that the average will exceed the $500 requested from each man.

Payments, it is understood, can be made in installments covering a period of two to three years, and no man will be asked for more than one contribution.

Repeating again that men now in college cannot expect to see material results of the campaign during their undergraduate stay, Gross stated that by the next five years initial progress in the realization of the projects contemplated should be witnessed.

Bates Wins Debate As Bowdoin Trails

Bates was the winner of the first intercollegiate debate held by the Maine Colleges at Colby on Saturday, March 6.

The scores of the four colleges participating were Bates 15, Bowdoin 10, Maine 7, and Colby 4.

Debate on the Topic "World Federation"
Bowdoin's affirmative team, comprised of John R. Huprey '50 and John P. Ashley '50, won a split decision from Colby, a unanimous vote from Maine, and lost by a split decision to Bates. The negative team, Merton G. Henry '50 and Everett L. Knight '51, won unanimously from Colby, lost by a split decision to Maine, and lost by a unanimous decision to Bates.

Taking It Literally

Hall Scorns UMT, Assumes Necessity Of U.S. Readiness

"Universal Military Training is a deceptive obvious as a preparatory measure," said Professor Lawrence S. Hall in a chapel address Monday. "Its chief danger lies, perhaps in the tendency Americans will have to relax with the feeling that it solves the problem of preparedness."

Stating at the outset that he assumed the advisability of this nation's preparing itself for an international emergency, Professor Hall said that he doubted the efficacy of "accepting as automatically the sound judgment of professional military men."

UMT Too Sweeping
He pointed out that the temporary regimentation and militarization advocated by military men overlooks the fact that the human race is interested in not mere self-preservation but in worthwhile self-preservation. "The dismissal, subordination, or even the postponement of idealism represents a risk that is not to be calculated more glibly than any other," he said.

In addition to being too sweeping a program, there are two inevitable evils which such a program like UMT "One is the regrettable capacity of the human being to forget what he has been taught. The other is the speed at which his knowledge becomes outmoded by technological progress."

Favors Scientific Nucleus
Professor Hall proposed that UMT be measured against alternative programs such as one in which it would be proposed "to spend that same amount of money enlarging the professional nucleus on which the ultimate citizen's army must rely for training and supervision should an emergency arise."

"This nucleus would include technicians constantly working with the latest scientific developments. In such an investment the law of diminishing returns does not obtain. Yet no military authority has so far told the nation that he has been imaginative enough to weigh it against Universal Military Training, or what practical reasons he has for preferring the latter," he concluded.

Business Call On Vic Reveals Facts Of Catlin Town Election

By Johnson Poor '49

The recent Brunswick town election for too long. In the presidential race next fall Vic would like to see Vandenberg and Stassen as running mates. "They're the only ones that have a chance of getting us out of the mess we're in," he confided. "Can't see Taft or Dewey, too reactionary to suit me."

Vic has written several letters to local and out-of-state newspapers expressing some of his personal views. On March 10, 1947 there appeared under the Voice of the People column in the Portland Press Herald a letter from Vic answering a previous letter by a man who was worried about the recent change in administration in Brunswick. Vic lashed out against the former government of the town, claiming that there was corruption in the police department, and that mismanagement of the government had brought about a large city debt and high taxes. Vic ended the letter with this admonishment: "I want to see Brunswick a good business place to work and live in, with more industries and a lower tax rate—a community for the many and not the few."

Vic told us that he has always been careful about minors drinking in his place. In 1945 he wrote a letter to the college asking co-operation in this matter, and Dean Nixon was glad to help him out. The relations between the college authorities and Vic have always been the best.

Commenting on the charge by college men that Vic's isn't the game as it was before the war, [Continued on Page 4]

"Of Thee I Sing" Cast by Director; April Presentation

Masque and Gown Plays Musical Comedy Plan With Backman in Lead

"Of Thee I Sing", by George Cohan, will be performed by the Masque and Gown on the evening of Monday, April 26, and the afternoon of Saturday, May 1.

The cast, announced Masque and Gown Advisor George H. Quinby, will include Constance Comee as Diana Devereaux, Candide Paquette as Mary Turner, Lucille Maddocks as Miss Benson, Bradlee M. Backman '48 as Lipton, John E. Duffer '50 as Gilholcy, Donald W. Henderson '50 as Fulton, J. Russell Washburne '50 as Lyons, Sherman B. Carpenter '49 as John, H. Berkeley Peabody '50 as Throttlebottom, Ronald S. Potts '50 as Wintergreen, William W. Ingraham '51 as Jenkins, and Donald F. Mortland '50, as the French Ambassador.

Others Are Cast
Also in the cast as wrestlers, justices, sightseers, senators, show girls, scrubwomen, waiters, senate clerks, and newspapermen are Richard C. Hatch '50, William M. Patterson '51, Joshua W. Curtis '50, Harvey S. Jackson '48, Robert C. Bolles '50, Martin Shulman '50, Robert W. Goldermann '47, Douglas S. Littlehale '49, George O. Spencer '51, Laurence A. Westcott '51, John C. Westcott '51, Richard M. Elliott '48, Robert W. Olson '50, and John F. Gustafson '50.

The first reading of the play will take place at 8:10 Thursday, March 18, in Memorial Hall. A tentative schedule of rehearsals will be posted at a later date.

Telephone Vandal Irks Company Man Who Needs Help

An appeal for cooperation in the handling of telephones was recently received by the College from Mr. W. P. Mennealy, manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The coin telephone in Hyde Hall was damaged severely, said Mr. Mennealy, by having its receiver and cord ripped completely off. Since materials are scarce, it may be some time before the instrument may be repaired.

Appeals to Students
"The maintenance of our service and equipment is of prime importance to us," he said, "but it is also costly, especially so in cases where it seems unnecessary. I am therefore, appealing to the students of the college for their co-operation in assisting us in furnishing the telephones service so necessary in our everyday life."

Local Road To Be Rerouted To Restore Unity Of Campus

Town Meeting in Session

Photo By Adams

PRESIDENT SILLS addressing the Brunswick Town meeting last week. The group voted unanimously to accept the College's plan for the relocation of Harpswell Street.

N.Y. SUN Editor To Speak At ORIENT Staff Banquet

Edwin H. Blanchard '17 of the editorial staff of "The New York Sun" will be the principal speaker at the first annual ORIENT dinner on Thursday, April 1, for which arrangements have been announced by Richard A. Wiley '49, Editor-in-Chief.

Ward Cites NSA Activities to Date In Recent Address

Lawrence J. Ward, chairman of the Bowdoin chapter of the National Student Association, set forth the recent actions of the organization of interest to the Bowdoin student body in his chapel talk last Thursday.

He stated that NSA is an organization of college students, formed at Madison, Wisconsin in the summer of 1947, which aims to be all inclusive, non-sectarian, and non-political. He called particular attention to Bowdoin's participation in the establishment of NSA by speaking of Joseph Wheeler '48, who served as Bowdoin's delegate to Madison where he served on the Constitutional Committee.

Bowdoin Plan Adopted
According to Ward, NSA strives to speak for the college students in the 121 schools which have ratified its constitution with respect to such matters as student governments and national and international affairs, keeping a particular eye on improving race relations and providing aid for foreign students.

Three major issues recently discussed at an International Commission Meeting were the Bowdoin Plan for foreign student aid, which met with overwhelming approval, an Easter Tour covering important places of historical, cultural, and educational significance in New England, and the problem of the NSA stand on impending national legislation. NSA refuses to take a stand on such a matter as UMT as it is the only student organization of sufficient strength and liberality to be of service to students both here and abroad. As charter members of NSA, Bowdoin students can supply it with the right kind of leadership to keep it truly representative of the students of America.

Summer Schedule Features Electives

A broad and attractive choice of courses on the upper class level will be offered by the college during the coming summer trimester according to Professor Herbert R. Brown, chairman of the Summer School Committee.

The college, said Professor Brown, wishes to attract as many undergraduates from other schools as possible so that together with the Bowdoin men, the enrollment might be in the vicinity of 600.

Catalogue Issued Soon
The faculty for the summer term will be made up of some of the regular Bowdoin faculty supplemented by instructors from other schools. A catalog supplement listing all courses to be offered during the trimester and giving a description of new courses and those that differ with the regular catalog description will be issued soon.

Harpswell Street Course Altered By Town Meeting

The plan for the relocation of Harpswell Street proposed by President Kenneth C. M. Sills at the Brunswick town meeting on Saturday was accepted without a dissenting voice.

The proposal called for the discontinuing of the section of Harpswell Street between its intersection with College Street and its intersection with Bath Street, and the building of a new section from Federal Street to the junction of College and Harpswell Streets.

Work to Begin Soon
The College officials and the Building and Grounds Committee will begin work as soon as possible on the project. The relocation of Harpswell Street will enable the Delta to become a part of the College campus and will eliminate the traffic hazards caused by the division of the campus.

The petition presented by the college to the town stated that the College will pay for and install a traffic light at the point where the proposed Harpswell Street will join the present intersection of Bath and Federal Streets. In addition the present entrance to the campus from Bath Street will be used only as an exit in the future, and an adequately lighted sidewalk will be provided by the College along the relocated section of Harpswell Street.

In line with the Sesquicentennial Fund Drive, the area will be utilized for some of the proposed campus buildings. The Fund Drive Headquarters has listed the immediate building needs as a new classroom building, chemistry building, covered hockey rink, college theatre, and an arctic museum.

Glee Club Ready For Spring Trip, To Leave March 23

The Glee Club last night helped the Portland Symphony Orchestra celebrate its 25th anniversary in a program heard here a week ago. Winding up their home engagements with the two Portland Symphony concerts and the Bradford Junior Concert, the Glee Club will start on its Spring tour next Thursday.

The Club will give three concerts next week, beginning at Concord on Thursday, Bridgewater on Friday, and in East Orange, N. J. Saturday.

To Perform For President
The last two concerts will be held in New York and Washington, D. C., on March 22 and March 23. Following the Washington concert, the Club will be received Wednesday at the White House by Mrs. Truman.

All the concerts will feature Randall Thompson's "Testament of Freedom" and the impressionistic "A Stopwatch and an Ordnance Map".

"Sprig Of Ivy" A Rare Party As Bradford Ladies Help Out

By Bernard D. Barton '50

"A Sprig Of Ivy" was the apt and colorful name given by "George Jones" to this past weekend. To the majority of Bowdoin students the term "baby houseparty" would have been just as appropriate, but a few of our college brethren managed to extend the weekend to meet the specifications of a "mansize houseparty."

As these lucky collegians sped down to the station to meet their dates last Friday night their nervousness portrayed the energy of the whole college. In the fraternity houses the cleanup committees were doing the last minute jobs in preparation for the coming party. The boys expecting dates on Saturday were seriously discussing whether it was better to go to the flicks and then to Vic's, or just to go to Vic's. Gradually the fraternity bars began to fill up. The various groups became gayer and the athletic couples arrived from the Interscholastic Swimming Meet in which six Maine records were broken.

The cry "Bradford's here" signaled the event which the masses of Bowdoin were apprehensively waiting for. At the arrival of Bradford Junior College, members of the Glee Club and other fortunate scurried across campus wondering at which of their blind dates would look like.

The concert was a tremendous success. The audience appreciated the fine performance given by the Bradford and Bowdoin Glee Clubs, going so far as to bestow that highest of all Bowdoin tributes, the traditional "wooding". The climax of a fine weekend was the Student Union Dance featuring the loud, flamboyant, but danceable music of Bob Warren. The gym was highly presentable and attractive through the efforts of Medames Worth, Dobrowsky, Leavitt, and Cole, representing the Bowdoin Wives Association, and through the support of Messrs. Keefe, Blake, Washburn, and Hutton, acting in behalf of the Student Union Committee. The combination of a good band and a tastefully decorated gym served to make the dance a tremendous success.

[Continued on Page 3]

Campus Survey ... Firebucket, Hour Glass, Pen For "Little Rollo" Stories Above

By Charles T. Dillaway '49

"It will shortly prove a treasure, indeed," gushed a reporter, musingly, as he referred to the Abbott Memorial Collection in Hubbard Hall. Expecting to find a cache of forgotten Gutenberg Bibles, I rushed to the library and begged to see the Abbott Room.

I was escorted up forty-eight steps and dropped into a chair exhausted when I reached the first room in the tower. The room was quite bare. There was only a desk and several bookshelves with some ancient textbooks on them.

"Is this the Abbott Collection?" I asked, thoroughly disappointed. "No, no," said the keeper of the tower, "it's up one more flight." He opened what looked like a closet door and revealed a circular staircase extending up into the gloom.

We proceeded up these and came out in the top room of the tower. The keeper explained to me that the collection was made by several descendants of the "more famous Abbotts." I looked at some portraits of "famous Abbotts" and then examined a genealogical chart labeled "Pedigree of the Family of Abbott or Abbot or Abbot of Suffolk and Surrey."

I was then shown some books by the Abbotts. The most prolific writer of the family was Jacob Abbott who won fame in the last century for his "Little Rollo" books. After perusing the books on "Little Rollo," I realized that compared with his travels, those of Marco Polo and Eleanor Roosevelt are like a trip to the corner drugstore. Rollo literally went everywhere. The keeper added proudly that Bowdoin has the best collection of the "Little Rollo" series in existence. Besides writing about "Little Rollo," Jacob attempted more sedate subjects such as "The Young Christian" and "Gentle Measures in the Training of the Young."

I gazed on several original manuscripts and moved on to a group of various Abbott relics. I made a list of some of this religiously preserved bric-a-brac: one empty firebucket, a half dozen letter openers (the Abbotts had more letters in a week than Mary Haworth gets in a year), a lock of hair, a gold watch, an hour glass, and the gold pen with which the "Little Rollo" sagas were written.

I had seen the Abbott Collection quite thoroughly when I realized that I hadn't seen any Gutenberg Bible although there was a book entitled on the front cover, "The Abbott's Great Work" which when opened proved to be a "Pictorial New Testament with Notes by The Abbotts."

As we descended my escort remarked wistfully that in past years the Abbott Room had been a favorite place to show to house-party dates. "Hm," I thought as I left the building, "maybe that reporter was right. It could be a treasure, at that." I looked back at the tower and saw for the first time a gargoyles on the left side. "Keep your mind on more intellectual things," he muttered at me and then he drooled an icicle. It's still there. Look and see.

New Chapel Books To Appear Shortly Planned by Group

By Joshua W. Curtis '50

A new hymn and responsive reading book will probably be in use for chapel services before the end of the semester according to Professor Ernst C. Helmreich, chairman of the Committee on Religious Activity.

The urgent need for a responsive reading book to replace the old red-covered book now in use in the chapel came up before a meeting of the Board of Trustees and Overseers in February. At that time a sum of $500 was appropriated to purchase new books, and President Kenneth C. M. Sills referred the matter to the Committee on Religious Activity, which, in addition to Professor Helmreich, includes Professor Athern P. Daggett, Professor William C. Root, Professor Perley S. Turner, Professor Henry G. Russell, and Mr. Philip S. Wilder.

Sub-Committee Chosen

A sub-committee was appointed by Professor Helmreich to look into the matter of choosing a new responsive book and to make recommendations. This committee, headed by Professor Russell, and assisted by Professor Root and Mr. Wilder, immediately took up the task of finding a suitable book. It was discovered that no book of responses was in print, and that the cost of reproducing the present volume was prohibitive.

Reporting its findings to the full committee, the sub-committee advised the purchase of a combination hymnal and responsive book. At the present time several such books are under consideration by the committee, and in the near future it is expected that the choice will be made, and the books ordered.

Need for Response Books

There has been a need for new response books for some time. The present ones, which have been in use for approximately twenty years, are not only badly worn, but are insufficient in number. There are, by count, seventy-two books located in the chapel at present time, and there should be at least two hundred in order that there be a book for the use of every two students.

The volume now being used was written for "the chapel of Harvard University" by Henry Van Dyke, well-known writer and Professor of English at Princeton. Professor Van Dyke, who preached in "The Brick Church" in New York City, was heard at Bowdoin in a Sunday afternoon chapel address shortly before the first World War.

"Sprig of Ivy"

[Continued From Page 1]

After the dance another old tradition, that of "touring the Houses," was upheld by a number of dates and their escorts. Most of the Houses had record dances accompanied by the usual sing groups, but the Dukes boasted of a quartet comprised of piano, drums, trumpet and saxophone, while the ATO's secured the services of a juke-box for the evening. The TD's, still trying to get a Greenwich Village reputation, enticed several of the boys to a late jam session.

The conclusion of the weekend fell swiftly for many, though, as Bradford left early Sunday morning and the other dates soon after. As if symbolic of the departure of the fair sex the grey skies opened to let the deluge of snow cover the bleak wastelands of Bowdoin's campus.

1943, he resigned to give his full time to United China Relief, of which he was president. During the war years he was active as director of Education in the Office of Strategic Services. Governor McConaughy was ill with influenza on Friday, and was taken to the hospital on Sunday. He died that afternoon, at 2:45 p.m.

Sun Editor Here

[Continued From Page 1]

the administration will be represented by Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick and Mr. Philip S. Wilder, Assistant to the President. Professors Wilmot B. Mitchell, Roscoe J. Ham, Thomas C. Van Cleave, Athern P. Daggett, and Philip M. Brown will attend as past or present faculty directors of the Bowdoin Publishing Company.

Also invited from the faculty of the English Department, in addition to Professor Herbert R. Brown, are Professors Stanley P. Chase and Lawrence S. Hall.

Journalists to Attend
Mr. Paul K. Niven '16, editor and publisher of "The Brunswick Record," Mr. Jerry Wilkes, also of "The Record," Mr. Harry Shulman, local Associated Press correspondent, Fenton, and a number of Bowdoin men on the staffs of the "Portland Press-Herald" and "Evening Express," will represent the professional journalism field. William Robertson, editor-in-chief of the "Maine Annex" will also attend.

April 1 marks the end of the fiscal and publishing volume of the seventy-seventh year of ORIENT publication. First appearing in 1871, the ORIENT has, unlike most college newspapers maintained publication, though on a curtailed basis, during both World Wars.

McConaughy Dies

[Continued From Page 1]

of 31. From Knox he went on to Wesleyan, where he also became president in 1925. During the 18 year period he headed Wesleyan he took a two year leave of absence to serve as Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut. Finally, in

Take Notice

Chapel Speaker

Rev. Alfred W. Stone, of the Class of 1910, will be the speaker in chapel on Sunday, March 14. Mr. Stone was a leader of the Glee Club, Chapel Choir, and Quartet, as well as a winner of the Alexander Prize Speaking Contest in his senior year.

NSA

There will be an important meeting of the NSA Committee tonight, March 10, in Conference Room of the Moulton Union at 8:30. Fraternities are again urged to send two interested members as representatives.

Theta Delta Chi Officers

Mark T. Vokey '50 was elected president of Theta Delta Chi in an election on March 4. Other officers chosen were Alan C. Bugbee '48, recording secretary, Mack Walker '50, corresponding secretary, James B. Draper Jr. '50, treasurer, and Joseph F. Britton '51, herald.

Marine Platoon Leaders

Capt. J. P. Lynch, USMC, will be in 19 Winthrop Hall on Wednesday, March 10, from 10:00 to 12:00 and from 1:30 to 4:30, to interview students interested in the Marine Corps Reserve Platoon Leaders Program. Freshmen and sophomores from the ages of 17 to 25 are especially invited to investigate the program, which will involve summer training at Quantico, Va., in preparation for a reserve commission in the Marine Corps.

St. Patrick's Day Chapel

Donald D. Steele '50 will sing "The Wearing of the Green" in chapel on St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

Stanley Plummer Prize

Trials for the Stanley Plummer Prize, consisting of the annual income of $1055, will be held on Tuesday, March 6. This prize is awarded for "excellence in original and spoken composition in the English language on the part of the members of the Junior Class."

Letter to Editor ...

Augerson's Garb Admired by Crook

To the Editor of the ORIENT:

Although I have no desire to discredit the admirable effort of the BCA in collecting clothes for the needy of Europe, and for veterans in hospitals, I feel that it may be of interest to note, in this, the year of the Sesquicentennial Drive, that there among the undergraduates of this college, thieves who would rob the poor.

The future leaders of our nation seem to feel that charity begins at home, for of the two pairs of trousers, two shirts and five ties which I donated to the drive, only one pair of trousers, one shirt and one tie remain in the collection box of Maine Hall.

I regret that I have been forced to reveal the amount of my donation. I hope that as much of an effort will be expended in the "New Bowdoin" in producing honest citizens as in maintaining a winning hockey team.

Regretfully,
William S. Augerson '47
March 7, 1948

Fullbright's Plan Induces Travellers

American college students were represented at the fourth meeting of the U. S. national commission for UNESCO in Washington in February by two executive officers of the National Student Association (NSA).

Student interest at the conference centered on the resolutions passed as recommendations to the state department which involve getting student ships for the coming summer for foreign study and travel. Another recommendation to the state department called for stimulating American participation in international cultural meetings. Both resolutions indicate the desire of the national commission to promote international academic and cultural exchange.

Fullbright Act

The Fullbright Act provides for international scholarship exchange. Applications are being temporarily handled through the International Institute of Education. Eventually, however, the scholarships will be administered through a non-governmental board of Foreign scholarship which includes Prof. Helen White, University of Wisconsin; Dr. Martin Maguire, head of the School of Education at Catholic University, Washington; and Dr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education and Lawrence E. Duggan.

CRUMBS

By Crumpwell

If the recent week-end was only a "Sprig of Ivy" as advertised, we hate to think what will be produced by the full-grown vine which traditionally appears early in May. All at once things went from bad (there were Ec, Biology and Paych exams Saturday) to good (the women came early and eagerly), to bad (Sundays always are), to worse (more hour exams this week.)

It looked as though it would all be routine — a concert, a small dance and a two o'clock deadline. But it wasn't. We could tell when saturated couples appeared late at Mem Hole only to depart early to resaturate themselves. We could tell when the ban on stags was lifted at the dance. We could tell when cries of ecstasy were heard over at the "Ram Pasture" at dawn. We could tell when a chaperone said, "they were a grand group of girls — they were so quiet at two-thirty that you wouldn't have believed there was a soul in the house." There wasn't — except that chaperone. It was far from routine.

There was the spurned lover who was asked if he was singing a solo at the concert: "No," he growled, "I play second fiddle."

Unconfirmed rumors: An English prof was almost taught some punctuation, but a friend stepped in to save him. A desk caught fire in Maine Hall, from overuse — the user wears a gaudy desk-lamp sunburn. The Alumni Room was desecrated. Known facts: The infirmary was besieged by the usual crew of miscreants. Sunday meals were not universally eaten.

The Hon. "Young Bob" Taft's appearance Sunday should be of interest. His understanding that he will address only "a group of students" may be significant. Stassen pulled no punches in his recent visit and, so far as we are concerned, the Senator from Ohio must be as outspoken as his little appeal for votes is to be considered. We hope that his liberal views may remain unexpressed in this "hot-bed of conservatism."

Weekly report on Kinsey Report re. interest at Smith College: The Smith girls are evidently too busy verifying their findings to do any more reading. "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male" has dropped off the Hampshire House best-seller list at last. We understand, too, that professional sanction is now needed if one of the girls wants it — the book.

ADA Advocates Liberalism, Scorns Wallace Party, UMT

By Charles L. Erickson '48

Piercing the thick haze of smoke that filled every possible bit of space in the magnificent ballroom of the Bellevue Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia, the voice of Wilson Wyatt, the National Chairman of the ADA, called together all liberals and urged them to carry on a middle of the road policy towards all economic and political affairs.

This was the second convention of the Americans for Democratic Action, the first having convened on March 29, 30, 1947 in Washington, D. C.; but this was the first convention of liberals ever to achieve such varied purposes.

Mr. Wyatt, former National Housing Expediter, informed the 600 odd delegates from forty states of the union, that in the past year, the ADA had grown to 192 active chapters, 102 of these being campus organizations of the SDA (Students for Democratic Action).

In the afternoon of the convention's first day, three commissions met to draw up a positive program on domestic, foreign and political policies. The three members of the Bowdoin chapter of SDA who were there as official delegates took part, along with all the other delegates, in voicing their opinions as to what should be the final statements on the adopted platforms.

Heading the Commission on Domestic Policy was William E. Day, former War Labor Board Chairman, who led the group in favoring President Truman's proposals on Civil Rights, "foreign aid to public education, conditioned upon the abandonment of discrimination and racial segregation in public institutions," "the right of workers to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing", and, in regards to production and employment urging the federal government to set "balanced production targets for the whole economy ... in cooperation with business, labor, and farmers."

Bowdoin or Fraternity T Shirts — $1.19

Part Wool Gym Socks — 50c

Bowdoin or Fraternity Belt Buckles — $2.25 $2.75

Chemistry Handbooks Now Available

ALL STUDENTS WISHING TO ORDER OUTSIDE READING BOOKS FOR ENGLISH 26 MUST ORDER AS SOON AS POSSIBLE IN ORDER TO HAVE BOOKS AVAILABLE WHEN NEEDED

MOULTON UNION STORE

White,
team,
white!

You'll cheer for Van Heusen
white shirts

The cheering section's growing every day! Rich oxford and broad-cloths feature low-setting "Comfort Contour" collar styling in many smart collar models. Plus Van Heusen magic seamanship: action-tailored, figure-tapered fit; tug-proof pearl buttons, laboratory-tested, Sanforized fabrics. See them today.

3.50 to 4.95

LECLAIR & SON Men's Shop

84 Maine Street

Upstairs

OUTFITTERS TO COLLEGE MEN

GRAY FLANNEL

As to college men — suits may come and go — but the gray flannel goes on and on. For casual or dress-up occasions you'll enjoy the design and appearance of these Benoit Flannels — doubly so because of their sensible price.

$40

It's BENOIT'S for ARROW SHIRTS

Benoit's

Santer Building

Brunswick

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII Wednesday, March 10, 1948 No. 23

Editor-in-Chief Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors John H. Nichols, Jr. '49, David Crowell '49
News Editors William S. Augerson '47, Richard P. Dugan '49, Charles T. Dillaway '49
Feature Editor Frederick W. Wiley Jr. '47
Sports Editor George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor Robert J. Waldron '50
Reporters: Harvey S. Jackson '48, Ralph H. Chew '49, Roger Hupper '49, William N. Irving '49, Roger L. Kewin '49, George Parades '49, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Bernard W. Earlen '50, Joshua W. Curtis, Jr. '50, Herbert L. Gould '50, Nelson D. Payne '50, Richard N. Coffin '51, Robert F. Corlies '51, George M. Fox '51, William J. Nightingale '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51
Photographers Roger Hupper '49, Harry E. Adams '51, Edward J. McCuskey '51
Cartoonists William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager Alfred J. Waxler '47
Circulation Managers C. Craig Ryder '49, Francis R. Currie '50
Business Assistants: Philip R. Burrill '48, Arthur H. Showalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Balston, Jr. '49, Norman A. Galt '49, Joseph H. White '49, John P. Aubrey II '50, John Blatchford '51, Prescott H. Pardee '51, William J. Nightingale.

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors Professor Athern P. Daggett, Richard A. Wiley '49, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, Edward S. Early '49
News Editor for this issue Frederick W. Wiley, Jr. '47

RESERVED FOR NATIONAL ADVERTISING BY
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 MADISON AVE. NEW YORK, N. Y.
CHICAGO • CINCINNATI • LOS ANGELES • SAN FRANCISCO

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and subscription communications to the Business Manager of the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Brunswick, Maine. Business notices on second class matter at the post office at Brunswick, Maine. The subscription rate for one year is two ($2) dollars.

McClelland's

POLAR BEARINGS

Series Hoop Records Prove White Inferior

Becoming statistically minded, a look at the scoring records just released by the State Series Basketball Office indicates clearly the inferiority of the Big White quintet to the other three Maine schools. Collectively, Bowdoin's five tallied 170 field goals to place them last, seven behind third place Colby. Bowdoin has 85 times, 23 behind third place Colby. Bowdoin's average per game was 47.2 which put them 3.1 points behind third place Colby. In all instances Bates and Maine won 1-2 in scoring were far ahead of the Mules.

Individually, the only Bowdoin man to break into the first ten scorers was Sid Connolly whose 125 points placed him fourth with an average of 13.9. Maine had four men in the top ten. Bates three and Colby two. Bill Simpson of Bates led the state with 163 points and an 18.1 average with Bob Gates of Maine the runner up with 149.

Bowdoin's position as doormat on the basketball court has lasted too long to be ignored. This Bowdoin team that finished a bad last in the series standings will return on mass next year, but there is no indication that the situation will improve. Something has to be done now! If something drastic is not accomplished Bowdoin may just as well forget the sport.

Winter Sports Escutcheon Bright

Despite scarcity of victories on the varsity and junior varsity basketball escutcheons, Bowdoin's winter sports program must be regarded as successful for an overall picture of the four major winter sports including varsity, junior varsity and Freshman teams reveals a record of 45 victories 34 defeats and one tie. For a school of 1000 men to field four major teams in addition to numerous sports, to have one of them undefeated and two battling for top New England honors is little short of amazing.

A breakdown of these figures sends the track teams of Jack Magee and Frank Sabasteanski to the head of the class. The varsity won three times, the Jayvees one and the Frosh on five occasions all without tasting defeat. Danny MacFayden's hockey sextets compiled a 12 and 4 record. The varsity won six times out of nine, earning a berth in the New England League Play-offs and the junior varsity, coached by Don Davis lost only once in seven starts.

The swimming teams of Bob Miller contributed 10 victories 5 setbacks and a tie. The powerful varsity won six out of eight dual affairs and will bid for New England leadership Saturday. The junior varsity compiled a four and three card with a tie with Brunswick High along on the docket.

Zetes Given Edge In Fraternity Meet On Friday Evening

By Edward R. Murphy '49
Barring unforeseen circumstances, the Inter-fraternity Track Meet, scheduled for Friday night in the Hyde Cage, should be closest in the long history of the event for anyone of these houses, Chi Psi, Zeta Psi, or Delta Upsilon could win and in all probability the outcome will be decided in the relay.

If any house is to be installed as the favorite, the honor goes to the Zetes. Led by Joe Woods, Don Gould, Marty Lee, John Sabasteanski, and Joe Vacciano the Zetes will rely mainly on second and third places. The D.U.'s again will bank on Captain Matt Branche for a majority of their points with Dick Wiley, Jay Snape and Bill Davis contributing the rest. The Chi Psi are at present handicapped by injuries to potential scorers in Lin Martin and Ed Murphy, but it is possible that the brawn of weightmen Al Nicholson, Phil Parsons and Len Sautter combined with polevaulter John Nichols can squeeze out a mild upset.

Though these three houses are favored, the T.D.'s, Psi U's, A.T.O.'s, Dekes, Sigma Nu's and Beta's will have a lot to say about the final outcome by cutting into the scores of the "big three".

The 40 yard dash will be close with Mack Holmes, A.R.U.; Bob Swann, A.T.O.; and Matt Branche battling for top honors. The D.U. kingpin, Branche should have little trouble in the hurdles. Marty Lee, Zete, is the logical runner-up in both highs and lows, but Bob McAvoy, Sigma Nu, will press him in the latter and Earl Briggs, the durable T.D., is a threat in both events.

The 440 should be one of the feature events, marking the first time the varsity relay team will be pitted against one another. The starting post will mean everything for Briggs, Swann, Harvey, Jackson, Independent; Al Brown, Independent; and Carroll Newhouse, Psi U.

The outcome of the 880 will depend a great deal on how well rested Jackson and Gould are from previous efforts. Dick Schrack, Wiley, and George McClelland, A.T.O.; will make the favorites hustle. Dwight Adams, an ineligible transfer from Springfield will probably surprise a lot of people with victories in both the mile and 2 mile. Woods, Gould and McClelland will provide competition but aren't in the same class with Adams.

D. D. Gardner Co.

SPORTING - ATHLETIC RECREATION EQUIPMENT
Near Fire Station

MIKE'S PLACE

HOT DOGS
BOTTLED BEER
ITALIAN SANDWICHES
Phone 974-M for delivery
Maine Street Brunswick Maine

Scoring the Meet

40 Yard Dash — First, Holmes, A.R.U.; second, Swann, A.T.O.; third, Branche, D.U. Time: 11.7 seconds.
44 Yard Dash — First, Branche, D.U.; second, McAvoy, S.N.; third, Lee, Zeta. Time: 14.4 seconds.
45 Yard High Hurdles — First, Branche, D.U.; second, Lee, Zeta; third, Briggs, T.D. Time: 6.1 seconds.
44 Yard Run — First, Briggs, T.D.; second, Jackson, Ind.; third, Swann, A.T.O. Time: 5.4 seconds.
1 Mile Run — First, Adams, T.D.; second, Gould, Zeta; third, Woods, Zeta. Time: 4:12.3.
2 Mile Run — First, Adams, T.D.; second, Woods, Zeta; third, McClelland, A.T.C. Time: 10:26.
Relay — First, Independents; second, Zeta; third, D.U.'s. Time: 2:12.4.
Shot Put — First, Nicholson, C.P.; second, Draper, T.D.; third, Parsons, C.P. Distance: 46 feet 3 inches.
Discus — First, Nicholson, C.P.; second, Vach, Zeta; third, Parsons, C.P. Distance: 127 feet 9 inches.
35 Pound Weight — First, Parsons, C.P.; second, Fortin, S.N.; third, Nicholson, C.P. Distance: 49 feet 7 inches.
High Jump — First, Branche, D.U.; second, Emerson, Ind.; third, Barron, Ind. Height: 5 feet 10 inches.
Broad Jump — First, Branche, D.U.; second, Press, Zeta; third, Swann, A.T.O. Distance: 11 feet 2 inches.
Pole Vault — First, Nichols, C.P.; second, Cross, Zeta; third, Lovejoy, Beta. Height: 11 feet 6 inches.

36 Schools to Enter Annual Track Event

Bowdoin's 32nd annual Inter-scholastic Track Meet will be held Saturday afternoon in the Hyde Athletic Building with thirty high school teams and six prep school units on hand.

The meet has in the past produced many classy performances by some of the stars of eastern track and field and this year's field is expected to prove bigger than ever before. Cups will be presented for high scorers in both high school and prep divisions with a plaque awarded to the winning team in both classes.

The list of entries:
HIGH SCHOOL DIVISION — Portland, Lewiston, Fryburg Academy, Caribou, Snowdon, Bangor, Waterville, Truro, South Portland, Brunswick, Deering, Cony, Lincoln Academy, East from Maine, Lawrence, Newton, East, English, Concord, Fitchburg, Lynn Classical, Malden Catholic, Cambridge High, Cambridge Latin, Biddeford, (from Massachusetts), Dover, Portsmouth, (New Hampshire), Hops, Mt. Pleasant, Litchfield, (from Rhode Island).
PREP SCHOOL DIVISION — Huntington School, (from Connecticut), Phillips Exeter, Maine Central Institute, Roxbury Latin, Choate.

In the field events, Branche, Nicholson and Parsons will be standouts. The D.U. bulwark is a cinch in both high and broad jumps. Nicholson is assured first in the discus and shot put while Parsons will top the 35 pound weight field. Sabasteanski and Vacciano will add valuable points in the weights to the Zete total. Nichols and Ken Cross, Zeta, will resume their rivalry in the pole vault.

Last on the list of events but first in crowd appeal will be the relay. The Independent quartet of Jackson, Brown, Demecians and Barron should be favored but, the Zetes, D.U.'s and Psi U. are possible winners.

Frosh Team Tops On Year's Record; Scoring Tallied

Unofficial scoring records of Bowdoin's 1947-48 varsity basketball squad show Sid Connolly as the Polar Bears' most effective marksman of the season with 207 points, an average of almost 14 a game.

Connolly heads scoring in a dismal season which saw the Big White drop 12 out of 16 decisions. In losing all but one state series contest the Polar Bears wound up a bad last in the state for the second straight year. All four wins were at home.

Player	Games	FG	P
Connolly	18	82	207
Pandora	16	58	154
Schmidt	16	50	114
Deane	10	32	79
Spears	16	24	59
Tyler	14	22	52
Zdanowicz	16	16	41
All	12	4	11
M. MacDonald	12	4	11
Tobey	12	4	11
Potter	9	3	7
Reimer	8	3	7
Morrison	2	1	1
Hill	1	0	0
Lundwall	2	0	0
Sibby	1	0	0
L. MacDonald	1	0	0

Curt Foster's 121 points gave him the top rung of the Jayvee basketball team's scoring ladder according to unofficial statistics recently released.

Foster was the only man to top 100 points for the Big White seconds who won only three times in twelve starts. George Hickey gained the second position with 98 markers.

Player	Games	FG	P
Foster	11	49	121
Hickey	10	39	98
Tobey	9	35	84
Foehan	10	32	79
Morrison	8	26	61
Leonard	7	2	17
Piper	9	17	43
Reimer	8	7	17
Levere	5	7	17
Sibson	5	3	8
M. MacDonald	2	3	7
Merrill	2	3	7
L. MacDonald	2	2	5
Martin	2	2	5
Hill	1	1	2
Gould	1	1	2
McCarthy	2	1	2
Burke	2	0	2
Chapman	1	0	0
Huen	1	0	0
Tyler	1	0	0

Norm Hubley and Bill Prentiss were the big point producers for Bowdoin's Freshmen hoopsters according to unofficial figures which show Hubley leading the way with 144 points and Prentiss as runner-up with 130.

Player	Games	FG	P
Hubley	11	56	144
Prentiss	11	50	130
Siro	11	30	73
Barr	11	18	39
Williams	1	1	2
Horlock	10	10	21
Hikel	6	5	13
San Orden	7	3	8
Landwall	2	1	4
Kelley	4	0	1
Kemp	2	0	0
Emerson	2	0	0
Wine	2	0	0
Carlson	2	0	0
Murtha	4	0	0
Baker	4	0	0
Schmidt	2	0	0

HARVARD SUMMER SCHOOL OF ARTS, SCIENCES, AND EDUCATION

June 28 to August 21, 1948

Coeducational — Graduate and Undergraduate Courses
Veterans may enroll under G.I. Bill
Dormitory Accommodations and Cafeteria Service
(Engineering courses available in Graduate School of Engineering Summer Term)

Address: Department O, 9 Wadsworth House
Harvard University, Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

Competitors in Boston Tourney

BOWDOIN HOCKEY TEAM which competed in Boston this week in the playoffs for the New England Intercollegiate Championship.

Bowdoin Conceded Chance To Cop New England Swim

The swimming team's last competition as a unit for the season will be Saturday at the New England Championships which are to be held at the M.I.T. pool in Cambridge, unless a pending strike of the Tech grounds crew switches the place of the meet.

After a week's rest the Bowdoin natators should be in top form, and with a little luck and help from other teams the Big White could quite conceivably beat the Williams powerhouse out for the championship. The Ephraim are definitely not the team they were last year and Bowdoin's concentration of power in a few events make the possibility not too remote. This year will undoubtedly see a better meet than last March's Purple walkaway in their home pool.

Medley Team Tops

Bowdoin's medley relay is still tops in the league with Merrow, Soltysiak and McGowan. In the 220 Ingraham and the Ephraim's Baldwin and Lambert will pace each other ahead of the rest of the field. The same trio will probably repeat in the quarter with Ingraham a possible winner for Bowdoin in either or both events. The 50 will be a mad scramble with Pete Grant the Bowdoin hope. In the dive, Len Gath will push last year's leaders, Sevilla and Campbell of Springfield, if he is on and gets his right hurdle. The century is bound to be nip and tuck, but Bowdoin doesn't figure to finish in the money. The 150 yard backstroke will be a battle between Wineman of Williams and the White captain Adin Merrow with the probability that the latter will win again in record time. The closest race will be the breaststroke with Brown's Milt Brier installed as favorite and Soltysiak and several others battling to upset him. The 300 yard medley swim, the toughest race in the books where swimmers have to go a hundred yards each on breast, back and crawl, should see Soltysiak and Merrow go 1-2 well ahead of the field. Williams should win the final relay in a breeze but the next four places will be hotly contested.

Portland High Swims To 6-Record Victory

Portland High's swimming powerhouse, broke six records and rolled up 88 points to splash to an easy victory in the Maine Inter-scholastic swimming meet held in the Curtis Pool Friday with Edward Little, Brunswick and Deering in that order following in their wake.

Records Lowered
Gil Wishart and Dick Lucas each lowered two marks. Warren Knowles and the 200 yard relay team accounted for the others in the Blue route. Portland grabbed all of the eight first places and proved their depth by adding an assortment of second and thirds to amass their total. In conjunction to the schoolboy meet the Dunbar Memorial Trophy

B.C., B.U. Defeat Bowdoin Sextet In Boston Tourney

Northeastern Victim Of B. C. in Finals, 6-4; Bears Outclassed

Bowdoin's varsity hockey team found the ice units of two greater Boston teams too much for them in the New England League Play-offs as they fell before Boston College, 10-1, Monday night at the Arena and then came back the next evening to be overwhelmed by Boston University 18-4 in a consolation clash.

The New England crown went to B. C., which downed Northeastern, 6-4 in the finals. In the opening round clash with the B. C. Eagles the Polar Bears were almost rushed off their feet from start to finish by an aggressive combine which piled up an early lead, and then coasted through most of the last period. The Big White increased their goal production against B.U., but the Terriers were in a scoring mood themselves and peppered Jim Draper with rubber. Captain Ed Leason, Dick Archibald, Phil Burke and Art Bonzagni accounted for Bowdoin's counters.

The lineup:
Bowdoin: Dwyer, G. Smith, Ireland, rd. Glasman, rd. Jursalevich, c. Gibson, c. Archibald, rw. Bell, ls. Robinson, ls. Leason, fw.
Boston U.: Dwyer, G. Smith, Ireland, rd. Glasman, rd. Jursalevich, c. Gibson, c. Archibald, rw. Bell, ls. Robinson, ls. Leason, fw.

Bowdoin Spares: Daley, Stanwood, Haskell, Crockett, Bonzagni, Burke, Packard, Clark, Langham.
Boston U. Spares: Kirtane, Cleary, Dockrell, Forbes, Nixon, Clopeck, Haynes, Grant, Jursalevich.
First Period:
1. B. U. Robinson (Bell-Glasman) 1:50.
2. B. U. Anderson (Cleary-Forbes) 4:45.
3. B. U. Grant (Cleary) 4:54.
4. B. U. Gibson (Cleary-Dockrell) 11:45.
5. B. U. Clopeck (Haynes-Anderson) 14:57.
6. B. U. Haynes (Anderson-Grant) 17:45.
7. B. U. Grant (Haynes-Nixon) 18:57.
8. B. U. Anderson (Grant-Bell) 19:54.
Second Period:
9. Bowdoin, Archibald (Leason-Bonzagni) 1:16.
10. B. U. Nixon (Jursalevich) 7:17.
11. B. U. Clopeck (Glasman-Nixon) 8:54.
12. Bowdoin, Burke 10:46.
13. B. U. Haynes (Gibson) 11:58.
14. B. U. Clopeck (Haynes-Anderson) 12:51.
15. B. U. Nixon (Clopeck) 17:48.
Third Period:
16. B. U. Gibson (Bell-Robinson) 7:53.
17. Bowdoin, Leason (Pfle-Archibald) 8:32.
18. B. U. Dockrell (Cleary) 10:32.
19. B. U. Kirtane (Cleary) 12:21.
20. B. U. Nixon 14:44.
21. B. U. Robinson (Gibson) 18:12.
22. Bowdoin, Bonzagni (Haskell) 19:02.
Penalties:
Bowdoin: 2, Grant, Haynes, Bonzagni, Anderson, Kirtane, Gibson, Clark, Pfe, Jursalevich.
References: Cleary, Rowe.

Backstroke was run off. This race was initiated by the parents of Roger - Dunbar, Bowdoin backstroke and one-time captain of the Polar Bear swimmers who was killed in action in the war. In the competition Friday night the best time in the event was turned in by Adin Merrow, 1:28.6, who led Bill Ingraham to the finish.

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Admits Men and Women
Registration
Day and Evening Programs — September 13 to 15, 1948
Early application is necessary
Veterans accepted under G. I. Bills.
47 MT. VERNON STREET BOSTON 6, MASSACHUSETTS
Telephone KEmmora 6-3900

"YUP... YUP... YUP"

Sounds like a fine idea
... if you're not doing anything else, that is. Get a touch of local color and listen to "Do You Know Maine?" ... as a matter of fact, we think it's rather interesting.

SUNDAY 12:30 Noon WGAN
MONDAY 8:00 p.m. WCOU

Sponsored by

THE BATES MANUFACTURING CO.

What a Record! ... It's ART MOONEY'S hot arrangement of "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover"

"Four leaf clover" has turned into a real four leaf clover for Art Mooney. His record is keeping juke in clover.

An experienced hand in the music biz—Art follows that famous experience rule in the choice of a cigarette, too. "I've smoked many different brands and compared," says Art, "and Camels suit me best."

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience!"

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, North Carolina

And here's another great record—More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

CAMEL is my cigarette!

Vic Comments On Town, National Political Affairs

[Continued from Page 1]
Vic defended his policy. "I can't have such a racket going on in here all the time. The neighbors complain and I have to keep on their good side too. I want my place to be a clean, respectable one and I'm sure that the boys do, too."

Vic is a man of moderation. He drinks only occasionally; he never plays cards for fun or money. His business, which is the oldest continuous of its kind in Brunswick, was established in 1935. However, Vic inherited it from his father who had been in business for many years before. "I used to pump beer every day after school for a buck a week," Vic informed us.

A native of Brunswick, Vic has lived here for most of his life. After graduation from high school he took a two-year course in accounting and auditing at Springfield, Massachusetts, and then worked for the Aluminum Company of America in Cleveland. When the depression hit he returned to Brunswick and sold automobiles for two years before going into his present business.

Although the Bowdoin men known Vic best for his beer, he has always prided himself on the good food served at his establishment. "I sell more food than beer," he proudly informed us. However, Vic is seriously considering quitting the business. He has a beautiful house which he remodeled himself near the Freeport line and it is his intention to move out there fairly soon. "Perhaps I'll turn it into an inn," he mused.

The Vanquished

Record Photo
VIC was defeated by Prof. Catlin in the recent election for auditor.

But whenever Vic leaves Brunswick his place will be missed by more than a few Bowdoin men. "Vic's" is one of the institutions of Brunswick. As a man, who introduced himself to us while we were in Vic's, so aptly put it: "I can say, after travelling through the better part of four New England states, that Vic's is the best place I've ever been to. It's respectable and clean, and for good beer, good food, and good hospitality, it can't be beat."

General Catalogue To Include Faculty, Alumni Information

By Richard P. Davis '49

"The Sesquicentennial edition of the Bowdoin General Catalogue," announced Editor Philip S. Wilder, "will be more comprehensive than any other edition that has ever been put out."

A large part of the work on the catalogue has been completed, since data on almost every deceased member of the college since its founding have reached the office in Hubbard Hall where the research and organization of the catalogue is being done. Questionnaires will go out shortly to living members of classes up to and including 1912 to continue the gathering of information.

The finished product will contain information on every officer, trustee, overseer, faculty member and alumnus of Bowdoin up to the time of printing. This is the first edition of the General Catalogue which will have been published since 1912. As well as several Latin editions, four previous editions have been made in English.

In this issue names and data on members of the athletic staff, who have never before been included as faculty, will be included. Information on coaches will be as complete as the existing records of the college allow. Father-son relationship will be noted in the catalogue, also, for the first time.

Work on this catalogue started in the summer of 1946, when the General Catalogue Committee held its first meeting. The committee comprises Chairman John W. Frost '04 and Harrison Atwood '09, of the Overseers, Herbert R. Brown, of the faculty, Kenneth J. Boyer, librarian, Seward J. Marsh '12, alumni secretary, and Philip S. Wilder '23, assistant to the President, who is serving as editor. Mrs. Margaret Washburn started the research, and continued on the job until June, 1947, when Mrs. Miriam Thomas relieved her. She is now assisted by Mrs. Stella Knight '51.

Most of the work, according to Mrs. Thomas lies in the writing of letters to relatives, town clerks, and historians who might have information on alumni of whom the college has incomplete records. The information will include the full name, the name of father, if he was a Bowdoin graduate, attendance at educational institutions attended after Bowdoin, academic degrees, occupations, offices in business firms, record of military service, civil offices held, and membership in societies, fraternities and clubs.

Pot-Luck Supper Given for Wives

Friday night's "Pot Luck" supper at the home of Mr. Phillip S. Wilder, Assistant to the President, was pronounced a great success by all attending.

A large group of married men and their wives congregated at 6:30 last Friday to partake of a wide variety of nutritious contributions submitted by a group of the wives.

After supper the group collected at the Moulton Union for a series of festivities including parlor games, a dance with music contributed by a generous group of passing musicians, and bridge.

The idea of a Pot Luck supper was in the form of an experiment corresponding to the Barn Dance also sponsored last term by the Bowdoin Wives.

ROA Reelects Wilder, DeTroy

The Brunswick-Bath Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association held its annual meeting for the election of officers and heard a talk on military intelligence given by Capt. Trimble C. Kondict MI Res., last night in the lounge of the Moulton Union.

Reelected to office were Lt. Col. Philip S. Wilder, SA Res., as president, and Lt. Peter J. DeTroy, MI Res., '51 as secretary-treasurer. Maj. James McKeen was succeeded in the vice-presidential post by Maj. Neil W. Halkyard, SA Res., professor of mathematics at the University of Maine Brunswick Campus and a resident of Bath.

Capt. Kondict, now a member of the faculty at Thornton Academy in Saco, gave a talk on military in-

Sophomores Asked For Ivy Payments

The collection of Ivy Houseparty assessments, consisting of the purchase of $4 tickets, will begin next week. William J. Reardon '50 and Martin H. Lee '50, co-chairmen of the Ivy Committee announced.

All men of the Class of 1950 and men with 15 or more credits who have not previously paid will be assessed. Each house is also requested to contribute $4 for a cup to be presented to the Houseparty Queen.

telligence, referring to his experience with the Office of Strategic Services in India and Burma, and supplementing his discussion with a War Department film recently released.

SDA Will Inform Voters in Report

At a meeting of the Bowdoin Chapter of Students for Democratic Action, held last Wednesday, Chairman John P. Ashley '50 called for reports from Charles L. Erickson '48, publicity director; Alexander J. Curtis '49, chairman of the program committee, and Robert W. Goldermann '47, chairman of the Constitution Committee.

Goldermann suggested that SDA begin immediately on a new program preparing a complete political biography of each of the senatorial and gubernatorial candidates in Maine. Such information will be publicized and distributed to local voters that they may make a better judgement concerning the candidates in the coming election.

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT

Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It
BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL COCKTAIL LOUNGE

192 Maine Street

Brunswick

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning - - - Pressing

71 Maine Street

Phone 533

For IDEA men who can WRITE

We Have 5 Jobs With Great Futures

We're looking for up-and-coming "idea" men who can translate their advertising, merchandising and promotional ideas into the right words—men with unusual creative writing ability. We have good jobs with unlimited opportunity waiting now for 5 such men.

Frankly, we don't care what your grades are, what your major is or what your extra curricular activities have been. It's your idea-ability we're interested in—plus your ability to put these ideas into words that convince, that sell—words that will move people to buy.

Our success has been built on ideas and creative writing. Ideas sired our products—Vicks VapoRub, Vicks Va-tro-nol Nose Drops, Vicks Cough Drops, Vicks Inhaler, Solskin Hand Cream, Matchabelli Perfumes and Cosmetics and Seaforth Toiletries for Men. Creative advertising and merchandising pushed them to the top of their fields.

To maintain and improve this leadership we need a continuous production of new ideas... new and better ways to advertise and sell our present products as well as new products to come.

That's why we are on the hunt for creative idea men who can write—young men with fresh, vigorous advertising and merchandising imaginations.

To such men we offer a great future.

If you think you've got the creative imagination and writing ability to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, write us today. Tell us all about yourself and exactly why you think you can handle one of these jobs.

Advertising Director

VICK CHEMICAL COMPANY

122 East 42 St., New York City 17, N. Y.

You'll find that our...

"Know How" about Printing

for Bowdoin Men will be helpful when you want

PROGRAMS STATIONERY TICKETS
INVITATIONS MENUS FORMS

Or Other Printing

Bring us your ideas. We'll help you develop them into attractive printing at reasonable prices.

PRINTERS OF THE ORIENT

THE RECORD PRESS

75-77 Maine Street

Phone 1 or 3

What's back of that name for YOU?

Back of the name Western Electric are 130,000 men and women who help make your Bell Telephone service the world's best—at the lowest possible cost.

Where are they? What do they do?

They're in factories in 18 cities, making vast amounts of telephone equipment designed by their teammates at Bell Telephone Laboratories.

They're all over the map, buying all kinds of Bell System supplies from other manufacturers.

They're at distributing houses, filling orders from Bell Telephone companies for apparatus and supplies.

More than 31,000 of them are in mobile crews installing intricate central office switchboards and equipment.

In doing this huge job—one of the most complex in industry—Western Electric people are contributing daily to the efficiency and economy of your Bell Telephone service.

Western Electric

A UNIT OF THE BELL SYSTEM SINCE 1882

"I've smoked Chesterfields for years I know THEY SATISFY"

Betty Hutton

STARRING IN "DREAM GIRL" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I smoke Chesterfield. I think it's a good cigarette. It has a real good tobacco flavor."

"Liggett & Myers buy a good percentage of my best tobaccos...mild, ripe, sweet tobaccos. When they see a basket of tobacco they want they pay the top price to get it."

J. G. Harrelson
TOBACCO FARMER, YANCEYVILLE, N. C.

ABC ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS Milder BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Quinby to Offer Drama Course For Playwriters

Small Class to Study Technique of Writing Original One-Acts

A course in playwriting to be given during the Fall term of 1948 will be taught by Associate Professor George H. Quinby of the Department of English, and Director of Dramatics.

Limited to a small group of upperclassmen, not to exceed twelve in number, the only prerequisite will be the consent of the instructor. The course also may not be taken in conjunction with any other course in advanced composition.

The major purpose of the course will be to study the technique of playwriting, with work based upon appropriate texts dealing with the subject. Textual reading will be paralleled with allied reading in the several types of dramatic literature. Actual writing will consist of a dramatization of a short story, followed by an original one-act play.

Course May Extend in Spring

If sufficient talent and interest are indicated, the faculty may be requested to extend the course into the Spring term. In this eventuality, the course would further include the writing of original three-act plays.

As planned and envisaged by Professor Quinby, the course is to be based upon the methods used by the late George Pierce Baker, Director of the famed 47 Workshop, and under whom Professor Quinby worked in the Department of Drama at Yale University.

[Continued on Page 4]

Cairo Instructor To Address Forum On Egypt's Arabs

Mr. Kendrick M. Baker Jr., '45 of the University of Cairo, Egypt, will speak, under the auspices of the Bowdoin Political Forum, on "Egypt and the Arab World" Thursday, March 18, at 7:00 p.m. in the Moulton Union, Professor Ernst C. Helmreich has announced.

Mr. Baker has been teaching at the University of Cairo for two years and last fall went to Geneva and Oslo for Christian Association meetings. He started the Cairo branch of the association.

First Man in his Class
Mr. Baker majored in English at Bowdoin and did work with foreign languages. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and graduated as the first man in his class. After graduation he attended Yale Divinity School.

Zeke Bekele '51 studied under Mr. Baker at the University of Cairo. Mr. Baker's brother, William F. Baker '51, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Faculty Interview . . .

Student, Traveler, U.N. Translator Crespo Cites Ecuador's Greatest Need

By Richard P. Davis '49

"The greatest need of Ecuador today," said Mr. Leonard Crespo, new teaching fellow, in Spanish conversation, "is education. Not only the lower classes, but the aristocratic and middle classes are in terrific need of learning."

Since 60% of Ecuador's 4,000,000 inhabitants is made up of Indians who, while a worthwhile element of the nation, are totally illiterate, Mr. Crespo continued, education must be the focal point in building the country up.

"The study of English has become more and more popular throughout South America along the upper classes, but this alone will not solve the problems of stability and of raising the standard of living. Sociology must also become more widely studied, and greater interest must be taken by the aristocracy in the lower classes."

After being graduated from St. Gabriel's College in his home city, Cuenca, Mr. Crespo came to the United States a year ago, unable to speak a word of English. A short stay at the University of Michigan remedied this, and he proceeded to New York, where he was employed by the United Nations as a translator.

"Then I was offered a job at Bowdoin. At 5:30 one afternoon I was told of the job. The next afternoon I was in Brunswick."

Leonardo Crespo

Photo by McCluskey

"And I have no regrets about my rather hasty decision," he continued spontaneously, emphasizing his admiration for the whole atmosphere of the college, and its general way of life.

A great traveler, he has been in every South American country except Venezuela. The problems of Ecuador, he was particular in stating, are prevalent generally throughout South America.

Ecuadorian government, he explained in answer to a question about its form, is modeled very much upon your own. "It is constitutional, has the same breakdown of functions into executive, legislative, and judicial branches, and is subdivided into 17 provinces similar to your 48 states."

The people, he revealed, are violently against any form of totalitarianism. An attempt at dictatorship made some five months ago was cut off very shortly. Communism, in Mr. Crespo's opinion, would never become a powerful force in South America, "if only because of the great influence of the Roman Catholic church."

Reports of the frequent revolutions which we may receive, he stated, will almost surely be greatly exaggerated. Any small riot which may occur is an occasion, in Latin America, for banner headlines.

The economic problems of Ecuador are as complex as the political. A vicious cycle now does, and if strong action is not taken, immediately, will continue to hold sway with ill effect. "Lack of education, lack of capital, and lack of governmental stability all work upon each other to form economic chaos, and the natural resources of Ecuador remain untouched."

N.S.A. Personnel Resign Positions

Two interim representatives of the National Student Association to the International Union of Students in Europe have resigned their positions as a result of the failure of the IUS secretariat to condemn the action of the present Czechoslovakian government with regard to the treatment of students in Prague. It was announced by Lawrence J. Ward '46 chairman of NSA for the State of Maine.

In a letter received from Madison, Wisconsin, national headquarters of NSA, the NSA Staff has confirmed the position taken by its representatives in condemning the action of the IUS secretariat. The resignations have been accepted by the NSA Staff.

The association, however, will continue its international program and will make every effort to co-operate with individual foreign student unions in non-political programs. Student exchange, travel and relief activities will be continued in an effort to promote international understanding and friendship, the letter said.

[Continued on Page 3]

Taft Blasts Marshall Plan Economics; Minimizes Threat of Soviet Conflict

Surveying Campaign Results

Photo By Adams

FUND COMMITTEE compiles results of student campaign. Left to right: Dunning, Troubh, Chairman Gross, Bracchi, Henry.

Glee Club to Feature at Third Boston Pops Concert

The third annual Bowdoin Night at the Pops will be held in Symphony Hall, Boston, May 13, in conjunction with the Boston Pops Orchestra, Arthur Fiedler conducting.

For this year's concert, all seats in Symphony Hall have been secured by the Boston Alumni Association, according to Harold W. Davis, president of the organization. Approximately 25% of all seats and tables throughout the hall have been allotted for sale at Bowdoin, and they may be obtained at the Alumni Office. Tables on the floor are priced at $15.00 each. Front row seats in the first balcony are priced at $15.00, and the remainder of the first balcony at $10.00. All seats in the second balcony are unreserved, and are priced at $7.50. Tickets are obtainable in Boston from Mr. Davis at 32 West Cedar Street. It is urged that all reservations be made as soon as possible.

The price of tables is somewhat more than usual due to the fact that the management is charging more for them this season Mr. Davis explained. First and second balcony seats are priced the same as or lower than regular concert prices.

Proceeds for Sesquicentennial
All proceeds above expenses are to be turned over to the Bowdoin Sesquicentennial Fund. In order to increase this amount, some of the Boston Alumni are paying $25, for a table Mr. Davis added. Due to the fact that the concert will be more or less an all-Bowdoin affair.

[Continued on Page 3]

A.R.U.'s Win Student Council Scholarship Cup

Alpha Rho Upsilon was recently awarded the Student Council Cup in recognition of their lead in scholastic standing for the fall trimester.

Coming from fourth place standing last year with an average of 2,339 the fraternity "rose" to first place although the average dropped to 2,305. Last year's leaders came in third with 2,062, following second-place Alpha Tau Omega which averaged 2,199.

College Average Drops
The college average of 1,925 is a considerable drop from last year's 2,137, and no fraternity improved its average over that of last year at this time. Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Delta Upsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Nu, and Alpha Rho Upsilon all rose in their standing in relation to other fraternities.

The standings for the fall trimester are as follows:
Alpha Rho Upsilon 2,305
Alpha Tau Omega 2,199
Independents 2,062
Chi Psi 2,013

[Continued on Page 3]

Senator Proposes Battle Against Communist Threat

By David Crowell '49

"The Marshall Plan is wholly unjustifiable as an economic measure," claimed Senator Robert A. Taft in an address here last Sunday evening, and "is wholly unsound . . . except as a

Institute Picks April 13 Speaker On World Affairs

Mrs. Vera Michels Dean will be the speaker at the lecture presented under the sponsorship of the Bowdoin College Institute of World Politics and Organization, on April 13 at 8:15 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

Mrs. Dean will speak on "Our Responsibilities in World Affairs". She is well prepared to speak with authority on this subject, since she is Director of the Research Department of the Foreign Policy Association. Her travels have taken her to North and South America as well as to Europe.

A graduate of Radcliffe, Mrs. Dean holds a masters degree from Yale in International Law, and also many honorary degrees from well known colleges. She is Professor at Harvard, where she lectures on foreign affairs in relation to Russia.

In 1947 she was awarded the Legion of Honor from the French Government. She has done work in connection with the U.N. One of her many books, "U. S. in Russia", is now being used in the Government 15 course here at Bowdoin.

Sills Names 22 Provisional June Speakers

The group of provisional speakers for June commencement was announced by President Sills in chapel last Saturday.

These men, consisting of twenty-two students and one graduate, will submit papers to Professor Thomas C. Van Cleave, chairman of the judging committee. Only five of the best papers will be chosen, although one alternate will be selected also. All graduates who received degrees in September 1947, and in February 1947 are invited to submit papers also.

The list of provisional speakers is as follows: Robert W. Biggar '49, Harold N. Burnham '48, Umberto Cantalamessa '48, William D. Capellari '48, Jesse M. Corum, III, '48, Alexander J. Curtis '49, Clark Danielson '49, Stanley F. Dole, Jr. '47;

Lewis P. Fickett, Jr. A. B., Olaf Hansson '51, Loring E. Hart '46, Edward A. Hawks, Jr. '46, Jay F. Kimball '47, Kim Kyle '47, William C. McCormack '49, Paul W. Moran '47, Boyd Murphy '48, Dwight W. Pierce, Jr. '46;

Johannes P. Prins '50, James Sand '49, Donald B. Strong '48, Harold G. Vincent, Jr. '49, and Richard A. Wiley '49.

N.S.A. Personnel Resign Positions

Two interim representatives of the National Student Association to the International Union of Students in Europe have resigned their positions as a result of the failure of the IUS secretariat to condemn the action of the present Czechoslovakian government with regard to the treatment of students in Prague. It was announced by Lawrence J. Ward '46 chairman of NSA for the State of Maine.

In a letter received from Madison, Wisconsin, national headquarters of NSA, the NSA Staff has confirmed the position taken by its representatives in condemning the action of the IUS secretariat. The resignations have been accepted by the NSA Staff.

The association, however, will continue its international program and will make every effort to co-operate with individual foreign student unions in non-political programs. Student exchange, travel and relief activities will be continued in an effort to promote international understanding and friendship, the letter said.

[Continued on Page 3]

Adding to New High Point Record

Photo By Adams

MATT BRANCHE, Interfraternity Meet high-point man, wins the 440 in 53.4 as Al Brown trails in third place.

Stallknecht Cites Philosophers In Chapel Address

The philosophies of history of Lord Tweedsmuir and Charles A. Beard were compared and contrasted by Professor Newton P. Stallknecht in a chapel address on March 13.

Lord Tweedsmuir, he pointed out, had stressed the importance of the irrational or inexplicable in history, the many chance accidents which so often determine historical events. Lord Tweedsmuir had once written: "The business is to find the momentous accident, and obviously the smaller you make the accident, the more you reduce it to its ultimate elements, the more startling will be the disproportion between the vast consequence and the minute cause. The accident must be small and it must be a true parent of consequences."

Professor Stallknecht then cited Charles A. Beard who, when asked if he could summarize the lessons of history in a short book, said he could do it in four sentences: "1. Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad with power. 2. The mills of God grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly small. 3. The bee fertilizes the flower it robs. 4. When it is dark enough, you can see the stars."

[Continued on Page 3]

Frederick Brown Retired Professor Dies at Home

Frederick Willis Brown, Ph.D., Professor of Modern Languages, Emeritus, died at his home at 265 Maine Street yesterday after a long illness.

Expressing personal and official sorrow, President Kenneth C. M. Sills attributed that "Bowdoin College has lost a man of rare personal and scholarly distinction. He was a teacher of complete intellectual integrity, of great charm of manner, and of rare felicity of expression."

Coming to Bowdoin from Clark College in 1907, Professor Brown remained as Professor of Modern Languages until his retirement in 1945.

"Maintaining very high standards of academic performance so that he was affectionately known to several generations of students as 'Flunker,' he nevertheless won the great respect of his classes, and in their later years very real gratitude," President Sills stated.

Born at Concord, Mass., Professor Brown graduated from Harvard in 1897. After studying at the University of Grenoble, France, for a year, he continued his studies at Harvard and received his Doctor's degree in 1906. He was a

[Continued on Page 3]

World Understanding . . .

Bowdoin College Adopts Italian Child; Council Plans Further Student Aids

By Frederick W. Willey, Jr. '47

Mario Piazzolla, an Italian war orphan, held an identification tag, number 10952, given to him by the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc., until the Student Council received a form letter last week from the American Headquarters in New York, stating that Mario had been assigned to the students of Bowdoin College as their war orphan.

The adoption of Mario for the period of one year was made possible by a fifteen dollar contribution from each fraternity at the suggestion of Lawrence J. Ward '46, who brought the War Orphan Plan to the attention of the Student Council not long ago.

But the moral obligation of a group sponsoring a war orphan does not end with the initial $180 contribution. Letters and packages from the parents in America are also part of the plan to aid in the rehabilitation of these unfortunate children. The little victims of Nazi aggression, often fatherless and homeless, look forward with the eager expectation of a homelike lonely GI to the receipt of letters and boxes filled with clothing and food. Whatever can be done by their foster parents to ease the stress of spiritual and physical hardship from the mis-

Mario Piazzolla

Faculty Plans Course Rotation For Fall 1948

Group Eliminates 2:30 Class Meetings; Changes Chapel Hour

A plan for the rotation of classes on a four-year cycle, changing the hour for daily chapel exercises to 10:10 a.m. with morning classes at 8:00, 9:00, 10:30 and 11:30, will be instituted with the opening of the College in the Fall of 1948.

There will be daily classes at 1:30 p.m. except on Saturday, but no 2:30 classes, except that groups meeting at 1:30 on Tuesday and Thursday will have their third session at 2:30 on Friday.

Rotation will be both "vertical" and "horizontal." Thus courses meeting at 8 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the Fall of 1948 will meet at that hour on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in the Spring of 1949, at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday in the Fall of 1949 and so on.

Eleven o'clock classes of a given "day group" in the Fall schedule will change days in the Spring, meeting at eight on these same days in the following Fall. 1:30 classes will not rotate vertically, but will alternate between the "day groups."

Korgen Heads Committee
The adoption of this plan, which was approved by the Faculty at a meeting on March 8, will do away with long standing favorable and unfavorable assignment of hours to certain classes. Most students and instructors dislike the eight o'clock hour, yet many classes must meet at that time.

Under rotation, the normal "morning" class will be held at eight one year in four, and will in that year meet for one semester on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and for the other on the other three days. There will be no appreciable change in the scheduling of afternoon laboratory periods.

The rotation plan was prepared and presented to the Faculty by a committee under the chairmanship of Professor Reinhard L. Korgen and including Professors Philip M. Brown, Morgan B. Cushing, Athern P. Daggett, Cecil T. Holmes and Samuel E. Kamerling.

Sills Upholds Court Decision

The recent decision of the Supreme Court in placing the teaching of religion in the home and church is an important one, said President Sills in Chapel last Saturday, for too much of the responsibility of children's religious education has been relinquished to the public school.

He also pointed out that it is difficult to keep separate church and state as is shown by another Supreme Court decision which allows parochial school children to be carried on public school buses.

It would be advantageous, added President Sills, if some plan were formed whereby people could be taught religion in their spare time. Concluding his speech, he commented that the world will make privately endowed institutions realize their responsibilities to their students.

[Continued on Page 4]

Taft Boasts of Inadequacy; "Foreign Affairs not My Field"

Senator Taft's statement that foreign policy is "not particularly my field" is an outright admission that he is unqualified for the presidency. He is to be commended for the forthright abandonment of political expediency implied by such a remark.

We are forced to reject the validity of his presidential ambitions. For he then proceeded to emphasize the fact that the president of the U. S. "has most of the powers which exist in foreign policy."

This was one of several inconsistencies we noted in the Senator's address here last Sunday night.

Taft stated that "the Marshall Plan is wholly unjustifiable as an economic measure . . . (and is) wholly unsound . . . except as a weapon against Communism." Is not the threat of war, which might be the result of Communism's expansion, an economic justification in itself? Certainly the price of war — in dollars alone — would exceed the sum demanded by the Marshall Plan.

The Senator should realize, as well, that investment of American dollars abroad will re-establish markets for the sale of our goods and will encourage free trade which is one of the most healthy international conditions. This investment should also result in the repayment to the U. S. of the war debts of foreign powers. Such repayment can be made only when these nations attain a sound economic status.

We admit that Communism is probably "the greatest threat to world peace today," but we can hardly agree with the Senator's views that the threat of any revival of large-scale Fascism is to be minimized. He feels that any means to stop Communism is justifiable and that we must enlist everyone in that fight.

The apparently reckless abandon expressed by the Senator in regard to the Spanish situation is hardly in keeping with his view that personal liberties are to be protected even more religiously than world peace.

Taft's support of the plan for the partition of Palestine is in direct opposition to his all-out fight to stop Communism. For the Soviet's support of this measure in the U. N. was apparently motivated by a Russian desire to share in the policing of the Holy Land where she hoped to cultivate the soil to sow more seeds of Communism.

We listened to the Senator from Ohio with an admiration for his straightforwardness. If he could only have convinced us that he knew where he stands in world affairs, he would have interested us.

D. C.

"Idealism" Can Be "Cured"

"Beware of false prophets that come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravaging wolves. By their fruits shall ye know them — do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?"

There has been a rash of speakers recently who profess a profound desire for peace. Yet these men would have us believe that the way to prepare for "peace" is to abandon our ideals and to arm to the teeth!

We have all been guilty of a fear of Russia that has caused us to sink to a blind, stimulus-response level of action, always opposing them, never following a constant "ideal" of policy.

Our recent reverses in Europe have not been due to an excess of "idealism" — on the contrary, we have been losing the battle of ideas, in Central Europe and in the Balkans. We have poured money into Greece, and yet some people still prefer to starve with the guerrillas. We have ignored those who believed in our ways of life.

Another thing often forgotten by the "practical" men is that preparing for and fighting another war would bring about the utter ruin of our "beloved nation." Do they think of pillars of fire over Boston and Trenton?

We are lost if we abandon our faith in God and democracy to a doctrine of expediency — supporting those who hate us.

Let us look to home first, assuring ourselves that we are a beacon of freedom and not a two-faced mockery of prejudice and injustice. Then we can guide the world.

Remember, anything worth dying for, is worth living for.
W. S. A.

"Poets, Statesmen, and Each Son"

Campus Survey . . .

Library Cataloging Army World War II Map Collection

By Roger L. Kenvin '49

A map room is being catalogued in the lecture room on the second floor of Hubbard Hall by Mr. Mansfield L. Hunt, from a collection of maps given to the college by the Army Map Service. Since maps can figure importantly in scholarship, I thought there might be a few details about the collection which would prove to be of interest to the college community.

The collection is in no sense an historical one, except as it relates to World War II. It is primarily an extensive series of military maps, which the Army Map Service proposes to keep up to date by the issuance of supplementary maps as occasions necessitate.

It is intended that the collection, which was begun in November of 1945, will number about 25,000 maps when completed. Because the process of cataloging is a slow, laborious one, requiring many months of careful, competent work, approximately only 3,300 maps have been filed so far in the large, green file cabinets which the library recently purchased.

The maps are not all of one particular type either, as Mr. Hunt pointed out. There are planning maps, climatic maps, transportation maps, mixed-type maps, as well as some air maps. Each series of maps also has an index map which shows the breakdown of regions represented in the series on a larger scale. Of interest, also, are several maps which were captured from the Germans and Japanese.

I thought, at first, that military maps must necessarily be burdened with fortification networks and technical military markings which would render them useless to the layman, but Mr. Hunt revealed that the only distinguishing characteristic of a military map is the "military grid," which is a system of linear squares projected on the map and indicating units of measure.

He further pointed out that the maps of the U. S. Geodetic, Hydrographic, and Geologic Surveys are, to all intents and purposes, military maps, and that any good military map is basically a transportation map.

Curiously enough, the section of the world covered most comprehensively by the collection is Africa. Not so curious, though, when you consider that the Allied invasion of Europe drew its strength from there.

Indeed, Mr. Hunt showed me one map of Algeria which he had used while stationed there with the army. The European countries are not very well represented in the collection to date. In respect to Russia, Mr. Hunt said that there was very little coverage which is, perhaps, to be expected.

I asked him if he thought that the library might build up an historical collection of maps such as are found at several larger universities. He replied that if the library expanded its present small collection of historical maps, it would have to be kept apart from the military collection because of an agreement between the college and the Army Map Service to that effect.

The map collection will probably remain in the lecture room until the filing is completed. It may be that at some future date there will be a separate room in the library housing the map collection, both the present military one and an enlarged historical one.

New Outing Club Chooses Group To Plan Charter

The newly organized Outing Club met in the Biology Lecture Room of the Science Building at 7:00 p.m. Monday, March 8, to discuss club policy and to appoint a constitutional committee.

Alfred D. Nicholson '50, Joseph E. Bradley Jr. '49, Donald D. Payne '50, and George K. Schenck '46, with Mr. David B. Sawyer, Teaching Fellow in Biology, as chairman, were chosen to draw up a constitution for the club's approval.

At a meeting on March 15, the club voted on acceptance of the constitution, which is based on those already in force in similar organizations at Bates, Dartmouth and other schools.

The club, which has the support of President Kenneth C. M. Sills, has made definite plans for a ski trip to Mount Washington during the spring vacation, and will sponsor at a later date such activities as mountain and canoe trips and a trail-clearing expedition on the Appalachian Trail.

All men interested in joining the organization, which has room for 15 men, should see Lawrence M. Burke '50 of Zeta Psi, or should attend the next club meeting after vacation.

At present the club is operating on a shared-cost basis, although it may eventually be financed through the Blanket Tax. It has already been voted to adopt the director type of administration common in such groups.

Spector Heads State Student Political Group

A convention of the state's college political organization was held at Colby College on March 13 in order to coordinate activities between the five major Maine colleges.

Bates College, Colby College, Bowdoin College, Portland Junior College, and the University of Maine were represented. Sherman D. Spector '50, Merton G. Henry '50, and Rupert Clark '51 attended this conference under the sponsorship of the Political Forum.

During the proceedings a state chairman was appointed to act as supervisor of political activities between the five political organizations. Sherman D. Spector, president of the Bowdoin Political Forum, was elected chairman.

Plans for Conference
Plans were laid for a conference at Bowdoin in the fall at which the five schools will be represented. A chairman of the Collegiate Council of the U. N. was also elected from the Bates delegation. Bowdoin's delegation refrained from voting in this matter as it was not empowered by the Political Forum to undertake action in this partisan group.

Current adhesive factors which will bring the Maine Colleges into more contact include the circulation of newsletters and calendars of each organization's activities. Plans were made to establish a program of lectures to be given by the respective faculty members of each college at other schools.

Taft Speech

[Continued from Page 1]

"A war of ideologies is being waged today . . . but I don't know just how to fight it," Taft declared. We must "tell the world the advantages of our form of government" through such activities as the "Voice of America" broadcasts.

Other Speakers Heard

Sen. Taft's appearance here was arranged by Sen. Owen Brewster '09 and was sponsored by the Political Forum and the Union Committee. President Sills introduced Gov. Horace A. Hildreth '25 who said in introducing Taft, "If we have, or when we have a Republican president he will be following the platform largely set by Senator Taft." Mrs. Taft also spoke briefly.

CRUMBS

By Crumpwell

People have been asking how Crumpwell writes and still gets away with it. I didn't realize it was that bad. I merely said to myself "luik heir, mynheer," talking to myself like a Dutch uncle, "you write what you write for the same reason Henry the eighth did what he did," and let it go.

The Delty (he's my editor) asked for 300 words a week, but my feature editor rose in wrath crying, "Great Heavens what ever can he do with that?" "More," said I, still talking to myself like a Dutch uncle, "than you could do in 3000," and happily sat back, contented to chew the calius on my heel as I smoked my appreciated pipe.

I must have looked about the same way that the Hon. "Young Bob" Taft sounded the other day. My appeal of a week ago that our legislator should "keep his liberal views unexpressed in this 'hot-bed of conservatism'" was judiciously accepted by the man who considers himself the Man Most Likely To Sit On Harry Truman's New Porch On Summer Evenings 1949-53.

Announcement of the new plan for rotation of courses revives our plea that something should be done about the deplorable ringing of chapel bells at four in the afternoon. Three times last week my mid-afternoon slumbers were interrupted by the insomniac player of chimes who could do me a real service by rousing me at dinner time. But he persists in his malicious practice despite my warning that his follies would be raked through the mud in these columns.

A Molle Brushless contest in sixteen college papers is not being run in the ORIENT and, although this makes me ineligible to enter, I'm going to try it week by week. "May I try on your fraternity pin?" asks the budding beauty of the balding beau. My retort: "Young woman, it becomes increasingly obvious that you have not read the Kinsey Report. I am a beast."

That brings us to our Weekly Report on Kinsey Report: Prof. Kinsey '18, according to the "Bugle," was chummily known here as "Kinsey." We quote "...on entering his room one never knows whether Mr. Kinsey or a large, able-bodied snake is going to greet him. . . if you loosen up a bit more you will make quite a man." The judgment of the "Bugle" editors is to be marvelled at. "Kinsey" has "loosened up."

Take Notice

Bowdoin Wives Association
Professor Herbert R. Brown will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Bowdoin Wives Association to be held in the Moulton Union Lounge tomorrow evening at eight.

Musical Concert
Frederick Weidner III '50 will sing Stephen Adams' well-known Easter selection, "The Holy City," at the musical service in chapel on Friday.

Marriage Discussions
President Pemberton of the New England Student Christian Movement will lead the freestyle discussion on marriage at the First Parish Church on Sunday, April 4 at 8:30 p.m.

Masque and Gown
Due to unfortunate casting difficulties the production of "Of These I Sing" was abandoned on Monday evening by the Masque and Gown. Rehearsals of "The Pigeon" by John Galsworthy, an alternate play chosen by the dramatic organization, commenced immediately.

Teachers Policy Commission
The Policy Commission of the Maine Teachers Association met last Saturday here at Bowdoin under the leadership of President Kenneth C. M. Sills, chairman of the group. The commission, composed of twelve members, is appointed by the Maine Teachers Association to determine the various educational policies of the state.

Classical Club

The second meeting of the Bowdoin Classical Club this term was held at the home of President Kenneth C. M. Sills last evening. The Greek 12 class presented an original translation of Teocritus' Idyll XV, Syracusean Women. Edward L. Kallop '48, and Harlan B. Feabody, Jr. '50 shared the acting. After the informal program refreshments were served.

THE BOWDOIN ORIENT

Vol. LXXVII	Wednesday, March 17, 1948	No. 24
Editor-in-Chief	Richard A. Wiley '49
Managing Editors	John H. Nichols, Jr. '48, David Crowell '49
News Editors	William S. Anderson '47, Richard P. Davis '49
	Charles T. Dillaway '49
Feature Editor	Frederick W. Willey Jr. '47
Sports Editor	George F. McClelland II '49
Assistant Sports Editor	Robert J. Waldron '50
Reporters	Harvey S. Jackson '48, Ralph H. Chew '49, Roger Hupper '49, William N. Irving '49, Roger L. Kenvin '49, George Parrella '49, Ralph E. Anderson '50, Bernard W. Barton '50, Joshua W. Curtis, Jr. '50, Herbert L. Gould '50, Richard N. Coffin '51, George M. Fox '51, William J. Nightingale '51, Robert S. Spooner '51, Richard M. Van Orden '51
Sports Reporters	Adin R. Morrow '45, Edward R. Murphy, Jr. '49
Photographers	Roger Hupper '49, Harry E. Adams '51, Edward J. McCloskey '51
Cartoonists	William M. Lanyon, Jr. '47, Richard M. Frye '49
Business Manager	Edward S. Early '49
Advertising Manager	Alfred J. Wexler '47
Circulation Managers	C. Craig Ryder '48, Francis E. Currie '50
Business Assistants	Philip E. Durrill '48, Arthur H. Stowalter, Jr. '48, Ernest L. Hahn, Jr. '48, Norman A. Gail '48, Joseph H. White '49, John P. Ashby II '50, John Blackford '51, Prescott H. Fardoe '51, William J. Nightingale

BOWDOIN PUBLISHING COMPANY
Directors . . . Professor Arthur J. Daggett, Richard A. Wiley '49, Associate Professor Philip M. Brown, Edward S. Early '49
News Editor for this issue . . . Charles T. Dillaway '49

OFFICIAL NATIONAL ADVERTISING OF
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
480 Madison Ave. New York, N.Y.
Chicago • Boston • Los Angeles • San Francisco

Published weekly when classes are held during the Fall and Spring trimesters by the students of Bowdoin College. Address news communications to the Editor and business communications to the Business Manager at the Bowdoin Publishing Company at the ORIENT Office in the Moulton Union, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine. Entered as second class matter of the mail office at Brunswick, Maine, March 17, 1948. Postage paid at Brunswick, Maine.

Glee Club at Pops

[Continued from Page 1]
doan affair, both the Glee Club and the Meddiebumpsters will appear twice during the concert. The Glee Club will probably perform the impressionistic "A Stop Watch and an Ordinance Map" with the first tympianist of the Boston Pope Orchestra accompanying. Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson will play the "Wanderer Fantasie" by Schubert-Liszt.

The sixty-five members of the Glee Club taking part in the concert will leave Bowdoin Wednesday afternoon, May 12, and rehearse in Boston the following afternoon. At the concert the club will occupy the first two rows on the main floor.

Students wishing to attend the concert will receive excuse cuts for Friday morning, May 14, and may obtain them by presenting their ticket stubs at the cut desk in Massachusetts Hall.

Scholarship Cup

[Continued from Page 1]

Beta Theta Pi	2,000
Kappa Sigma	1,980
Zeta Psi	1,970
Delta Upsilon	1,903
Sigma Nu	1,833
Delta Kappa Epsilon	1,774
Alpha Delta Phi	1,755
Psi Delta Chi	1,743
Psi Upsilon	1,655

The basis for this scoring is:

Multiply your savings for Easter finery or fun—by going Greyhound. Add the comfort and convenience of Greyhound's cushioned chairs and frequent schedules. Subtract all strain or worry as you relax behind an experienced, dependable driver. Divide your budget more ways—because of low fares—like these:

	One Way	Round Trip
Boston	$ 2.50	$ 4.50
Worcester	2.90	5.25
Springfield	4.45	8.05
Hartford	5.05	9.10
New Haven	5.05	9.10
New York	5.95	10.80
Philadelphia	7.20	13.00
Washington	12.60	22.70
Providence	3.65	6.60
Albany	5.95	10.80

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE, INC.
148 Maine Street Phone 775

"THE BEST IS YET TO BE"

The telephone will be seventy-two years old this year. Its development within a single lifetime has been a modern miracle: Yet it is only the beginning.

There are any number of men in the telephone business today—some just starting out—who will see greater progress than the past has ever known:

Year by year the next half century will be increasingly theirs: New leaders will appear from among them: Step by step, rung by rung, they will mount the ladder to the top. For telephone management is employee management and comes up from the ranks.

There will be more good jobs for qualified men in the telephone business in 1958 and 1959 than now. It just can't help being that way: For of all the businesses and professions, there are few more interesting and necessary.

So the future is bright for those who make telephony their life work. For them, "The best is yet to be."

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

McClelland's

POLAR BEARINGS

Depth Tells Tale Despite Branche

Jack Magee's undefeated indoor track team was broken up into thirteen separate units Friday night with the expected results. The Zetes had too much overall strength for the Chi Psi weightmen and the one man gang performance of Matt Branche for Delta Upsilon.

The Zete braintrust had the affair figured down to the last detail as did several other outfits, but thanks to a fine performance in the 880 by Don Gould and some strong plugging by several unheralded citizens, Woods and company wrested away the title from the DU's.

There is a limit to human endurance and it is largely due to that fact the blue and gold of Delta U. relinquished their championship. Last year Branche had long legged Cab Easton and the Auten boys to score heavily in the distance runs, but this year he had to do it alone. He did everything possible and maybe a little more but it was too much for one man—any man!

If anything was proved by Friday's meet it was that Bowdoin's chance for state supremacy on the cinder paths would be greatly enhanced could Dwight Adams perform in varsity meets. A transfer from Springfield, Adams won't be eligible until next year. We had very little chance to observe Adams closely, but what we could hear as he streaked by in both mile and two mile jaunts was pretty terrific.

Scramble for Baseball Crown Looms

While the baseball operations of the four Maine colleges are still in the indoor stage, prospects for an interesting flag chase already are excellent. The Maine Bears, who have a good chance to sweep all four major crowns this college year, have two thirds of their outfield back, three fourths of last year's infield combine, an improved pitching staff and adequate catching. Bates also has suffered only minor damage due to graduation and while Bowdoin and Colby are both probably stronger than last season their joint hold on the state crown is definitely in jeopardy.

As a closing note on winter sports we nominate the natators of Bob Miller as outstanding Big White product of the recently ended intercollegiate activities of the college. Despite an off day in the New England trials their performance against top-flight New England competition throughout the season have won them a great deal of respect.

Archibald Top Scorer Of 1948 Hockey Team

Dick Archibald, first line right winger, was the leading scorer on Danny MacFayden's varsity sextet as his 22 points put him seven up on Dick Blanchard, his line mate, according to official figures just released.

Phil Burke was third and Captain Ed Leason fourth in the scoring parade of a Polar Bear Hockey outfit that won six out of nine regularly scheduled games and then lost two in the New England Playoffs in Boston. Defenseman Jim Fife was the badman of the squad spending 14 minutes in the penalty box.

Player	G	A	P	Penalties	P
Archibald	15	7	9	22	11
Blanchard	6	9	0	11	11
Burke	6	5	4	11	11
Leason	3	6	2	9	9
Fife	3	3	10	2	2
Edwards	4	3	10	2	2
Stewart	4	2	4	2	2

File	2	4	14	6
Daley	3	2	0	5
Haskell	1	3	0	4
Bonsanti	2	1	0	3
Hansen	0	2	0	2
Stawood	1	0	4	1
Taylor	0	1	4	1
Homer	0	1	0	1
Clark	0	0	2	0
Sadler	0	0	2	0
SAVES
Nelson	152
Draper	219

N.S.A. Resignations

[Continued From Page 1]
The action on the part of the interim representatives was taken as the result of the killing of one student and the wounding of several when police fired on a procession of 1,500 students marching to ask President Benes not to install the new government. All alleged reactionary professors and students have been banned from the university at Prague and every democratic principle has been violated, the letter said.

Zetes Win Interfraternity Track Meet

Williams Remains N.E. Swim Champs Bowdoin Third

The Polar Bear swimmers ran into stiff opposition from Springfield, Williams and Brown as they garnered only a third place in the New England Intercollegiate Championships. Williams repeated as winner for the fifth straight year, while Springfield replaced Bowdoin for second, and Brown took fourth.

The Polar Bear medley relay lost its early lead, gained by Soltysiak, to come in a close third, less than a yard behind the winner. Bill Ingraham pushed the Williams' distance combine in the 220 and 440 taking thirds in both events. In the 440 Bill swam a torrid 5:01.9, breaking his own Bowdoin record of 5:16.9 by 15 seconds.

New Record Set

The Wineman-Morrow feud in the 150 yard backstroke proved Wineman the better swimmer as the Williams' dorsalist broke Morrow's New England record, marking it down from 1:36.9 to 1:36.7. Len Gath, taking chances on hitting more difficult dives, was pushed into 5th place, although less than 5 points out of second place.

In the 200 yard breaststroke Tony Soltysiak butterflyed to third place behind Forbes and Brier, the latter of whom set a new record in the event. Bowdoin's 400 yard freestyle relay, composed of Pete Grant, Bob McGowan, George Erswell, and Bill Ingraham made the finals but did not quite have the power to place ahead of the fast relays of Brown, Williams, Springfield, Amherst and MIT.

Bowdoin's only championship came in the 300 yard individual medley swim. The Polar Bear captain, with a fast dorsal and crawl leg won by nearly five yards, and also became the highest scorer of the meet with twelve points. Tony Soltysiak came up fast in the crawl leg of the medley swim but could not quite catch the second place man.

Scores: Williams - 53; Springfield - 31; Bowdoin - 29; Brown - 28.

The summary:
300 Yard Medley—Won by Brown (Oliver Patrell, Milton Brier, James McKelvey); 2, Williams; 3, Bowdoin; 4, Springfield; 5, Wesleyan. Time, 3:54.7.
220 Yard Free Style—Won by Baldwin, Williams; 2, Reid, Williams; 3, Ingraham, Bowdoin; 4, Seale, M. I. T.; 5, Lambert, Williams. Time, 2:18.3.
400 Yard Free Style—Won by Ball, Amherst; 2, Jenkins, U. of Conn.; 3, Conner, Brown; 4, Leonard, M. I. T.; 5, Murray, Williams. Time, 2:42.
Pancake Diving—Won by Seville, Springfield; 2, Campbell, Springfield; 3, Spallone, U. of Conn.; 4, Fulton, Amherst; 5, Gath, Bowdoin. 102.9 points.
100 Yard Free Style—Won by Jenkins, U. of Conn.; 2, Ball, Amherst; 3, Conner, Springfield; 4, Murray, Williams; 5, Baldwin, Williams. Time, 0:53.9.
150 Yard Backstroke—Won by Wineman, Williams; 2, Morrow, Bowdoin; 3, Whitton, Springfield; 4, Lamont, Williams; 5, Patrell, Brown. Time, 1:36.7. (New NEISA record).
200 Yard Breaststroke—Won by Brier, Brown; 2, Forbes, Wesleyan; 3, Soltysiak, Bowdoin; 4, Farnsworth, U. of Conn.; 5, Hoefler, Springfield. Time, 2:27.7.
440 Yard Free Style—Won by Reid, Williams; 2, Lambert, Williams; 3, Ingraham, Bowdoin; 4, Mather, Springfield; 5, Wilson, Brown. Time, 4:57.3.
400 Yard Freshman Relay—Won by Tinty (Cutting, Simmons, Costa, Cowdrey); 2, Brown; 3, Wesleyan; 4, Springfield; 5, M. I. T. Time, 3:49.0.
500 Yard Individual Medley—Won by Morrow, Bowdoin; 2, Krayer, Springfield; 3, Soltysiak, Bowdoin; 4, Lamont, Williams; 5, Dann, M. I. T. Time, 3:50.4.
400 Yard Free Style Relay—Won by Williams; 5, M. I. T.; 3, Brown; 4, Springfield; 5, Amherst. Time, 3:40.3.
Team Finals—Williams, Springfield 31; Bowdoin 29; Brown 27; U. of Conn. 15; Amherst 14; M. I. T. 13; Wesleyan 6.

Clearing the Bar for First Place Tie In High Jump

OLLIE EMERSON Deke high jump star, clears six feet to tie Captain Matt Branche at the Interfraternity Meet last Friday evening.

Sigma Nu's Take Bowling Crown; Defeat A.R.U.'s

The Sigma Nu's ran up a hot 107 average string to defeat the favored ARU's in the finals of the Interfraternity Bowling League last week.

A burst of power by the winning Sigma Nu team could not be equaled by the hapless ARU's as they suffered their worst defeat of the season and slipped to second place. The DU's and Chi Psi's followed in third and fourth places.

Due to the large number of forfeited and cancelled matches, a complete standing of the remaining teams has not been compiled although their scores were much lower than those of the top four.

As the bowling competition closed, the leadership in the fight for the White Key total point cup was announced by Don Russell, the President of the interfraternity organization. At present the Sigma Nu's are leading with a total of eight points, while the Chi Psi's are close behind with six points. The remainder of the points are widely distributed among the other houses.

graham, Bowdoin; 4, Mather, Springfield; 5, Wilson, Brown. Time, 4:57.3.
400 Yard Freshman Relay—Won by Tinty (Cutting, Simmons, Costa, Cowdrey); 2, Brown; 3, Wesleyan; 4, Springfield; 5, M. I. T. Time, 3:49.0.

The purpose behind this plan is not only to widen the field for interfraternity sports, but it is also felt that such an arrangement would promote better relations between the participating colleges. The eligibility rules for any such competition would have to be decided upon at some meeting of the fraternity and college representatives, but it is expected

White Key Reveals Plans For Championship Games

By Robert J. Waldron '50

With the present seasonal lull in varsity intercollegiate athletic competition, the White Key and its work have come into prominence.

The end of varsity basketball has ushered in the hottest part of the interfraternity basketball season, and long before the baseball season gets underway there will be softball and volleyball leagues in operation. This is only a part of the work which is handled by the White Key. Greeting visiting teams and improving interfraternity relations are also a valuable service.

During the past few weeks Don Russell, recently elected president of the White Key, has been in contact with the heads of similar organizations at the Little Three colleges. The purpose of this is to bring about a meeting of the student fraternity athletic organizations of the four colleges.

The object of such a meeting would be the formation of some sort of plan whereby the winners in each college interfraternity leagues could meet in a championship contest, with the ultimate winners in each league given an intercollegiate-interfraternity trophy.

The purpose behind this plan is not only to widen the field for interfraternity sports, but it is also felt that such an arrangement would promote better relations between the participating colleges. The eligibility rules for any such competition would have to be decided upon at some meeting of the fraternity and college representatives, but it is expected

Records - Radios
Electric Supplies
—and—
Service
NORTHERN ELECTRIC SERVICE
212 Maine St. Phone 1205-W

Band Box Cleaners

Cleaning - - - Pressing

71 Maine Street Phone 533

STRICTLY SWEET TOOTH

Sometime this side of August SPRING will creep in on muddy little feet. We're ready for it, though, with spouts and buckets tacked up all over the place. For details of how to get maple syrup the hard way, listen to:

"DO YOU KNOW MAINE"

Sunday noon at 12:30 over WGAN

Sponsored by

THE BATES MANUFACTURING CO.

Branche Takes 33 Points; Holmes, Nicholson Star

By George F. McClelland II '49

Capturing only two first places but scoring in 12 out of 14 events, Zeta Psi Fraternity rolled up a total of 52 points, ten more than the second place Chi Psi, to annex Interfraternity Track title in the 28th running of the event in the Hyde Cage, Friday evening.

LaSalle, Exeter Win Bowdoin Interscholastics

LaSalle Academy of Providence, Rhode Island and Phillips Exeter Academy topped the high and prep school divisions respectively in Bowdoin's 32nd annual interscholastic track meet, held in the Hyde Cage Saturday afternoon.

The awards for high school in each division went to Tom Heise in the prep school class and John Parker of Wells in the high school group. Heise won both the low hurdles and the 300 and picked up a third in the broad jump. He set the only record with a 5.6 performance in the low hurdles. Parker had wins in the high and broad jump that gave his team a tie for second in team standings and top honors for Maine.

Lynn and Wells Tie

Lynn Classical tied Wells for second in the high school division with 10 points, eight behind LaSalle. Other high school totals included: Hope High of Providence 9½, Mount Pleasant 6, South Portland 6, Lynn English 5½, Cambridge Latin 5, Lewiston 5, Cony 3, Deering 2½, Kennebunk 2, Brunswick 1½, Skowhegan 1, Waterville 1.

In the Prep School class Huntington was only two points behind Exeter with 26 points followed by Choate 12, M.C.I. 12, Roxbury Latin 11, Taber 6, Taft 3.

The schoolboys gave a packed house an interesting afternoon of track despite the fact only one mark was eclipsed and no others really threatened.

Alpha Delta Phi Gives Three Track Awards

In Friday's interfraternity track meet, Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity offered three plaques to be awarded to the winners of the mile run, pole vault, and high jump in memory of their fraternity brothers who were killed in World War II.

Medals will be awarded to the winners of these events each year and the plaque will remain in the winner's possession for one year. These awards to be called the Alan Hillman Mile, the Fitts High Jump and the Davidson-Salis Pole Vault were won this year by Dwight Adams, Matthew Branche, who tied for the Alan Hillman Mile, Oliver Emerson, and John Nichols respectively.

Prof. Brown Dies

[Continued From Page 1]
member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity.

He is survived by a son, John M. Brown, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Estabrook.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Brunswick, Maine
STUDENT PATRONAGE SOLICITED

Smith's Photo Shop

Photo Supplies
Hallmark Cards
DEVELOPING
and
PRINTING
146 Maine St. Brunswick
Phone 224-W

STATE HOTEL and RESTAURANT

Finest Of Food Served The Way You Like It
BRUNSWICK'S MOST BEAUTIFUL COCKTAIL LOUNGE

192 Maine Street

Brunswick

MOULTON UNION STORE

Several new items have been added to our gift line.

Bowdoin Gift Items — 75c up

Watch Bands — 49c to $8.50

Pete The College Pup — $2.25

School Bags — $1.19 - $1.39

Parker and Moore Fountain Pens — $8.75 Value $5.25

CUMBERLAND

WED. Mar. 17

"CAGED FURY"

with Richard Denning

Shelia Ryan

also

March of Time

THURS. Mar. 18

"THE RETURN OF THE WHISTLER"

with Michael Duane

Lenore Aubert

On The Stage

BRUNSWICK HIGH SCHOOL BAND

FRI.-SAT. Mar. 19-20

"THE GANGSTER"

with Barry Sullivan - Bolita

also

News

SUN.-MON.-TUES. Mar. 21-22-23

"SAIGON"

with Allan Ladd - Veronica Lake

also

News

WED.-THURS. Mar. 24-25

"HEAVEN ONLY KNOWS"

with Robert Cummings

Brian Donlevy

also

News

White magic for Easter

Van Heusen pulls white magic out of the hat for you—with fine, smooth white broadcloth and oxford shirts in all your favorite collar models. These shirts feature the wherby of Van Heusen's seamanship in every detail: the new low-setting "Comfort Contour" collar styling, action-room tailoring, tapered fit, tug-proof pearl buttons. They're Sanforized, too—a new shirt free if your Van Heusen shrinks out of size. Make like a bunny to your nearest dealer. $3.50, $3.95 and $4.95. PHILLIPS-JONES CORP., NEW YORK 1, NEW YORK.

You're the man most likely to succeed in

Van Heusen Shirts
TIES • SPORT SHIRTS • PAJAMAS

Boston Alumni Host to Sills At City Club

State of College Topic of President's Annual Address

The annual dinner of the Boston Alumni Association will be held on April 29 at the Boston City Club, according to Harold W. Davis, president of the Alumni Association.

The guest of honor and principal speaker will be President Kenneth C. M. Sills who will give his annual address on the state of the college. Other speakers will include Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick, Professor Herbert R. Brown, and Malcolm E. Morrell, Director of Athletics. Mr. Morrell will speak on the latest news on athletic activities at Bowdoin. In addition to the guest speakers, the Alumni Association will be privileged to hear the Middletempers.

The Boston Alumni Association, soon to be renamed the "Bowdoin Club of Boston", feels that fathers of all Bowdoin men should become members of the organization, according to Mr. Davis. As a result an invitation is being extended to Bowdoin fathers to join the Club, whether or not they have attended other colleges or any college at all, and to take part in the Club's activities.

Reservations for the Alumni dinner may be obtained through Mr. Roy McNiven, Association Treasurer, at 60 Federal Street, Boston, and will be priced at $3.75.

S.D.A. Names Ashey: Passes Constitution

John P. Ashey '50 was elected permanent chairman of the Students for Democratic Action, Charles L. Erickson '48 vice-chairman, and Robert W. Goldmann '47, secretary-treasurer at a meeting of the organization on March 10.

Goldmann, in his capacity as Chairman of the committee on Constitution and by-laws, read the first draft of the submitted Constitution and after a few corrections and amendments it was passed by a two-thirds majority of the members present. It is the custom of the SDA as a chapter of the ADA, to draw up a Constitution upon the establishment of the chapter, which will effect the conducting of meetings, the election of officers, and other matters having a bearing on the local organization.

Breaking the Tape in 40-yard Dash Finals

DASH FINISH at Fraternity Meet shows close competition. Left to right: Patterson, Freese, Branche (the winner), Holmes, Murphy, Swann.

Sailors Arrange Lectures, Meets

Although there is a lack of facilities here at Bowdoin, the Sailing Club, this year under the leadership of Frederick A. Moore '47, is a very active organization. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in sailing. This interest is accomplished in a variety of ways. The Club sends crews to races held at several of the New England colleges which have sailing facilities.

In the past annual lectures have been sponsored by the Sailing Club at which men, prominent in the sport, have spoken. This year they hope to have Dr. Alan Lukens, Walter Wood, present coach at M. I. T., and George Owen, a well known naval architect. The date of this lecture is not definite as yet, but will probably be during April.

The Club is a member of the Inter-collegiate Yacht Association, and the races are arranged with other members in this area. There are now 35 members in the Club at Bowdoin and it is hoped that many more will join soon.

Meetings are held every two weeks on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Moulton Union, and all who are interested may attend. In the near future crews will be selected to represent Bowdoin at the series of coming races, so anyone who wishes to join should do so immediately.

Last year a campaign was begun to raise funds for the building of sailing facilities and also to erect a memorial to Albert T. Gould '08 who did much to promote the Sailing Club at Bowdoin. This is a project which will probably be completed in three or four more years.

Quinby to Give Drama Course

[Continued from Page 1] city both as a student and as an assistant.

Professor Quinby holds the degree of Master of Fine Arts from the Yale Department of Drama. After leaving Yale he spent two years at the Community Theatre in Savannah, Georgia, where he directed plays and conducted courses in playwriting.

Four subsequent years he spent in the professional theatre in New York both as a stage manager and as an actor. In 1930 Professor Quinby conducted a survey of the Drama Department at the University of Michigan. He submitted two plans for the Department's reorganization, one of which has been put into effect.

Bowdoin Students Adopt Orphan

[Continued from Page 1] made valiant attempts to resume work to provide for his family. His health was broken without hope of recovery, however, and he died in February 1947, leaving his wife and four small children in poverty.

Hardship, privations, hunger, cold, fear and terror in a war torn country are the background for Mario's earliest memories. As a result he is a highly nervous child. He will remain under the Foster Parents plan until his own condition has improved and his mother is earning enough to care for her family.

He is described in the brief history sent by the American headquarters as "a manly little fellow with dark hair, blue eyes and regular features." He is "straightforward, honest and cooperative."

"Those under whose supervision he comes, believe, that with continued help and guidance Mario will develop into a young man of sturdy character and a useful citizen. He is proud of the stories of his father's bravery and thinks of him as one of their country's heroes," the case history concludes.

Kirkland Writes History Of New England Railroads

Railroading enthusiasts of New England will have an encyclopedia on the subject come June when the Harvard University Press publishes "Men, Cities and Transportation" by Edward Chase Kirkland, Bowdoin College's Frank A. Munsey Professor of American History.

The two volume, 1000-page work is the result of 10 years of research and covers every phase of railroading in New England from the evolution of air brakes to rates and safety couplings. Subjects appraised in the two volumes include evolution of rolling stock, bridge design, locomotives, heating of cars, stations, financing, labor, management, state regulations and biographical studies of 100 railroad capitalists.

No dull professorial tome, "Men, Cities and Transportation" is a new approach to the writing of transportation history. Professor Kirkland stresses the commercial and economic functioning of transportation in New England rather than recording the more obvious building efforts. In addition, Professor Kirkland has concerned himself with the type of person who has participated in the railroad and transportation fields, and thus has made his history more personal.

Originally he started out to write an economic history of New England, but found such a wealth of transportation material that he switched horses. One important fact that he has revealed is that long before the Interstate Commerce Commission came into being, the individual states were directing, controlling and giving financial aid to railroads.

Professor Kirkland is a native of Bellows Falls, Vermont, and graduated from Dartmouth in 1916. He gained his master's and doctor's degrees at Harvard. He taught at Dartmouth, Brown and Massachusetts Institute of Technology before coming to Bowdoin in 1930.

For the past two years he has been president of the American Association of University Professors and previous to that was chairman of the association's committee on academic freedom and tenure. An economic historian, he is also a vice-president of the Economic History Association and a member of the board of editors of the "Journal of Economic History."

Zetes Fraternity Track Champions

[Continued from Page 3]

35 Pound Weight—Won by Parsons, Chi Psi; second, Nicholson, Chi Psi; third, Fortin, Sigma Nu; fourth, Martin, Chi Psi; fifth, Sebastianski, Zeta. Distance 49 feet 6 inches.

40 Yard Dash—Won by Branche, DU; second, Holmes, ARU; third, Swann, ATO; fourth, Murphy, Chi Psi; fifth, Patterson, Zeta. Time: 4.8 seconds.

440 Yard Run—Won by Branche, DU; second, Briggs, TD; third, A. Brown, Ind.; fourth, Jackson, Ind.; fifth, Adams, TD. Time: 53.4 seconds.

One Mile Run—Won by Adams, TD; second, Gould, Zeta; third, Woods, Zeta; fourth, McClelland, ATO; fifth, Dixon, Zeta. Time: 4:51.6.

45 Yard High Hurdles—Won by Branche, DU; second, Lee, Zeta; third, Briggs, TD; fourth, Jackson, Ind.; fifth, Demetriades, DU. Time: 6 seconds.

45 Yard Low Hurdle—Won by Branche, DU; second, Lee, Zeta; third, Briggs, TD; fourth, Holmes, ARU; fifth, McAvoy, SN. Time: 5.5 seconds.

880 Yard Run—Won by Gould, Zeta; second, Jackson, Ind.; third, Woods, Zeta; fourth, Wiley, DU; fifth, the Avery, Psi U, and Schwarz, DKE. Time: 5:5.4.

Two Mile Run—Won by Adams, TD; second, McClelland, ATO; third, A. Lund, Zeta; fourth, J. Lund, Zeta; fifth, Woods, Zeta. Time: 10:15.8.

Discus—Won by Nicholson, Chi Psi; second, Branche, DU; third, Freese, Zeta; fourth, Briggs, TD; fifth, Emerson, DKE. Distance: 22 feet 3 1/4 inches. New meet record.

Shot Put—Won by Nicholson, Chi Psi; second, Draper, TD; third, Sauter, Chi Psi; fourth, Parsons, Chi Psi; fifth, Sebastianski, Zeta. Distance: 46 feet 8 1/2 inches.

MIKE'S PLACE

HOT DOGS

BOTTLED BEER

ITALIAN SANDWICHES

Phone 974-M
for delivery

Maine Street

Brunswick Maine

HOTEL EAGLE

NEW DINING ROOM — NEW DINING PORCH

NEW COCKTAIL LOUNGE

ROOMS FROM $2.50 UP

NEW MANAGER — HAROLD E. FOOTER

Compliments of

OAKHURST DAIRY

Bath, Maine

Purveyors to the College of Finest

Milk and Dairy Products

"You can Whip our Cream, but you can't Beat our Milk!"

Tondreau's Market

Established 1891

and always a loyal Bowdoin friend . . .

. . . Presents the largest assortment in town of

FANCY GROCERIES

FRESH FRUITS and VEGETABLES

QUALITY MEATS OF ALL KINDS

FRUIT

Sold at Wholesale and Retail

CHAMPION N. Y. YANKEE'S

JOE DIMAGGIO

VOTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE